H. A. Sedgwick, president of the Duluth association, presided in the capacity of toastmaster. He threw many sidelights on various phases of the credit men's work, and his introduction of Mr. Barnes was a masterpiece. Mr. Barnes could have had no question in his mind of how he stood with the credit men when Mr. Sedgwick finished.

RECOVERS HEALTH; RESUMES HIS WORK

JOHN L. FULLER.

After a rest of nearly a year during which time he has been successful in regaining his health, John L. Fuller has resumed his position as local manager of the North American Telegraph company. Mr. Fuller suffered from a general breakdown due to overwork, and was granted a leave of absence.

GEORGE F. BAER IS SUDDENLY STRICKEN

Falls in Street as Result of Paralysis—Condition Serious.

Philadelphia, April 25.—George F. Baer, president of the Reading Railway company, was stricken on the street here today with what physicians believe was a stroke of paralysis. He fell to the sidewalk and was carried to his home, five blocks distant.

It is believed that Mr. Baer's condition is serious.

Mr. Baer became ill at 9 o'clock while walking from his home to his office as was his custom. He became unconscious and was carried into a nearby tailoring shop. Afterward he was taken to his home in an automobile. Dr. Alfred Stengel, Mr. Baer's physician, who lives only a few doors away, was at his bedside immediately. Dr. Stengel told newspaper men that Mr. Baer's condition is serious and that he is doubtful of the outcome.

ORDERS PASSAGE FOR U. S. CONSULS.

Washington, April 25.—Secretary Daniels, at the request of Secretary Bryan, today ordered Rear Admiral Howard, commanding the naval forces on the Pacific coast, to give either asylum or passage on his vessels to any American consul desiring to leave Mexico by way of the West coast.

Like orders have been given Rear Admiral Badger concerning consuls who may leave through Mexican gulf ports.

NELSON FOR CONGRESSMAN

St. Louis County Democratic Committee Requests Him to File.

Committee Organizes for the Coming Fall Campaign.

The Democratic committee for St. Louis county held a meeting at the St. Louis hotel last night and it is believed, forecasted what will be done today at the Eighth district congressional caucus that is being held this afternoon at the city hall to choose a candidate of the party to run for congress from the Eighth district.

Andrew Nelson, one of the leading attorneys of the city, and a member of the school board, is the man.

Mr. Nelson was present at the meeting of the county committee last night and gave his tacit consent to indorsement for the office. It is expected that the conference today will take similar action. The resolutions passed last evening indorsing him and requesting him to file for the Democratic nomination, were unanimously adopted.

Similar resolutions requesting E. T. Ribenack to file for the state house of representatives to succeed himself in the Fifty-eighth district were also unanimously adopted. W. J. North's candidacy for the house from the Fifty-seventh was unanimously indorsed.

T. J. McKeon was chosen as chairman of the meeting and Hubert d'Autremont was chosen secretary. The attendance was unusually large, thirty of the thirty-two members being present. Quite a number of speeches were made, during which President Wilson came in for a great deal of laudatory comment.

Harris Bennett was elected chairman of the county committee, Hubert d'Autremont was elected secretary, and E. A. Furni was chosen as treasurer. The chairman was requested to appoint a committee of five to pick Democrats to run for the legislative and county offices. Mr. Bennett will announce the personnel of this committee in a few days.

ANDREW NELSON.

BURNS MAY PROVE FATAL

Station Agent Pours Kerosene on Fire—May Die.

Martin Carlson, about 40 years old, station agent at Munger, is at St. Mary's hospital with severe body burns as a result of pouring kerosene on a stove fire in the D. M. & N. station this morning. His recovery is doubtful.

Carlson's clothes caught fire. Several passengers waiting in the station rushed to his rescue and he was taken outside and rolled on the ground in an effort to put out the flames.

Carlson's clothes were almost all burned off and his body terribly burned. The railroad officials at Proctor were immediately notified and a special train was rushed to Munger and Carlson was brought to Duluth about 11 o'clock. He is now at St. Mary's hospital, where his condition is reported very serious.

Carlson is married and lives with his family at Munger, where he has been station agent for several years.

PLAN BANQUET FOR GLASGOW CITY OFFICERS

Reservations have already been made for 100 plates for the banquet to be given by Clan Stewart in honor of Bailie Thomas McMillan and Assessor Alex Walker of Glasgow at the Commercial club on Monday.

The committee in charge met last evening and completed arrangements for the program. The supper will be served at 6:30. Simon Clark will preside as toastmaster and Judge W. A. Cant will deliver the principal address on behalf of the local clan.

W. D. Gordon of Minneapolis will give some Scotch readings and J. R. Batchelor and Philip Gordon Brown will be heard in a repertoire of Scotch solos and duets.

Robert Mowbray, the pipe major of Clan Stewart bagpipe band, will be supported by five pipers and two drummers. The Commercial club management has given a special dispensation to the bagpipe band to rend all the atmosphere it can on that night.

The entire city commission has accepted the invitation of Clan Stewart to be its guests for the evening.

The affair will not be confined exclusively to members of the clan.

The visitors will arrive tomorrow and will meet some of the local Scotsmen informally during the day.

DEER RIVER TO HAVE CREAMERY.

Deer River, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The matter of a creamery for Deer River is still a live topic since the big meeting of last week. Though no statement is as yet given out, it is understood Mayor Seaman has the promotion well in hand and it is expected the matter of actual close of a contract is not far off.

The Bible is a most wonderful book when understood. It is reasonable and consistent. Judge Rutherford's lecture on "Where Are the Dead" is a wonderful defense of the Bible. Hear him Sunday at the Lyceum theater.

DEER RIVER SENDS MESSAGE TO LANE

Urges That Minnesota's Motion for Rehearing Be Denied.

Deer River, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The homesteaders who have for several years been entangled in a legal contest with the state of Minnesota over right to lands have sent a representative to Washington to protest against the motion of the state for a rehearing of the case of John Scott before the secretary of the interior.

A lengthy petition was telegraphed to Secretary Lane last night by business men asking that the state's motion for rehearing be denied.

TWENTY REFUGEES, TAKEN BY HUERTA'S FORCES, MAY HAVE BEEN SHOT BY FIRING SQUAD

Nineteen Americans and One British Subject the Victims.

Mexicans Confiscating Rolling Stock of the Mexican Railway.

Chicago, April 25.—Twenty refugees, nineteen Americans and one British subject, have been taken prisoners by Huerta's forces and are believed to have been executed by a firing squad, according to a telegram received from Secretary Bryan last night by Dr. Herbert A. Parkyn, president of a Mexican plantation company. The telegram follows:

"The following, dated April 24, at 10 a. m., and received from the American consul at Vera Cruz, is sent for your information:

"'Am just reliably informed at 8 o'clock Tuesday night, soldiers stopped train in vicinity of Tierra Blanca on Vera Cruz-Isthmus railroad, taking foreign prisoners: W. Mangum, railroad superintendent; Elliott, engineer; Riley and Hart, conductors; all are Americans. These persons are taken to Cordoba or Orizaba and believed ordered shot.

"'Some eighteen or more Americans left for Tierra Blanca: C. B. Herron, secretary Isthmus railroad, wife and four children; J. O. Cook, chief engineer; John Flighter, conductor; J. F. Lanston and wife; Kerwin, engineer, and Mr. and Mrs. George Macomber.

"'Some soldiers stopped at Hacienda Motzorongo, on same railroad, taking prisoners Edward Wunsch and son, Sidney; A. M. Turner, secretary of the Hacienda Motzorongo, all Americans; also a man named Boyd, British subject. All taken to Cordaba or Orizaba. It is reliably stated that these prisoners may be executed. Admirals Fletcher and Badger have this information before them.'

"BRYAN."

Dr. Parkyn said Wunsch mentioned in the telegram is manager of the plantation, which is owned by 1,500 American and British stockholders. The Boyd mentioned, he said, is Alexander Boyd of London, cashier of the plantation. Mrs. Boyd also was on the plantation and two Californians named Peckham and Andrews, according to Dr. Parkyn. No mention was made of them.

"Our plantation is isolated between Cordoba and Tierra Blanca," Parkyn said. "It has been in operation for eight years and we have frequently been obliged to pay tribute to each of the contending forces."

Threatened With Death.

Vera Cruz, Mex., April 25.—Seven Americans, prisoners of Mexican soldiers, are being held at Cordoba or Orizaba, on the line of the Mexican railway between here and the capital, at least four of whom are threatened with execution, according to authentic information received here last night.

Four of the Americans were taken from a train on the Vera Cruz-Isthmian line and at Motsolonga station there three other Americans and an Englishman were seized. Those captured at Tierra Blanca are W. A. Mangan, superintendent of the railroad; Engineer Elliott, and Conductors Riley and Hart. At Motsolonga Edward Wuench, his son, Sidney, A. M. Thomas and Mr. Boyd, an Englishman were arrested by the Federals.

The names of five more Americans arrested by Maj. Panucio Martinez and added to those whom he previously had taken to Cordoba, have reached here. These men were taken a few miles out of Vera Cruz from a train. The news of the capture was brought to Vera Cruz by a newsboy. Maj. Martinez took them to Terra Blyanca and thence to Cordoba.

One Michigan Man.

The men are B. W. Wofford of Georgia, F. W. Lehmur of Omaha, W. A. Bedford of Michigan, W. C. Disbrow of New York, and James Blicher of Buffalo. All these men are interested in agriculture in the section where they were arrested.

The belief that the Federals intended to execute at least four of the prisoners was gained from the conversation of the soldiers who captured them which was overheard by passengers on the train. The passengers were taken to Cordoba, and it is believed the prisoners were transferred to Orizaba, a point nearer the capital.

Eighteen Americans are still in Tierra Blanca among them J. O. Cook, chief engineer of the Isthmus railroad; J. O. Schneider, J. D. Longston, C. D. Harrison and wife and children and Mr. and Mrs. George McComber.

An indirect report from Mexico City said that a mob attempted to burn the terminal of the Mexican railway, but was prevented by President Huerta's troops.

The Mexicans are confiscating all the locomotives and rolling stock of the Mexican railway and concentrating them at Apizaco, an hour's run south of the capital. All the engineers of that line hove been held and sent to Orizaba. The train dispatcher at Orizaba was arrested, but released later and told to leave.

VILLA REPEATS HE IS FRIENDLY

Also Says That Carranza's Note Has Been Misunderstood.

El Paso, Tex., April 25.—Gen. Villa, who is still at Juarez, repeated yesterday his declaration that he would not be drawn into a war with the United States, particularly as that would serve to draw the Huerta chestnuts out of the fire. He repeated these assertions to George C. Carothers, special agent of the state department, to newspaper men and many other visitors. To J. T. McLammy, his cattle agent on this side of the river, he added:

"It's that litle drunkard Huerta's fight; let him fight it. I wish I had 10,000,000 cartridges right now, I'd march into Mexico City without a stop."

Carranza Friendly.

Villa said that Carranza's note had been misunderstood, and that the first chief was as friendly as he (Villa) was to the United States. Roberto V. Pesquiera, and other Carranza representatives here said that an idiomatic expression in common use in Mexico was literally interpreted in the translation of Carranza's note to Secretary Bryan last Wednesday.

The translation made Carranza say that he had desired to avoid war with the United States "until" today.

"As a matter of fact the expression meant that, although his friend (the United States) had done a wrongful act and had thereby injured a friend (Carranza), he desired to avoid war and always would desire to avoid it," Pesquiera explained.

Embargo on Arms Temporary.

Villa frankly took the position that he would like to avail himself of what is in effect aid from the United States forces, to prosecute his campaign. His wish for 10,000,000 cartridges, however, could not be gratified yesterday, as the embargo was on again officially this time and five rapid-fire guns whch were brought to the customs house were turned back. Villa was given to understand that the embargo was temporary and he said he acquiesced in any measures taken to relieve the strain of present relations.

Official notification that the rebels had taken Monterey was received by Villa yesterday.

"Esta bien," (It is good), he remarked.

Asked as to his attitude with respect to Carranza's note to Secretary Bryan, Villa looked sharply at his inquisitor walked to the window, came back and then, after two false starts said abruptly:

"It was a great mistake that—" he stopped, wiped the perspiration from his forehead and added, "well, friend, I am only a subordinate officer and I don't believe that it is best that I should give out my views—not yet, anyway."

Then he burst into laughter and said:

"You newspaper boys will get me into a hole yet with your unending questions. You'll get me to say something before I am ready to say it. Just say that I know war too well to want it, and particularly we don't want it with your country across the line. I like them for a fact. Americans have stood by me when I needed friends and I know them better than any other foreigners in Mexico."

PULLS DOWN STATUE OF WASHINGTON.

Vera Cruz, Mex., April 25.—The statue of George Washington, in Mexico City, was pulled down by a mob led by Jorge Huerta, son of President Huerta, who attached the ropes to it. Two Americans are reported to have been rescued by Huerta's aides from the wrath of the mob.

MEXICAN FEDERAL SOLDIERS BEGIN ORGY OF DESTRUCTION

Town of Nuevo Laredo Destroyed By Dynamite and Fire.

Fire Into Laredo, Tex., But Flee Before the American Guns.

Laredo, Tex., April 25.—Nuevo Laredo, the thriving Mexican border town opposite here, is in ruins, devastated by dynamite and fire by Mexican Federal soldiers, who late yesterday began an orgy of destruction which did not end until they were forced to flee southward before the guns of the American border patrol.

Two Mexicans are known to have been killed by the United States troops. Several brisk skirmishes between the Americans and Mexicans were fought in quick succession as the Mexicans, their troop trains ready to pull out of the burning city, began an indiscriminate fire across the international boundary, but there is no evidence that their shooting was effective.

Buildings Destroyed.

Property damage in Nuevo Laredo will reach $500,000. Among the buildings destroyed were the United States consulate, municipal building, postoffice, theater, the flour mill, one of the largest in this section of the southwest, the railroad shops of the Mexican National railway and other smaller structures.

Late last night the fire still was burning, with no chance that it would be controlled until everything inflammable had been wiped out. Kerosene and other combustibles, liberally used, added to the wreckage, which otherwise would not have been great, owing to the adobe construction largely used.

Bridges Are Safe.

There was no property loss in Laredo. Both international bridges are safe, though efforts to burn them resulted in the death of two men engaged in the undertaking. One Mexican was shot by a sharpshooter from the top of the water tower. The Mexican was trying to reach the end of the international foot and wagon bridge. Another was killed when he tried to blow up the American railroad bridge. Americans were constantly at the American side to prevent such an attempt.

When the Mexican soldiers finally departed, order was quickly restored in Laredo, but strong guards remained throughout the city. A serious problem was furnished immigration and city authorities by the presence here of hundreds of refugees from the burning city who had to be furnished food and shelter.

Town Was Deserted.

The Federal garrison evacuated Nuevo Laredo Thursday, supposedly going to Saltillo or Monterey. With their departure the busy little city, ordinarily of about 7,000 population, was deserted, all of whom did not follow the soldiers rushing panic-stricken to the American side in fear of bandit attack. Early yesterday the Federals returned, and it was announced that they came back for additional engines to pull their troop trains. The Mexican railroad shops are here.

There was little excitement occasioned by the presence of the Federals until the afternoon. Smoke was seen issuing from some of the buildings around the plaza, the center of the town. The municipal building and the American consulate, on opposite sides of the square, broke into flame simultaneously. Next door to the consulate, the postoffice, temporarily closed, also was seen to be burning, and around the plaza a smoke began to issue from the windows and roofs of other buildings.

Wrecked By Explosives.

A few minutes later a loud explosion wrecked houses and the fire spread rapidly in all directions. Americans began to gather on the river banks, but hastily retreated when warned that other explosions, nearer at hand, might occur.

Troops at Fort McIntosh were ordered out on the double quick, and in a few minutes a rigid guard, amounting almost to martial law, was established in the danger zone.

At the two bridges across the river, the guards were reinforced, and it was here that the only known loss of life occurred. The machine gun platoon from Fort McIntosh took possession below the center of the city where the Federals were now crowding into their trains, and poured a fusillade of shots across the border.

Battery A of the Third field artillery was sent to the power house of the Laredo Electric & Light company fearing an attack there, but it was soon seen that there was nothing for them to do.

Mexicans Seen to Fall.

Several Mexicans were seen to fall, but they were carried away by their comrades. The trains were started and the Federals withdrew, firing as long as they could. For some distance the railroad follows the international line.

After silencing the Mexicans, part of the Ninth infantry was withdrawn from the river front, the others remaining on guard.

Rumors that some American soldiers were wounded proved to be without foundation, and no shots struck in the central part of Laredo.

Col. Crane of the Ninth infantry announced that a rigid patrol of the city, particularly of the business section and the American residence section, would be maintained.

VERA CRUZ CIVIL RULE ORGANIZED

Effort to Get Mexicans as Heads of All Departments.

Vera Cruz, Mex., April 25.—Five divisions of the civil administration were organized yesterday—police, sanitary, harbor, finance and customs. An efforts was made to secure Mexicans at the heads of all the departments. This was found to be impossible, at least in two departments, and American officers were assigned to the posts. They are Lieut.-Commander McNeely of the battleship Louisiana, who was appointed chief of police, and the fleet paymaster, who was made collector of customs.

An effort is still being made to secure Mexicans as the heads of the other departments, but if this is found to be impossible, Americans will be placed in charge of all of them. An American will be made inspector over each department headed by a Mexican.

Under the civil administration an inspector will act as judge advocate in murder cases in which Americans are involved, and also in cases of crimes which have to do with the attitude of residents of Vera Cruz toward the United States.

American Patrol Continues.

The police provisions call for a continuance of the patrol of Americans, although the Mexicans have been invited to co-operate in the organization of a native force. The customs receipts, it is said, may be placed to the credit of the United States.

Close scrutiny will be maintained over all newspapers and other publications and no editorial comment concerning the American occupation or news regarding the movement of troops will be permitted.

The commandant of the San Juan de Ulua fortress, in the inner harbor, dressed in full uniform, called on Rear Admiral Fletcher yesterday and was granted permission to take supplies to the women and children refugees in the fortress.

The battleship Louisiana has sailed for Galveston to convoy the army transports to Vera Cruz.

ASK COMMISSION ON MEXICAN SITUATION.

Washington, April 25.—A commission to inquire into the Mexican situation for the information of congress and the people, before steps of war are taken, was urged in a telegram Senator Lodge had read to the senate yesterday. The telegram was signed by John D. Long, former secretary of the navy, Albert E. Pillsbury, Samuel A. Eliot, Charles F. Dole, William Dean Howells, Edwin D. Mead and John Graham Brooks, all of Boston.

They also urged an immediate declaration by congress that the United States would in no event have any territory from Mexico by conquest.

WILL TAKE CHARGE OF THE CONSULATES.

Washington, April 25.—Secretary Bryan announced late yesterday that British consuls would take charge of the American consulates at Frontera, Lapaz, Ensenada and Manzanillo, and that the Chilean consulate would take over the business of the American consulate at Acapulco. There are no French consuls at these posts.

Secretary Bryan later announced that all American consuls in Mexico, whether in Federal or Constitutionalist teritory, had been authorized by the state department to leave the country. Whether they will withdraw, however, was left in each consul's discretion.

Hints for Prospective Builders----Directory of Duluth's Leading Home Builders, Supplies and Furnishing Concerns

THE NEWLYWED SERIES

The two designs following this design in The Herald will be the French type and the California bungalow type. This completes the series of nine houses of different style. Following the bungalow design a week from next Saturday, The Herald will commence a series to be known as the Newlywed series and will run over a period of several weeks.

Mr. Shurick, the architect, will endeavor to present to our readers four or five small houses costing in the neighborhood of $2,500 complete—houses that can be erected by the average young married man without shouldering too great an expense. There has been a great demand for houses of this kind and this series, like the one about to be completed, will attract a great deal of attention from young couples in Duluth.

THE GERMAN TYPE.

We offer to our readers this week the German type, a residence that adapts itself to Duluth in many different ways. The exterior of the first floor is constructed of load bearing tile with a covering of stucco and the second floor is frame. The fence around the front is constructed of the tapestry brick with white trimmings in wood, as called for by the Germans in their construction. The interior is well arranged and even here the German type has been carried out. Minnesota steel radiators are used. The cost of this house may be had upon application to the architect.

The Most Modern Homes Use Electric Appliances

Even homes enjoying the advantages of Electric Light have not reached the highest point of domestic efficiency, unless they are quipped with one or more of the handy electrical household appliances. Besides a saving of time and labor, tasks are performed better and with an indescribable feeling of satisfaction.

Lessen the Household Labors

An Electric Vacuum Cleaner cleans thoroughly and quickly. It does not stir up the germ-laden dust as a broom does, and it avoids the back-breaking labor of sweeping. An Electric Sewing Machine Motor allows you to do a great deal more work than you can accomplish on a foot-power machine—saves time and strength as well. You owe it to yourself to investigate.

"CLEAN-UP WEEK" and "THE HOOVER WAY"

If the city cleaning was throughly done each day during the year "Clean-up Week" would not be necessary

And why have "House-cleaning Week" in your own home? Why not do the work so thoroughly each day that you will not find it necessary to have the annual house-cleaning? Why not do it the "Hoover Way?"

We're demonstrating the "Hoover Way" of cleaning at our store. Come in and let us show you how the Hoover Suction Sweeper takes up surface dust and dirt; picks up adhering hair, thread and lint, while the electrically driven brush sweeps and vibrates the body of your rugs and loosens the dirt and sand embedded there.

It sweeps vigorously, shakes thoroughly, and the powerful suction captures every particle of dust, dirt, lint, etc., depositing it all in the medicated dust-bag.

"Clean-up Week" is a big thing for the City, but the "Hoover Way" is a bigger thing in your own home. Adopt it today.

The Hoover is now made in four popularly priced sizes.

The Herald will be glad to have its attention called to any misleading or untrue statement which may appear in its news, editorial or advertising columns.

UNFAITHFUL PUBLIC SERVANTS.

The three city commissioners who stand in the way of making proper public market provisions are deliberating slapping in the face all who have worked to conquer the problem of cost of living in Duluth by encouraging the cultivation of near-by acres.

They are defying the Duluth Commercial club, the Retail Merchants' association, the Housewives' league and all the organized and unorganized public opinion of the city, which is heart and soul behind the movement to encourage market-gardening around Duluth.

Moreover, they are making of their own stubbornness an obstacle to the development of Duluth and a menace to its welfare.

It is not particularly surprising, then, to find one of the three also opposing a modern purchasing system for the city—a move that would put the city business on a business basis and substitute order and economy for back-number methods, waste and inefficiency.

CHARITY.

Why, when all of us have trouble enough in our own lives, should we seek to make heavier the burdens of others by idle and vicious talk?

Why, when self-analysis would show the best of us to be nowhere near good enough to look for sprouting wings, should we spend so much time analyzing and advertising the failings of others?

Why, instead of recognizing the common frailties of humanity with charity as we hope for charity, should we multiply the sorrows of a sad world by increasing the flood of gossip that buries so many in a flood of hopelessness?

"Christ wrote but one line," says a Kansas newspaper. "He wrote it in the dust of earth, but it gave a fallen woman a passport to the realms of purity."

The Emporia Gazette tells a story, a pitful, heartbreaking story that could be duplicated in any community.

It is about an Emporia woman who had been brought up in another neighborhood. There, in her early girlhood, she had been tempted—and fell. Later she left home, prepared herself for a profession, and moved to Emporia. There she made good. Her life was exemplary, her character unstained. She was honored and respected. Then came the serpent tongue. We quote the Gazette:

"Recently, business took an Emporia man to the neighborhood in which this woman grew up, and he came home with the story, which he had heard from a neighborhood busybody, and he promptly conveyed the story to his wife. She hurried to a neighbor with the choice morsel, and then to another and another neighbor, and now the story is known to half the town.

"Who is helped by hearing this story? What possible good can its repetition do? Why will women—good wives and mothers and professing Christians, thus help to blacken the reputation of one who, Lord knows, has repented to the uttermost? Why can't men and women take the blessed Savior as an example, and help to write every sinning woman—who often is more sinned against than sinning—a ticket of admission to an equal chance with her more favored sisters? We all are sinners—differing only in degree, and often there is much less difference in degree than we would have our neighbors believe. Why can't we practice the Golden Rule?"

Why, indeed?

The difference is often less that between character and character than between temptation and lack of temptation, between opportunity and lack of opportunity.

And it isn't the most spotless among us who are readiest with the longue of scandal, either. If it was it might be different.

And we think perhaps the Gazette lays a little too much emphasis on the woman talebearer. What about that man who heard this pitiful secret, and instead of burying it deep in the charity of a great heart, published it to the world—or told his wife, which apparently was the same thing?

We could all make the world a less harsh place if we could train our hearts and our tongues to the charity that we would ask for ourselves.

A SILLY NEWSPAPER.

The Chicago Tribune, leading western exponent of militarism, invites us to a conquest of Mexico.

In an editorial which it printed April 20 and again April 22, the Tribune says in part:

> Mexico must be crossed from end to end, from side to side.
> The bandit leaders must all be reduced, the miles upon miles of rich soil rendered sterile by their depredations opened to thrifty landseekers and made productive to help support the world's population.
> The Mexican people must be freed from the tyranny of caste and the bondage of internecine strife, to climb the path of progress WITHIN THE EXTENDED BOUNDARIES OF THE UNITED STATES.

This is the counsel either of a villain or a fool.

In plain terms, what the Tribune proposes is the conquest of Mexico and the theft of its wealth.

It proposes to "free" the Mexican people from the "tyranny of caste," only to make them subjects of the United States. That their physical lot will be softer in servitude to a kindly people will make it none the less servitude.

The negroes were physically better off under slavery than they were for many years in freedom; but is that an argument for slavery?

The advice of the Chicago Tribune is undemocratic, unwise, un-American.

We had not heard that Hearst had bought the Tribune.

Fortunately, we may thank Providence that we have a president who will stand like a rock against such sophistries of temptation, such subtle appeals to greed.

At Mobile, last October, the president said:

> I want to take this occasion to say that the United States will never again seek one additional foot of territory by conquest. * * * I say this not with a single thought that any one will gainsay it, but merely to fix in our consciousness what our real relationship with the rest of America is. It is the relationship of a family of mankind devoted to the development of true constitutional liberty.

There is no danger that so long as the man who said that is president of the United States, this country will again soil its banners with the stain of pillage and conquest.

Mexico is rich. It is capable of producing untold wealth. Doubtless if we stole it we might make a great deal of money out of it—more even than it would cost to subjugate it and keep in subjection.

But we have no more right to a foot of Mexican soil, and we shall gain no more right to it by war, than ragged Jack Cade has to his neighbor's cashbox, which he covets.

There is no danger that such ugly advice as that of the Chicago Tribune will be heeded. But it is a thing to hang heads for that so great a newspaper should fall so low in its imitation of Hearst, an exemplar who deserves not imitation, but utter detestation.

EMINENTLY APPROPRIATE.

The Bull Moose party chooses as its candidate for Governor Hugh T. Halbert of St. Paul.

As Hugh T. Halbert of St. Paul is the Bull Moose party in Minnesota, what could be more fitting?

WHAT MAKES HEROES?

Of what stuff are heroes made? Opportunity, largely, seems to be the only tangible answer; yet there must be something back of that.

Heroes are neither born nor made—otherwise than by exigency. Heroes are not trained in schools—there is no school of heroism. They are not bred to the business of heroism or educated in it like doctors and lawyers. Nobody makes a business of heroism—though a few heroes have tried to capitalize their heroism after the event; usually with sad results.

There is no race of heroes, no class of heroes. There are oftener heroes in homespun than in silk. War produces many, but that is only because its opportunities for heroism are larger.

The world is full of heroes. They are all about us. Even we, though we suspect it not, may have within us the making of heroism. Only the test will tell whether we are hero or craven. Our neighbor on the right may be a hero and our neighbor on the left a coward—or vice versa. We cannot know till they are tried.

And those who have seen real heroism develop spontaneously in a moment of dread when action and thought must both come with the quickness of lightning flashes often are amazed by the materials of which heroism is made. More likely than not the quiet, reticent, unassuming workman whom we never have noticed at all will be the hero, and the forward, boastful pushing fellow will prove the coward.

Says Collier's Weekly: "In flood time a telephone call may mean safety or destruction to many people, and a naturally careless and flippant girl becomes a heroine, sticking to her switchboard all night to send the messages through while a rising river gnaws at the building's foundation. Caught by a cave-in, a foul-mouthed old miner walks off into the gas to die alone so that his younger comrade may have what air there is and the chance of getting back to his family. Some rough fishermen stranded on a perilous reef haul down their signal of distress because they know that a small boat cannot live in that mad sea. So it goes year after year—these people might easily be thought of as ordinary, dull and mean, the commonest human animals; but when the hour strikes life flames up within them and they rise to meet their fate with as calm a soul as one who goes to pick flowers in his mother's garden. What will this world be like when we get into the habit of living up to something near the best that is in us?"

What a world it would be indeed, if we got into the habit of "living up to something near the best that is in us!" So many of us live down so near to the worst that is in us!

And still the question is unanswered: What makes heroes?

We have a fancy that there is something worth noting in the coincidence that it is the quiet, unassuming folks who often prove heroes when the hour strikes, rather than the loud, boastful ones.

To be a hero, to rise supreme in an emergency, the soul must be swept bare of thought of self. To think in a flash what ought to be done, to do it—that takes a mind unconfused by selfishness.

Maybe it's this that marks the hero from the craven, in whatever humble garb he may be walking among us.

CREATING AND REFLECTING PUBLIC SENTIMENT.

Now comes to light an interesting incident which, as a by-product of the canal tolls controversy, illustrates at once some of the methods used by the president's opponents, and some of the methods used by some newspapers — particularly newspapers more concerned in "putting something over" than they are with their duty to the public.

The following telegram, which evidently reached the wrong hands, is not only self-explanatory but illuminating:

> Cincinnati, Ohio., April 10, 1914.
> Some Reliable Newspaper Man,
> Elkhart, Ind.:
> Please file early Friday evening three hundred words showing unfavorable sentiment your section toward President Wilson's stand on Panama canal tolls. Interview big business men and get them to say something hot.
> ENQUIRER.

The newspaper man to whom the telegraph company delivered this message turned out to be not "reliable" from the Enquirer viewpoint. Instead of obeying its direction to stir up talk against the president, and to make some if there was none handy, he turned it over to Senator Kern of Indiana, who read it in the senate and had it printed in the Congressional Record.

The Enquirer of Cincinnati is owned by John R. McLean, who not only is that newspaper but in the Washington Post which he also owns is turning heaven and earth to defeat the repeal of the canal tolls exemption. In this he vies with William R. Hearst, who is doing everything that perverted human ingenuity can devise to blacken the president's character and to wake the spirits of anarchy and assassination as he did before the murder of President McKinley.

Ship subsidy senators who are fighting to blacken the national honor by defeating the repeal bill are herding in queer company.

TEACHING STUDENTS HOW TO READ.

It is interesting to note that among the reforms being instituted at Oberlin as a result of a careful investigation of existing methods is provision for special instruction in thorough reading.

There is hardly any subject there is greater need of teaching than that.

Hardly anybody knows how to read. Oh, of course everybody has mastered the mechanics of reading. That was what the primer and the series of "readers" were for. But most people stopped there.

There is need of teaching people to read the right thing in the right way.

If the average person fed himself on the same aimless, hit-or-miss plan as he feeds his mind with reading, there would be a million times more indigestion than there is.

In the first place, most reading is purely mechanical. It is done to pass the time, and it only stirs the mind if the material is startling. And the mind that is stirred only by sensationalism is quickly inured to it, and demands increasing extravagances or refuses to be stirred.

Aimless, desultory reading destroys the faculty of real reading. Real reading is a matching of wits between reader and author. For every thought suggested by the author, the good reader's mind responds with another—or maybe a dozen. Reading for pastime, though perfectly proper in its place, is like taking a soothing drug. Reading for pleasure and mental recreation is like a walk in the open that stimulates body and mind to a new joy in life.

Most people need not only to be taught how to read, but what to read. It is as great a folly to read nothing but frothy stuff as it would be to try to live on desserts. Yet literary desserts constitute an appallingly large proportion of the average person's reading.

Oberlin does well to teach real reading. There is danger that reading will become a lost art. The vogue of Chambers and his ilk and the accumulating dust on the golden books are not good signs of the times.

"WOMAN'S SPHERE IS THE HOME."

The pet argument of the opponent of votes for women, which he uses whenever he is badgered into a corner and has no more arguments in his quiver, is: "Well, anyhow, woman's proper sphere is the home."

It is, we think; yet what institution in all the land is more threatened by bad social and economic conditions than the home? In what cause is it nobler to march to the polls than that of the home? And what of the millions of women wage workers who are denied their right to any home sphere at all because unjust economic conditions force them to labor?

The Chicago Evening Post makes an interesting point:

> In the home sphere we once found the spinning wheel and the loom. The kitchen garden, the churn, the flour barrel and the baking board were part of it. The hosiery was knitted, the candles were molded, the fruit was canned, the beef was corned, by home industry.
> The woman in the home had many activities and various to occupy her mind in those days. Moreover, she had direct control over most of the fabrics and foodstuffs that were used in the home. The domestic empire in which her word was law had scope and importance.
> However, the unsentimental hand of business reached into the home and robbed it of one occupation after another. The spinning wheel and the loom became part of the woolen mills and the cotton factories; the kitchen garden vanished as population concentrated in cities—the backyard and the apartment house porch took its place; Elgin, Illinois, capitalized the churn and made butter for the nation; breadmaking became a matter of profit in big bakeries; holeproof hosiery was substituted for the sort that mother used to knit; gas and electric light, supplied by public utility corporations, took the place of candles; the products of the home kettle and pickle vat yielded to the goods of the canners and packers.
> The home sphere was so narrowed that little was left it but motherhood.
> But many a woman today protests against this narrowing, and, accepting the definition of her sphere as the home, insists that she must extend her activities in order to follow the interests of the home into the wider field whither they have been swept in the evolution of industry. And this is a field that is increasingly regulated by legislation. Hence the demand for the suffrage as one phase of the feminist movement. Simply as a mother, in order to regain control of those matters that affect her offspring and that were once under her immediate supervision, she must have access to the ballot box.
> This is only one phase of the problem, but it is sufficient to show that the cry of "woman's sphere is the home" has implications vastly broader than is realized by those who are most prone to raise it.

This, we think, is well reasoned, logical and true. Moreover, we fear that the development of such implications as these will be a great shock to the criers of "woman's sphere is the home" because their outlook, unfortunately, is not wide. Theirs is the narrow vision of those who are always being shocked by the sledge-hammer blow of the discovery that there are things outside the scope of the crack-like aperture through which their mind's eye peeps.

Woman's sphere IS the home; but the home is so bound up with a social organization that has robbed the home of the loom, the spinning wheel, the candle mold and the churn, that woman's influence, representing and voting for the home, is needed to keep a stable and tenable social and economic balance.

MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE.

Statistics have developed two interesting facts: college women do not marry so often as other women; and married college women are not so often divorced as other women.

Virginia Gildersleeve of Barnard offers a very plausible reason why there are fewer marriages among college women than among other women:

> Since the college woman is probably better able to support herself, she is less likely to wed for a livelihood.
> Since she is more likely to find the world an interesting place, she is less likely to wed because she is bored.

Now these reasons, which seem good ones, are equally good reasons why, when the college woman does marry, she is not so likely to be divorced.

Though unfortunately a common enough reason for marriage, to wed merely to be supported is a very insecure basis for a marriage contract.

And women who are bored, and who marry merely for a change, are also very unlikely to be married very securely.

Women who marry to get a living and women who marry for relief from boredom do not go into matrimony for reasons likely in themselves to lead them to stay married. When a marriageable woman marries a man with an income of twelve hundred a year merely that she may share it, why may she not be later attracted by the prospect of sharing another man's eighteen hundred or three thousand? When a woman is bored with single life and marries for a change, why may she not soon become bored with life with her husband, and try another change by divorcing him and marrying still another?

Heaven knows the incomes of most of us are inadequate enough, and woman knows how uninteresting most of us are!

But that isn't what we have been aiming at, at all. The point of this discussion is the close relationship that exists between marriage and divorce—between hasty and ill-judged marriages particularly and the precipitate divorces that often follow speedily.

Few marriages entered into with calm deliberation and for good reason result in divorce.

Many marriages entered into hastily and for poor reasons or no reasons at all result in divorces—or else in lifelong misery, which is worse than divorce.

If folks would be more careful about their marriages, take more time to think them over and to analyze the reasons that impel them into matrimony, there would be much less need of worrying about the divorce evil.

Bridgeomania

Stephen Lacock in the Century Magazine: He came across to me in the semi-silence room of the club.

"I had rather a queer hand at bridge last night," he said.

"Had you?" I answered, and picked up a newspaper.

"Yes. It would have interested, you, I think," he went on.

"Would it?" I said, and moved to another chair.

"It was like this," he continued, following me. "I held the king of hearts—"

"Half a minute," I said; "I want to go and see what time it is." I went out and looked at the clock in the hall. I came back.

"And the queen and the ten—," he was saying.

"Excuse me just a second; I want to ring for a messenger."

I did so. The waiter came and went.

"And the nine and two small ones," he went on.

"Two small what?" I asked.

"Two small hearts," he said. "I don't remember which. Anyway, I remember very well, indeed, that I had the king and queen and the jack, and nine and two little ones."

"Half a second," I said, "I want to mail a letter."

When I came back to him he was still murmuring:

"My partner held the ace of clubs and the queen. The jack was out, but I didn't know where the king was—"

"You didn't?" I said in contempt.

"Diamonds had gone round once, and spades twice, and so I suspected that my partner was leading from weakness—"

"I can well believe it," I said—"sheer weakness."

"Well," he said, "on the sixth round the lead came to me. Now, what should I have done? Finessed for the ace or led straight into my opponent—"

"You want my advice," I said, "and you shall have it, openly and fairly. In such a case as you describe, where a man had led out at me repeatedly and with provocation, as I gather from what you say, though I myself do not play bridge, I should lead my whole hand at him. I repeat, I do not play bridge. But in the circumstances I should think it the only thing to do."

Two Hours a Day.

Dr. Frank Crane in Woman's World: In cultural value two hours a day for six days is better than six hours in one day. Try it yourself on a small scale. Take a puzzle or a chess problem you would solve, or a quotation you wish to memorize; you will find that to take it up ten times for five minutes of effort will be much more satisfactory than to spend fifty solid minutes upon it.

Mind is rhythmic, periodical. In pure intellect, the adage is not true, literally, that keeping everlastingly at it brings success; it is everlastingly going away from it and coming back again that produces the best results.

Your two hours a day, therefore, is key enough to all treasures.

Go slow. Don't get impatient. Don't indulge in such baby-talk as "Oh, I can never get this!" "I am so stupid!" and the like.

You can understand anything if you keep at it every day. Learning the whole Bible backward by heart is only a matter of patience. Remember, it is growth you are after, not the learning of a trick.

Always look up what you do not understand. Have access to a dictionary and encyclopedia, and challenge every word or fact. Do not get into the slipshod method of guessing at what a thing means.

Most ridiculous and sometimes humiliating mistakes are caused by the guessing habit. I once heard a woman use the word "meretricious" when she meant "meritorious," because the forepart of the word sounded as if it had to do with "merit."

A Bit Hasty.

Life: Husband—Did that dress-suit case come?

Wife—The one full of dreadful clothes from the office? Yes; and they came just in time to give away to the missionary society.

Husband (in a sepulchral voice)—It belonged to an Englishman I have invited home to dinner. (Door bell rings.)

Distressingly Late.

Le Rire: "We're late; they're playing Beethoven's Ninth Symphony."

"There! What a pity we missed the other eight!"

The Greatest Story in Words of One Syllable

A cable dispatch of recent date commented on a sermon in words of one syllable delivered by the Rev. A. Smythe Palmer, vicar of Holy Trinity church, Wanstead, England. The sermon, which had for its subject the birth of Christ, was published in full in English papers which have just reached this country. It is given below:

He, who speaks the mind of God, who tells us and would have us know what God thinks—for if it were not for Him we could not know it at all. "God did so love the world that He gave His own, one Son, to be born at this time for us, to the end that all who trust in Him should not die but have the life which lasts for aye." He came and "dwelt with us" on earth that men might see with their own eyes at least one pure life, lived out free from sin. He was made "flesh of our flesh" and "bone of our bone," "God with us" in truth, but man no less, true man and true God—a child like one of our own; that is the strange thing, so deep that no man, wise as he may be, can quite take it in. He was to be "God with us," but at the same time "a worm and no man"—less than a man in the grief and pain and scorn which He bore.

The text takes our thoughts back to the birth of this day. It is a birth day for the whole world to keep. All men can say, "To us this Child is born, to us God gave this Son of His love. I have my share in it." And so we are all glad of heart and make our church gay with plants and flowers, and sing our hymns of joy and keep the feast with gifts and good fare. It is the birth day of all our hopes. Now, it was good news of great joy that the Host from on High brought to the herds who kept watch on their sheep in the fields. And it is still so. For us, as much as for them, was born in that small town one strong to save—"Which is Christ the Lord."

It is old news now and I fear it falls on our dull, cold hearts like some old tale of long past time which has lost its charm. Oh, let us not shut our ears to it as some of those first men did. When He came to His own, His own would not take Him in. They said, "There is no room for Him here"—no room in the inn when He came to it. It was not an inn, you must know, like one of ours, but a mere bare court where those on the road might rest—a "khan," they call it in the East.

Does it not seem to us a sad and a strange sight that a young babe should be shut out in the cold night—God in want of house room? A poor place, at best, as rude and rough as we can well think, and, such as it was, quite full with the crowd who had come first. The host of the inn sends them off. He tells them there is a cave at the back of the inn, where the beasts are kept; they may find rest there, if they will. That cave, where the birth of all time took place, is still shown in the rock—a great church built there marks the spot. Then, poor, mean and cold, it was the best place He could find to lay His head.

"The fox has his hole and the bird of the air her nest, but the Son of Man hath not where to lay His head." So, in that cave in the rock, the stall of the ox and the ass, in the crib out of which they ate their hay, the new born babe was laid. Just think what all this means! God made flesh, God born as man in this world of ours, that He might find a way to bring back man to God. He hid His might and men hid their face from Him. None by the herds who kept their sheep saw or knew of it till they fell to the ground in a great blaze of light, and a host of bright ones in the sky sang such a song as no choir on earth has sung, which gave praise to God on High, "and on earth peace, good will to men." Those herds had faith to go and seek the Child of Whom they were told. They found him in the crib and they saw more than their eyes could see. They knew that in that weak Child was the power of God to save. And so these good men, when they had bow'd down, went back to their flock, struck with awe, and "gave praise to God for all they had heard and seen."

Shall we do less—shall we not, too, go home and give thanks on our part, with joy for what we have heard? And in all our joy let us find room for the one guest Who should not be left out—room in our hearts for Him Whose word is life.

Passers.

Out of the big wide world they come and pause for a word, and go
Out into the world again and gone; gone as the leaves that blow
Down airy lanes, and their names fade out, but if they have brought a smile,
Then a memory of them outlasts their name and stays for the longest while;
And you are glad that they climbed the stairs to get to your little den,
And there's a sweetness you know not of when they have gone on again;
They bring you stories of distant lands, and stories of foreign ways,
And some are old and they tell you tales of loves of their far gone days.

And one comes to you to tell you things of a boy that he had—who died,
And another comes with a failure tale
—he failed though he tried and tried,
But he believes he will win out yet,
and smiles as he leaves your den,
With a courage finer than tempered steel, a courage to try again!
And so they come, and pause for a word, and turn to the door and go;
And some of them bring you tales of joy, but most of them tales of woe;
For when we're winning and life is glad, what need for a word or two?
But how men grope for a kindly hand when all of the world looks blue!

And that's what makes it a good old world, the fellows who come and pass;
Some look on life as a drunkard looks deep into his empty glass;
And some are glad, and it takes all kinds to make up the world of men,
And it is good that they turn aside to speak as they pass your den;
And maybe you help them a little bit
with your grip and your howdydo,
And maybe, though you don't know quite how, they've been of some help to you;
But, anyhow, here's luck to them who come as the wild leaves blow
Out of the big wide world, and pause for a "Howdy?" and turn and go.

The Overworked Patriotism Gag.

Decatur Democrat: Every taxpayer in this county owns an interest in the Panama canal. Every citizen helped to built it. Why then should a half dozen millionaires, ship lines, railroad companies or the Steel corporation have free use of our property? It's the old question of making the rich man richer at the poor man's expense, and the patriotism gag is an old and overworked one, when the ordinary man has to pay all the expenses.

SATURDAY NIGHT TALK

Carrying Asses to Market.

An old fable tells of the countryman who went to market accompanied by his son on the back of an ass. Spectators soon began to cry out their disapproval because the lad rode while his poor old father walked, and so the two exchanged places. Further along the road other critics were displeased because the strong man was riding and the little fellow must trudge along behind, so the man dismounted. Soon they met travelers who called attention to the fact that both man and boy were foolishly wasting their strength in walking while the donkey had no burden at all. At this both man and boy, convinced that they had made a mistake, got upon the animal's back. This was too much, however, for another group of observers who were about to beat the pair for cruelly overdoing a helpless beast of burden. Anxious to please these later critics, father and son dismounted and, taking up the ass on their own shoulders, bore him to the market place. It is not on record what further suggestions they met there.

One of the accomplishments of life so difficult that it need never be attempted is that of pleasing everybody. The endeavor usually results in pleasing nobody, oneself least of all. Yet at times most of us are tempted to make the trial. We live our lives and do our work in the presence of many men of many minds. There are people about of so much "mind" that they are always trying to give somebody a piece of it. They like to direct not only their own affairs, but those also of their neighbors. It is easy, especially for conscientious and peace-loving folk, to fall into a fixed habit of conformity. Unwilling to offend, anxious to avoid anything that might arouse criticism, they make life a series of concessions. But it is to be doubted if the rewards justify the trouble.

A certain amount of criticism must be met and borne with. Giving due weight to all helpful suggestions, one should still reflect that no outsider can know the facts of his personal life as he himself knows them. It is not wise to be swerved by every preference one hears expressed. The captain, with course marked out, cannot change the direction of the ship every time some landlubber of a passenger thinks he ought to. It is related of Dr. Jowett of Balliol, and one of the most gentle and delightful men ever produced by Oxford university, that once, in a moment of natural resentment over some unjust criticism of his administration, he laid down this rule for men of action: "Never retract. Never explain. Get it done and let them howl." One need not press the excellent advice beyond its proper intent. It is simply counsel to be sure you are right and then go ahead, a principle on which strong souls have always acted.

There is indeed a vast deal of criticism that is honorable to one rather than discreditable. St. Paul did not please the Ephesian mob, nor did Christ please the Pharisees in Jerusalem. We do not want to jibe in with the plans of all sorts and conditions of men. To do so is to argue oneself without moral purpose or power. The great thing is to justify one's course at the bar of one's own conscience, to win the approval of his own heart. He can stand much criticism who is thus fortified.

This above all—to thine ownself be true
And it must follow, as the night the day,
Thou canst not then be false to any man.

SCOOP THE CUB REPORTER — If the Boss Had Seen Her He'd Understood — By "HOP"

WASHINGTON AND WILSON

By SAVOYARD

Washington, April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—History is sometimes fond of playing tricks such as repeating itself. It was more than a century ago when "mongrel, puppy, whelp and hound and curs of low degree" barked at the president of the United States, George Washington, and denounced him for "surrendering to England." In congress one fellow—"damned to everlasting fame," as Champ Clark is so fond of quoting—asserted that Washington had been the father of his country, but was become the stepfather of his country. Such assaults by the scurvy politicians and yaller journalists of that day embittered the last years of Washington's life and shortened his days.

It was about the Jay treaty that Washington's administration negotiated with England. At that time we were miserably weak, comparatively, and betwixt two fires, Franco and England, then engaged in the tremendous grapple growing out of the revolution of 1789. In that treaty we abandoned some things for which we contended, yet we got other things that were greatly to our advantage; but the enemies of the administration were enraged and poured out their vituperative wrath against the man who had made the republic possible and whose name is the grandest in profane history.

And in the debate on this canal tolls question history is repeating itself. All the vile slanders of which George Washington was the victim in 1794, Woodrow Wilson is the mark of in 1914. The ship trust, a perfect and a legalized monopoly with watered stock, holding companies, interlocking directories, and all the concomitants of an odious trust, compared with which Standard Oil at its worst was a harmless and a bleating spring lamb, wraps itself in an American flag and demands of a Democratic congress that it tax the cotton planter of Mississippi, the tobacco grower of Kentucky, the mule breeder of Missouri, the corn farmer of Kansas, the wheat producer of Minnesota, and all the other honest industries of the Union to swell its profits.

A competent authority estimates that the subsidy will amount to $2,000,000 annually, and the excuse they offer for this graft is that the ship trust will give it back to the people in cheaper freight rates. I don't see how a man who believes that ever found his way to this town without a guide. A monopoly doesn't operate that way. It has no use for that sort of money. Now, would this most grasping and most odious of all the trusts be expending all the money it is spending to defeat the president if it intended to return the money as soon as it got it?

Admit for the absurdity of it that the trust will return the subsidy to the people, who will get it? The seacoast states; not a dollar of it will go to Kentucky or Ohio, Indiana or Illinois, Missouri or Kansas, Iowa or Nebraska, or any other internal state. It can't be done. Here is Victor Murdock, on whom James R. Mann in congress the other day appears to have to have laid his episcopal hands and pronounced politically cleansed—the Hon. Murdock proposes to tax his farm constituency to bestow the graft on a monopoly of which a Tammany boss is the head! And it is all done in the name of patriotism. Certainly Pacific Mail, of corrupt and cursed memory, was a patriot. Who ever saw a rogue after swag from the public treasury that wasn't a patriot?

It is manifest from his temper that the unspeakable Bristow knows that his days as a senator are numbered. I hope Curtis will beat him for the nomination and then Murdock for the senate, if a Democrat can't get it. I know this is contrary to what I wrote a few days ago, but at that time Jim Mann had not feasted the returned prodigal, Murdock, on the fatted calf. If Curtis were senator it is not only possible but likely that he would join the intellectual aristocracy and political respectability of his party in congress, such as Root and Lodge, Burton and McCumber, and vote against this graft levied on Kansas to fatten Boss Nixon's ship monopoly. Whatever you may say of Curtis, he's got brains, and he knows a corrupt subsidy when he meets it in the middle of the big road.

Just from curiosity I went and got the Chicago papers printed the day after Champ Clark made his tremendous assault on the Democratic administration. The Tribune, the Record-Herald, the Inter Ocean and the News—representing all shades of political opinion except Democratic—all of them condemned Clark's support of the subsidy—the Tribune's comment being exceptionally able and severe. The Indianapolis News—and a greater or abler newspaper falls from no press of our republic—the Indianapolis News condemns Clark and supports the president.

And about Champ's tremendous effort. It is full of hyperbole, as all his utterances, written or spoken, are. As for "argument," you would as well seek a ruffled shirt at a butcher's stall in the city market. But clap-trap is Champ's stock in trade; thus give him free rein and his eloquence is as drunk as the Baltic ocean when nature is in a rage. He carried fifty-two Democrats into the Republican camp, nineteen of whom were from Tammany and Chicago, and the fifty-two were 19 per cent of the Democrats who voted on the bill. On the other hand, of the 118 Republicans voting twenty-five opposed the subsidy, or 21 per cent.

We hear a heap of talk about the Democratic "split." How is the foregoing for a Republican split? Against the subsidy were 81 per cent of the Democrats, for it 19 per cent; for the subsidy were 79 per cent of the Republicans, while 21 per cent of them opposed it.

A Monumental Work.

STANDARD CYCLOPEDIA OF HORTICULTURE. Vol. 1. By L. Bailey. New York: The Macmillan company. $6 net.

Because of its expense, this work will seem to many a luxury. But to those who can possibly compass its cost, it will quickly prove a necessity. Its predecessor was a standard work, the standard work—and it was regarded as exhaustive and final. The several editions of it that were put forth from time to time showed only minor changes, mainly the correction of slight errors.

But this new work—it is a new work, and not merely a revised edition—is truly monumental. It is exhaustive, up-to-date, complete, authoritative and—somewhat unusually—completely useful both to those who wish scientific authority and to those who seek information for everyday working purposes, whether professional or amateur. Though edited by and largely the work of Liberty H. Bailey, America's foremost horticultural authority, many authors, all experts in the subjects they treat, have contributed to its enormous volume of information.

There are to be six volumes, and the succeeding volumes are promised at close intervals.

This volume, "A-B," or "Abaca" to "Byrsonima," contains 600 pages and 700 illustrations, including many full-page photographic plates, a number of them in colors.

As introductory matter there is a small library, including a synopsis of the vegetable kingdom; a key to the families and genera, by which the gardener or student may find the name of any plant cultivated in America, including many cultivated in its island possessions as well as wild flowers frequently offered for sale; a list of Latin names of species with English equivalents; a glossary of botanical terms, etc.

It is a rich and unfailingly useful work—the last word in its field.

Under each plant appear full descriptions for identification, cultural directions, instructions for propagation, lists of varieties with descriptions, blooming period, the soil and cultural methods suited to each variety and other essential information. This, be it understood, for every imaginable species, and often running to half a dozen pages for a single species.

Then, too, there are many special articles; for instance, under "Annuals," three pages compact of useful information, with lists of annuals divided according to color and purpose. Under "Bulbs," there are nine pages, with information enough to make a book. Under "Bedding," there are two pages with a number of suggested color plans. Among other important special articles are those on "Arboriculture" and "Breeding of Plants."

This is not, as we have said, a revised edition, but a new work; though it is of course founded on the former compilation, but with an enlarged scope. Its fundamental purposes are two: to help identify species, and to teach propagation and cultivation. It contains practically all, therefore, that will be found in a thousand volumes now extant.

Anybody who makes gardening a hobby or a business, and who can possible afford it, the work is as indispensable as the commonest garden tool.

A Guidebook to Japan.

TERRY'S JAPANESE EMPIRE, including Korea and Formosa. With chapters on Manchuria, the Trans-Siberian Railway and the chief ocean routes to Japan. By T. Philip Terry, F. R. G. S. Boston and New York: Houghton-Mifflin company. $5 net.

This new guidebook to Japan, which is on the Baedeker plan, seems amazingly full and complete. Though it contains more than a thousand closely printed pages, it is of pocket size with flexible covers. There is a complete index.

Besides being a complete and unusually helpful guidebook, the volume contains full notes on the geography, language, literature, history, architecture, applied arts and government of Japan and its colonies, as well as illuminating notes on the people and their homes, crafts, customs, religions, sports, etc. Mr. Terry has set a new standard in the making of guidebooks by compressing into a single handy volume all essential information about Japan and its people. Many money-saving and otherwise helpful hints will be found in the monographs on How to Reach Japan, Traveling Expenses, Money, Guides, Hotels, Inns and Food, Tips, Laundry, Plan of Tour, Season, Climate, Health, What to Wear, Photography, Shops, Curios, etc. In short, it is hard to imagine any information which anybody intending to tour Japan would need that is not in this short-lot volume. The maps and plans, many of which are now first published, are carefully drawn and clearly printed, and they should prove of great help to the traveler. Fifty-four routes are described, which will reach every place of importance within the empire.

A Story of the Drug Habit.

LEVIATHAN. By Jeannette Marks. New York: George H. Doran company. $1.35 net.

This is the story of a brilliant young professor, a slave to opium given first by his physician, who was restored to health by a drug cure helped by his will to break himself of the habit.

John Dean tells his fiancee, Margaret, of his affliction, but she marries him despite it, saying he needs her help. She tries gradually reducing the doses, but without her knowledge he takes both the drug and liquor. Instead of improving, Dean grows worse. As the habit grows, he forgets his standard of truth and lies, even to himself, about his use of the drug. In despair of ever being able to do without opium and hating himself for this misery he has brought upon his wife he attempts suicide. An overdose makes the attempt a failure. Then Dean is sent to a New York specialist. The battle in the sanitarium is a hard one, but his determination and his love for his wife spur him on to keep up the treatment until his recovery is complete. A wealthy, childless couple leave their money to Margaret, enabling them to spend a year in Europe where Dean through rest and recreation regains his old energy. Upon his return to the university he takes up his teaching with renewed vigor. "Johnny's what I call a man," one of his students says. "Or a god," says another, adding, "Jack's all right."

HERBERT EDWARD LAW,
Author of "The Power of Mental Demand."

Not content with his own cure, Dean gives money for the cure of drug and alcohol habits, and tells the physicians in charge of a hospital to send all discouraged patients to him for encouragement. He travels, fighting the illicit sale of habit-forming drugs and the practices of physicians and druggists responsible for forming drug habits.

From the first chapter to the last runs the story of the devotion of Francis, Dean's negro servant. Others may doubt his master but to Francis he is a hero, true to his promises. Not even Margaret feels greater grief over Dean's lapses into the opium habit.

The author vividly presents the evils of the drug habit, through a concrete example. She introduces Dean after he has become a user of opium, shows his struggles against it, many times fruitless but in the end successful, and she shows the gradual decline of the ethical standard of the man. Obviously the purpose of her book is to bring to her readers the fact that most drug users are such through the carelessness of physicians who do not hesitate to give deadly, habit-forming drugs for the relief of pain, and by the greed of druggists who sell patent medicines that sap the vitality from the users of them. She also attacks "fake" cures of the drug habit. The remedy suggested for drug evils is the passing of strict laws regarding the sale of habit-forming drugs, the breaking of which shall be a federal offense.

Most of one chapter is taken up by Margaret's cousin, Geoffrey, a chemist, who explains the illicit drug traffic in the United States. The reader realizes the author is telling the purpose of her novel in a thinly disguised way, but her way of presenting it is so interesting there is no temptation to skip.

Wise Advertising.

THE POWER OF ADVERTISING. By A. O. Richardson. New York: Lambert Publishing Co.

Advertising has been repeatedly referred to as the greatest dynamic force in modern business. It has literally changed the face and character of civilization. In America especially has advertising been developed into a science or art—or both.

Advertising is in such a state of embryo in England and her colonies that it is surprising to find the subject treated with such able comprehensiveness as in this English book.

Mr. Richardson is an Australian advertising specialist, but his treatment of his topic shows the most intimate knowledge of advertising as practiced in the United States. His book shows a saneness about a much mooted question that is refreshing in these days of extremists.

Mr. Richardson attempts a definition of "Advertising as:

(1) Publicity work conducted on educational lines, aiming to make the name and the merit of a commodity familiar to buyers throughout the advertiser's get-at-able territory, or, having made the selling points known, seeking to keep them fresh in the buyer's mind.

(2) Printed salesmanship, telling the story of the goods in a dignified, convincing, yet interesting manner, in words easily understood but containing no suspicion of exaggeration, or in pictures that give faithful illustrations of the goods.

(3) The gradual process of applying layer after layer of facts relative to quality and value to the public mind, so that, step by step, the impression of goodness is strengthened and a confidence wall built round the product to the exclusion of competing brands.

Mr. Richardson comments upon the fact that the people who discourse the loudest upon the pitfalls in advertising are invariably those who have the least practical knowledge of the subject.

"Advertising doesn't pay," is the remark I recently heard a man make whose total expenditure in the last two years has not exceeded $500," says the author. "He made this remark in that confident tone which one associates with a lifelong experience and unerring judgment, and as I listened to the air of finality with which he answered so big a question I was compelled to admire his colossal egotism."

To make a big splash and then quit is worse than throwing the money into the sea, in Mr. Richardson's opinion, lies the only method by which the advertiser can achieve success. The power of advertising is cumulative. Success comes only by steadily keeping at it.

To do justice to Mr. Richardson's book of 300 pages in a brief review is quite impossible. Suffice it to say that "The Power of Advertising" is a treatise, text-book, and guide combined, written in a convincing, interesting style—crisp and readable.

To the ordinary business man the book will doubly repay a careful reading, and to the person who takes more than a passing interest in the subject of advertising, it will prove a mine of profitable truths and observations.

Business Life Pointers.

THE POWER OF MENTAL DEMAND. By Herbert Edward Law. San Francisco: Paul Elder & Co. $1.25 net.

Probably every business man who has had occasion to write letters of general instruction and advice to subordinates has, at various times, found himself using expressions that struck him as possible texts for more extended development. At least that has been the experience of Mr. Law, but instead of allowing the idea to be lost he has made note of the various thoughts, and in this book he gives expression to these developed ideas.

The keynote of the whole volume might be expressed in the words, "Make up your mind and then go ahead." He emphasizes and reiterates the possibilities of accomplishment under the inspiration of personal determination, and often the reader comes across something that he is tempted to have reprinted and framed for motto purposes, if he believes in that kind of thing.

The book is in fact a reservoir of inspiration, one that is small enough to be kept always at hand, and yet is practically limitless in its potential influence. The following sentences, taken at random from its pages, will give an idea of the nature of the whole text:

"There can be no limit on the power of achievement except that put upon it by desire."

"Your thoughts are a force; they are an absolute power."

"You live in the thoughts you associate with."

"Courage is will; it is the power that achieves. Cowardice is predetermined failure."

"There is no element so important in a successful business or a successful life as enthusiasm."

"Mere industry is not effectiveness."

For Lovers of Good Fiction.

FIGURES FAMED IN FICTION. By H. G. Pillsbury. Chicago: Rand, McNally & Co. $1.25 net.

The author of this book with the rather commonplace name has taken fifteen central figures in striking novels—not all classics, but all with a strong human appeal—and provided a graphic character sketch of each, with enough of the plot in each instance to make a completed story. It is a varied crew—Jean Valjean from "Les Miserables," Tom Brown from "Tom Brown's School Days," Marcus Vinicius from "Quo Vadis," John Halifax from "John Halifax, Gentleman," Clement Vaughn from "The Sage Brush Parson," etc. So far as his powers could carry him, Dr. Pillsbury has worked in the vein of the creators of these characters. While his stories are not far above the commonplace—perhaps seeming so by contrast with the genius of the originals—they are interesting, and his choice of subjects, though by no means all from the lofty heights of fiction, is tempting.

A Clever Mystery Story.

THE AFTER HOUSE. By Mary Roberts Rinehart. Pictures by May Wilson Preston. Boston and New York: Houghton-Mifflin company. $1.25 net.

Ralph Leslie, fresh from medical college and typhoid fever, with nothing but his education, an appetite and seven dollars, shipped on a schooner that had been converted into a private yacht for a cruise down the Atlantic coast. The rats had solemnly marched out of her before she sailed. The host was drinking hard, and was ugly. Leslie went on, thanks to beautiful Elsa Lee, as a sort of deck steward. There were queer doings in the after house—the cabin—even before "the terrible night of Aug. 12," and the second mate had mysteriously gone overboard. On that particular night Leslie awoke in the store room, where he was sleeping, to find the door locked. Thinking it somebody's prank, he started to unscrew the lock, when he heard a woman scream, so he broke down the door. There he found Vail, one of the guests, the captain and a maid dead. All had been killed with an ax, and the men had been all but cut to pieces. The mystery is complete and the skillfully wrought story is saturated with it thenceforth. There was a thing in white, that grinned and yet had no face, which paraded the deck and vanished queerly. A sailor in the crows-nest threw a marlinspike at it, and the spike also vanished. The first mate was suspected, and the owner—even Leslie himself. It is a ship of terror. The reader follows the story fascinatedly to the end.

A Lot About Marriage.

THE WOMEN WE MARRY. By Arthur Stanwood Pier. Boston and New York: Houghton Mifflin company. $1.35 net.

Judging by this story, "the women we marry" are erratic, uncertain, changeable—human. And whatever they do at one time or another, there is always a chance that they will turn out right on the end.

It's a queer hodge-podge, this story, and at times rather difficult to follow for lack of a sustained current of apparent purpose. We are not quite certain whether it is because there is so much of the plot or so little of it that it is practically impossible to give an outline of the story. Mainly, it concerns two couples who marry, and what happened before and after.

George Brandon, returning from a long trip, finds the girl of his heart being married to a gallant militiaman. Afterwards, the fair Rosamond finds she still loves George—or thinks she does. They are thrown together for a week, and he wants her to run away with him, but she won't. Then he falls in love with and marries another girl. With both couples married, the story is just begun. There is a lot about married life and having children and paying bills. The fair Rosamond steadies down and makes a good wife and mother. George's wife, Dorothy, who seemed to be fixed of purpose, proves an incompetent wife and a poor mother. She falls in love with a young author, and is about to run away with him when an accident diverts her attention and she returns to George. Apparently all ends happily. These are the main currents or a long, intimate, realistic, sometimes dull and sometimes exceedingly interesting story.

A Sweetly Moving Tale.

ARIADNE OF ALLAN WATER. By Sidney McCall, author of "Truth Dexter," etc. Boston: Little, Brown & Co. $1.35 net.

Though the plot carries us to The Hague and London, the spirit of the tale is that of Virginia, where it begins and ends in the atmosphere of "Truth Dexter." The father of Ariadne gave her a weak and foolish stepmother, and then died. First, however, he tied up the estate so Ariadne had to go trailing around after her silly stepmother, even after that human curiosity had married a sleek villain many years her junior. Randolph Carr, the budding young lawyer who made this infernal will, much against his own will, fell in love with Ariadne and tried to get her untangled. Her sweetness and solemn determination to keep her oath to her father made it difficult, even when her rascally step-father made ugly love to her and tried to make her the victim of his plotting. Carr didn't understand why she clung to her stepmother in the face of all this, which happened in Holland, where Carr turned up to act his allotted role of hero, so went back to America in a huff—a silly thing for him to do, we thought. After our heroine had been exposed to many perils, it all got straightened out pleasantly. In spots the story is rather sweet for some tastes, but such things as the warmly human Nelly Carter, with her wholesome and breezy common sense, and that young devil her infant son, go far to make the seasoning more to the taste. It will surely interest, and doubtless will have a wide reading.

A Powerful Tale.

THE MIRACLE MAN. By Frank L. Packard, author of "Greater Love Hath No Man." New York: George H. Doran company. $1.25 net.

Mr. Packard has a strikingly dramatic and novel theme, and he has done well with it. It is not surprising to hear that George M. Cohan is going to make a play out of it. It is a vigorous, gripping narrative, though just a little overwrought in the high spots.

A bunch of New York crooks, including a pretty but virtueless miss, heard of "the Patriarch," a deaf and dumb old man who was reported to be doing health miracles in darkest New England. They planned to capitalize him, for advertising purposes, using themselves as subjects for miraculous cures. One of their number, the Flopper, is uncommonly valuable for that use, as he can throw himself horribly out of joint and make himself appear as a terrible cripple—that, indeed, being his profession.

The Patriarch is a fine figure—tall, stately, simple, sweet, noble—a fine figure and finely done. It's rather horrible to think of him surrounded, as he soon was, by this collection of crooks of the blackest dye. His miracles are simple—faith is the curative medium.

It is a tense and thrilling scene, that of "the miracle," when the Flopper, bringing a crowd, does his stunt before the Patriarch, crawling to his feet, awfully deformed, and rising, cured, a perfect man. But the conspirators are thunderstruck when a dozen real cures accompany his sham one! They brought the shower of gold the crooks expected, but they brought much more than that—the crooks turned good and spurned the money!

Out of this striking situation Mr. Packard has made a very stirring story, with a lot of well-handled language in it.

A "White Slave" Play.

PEACH BLOOM. By Northrop Morse. New York: Published by the sociological fund of the Medical Review of Reviews. $1.

Everybody, surely, has agreed by this time that much terrible harm comes from the failure to instruct the young in the vital facts about sex. Parents ought to teach these things, but won't—false modesty restrains them. So there is talk of teaching them through the public schools—which would be all right if the right kind of people did the teaching, and they are hard to find. Everybody, then, agrees that leaving the young in ignorance is wrong, because they will learn these facts somehow; usually in distorted and dangerous fashion from bad companions, and often at the awful cost of a mis-step.

But about the worst way we can imagine to teach such things as these is through the stage. This play does not attempt that; its only purpose is to teach the need of such teachings: but so much mischief has been done in the name of public good by the parading of distorted "moral lessons" on the stage, that the wisdom even of such a play as this is much to be doubted.

And even if it were wise, the overwrought and impossible character of the events of the plot would make it unwise to use this play, however well-meant. It is based on the "white slave" superstition, a superstition that has figured largely in hysteric discussion, but hardly at all in real life. So far as we know, not a single reported case of alleged "white slavery" has been shown to be true.

In this play an innocent girl of 17, kept in ignorance by her fond mother, walks a block or two away from her home and is hustled into a house of ill-fame, confined there and sold to a satyr. The girl successfully resists the fate intended for her, and is found there by the man who loves her, who comes there—for the first time in his life—drunk, and takes her away at the peril of both their lives. We doubt if such a thing ever happened, or is likely to happen. Therefore, being founded upon a thing not found in real life, the play is bad, despite its force and its fairly good construction, and the unquestionably good intentions of its author.

A Tale of the Canadian Northwest.

NORTH OF FIFTY-THREE. By Bertrand W. Sinclair. Pictures by Anton Otto Fischer. Boston: Little, Brown & Co. $1.30 net.

Hazel Weir must have been a singularly tempting woman. First her employer sought to make her his wife, and when she wouldn't because she was engaged to a rising young real estate man he wreaked revenge by getting killed and leaving her some money on such terms as to throw suspicion on her character. Whereupon her lover left her, and she went into the wilds of the Canadian Northwest to teach school. There she got lost and was picked up by Roaring Bill Wagstaff, a sort of bad man from Bitter Creek—"the higher up you go the tougher they are, and he was from the headwaters." He pretended to be taking her home and instead led her to his cabin far north in darkest British Columbia, north of parallel fifty-three—hence the title.

There he kept her for a winter, all alone, and was decent about it and developed into quite a fellow, with a regular highbrow taste for books. Then, in the spring, he set her free—and she came back to him. A good deal happens, before and after that, and it makes a pretty full book. The story is vividly told, and will interest.

SOPHIE LYONS, QUEEN OF THE BURGLARS. By Sophie Lyons herself. New York: J. S. Ogilvie Publishing company. 25 cents.

The heading to this review quotes part of the adjectives applied to this book by the publishers. It is also, they say, amazing. We thought it cheap rot, and probably a fake.

A Pretty Tale.

OLD VALENTINES. By Munson Havens. Boston and New York: Houghton Mifflin company. $1 net.

Phyllis Oglebay, the fair daughter of an artist, an actress, was thrown upon her grandfather's hands by a tragedy that left her an orphan. Old Oglebay had been outraged by his artist son's marriage, and when Phyllis fell in love with a poet, he was outraged again and forbade the marriage. Moreover, he said things about Phyllis' mother that made her leave him forthwith and marry John Landless, the poet. She carried with her her most cherished possession, a collection of valentines which her father had given her mother at various times. The young couple had little money, and therefore life was a struggle. But the valentines worked curiously to bring about a reconciliation and a happy ending. The sentiment of the story is wholesome, and it is prettily told.

An Unbiased Historical Work.

THE BATTLE OF GETTYSBURG. The Great Wave of the American Civil War. By Francis Marshal. New York: The Neale Publishing company. $2 net.

This book, which is the latest work on the "Sixteenth Decisive Battle of the World," as the author fittingly calls that great three-day conflict, is a non-partisan discussion of not only the battle itself but of the armies, officers and soldiery who took active part. Fairness and accuracy appear on every page, and many sidelights are thrown upon the characters of the leaders of the Civil war.

Mr. Marshal's book is appearing at a very opportune time, owing to the fiftieth anniversary of the battle last summer. We are now far enough away from the Civil war to look back and judge men and events without prejudice, and the interest in this particular battle is gradually growing. The author expresses the hope that his book will aid in causing sectional bitterness to disappear.

The fatal decision of Gen. Lee to order Pickett's charge, staking the entire fortunes of the Confederacy upon one throw, despite the advice of Gen. Longstreet, is discussed at length, and the author proves conclusively that Gen. Lee realized his mistake later on.

Any one who reads this book carefully will gain a higher appreciation of Abraham Lincoln, Gen. Grant, Gen. Sherman and many of the other lesser generals for their able handling of the problems which the early generals had failed to grasp successfully. Much of the information regarding these great characters has never been pub-

FORD SALES OVER A HALF MILLION

Phenomenal Increase of Manufacture and Sale in Six Years.

Detroit, Mich., April 25.—More than a half million Fords have been built and sold to date. The 500,000 figure was passed about the middle of April. The company's big Highland Park, Mich., factory was speeded up and completed automobiles were being turned out at the rate of more than 1,100 a day as the 500,000 millstone was left behind. This was but a continuation of the pace set in March, when for twenty-six consecutive working days the daily production exceeded 1,100 cars.

Since 1908 the growth of the company as indicated by the yearly car sales has been phenomenal. That year the sales totaled more than 6,000, the next year they jumped to more than 11,000, the next year they were more than 19,000, in 1911 they exceeded 37,000, in 1912 they were more than 74,000, and in 1913 they were in excess of 168,000.

And this year's sales are keeping up the pace. The Fords built before 1908, those built and sold so far this year, and the total of the sales for the six years given above combine to make a grand total of more than 500,000.

These cars have been sold in every country of the globe where a motor car could possibly run. They may be found in the interior of darkest Africa, in the valleys of the Andes of South America, in Ceylon, on the Isle of Jolo, Philippines, and in the out-of-way places of the world.

MOTORCYCLES IN WAR.

General Villa Uses Them for His Dispatch Bearers in Campaign.

Fred R. Holmberg, local agent for the Indian motorcycle, has received word that Gen. Villa of the rebel forces in Mexico used Indian motorcycles in his attacks on the Federals at Torreon. The motorcyclists were used to dispatch messages to various lieutenants under Villa's command, regardless of the fact that the roads are in poor condition and the surface of the country is generally rough and sandy.

Although motorcycles are being used in various branches of the United States and foreign armies, it is believed that the Mexican rebellion has brought them into actual warfare for the first time. That they have given highly satisfactory results under adverse conditions is evident, for the rebel general continues to use them and has added to his motorcycle squad new machines from El Paso.

DEPENDABILITY IS MOST DESIRED

Haynes Dealer Says That Speed Is Not Most Essential.

"The automibile of today has to meet requirements not expected of any other machine," said M. W. Turner, distributor for the Haynes, America's first car, in this territory. "It must be well-built, accessible, easy to operate and as nearly 'fool-proof' as mechanical ingenuity can make it.

"The question, 'How much speed will it develop?' is seldom asked by the prospective buyer. He is more interested in the dependability, the ease of operation of the car, and in the service offered by the manufacturer.

"The time will come when the automobile will give very little mechanical trouble; to those who are already acquainted with the care and adjustment of the machine that time is here. The average car consists of about 6,000 parts—some as many as 9,000. Its efficiency is directly dependent upon the harmonious working of all these parts, and in order that this end may be attained, first, the car must be designed, not assembled; then, this design must be intelligently executed. But this is not all, the owner must be informed in regard to those things which enable him to obtain good service and maximum efficiency.

"This does not mean that he must become an engineer, mechanic or repairman, but it does mean that he must know how to lubricate his car, how to care for it and how to make minor adjustments."

The Haynes Automobile company has just made an announcement of interest to motorists, to the effect that a page in their house-organ, The Haynes Pioneer, will be devoted each month to a discussion of vital parts of the automobile. Things that have puzzled automobile owners will be explained in plain, simple, everyday language, by H. G. Weaver, manager of their technical bureau, who will edit this page.

These articles will be confined to Haynes cars alone, but will relate to automobiles in general. The subject discussed will be governed by the nature of the inquiries received from car owners, dealers, or others interested in the automobile in any way whatsoever.

FADS AND FANCIES OF THE MOTORIST

Tan or gray French army blankets are quite the latest things for automobile robes. They are warm and light in weight.

New traveling companions are folding tables and benches. The table is six feet long but is joined in the middle and the legs may be folded under. The benches also may be folded flat and the outfit may be carried on the limousine top or on the trunk rack.

Shaded woven silk sweaters, with caps and sashes to match, come in excellent color combinations. They fit snugly to the figure and are fully as warm as those of wool and are not nearly as bulky.

The Tyrolean outing suits promise to be as popular as ever this season. The models have few variations, but there is a novelty in the shape of a mannish vest for wear with them.

"Sportyne" is a new material for outing suits which comes in all the new shades. Silk shirts, made like a man's soft shirt, in white or color of the suit, are worn with them.

Hats of French hemp, in two colors, are very soft and may be twisted into various becoming shapes and pulled well down over the head. They are rather expensive, but are very durable and are not injured by rain.

Another novelty is the soft hemp "jockey" hat. It is in green or blue with a pointed visor of white straw, with two white buttons in the center of the point. They are very smart with the sport coats or the convertible coats.

There is a new clutch or grapple lock to be fastened over coats or robes on the rail when the owner is called away from the car. The only way to release the articles without the key is to cut or tear them.

Automobile parasols are shown with adjustable frames. They are covered with pongee and lined with green or black silk.

For the woman who drives her own car there is the new "Thistle" cape of Scotch plaid, which is so fashioned that it may be crossed and buttoned in the back to leave her arms free.

WILL TEST FRANKLINS.

Dealers Will Go Limit on One Gallon of Gasoline.

What promises to be the most practical efficiency test in the history of automobiling will occur on Friday morning, May 1. On that morning Franklin dealers in all parts of the United States and Canada will disconnect the regular gasoline tank on their Six-Thirty Franklin, put on a one-gallon can and under the supervision of automobile club officers and other impartial observers, will go out and see how far they can go on a gallon of gasoline.

These cars will roll up economy figures in all parts of the country at the same time under every kind of road and weather conditions. The routes selected will cover city pavements, rough country roads and up-and-down grades. It will be straight driving throughout, a test of the actual efficiency of each car. This trial will show what the cars are actually doing and can do in their daily work. Every car will be a stock model, with the same equipment and alike in every detail.

This trial will be the first of its kind ever held. There have been automobile tests of all sorts and descriptions, but never before one that has been so practical or country-wide in its scope. It is an unusual test and comes as a result of Franklin dealers holding tests each year in their respective cities at almost any time of the year.

The test marks a most important point in the history of automobiles. It shows the first national movement of a manufacturer to eliminate the big statements and exaggerated accounts of what a car can do and ought to do and getting it down to real facts. It has been frequently said that one of the worst features of the automobile business has been the over-zealousness of both the manufacturer and salesman, claiming too much for their cars and making wild statements. But things have been working toward an era of real facts based upon actual performances of stock cars in their every day work.

This test marks the first great mile post in practical automobile efficiency trials. It will secure facts and figures from a thoroughly practical and fair standpoint. This is clearly shown by the rules of the test, which are as follows:

1. The test must be made by a Franklin Six-Thirty touring car on Friday morning, May 1. No matter what the weather or road conditions are the test must be made on this day.
2. Only one gallon of gasoline must be used. This to be carried in a one-gallon can attached to the side lamp bracket, and the regular gasoline tank disconnected. A gallon measure, which has been certified by the local sealer of weights and measures, to be used to measure the gasoline.
3. Each car in the test must carry as passengers an official of the local automobile club or other observers who will be absolutely impartial and whose supervision will be considered as official as far as possible.
4. The most important consideration is absolute accuracy in every detail.
5. The actual mileage secured must be certified to by both driver and observers before a notary public.

SEVERE TEST GIVEN.

Hudson Machine Successfully Makes Steep Grade at High Speed.

In a test made yesterday afternoon by Fred G. Kleyn of the Kleyn Automobile company, local agents for the Hudson car, he climbed the Sixteenth avenue east hill on high speed, topping the incline at a speed of twenty-five miles an hour.

Mr. Kleyn said today that the Hudson light six he used could easily negotiate this climb and that he would guarantee every Hudson car of the same style to duplicate the feat on high speed.

"SIX" RUMORS AT REST.

Cadillac Company Takes Public Into Its Confidence.

According to E. C. Howard, sales manager of the Cadillac Motor Car company, the recent announcement that the company has no intention of marketing a six-cylinder car has effectively set at rest persistent and unfounded rumors to the contrary. It has cleared the atmosphere in so far as regards the Cadillac company at least, not only in manufacturing and trade circles, but among motor enthusiasts and owners of every degree," said Mr. Howard:

"Aside from the importance of the announcement and the widespread general effect of such an announcement is bound to have, the fact of a great manufacturer taking the public into his confidence to the point of outlining his policy is rare enough to create much comment.

"It is a long established fact that motor car owners by the thousands look to see what the Cadillac indorses and discards. To these owners the Cadillac is accepted as a standard, if not actually an ideal; and this impression, the company finds, extends far beyond the circle of those who actually own and drive Cadillac cars.

"Since the company made its recent announcement hundreds who had been awaiting some word from an authoritative source, have bought Cadillacs. Through its dealers in many parts of the country the company learned that prospective buyers would not consider a car of any type unless the Cadillac should market it. It was largely in response to such views that the recent announcement was made, as well as to quiet reports which had gained a certain amount of circulation and credence."

MAY STAGE GLIDDEN TOUR.

Donor of Trophy Wants Run Made National Event.

If the members of the contest board of the Chicago Automobile club can with good arguments change the stand taken by the donor of the Glidden trophy the Chicago to Boston non-motor stop tour will be staged July 1 as a national tour. At the present time Mr. Glidden is anxious to have his trophy go to the Chicago Automobile club as a prize for the run, but he does not want the deed of gift changed and under the present deed of gift the Chicago Automobile club does not want the trophy.

When the Glidden trophy was first put up for a national tour it was presented to the winning car, but two years ago the deed of gift was changed and the trophy awarded to the team of cars finishing with the best team score. In the proposed Chicago-Boston run there will not be an award for the best team score, the big trophy going to the car finishing with the best score. Mr. Glidden has notified the members that he would be glad to have the cup competed for in the tour, but that he insisted upon the tour being a national event and also that the trophy be awarded according to the present deed of gift. The Chicago Automobile club men have answered that they are more than willing to have the event a national affair, but would not accept the trophy under the present deed of gift.

The members of the contest board have also come out strong against any outside interference in the handling of the tour. From a few American Automobile association sympathizers it has been learned that the A. A. A. officials intend to break in and attempt to run the event. The local crowd will probably award a few of the honorary jobs to the A. A. A. men, but the real work of promoting the run and matters pertaining to the decisions while en route will be in the hands of Chicagoans and not the rulers of the A. A. A., who from all appearances are losing their grasp upon contest affairs in the United States.

OFFICIALS FOR 500-MILE RACE

Tom Hay of Chicago Will Be Starter at Great Speed Event.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 25.—An attachment formed in the old days of high wheel bicycle racing today resulted in the appointment of Tom Hay of Chicago as starter for the next Indianapolis 500-mile race. Hay and Carl G. Fisher, president of the Hoosier raceccourse, were bosom friends when the pneumatic game was yet in its infancy. With the passing of time, the relationship then formed has not been forgotten, so that today, with both men at the height of their career, one seeks the other as his chief assistant in the greatest race of the era.

Other officials for the next five-century contest are rapidly being selected. Dave Beecroft of Chicago, veteran arbiter of a thousand speed battles, has been chosen as acting representative of the American Automobile association, with F. E. Edwards and A. R. Pardington mentioned for the remaining major positions of referee and technical examiner. During the race Beecroft will be in absolute control, the speedway ceding the reins of management with the firing of the starting bomb.

New Starting System.

Position during the flying start will be determined not according to the old lot system, as hertofore, but by the speed of cars in the elimination trials, thus putting the fastest machines in front, where they will not have to thread their way through the slower members of the field to get away. This announcement is official.

In times past there has been considerable danger of accident, due to the congestion caused by thirty cars

This monogram stands for all you can ask in a motor car

Light Enough for Economy Heavy Enough for Safety

The 1915 Chalmers "Light Six" at $1800 is, like the larger Master "Six" at $2175, relatively a light weight car. It is light enough to be economical of tires and sparing of fuel. It will give as much mileage per gallon as any car—either "Six" or "Four" —of equal motor size; and MORE than nine-tenths of them.

For its long stroke, T-head motor (only 3½-in bore by 5½-in stroke) develops up to 50 horsepower on a minimum amount of gasoline. And it is so perfectly balanced that it is unusually easy on tires.

But the 1915 Chalmers "Light Six" is heavy enough for safety and comfort on any road. Heavy enough, too, for that greater economy which comes from endurance, from freedom of repair bills.

Don't Buy Too Light a Car.

Flimsiness—skimping in the vital parts of a car—is expensive. It means constant repairs which are both costly and dangerous.

So the 1915 Master "Light Six" is a medium weight car. It has a four-fold margin of safety in every part.

The difference in gasoline cost between the sturdy Master "Light Six" and a too-light, flimsy car can't amount to $25 in 10,000 miles. And $25 won't buy many repairs if you get a car so light that it shakes itself to pieces in ordinary service.

Medium weight is right weight. The 1915 Master "Light Six" like all Chalmers cars, is built to give satisfactory service, through many seasons.

Take the Chalmers Road Test.

Apply the same logic to your purchase of a motor car that you would to anything else. Let us give you the Chalmers Standard Road Test in a 1915 Master "Light Six," and prove to you that it is light enough to give every economy of upkeep and heavy enough to insure safety in any emergency, comfort on any road. Let us show you why this 1915 Chalmers model is the most wonderful automobile value ever built.

Such a claim for a car built by an unknown company wouldn't mean much. But that claim made for the newest product of the Chalmers Motor company means a great deal.

It means that here is a 1915 "Light Six" at the astonishingly low price of $1800 on which one of the largest companies in America stakes its reputation. It means that you can't afford to buy any car at any price until you have made us prove our claim, that the 1915 Master "Light Six" is the greatest motor car value ever produced.

We do not ask you to do our experimenting

During the twenty-one years in which we have been building motor cars, we have never asked the public to do our experimenting. Every unit of the Haynes car is designed, checked and thoroughly tested before receiving its final O.K.

The American Simms Dual High Tension Magneto is positively the most simple dual ignition ever devised. It was recommended by the Haynes engineers after careful speed and compression tests proved beyond doubt that it was unusually efficient and absolutely dependable.

The Leece-Neville Starting and Lighting Separate Unit System was chosen in 1910 because of its high efficiency and has been used on the Haynes car ever since, although numerous other starting and lighting systems have been tested in our laboratories from time to time. This system is dust-proof and has proven itself 100% efficient in every instance. There is no apparatus, however, on the that has been subjected to a more severe test than the Vulcan Electric Gear Shift. This device is even a greater improvement than the starting and lighting system, because it not only simplifies the control but positively prevents stripping of gears.

While the electric gear shift is a great invention, it is not radically new, being just a natural development of the electro-magnet, which has been in use since 1820. The same principle is used by steel companies to lift tons and tons of metal; the electric railways adopted it long ago to shift switches automatically, and the little hammer that strikes the bell in your telephone is actuated by the impulse of a similar magnet.

The Haynes car is not an experiment. It represents the height of refinement, convenience and reliability in motor car design. It's the year-ahead car.

Foreign Cars Shipped.

London, England, April 25.—Shipment of foreign cars in the next Indianapolis 500-mile race, May 30, has commenced, the Sunbeam being the first to leave. This special flier, built exactly to suit speedway requirements, was put on board Monday, after a thorough tryout on the famous track at Brooklands. Jean Chassagne, the driver, expects to follow the first week in May, when the balance of the Europeans are also scheduled to start. The entire foreign crew expects to report for duty at Indianapolis on or about May 15, spending the rest of the time until the race in daily practice work.

PULLS 12-TON LOAD.

Cartercar Hauls Three Freight Wagons of Lumber.

"There are other things claiming the attention of the people down our southern frontier besides the fall of Torreon and the depredations of the Mexican bandits," states Harry R. Radford, vice president and general manager of the Cartercar company, Pontiac, Mich.

"Down the main street of the little town of Douglas, Ariz., the other day, a procession wended its way. So unusual a sight was this that nearly the entire population of the town were assembled along the street to watch it. Mingling with the crowd were the mechanics from the railroad shops and they were perhaps the most interested of the spectators.

"Heading the parade was a Model Seven Cartercar containing five passengers. This Cartercar was the new model brought out for the first time this year by our company. Drawn by the Cartercar were three big freighting wagons loaded high with lumber the combined weight of which was over twelve tons. Behind came many other automobiles and men on horse back. Some of those present had heard of the wonderful pulling power of the gearless transmissions and a few had seen some of the demonstrations made by the larger Cartercars but it was the wonder of the hour that a comparatively light car such as the model seven could draw this enormous load so easily.

"Those with sportive instincts wagered that the car could not even start the load. It was a tense moment when E. V. Abbott representing the Cartercar factory, thrust forward the lever which permits the fiber wheel in the gearless transmission to roll against the metal disk revolved by the engine. Mechanics from the shops declared that the drive wheels would certainly slip in starting. Yet the instant that the lever went forward the wheels began to turn without so much as a fraction of an inch slippage and the wheels of the wagons began to turn the same moment that the power was applied, through the gearless transmission."

WASTES HALF ROAD FUND

Kansas Expert Suggests Remedy to Save $2,000,000 Yearly.

"Kansas wastes $2,000,000 every year on her roads," declares Prof. H. A. Rice of the structural and mechanical engineering department of the University of Kansas, in a recent speech before the Kansas State Engineering society. "Kansas spends about $4,000,000 per year on roads and bridges and half of it is wasted. This is caused by the conditions in this state which permit the county commissioners to let all the contracts for improvements. We should create an office of state engineer and fill it with a man whose duty it would be to superintend the letting of all contracts."

Under the present law in Kansas the county commissioners are elected by the people and scarcely ever one of them knows the smallest thing about bridge building. However, it makes no difference how limited their knowledge of roads and bridges is, they are given power to let contracts for bridges without even consulting the county engineer. Under Prof. Rice's plan of having a state engineer, the commissioners would be required to submit specifications for every piece of road work let on contract and before the contract was let the specifications would have to be approved by the state engineer. As it is many of the contracts are let without any specifications.

Prof. Rice says he knows that Kansas wastes money on roads because many of the bridges that should last twenty or thirty years are unfit for use after three or four years of service.

SPEEDOMETER SERVICE STATION.

Frederick W. Neumann has just closed a deal with the Stuart-Warner Speedometer company for a speedometer service station in this city.

This station has been opened at 412 East Superior street, and will have an expert mechanic in charge, who will adjust and repair the Stuart-Warner speedometers free of charge for one year, according to the guarantee made by the company. Garage Changes Ownership.

An interesting change in local auto circles occurred this week, when M. H. Mannheim, formerly with the Duluth Auto Tire & Repair company, and C. H. The place was known as the Electric Service & Repair company, but the new owners have changed the name and policy.

Buy Your Automobile from a Strong Dealer

not seek the nomination and requested that a committee consider other possible ticket leaders and report before May 1. If no other gubernatorial candidate is decided upon, Mr. Halbert will accept the nomination.

Others nominated are: Lieutenant governor, J. S. Spencer, Rochester; attorney general, A. V. Rieke, Minneapolis; secretary of state, John Saarl, Duluth; state treasurer, P. G. Jacobson, Madison; auditor, H. W. Libby, Winona; railroad and warehouse commissioner, J. C. Lewis, Nashwauk.

REGIONAL RESERVE BANK ORGANIZING

Bankers of the Northwest Outline Plans for the System.

St. Paul, Minn., April 25.—To a committee of thirty-six bankers and business men has been left the task of working out the organization of the regional reserve bank of the Ninth district. Practically all of yesterday was taken up by the bankers of Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana and parts of Wisconsin and Michigan in outlining plans and endeavors to perfect a system.

It was found necessary to appeal to the treasury department at Washington by long distance telephone and by telegraph to interpret various provisions.

A resolution was adopted providing for the appointment of a committeeman from each of the six states in the Ninth district, these, in turn, to name a committee of five to co-operate in selecting an additional five members from their states, this committee of thirty-six having authority to outline the plans for organizing the regional bank.

The committee as originally named consisted of Joseph W. Selden of Michigan, Joseph Chapman of Minnesota, A. C. Johnson of Montana, L. F. Crawford of North Dakota, N. E. Franklin of South Dakota and F. W. Humphrey of Wisconsin. The other state committees will not be named for a few days.

The names submitted follow:

Minnesota—Joseph Chapman, Minneapolis, chairman, ex-officio; N. F. Banfield, Austin; D. S. Culver, St. Paul; C. T. Jaffray, Minneapolis; W. G. Hegardt, Duluth, and W. W. Smith, St. Pierre.

North Dakota—L. F. Crawford, Sentinel Butte; Carl J. Farled, Park River; P. C. Remington, Bismarck; J. F. Phelan, Bowman; William F. Gary, Fargo, and T. L. Belselcker, Fessenden.

South Dakota—N. E. Franklin, Deadwood; C. E. McKinney, Sioux Falls; Z. A. Crane, Redfield; B. A. Cummins, Pierre, and William Smith, Mitchell.

Montana—A. C. Johnson, Helena; A. J. Davis, Butte; David G. Brown, Fort Benton; Robert J. Cobert, Billings; Frank S. Lusk, Missoula, and C. W. Butler, Miles City.

AFRAID TO LIVE WITH HUSBAND

Mrs. Ida Hines Seeks Divorce on Ground of Cruelty.

Ida Hines, 52, started suit for divorce in district court yesterday afternoon against Richard Hines, 54, on the grounds of desertion and cruelty. They were married at St. Paul Sept. 2, 1890, and are parents of four children, ranging in age from 20 to 14 years.

Hines has failed to support her, she says, for the last twenty years and during that period has been guilty of extreme cruelty. On one occasion, she asserts, he attacked her with a revolver and at another time he threw a knife in her direction. She left him in 1909, she claims, because she deemed it unsafe to live with him any longer.

Mrs. Hines asks the court for an absolute divorce and reasonable allmony.

COLLEGE BAND VISITS DULUTH

North Dakota Students Will Give Free Concert Sunday.

Duluth is host today to the North Dakota Agricultural College Cadet band, consisting of forty-five pieces, which is making a tour of Minnesota.

The musicians serenaded The Herald at 9:30 o'clock this morning, shortly after their arrival in the city. At noon today a concert was given at the Commercial club.

President and Mrs. Worst, Secretary and Mrs. Yoder and Prof. and Mrs. A. G. Arvold of the agricultural college faculty are official chaperones of the tour. Prof. Arvold is known to many Duluthians, especially to the Duluth Shriners who were entertained last year at Fargo. Mr. Arvold was secretary of the Fargo temple and made many friends among the Duluth Nobles who visited the North Dakota town.

The musicians will be given a reception this evening at the Commercial club by the Scottish Rite quartet and Prof. A. F. M. Custance. The band arrived this morning from the Twin Cities, where it spent the last two days.

Lovers of good music will find much to attract them in the appearance of the band here tomorrow afternoon in connection with the free Masonic concert. The program will start promptly at 3 o'clock at the Masonic temple.

The band is considered to be one of the best college musical organizations in the country. It is made up of students ranging in age from 18 to 25 and is directed by a student. An excellent quartet is with the band and will appear in one or two numbers on the program.

The program is as follows:

March—"Garland Entree".....King
Overture—"Lustspiel".....Keler Bela
"Oh Hail Us Ye Free" (From "Ernani").....Verdi
College Male Quartet.
Serenade—"A Night in June".....King
Tuba solo—"The Elephant's Dance".....Dr. C. S. Putnam
C. F. Cuss.

"To Watch O'er Thee".....Pinsuti
College Male Quartet.
Selection from opera "Sweethearts".....Victor Herbert
Descriptive suite—"Atlantis" (The Lost Continent).....Safranck
Part 1. Nocturne and Morning Hymn of Praise.....
Part 2. A Court Function.....
Part 3. "I Love Thee (The Prince and Aana).....
Part 4. The Destruction of Atlantis.....
Finale—"The Yellow and the Green".....Dr. C. S. Putnam

PLEDGE LOYALTY TO THE PRESIDENT

Resolution Adopted By American Newspaper Publishers' Association.

New York, April 25.—The American Newspaper Publishers' association, on the last day of its convention, adopted a resolution pledging loyalty to President Wilson in the Mexican situation The resolution was sent to the White House by telegraph, and read as follows:

"On behalf of the American Newspaper Publishers' association, in anunal meeting assembled, we have the honor to transmit to your excellency the following resolution, introduced by Elbert H. Baker, former president of the association, and unanimously adopted:

"Resolved, That in view of the grave consequences growing out of the Mexican situation, the members of the American Newspaper Publishers' association, without regard to political affiliations, loyally support the president of the United States in any effort that may be required to sustain the dignity of our government and the flag of our country."

"HERBERT L. BRIDGMAN,
"President.
"JOHN STEWART BRYAN,
"Vice President."

A resolution also was passed upholding the enforement of the newspaper publicity law, which provides for a full statement as to ownership and circulation.

NOMINATION OF TERRELL CONFIRMED.

Washington, April 25.—The nomination of Robert H. Terrell, a negro, as municipal judge for the district of Columbia, was confirmed last night by the senate. The nomination had been held up for two months, being vigorously opposed by Senators Vardaman, Smith of South Carolina and other Southerners. Last night senators urging confirmation declined to pass Terrell's name on the list of nominations, and a vote was forced.

BOY KILLS HIMSELF ON CHURCH ALTAR.

Providence, R. I., April 25.—Edwin Stilwell, aged 15, killed himself last night on the altar at the Calvary Baptist church. According to a note left by the boy, he was in love with Mirlam Frances Gleason, aged 17, who shot and killed herself earlier in the week. The girl's father had frowned on young Stilwell's attentions to Mirlam.

The DOCTOR'S HELPS

By Donald McCaskey, M. D.

Member of Staff, General Hospital, Lancaster, Pa.; Fellow of the New York Academy of Medicine

THIS DANDRUFF CURE IS EXCELLENT

The chief cause of dandruff is sluggish circulation of the blood through the scalp. Anything which tends to invigorate this circulation, and likewise increase the vitality of the hair rootlets, is most helpful. To some people, however, there are other physical conditions of their body which would make it absolutely unsafe for them to adopt the radical treatment described by the writer whose letter reached me the other day. If one's general vitality, however, is sufficiently vigorous, the procedure of this writer is most excellent.

I pass it on to the readers of this department for such as care to adopt it. His letter states: "I have been troubled with dandruff most all my life. One year ago I adopted the method of dipping my head into a pail of cold water every morning on arising. I would deliberately stick my head into the cold water, soaking the hair well. Then I would rub the hair and scalp with my hands and rub as vigorously as possible, drying the hair with a towel. I have quit washing my hair with soap; do not use any oil or do any shampooing other than the vigorous rubbing with my hands and fingers and the towel. I find this cleans my hair and scalp completely. Since I have started this treatment I have no dandruff whatsoever, my scalp does not itch, neither does my hair fall out. In fact, in my case it has worked a most complete cure for my scalp and hair trouble. It may not work successfully for every one else; but a trial is easy. It seems to me, a layman—and I do not make any pretense in knowing the wonderful and delicate structure of the scalp—it seems to me as though our hair needs moisture, rather than oil. On this idea I have succeeded in my own case with plain water every day. I have liked the common sense ideas expressed in your medical articles and felt that you were a sufficiently broad-minded physician to pass along this simple letter of mine and to write an article about it if you saw fit."

The scalp treatment you describe above is most excellent. You are giving your scalp the most vigorous daily form of hygienic treatment. The rubbing after you have soaked your hair in the cold water is what every person with any dandruff trouble could apply with the greatest possible benefit. Furthermore, when you invigorate the blood supply of your scalp still more by the use of a good rubbing with a towel, this is most helpful in strengthening the hair rootlets. The pulling action of the towel upon the hair acts upon it with a greater degree of stimulation also.

Dipping your head into a pail of cold water gives rise to the same beneficial shock or after-glow to your scalp as does the cold plunge bath to some people when they jump into the tub or under the cold shower in the morning, upon arising. However, in just the same way that a daily cold bath is too severe a shock for some people, just so would be the shock from dipping your head in a pail of cold water each morning as you do. The general condition of the individual must be taken into consideration.

It is all a question of how much shock each of us can stand without drawing too much upon our reserve of nervous energy. Out of every hundred people suffering from dandruff trouble, the principles described in your letter could be used with the greatest possible benefit in, I should say, about 10 per cent, and it is a pleasure for me to dictate the contents of your letter for publication in one of these Doctor's Helps articles. To all readers who seek further aid for troublesome hair and scalp annoyances, therefore, procure and study the chapter given in the previous Doctor's Health article, "How You Can Stop Your Hair From Falling Out."

HOW BRAN CURED THIS WOMAN'S CHRONIC CONSTIPATION.

I have received a very nice letter of thanks from a woman reader of this paper. She says:

"I feel that I should write and tell you what a lot of good it has done me to eat bran for my breakfast, which you recommended some time ago in one of the Doctor's Help articles printed in this paper. I have always been bothered with chronic constipation, and particularly for the last six years I have suffered very much from not only constipation, but from indigestion trouble. I am now 47. My condition got so bad that I had to take physics every day to move my bowels. I have been closely following each of these Doctor's Help articles as it has appeared, and when the article on bran was published I immediately adopted its suggestion. For some months now I have been eating a dish of bran, and my digestion has improved greatly, and I wish every other reader of this paper who has constipation could know about the bran advice you have given. It is so simple, and makes me feel so much better. I cannot tell you how thankful I feel for your giving that good and simple cure. No other doctor ever told me to eat bran for my constipation troubles, and I think it is a most valuable thing for our newspaper editor to procure your medical advice and publish your simple counsel in our paper."

The spirit expressed by this letter reveals the sincere thanks of a constipation sufferer who has availed herself of the suggestions given in these articles and who, I am very glad to know, has obtained help from them. In some individuals bran absolutely will not agree. Do not get the idea, therefore, that bran is a panacea for all indigestion and constipation ills. It is not. However, in many cases where the system lacks a goodly supply of cellulose bulk and particularly the chemical phosphate bases, in such instances the system will ravenously absorb such chemical salts as are needed by the blood and tissues and the prompt cure of the patient results. In some cases bran acts as too great an irritant. In many instances the chief benefit is obtained from the bulky irritating effect of the bran in addition to the absorption of the phosphate chemical salt previously mentioned. Even in babies anywhere from eight months old bran can oftentimes be used, if properly cooked, to help overcome any constipating tendency of the infant. This is especially the case where the infant's milk is not properly balanced and the stool is more or less costive and dry. A good many people make fun of bran, but it is a very efficient food as well as medicine, notwithstanding all the joking that is poked at it by those who do not know or who have never tried it. Go ask your doctor.

What's A Party Without A Few Bottles Of Fitger's Beer

THERE is "something missing" at the party when a cool, refreshing glass of beer is not served during the evening. No other liquid refreshment can take its place, for none has such genuinely satisfying results. When a host serves Fitger's Beer he knows he is serving the very highest grade, and his guests know it too. There's satisfaction in serving the best. SOWING THE SPORT THOUGHT FOR EARLY SPRING HARVEST

Joe Tinker Breaks Into the Magazine World With an Exposition of the Federal League---Cutler Says He Will Beat Westergaard and Win World's Title---Darby Is Optimistic.

IN one of the current magazines of large circulation Joseph Faversham Tinker breaks into the list of prominent contributors of the month by coming through in big league style with a history of the whys and wherefores of the Federal league.

Among other things Joe states in bold figures the vast amount of real money paid for parks, strips of land contiguous to street lines, baseball players and those innumerable other details of expenditure that are so intimately and likewise painfully associated with the starting of a league.

The bondage of the player, the draft rule and Murphyism are named as three of the paramount reasons for the organization of the league that just now is a thorn in the yielding and quivering flesh of the organized baseball being.

One of the radical innovations of the new league, following the argument set forth by one of the greatest shortstops in the world, is that of granting the players of the Federal league a minimum increase of salary of 5 per cent each year, or upon pain of failure of this yearly increase in the meager stipend (?) to allow the player to become a free agent and seek other and perhaps more prosperous fields of labor.

Another little thing before we part—the bonuses paid to the players of the Federal league, again following Tinker's train of logic, are given to the players for playing—and if the National or American leagues paid this money to the players it would be in addition to a very large amount paid to some club for the release of the said players.

To place the contention of Josephius in more concrete form, it might be said that one of the Federal league clubs can place a $200,000 ball club in the field—speaking merely of the players—where it would cost one of the organized club owners about twice that amount of money—simply because the Federal league magnates are not paying anything for the releases of players—but are giving all the money to the players.

One of the large and particularly live issues of the baseball day is the Federal league. Will it thrive? Will it become a firm and unyielding rival of the leagues that have become entrenched in the favor of the Fans? Wrinkled-browed Old Man Time, the wisest guinea of the ages, alone will tell.

The Hope of Palzer.

AL PALZER was among the conspicuous figures grouped around the ringside at Hudson the other evening. Albert is said to be hankering to get under the managerial wing of Eddie Reddy and once more become one of the who's who in the fight world.

Meeting Albert and being formally introduced, we are able to report the following conversation:

"I feel confident that I will be back fighting for the heavyweight title. I was beaten because I was a sick man. Editors in New York came to me and begged me to give up fighting until I had recovered my health. Tom O'Rourke ruled otherwise. Moran beat me when I was hardly able to hold my hands up and was too slow to get out of my own way. The late Luther McCarty also caught me when I was more fit to be in a hospital than a ring.

"Now I am well again, fully recovered and honestly believe that I can beat any of them. I am but 24 years of age and should get back to the place where I was before illness took me down the ladder."

Hope, that brightly burning lamp that shineth forth in this bleak old pig iron world, is a kindly creature, succoring those in the depths and kindly kidding all of the rest of us.

Big Palzer is a nice big kid, clean looking and clean acting in so far as these standards are set by the ring judgments, and there are really many who hope that he can once more scale the precipitous cliffs of pugilistic eminence.

Some More Fond Hopes.

YESTERDAY'S mail brought along a letter from Charles Cutler. One of the greatest of all our wrestlers, one of the few left that is great in the true sense of the word, Cutler has set out a high goal for the closing end of the season.

"I am in grand shape now," writes Cutler, "and really believe that I have a real chance to win the heavyweight title of the world. This is on the level with me. Wait and see.

"For the last four years I have been up there fighting for the title that has been vacated by the retirement of Gotch. Zbyszko has beaten me in the past, partly because he was stronger and partly because I did not have enough stuff to beat the big Pole. Now I think it is different.

"First of all I must beat Westergaard—and I will. I am going to send to Omaha and get Farmer Burns to put me in grand shape for Jess. And then me for Zbyszko and the grand final fling at the title.

"Westergaard stands between me and the chance to get Zbyszko. Jess really believes that he can beat me and then beat Zbyszko. When I show the fans that I am the master of the big Swede they will begin to see where I stand a great chance of beating the Pole."

Of the contests of the waning season, this looks the plum. Two real wrestlers, Cutler and Westergaard, the conflict should be a skirmish of large-bore guns of big power.

The Baseball Meeting.

MANAGERS of the various amateur teams of the city are again reminded of the gathering scheduled for Monday evening at the domicile of Kelley and company. It is of very great importance that the board of directors of the league be chosen and the various committees set to work on the list of multifarious duties that beset those eager to start the league in mention.

As the success of the league depends greatly upon the election of a board of directors that will be thoroughly representative of the different classes or divisions of the league, it should be a matter of large interest to every manager in the city to be on hand.

The Amateur Wrestlers.

ON Tuesday and Wednesday evening of the coming week there will be held in the dignified precincts of the Y. M. C. A., the annual amateur wrestling contest. Wrestlers large and small, fat and lean and of medium build, are cordially invited to come and take part in the entertainment. The public, too, should be on hand, for some of the best grappling that has ever been prepared for the fans is under way of preparation.

Few of the old holds will be barred and the entrants are welcome to try some of the new ones of original conception. Everything but choking and gouging will assist in the strenuous struggle for the medals that are so prized by young men entering the first stages of athletic competition.

For fear of the strangle hold being resorted to, those in charge of the tournament have respectfully and yet firmly requested than any Mexican athlete with intentions of entering the meet, will kindly reconsider them.

Gossiping With the Dook.

UPON the very best stationery of the New Revere house, which possibly has running water and French lace curtains in the ladies' parlor—possibly, we said—is written a letter to this column in the bold Spencerian hand of P. O'Brien, literateur and second baseman—at least literary.

Here is part of the missive:

"You can't say anything too good about my ball players. They are good players and I will have a good team."

Whether the Dook refers to the morals of his men or their baseball playing ability, time will tell.

"We have six games here in Oshkosh and I think that with the men I have here we will make a good showing. There are eighteen players here, and most of them look pretty good. The pitchers are showing some stuff and we should cop two or three games."

NAVY VS. HARVARD.

Crews Ready for Test of Endurance and Skill.

Annapolis, Md., April 25.—After sitting at adjoining training tables and fraternizing for a week, the first and second crews of the naval academy and Harvard are ready for the boat races this afternoon. Official weights show that the Navy first crew decidedly is the heaviest, while the second Harvard crew has something on the Navy juniors.

Apparently there is little difference in weight and form between Harvard's two crews. Harvard has had much the better practice during the week, getting out in the morning when the water was smoother. Some afternoons it was too rough for rowing, when the midshipmen lost the day completely.

TRACK MEET AT FARGO MAY 9.

Fargo, N. D., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Coach Woods of the athletic department at the agricultural college is preparing for the seventh annual inter-high track meet to be held here May 9. A large number of entries from North Dakota and Western Minnesota high schools are expected. There are seventeen different events for competition, and it is anticipated some excellent records will be made. Under favorable conditions the track at the aggy institution will be in good condition.

WHITE SOX PLAYERS ARE IN TRAINING AT OSHKOSH

O'Brien Has Squad of Eighteen Men at Wisconsin Village---Ax Falls at Fort Wayne; Hopefuls Are Sent Back.

Oshkosh, Wis., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—With six games scheduled with the Oshkosh team, Darby O'Brien and his players are on hand to put some conditioning into the White Sox squad.

Among the players here are McGuff, the tall first baseman, who stands at the high altitude mark of 6 feet 4 inches, and Wolfe, shortstop, who is two inches short of the 6-foot mark. Phillips, the left fielder, is another 6-footer, and George Cunningham, the former Sturgeon Lake hurler, stands one inch short of the 6-foot measurement.

Catchers Young and Edmunds are here and the Duluth Dook stated yesterday that he expected Sweeley on hand very shortly.

All the men on hand, according to the opinion of O'Brien, are finds that are bound to make good in the Northern league. Pitcher Schrenk, who is one of the giants of the squad, standing 6 feet 2 inches in height, has taken the eye of the White Sox commander and is expected to prove one of the finds of the year.

Men in Good Shape.

O'Brien is authority for the statement that all of his men are in fine shape for so early in the season and predicts that the games here will put his men in prime condition for the pennant fight in the Northern league.

Beebe, Hollingsworth, Papes, McGonigal, Nelson, Vaters, Marks, Funk and Obickey have been released, the ax falling on the necks of the players before the remainder of the squad were told to pack their grips at Fort Wayne.

Meyers, the first-base candidate, jumped the traces at Fort Wayne without as much as saying goodbye, and further lessened the number of men in the squad.

Pitcher Leahy reported yesterday and will have his first workout today, weather permitting. Pitcher Grina has shown some promise and is one of the possible dependables for the future.

O'Brien will have about eighteen men in his squad and out of this number he expects to get some real finds. The players will work out in the morning and then play the spring training games with the local team.

NEW YORK HURLERS HOLD MANY LEAGUE RECORDS

Pitchers employed by New York clubs hold the major league records (counting from 1901 on) for winning the greatest number of games in a season. Jack Chesbro led the Yankees to forty-one victories in 1904, the year he sprang the spitball on the objecting opposition, and that mark never has been beaten. Christy Mathewson piloted the Giants to thirty-seven wins four years later and then hung up a National league record that still stands.

Chesbro's record of forty-one wins almost was equaled by Ed Walsh of the White Sox in 1908, the big spitball expert coming through with forty triumphs. The third best record in the American league is held by Walter Johnson of Washington, who, while winning a Chalmers car last year, captured thirty-six contests. Joe Wood of the Red Sox, the year previous, annexed thirty-four. American leaguers who have won thirty-two games in a season are Johnson and Cy Young, while Jack Coombs and Cy succeeded in winning thirty-one games in a campaign.

In the National league, in the last thirteen years, the men who have won thirty or more games in one season are Mathewson, who has turned the trick four times; and Joe McGinnity, who has turned it twice. Christy came out on top in thirty-seven battles in 1908, won thirty-three in 1904, landed thirty-one in 1905, and was victorious in thirty in 1903.

Just thirty men have succeeded in winning twenty-five or more games in a year since the American league existed in 1901. Of these heroes not one was a Cardinal, a Brown, a Red Leg or a Brewer, Milwaukee having been in fast company in 1901. Mathewson has won twenty-five or more games in eight seasons, Joe McGinnity in four, Cy Young in four, Mordecai Brown in four, Walter Johnson in three, Bill Donovan in two, Eddie Plank in two, "Rube" Waddell in two, Jack Coombs in two, Ed Walsh in two, Jack Chesbro in two, Joe Wood in one, Bill Bernhard in one, George Mullin in one, Grover Alexander in one, Al Orth in one, Addie Joss in one, "Doc" White in one, "Chief" Bender in one, Tom Seaton in one, Charley Pittinger in one, Vic Willis in one, Russell Ford in one, Larry Cheney in one, "Rube" Marquard in one, Sam Leever in one, "Deacon" Phillippe in one, Frank Smith in one, Eddie Killian in one and Howard Camnitz in one.

Jap Gives Hoppe Pause.

New York, April 25.—Koji Yamada, who once defeated Champion Willie Hoppe here by a single point at 18.2 balk line billiards, gave Hoppe another hard battle in the 14.1 world's championship tournament last night and was beaten by only seven points.

JOE DIETRICH MADE CAPTAIN

Gopher Nine Shuts Out Hamline By Score of 3 to 0.

Outdoor Gridiron Practice Is Begun; Track Meet Being Held.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Joe Dietrich, the Minnesota shortstop, was unanimously elected captain of the baseball team after the Minnesota-Hamline game Wednesday.

Dietrich has just begun the first year of baseball that he is eligible to play under the conference rules. He is a second-year man in the four-year dentistry course and will be able to play on next year's team before he is graduated. The Minnesota team shut out Hamline with a 3-to-0 no-hit victory to the credit of Pitcher Roen of the Gophers. The game was a pitchers' battle from the start. Neither pitcher was touched for a hit up to the eighth inning, when the Minnesota team scored.

Timely hitting, good battery work and sharp fielding and base running were the features of the varsity's game with Macalester Monday. Rollin, pitching for the university, held the opponents safely at all times, the final score being 10 to 3 in favor of Minnesota.

Baseball Prospects Good.

According to Henry Doermann, the assistant baseball coach, prospects for a winning team at Minnesota are very good, despite the fact that the team is handicapped by a lack of experienced men. The men who are out have shown great possibilities and the team is especially strong in fielding but rather weak in hitting, judged by the standard of college baseball.

The Minnesota football team held the first workout for the 1914 season outdoors Thursday afternoon. Dr. Henry L. Williams issued a call to the men to appear in their fighting togs at 5 p. m. on Northrop field and thirty-five responded. The Gopher coach has been putting his men through signal practice all winter. The drilling was done in the band room of the armory behind closed doors. The Gophers have the signals fairly well in mind and the return to the turf for practice will give them greater chance to show their caliber. Rosenthal, captain of the 1914 team, has been working every day, hurling the hammer and discus, and is in fine physical shape.

The annual all-Minnesota outdoor track meet is being held on Northrop field today under the direction of Leonard Frank. This has come to be a popular event among the athletes and every man in school is eligible to enter. The cream of the Gopher athletes are out. The meet is also a tryout for the Iowa meet, to be held next Saturday. Spink and Mollumby are expected to furnish the greatest excitement at the meet when they attempt to beat out Hamilton, a freshman, who beat them in indoor meets this winter. A full list of events will be run off.

Grant Becomes Student.

From a coach of track athletics to a student in the college of medicine in the university is the step contemplated by Dick Grant. Mr. Grant resigned his position as coach the first of the year. Since then he has been seriously thinking of resuming his study of medicine. Before coming to the university in 1909, Mr. Grant had done considerable work in the medical college of Harvard university. If satisfactory arrangements can be made he will probably enter the medical college next fall. The alternative he is considering is to return to Harvard and resume his studies there.

Now that the condition of the weather and the courts is such that tennis enthusiasts may put in their first work at outdoor practice, preparations are being made for the spring tournament and the selection of a team to represent the varsity in dual and conference tournaments. Capt. Stellwagen Tuesday issued the first call for eligible candidates. The prospects for a championship are particularly bright, with last year's team, John McGee and Self. Stellwagen being again eligible, together with an abundance of promising material. The season will open the first week in May with Macalester. A dual tournament will be played with Chicago during the latter part of May. Negotiations are being made for a dual meet with Leland Stanford, but as that university is not settled as to its Eastern trips this year, the games may not be played. The Western intercollegiate tourney will take place at Madison instead of Chicago, as in the past.

Establishing a new record both in percentage of games won, team score and individual averages, Delta Tau Delta won two straight matches from Acacia last Wednesday, thereby establishing their right to the two cups and the banner which go with this year's bowling championship.

SPORTING EVENTS OF THE WEEK AS SEEN BY THE HERALD CARTOONIST

Y. M. C. A. TO HOLD WRESTLING TOURNEY

Crack Amateur Grapplers Will Struggle for Mat Honors.

The amateur wrestling tournament of the Y. M. C. A. will be held at the association gymnasium on Tuesday and Wednesday evening of the coming week. The preliminaries will be held on Tuesday evening, and on Wednesday evening the finals will be pulled off.

J. W. Becker of Duluth will act as referee in all of the events. Wrestlers of Two Harbors, Superior and other surrounding towns and villages have entered the tournament.

Larson and Andrew Olson will represent the car barns men. Axel Nyberg will be the representative of the police department. Rumska, Niemi, Oakes, Moronen, Wilhelmson, Larson, Habberstad, A. Anderson, Christenson, Hesdall, Manski and Pfau have also entered.

Silver medal fobs will be awarded to the winners of the various classes. The medals have been donated by the Northern Hardware company. The entries will close Tuesday noon.

MANY AMERICAN GOLFERS TO PLAY ON SANDWICH COURSE

Eleven Already Entered for the English Amateur Championship and Number May Be Doubled—Hopes of Stay-at-Home Players Pinned Upon Travers and Ouimet.

New York, April 25.—If numerical strength is taken as the standard there will be no question in England as to the status of American golf after the playing of the English amateur championship on the Royal St. George Golf club course at Sandwich, May 18 and 19. Although the entry list does not close until May 12, the United States contingent for Sandwich already totals eleven, and late entries from home players and those living abroad may almost double this number. That it is the desire of the Royal St. George club to make the 1914 English amateur championship a real international competition is attested to by the fact that more than 1,000 invitations to compete have been sent to all parts of the world.

The American response must certainly be gratifying since almost a dozen amateurs, including the United States open and amateur champions, are already practicing on English links for the coming event. Whether the honor of capturing the $500 trophy, emblematic of the championship will fall to the lot of any one of these entrants only the future will disclose. Regardless of the final outcome, however, it can be safely assumed that no other nation so far removed from England as the United States will be represented by a contingent of golfers superior either in quality or quantity.

At the present time eleven prospective competitors from the United States are gathering at Sandwich and even though there are no further additions to this squad, American golf will be well represented. Using the 1913 handicap list of the United States Golf association as a rating basis these players and the clubs of which they are members, are as follows:

Scratch, Jerome D. Travers, Upper Montclair Country club, Upper Montclair, N. J., United States amateur champion; handicap 2, Frederick Herreshoff, National links, Shinnecock, L. I.; handicap 3, P. W. Whittemore, Brookline Country club, Brookline, Mass.; handicap 4, Francis Ouimet, Woodland Golf club, Auburndale, Mass., United States open champion; C. W. Inslee, Oneida Community; A. G. Lockwood, Belmont Springs Country club, Waverly, Mass.; Harold Weber, Inverness club, Toledo, Ohio; R. W. Brown, Belmont Springs Country club, Waverly, Mass.; handicap 5, H. J. Topping, Greenwich, Conn., and Fraser Hale, Edgewater Golf club, Chicago, Ill., and Edward S. Knapp.

It is but natural that the hopes of the stay-at-home golfers should be pinned upon the play of the two American champions, Jerome Travers and Francis Ouimet, and the form shown by these players during the early days of the practice abroad appears to warrant this faith. The fact that a record entry is expected and the luck of the draw may develop handicapping combinations must be taken into consideration. Under these conditions there exists the possibility that one of the minor ranked players, either English or American, may come through and prove the surprise of the tournament as was the case in the American open championship last fall, when Ouimet sprang into international fame by tying and then defeating Ray and Vardon in the play-off for the title.

Regardless of the outcome, however, the coming tournament at Sandwich promises to be one of the most important, from an international standpoint, ever staged in England. Although the entry list does not close until May 12 and the draw made the following day, elaborate preparations for the tournament are already under way. The few hotels and inns have been booked to capacity for weeks past and the question of accommodations is a serious problem for the late entrants. A special train for golfers and spectators will be run between London and the course. Sandwich is seventy-two miles from London, but off the main line, and the ordinary running time is close to three hours. Because of the poor transit facilities in the past the gallery has seldom exceeded 200 or 400. Conditions, however, will be entirely different this season, for in addition to the American entries, Canada, Australia and France are also represented, together with the usual English entry. This international gathering of golfers will undoubtedly attract a gallery of several thousand.

The course from a playing standpoint is considered an excellent test of all-round ability and the winner of the final round will well deserve the honors which go with the championship. The distance for the full eighteen holes is 6,594 yards. The course has been greatly altered and lengthened since 1904, when Walter J. Travis won the English championship there and is considerably different from the couse as usually played on by club members. Under the championship conditions the outward round will be 3,043 yards, with a scratch score of 38. The sixth hole is the shortest, 160 yards, and the seventh the longest, being 490 yards from tee to cup. Coming home the course is 3,551 yards with the sixteenth the shortest hole at 160 yards and the thirteenth the longest, being 481 yards. The scratch score is forty, giving a total of 78 for the entire eighteen holes.

The America's Cup.

Some idea of the amount of money involved in the defense of the American's cup in the coming international yacht regatta off Sandy Hook in September may be gained from the assertion recently made by an authority who stated that twenty-two American yachtsmen will spend more than $500,000 this summer in defending the trophy. In addition to the expense of preparing for the trial races it will cost $10,000 or $15,000 more to bring the defender through the cup races.

Alexander Smith Cochran of New York will be under the heaviest outlay, since as sole owner, it will require close to $200,000 to pay for the building, fitting out and sailing the Vanitie, now rapidly nearing completion at Neponset. Six present and past flag officers of the New York Yacht club have given an unlimited order to the designer, builder and manager of the Resolute, the Bristol production, and will probably be called upon to contribute between $35,000 and $40,000 each by the time the season is finished. This syndicate is composed of Vice Commodore George F. Baker, Jr., Rear Commodore J. P. Morgan, Former Commodore Frederick G. Bourne, Cornelius Vanderbilt, Arthur Curtis James, and Former Vice Commodore Henry Walters. It is estimated that $200,000 will be required to build, outfit and campaign the Resolute during June, July and August. Of the fifteen yachtsmen who combined to build the Defiance at Bath at an estimated expense of $100,000, eight are from Boston, six from New York and one from Philadelphia. The syndicate is composed of F. C. Fletcher, E. S. Webster, Eliot Wadsworth, Charles Hayden, F. E. Peabody, J. C. Cobb, Oliver Ames, and Henry Taggard of Boston, George M. Pynchon, George Lauder, George D. Barron, James B. Ford, E. Trowbridge Hall, and Thomas C. Dunham of New York, and E. Walter Clark of Philadelphia.

Paid to Herreshoffs.

The exact sums paid to the Herreshoff company for the last five cup yachts, including the Constitution, have never been revealed, but other builders believe that they know them approximately. From such data it is estimated that the contract for the Resolute with two masts, two or three sets of sails, minor spars, and rigging complete, called for close to $150,000. It is thought that $75,000 will be necessary for her upkeep during the preliminary season from May 1 to Aug. 22. The contract price for the Vanitie is placed at about $100,000 and it is expected that with her professional crew, and large tender, Mr. Cochran will have spent another $100,000 by the time that the committee on challenge of the New York Yacht club renders its decision as to which yacht shall be intrusted the defense of the silver tankard.

As the Defiance is of composite build, with steel frames and a double wooden skin, it is estimated that her building cost will be considerably less than either of the two bronze yachts, probably in the neighborhood of $40,000 just before launching. Her masts and spars will cost $10,000, her sails $10,000, blocks $3,000 and rigging $1,000, with $6,000 more for incidentals, or a total cost of $70,000. As the yachts of several of the syndicate are to be used as tenders, the cost of running the Defiance for the three months is placed at $30,000, or $100,000 for the season.

With a challenger also of composite construction it is expected that the fourth venture of Sir Thomas Lipton will be far less expensive than his three previous cup hunts, probably under $150,000, compared with a third of a million spent on each of the other challengers.

For the first time since the Vigilant vanquished the Valkyrie in 1893, the cup defense yachts will have a fair market value after the 1914 regatta is decided. They are not expected to depreciate more than 40 per cent, compared with a loss of 98 per cent, which the owners of the Reliance, the last cup defender, were forced to bear, her building cost being nearly $300,000 and her scrap price $6,000. Thus the value and availability of this year's cup yachts for future work is regarded as one of the most encouraging features of the new rule under which they have been built.

BANQUET FOR THE BOWLERS

End of Grand League Season Will Be Celebrated By Dinner.

There will be a banquet for the bowlers of the Grand league at the Eagles' hall on Monday evening. This is in celebration of the close of the season, and all of the bowlers of the city are invited to be present.

The Ormonde team won the pennant in the league after one of the prettiest races in the history of any of the local pin associations. The season just closed has been the most successful in the history of bowling in Duluth and has amply demonstrated what can be accomplished by the cooperation of the various players for the good of the game.

Following will be found the standing of the individual players in the Grand league and also the winners of the special prizes:

	Games.	Total pins	Ave.
Gilbertson	57	10,117	178
McRae	54	9,288	172

NORTHERNS TO OPEN BASEBALL SEASON WITH PROCTOR TEAM.

The Northern baseball team will resume practice tomorrow morning after a week's lay-off. Manager Norsted said today that his team will meet the fast Proctor team May 17 in the opening game at Proctor. Mayor Erickson of Proctor will pitch the first ball and the Proctor band will be on hand to play for the village team. There will be a parade at 2 o'clock headed by the village band, followed closely by the Northern and Proctor teams and at 2:30 sharp Mayor Erickson will start the game. Mayor Prince of Duluth may also take part in the festival.

Pitcher Patsis signed a Northern contract Thursday.

Pittsburg, Pa., is arranging for the purchase of fourteen new motorcycles, seven for the use of the police department and seven for the health bureau. County detectives are also in the market for seven motorcycles.

BOYS HOLD A BIG MEET

Methodist Episcopal Track Team Wins Sunday School Event.

The Sunday School Association Athletic league held its initial indoor meet last evening in the Y. M. C. A gymnasium, the First Methodist Episcopal church team winning the meet by the score of 81 points. The First Presbyterian church athletes were second with a total score of 51½ points.

These two teams overshadowed the remainder of the field in the winning of points, the Second Presbyterian church team scoring 29 points, the Congregational church team 15½ points, the Lester Park Methodist church 10 points, and the Glen Avon Presbyterian church two points.

In every way and in every detail the meet was an unqualified success. Some of the young athletes made some very good showings, and the general interest shown both by the athletes and the spectators augurs well for the baseball season that is soon to begin and the other athletic events that are planned under the auspices of the league.

Following is the summary of the events:

Potato Race (Midget).

First, Do Forest, Congregational; second, Sullivan, First M. E.; third, Forgy, First M. E.

15-Yard Dash (Lightweight).

First, Cullen, First Presbyterian; second, Thompson, First M. E.; third, Walsh, First Presbyterian.

15-Yard Dash (Middleweight).

First Anderson, First Presbyterian; second, La Crosse, Second Presbyterian; third, Bailey, First M. E.

Standing Broad Jump (Midget).

First, Sullivan, First M. E.; second, Ernshaw, First Presbyterian; third, De Forest, Long and Hopey, First Presbyterian, tied.

Standing Broad Jump (Lightweight).

First, Cullen, First Presbyterian; second, Anderson, First M. E.; third, Walsh, First Presbyterian.

Three Standing Broad Jumps.

First, Schiederick, Second Presbyterian; second, Anderson, First Presbyterian; third, Parsons, First M. E.

20-Yard Dash (Welter).

First, Smithies, First M. E.; second, Hollenbeck, First Presbyterian; third, Bailey, First M. E.

20-Yard Dash (Heavy).

First, Williams, First M. E.; second, Neff, First M. E.; third, Brooks, Lester Park M. E.

Midget Relay Race.

First, First M. E.; second, First Presbyterian; third, Glen Avon Presbyterian.

Three Standing Broad Jumps (Welter).

First, Bailey, First M. E.; second, Hollenbeck, First Presbyterian; third, Walsh, First Presbyterian.

Hop, Step and Jump (Heavy).

First, Williams, First M. E.; second, Brooks, Lester Park M. E.; third, Neander, Second Presbyterian.

Lightweight Relay.

Won by First M. E.; all other disqualified.

Shot Put (Welter).

First, Smithies, First M. E.; second, Bartlett, Lester Park M. E.; third, Bailey, First M. E.

Shot Put (Heavy).

First, Neander, Second Presbyterian; second, Williams, First M. E.; third, Peterson, First M. E.

High Jump (Light).

First, Cullen, First Presbyterian; second, Jernberg, Second Presbyterian; third, Dash, Second Presbyterian.

High Jump (Middle).

First, Parsons, First M. E.; second, Scheiderick, Second Presbyterian; third, Peterson, Congregational.

High Jump (Welter).

First, Wade, Congregational; second, Diers, Second Presbyterian; third, Sheperdson, Congregational.

High Jump (Heavy).

First, Williams, First M. E.; second and third, tied by Neff of First M. E. and Brooks of Lester Park M. E.

220-Yard Dash (Heavy).

First, Williams, First M. E.; second, Neff, First M. E.; third, Brooks, Lester Park M. E.

220-Yard Dash (Welter).

First, Hollenbeck, First Presbyterian; second, Walsh, First Presbyterian; third, McCabe, Glen Avon Presbyterian.

WORLD'S CHAMPION CASTER TO GIVE EXHIBITION OF SKILL.

William C. Vogt, the champion caster and one of the most expert fishermen in the country, will give an exhibition late this afternoon at the Fifth avenue dock. The exhibition was originally planned for a week ago, rain causing the postponement.

Casting distances of 200 feet or more—Vogt holds the world's record of 245 feet—and giving various exhibitions in fancy casting, the use of artificial bait, the correct method of casting, playing the line and also the proper method of preparing artificial bait, the exhibition will be both amusing and instructive.

At Asbury park Vogt met the best casters of this country and easily defeated them. His amazing mastery of the rod and line borders on the miraculous. Vogt can knock the pipe out of a man's mouth at the distance of 200 feet, can easily hit a moving object at that distance, and has such perfect control over his line that he is able to cast in any spot at any distance within the range of possible casting accomplishment.

A large number of local fishermen are interested in the exhibition, which should prove the most novel of its kind ever given at the Head of the Lakes.

The date of the Indiana state F. A. M. convention has been changed from the middle of May to June 5, 6 and 7. The route of the motorcycle endurance run which is to be a feature of the meet has also been changed so that the entire course will be on Indiana soil. The run will be the longest ever staged in the state, covering between 500 and 600 miles.

In the Navajo reservation in New Mexico there is a young squaw who is said to be an ardent motorcyclist. On her motorcycle trips over the mountain trail she carries her papoose in the approved Indian fashion.

LIVELY BALL HAS MADE GOLF A BETTER GAME

New York, April 25.—Being sufficiently ancient a golfer to have had my early experiences on the links linked with the gutty ball and sufficiently modern to have a proper appreciation of the extra distance that the rubber core can be hit with an equal expenditure of effort, being "all stirred up" over the great experiment match to test the relative merits of the gutty and the rubber core, involving Harry Vardon, George Duncan, James Braid and James H. Taylor; being eager to get out on the links anyway after a goitless winter in the frozen North, I have just done a little experimenting myself on the gutty versus the rubber core, writes John G. Anderson in the Sun. Mr. Anderson was runnerup to Jerome D. Travers in the amateur championship of 1913.

In a match at the Albermarle Golf club, Newtonville, Mass., J. G. Anderson, gutty, played J. G. Anderson, rubber core, a nine-hole round, in which the rubber core had the better of the argument by one stroke on medal play and one hole in match play. It was not the actual score that interested me, however, but the way the figures for each hole came about. Not many strokes did it require to convince me that there is a vast difference between the old hard ball and the new sphere of far more lively temperament, and right at the start I will venture the opinion that return to the gutty now would be fatal to the popularity of the game. I will not be so certain about the degree of skill that the two different qualities of ball bring forth, but am willing to submit that the gutty would demand far more accurate hitting to get good results.

Hard to Find.

To conduct an experiment between the gutty and the rubber core the first thing was to get a stock of gutties. A Boston sporting goods establishment managed to get track of ten-odd balls which looked as if they had seen better days, but which proved, even by the dents in their surfaces, that they could stand punishment and still retain their shape. In accounts concerning some of the experiments made abroad recently the fact was mentioned that the old gutties played by George Duncan were badly out of shape when he had finished. The balls with which I experimented were as round at the finish as at the start. Maybe he hits them harder.

Before relating some of the details of the experiment, let me say that the next time I undertake a similar venture it will be either with some old clubs for which I long since have lost high esteem, or else I shall ask some kind friend to lend me his clubs for the experiment. It was at the sixth hole, on the tee, that I happened to look at the face of a favorite driver and discovered a sizable depression in the wood, palpably displacing the marking of just the gutty ball. I had used that driver once to get that result and promptly decided that if I wanted to get any good results with it during the coming season I had better keep it away from the old hard ball. Later at the eighth hole, I thought I would take it out once more just for a trial, and taking another glance at the head found that the socket thrend was loose and coming undone. Whether the end had become loose before I started out was a question I could not answer; but upon looking over my brassy I discovered the same thing had happened with that. To cap the climax, I thought I would make a still closer inspection of the driver head to see if any further damage had been done and discovered a distinct crack in the wood.

On the strength of this discovery I am ready to believe that a combination of the hard gutty ball, a hard hitter and the present-day socket shafted wooden club would be about as costly as for a beginner to do all his practicing by trying to drive over a wide pond with new sinkable balls.

Difference in Distance.

The difference between the gutty and the rubber core in the mere matter of distance showed up in the drives to the first hole. Both the rubber core and the gutty were well hit, straight down the course and with the wind in back. Neither got more than a few feet of roll because the ground was soft, and there was a difference of exactly twenty-three yards in favor of the rubber core.

At the second hole the drive with the rubber core was twenty-nine yards ahead of that with the gutty, and after using my sammy for the second shots, catching the gutty a powerful blow, hitting it even harder than I did the rubber core, the latter was fifty-eight yards further along on the course. The distance of the hole was about 440 yards, and after the drive and a sammy shot the rubber core left an easy little mashie wrist pitch, while a full mashie shot was not good enough to get the gutty home in three.

When it came to playing the third hole I was interested to see how the two balls would act against a strong wind. Catching the gutty squarely with the brassy for a line ball, it disgusted me to see the ball come to a stop 125 yards from the tee after I had hit it in such a way that normally with a rubber core I would expect to see it go 225 yards. Of course, the strong wind made a lot of difference, but with a rubber core immediately afterward I went 165 yards, or forty more then with the gutty. The hole is 280 yards, and against the wind it took me two full brassy shots from the tee to get home with the gutty, as against a drive and a mashie from the rubber core.

Significant Demonstration.

The fourth hole was even more significant of the difference between the two. The gutty was hit perfectly, yet a moment later a badly topped rubber core stopped just abreast of it after rolling along as if that were its sole mission in life. It was the finest possible demonstration of the chief difference between the old ball and the new, although the half top was the result of my shortcomings rather than premeditation.

After topping one rubber core with such results I played another into the wind which went just forty-eight yards beyond the gutty. This hole is 460 yards long, providing another excellent opportunity for judging the difference in length between the old ball and the new, especially as at this time it had such a strong adverse wind as an additional handicap.

My second shot with the gutty was well hit and stopped at a spot which, with the rubber core, I would consider a full mashie shot against the wind, though a full shot that would be called under control. I put a rubber core down at the same point and sent it on the green with a mashie, then tried the same thing with the gutty. The first attempt was all right so far as the force of the stroke was concerned, but the direction was not good. At the same time the distance gained was not nearly enough to reach the green. I put down another gutty and tried to get it home with a midiron, but was yards short. Then I tried a third, this time using a heavy driving mashie, but even then the ball was about twenty yards short of the point where I had put the rubber core earlier.

Play at the remaining holes merely served to emphasize the results already noted. Especially was this true of the ninth hole, 150 yards, with an elevated tee, where I hit the gutty for all I was worth and could not get it to the green. If I had hit a rubber core with equal force the ball would have gone far over.

Advantage in Putting.

In putting, as in the short approaches, there is no denying that the gutty may be hit with confident force; that is to say, the player feels that he can aim right at the pin and not feel that the ball will go far beyond it. On the putt the gutty seemed to roll exceedingly true when hit firmly, and it could be hit with a firmness that meant much greater accuracy in direction. Putting first the gutty and then the rubber core, from a point fifteen yards from the hole, I found that the hard ball had to be hit with enough force to make the club head finish several inches higher than was the case after putting the rubber core. On the short putt, too, there had to be a more pronounced follow through of the gutty to get satisfactory results.

As I have said before, though there may be some things to commend the old, hard ball, such as the short approach and the easier putting, I feel pretty certain, after my experiment, that any attempt to put the old ball back in use would fail utterly, either for championships or general play. Moreover, the way courses are constructed nowadays, with their length and their numerous bunkers, the average player would have to take a day off when he wanted to play a round. That may be exaggerating a wee bit, but anybody who thinks it is a wild stretch of the imagination is welcome to get out and learn for himself.

I know that some golfing reader is keeping in mind the early mentioned statistics of this article, showing that I took 41 strokes with the rubber core and 42 for the gutty, and has been contemplating an ironic letter, with a query as to where the rubber core has demonstrated its great superiority, as judged by the scores. I would say that I was lucky enough to take no more than two putts to a green with the gutty, though playing on temporary greens, and that I saved strokes with the gutty by getting home with a full brassie second at the third hole, where with the rubber core I was too far with a mashie approach. In other words, the luck of the game was with the gutty ball.

BASEBALL MEN TO ORGANIZE A LEAGUE

There will be a meeting tomorrow afternoon at the St. Louis hotel of the delegates of the range and Duluth who have undertaken the organization of the new baseball league that will be made up of teams of the range, nearby towns and a team from this city.

Many delegates from outside towns will be on hand, according to the statement of local boosters, and it is expected that the organization will be effected and that definite plans announced for the playing season.

MOTORCYCLE NOTES

Following closely the Motorcycle day celebration at Sacramento, another big motorcycle event will be staged in California. This is to take the form of a race meet, which will be held at the Fresno county fair grounds on May 17. The schedule of events includes contests for Fresno riders; a 10-mile and 25-mile contests, exclusively for San Joaquin valley riders; also free-for-all one-hour run.

Another moroteycle event to be held in California during May is the Oakland Motorcycle club's endurance run on the 30th.

The efficiency expert of the Civic and Commerce association of Minneapolis, Minn., has recommended the purchase of a number of motorcycles for use of the medical inspectors of the city. In his investigations the expert found that at present the inspectors spent about half of their time walking or waiting for cars, and that with the aid of motorcycles six men could accomplish as much work as twelve could otherwise do.

The first woman to volunteer her services to the Ulster cause is a motorcyclist. Miss P. Kingsborough, an expert cyclist, is strongly in sympathy with the Ulster cause, and has offered her services as an army dispatch rider. Miss Kingsborough's outdoor life has given her strength and health to withstand the hardships of army life. She is absolutely fearless, and the speed with which she can cover the ground on her motorcycle makes her a valuable asset to the army messenger service.

Twenty-six thousand four hundred and four! That is the present membership of the Federation of American Motorcyclists. And there is no let-up in the efforts of motorcyclists to raise this number to 30,000—the mark the organization has set to attain by the time of the next annual convention in July. In addition to the individual riders who have joined the F. A. M., there are twenty new motorcycle clubs throughout the country which have been formed as a direct result of the special membership campaign which was launched on March 1, and which will continue through April, May and June. Handsome awards will be given to the clubs bringing in the largest number of riders during this campaign. Prizes will also be given the clubs bringing in the largest number of motorcyclists during any one month. The Quincy (Ill.) Motorcycle club won one of these awards for March, having affiliated forty new members during that month.

Although he weighs 272 pounds, Harry Petri, of Allentown, Pa., says he has no difficulty in riding his motorcycle up any of the steep grades for which Pennsylvania is noted. And Petri frequently carries a tandem passenger.

The annual hill climb of the Atlanta (Ga.) Motorcycle club will take place the latter part of May. Weight and coasting contests will be among the features of the meet, as well as speed events.

During 1913 there were 28,177 motorcycles licensed in London.

Ft. Wayne, Ind., has just closed its first exclusive motorcycle show, and its success assures the holding of similar exhibits in the future.

STAGELAND

Lyceum

Eugene Brieux's tremendous sociological drama, "Damaged Goods," as presented by Richard Bennett and his original company of co-workers, will be presented at the Lyceum theater Thursday, Friday and Saturday, with Saturday matinee, April 30, May 1 and 2.

"Damaged Goods," enjoys the distinction of having received the enthusiastic indorsement of social workers, educators and clergymen. It is a powerful study of the social disease, and pleads in militant fashion for a health certificate with every marriage license. The theme of the play is one which has been tabooed on the stage for centuries, but so frank and sincere is the treatment that it disarms adverse criticism.

The story of the play centers in the disaster which befalls a young man who marries in defiance of his physician's warning that he is unfit physically to assume the responsibility of parenthood. In the second act the young man is seen surrounded by his happy wife and their baby girl, but soon the specter of hereditary disease enters the door and the household is shrouded in gloom. From this point the author, Eugene Brieux, one of the forty immortals of France, draws a striking moral and points a way to the betterment of the human race.

Mr. Bennett, who is the star of "Damaged Goods," as well as the producer, has achieved a notable acting triumph in the role of the young husband. He gives a performance of such virility and naturalness that it impresses the auditor with a spirit of awe. He will be supported by the same admirable company of co-workers who appeared with him during his long run in New York city.

One of the most effective characterizations in the drama is that given by Miss Adrienne Morrison as The Girl.

"Damaged Goods" has created more discussion than any other play produced in America in the past decade.

Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, one of the most talked of women in the world, who will be seen here at the Lyceum soon at the head of the big English musical pantomime divertissement, "Mariette," up until the time she went on the stage last spring, made her living by modeling in clay. The statuettes turned out by her deft fingers have been secured by art lovers of both continents and now occupy prominent niches in many a private home and public building.

Mrs. Thaw, ever since her girlhood, has been fond of working in clay, making little figures and animals for her own amusement. When she went into seclusion after her husband's trial she had greater opportunity to perfect herself in this art with the result that she has turned out many artistic pieces of work. These in the clay she takes to a bronze casting plant and there the clay figures are turned into unyielding metal and placed on exhibition in the art stores.

While on tour Mrs. Thaw is continually at work in her spare moments with her masses of wet clay which she carries in a trunk especially built for that purpose. In the quiet of her dressing room, when not actively before the footlights, she has a few spare moments and these are spent in turning out models or putting the finishing touches on a work nearly completed. When they are finally finished to her satisfaction the models are carefully packed in sawdust and shipped to her agent in New York.

Mrs. Thaw studied dramatic art at the same time she was studying modeling and scored a phenomenal success when she appeared in London and New York.

On Tuesday evening, April 28, the Yiddish tragedian, Jacob Silbert, and Madam Eliza Silbert will appear in an elaborate production of their greatest success, "The Jewish King Lear," written by Joseph Gordin. Mr. Silbert has surrounded himself with an all-star cast and will present this famous play here exactly as seen 100 times in New York city. Mr. Silbert is making a tour of the United States, playing only in four cities in the Northwest, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth and Winnipeg. This will be the only opportunity of seeing this famous tragedian, as he leaves immediately for Europe after his Winnipeg engagement.

The Baldwin players will open at the Lyceum theater for the summer season commencing May 17, presenting the first week "The Spendthrift," the second week "The Fortune Hunter," the third week "The Man From Home," the fourth week "Madam X," the fifth week "The Gamblers," the sixth week, "The Easiest Way." The rest of the plays to be presented will be announced later. The company comes direct from Buffalo to Duluth and is composed of many famous players. Each production will be identically the same as presented in New York.

The preparations for the decorating and renovating of the Lyceum theater are going on rapidly. A number of workmen are now at work upon the new drop curtain, scaffolding, etc., necessary for this work. It is said that the Lyceum theater will be one of the handsomest theaters in the Northwest after all the improvements have been made.

Orpheum

Only two more bills will be presented at the Duluth Orpheum during the present regular season.

The season will close for the vaudeville season Saturday night, May 9, and will not reopen with vaudeville until Aug. 23.

During the summer, however, some special feature films of motion pictures will be presented. The theater will open Monday, May 11, with the feature film "The Indian Wars of the West."

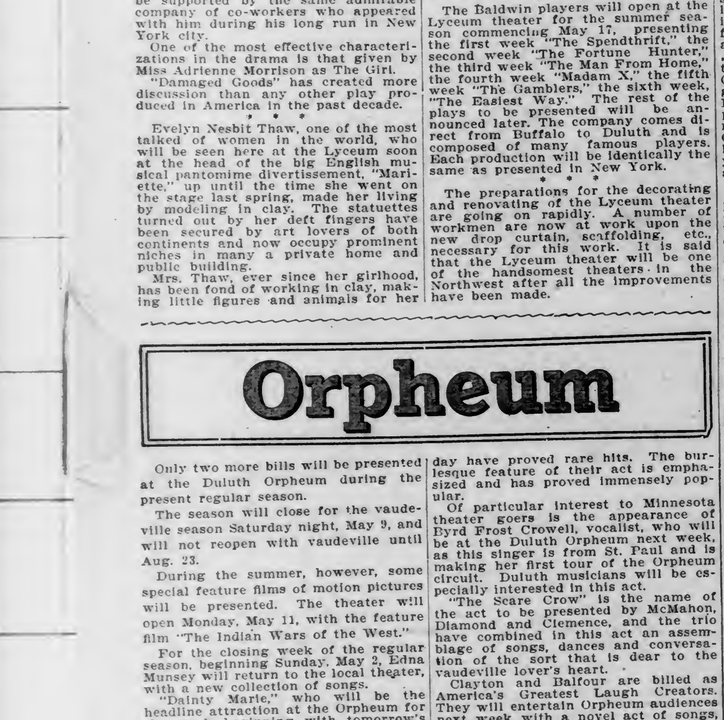
For the closing week of the regular season, beginning Sunday, May 2, Edna Munsey will return to the local theater, with a new collection of songs.

"Dainty Marie," who will be the headline attraction at the Orpheum for the week beginning with tomorrow's matinee, is said to have a figure as near perfection as the human being can achieve. Even Venus, it is said, would of necessity look to her laurels in a comparison with the young woman who will visit Duluth next week. Dainty Marie relies not entirely, however, on nature's gifts for her power of entertaining, but in her act sings, dances and does some work on the flying trapeze. The charm of the act lies in large part, however, in the interest that attaches to the young woman as an exponent of the grace and beauty to which the human figure can attain.

Herbert Ashley and Al Canfield, who will appear on the week's bill, have a vaudeville act that has pleased audiences all over the circuit. Their act is a singing and talking act, and their parodies of the popular songs of the day have proved rare hits. The burlesque feature of their act is emphasized and has proved immensely popular.

Of particular interest to Minnesota theater goers is the appearance of Byrd Frost Crowell, vocalist, who will be at the Duluth Orpheum next week, as this singer is from St. Paul and is making her first tour of the Orpheum circuit. Duluth musicians will be especially interested in this act.

"The Scare Crow" is the name of the act to be presented by McMahon, Diamond and Clemence, and the trio have combined in this act an assemblage of songs, dances and conversation of the sort that is dear to the vaudeville lover's heart.



Clayton and Balfour are billed as America's Greatest Laugh Creators. They will entertain Orpheum audiences next week with a novel act of songs, music and nonsense.

The Ricci Trio, a harmonious family, will visit the Orpheum next week, their act being presented by two violinists and a vocalist. Madame Ricci is the vocalist of the trio, and her husband and son play violins, and the music they present is said to be especially gratifying to vaudeville audiences.

The Reuter Brothers, who are billed as anatomic wonders, will complete the bill. Their acrobatic work is of the sort that brings into play every muscle of the body, and no one set is developed to the neglect of other muscles. The result is a higher standard of physical development than is often found among acrobats, who too often are unevenly developed muscularly. The Reuter Brothers have been pronounced as closely approaching perfect physical development by no less an authority than Dr. Dressler, teacher of plastic anatomy of the Berlin Academy of Art.

The Hearst-Selig pictorial review of world events and the numbers by the Orpheum concert orchestra will complete the week's bill.

For the following week, the last of the regular season at the Orpheum, Miss Edna Munsey, the Duluth girl who has won much success in vaudeville, will return for the week's engagement. There will be especial interest in Miss Munsey's engagement, the second week at the Duluth theater this season. The headliners will be the Zancigs, heralded as the world's greatest thought transmitters.

AT EMPRESS

U. B. Griffith, the hypnotist, who will open at the Empress theater for an engagement of four days beginning with the matinee Sunday April 26, has just closed a series of successful engagements in the East and comes West for the first time. One dramatic critic comments on him as follows: "If that man who makes two blades of grass where only one grew before is worthy of honor at the hands of his fellow citizens, then 'Griffith' a hypnotist, who raises many laughs where there were none before, is entitled to recognition."

Griffith claims he has the greatest laughing show on earth. He hypnotizes people from the audience and has them go through all kinds of ludicrous scenes and laughable situations. The comedy produced is clean and in no way offensive. He is claimed to be one of America's foremost psychologists and the best demonstrator of stage hypnotism. He is therefore in a position to both entertain and instruct. People interested in any phase of psychology will enjoy his lectures and scientific tests and those wishing to laugh will have ample opportunity, it is claimed. Griffith changes his performances completely at each appearance.

One of the feats of interest will be the awakening of the young man whom Griffith put to sleep by hypnotic suggestion in a Superior street window Friday night over long distance telephone. When awakened the young man will have slept seventy-two hours. Other remarkable feats are twelve hours of piano playing by a hypnotized young man, a bicycle ride of ten hours and other feats.

The vaudeville program for the last half of the week, starting with the matinee Thursday, April 30, will be a bill of varieties. The Great Rosini & Co., will appear in a repertoire of extraordinary feats; Gardner and Revere have a true variety act. It is full of songs, dances, comedy and interesting offerings. Berry and Wilhelmi will appear in songs and impersonations and Billy Kinkaid, the Scotch juggler, with a line of tricks of startling skillfulness. A feature film will round out the bill.

AT THE REX

"Lucille Love, the Girl of Mystery," will be at the Rex Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of each week. This is the first instalment of a thrilling sensational story, the plot of which is made up of love, devotion, danger and intrigue.

"Our Mutual Girl" joins Uncle Sam's jolly tars aboard the battleship Arkansas. Margaret's eyes fairly bulge at the size and number of big guns on the super-dreadnaught of the latest type. A navy goat and a green parrot, the ship's mascots, offer plenty of opportunity for the boys to tease her. A bugle sounds and Margaret is told that Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Castle had arrived and are ready to give the bluejackets a dancing lesson. An officer leads her to the port side aft and shows her 300 sailormen tangoing and turkey trotting to the tune of the ship's band. The Castles really don't come aboard but the ship's two best dancing men are nicknamed Mr. and Mrs. Castle. One can see the whole day's outing at the Rex Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

"Famous Players" stamped on a film, carries a guaranty of merit. As in the past so this term applies to the Famous Players' last release, "The Redemption of David Corson," with William Farnum as David Corson. This is a strong man's play—a story dealing with big strong men in their best and worst moods. The character of David Corson depicts the story of a mans' desperate struggle with himself. And in a measure he succeeds until a woman comes into his life—and then Satan comes also, and he descends into the dregs—and then comes the regeneration. This will be at the Rex Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

DAINTY MARIE
At the Orpheum Next Week.

Diamond Theater.

The moving picture "fans" of this city have shown their appreciation of the excellent programs put on by the Diamond theater, the steady attendance testing the large seating capacity daily, but the management of the Diamond has outdone all previous efforts for today's program.

The leading feature today is a magnificent three-part story taken from the Old Testament, entitled "Esther." This picture is followed by a two-reel Edison feature, "Rorke's Drift," with a thrill in every scene, and in order to balance up this remarkable program, the show is concluded with two Lubin comedies, "Coontown Suffragettes" and "Father's Temper," and a side-splitting Essanay Western comedy-drama, "Italian Love."

BILLY KINKAID
At the Empress Next Week.

GOSSIP OF THE RIALTO

Andreas Dippel and his opera company will divide the season between two New York houses, beginning next September. As previously announced, he will be at the Century theater, beginning next February. The time before that he will show at the Forty-fourth Street theater. Each house is being allotted twenty weeks, according to this plan.

Tomorrow the Weber and Fields supplementary spring tour will begin at Wilmington, Dela. It will embrace seven weeks of strictly one-night stands through several states, embracing Pennsylvania, Illinois and Michigan. The program will include several skits in which the two stars have become famous.

It is said that "The Girl From Kay's," now known as "The Belle of Bond Street," has undergone such changes in the process of being revived at the hands of Sam Bernard and Gaby Deslys that its originator would not be able to recognize it.

Fuller Mellish has been signed up to assist in the support of John Drew and Ethel Barrymore in "A Scrap of Paper." Mr. Mellish was recently with the Margaret Anglin organization.

"What's Wrong" is the name of the new play in which Janet Beecher is to play under David Belasco's management. Frederick Ballard, author of "Believe Me, Xantippe," is responsible for its existence. It will have its premiere at the National theater, Washington, May 4. "What's Wrong" is Mr. Ballard's second venture in the dramatic line.

"The Dummy," a new one by Harvey J. O'Higgins and Harriet Ford, will receive its premiere at the Hudson theater, New York, tomorrow night. These two authors were also responsible for "The Argyle Case."

A new theater has been established on Forty-second street in New York. Its seating capacity is 999 and the promoter is Sol Bloom, while Cohan and Harris and George Klein are concerned in the lease. While it is supposed that the policy of the house will be the exhibition of moving pictures, it is said that Cohan and Harris may utilize it for dramatic purposes. At any rate, it is stated that the new house is ideally equipped for dramatic productions.

"Everywoman" has just concluded the eighty-first week of its present tour.

The management of the Chicago Grand Opera company has become sadder but wiser by means of their recent attempt to bless the Pacific coast with grand opera as she is done in Chicago. A two weeks' engagement at San Francisco is said, on good authority, to have left it poorer to the extent of $60,000.

Julie Opp, wife of William Faversham, is said to be contemplating a complete retirement from the stage on account of ill health. It was for the same reason that she was not able to appear with her husband this season in his Shakesperean productions. Mrs. Faversham has returned to the Faversham home in England.

Arrangements have been made whereby Emmo Trentini is to make her London appearance in "The Firefly."

In Paris they have revived "Psyche," Moliere's tragedy-ballet, with the original music by Lully, who is known as the father of French opera. "Psyche" was first produced in 1671.

Marie Lloyd leaves for England on May 30. She is now playing on the Orpheum circuit in the West.

"The Lure" had a lively time of it at St. Louis recently. After a great amount of squabbling with the police department and attempts to make it meet the demands of the latter as regards morality, the management finally concluded to call the whole thing off in the middle of the week and departed with the show for Philadelphia.

Preparations are being made to have two companies playing "The Misleading Lady" on the road next season.

"Omar, the Tentmaker," is going to start on a tour to the Pacific coast the end of the month.

Henry Dixey is again in vaudeville. Cooper Cliffe has his role in "1,000 Years Ago."

George Fawcett has been engaged to create the role of the political boss in "The Governor's Boss."

The Century Opera company will close its season April 19 instead of May 18, as was originally planned. The change of plans, it is announced, was made to give sufficient time for certain necessary remodelings in the theater, which are to be done before the new season. By means of these, it is stated, the seating capacity of the house will be considerably extended.

Hilbrook Blinn and his Princess Players are not having very plain sailing in persuading either the public or the press of Chicago that their performances are the acme of high art. The general opinion as expressed in hissings of audiences and strongly worded criticisms in the daily press, seems to be that obscenity—so it is called in several instances—has no place on the boards of the theater, no matter under what colors it sails. At an interview at the mayor's office, in which Mr. Harrison met the representatives of the Shuberts and the Princess Players, it was ordered that a particularly objectionable bill would have to be changed. This order was accompanied with some very weighty remarks on the mayor's part as regards stage morality and art.

The place of Lina Abarbanell in the cast of "The Red Canary" will be filled by Leila Hughes. Miss Abarbanell withdrew suddenly from the cast and is now appearing in the Palace.

The final week of the setson at the Grand will be devoted to "The New Henrietta," with William H. Crane, Doungals Fairbanks, Amelia Bingham and Patrica Collings in the cast.

A new play by Margaret Mayo, who wrote "Baby Mine," will be produced soon. It is called "Twin Beds," and is the dramatization of a story by Edward Salisbury Fields bearing the same title. Miss Mayo's husband, Edgar Selwyn, has also completed a new manuscript, "Rolling Stones," a comedy which is said to be based on an incident from his own life.

GORGAS WILL BE GIVEN GOLD MEDAL

For His Work in Cleaning Up the Panama Canal Zone.

New York, April 25.—Surgeon Gen. William C. Gorgas, U. S. A., is to be presented with a gold medal by the American Museum of Safety for his achievement in cleaning up the Panama canal zone and freeing the country of the frightful fever and pestilences which had previously made engineering work almost impossible. The medal was donated to the museum of Safety by Dr. Louis Livingston Seaman and will be presented to Gen. Gorgas on the evening of Tuesday, April 28, at the American Museum of Safety, 29 West Thirty-ninth street, New York city. Prof. Frederick R. Hutton of the engineering faculty of Columbia university and vice president of the Museum of Safety, will make the presentation.

Prof. Hutton said today in speaking of the award to Gen. Gorgas: "Behind and underlying all the skill, the capacity, the cost in dollars, has lain that skill and capacity in applied science of hygiene and sanitation in the canal zone which have made our achievements in engineering, in administration, in machinery and labor a possibility and a realized ideal. It is the man who has achieved in this field that the American Museum of Safety delights to honor at this time."

NEW AVOCATION FOUND IN LONDON

London, April 25.—A police court case has called attention to the existence in London of an avocation which is not known to exist anywhere else in the world. It is that of pawner, a profession given over entirely to women who, in the poorer districts of London, undertake for a small compensation to carry the goods of their necessitous but sensitive neighbors to the pawnshops. Most of this work of pawning is done for women who are ashamed to be seen entering a pawn shop, but some of it is done for other women who are too busy to attend to the formality.

In certain districts these pawners are known as "runners" and they live on this work, charging from 1 to 2 cents for each journey, according to the means of the clients. In one of the meanest streets of the East end which has a pawn shop at either end, two women ply a busy trade as pawners. One of these women is a widow, known and trusted in this work, and she has built up a big connection in the neighborhood. She uses a perambulator and is frequently seen passing along the street with a load of miscellaneous articles destined for the hungry maws of the pawn shop. Monday morning is her busy day, as hundreds of laborers living in the district depend many times for their week's maintenance upon pawning something that day. On Saturday when the head of the family brings home his money the pawner is called upon to redeem the goods, which she carried away the previous Monday, and usually the next Monday the first journey is repeated.

GENIAL HOST OR GROUCH?

That Is City's Alternative on Market Question, Say Agriculturalists.

Better No Market Than One Which Cannot Be Made Popular.

Will Duluth play the role of genial host to the farmers of the district tributary to the city, or grudgingly permit them to come here and offer their produce for sale?

Will the city in a niggardly manner permit them to occupy a dark corner of the Armory basement, or show the true spirit of hospitality and do everything in its power to provide ample and comfortable quarters?

Will the farmers be made to feel that the city welcomes them and is doing all in its power to provide a market for the produce they raise, or will they feel that they are intruders who are here on suffrance only?

These are the questions which the members of the agricultural committees of the Commercial club, the Rotary club and the Retail Merchants' association say will be answered by the action taken by the city commissioners on the Armory market problem.

The men who have fought the uphill fight for the agricultural development of Northern Minnesota say that while it may seem a comparatively unimportant matter whether the market has three-fifths of the Armory basement or all of it, it is in reality a point that is of vital importance to the future development of the county.

Can't Be Fooled.

"How can we honestly urge settlers to come here when we refuse to go to the very slight trouble and expense of providing them a market?" asked A. B. Hostetter yesterday. "We can't fool these settlers, or put them off any longer. We tell them we want them to supply the local market with produce, and when the opportunity presents itself to put them in touch with the consumers, we refuse to take it, or take it in a half-hearted way."

"It all resolves itself into the question of whether we are going to do the thing in a niggardly manner or an open-handed, generous manner," said C. P. Craig. "These men and their wives are entitled to the very best treatment we can accord them. We should provide a comfortable little rest room and dressing room for the wives of the settlers, and ample place for the men to display their produce. We don't want half of a blacksmith shop. You can't popularize the market with the blacksmith shop, the city storehouse, and the lounging room for the men employed by the city when they are off duty, next to it. We want an attractive, clean, sanitary place where housewives will feel free to go. We want ample room and ample light, and a little white paint applied to the walls. In time, when the militia moves out, the upper floor can be used to display the small vegetables and green stuff, and down below the farmers can drive their loads into shelter, unhitch their horses and offer their wagon loads of goods for sale.

Not Temporary.

"This market will not be a temporary affair, but an all-year market. We want room to grow. What if we don't fill it this season, every day? What difference does it make if the farmers even get a little premium for their fresh stuff for the present? If they get such prices, these first settlers are entitled to them, and it will be the very thing that will attract more settlers so that the prices will drop. The very fact that a few farmers can drive in here and get a premium for their fresh, green vegetables proves the need of the market.

"This is the critical time. The Commercial club, and others who have for years been doing the pioneer work in development, have given their time, money and energy to the cause, feel that the city, at the first opportunity to turn in and help, should not seek to pile up difficulties in the way. It should go the limit. The difficulties in the way are really more a state of mind than actual difficulties. Why could not the space under the Lake avenue viaduct be utilized for a storehouse? That would be a permanent storehouse. The avenue would never be used for traffic, and it is city property. It could be walled up, and made dry and clean, at little more than it would cost to put a wall through the Armory basement. What if a few streets are not kept quite as clean this year as they would be?

Is Vital Problem.

"This market problem is a vital one for the city. It is an effort to make living cheaper and better for the citizens of Duluth. A dirty, noisy and insanitary market is worse than none at all, because it makes it all the more difficult to get a good one. It can never be made popular until it is made attractive. Another year without a good market will discourage the settlers we now have. They are just getting ready to do their spring planting. They are waiting to see what we will do on the market question. If we throw wide the gates, go the limit, and offer them every facility for marketing their produce, they will make every effort to raise the largest possible amount of it.

"A city man feels at home in the hotels. His wife feels free to make use of the conveniences offered by our big stores. But when the farmer and his wife come to town, they are compelled by the nature of their work to wear old clothes. They want some place which they feel is their own and where they feel at home. The market should be that place. Paint the walls. Put in a comfortable dressing room with toilet facilities for the women, and perhaps a few magazines for them. Make the men feel that the Armory is theirs. The cost would be trivial. But by all means don't act as if we begrudged every dollar we spent, and every foot of space we gave them. It would be better to nail the Armory up and put a fence around the city. Two of the commissioners are with us. We want the other three to be with us, and we hope they will."

MINNESOTA UNIVERSITY

Military Ball at the Armory Is Brilliant Spring Party.

Adoption of Honor System to Be Voted on By Students.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Col. H. D. Lovering and Miss Margaret Rockwell of St. Paul, a member of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, led the grand march at the military ball at the university armory on Friday evening. The event was beautifully appointed, and the armory was resplendent with military paraphernalia, flags, buntings, shields, sword and sabers to accentuate it as a miltary event. About 300 cards had been sent out, resulting in a brilliant spring party. The orchestra was stationed behind a bank of foliage and flowers. The official bugler called the dancers in line at 9:15 for the opening of the ball with a grand march. The women's gymnasium was used as a reception room, and supper was served at small tables in the men's gymnasium. One of the features of the evening was a correct exhibition of the modern style of dancing by two instructors from Le Trianon. The crack squad gave an exhibition drill between the sixth and seventh numbers.

Nearly 100 representative students from every branch of college activities met in the auditorium of the Law building on Tuesday night to consider the proposed adoption of an honor system in Minnesota. Dean Vance was called on to answer questions regarding the operation of the honor system in other educational institutions. Harvey Hoshour was chosen chairman of the meeting and explained in a few words the purpose of the proposed innovation. The meeting resulted in a petition being signed requesting the All University council to submit the question to a vote of the student body. The question, if presented, will result in one of the most momentous discussions ever staged in Minnesota. A proposition to inaugurate a system of paying for all student activities in a lump sum at registration also received favorable action of the meeting, and a petition is shortly to be presented to the regents embodying the plan. It is proposed to require a $5 contingent fee from each student which would cover the cost of subscription to all university publications and admission to all athletic contests.

Miss Althea Heitsmith was elected president of the Women's Self-Government association. The office is one of the most important at the university, as the association is composed of all the girls on the university campus. Through this organization rules and regulations are made for the conduct of the girls and for the management of Shevlin hall and the dormitories and the sororities. Miss Heitsmith is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta and is one of the officers of the Women's League and has held other elective offices. Other officers elected are: Vice president, Miss Jeane McGilvray of Milaca; secretary, Miss Claire Toomy of St. Paul; treasurer, Miss Dorothy Waterman of Minneapolis.

Sweeping changes in the curriculum of the medical school, involving a reduction in required hours from 5,000 to 4,200 clock hours, a departure from the former rigid prescribed courses, to allow 552 hours of electives and a preliminary interneship for seniors are included in the report of the committee on the curriculum to the administrative board of the medical college. It is expected that the new curriculum will relieve the terrific strain, hitherto placed upon the medics by a long schedule of required work. The obligation put on the student in making the selection of part of his work it is hoped will lead to a stronger feeling of responsibility. Work in other colleges will be allowed on permission of the committee and a limited amount of specialization in certain branches of theoretical medicine will be allowed to under-graduates.

As a fitting observation of the Shakespeare anniversary, chapel service Thursday, in accordance with the custom set by schools and colleges all over the country, was dedicated to this greatest of English poets. Following the appearance of the North Dakota Glee club in a short concert, Prof. G. N. Northrop delivered an eulogy on William Shakespeare. Two Shakespearean songs, "Hark, Hark, the Lark" and "Blow, Blow, Thou Winter Wind," were given by Miss Ora Hyde.

An echo of the First Minnesota has startled the campus lately. Late Tuesday night a military spirit party aroused the entire community with shouts of "War, War, Down With Mexico." A bugle sounded near Folwell hall. Instantly a company formed from the neighboring fraternity houses and took up the cry. Down University avenue the column moved, swelled at every fraternity by volunteers, until the number reached 200 or 300, armed with bugles, banners, drums and shotguns.

In one of the most representative and most hotly contested elections for managing editor of the Minnesota Daily, the college paper, ever held on the campus, Carl W. Painter of Minneapolis was returned victor by a majority of about 75 votes.

Next week will see the beginning of a campaign to raise funds for the new Men's Union building. It is estimated that $50,000 will be needed to remodel and thoroughly equip the present chemistry building. The legislature has appropriated $17,500 and E. B. Pierce, treasurer of the union, reports that there is about $3,000 in the treasury, the proceeds of the university circus given last year and the union plays given in previous years. This leaves about $30,000 to be raised in cash by subscriptions within the next four weeks.

DR. HOFFMAN WILL SPEAK TO MEN

Last of Series of Meetings Will Be Held at Y. M. C. A.

The last of a series of very interesting and instructive men's meetings will be held next Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Young Men's Christion association.

Dr. J. W. Hoffman, pastor of the First M. E. church, will give the address. Rev. H. A. Ofstie will have charge of special music. After the service the usual lunch for strangers will be served. This will close the lunches for the season.

These lunches have provided a special social function for the stranger and have made a splendid Sunday evening activity. At a recent meeting ten nationalities were present. All men are urged to attend both the men's service at 3:30 and the lunch at 5:30.

YOUR LAST CHANCE

Owing to the fact that many Herald readers will see this final announcement too late to get the People's $12 Cyclopedia today, the distribution of the sets at The Glass Block Store will continue throughout Monday, and will be closed Monday night. The next time you step into The Glass Block Store and find that you cannot get a set is when that People's Cyclopedia at $1.98 will loom up as the greatest disappointment of your life. Think of this $12 reference work for $1.98—what it means to you who would advance! To the rich or poor, to the old or young—it is now within the reach of all—NOW—until closing time at The Glass Block Store MONDAY. Don't do another thing until you clip that coupon printed below and take it to The Glass Block Store as listed in the coupon below.

The Herald does not receive one penny of profit from this distribution—neither does The Glass Block Store, which so generously donated its service to the cause of public good in this great educational movement, and the readers of this newspaper are the sole beneficiaries.

To Get This $12 Cyclopedia

Everybody needs an encyclopedia, but heretofore the high prices have often made it impossible for many to possess a set. Ordinarily the prices average about $30 or $40 a set, running as high as $150 to $200. The volumes are large, some sets taking up a space equal to two or three times that required for the People's Cyclopedia. Now compare PEOPLE'S CYCLOPEDIA, which is less than one foot, complete. Compare the price of PEOPLE'S CYCLOPEDIA listed at $12 against even the cheapest of the larger sets, at $30. It then becomes a matter of comparing $30 with $1.98, the total expense amount required for a complete set of PEOPLE'S CYCLOPEDIA. Is there a reader of this paper that cannot meet this expense? Is there any that can afford to be without this great reference library?

Among the Magazines.

Two very important articles in the May Women's Home Companion present many important facts about the care of children that will both interest and help mothers. One is entitled "The Safeguarding of the Child," by Julia C. Lathrop, chief of the children's bureau in the department of labor of the United States, and the other is entitled "Good Teeth and Vision for Your Baby," by Dr. S. Josephine Baker, director of the bureau of child hygiene of the department of health in New York city. Other entertaining and valuable articles in the May issue are: "The Freedom of Self-Expression," by Mary Heaton Vorse; "Conquering the Kitchen," by Christine Terhune Herrick; "The Pleasures We Take Captive," by Ralph Waldo Trine; "Better Babies for All America," by Anna Steese Richardson, and "Your Furnace in Spring," by C. K. Farrington. Splendid fiction is contributed by Alice Brown, Sophie Kerr Underwood, Molly Elliot Seawell, Georgia Wood Fangborn, and Anna McClure Sholl. Special art and music features are contributed by John Rae, Walter Jack Duncan, Bliss Carman, and Louis Ayres Garnett.

The Smart Set leads off its May number with a story by Charles G. D. Roberts, called "The Assault of Wings," describing a combat between an aviator and a flock of great eagles who resent the intrusion of this birdman who comes circling about their mountain home. Ever since man began to fly the probable outcome of a battle of this sort has been a favorite speculation among students of aeronautics. Mr. Roberts has written a thrilling and real seeming story of this subject. A one-act play by Arthur Wing Pinero, "The Widow of Wasdale Head," is a feature of this issue. This is a delightful reading play, but a departure from Pinero's best known line of work. "The House in Demetrius Road," a two-part story by J. D. Beresford, is concluded in this number, and Basil Macdonald Hastings tells more of the doings of "The Tribe," the family of extraordinary children that were introduced to Smart Set readers in April.

The great Canadian Northwest has been a wonderland for years, but the Grand Trunk Pacific, which is pushing across the continent far north of the Canadian Pacific, has opened up "A New Field for Mountaineering," which will be described in the May Scribner by Elizabeth Parker, who was a member of last year's outing of the Alpine Club of Canada. There are many unconquered peaks, and mountain-climbers will find here a fascinating prospect.

In Woman's World for May, George Weston follows his stirring plea for "Censorship of Popular Songs," published in March number, with a letter addressed to President Wilson, setting forth definite reasons for the withdrawal of the privilege of the copyright from songs whose pernicious influence endangers the morals of the entire nation. Readers will enjoy Mary Fuller's description of the business of playing for the movies, in "Thrilling Times in My Life as a Photo-Play Actress." "The Great Forties" is a distinctly new kind of a story, in which a woman tells how she pioneered a profession most successfully at a time of life when one is supposed to become rather waste timber. An amusing story is told by Grace MacGowan Cook in "What Dr. Ellery Wanted," of the change wrought in a man's point of view, under tactful management; and "Trailing a Lecturer" concludes a series of very humorous incidents and experiences in the career of Stickland Gilllian.

A forecast of a contingency that we may have to prepare for when the biggest battleship in the world goes through the Panama canal is the theme of a striking story by S. Ten Eyck and Charles Francis Bourke, called "Eleven Million Dollars' worth of Fight," which appears in the first May Popular.

The colored supplement of "Dogwood" in the April number of the Keramic Studio will appeal to a great many readers, both amateur and advanced students. While low in tone, it can be used very nicely for decorative purposes. The Iris, a study in black and white, is utilized in various decorations, as also the Night Shade and Bitter Sweet. The panel, placque and tile designs of birds, from the Japanese adaptation, and treatment for same, are among the numerous studies for the month. The May number promises to be a very valuable issue, it being the fifteenth anniversary of the magazine.

One of the boasts of Boston, visited by Lafayette and a thousand of other celebrities, "written up" by no less a pen than that of Charles Dickens, is the wonderful institution for the blind, named after its founder, Thomas H. Perkins, merchant-prince. A new era—with a new million dollar plant—has started at Perkins Institution. What this means in the great movement to give fullness of life to the sightless is interestingly told in the Survey for April. The article, "Beauty for Blind Eyes," is by E. H. Clement. Not as a plea for leniency toward murderers, but as a challenge to society to find out how criminals are made in our city conditions, Winthrop D. Lane sketches the life stories of the four gunmen who were electrocuted for the murder of Rosenthal, gambler and alleged "squealer." "Widows Needs," by Dr. Edward T. Devine bears especially on the agitation for pensions. It gives the results of a year's study of 1,556 case records supplied by six charity societies in New York.

The story of a masquerader is always popular, and "The Understudy," by Leigh Gordon Giltner, who has already done several short things for Women's Stories, bids fair to be a notable success in this kind of fiction. Georgette Lane, like many another girl, has over-rated her histrionic ability, and after a few months of unsuccessful searching for a tiny niche in the stage world, she reaches the end of her rope. If chloroform and the coroner seem the only thing left her, yet Georgette resolves to make a gallant last play, and with her remaining few dollars she has tea in a luxurious uptown hostelry with roses and pink candle shades on the tables. Whereupon adventure comes her way. A day later she finds herself playing the role of Mrs. Tony van Alen, society leader, with an adorable husband, a huge establishment, and a complete line of worldly possessions. Can she keep it up?—that is the question. This is a two-part story, beginning in Women's Stories for May 1.

EDUCATION BOARD TO VISIT DULUTH

Virginians Want Pointers on Best Methods of Brick Construction.

Virginia, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The resignations of Miss Lorna Lange of the Technical high school faculty and Miss Anna Grant of the North Side building were presented to the board of education and accepted. Miss Ellen Gale of Minneapolis was hired to take Miss Grant's place.

The board decided to go in a body to Duluth next Tuesday to inspect various brick buildings to determine the best material to be used in the construction of the new South Side building here.

Homer B. Hersch, assistant county superintendent of schools, and Superintendent Colgrove of the Virginia schools, visited the Homestead and the Farmstead schools Tuesday afternoon.

Richard Sundberg, a local news writer, who has been seriously ill, is resting well at the McIntyre hospital.

J. W. Robertson, third vice president of the Order of Railway Telegraphers, registered at the Fay hotel yesterday.

W. W. Sullivan, foreman in charge of the Lake Superior district bureau of mines car, which is in Virginia this week, left yesterday for the Gogebic range, where he will attend the field meet of the Gogebic miners to be held today. Mr. Sullivan will return to Virginia on Monday.

CANDIDATES MODEST IN ITASCA COUNTY

Few Filings for County Offices Have So Far Been Made.

Grand Rapids, Minn., April 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—While the primary election is less than two months away, comparatively little interest is being taken in county politics in Itasca county and comparatively few filings have been made for county offices.

Thus far there have been only filings for county offices in Itasca county for the coming election. For county attorney, R. A. McOuat, now serving his second term, has filed. He will be opposed by H. W. Stark, who has filed.

Would Be Sheriff.

For sheriff, Charles Gunderson, who has been a deputy under Sheriff Riley for several years past, was the first to file when Sheriff Riley declared his intention of not being a candidate. Mr. Gunderson will have as his opponent Mike Stapleton, for years village marshal of Cohasset.

For county treasurer, John E. McMahon, the present treasurer, is the only one who has filed. Mr. McMahon is serving his first term.

The other filings, except one for the legislature by A. M. Peterson, the Coleraine lawyer, are all for county commissioner jobs in the Third and Fifth districts. In the Third district Andy Nelson of Bovey, the present commissioner, has filed. He has been very active in the road-building line.

For the senate there will be a lively scramble between two hustlers, W. J. Stock of Coleraine, this county, has filed and he will be opposed by P. H. McGarry of Walker, Cass county.

Expect Spang to Run.

It is expected County Auditor "Matt" Spang will be a candidate. He will be opposed by W. W. Hunter of Coleraine.

For register of deeds, E. J. McGowan, who is now serving his fifth term, will be a candidate. He will have as his opponent Lloyd W. Johnson.

Judge of Probate Clarence B. Webster will be a candidate and will probably not be opposed.

Oscar J. Lidberg, county surveyor, will be a candidate for re-election and no opposition to him has as yet been heard from.

For county commissioner in the First district, which is now represented by Cyrus M. King, Mr. King will be a candidate for re-election. It is reported that D. C. McDougall of Jessie Lake, better known as "Dune" McDougall, logger, farmer and summer resort man, will be a candidate for the commissionership in that district.

PLAYGROUNDS PLANS.

Virginia School and Park Board Is Trying to Agree on Cost.

Virginia, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Plans for the supervision of the playgrounds have been outlined by committees representing the board of education and the park board.

The tentative arrangement provides for a supervisor, who will have two high school boys and a woman as assistants. One playground would be set aside for the exclusive use of the girls while the other for boys and girls.

The school board thinks favorably of the plan, but does not feel that it should be required to pay two-thirds of the cost of carrying out the program. The board is willing to go in on the plan of a 50 per cent basis. The park board contends that it already is maintaining playgrounds at the two big parks and that it should not have to pay more than one-third of the money necessary if the suggested playground scheme is carried out.

With playgrounds at the Primary, Central and Johnson schools, at the parks and with Oliver baseball park obtained by the board of education for high school baseball and track meets, Virginia youngsters will be provided with an abundance of amusement space next summer.

DEER RIVER LIKES HOME TALENT PLAY

Given By Women's Civic League and Draws Large Audience.

Deer River, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The home talent play given at the Lyceum theater last night by the Women's Civic Improvement league brought out a full house, appreciative of the excellent talent displayed and the excellence in special features numbered, in which were the solo by Mrs. S. J. Moran accompanied by Mrs. W. R. Wallace, violin, and Mrs. W. R. Giberson, pianist. The lilt, a dance by three girls of about 12 years of age, and the folk dances by a bevy of younger girls were winners for encore.

Mrs. A. McCallum will entertain the Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist church next Wednesday afternoon.

W. L. Winters, agent for the Overland motor car at Remer, was in the village several days this week dickering with Cass county men across the river for cars. Mr. Winters has ten cars on hand at Remer.

John Loko, a settler across the Mississippi, lost a team of horses and wagon and a load of potatoes by the overturning of a scow in the river on Monday.

Vern Seaman arrived the first of the week from Tulsa, Okla., where he has been employed for the past year.

F. A. McVicar, retired postmaster at Grand Rapids, was a business caller in the village a couple of days this week. Mr. McVicar is now in the insurance and land business.

The Commercial club will give the May dance on May 1, which is being planned upon elaborately.

Mrs. George Higgins has been confined to her rooms for the past ten days with illness. Mrs. Higgins is 75 years of age and is usually in the best of health.

G. O. Hastings is erecting two cottages in the factory district, which he will have for rent.

Doctor's Wife Quarantined.

Mrs. H. S. Fairall, wife of Dr. Fairall, is in quarantine at her home with diphtheria, which she contracted while in Duluth last week. There are no other cases of this disease in the village, though there is reported to be a few cases of scarlet fever.

Prof. G. E. Keenan left Thursday morning for Wyckoff, Minn., on a short business visit to his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Brooks and son, Clyde, were visitors in Duluth last Wednesday and returned today.

Mrs. J. A. Hewis and daughter, Edlene, left today for Poupore for a visit to Mrs. Hewis' mother.

P. J. Daly left today for Duluth as a delegate to the Democratic congressional convention.

S. K. Bartholomew returned this morning from Dakota, but did not bring his auto, having to leave it at Bagley, near which place he got stuck in bad roads.

WARBA NEWS NOTES.

New Bank Building in Itasca County Town Soon Ready.

Warba, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.—The new bank here will move into its fine new structure in a few weeks. The building is built of brick and of modern construction and will be a fine addition to the town. A former cashier of one of Floodwood's banking institutions will hold the same position at Warba.

Mr. and Mrs. James Moran of Warba have turned over the lease and business of the Warba hotel to Mr. and Mrs. G. S. VaNote of Dakota, who will continue to conduct a first class hostelry there. Mr. and Mrs. Moran will move to their former place of residence and take up farming as their future occupation.

Mrs. James Moran of Warba is recovering nicely from pneumonia.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Froenbegen died last Saturday morning of acute bronchitis. The funeral was held the following Sunday, interment being made in the Grand Rapids cemetery.

TRAPS PORCUPINE.

Got Only Claws But Forbes Justice of Peace Imposes Fine.

Forbes, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Constable L. Lund found the claws of a porcupine in a trap near here Tuesday and after doing a little detective work arrested Ole Stockfishon for trapping "fur bearing" animals out of season. He was arraigned before Justice of the Peace C. M. Hatch and sentenced to thirty days in jail. An appeal will be taken.

NEW BUHL BUILDINGS.

Quite a Number of New Structures Are Being Erected.

Buhl, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The village of Buhl is experiencing a building boom. There are several houses in the course of construction and several more have been recently completed. Among the more prominent builders of comfortable homes just now are Peter Arni of the Range Lumber company, and Wesley Jacobs, engineer at the power house. These structures are being built on Jones avenue at Wanless street near the new high school and will be ready for occupancy very shortly.

Sophomore Girls Win.

Virginia, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first girls' baseball game of any importance to be played in Virginia attracted a capacity gallery at the Technical high school gymnasium Thursday, when the sophomore nine defeated the freshmen by the score of 9 to 13.

Hibbing Juniors Entertain.

Hibbing, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The seniors were honor guests at a dancing party given by the juniors last evening in the gymnasium of the Lincoln high school. The dance was a most enjoyable event and was participated in by an attendance that taxed the room to the limit. The hall was beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums and streamers of purple and gold were festooned from the ceiling. La Brosse's orchestra of Duluth furnished the musical program from the balcony.

HIBBING SOLDIERS READY FOR SERVICE

Can Be Assembled and Entrained Inside of Five Hours.

Hibbing, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Company M is ready for war. The equipment has been checked over and is found complete, the men have been notified to hold themselves in readiness and there telephone numbers and addresses have all been secured by the officers.

So that full strength may be assured Lieut. Lewis, who, under the law is made recruiting officer for this station in time of war, has issued a notice that the Armory will be open on Monday evening for the enlistment of men who have seen service either in the militia or otherwise and for the reception of applications from men who are "rookies."

Should the president call out the militia the Hibbing company would be ready to start for Fort Snelling within five hours and it is expected that while perhaps the initial shipment would not include a full company, that enough recruits could be secured inside of three days to bring the list up to the necessary number.

Personnel of Company.

The present officers and men of Company M are: Captain, E. C. Junker; lieutenant, J. L. Lewis; second lieutenant, E. S. Booth; first sergeant, G. A. Kohrt; quartermaster sergeant, Peter Romanski; sergeants, R. S. Nelson, Carl E. Johnson, John Friday, J. A. Prior; corporals, F. Bordeleau, C. W. Magnusson, M. A. Mattson, P. E. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lindquist, who have made their home in Hibbing for the past fifteen years, left Thursday morning for Lakefield, where they will reside in the future. Mr. Lindquist was agent for the Pabst Brewing company for the past twelve years and will take up farming in the southern part of the state.

TO MEET AT BUHL.

Formation of Mesaba Range Municipalities Association Coming Up.

Buhl, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—As a result of Village President Doyle's energy and enterprise the proposed League of Mesaba Municipalities will meet at the village hall, Friday, May 8, when steps will be taken to perfect a permanent organization of the officials of the range villages for the purpose of meeting frequently and discussing better ways and means for the conduct of their respective duties in their official village offices. It is believed by President Doyle and a number of others who have been approached on the subject that much mutual benefit and good can be derived from the proposed league. A liberal attendance is expected.

Grand Rapids Baseball.

Grand Rapids, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first baseball game of the season will be played at the Grand Rapids ball park this afternoon when the Grand Rapids high school baseball team and the Coleraine high school baseball team will clash.

Kinney Miner Hurt.

Buhl, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Joseph Belfiore, Italian, employed at the Kinney mine, suffered severe injuries about the face and head as a result of an explosion of dynamite at the mine Wednesday about noon. The circumstances surrounding the accident cannot be learned. He is at the Shaw hospital and it is believed that he will recover.

IGNORES WARNING; BUHL MAN INJURED

Does Not Run Before Dynamite Blast and Gets Broken Leg.

Buhl, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Alphonse Sartori, cousin of M. Sartori, a local grocer, was injured by a blast Wednesday afternoon while working with the village crew clearing stumpage on the cemetery road.

Sartori, instead of running when the explosion was due, simply hid his head behind a stump, thinking that he would be safe. This was not the case, however, and as a result he will be laid up with a fracture of his leg. His condition is as good as could be expected. Sartori only recently arrived here and commenced working for the village the day before the accident.

BOYS TO ENTERTAIN.

Members of Alexander Club of Hibbing to Be Host May 6.

Hibbing, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The John L. Alexander club, composed of boys of the Presbyterian church, are planning an entertainment to be given May 6. This will be the first affair given by this club and they are arranging a very interesting program for the occasion. Last Saturday Rev. Sears Thomson accompanied the members of the club on a hike to Rock Lake, where they enjoyed a dinner in the woods.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rinn and family, who have made their home here the last two years, left yesterday morning for Bangor, Minn., where they will make their future home. Mr. Rinn was formerly superintendent of the village power plant.

Miss Iva Brist, clerk of the savings department of the local postoffice, left yesterday afternoon for Columbus, Wis., for a two weeks' vacation as the guest of Mrs. A. J. Grace.

Miss Ethel Grenier and Miss Alice Lenier came from Duluth last evening and will be over-Sunday guests of the former's sisters, Mrs. William Close and Miss Nora Grenier.

Miss Dorothy Cohen went to Duluth this morning for an over-Sunday visit with friends. She will also attend "The Blue Bird" at the Lyceum.

Miss Clara Hansen, who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Thomas Fleming, for the last three months, left yesterday for her home in Cass Lake, Minn.

Bidwell; first vice president, Mrs. Wilbur Emmerson; second vice president, Mrs. W. A. Fields; secretary, Mrs. O. Infelt; treasurer, Mrs. E. N. Simons.

DEATH COMES WHILE THOMPSON IS ALONE

War Veteran and Aged Recluse Found Dead in Lonely Cabin.

Two Harbors, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Capt. William Thompson, aged about 70 years, was found dead in his lonely cabin, located on the Split Rock river, about twenty miles north of this city, by a woodsman who happened to pass early yesterday morning.

Local authorities were immediately notified and Deputy Coroner Thomas Brown left at once for the place. He is not expected back until late this evening, as the trip is a very hard one, as there is nothing but a poorly beaten trail for several miles to the cabin.

The cause of Thompson's death is not known definitely, but the man who discovered him stated that as far as he could determine there were no signs of foul play. The body was lying face downward in one corner of the cabin.

Probably Heart Failure.

Mr. Thompson was well known here and friends advance the belief that death was due to heart failure. Thompson seldom left his cabin in the woods except to purchase food or to come here to get his pension which he received every quarter from the government for Civil war services. He was in the city the first of the week and got his pension, amounting to about $60, and after purchasing some food, left again for his home. This was the last he was seen alive. As he had considerable money with him, some think that he met with foul play.

No one in this city is able to say whether or not the old man had any relatives. He has lived in the woods north of here for many years, alone, and seldom got mail except a letter from the government every three months.

Unless relatives turn up to claim the remains he will be buried from a local church the first of the week.

"AS YOU LIKE IT."

Play Selected By the Gilbert High School Seniors.

Gilbert, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—"As You Like It" will be presented by the senior class of the high school on Friday night, May 1, under the direction of Miss Magdaline Feyereisen. Resigns Virginia Job.

Virginia, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The resignation of W. J. Lenertz as meat inspector was tendered yesterday by Mr. Lenertz, who has held the position for the past year. The appointment of his successor will probably be made at the next meeting of the council and D. W. Monroe of the North side is being prominently mentioned for the place.

SUPERIOR NATIONAL FOREST SURVEYED

Men Under Supervisor Brownell Have Just Completed Big Job.

Ely, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—A work that will simplify the handling of the leases and sales in connection with the Superior national forest has been undertaken by the local rangers, under supervision of the supervisor of the forest, Leslie Brownell. This is the intensel survey of the whole Superior National Forest reserve. The survey and listing of over 31,150 acres of the forest was finished yesterday.

Last December eight men were placed at work securing the data relative to the amount of timber, the condition of the timber, the variety of types of wood, the topographical features affecting logging and reforestation, and all other information that may be needed in future years for the proper disposal of the timber land by the government. During the winter over 31,150 acres have been covered by these eight men, each making a survey of about 4,000 acres. The territory included in the survey includes land near the north shore, beginning near Lutsen, and also in the Stony district near Harris lake.

Cost 6 Cents an Acre.

The work comprises a permanent working appraisal of the acreage covered, and was done at a cost of about 6 cents per acre. This small amount covers not only the actual field exworking appraisal of the acreage covcompleting of tracings, the blue prints, and the permanent record of work.

This work enables the local officers pense, but also the office work, the to consummate sales anr issue permits without further field work being done on the area covered.

The men report last winter to have been a model winter for such work as for the first two months it was possible for them to go to all parts of the forest without snowshoes, and no soft weather was experienced until the first of March.

The progress made this year has made it probable that more extensive work will be done each year until the whole of the Superior forest reserve has been covered and the intensive survey made.

EXERCISES AT ELY.

Vermilion Range Odd Fellows to Meet Sunday Morning.

Ely, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Odd Fellows on the Vermilion range have been invited by Ely Lodge No. 220 to attend the exercises commemorating the ninety-fifth anniversary of the founding of the order Sunday morning at the Methodist church. Sam Ellis left Wednesday morning for St. Paul.

Pierce R. Kneebone, a pioneer Eveleth resident, now located at Grass Valley, Cal., was a local visitor for several days. Mr. Kneebone sank the shaft at the Troy mine several years ago.

GIVE CLASS PLAY.

Two Harbors Seniors Win Plaudits in Their Production.

Two Harbors, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Before a packed house the graduating class of 1914 of the high school last evening presented their class play, "At the End of the Rainbow." It was a grand success from start to finish, and possibly excelled all other plays ever given by students of the local school. The talent displayed by the students, especially those taking the leading parts, amazed the admiring crowd. All took their parts with perfect ease and grace which indicated that much time was spent in preparation. Much of the success of the play is due to the high school faculty, especially Miss Steiner, who personally conducted every rehearsal, and her untiring efforts were plainly noticeable by the perfect manner in which the students took their parts.

The play is a fine reproduction of college life, in which there is much comedy which furnished many laughs for the audience.

While every member of the play took their parts well, possibly those who had the more difficult parts were the stars, they were: Harry Daniels as Robert Preston, a lawyer; Arnold Johnson as Douglas Brown, a football player. Others who starred are: William Holliday, Helen Grant, Katherine McDonald and Ethel Hunter.

A matinee was given this afternoon for the school children, and all those who were unable to get seats at last night's performance.

George Wood's Trial.

Grand Rapids, Minn., April 25.—Special to The Herald.)—The trial of George E. Wood of Hibbing, deputy game warden, who is charged with burglarizing a warehouse belonging to J. E. Cameron on Nov. 15 last, is on in district court today. Four jurors had been secured when court adjourned last night and the task of selecting twelve men to try the case was resumed this morning. Wood was getting evidence against Cameron for killing game out of season when he is alleged to have broken into the place and feels confident of acquittal.

The jury in the case of J. F. Sundloff vs. F. G. Pither to recover $1,000 damages, claimed to have been incurred by him through the flooding of some hay lands he owned by a log jam at Pither's mill, damaging the outlet of Little Turtle lake in the Marcell country in Itasca county, returned a verdict for the plaintiff last night.

Kinney Mine Ships.

Buhl, Minn., April 25.—Ore shipments from the Kinney mine in the Buhl district started today. One steam shovel will work on loading ore, while a second will be engaged in removing overburden. The Kinney is the first of the pits in the Buhl district to start shipping this season.

Two Harbors False Alarm.

Two Harbors, Minn., pril 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The fire department was called out on a false alarm yesterday afternoon to the residence of W. McCracken, First avenue. The alarm was turned in by telephone by some one who noticed that more smoke than usual was pouring from the chimney.

OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER

CLOUDY

Nothing doing in the way of a pleasant Sunday, according to H. W. Richardson, weather forecaster. His experience at the Shrine last night may have soured him somewhat, for he says that the cloudy weather is to continue and there will not be much change in temperature.

The weather was fair a year ago today. The sun rose this morning at 5:02 and will set this evening at 7:10, giving fourteen hours and eight minutes of sunshine, four minutes more than yesterday.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Light to copious rains fell during Friday or last night over the lake region, Central valley states and the greater portion of the Northwest. Warmer weather prevails in the Southern lake region and Ohio valley, but the temperature has fallen somewhat throughout the Rocky Mountains, the eastern slopes and the Southwest."

MRS. MABEN WAS MADE WELL

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Wants Other Suffering Women To Know It.

Murfreesboro, Tenn. — "I have wanted to write to you for a long time to tell you what your wonderful remedies have done for me. I was a sufferer from female weakness and displacement and I would have such tired, worn out feelings, sick headaches and dizzy spells. Doctors did me no good so I tried the Lydia E. Pinkham Remedies — Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash. I am now well and strong and can do all my own work. I owe it all to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and want other suffering women to know about it."— Mrs. H. E. MABEN, 211 S. Spring, St., Murfreesboro, Tenn.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for nearly forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women everywhere bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Why Lose Hope.

No woman suffering from any form of female troubles should lose hope until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

ATTENTION!

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY (2)

Society

MONDAY—Meeting of the Bishop's club in the Bishop's club room at 8 p. m.; dance of the Monday Evening club at the Kitchi Gammi clubhouse at 8:30 p. m.; "hard times" dance given by Duluth Council No. 3, Modern Samaritans, at K. of P. hall at 9 p. m.; recital by the piano pupils of Miss Luella Neff at the Second Presbyterian church; talk by Miss Josephine Carey on "The Dance Element in Music" before the Junior Woman's club at Bryant social center at 7:30 p. m.

TUESDAY—Meeting of the Women's Missionary Union at the Y. W. C. A. at 2:30 p. m.

WEDNESDAY—Wedding of Miss Lelia Sparks and Walter F. Schwedes at the Sparks home, 1829 East Superior street, at noon; meeting of the Jewish chautauqua at the library club room at 3 o'clock; informal evening dance for the Cooper alumnae basketball team of Superior at Lakeside social center.

FRIDAY—SUFFRAGE celebration at the Y. W. C. A. auditorium at 8 p. m.

SATURDAY—Dansant at the Spalding hotel from 4 to 6 p. m.; Beta Theta Pi dinner at the Spalding hotel at 8 p. m.

Social activities of the week were ushered in by the brilliant spring assembly dance at the Kitchi Gammi club, where beautiful and dainty gowns added to the pretty picture presented by the ball rooms.

Duluthians were given their first opportunity to attend a dramatic conference Tuesday afternoon. This innovation was due to the activities of the local center of the Drama League of America and to the co-operation of those who took part in the program. Charles Hampden, the stage manager of the "The Blue Bird" company; Miss Alice Butler, the Fairy Berylune of the play, and J. W. Powell of Minneapolis, who has always been interested in the dramatic organization of Duluth, spoke.

The sociological and political side of life also received attention during the week. Miss Agnes Peterson and Miss Eliza Evans of Minneapolis spoke to the women wage-earners of Duluth at the courthouse one evening and Dr. Raymond Phelan of the extension department of the University of Minnesota gave an interesting lecture before the Duluth Women's Suffrage association on modern ways of obtaining efficiency in many branches of work.

For next week there will be the first dance of the Monday Evening club at the Kitchi Gammi clubhouse and a dance at the Spalding hotel. The week will be ushered out Saturday by "Wooglin," "O Pass the Loving Cup Around," "You Must Wear a Diamond, Diamond Di" and other suitable songs at the Beta Theta Pi dinner at the Spalding hotel.

Events of Interest

An innovation in Duluth is the forming of the Monday Evening club that is on the order of the Friday Evening club of New York. The new club will meet for five successive Monday evenings at 8:30 o'clock at the Kitchi Gammi club. During the series of informal evenings the members will have a good floor, good music and an opportunity to learn the steps in the principal modern dances. The hesitation waltz, the one-step and even the tango and maxixe were standardized in New York recently, so there are certain steps everyone is supposed to do alike, and this seems the proper time for Duluth dancing enthusiasts to get together to learn to enjoy the established forms of the new social dances.

Miss Berta Schmied has charge of the management of the club. Miss Schmied and Leo Schmied will analyze a few of the steps each evening, illustrate the dances and give some incidental instructions. There will be about twenty-five couples in the club.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Don't Neglect Teeth for Matter of Dress.

The longer one lives the more one must be impressed by the little things in life—traits of character, habits and customs, all so inconsequential that one does not think to consider them until long acquaintance marks them or their lack. One can tell fairly accurately what a person's early training has amounted to by a single glance at, let us say, the teeth; and I would almost go so far as to say that the little things point the way very clearly to what may be expected of one in the larger affairs of life.

So many acquire the grace of wearing good clothes well without ever acquiring the knack of taking care of them or of their own bodies. It is surprising in these days how many ignore everything but the external. Everything that can be covered or that they think can be covered is neglected.

I know a woman who never wears anything but silk stockings and very high priced shoes. Remove her shoes, and the fragile stockings will show holes at the heels and toes, and the shoes, unless just out of the shop, will be run down at the heels and usually dusty and shabby. She wears suits and gowns whose cost should make her careful to preserve them. Rarely, except as she puts them on fresh from the dressmakers, are they in the condition they should be.

I know another woman who spends an unwarranted sum on having her hair dressed after the newest modes. This woman's teeth are in such a condition that she fears to open her mouth, and in conversing with you holds her lips almost immovable. Evidently she is ashamed of her teeth, but she discriminates unwisely between her hair, which is naturally pretty, and her teeth, which are proof positive that she ignores the niceties which well-trained people practice.

One is not always to blame because the teeth are unhealthy or unattractive. But anyone who patronizes the hair dresser regularly and who neglects the care of the teeth is culpable and deserves to be set down for just what she is, a woman who was never taught and has never learned the real essentials of health and cleanliness.

The longer one lives the more importance one is likely to place on the little things, and the more I am inclined to believe that the person worth while is careful of his possessions, the equipment with which nature has endowed him and that which his abilities provide.

EXAMINATIONS FOR MUSIC TEACHERS

Written Tests in Many Branches of Work Will Be Given Monday and Tuesday.

THE board of examiners of the Minnesota Music Teachers' association will offer examinations for the certificate of Licentiate Monday and Tuesday afternoons from 1 to 5 o'clock in the board room of Central high school. Miss Josephine Carey will have charge of the examinations.

Examinations, entirely in writing, will be offered in the theory and history of music, piano, violin, organ and voice, and public school music. The examination in theory must be taken by candidates in all departments.

The state board of examiners that prepares the questions is composed of three representatives of each division—theory, piano, violin, organ and voice and public school music. Miss Josephine Carey is a member of the piano department and Miss Isabel Pearson of the organ department of the examining board.

Examinations are held at St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth and Winona. The first examinations were held last year. All applications were for the licentiate degree. This year examinations for the associate degree are offered.

Although membership in the Minnesota Music Teachers' association does not depend upon the standing of a successful examination, still the organization hopes to raise the standard of music teachers in the state by this means.

Outline of Questions.

An outline of the questions follows:

"The questions in theory will cover intervals, chords up to the chord of the diminished seventh, and the application of this knowledge in the harmonization of given basses and melodies. The questions in history will cover the decline of the polyphonic system, as to the fundamental musical forms, the development of the symphony, the romantic movement, the growth of the opera, and the lives and works of the composers who led each of these movements.

"In addition to the above:

"The candidates in piano will answer questions (1) In regard to finger, hand, wrist and arm positions and action, varieties of touch and the mechanism and use of the pedals. (2) As to the phrasing and interpretation of a given piece of music. (3) As to the fundamental musical forms. (4) As to teaching material and knowledge of the piano literature. (5) In musical terminology as applied to piano music.

"The candidates in voice will answer questions (1) Regarding the vocal apparatus, including the science of breathing. (2) As to the classification of voices with regard to quality and range. (3) As to common defects in tone production and their probable causes. (4) Regarding the influence of general musical culture and other studies upon the artistic development of the singer. (5) As to the phrasing and interpretation of a given piece of music. (6) In vocal terminology.

"The candidates in organ will answer questions (1) Regarding the methods of procedure in a course of instruction for beginners. (2) Regarding the nomenclature of stops, tone colors, pitch, etc. (3) As to the phrasing, pedaling and interpretation of a given piece of music. (4) Regarding the adaptation to the organ of a standard anthem or sacred solo. (5) In the elements of organ construction. (6) As to the representative organ literature. (7) In organ terminology.

"The candidates in violin will answer questions (1) As to the position and function of right and left arm, wrist and fingers. (2) Regarding the methods of procedure in a course of instruction for beginners. (3) As to the various styles of bowing and their acquisition. (4) As to the bowing and interpretation of a given piece of music. (5) As to the fingering in all scales. (6) As to the common faults in bowing and their correction. (7) As to the standard violin literature. (8) As to the violin terminology.

"The examination for the certificate of Associate will conform to the prospectus printed in the annual report for 1912, copies of which may be had by addressing the secretary.

"The candidate is advised to consult such works as 'Lavignac,' 'Music and Musicians,' 'Challoner,' 'History of Music and Musicians.'"

SOCIAL AND CHARITY WORKERS WILL GATHER IN MEMPHIS NEXT MONTH

National Conference Will Attract Prominent Men and Women From Every Part of Country—Duluth Woman Appointed As Delegate By Governor.

MRS. P. L. DE VOIST of 10 Twelfth avenue east has been appointed by the governor as a delegate to the forty-first annual meeting of the National Conference of Charities and Correction to be held at Memphis, May 8 to 15.

The conference exists to discuss problems of charities and correction, to disseminate information and to promote reforms. It began in 1874 as a meeting of the members and secretaries of a few state boards of charities and correction with the Social Science association. The last published membership list contains more than 3,000 names.

Nine Phases of Work.

The National Conference of Charities and Correction has nine standing committees. The committees with their chairmen and vice chairmen are:

Children—Chairman, Miss Mary Vida Clark, assistant secretary of the

MRS. P. L. DE VOIST.

State Charities Aid Association of New York; vice chairman, Marcus C. Fagg, state superintendent of the Children's Home Society of Florida, Jacksonville, Fla.

Corrections—Chairman, Amos W. Butler, secretary of the Indiana Board of State Charities, Indianapolis, Ind.; vice chairman, Maj. R. W. McClaughry.

Defectives — Chairman, Alexander Johnson, director of the department of extension of the training school at Vineland, N. J.; vice chairman, Dr. Walter E. Fernald, superintendent of the Massachusetts School for Feeble-Minded, Waverly, Mass.

The Family and the Community—Chairman, Eugene T. Lies, general superintendent of the United Charities of Chicago; vice chairman, Kenyon R. Butterfield, president of the Massachusetts Agricultural College, Amherst, Mass.

Health—Chairman, Dr. Ennion G. Williams, state commissioner of health, Richmond, Va.; vice chairman, Dr. Thomas S. Cullen, Baltimore.

Neighborhood Development—Chairman, Miss Mary E. McDowell of the University of Chicago Settlement; vice chairman, Allen T. Burns, Pittsburg, Pa.

Public Charities—Chairman, David F. Tilley of the state board of charity, Boston; vice chairman, Leroy A. Halbert, general superintendent of the board of public welfare, Kansas City.

Social Hygiene—Chairman, Miss Maude E. Miner, secretary of the New York Probation and Protective Association, New York city; vice chairman, Very Rev. Walter T. Sumner, dean of the Cathedral of St. Peter and Paul, Chicago.

Standards of Living and Labor—Chairman, Dr. Charles P. Neill of the American Smelting and Refining company, New York city.

Interesting Speeches.

Each of the nine phases will be dealt with fully at the Memphis meeting. Some of the most important speeches and those who will make them are:

"The Settlement," Miss Jane Addams, Hull House, Chicago.

"The Function of the School," Prof. W. K. Tate, president of the Southern Educational association, Columbia, S. C.

"The Problem of the Delinquent Girl," Mrs. Pamela F. Morse, State School for Girls, Sauk Center, Minn.

"Protective Standards for Women Wage Earners," Miss Jean Gordon, Southern secretary of the National Consumers' eague, New Orleans.

"Probation," Edwin Mulready, president of the National Probation association, Boston.

"Physical Examination of Juvenile Delinquents," Dr. William H. Healy, director of the Juvenile Psychopathic Institute, Chicago.

"Vagrants," John A. Kingsbury, commissioner of charities of the city of New York.

Other important persons in this kind of work who will either give papers or take part in the discussions are: John M. Glenn, director of the Russell Sage foundation; Charles R. Henderson, professor of sociology at the University of Chicago and a noted authority on penology; Judge Benjamin B. Lindsey of the juvenile court of Denver and a champion of the boy; Grayham Taylor, president of the National Conference of Charities and Correction and president of the Chicago School of Civics; Dr. J. W. Trask, of the United States public health service; Mrs. Desha Breckenridge of Lexington, Ky., well known as a suffrage speaker, and Edward T. Levine, director of the New York School of Philanthropy.

Although the National Conference of Charities and Correction is perhaps the largest organization that will meet in Memphis next month, no less than twelve organizations devoted to sociological problems will hold annual meetings there between May 1 and 15. These will include the Southern Sociological congress; the National Federation of Jewish Charities; the American Red Cross society; the American Society for Organizing Charity; the American Association of Officials of Charities and Corrections; the Commissioners of Church and Social Service of the Federated Council of Churches; the National Federation of Settlements; the National Probation Association; the Conference of State Associations for the Prevention of Tuberculosis; the National Conference on the Education of Truant, Backward and Delinquent Children; the National League on Urban Conditions Among Negroes.

It is thought about 3,000 delegates will attend these meetings. More than half the number are experts in social work and include some of the best known sociological workers in the country.

Pupil's Recital.

The piano pupils of Miss Luella Neff will appear in a recital Monday evening at the Second Presbyterian church. Master Arthur Ness will assist with readings. Those who will take part in the program are:

Misses—

Agnes Langin,	Irene Sande,

Relatives and friends of the pupils who are interested in the work are invited to attend the recital.

Social Centers.

MONDAY evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Bryant Social center, Miss Josephine Carey will talk to the Junior Woman's club on "The Dance Element in Music."

Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Irving Social center there will be meetings of the Glee club, led by P. G. Brown, the Dramatic club led by Miss Anna McFarlane, and the Debating club led by John A. High. There will be a domestic science demonstration by Miss Susan Strkyer and folk dancing directed by Miss G. Taylor. Social dancing and athletics will be other features of the evening.

Wednesday evening at the Lakeside social center there will be a basket ball game between the Cooper alumnae of Superior and the Lakeside girls, who are the all-city champions. After the game there will be an informal dancing party in honor of the visiting team.

Thursday evening the final rehearsal for the May-pole meeting of the Athletic association will be held.

Friday evening there will be a May-day program at Park Point.

St. James Guild.

Box parties are being planned for the film presentation of "A Message From Mars," to be given at the Rex theater May 13, under the auspices of the St. James' guild for the benefit of the St. James' orphanage. Mrs. C. N. Whiting of 1530 East Superior stret has the sale of the boxes.

Y. M. C. A. Vespers.

At the Y. W. C. A. vespers tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock Mrs. A. A. Kerr will talk on "Ideals" and Miss Anna McFarlane will sing.

Jewish Chautauqua.

The lecture on "The Child In Jewish Literature," that was to have been given by Dr. M. Lefkovits at the meeting of the Jewish chautauqua last week, will be given at the meeting of the organization Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the library club room.

Asks for Duluth Pictures.

OPPOSITION TO THE PANKHURSTS

Leaders Believe Woman's Cause Has Suffered a Setback.

London, April 25.—The "Pankhursts must go!" promises to be the rallying cry of a new suffragette organization formed by leaders who believe woman's cause has suffered a setback by the practice of the leading militant society. A significant feature of the new movement is that it is fathered by suffragists, who were once strong supporters of militant tactics, but who, at various times, have been forced to withdraw from the Women's Social and Political Union.

The simmer of discontent, which now promises to break into revolt, began last year when Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Pethick Lawrence, on their return from Canada were informed that Mrs. Pankhurst no longer desired their services on the executive committee of the organization. This intimation was carried to the Lawrences before their boat reached the dock. They were inclined at first to laugh at it as preposterous, but on landing they found that Mrs. Pankhurst had made herself so powerful during their absence that it would be hopeless to fight her edict, so out they went.

As firm believers in the efficacy of militant tactics, the Lawrences did not air their grievance, in the hope that the autocratic regime of the Pankhursts would advance the cause, which they held above all else. This truce and the determination of the various constitutional societies not to criticize any tactics, which sought a common end, gave Mrs. Pankhurst and her daughter, Christabel, abundant time in which to perfect their organization, before opposition was offered to their autocratic sway. But the promised results did not materialize and now the Women's Social and Political Union faces both opposition without and dissension within.

While dismissing members of her personal staff, Mrs. Pankkhurst has also been discharging privates in the ranks. One of these women, who was expelled from the organization last week, declared that she was dismissed on the most trivial pretext possible and that lately Mrs. Pankhurst had dismissed a number of the workers from the organization apparently through caprice. The dismissed member asserted that the militants are dwindling daily until at the present moment there are only 3,000 active workers in the Women's Social and Political Union.

These women are subject to Mrs. Pankhurst's autocratic decrees and may be called upon at any time to perform militant deeds. In spite of the dwindling number of workers the finances of the organization are said to be in an excellent state. This is due mainly to two Scottish spinster sisters, whose fortunes were made in an Atlantic steamship line. Their subscriptions to the funds of the militant fighting forces are heavy and unfailing.

INSANITY IN PARIS DUE TO ALCOHOLISM.

Paris, April 25.—Persons suffering from alcoholism form more than a quarter of the army of insane in Paris and the department of the Seine, and the number increases from year to year, according to figures just made public by the municipality. An additional argument, based on official statistics, is thus furnished Deputy Henri Schmidt, and others who have been leading a vigorous anti-drink campaign throughout France.

Out of a total of 39,728 admitted to the asylums in the department mentioned from 1887 to 1911, the number of mentally deficient, victims of the drink habit, was 27,815. The figures also show that insanity in general as well as hereditary insanity is increasing. The combination of alcohol, and strenuous life of the cities, is among the reasons given for the growing number of cases of hereditary insanity.

A SHIP WITHOUT A RUDDER

Such is a man without money, on the sea of adversity, in the storm of need, he is tossed about on the seething waters of circumstance and driven before the cruel gales of poverty, all because in the days of sunshine and pleasant weather he has failed to lay aside a little of his earnings in a savings account, as a rudder in times of storm.

WEST END

HERALD BRANCH:
Herman Olson, Manager, 1823 West Superior Street.

APPROVED BY DIRECTORS

Y. M. C. A. Board Favors Branch for the West End.

Has Comprehensive Building Plan to Cover Entire City.

A committee from the West End Commercial club met with the board of directors at the Y. M. C. A. at their regular quarterly meeting yesterday afternoon and presented the claims of the West end for a branch Y. M. C. A. building.

They assured the directors that they realized business conditions were not favorable to the raising of money for such an enterprise at present but that they would like assurance of action by the association authorities when conditions seemed to justify. They also wished it understood that such a building and association should be connected with the central association and that the campaign and building plans should be directed from the central headquarters. The committee felt sure the directors could depend on the cordial support of the entire West end in a campaign for a building and in supporting it after erection.

The association directors assured the committee that a building for the West end had been in their thought and plans for several years and that during the last year the subject had been given a great deal of quiet attention. The directors have felt the need also of a branch for West Duluth and another for the central boys' department which is now occupying a rented building, the lease on which runs only one more year. The association already owns valuable lots in West Duluth and the directors believe that with business conditions right and with a full understanding on the part of the people of the great need of these three buildings that it will be possible to raise sufficient funds for them all at one time. The situation is, as explained by General Secretary Wade, that the West end and West Duluth are each a separate community, the former with a population of from 15,000 to 20,000 and the latter from 12,000 to 15,000. There is no doubt that several hundred men and boys could be gathered into the membership of each such branch association who would not otherwise be reached at all by the central building.

With the establishment of these branches the Duluth association would adopt what is known as the metropolitan form of organization, the work of the whole city being governed by a central board of directors chosen from all parts of the city and the work of each department being guided by a committee of management chosen from the particular locality in which the branch is located and with representation on the central board of directors. This is a plan followed by all associations where there are several branches in one city.

NEW YORK LAWYER WILL TALK ON "WHERE ARE THE DEAD?"

J. F. RUTHERFORD.

J. F. Rutherford of the New York city bar has accepted an invitation to lecture at the Lyceum theater Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The subject of his lecture here will be "Where Are the Dead?" Judge Rutherford is perhaps the best-known layman Bible lecturer in the world today. His lectures have attracted wide attention throughout the Christian world. During last summer he made his second tour of the European continent and Great Britain and the largest halls obtainable were too small to accommodate the thousands who came to hear him.

The question of "Where Are the Dead?" is of deep interest. "Has man an immortal soul?" "When man dies, what part of him dies?" "Where does he go?" "Is there a future hope for him?" These and many kindred questions will be answered by the lecturer. Mr. Rutherford is not a clergyman nor does he treat the subject from the standpoint of the clergy. He is a lawyer of ability and presents his subject from the lawyer's viewpoint, using the Bible as authority.

Another unusual feature about this lecture is that it is to be free, not even a collection being received. Mr. Rutherford refuses to accept money for his Bible lectures. He will be introduced by Mayor W. I. Prince. The doors of the Lyceum will be opened at 2 o'clock. Some of the best seats will be reserved for women until 2:45. The lecture will begin promptly at 3 o'clock.

FOUR-YEAR-OLD TOT HAS TRAVELED 120,000 MILES

Eddie Salter at Tender Age, Has Bathed in Both Oceans, Ridden With Barney Oldfield and Been an Actor.

Ed. R. Salter, Jr., or "Eddie" as everybody knows him, is the son of Ed. R. Salter, the well-known theatrical manager, who has come to Duluth to take the management of the new Grand theater, now in course of construction, and Ida Burt Laurence, the youngest member of the formerly famous Sisters Laurence of vaudeville renown. Young "King Ed" was born in Detroit Thanksgiving day, 1909, and is consequently 4 years and 5 months old.

When 4 weeks old he started on his travels with his father's company, Mort Singer starring Henry Woodruff in "The Prince of Tonight." From the time he joined at Terre Haute, Ind., on Christmas day, 1909, until July 1, 1910, he traveled about 36,000 miles. That year he witnessed the Detroit Tigers in their spring practice at San Antonio, Tex.; later on he called on both Jim Jeffries and Jack Johnson at their training quarters in California. They were then in training for the awful fiasco that later came off at Reno. When 4 months old he was in the Pacific ocean bathing at Santa Monico, near Los Angeles, and the next day had an automobile ride of eighty-two miles from Los Angeles to Riverside. The next summer, when 8 months old, he bathed in the Detroit river. The following season his father was manager of Harry Bulger in "The Flirting Princess," and "King Ed" again started on his travels, covering about the same territory. The season ran for over ten months, and in that time the company covered about 60,000 miles. During this itinerary he was in bathing the Gulf of Mexico at Galveston, Tex. He has been in Havana, Cuba, and has seen a bull fight at Juarez, Mex.

He rode on a locomotive from Butte to Anaconda, Mont., and had a five-mile ride around the new automobile track at Los Angeles with Barney Oldfield. He has been as far East as Halifax, N. S. Last season he traveled with his mother, who was appearing in vaudeville in a playlet written and starred in by herself, called "My Wife's Babies." Young Ed played a messenger boy part. Last summer he spent at Asbury Park, so that the young traveler has been in bathing in both oceans, the Gulf of Mexico and the Detroit river. He has resided in Pittsburg, McKeesport, Pa., and Chicago. He has just arrived in Duluth from a visit made to his grandmother at Rutland, Vt., and his father says that he is afraid the old traveling lust is returning to his heir and pride, and he may have to "take to the road" again to satisfy the craving of the young star. Ed has been promised a visit to San Francisco to the World's exposition. It will be his third trip to California. He is a great baseball enthusiast and calls himself "Ty Cobb." He says he is to be the manager of the new Grand theater with his "daddy" and M. S. Cook as the bosses.

"EDDIE" SALTER.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Public Speaking and Reading Tryouts Are Held; Athletes Are Given Sweaters and "D's;" Scottish Rite Quartet Will Entertain Schoolmasters' Club; Agricultural Club Meets; Caps and Gowns Chosen.

The public speaking tryouts for the Wallace cup contest were held on Monday and Friday mornings during the chapel period, before the entire student body. The contestants in oratory in their subjects appeared as follows:

Irving Graner, "The United State and International Peace;" Albert Armstrong, "The Negro Problem;" Hyman Silk, "The Death Penalty," and Sam Golin, "Extracts From a Murder Trial." The judges of the contest were Miss Ethel Rockwood, A. C. Alexander and Principal Leonard Young, all of the faculty, and their decision resulted in giving first place to Irving Graner and second place to Albert Armstrong.

The contestants in reading were as follows: Ruth O'Brien, "Connor;" Dorothy Patton, "The Man In the Shadow;" Emanuel Cook, "Toussaint L'Ouverture," and Esther Abraham, "Extracts From the Music Master." The same judges decided this contest as in oratory and the result was as follows: First place, Dorothy Patton; second place, Ruth O'Brien. Only those winning first place will take part in the Wallace cup contest, which occurs on May 8 at the Superior Central high school.

During the chapel exercises Friday morning E. P. Gibson, faculty treasurer of the athletic association, presented the basketball boys with the insignia and sweaters which are awarded annually to members of the team. The following were given the honor for this season's work: Capt. Larsen, Capt.-elect Solheim, O'Brien, Foryjack, Stevens, Scrivins, Olson and Collatz. Four of the "D" men will return to Central for next year's term.

The Duluth Schoolmasters' club will be the guests of the Scottish Rite quartet on Saturday night at an informal gathering at the Commercial club to meet the members of the faculty of the North Dakota agricultural college, their quartet and band of forty pieces.

The Thalian society was addressed Thursday afternoon by Principal Leonard Young.

Miss Bessie L. Scovell, president of the state W. C. T. U., gave an interesting address to the students on the subject of "Alcohol and Its Effect on the User" during the chapel period on Wednesday morning. The address was in the nature of a chalk talk, Miss Scovell using a number of drawings to illustrate her points.

The Delphian society held a fudge party on Thursday night in the Washington gymnasium.

The Agricultural club is one of the livest organizations about the high school these days. On Tuesday afternoon Mr. Gibson, counsellor of the club, gave the members a talk on "The Value of Spirit in a High School Organization." The club has a weekly publication known as "The Agricultural Gazette," which is being edited by Harold Bradley and managed by Paul Flinn. The club has about fifty members, about forty of which turned out during the sixth and seventh periods on Wednesday in real farmer style and prepared the corner lots on First avenue east and Second street for experimental gardening. Their industrious application to spading the garden gave evidence of real interest in the project which is being tried out by Mr. Gibson, who has charge of the work in agriculture. Many citizens of Duluth stopped along the street to watch the boys "make the dirt fly."

Caps and gowns will be introduced this year for the first time at Central during the commencement exercises of the class of 1914. This conclusion was reached after it was found that a very large percentage of the parents are in favor of the change.

Robert Kerr, student treasurer of the Athletic association, with a number of assistants, began the collection of the semester dues on Wednesday. One collector has been placed in charge of each session room and good progress has been made. It is hoped that all boys will respond to this matter at once and that the entire collections may be completed next week.

The Schillerbund gave a fudge party last night in the Washington gymnasium.

Plans for the summer continuation school are being made, and students who are expecting to take work are asked to do some thinking along the lines of subjects which they may wish to take. Later on an expression will be called for as to preferences and classes may be organized if there is enough demand.

Principal Young has advised the seniors to consult with the faculty advisory committee if they are contemplating work in advanced institutions of learning. He says many preliminary matters should be settled early, such as choice of colleges and college entrance requirements, and the faculty committee is prepared to give the students assistance. All seniors are asked to hand in their names as they wish them to appear on their diplomas.

* * *

There will be no regular chapel exercises on Monday morning. The time will be given over to a special meeting of the senior class.

WERE DENIED VOTES.

Claim Made By Voters in Township of Bessemer, Mich.

Bessemer, Mich., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—W. S. Baird, acting for citizens of this city, has started mandamus proceedings against the county board of canvassers to throw out the vote on the county bonding issue of the First district of the township of Bessemer.

There have been twenty-one affidavits secured from qualified electors at Ramsay that were refused a ballot to vote on this issue.

On the instructions of Prosecuting Attorney J. A. O'Neill, the board refused to comply with the proceedings, and the matter has been taken up with Circuit Judge S. S. Cooper for a ruling. The county board of canvassers has adjourned until Judge Cooper makes a ruling on the mandamus.

In the affidavits each one expressed that he would have voted in favor of the bonding question if given the chance to ballot. This would have carried the issue to bond the county for $65,000 to remodel the courthouse by twenty majority.

"WHERE ARE THE DEAD." That's it; go and hear Judge Rutherford answer. He presents an argument worth hearing, and its free. Lyceum theater.

FLOODWOOD.

Floodwood, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nehring this week.

The 1-year-old son of Matt Koski died from the measles.

Miss Pearl Stevens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stevens, is visiting her folks at this place.

Charles Kauppi, Alex Fraser and Walter Swanstrom, county commissioners, were in the village Wednesday and made a trip out in the country looking over a road for which a petition has been circulated. The road was to start from a point on the Swan Lake road at the corner of sections 18 and 19, thence southerly four miles to connect with the Hartley road near Island.

County Auditor Halden is asking for bids for the construction of two miles of road, which will traverse a level course between Gowan and a point on the Prairie Lake road, intersecting the latter at a point about a mile south of the village. This route will mean a saving of about three miles travel between Gowan and Floodwood.

The Misses Hazel Pangburn and Hattie Diebel, teachers at the Sananah school, will give a basket social at the school house next Wednesday night, April 22. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

The young ladies of the village will give another of their popular dancing parties one week hence. A Cloquet orchestra has been engaged for the occasion.

Frank and Eunice Ellis, playing with the Dayton's Comedy company here this week, are putting on a first-class act for tonight and Sunday.

Announcement of the marriage of Herbert Towl to Miss Addie Pearl Riser at Milwaukee on April 8, was received by Mrs. William Carlin, sister of the groom.

The Coons Contracting company started one of their big dredges in operation yesterday, and expect to have their whole fleet of floating dredges in operation by the first of the week. It is estimated that upwards of forty miles of ditches will be dug by the company this season.

Johnnie W. Middaugh of Hillsboro, Iowa, who formerly resided here on a farm west of the village, is spending a few days in and around Floodwood.

SOCIAL AND OTHER NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

Thief River Falls

Thief River Falls, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Last Sunday evening at 6 o'clock, Rudolph Jensen and Miss Inez Olson were married at the home of the bride near Anstad, by Rev. Mr. Bjornson. Robert Olson and Miss Stella Olson, brother and sister of the bride, attended the couple. A wedding supper was served after the ceremony. The young couple are well known in this city and vicinity, the groom having lived here several years, and the bride having taught several terms of school in districts near here.

Harry F. Sandford and Miss Inez Schultz were married on Wednesday at the M. E. parsonage. The young couple were accompanied by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Schultz, and Mrs. James Turnbaugh. The Misses Florence Prichard and Gertrude O'Neill came from Grand Forks Tuesday with the Glee club of the University of North Dakota. After spending a short visit at their homes in this city they returned to their work at the universitly.

On Monday afternoon the women's club held its regular meeting, at which Dr. Bosworth of St. Paul, state anti-tuberculosis worker, was present and gave an able talk on the great white scourage. The object of the talk was to create a sentiment in favor of the establishment of a tuberculosis sanitarium in this part of the state. It is proposed to enlist the combined support of several counties in the project. The club passed a resolution to circulate a petition among the citizens of this county asking the county commissioners to levy a one-mill tax for the establishment of a tuberculosis sanitarium.

At a meeting of the school board, twenty-five of the teachers now engaged in the schools were re-elected for next year. A number of vacancies still remain to be filled. Those who were engaged for another year are Henry Werner and M. A. Schmidt, instructors in agriculture and manual training; Misses Synneva Grindeland, Rilla Palmer, Elsie Young, Katherine Kohler, Helen Hoag, Anna Connelly, Daisy Chapman, Pauline Stenvick, Nora Hanson, Luella Lee, Alpha Erickson, Martha Bently, Arloine Forbes, Marie Culver, Nellie Summers, Jennie Olander, Bessie M. Godfred Wicklund, near Sandy Lake, has smallpox. Members of the Frisk and Flodin families, who have been quarantined on account of the same disease, are recovering.

It has been decided by the high school pupils to play "Uncle Rube" at Moose Lake at the Majestic theater next Friday evening, May 1.

Girls were born this week to Mr. and Mrs. William Larson and Mr. and Mrs. H. Kivo.

Vern Thompson is sick with the measles and his brother, Allie, is also very sick with inflammatory rheumatism. Both are sons of Martin Thompson.

Mrs. H. C. Barker, Jr., left for Crosby Monday, where she will make her home this summer. Mr. Barker is employed at one of the mines near there.

Mrs. William Webber, who is at Dr. Graham's hospital at Duluth, where she went for an operation, is reported to be recovering.

Carlton

Carlton, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge Watkins was called to Duluth Monday to conduct a session of the probate court in the absence of Judge Gilpin of that district.

A. J. Peacha is busy with a crew of carpenters rebuilding and repairing the old school building which he purchased from the district a short time ago and will move it onto his lot across from the courthouse, where he will remodel the building and fit it up for commercial purposes.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hassing and Miss Minnie Terrill attended the production of "The Blue Bird" in Duluth Tuesday evening.

Mrs. E. E. Goman arrived Thursday morning from Medicine Hat, Alta., where she has been visiting for several weeks. Mr. Goman met her in St. Paul.

E. F. Beseman, a prominent business man of Chaska, Minn., and former Carlton county citizen, visited in Carlton a few hours Monday while en route to his home from Wright, where he had been visiting his son, a prosperous farmer of Lakeview town.

Swan Hard, supervisor of the poor commission of Douglas county, Wisconsin, was a business visitor at Carlton.

Superintendent of Schools Nora A. Nilsen came from Moose Lake Thursday and went to Wright to attend to school duties.

I. Giberson, one of Carlton county's pioneers, spent a few hours in town Wednesday, while en route from Deer River to Barnum.

Mrs. S. A. Carlson died Tuesday and was buried Friday at 2 o'clock from the Swedish Lutheran church, Rev. E. J. Peterson presiding, and interment was made in the Hillside cemetery at Carlton. Her maiden name was Effie J. Ecklund, and she was born in the town of Thomson, May 18, 1881. She was married to S. A. Carlson on Dec. 22, 1900, and has since that time made her home in this village. She is survived by her husband, three children, Manford, aged 10 years, Mable, aged 7 years, and Irene, aged 5 years; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Ecklund of Thomson; two brothers, Lawrence and Hildur, and two sisters, Alma and Emma of Thomson.

ILLINOIS HIT BY BIG WIND STORM

Farm Buildings Wrecked, Elevator Blown Down, People Injured.

Bloomington, Ill., April 25.—Northern McLeon county and Southeastern Livingston county were hit by a heavy wind storm yesterday afternoon, accompanied by rain and hail. Many farm buildings were wrecked, houses moved off foundations and windows broken.

The storm struck Clifton, one elevator being blown down and several buildings damaged. Mrs. Emery Collins suffered two broken legs when her home collapsed.

At Otto, the Illinois Central depot was blown over, burying R. L. Madix, the agent, his wife and her mother in the debris. Madix was seriously hurt.

FROM THE SISTERS OF ST. MARY

Grateful Letter Tells of Good Results Obtained by Using Father John's Medicine for Coughs and Colds.

We have permission to quote from the following letter recently received from the Sisters of St. Mary at Farnham, N. Y.: The sisters who have been taking Father John's Medicine are perfectly cured of their cough, after having tried several other kinds of cough medicine without the least beneficial effects. We are sincerely grateful and would like to recommend Father John's Medicine to all as the very best cure for the most stubborn coughs and colds. Gratefully yours, (Signed), Sisters of St. Mary, Farnham, N. Y.

It is important to remember that Father John's Medicine is so valuable in the treatment of colds because it is composed of nourishing food elements which give new strength and rebuild wasted tissue. As a tonic in the spring, Father John's Medicine has had over 50 years' success. It is a doctor's prescription, not a patent medicine, and is free from alcohol or dangerous drugs in any form. Thousands of mothers give it to their children to build them up at this time of the year.

Father John's Medicine is for sale in Duluth by William A. Abbett, 205 West Superior street, 101 West Fourth street, 932 East Second street, also Boyce Drug Store, 331 West Superior street; Wirth Drug Store, 13 West Superior street, and practically all other drug stores in the city. If you have any difficulty in getting Father John's Medicine from your druggist, write to Father John's Medicine, Lowell, Mass., enclosing $1 for a large bottle by express, prepaid.

COMPLAINTS BEING HEARD

Indian Inspector Is Visiting Standing Rock Indian Reservation.

Col. McLaughlin Looking Into Charges Redskins Are Mistreated.

Mandan, N. D., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Complete investigation into the conditions of the Indians of the Standing Rock reservation is being made by Col. James McLaughlin, an inspector of the Indian bureau.

Col. McLaughlin's investigation is based on sensational charges that have been aired during the past few months with reference to the condition of the redskins, it having been maintained that they were starving, and that most of them were poverty stricken, the result of mismanagement of the Indian affairs.

Rev. G. McG. Beede, who has been foremost in the movement to bring about a change in the conditions so far as the Indians are concerned, is expected to furnish Col. McLaughlin with considerable information. He has been engaged in an endeavor for several months to bring about changed conditions, and it was his insistent complaint that resulted in action being taken by the government last winter.

Many Indian Cattle Died.

One of the conditions which has brought on distress among the Indians is the death, several years ago of a large number of their cattle. There also were two or three bad farming years, during which they obtained little or nothing from the soil.

Commissioner of Indian Affairs Sells is deeply interested in the proposal to better the conditions of the Indians, and Col. McLaughlin's report will go to him immediately. Greater freedom for the Indians is one of the conditions which it is expected will be brought about under the campaign looking for changes.

Among the Indians there is general rejoicing at the coming of Col. McLaughlin, as they look to him for relief from conditions through which they were obliged to go last year.

HISTORIANS WILL MEET MAY 26 TO 28

Annual Gathering of Upper Mississippi Association at Grand Forks.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 25.—Prominent men engaged in historical research work in the United States will gather here May 26 to 28, for the annual meeting of the Mississippi Valley Historical association.

Prof. Marion D. Learned of the University of Pennsylvania will be among the most prominent speakers. He will combine his visit to the association meeting with an investigation of conditions in the German settlements of the state, as well as of other parts of the Northwest.

Gopher Speakers.

Minnesota speakers will be Prof. W. H. Sheppard, North high school, Minneapolis; Dr. O. M. Dickerson, normal school, Winona; T. J. Malone, Minneapolis; A. D. Albert, Minneapolis; Prof. J. S. Young, University of Minnesota, and Warren Upham of the Minnesota Historical society.

Prof. J. A. James of the Northwestern university is president of the valley association. The North Dakota Historical association also will meet on the same dates.

Most of the first day will be given over to North Dakota, two sessions for the teachers' department, one for the sociological, and one for the interest of the Germans of the state, will be held.

A big feature will be the pageant presented by the Sock and Buskin club of the University of North Dakota, detailing interesting events in the early development of the Northwest.

The Grand Forks Commercial club will tender a banquet on the final night of the gathering.

TEACHERS AT BRAINERD.

Crow Wing County Association Is Holding a Session.

Brainerd, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Mae Staples presided at the opening session yesterday of the Crow Wing County Teachers' association, about seventy-five teachers being present. Miss Caroline Barron spoke on "The School as a Social Center," Mr. Sherwood on "Athletics," Miss Lowey gave a message from the Brainerd Musical club, County Agricultural Agent A. J. Gafke, spoke on corn and potato contest work in the state. In the election of officers Miss Staples was re-elected president; Miss Daisy Graham, vice president; Miss Daisy Wetzel of Deerwood, secretary and Miss Caroline Barron, treasurer. Dr. J. W. Powell last evening gave his lecture on "Bread and Lilies." A spelling contest and exhibit will be held today.

FORMER MAYOR MAY SEEK SHERIFF'S JOB

JOHN C. PARKER.

Bemidji, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Before leaving for his camps in the northern part of the county Thursday, John C. Parker, former mayor of Bemidji, intimated to friends here that he would become a candidate for sheriff, opposing Andrew Johnson, the present sheriff, and Viggo Peterson, Socialist, for nomination at the primaries. J. C. Harris definitely announces that he will be a candidate for register of deeds. Mayor McCuaig is also in the race, the Socialist opponent being C. O. Mon, the present register of deeds.

KELLIHER MAN AND WIFE ARE LOCKED UP

Their Cook Also Arrested—All Charged With Being Drunk.

Bemidji, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fred Wanagen and wife, residents of Kelliher for the past seven years, are in the county jail here, having been found guilty of drunkenness and disorderly conduct on the streets of their home town. Mr. Wanagen, who runs a restaurant in Kelliher, was committed April 3, and April 14 his cook, L. J. Killen, was charged with the same offense and also sentenced to jail for twenty-five days. Last Wednesday Mrs. Wanagen was brought to Bemidji by Sheriff Johnson, having been found guilty of the same charges as the two men. Upon their arrival in Bemidji Mr. and Mrs. Wanagen were put under the care of a physician, as both are suffering from advanced stages of alcoholism.

VETERAN OF FORMER MEXICAN WAR PASSES

John Brinkley, Aged 95, Is Called at Cumberland.

Cumberland, Wis., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Brinkley, one of the few survivors of the Mexican war, died at his home here yesterday afternoon, from old age. Mr. Brinkley was born at Rockford, Surrey county, North Carolina. March 15, 1819, and celebrated his 95th birthday at a party given in his honor at his home a little over a month ago. He enjoyed the best of health until a week ago when, his age commenced to tell on him and death came soon afterwards.

In 1835, Mr. Brinkley started from North Carolina on the "Wilderness Road" for St. Louis and experienced considerable hardship on the trip on account of the drouth prevailing that year.

Enlisted in 1847.

In 1847 he enlisted with Gilpin's batallion, Company E, Missouri volunteers and served with great valor throughout the war, returning to St. Louis where he remained until 1850 when he removed to Eau Claire and in 1875 came to Cumberland, which has been his home ever since.

Mr. Brinkley was married to Miss Dora Cook, May 22, 1864, who, with three sons and several grandchildren survive.

RADISSON MEN GOING TO BOOST.

Couderay, Wis., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The business men of Radisson have organized a Boosters' association with M. W. Happe, as president, and R. C. Rutherford, secretary. It is called the Southern Sawyer County Development association.

The association will co-operate with the farmers and work for the betterment of the village and community, inducing new industries to locate there and push the development of the surrounding country.

R. A. Moore of the University of Wisconsin, and E. H. Hoverstad, land commissioner of the Soo line, will be the speakers at their next meeting, which will soon be held.

AT BERTHA NEXT TIME.

Evangelical Lutheran Synod to Meet There in August.

Brainerd, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Upper Park region conference of the Evangelical Lutheran synod met here this week, and the delegates present included Rev. O. E. Richter of Vergas, Rev. H. Stark of Ada, Rev. J. C. Nauss of Frazee, Rev. Kretschmer of Swanville, Rev. V. Rohl of Verndale, Rev. Mundinger of Bertha, Rev. Agather of Sauk Rapids, Rev. Kelm of Parkers Prairie, Rev. H. Nauss of Albany, Rev. C. H. Park of St. Cloud, Rev. A. Mueller of Evergreen, Rev. E. Joesting of Brainerd. The next meeting will be held in Bertha the first week in August.

SIX STEERS BRING $557 TO OWNER.

Sheldon, N. D., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fred Heaton became a convert to mixed farming and no longer raises grain for the market. Everything grown on the farm is fed into beef and pork and yesterday six steers were sold for $557. He turns off a half a dozen every few weeks and the income from his farm has practically doubled since he changed from grain to livestock. His successes have convinced numerous other Ransom county farmers that his plan is superior to the old grain-growing plan.

AGED IRON RIVER MAN SUFFOCATED

Samuel Barney Loses Life in Fire in the Eau Claire Hotel.

Iron River, Wis., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Samuel Barney, age 80, was suffocated in the smoke from a fire in Eau Claire hotel last night about 11:30 o'clock, and was dead when found in his room. John Cann, 45, was unconscious when found, but will recover. The hotel was not wholly destroyed. The loss is covered by insurance.

RIVAL TELEPHONES TO WORK TOGETHER.

New Richmond, Wis., April 25.—As the result of a contract entered into yesterday between the St. Croix Telephone company, the local independent home company, and the Tri-State Telephone & Telegraph company, a Minnesota anti-Bell concern, New Richmond will undoubtedly be the first Wisconsin city to have directly connected with the switchboard of its home company the long distance toll lines of the two great competing telephone systems, the Bell and the independent, or anti-Bell.

FARMER'S BOY HURT.

Youth of 8 Falls From Speeder and Is Badly Injured.

Wyndmere, N. D., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—While riding on the seeder driven by his father, the 8-year-old son of O. A. Gulsvig fell off the machine. His head was caught between the discs and his body dragged a considerable distance before the team could be stopped. One ear was torn completely off and several serious cuts were made in the head and face. The boy will recover if there is no blood poison.

CATTLE BUYER IS ACCUSED OF THEFT.

Berlin, N. D., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charged with complicity in the theft of eight head of cattle, A. G. Schultz, a local cattle buyer, is in jail in default of bonds. The cattle were stolen from the farm of Nicholas Schockman and were shipped the following day from here to South St. Paul and sold. As a result of the investigation by the officials, Schultz was placed under arrest.

NEW FARGO PLANT GIVES SATISFACTION.

Fargo, N. D., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fargo's filtration plant is doing most excellent work and citizens are elated at the results shown by a recent comparative analysis of the raw Red river water and the filtered product, as made by the state chemist. The analyses were without the knowledge of the operating department of the plant and indicate normal conditions. There were 352 total solids per million in the raw water to 176 in the filtered. The most noteworthy figures was the fact that many dangerous solids found in the raw water were entirely eliminated in the filtered product.

WRENSHALL ROBBERY.

Shoe Store in Carlton County Town Is Broken Into.

Carlton, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Robbers this week entered the Melloh store at Wrenshall and stole a large consignment of shoes. It is suspected that this is the same gang that was operating in this territory the previous week, when the same store was entered as well as two places in Carlton. Sheriff McKinnon found some clews which showed that the operators had walked to this station and embarked for Superior on the Great Northern morning train, but all trace of the pair was lost in that city.

INJURED MAN'S ACT.

Crawls Half Mile With Shattered Arm to Warn Fast Train.

Racine, Wis., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—With his left arm hanging to his shoulder by shreds, as the result of a railroad accident on the St. Paul railroad near the Illinois state line last night, Bernard Longwell of this city, crawled for a half a mile to a signal station, switched the semaphore to the red danger signal and stopped a fast train in order to get assistance. His splendid display of fortitude probably saved his life as he was in danger of death from loss of blood.

He was rushed to this city, and at the hospital it is said he has a chance for recovery.

Fond du Lac Offer.

Fond du Lac, Wis., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The city of Fond du Lac has notified the members of Company 1, Wisconsin National guard, that it will stand back of every member who has a family to support and will guarantee none should suffer from

SANDSTONE CLASS PLAY.

"Higbee of Harvard" to Be Presented May 1.

Sandstone, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—A senior class play, "Higbee of Harvard," will be presented at the opera house Friday evening, May 1. Those taking part are Hartley Robey, Emery Loken, Douglas Lynds, Macy Harris, Alfred Erickson, Frances Pegg, Evelyn Reinholdson, Hulda Oslund and Esther Myers.

David Rankin was a Duluth visitor Thursday.

AFTER COUNTY SEAT.

Both Hinckley and Sandstone Have Coveteous Eyes on Prize.

Hinckley, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—A delegation of Hinckley boosters met with the Sandstone Commercial club Monday evening to discuss the possibility of moving the county seat from Pine City to the more centrally located town of Hinckley. Sandstone also has an eye open for making the Quarry City a county seat, but that will not be unless the county is divided. If a new courthouse is to be built, the county seat ought to be moved to Hinckley, which is the most logical place for it, owing to railway facilities and central location.

HURLEY NEWS NOTES.

Annual High School Declamatory Contest Is Held.

Hurley, Wis., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual high school declamatory contest was held in the high school auditorium. By a very close decision, the selection, "The Lance of Kanana," by Ruth Ruggles, was given first place, and "The Going of the White Swan," by Gladys Ruggles, was given second. On next Monday afternoon the boys' oratorical contest will be held at the high school. The following were the contestants and selections: "Gettysburg," John Houlehan; "International Peace," Joseph Flanagan; "Abraham Lincoln," Isadore Segal.

Miss Wilhelmina Oesereith, who has been making an extended visit here at the home of Fred Haron, returned on Thursday to her home in Duluth.

Mrs. C. Christensen will entertain at a towel "shower" at her home this afternoon in honor of Miss Edna Savage.

IRON COUNTY ASSESSORS MEET.

Hurley, Wis., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The assessors of Iron county held a meeting here Tuesday. William Landriant, assessor of incomes, was present at the meeting and outlined the work for the assessors for the ensuing year. Herman Martin, assessor from the town of Emerson, was the only assessor in the county who did not attend.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Eau Claire—Booker T. Washington of Tuskegee university will deliver a free lecture at First Congregational church April 28th, at 8 o'clock.

Madison—Because there is an alleged deficit of $842 in the books of the Sphinx, the University of Wisconsin humorous publication, the Sphinx board has petitioned the student court to investigate certain irregularities in the accounts of the magazine under the management of Charles Eubin.

Milwaukee—William G. Murray, aged 78, one of Milwaukee's pioneers and who had the distinction of being a member of Milwaukee Fire Company No. 1, died at the Soldiers' home April 23. He served in the Civil war as a member of the Fifth Wisconsin Volunteer Infantry.

Oconto—Enraged because he was ordered out of S. M. Goodman's store, Mitchell Gorden, a peddler, smashed the plate glass windows of the store. He is being held pending an examination.

Madison—President Ralph E. Smith and Secretary Matt Tappins of the state board of control have left to visit prisons in the Middle West, with especial attention to the Federal prison at Leavenworth, Kan.

Marshfield—Falling from a stepladder while washing the ceiling of the operating room at St. John's hospital in this city, Sister Aegidia of the Sisterhood of the Sorrowful Mother suffered three broken ribs and contusions.

Black River Falls—The city council accepted the offer of $10,000 from the Carnegie corporation for a library.

Manitowoc—Touhan Salvano of Racine is planning to establish a colony of Italians on the Davis lake shore property between this city and Two Rivers.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Minot, N. D.—Mrs. Hilda Hedine, a well-known ranchwoman and farmer from north of Douglas, was arrested recently on a charge of grand larceny, it being alleged that she had rustled stock belonging to a neighbor.

Fargo, N. D.—Mrs. J. C. Hunter, an old resident of this city, died Wednesday night at Pass Christian, Miss., of typhoid fever. Mrs. Hunter had been spending the winter with her daughters and son at Pass Christian and was taken ill about four weeks ago. The body was brought here for burial. She leaves a husband and five children: Mrs. Butler, Alice, Margaret, Croll and William.

Langdon, N. D.—Ben Baldwin, for a number of years past one of the head men in the farm implement business at Grand Forks, came to Langdon and assumed the management of the Cavalier County Implement company interests here and at other points over the county.

Fargo, N. D.—T. P. Riley was awarded the contract for the installation of the plumbing and heating fixtures in the new Sacred Heart academy for $24,900.

Valley City, N. D.—The mayor has made the following appointments: City Auditor, M. J. Boyd; attorney, L. S. B. Ritchie; engineer, C. L. Myhre; weighmaster, C. L. Wylie, and chief of police, E. H. Swanson.

Devils Lake, N. D.—Funeral services for Maybelle Serumgard were held Thursday afternoon at the family residence. In the presence of a large crowd of devoted friends, Rev. A. C. Barron conducted the funeral services at the Norwegian Lutheran church and delivered a fitting sermon. Her remains were laid at rest in the G. A. R. cemetery, by the side of her father, who died some years ago.

Grand Forks, N. D.—Miss Christine Miller appeared at the First M. E. church Wednesday night in the final number of Wesley college artists' course, assisted by J. A. Bucholz, violinist, of the Wesley college faculty.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Iron Mountain—The Iron Mountain high school is again included in the list of colleges and secondary schools on the accredited list of the North Central association. The total number of Upper Peninsula high schools on the list is twenty-seven.

Vulcan—The brick manufacturing plant at Vulcan, the property of the Turner estate, will be operated upon a more extensive scale than ever this season. A second brick making machine of large capacity is now being erected and preparations are being made for an early resumption of operations.

Iron Mountain—Dr. A. E. Winship of Boston, editor of the New England Journal of Education, has accepted an invitation to address the graduating classes of the Iron Mountain and Norway high schools and may also speak at Vulcan.

Marquette—Teachers in Marquette grade schools wish a level increase of wages of $5 per month for every teacher. The Grade Teachers' association presented to the board of education a request for the increase but the board decided to defer action until teachers are engaged for the ensuing term.

Negaunee—Seth Lock, a woodsman, died April 22 at the Montreal house. Lock had been working at the Conner's camps near Palmer and came to the city about a week ago with about $225, his winter earnings. He had been drinking heavily and this is supposed to have caused his death.

Calumet—The body of Erick Harjulin of North Tamarack, aged about 53 years, a resident of Calumet for about thirty years, was found at an early hour April 23, in the woods about a mile from his home, with his throat slashed from ear to ear. Circumstances indicated suicide.

Hancock—The semi-annual meeting of the Lake Superior association of Congregational churches was held Wednesday in Chassell. The following delegates were elected: Moderator, A. F. MacDonald, Hancock; assistant moderator, Rev. L. K. Long, Calumet; registrar, James Fisher, Jr., Houghton; advisory board, Rev. Frederick Bagnall, Lake Linden; D. K. MacDonald, Hubbell; E. S. Grierson, Calumet.

Houghton—Anton Papich, charged with carrying concealed weapons, appeared Wednesday before Judge O'Brien, the defendant having entered a plea of guilty. Papich asked for leniency, pleading that he was poor and that he lost two children in the Italian hall Christmas eve disaster. On his promise to pay $20 costs within a year, his sentence was suspended.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

East Grand Forks—Miss Sadie B. Austin, daughter of F. R. Austin, a well known Minnesota Point farmer, and Fred M. Barrett, who lives just east of the city, were married Wednesday at Crookston. Rev. U. S. Villars, pastor of the Methodist church of that city, officiated.

Bagley—Simon Thompson, chief of police at Blackduck, arrived in Bemidji Thursday having in custody William Wagner, who was sentenced to serve sixty days in the county jail by Justice Oberg. Wagner was found guilty of having hit Joe Duret over the head with a beer bottle during a fight which took place at Funkley.

Long Prairie—The ninth annual meeting of the Sixth District Federation of Women's Clubs is to be held in Long Prairie Thursday and Friday, May 7 and 8, at the Methodist Episcopal church.

Crookston—Judge Watts Thursday decided that a temporary injunction should not be granted to the petitioners of Twin Valley for an injunction stopping the building of oil tanks and oil sheds in Twin Valley by the Standard Oil company because they did not believe the oil yards were in the proper place.

St. Cloud—Rev. C. W. Lawson of Anoka and formerly of this city died April 23 at Eitel's hospital in Minneapolis. He was born in New York state and was 59 years old. When a young man he entered the ministry and was active in the work for more than thirty years.

Mora—The explosion of a lamp at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Day last Sunday evening caused considerable commotion about the village. The fire alarm called out the department but the fire was extinguished without the use of water.

Princeton—Charles H. Smith, aged 53, who went to North Dakota from Princeton about ten years ago and has lived there most of the time since, died on April 15 from pneumonia and Fred Keith, his nephew, went to Fargo and returned the following day with the body. The remains were interred in Oak Knoll cemetery.

Perham—Julius Parchem died at the home of his son, August, here Monday morning after a long illness. Mr. Parchem was born in Germany on March 7, 1846, and came to America in 1873. He first resided in Chicago, where he was married to Miss Bertha Falkenberg, soon after they moved to Edna town, where Mrs. Parchem died, and after her death Mr. Parchem moved to Perham, where he has since resided. Surviving him are his four children.

Stillwater—At the meeting of the city charter commission this week final approval by it was accorded to chapter 7 of the proposed charter. This chapter relates to city offices and makes provision for the city council selecting officers of the city.

Little Falls—Frank X. Goulet of Salt Lake City and Mrs. Elmire Racine, widow of the late Andrew Racine, were married Thursday morning at 7 o'clock at St. Francis Xavier church, Rev. A. Lamonthe performing the ceremony. The groom is 69 years of age and the bride is 63. The marriage was the outcome of a youthful romance, and it is Mr. Goulet's third marriage.

Brainerd—Olaf Carlson, charged with an infraction of the game laws, complaint having been made by Deputy Game Warden W. H. Onstine, was fined $18 in municipal court, which he paid.

Rush City—A shingling scaffold gave way precipitating four men to the ground at John Hertenstein's. Three were knocked unconscious, one, C. O. Larson, was unhurt. John Hertenstein received a badly strained back; Charles E. Erickson was injured in the back and suffered a fractured collar bone and Irving Truesdell had his right shoulder crushed.

Men Pay Homage to Mother's Friend

"I am not surprised to observe the number of men who come into the store to purchase 'Mother's Friend,'" remarked a leading druggist.

It is a happy thought to send hubby to the drug store. "Mother's Friend" is applied externally over the abdominal muscles.

It is a gentle, soothing lubricant, penetrates to the fine network of nerves beneath the skin and has a marked tendency to relieve the muscular strain to which these broad, flat abdominal muscles are subjected. The cords, tendons and ligaments are thus permitted to stretch without the corresponding surface strain so often involved during the period of expectation. This in part accounts for the entire absence, in many cases reported, of nausea, morning sickness and other distresses, such as laceration of the epidermis so often the case when this gentle form of lubrication is neglected.

"Mother's Friend" has been highly recommended by a host of women who know from experience and by men who know from observation. Write Bradfield Regulator Co., 308 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., and we will send you a valuable little book to expectant mothers.

TERRIBLE ITCHING RASH ON SCALP

White Dry Mass on Crown of Head. Shed White Particles. Began to Spread. Lost Hair Rapidly. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

6039 Rhodes Ave., Chicago, Ill.—"Since infancy there has been on my scalp a rash which prevented my even combing my hair. It was a white dry mass on the very crown of my head and it continually shed white particles should I as much as shake my head. It never decreased in size, in fact it began to spread. It made me very uncomfortable and caused me to lose my hair very rapidly. Many a night I stayed awake tormented by the terrible itching.

"I tried ——— and it softened the sore but did not remove it, only making it itch worse. Seeing the advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment in the paper I wrote for a sample and even with the sample I could tell I had the right thing. I bought one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment. I rubbed my head every night with the Cuticura Ointment and washed it with the Cuticura Soap each morning. I used two cakes of Cuticura Soap and one and a half boxes of Cuticura Ointment and the rash which I had a lifetime disappeared. It took a month and a half for the cure." (Signed) Joseph Krueger, Sept. 5, 1913.

It costs nothing to learn how pure, sweet, effective and satisfying Cuticura Soap and Ointment are in the treatment of poor complexions, red, rough hands, itching scalps, dandruff, dry, thin and falling hair, because you need not buy them until you try them. Although sold everywhere, sample of each will be mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

MARKET UP ON WAR NEWS

Wheat Again Advances With Short Covering on Mexican Situation.

Flaxseed Turns Strong With Good Buying and Light Offerings.

Duluth Board of Trade, April 25.—The wheat market was strong throughout today's session, as a result of the Mexican war news. With the situation as it is shorts were nervous, resulting in a burst of buying at the close which was at the top.

May wheat opened ⅛c up at 92c and gained ½c more at a close of 92½c. July opened unchanged at 93c and closed ½c higher, and the September option closed ⅜c up at 89⅜c. May durum closed ½c up at 87½c and July ½c up at 89c.

Oats were strong, closing ⅝c up at 36¾c for on the track, and at 36¼c for to arrive. Rye closed unchanged at 54½@56½c for the best grades, and barley closed at from 54c to 59c for choice grain.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed at 35¾c and July at 36½@36⅝c bid.

Puts on Minneapolis July wheat closed at 91⅜c and calls at 92⅝c bid.

Outside of the war, the day's domestic was bearish. Rains over the Southwest were reported as having been most beneficial, and the moisture in South Dakota was also timely. There was a light improvement in the cash inquiry, and strength in Winnipeg, where the working of export business was reported, exercised a bullish influence.

Corn turned strong at Chicago and Kansas City on heavy loading. It was intimated that all the corn in Kansas City elevators had been disposed of. Strength in the Chicago May wheat option made the trade hestitate about taking the selling side.

The present liberal loadings of grain out of Duluth elevators is attracting the attention of traders in the outside markets. The quantity of wheat afloat here has increased to 3,056,000 bu. and stocks in the houses are now 12,706,000 bu, a reduction of 1,854,000 bu in the week. Supplies of all grains here now aggregate 19,752,000 bu. Inspections here today were 8 cars, against 58 last year, and there were only 6 cars of all grains on the tracks for the day. Bonded grain receipts made a better showing, 37 cars coming to hand, of which 18 were wheat and 17 flaxseed.

At Minneapolis, receipts came to 176 cars, compared with 208 last year.

Flaxseed Sells Higher.

Flaxseed prices moved up a cent in the near options on steady buying, attributed to crushers' interests and comparatively light offerings. That was taken to indicate that the large operators regard quotations as attractive at their present range.

Foreign markets were about a standoff, Buenos Aires being unchanged and Antwerp fractionally off.

May flax opened unchanged at $1.52 and closed 1c up at $1.53 bid. The July option closed 1c up at $1.55 bid, and September ⅜c up at $1.56¾ bid.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed at $1.33⅜ bid and July at $1.33⅞ asked.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Wheat—The market opened with a steady undertone and prices unchanged. Later an advance of ⅛d occurred on indications of light American shipments this week, firmer spot demand for Manitobas and an improved demand for Australians, with strength in corn helping to establish a steady support. At the close the market was ¼d higher.

"Corn opened ¾d to ⅞d higher. Easier American cables were offset here by unfavorable reports from Argentine and shorts covered excitedly. Later there was some speculative profit taking from the advance and prices declined ⅛d to ¼d. At the close the undertone was firm, ½d to ⅝d higher with July leading the advance.

"Arrivals at Russian ports continue disappointing and prices are fully maintained. Offers of Danube corn were quickly absorbed and asking prices advanced."

The Chicago Inter Ocean says: "Gossip on wheat was more mixed last night. Bears would like to sell more freely on the rains in the West, but the war scare looms up constantly as a factor and keeps short sellers in check. Late reports of calling of loans by Berlin banks and a break in Russian securities created uneasiness among the trade last night. Foreigners are buying July and there are also some sales of cash wheat being made of new crop for August shipment abroad."

Parker Paine received the following from Chicago: "Views are somewhat mixed on wheat owing to conflicting advices in regard to the amount of rainfall in the West, the additional moisture being needed to put the big states in that quarter in safe position. Rains in the Northwest are offset by the cut of a million bu in Minneapolis stocks and the large shipments out of Duluth. Mexican news keeps short sellers a little in check. There is a claim that foreigners are buying some July wheat here and taking some offers of new crop wheat in the Southwest for August shipment. The situation suggests a conservative buyer's position on the depressions."

MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

May and July Wheat Prices Are Somewhat Higher.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 25.—Fractionally higher prices in the May and July options on firmer cables and a fair cash demand was the only feature at the opening of the wheat market here today. Trading was extremely quiet through the short session.

Wheat—May opened 90⅜c; high, 90⅝c; low, 90¼c; closed 90⅝c. July opened 91¾c; high, 92⅛s; low, 91¾c; closed 92c. Cash: No. 1 hard, 95¼c; No. 1 northern, 92½@94¼c; to arrive, 92½@93½c; choice to arrive, 94¼c; No. 2 northern, 90½@92c; to arrive, 91@92c; No. 3 wheat, 87½@89½c.

Flax, $1.51@1.52.

Flour was more active today. Prices unchanged. Shipments, 50,784 bbls. Barley, 42@56c; rye, 56@57½c; bran, $23.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Prices Are Mainly Influenced By Higher Cables.

Chicago, April 25.—Wheat prices advanced today, influenced largely by higher cables. Arrivals at Russian ports were meager, and it was said that wants of Western Europe would have to be supplied in great part from this side of the Atlantic. On the other hand, flattering crop prospects in the United States were held to have discontinued in full. Quotations opened ¼ to ¾ higher and afterwards made an additional upturn.

No important reaction occurred. The close was steady, ⅜c to ⅜@½c net higher.

Torrential rains in Argentina, said to have affected 70 per cent of the crop made the corn market strong. There were also reports of good sales of cash corn at Kansas City. Prices here started ⅛c to ½c higher and continued to ascend.

Some Argentina shippers were said to have paid high premiums to cancel contracts for April shipment. The close was strong, ½c to 1⅜@1½c above last night.

Oats sympathized with the bulge in other grain. Leading houses were conspicuous in the buying.

Provisions ruled steady. Shorts covered and packers sold.

Wheat—No. 2 red, 95@96c; No. 3 red, 94@95c; No. 2 hard, 93½@94c; No. 3 hard, 92½@93c; No. 2 northern, 95@97c; No. 3 northern, 93½@95c; No. 2 spring, 95½@96½c; No. 3 spring, 94½@95½c.

For the week: Exchanges, $1,993,430,993; balances, $126,669,240.

STOCKS COME OUT FREELY

Decline Until Shortly Before Close, When Rally Takes Place.

Sentiment Depressed By Preparations of Government for War.

New York, April 25.—For the first time in several days the London cables reported a fairly steady market for American stocks, instead of the successive declines, which have depressed quotations here. The home market, in consequence, made a better showing at the opening than on recent sessions. First prices were irregular, but there was a majority of small gains. Canadian Pacific and New Haven, which have been conspicuously weak recently rallied about two points each.

The market failed, however, to maintain its opening level. The opportunity was utilized to unload long stock and prices gradually gave way. After half an hour's trading most of the popular shares were at the bottom figures for the long decline. With a few exceptions early losses were only fractional. The market closed firm.

Stocks were poured out today as freely as they could be absorbed without bringing about a bad break. The more stable market for American stocks abroad and cessation of the heavy foreign selling here steadied the list at the opening, but after the market turned downward it continued to decline until shortly before the close, when there was a rally.

Speculation was again dominated by the Mexican news, and the preparations of the government for war depressed sentiment. Bonds were affected, as well as stocks. Large blocks of Southern Pacific convertible 5's were sold under the subscription price of 100.

SHARP DECLINE IN GREENE-CANANEA

Stock Breaks on News of Closing Down of Company's Plant.

Mining stocks were weak at Boston on a renewal of liquidation in some issues.

A sharp decline in Greene-Cananea of $3 a share to a close of $24 was the feature. It was precipitated by news that operations at the company's mines and smelting plant in Mexico had been closed down on fears of trouble.

Amalgamated Copper was another weak issue, declining $1 to a close of $68.87. Butte & Superior closed 50c off at $31.50; Butte & Ballaklava closed unchanged at $2; Alaska Gold 38c off at $24.38; Calumet & Arizona a fraction down at $61.25; Granby 50c off at $75.50; North Butte 25c off at $24, and Shattuck 50c up at $22.50.

In the Duluth curb list, Calumet & Corbin sold at 25c and Keating at $1.56.

Paine, Webber & Co. had the following from Boston: "Think the decline has about discounted most everything, excepting the possible damage that might be done to Mexican properties. We believe that stocks of companies not directly affected by the war should be bought on a scale."

A wire from Houghton said: "The New Arcadian has opened a vein on the 600-foot level for ten feet, showing a good grade of stamp copper, but not quite so rich as on the 750-foot level."

The report of the North Butte Mining company for the quarter ended March 31 showed that gratifying results were attained in mining and development work.

During the quarter there were mined and shipped 123,289 wet tons of ore, and there were treated 121,394 dry tons of ore, of which 39,275 dry tons or 32.3 per cent were first class, and 82,119 dry tons, or 67.7 per cent were second class. This ore produced 7,493,889 pounds of copper, 437,221.51 ounces of silver, and 411,272 ounces of gold.

Development work aggregating 5,092 feet was pushed on the Granite Mountain shaft, Speculator vein, Adirondack vein, Edith May vein and Snowball veins.

The Granite Mountain shaft was sunk 183 feet during the quarter and connection was made with the Speculator vein workings on the 2,800-foot level. On the Adirondack vein a drift was run 211 feet west from the main crosscut at the 2,000-foot level. It has shown an average width of 2½ feet of ore assaying 7.5 per cent copper and 6.5 ounces of silver to the ton.

Weekly Report to Stockholders.

Mutual Iron Mining Co.

111 feet on Wednesday and still in the ore. Over a month ago one of the best mining engineers in the country made the statement in our office that if we were still in this vein with another week's work, going the way we were, that we assuredly had an immense mine. We wonder what he would say if he were here today. "A word to the wise is sufficient," and that word in this case is to get all the Mutual stock you possibly can now, for there won't be any to be had at $1.50 per share in a very short time.

Don't overlook the chance to get a few lots in McComber. They are selling fast and now with this mine an assured success and development work commencing on adjoining properties, you can look for a rapid and big advance in values. Tell your friends to call at our office, Providence Bldg., Duluth, or write us for a map and full particulars. There are still a few choice business locations for sale at original prices.

New Mining Sensation
—ON THE—
Cuyuna Iron Range

The iron property of Ver-Mes-Cuyuna Mining & Development company is situated in the very heart of the Cuyuna iron range. A year's drilling has proved up a large body of ore. The over-burden is the lightest yet encountered on the range. Mining will be cheap. The location is ideal and there are no transportation problems.

Results already secured at this mine fully warrant and demand further development work. To strengthen the company's treasury for that purpose, 25,000 shares of stock are offered for subscription at par, $1.00 a share.

This is the first stock offered the public since the company's organization was completed. It is a rare chance. Investigation is invited. Get some of this offering before it is all taken. Prospectus and any information desired on request.

Superior VOLUNTEERS FOR SERVICE

Superior Has Company of 100 Men Ready to Go to Mexico.

Following a spirited patriotic address, in which C. S. Starkweather pictured Old Glory being trampled under the heels of a "drunken mob of greasers" in Mexico City, 400 men attended the meeting of the Boosters' club of Superior, clamored for the privilege of signing their names as members of a volunteer company which would go to Mexico at the first call to arms. Chairman Phil Gannon would allow only 100 to sign, refusing to allow old men or those whom he considered too young to place their names on the list.

The meeting was one of the most remarkable ever held in the city. It gained the distinction for Superior of being one of the first cities of the country to offer a full company of volunteers for service if the country needs them.

The meeting had originally been intended as a celebration of the victory won by the club in the recent municipal election, and political speeches were expected instead of the patriotic kind. The political part of the meeting was lost sight of by the absorbing issue of Mexico.

"Are we going to stand for these insults to our flag?" asked Mr. Starkweather. The question nearly precipitated a riot. At this point Mr. Gannon produced the muster roll. It took less than ten minutes to get the 100 names on the paper.

Superior Girls Win.

Miss Carol Willan of the Superior high school and Miss Gretchen Schnittger of the Nelson Dewey high school carried off all the honors for Superior at the girls' declamatory contests held yesterday at Bayfield, Wis. The two young women will represent Superior at the state inter-district declamatory contest this summer at Madison.

Old Bonds Retired.

The city comptroller this morning paid $19,500 for outstanding bonds against the old street improvement fund. The payment is one of the largest made this year and practically wipes out this form of debt against the city.

OBITUARY

Rev. Poindexter S. Henson, for twenty years one of Chicago's best known Baptist ministers and popular as a lecturer all over the country, died in Chicago, April 24. He was in his 83rd year. From 1882 to 1901 Dr. Henson was a pastor in Chicago, and during that time he took a prominent part in Chicago's church life and was in great demand all over the country as a lecturer.

Following his Chicago pastorate Dr. Henson was called to the Hanson Place Baptist church in Brooklyn, N. Y., where he remained for a year and a half, going from there to Tremont temple, Boston. This charge he kept five years, or until his health began to fail, compelling him to give up the ministry and retire to his home in Chicago. Preceding his Chicago pastorate Dr. Henson was in Philadelphia. He was born in Virginia Dec. 7, 1831. His first wife died about fifteen years ago, and some time later he married Mrs. Edith Boyden of Chicago, who, with seven children by his first wife, survives him. For thirty-five years Dr. Henson was in addition to his work in the pastorate, editor of the Baptist Teacher, a publication for the help of Bible school teachers.

WEEKLY REVIEW OF TRADE

New York, April 25.—Dun's review says: "General business is not disturbed by the Mexican situation, but temporary unsettlement prevailed in financial markets. Prices of securities fluctuated sharply at times, political influences produced some effect upon rates for money, which advanced slightly.

"There has been an insistent continental demand for gold at London, and it is the expectation that Paris will shortly begin to withdraw the metal from this side, as sterling exchange is now virtually on an export basis.

"Changes in strictly mercantile conditions are of mixed character with the backward spring holding prices in check. Higher prices have stimulated distribution of spring merchandise at retail, yet the weather has been sufficiently irregular to prevent uniform improvements.

"Failures this week numbered 333 in the United States against 307 last year, and 40 in Canada, compared with 46."

WILL ARGUE DOCK CASE

Title to Valuable Waterfront Property Is in Dispute.

The question of whether the heirs of the late Col. Joshua B. Culver, Duluth pioneer, lost the Culver warehouse and dock property on Minnesota avenue to the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance company on a $40,000 mortgage, certain lots outside of the description of the mortgage were intended to have been covered by it will be submitted to Judge Cant in district court in briefs which will be presented in a hotly-contested lawsuit between the Duquesne Land company, a holding company for the Culver heirs, and the life insurance company.

In Judge Cant's court today the last of the testimony in the case was offered and arrangements were made for submitting briefs to the court. All of the briefs must be in within sixty days. The court will then take the matter under advisement. The court will decide whether a portion of what is now known as the Culver dock belongs to the life insurance company or whether the present dock overlaps property belonging to the Culvers or their successors, the Duquesne Land company. The only witnesses called today were Col. Lyonel Ayres of the Duluth Engineering company and Hugh J. McClearn, attorney for the Duquesne Land company.

The action is in the nature of a suit to quiet title brought by the Duquesne Land company against the insurance company, A. M. Marshall, who holds a contract for a deed from the insurance company, and others claiming interest in the property affected. If the action is successful for the plaintiff, it will mean that the portion of the Culver dock occupying the west half of Minnesota avenue will pass from the possession of the life insurance company to the Culver holding company and that ingress and egress to the property by water will be subject to the order of the land company and not of the present owners of the dock.

Hugh J. McClearn and Alford & Hunt are attorneys for the land company, Washburn, Bailey & Mitchell appear for A. M. Marshall and Fryberger, Fulton & Spear for the life insurance company.

WILL ENFORCE SALOON ORDINANCE

Screens and Blinds Must Vanish After May 1, Says Chief.

Chief Troyer last evening issued an order to all command ng officers to the effect that patrolmen should be on the lookout regarding the observance in the various saloons of that section of the liquor ordinance regarding screens, blinds, etc., which goes into effect May 1. The order follows:

"To commanding officers:

"You are hereby instructed to cause officers under your command to notify all of the saloonkeepers to the effect that that portion of the 'liquor ordinance' which takes effect May 1, next, is to be strictly enforced. A copy of that portion of section 16, referred to, follows:

"'* * * and it shall be unlawful after the first day of May, 1914, for any person to maintain, in any room wherein the sale of intoxicating liquors is licensed, any screen, blind, shutter, partition, or stained, painted, or ground glass window or mirror, or any other obstruction which shall or may interfere with or prevent a clear view of the bar or counter over which liquor is sold or served in said room from the outside thereof or from the street in front of said room on any day after the hour of 11 p. m. and before 5 a. m., or on the Sabbath day, or on any general or special election day, or on Memorial day, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 3 p. m., nor shall there be any entrance from said room into any adjoining room of any kind, except that hotels of fifty (50) rooms or more, having dining rooms and serving meals therein, and having such other accommodations as required by the laws of the state of Minnesota for hotels, may maintain one entrance, from the office or lobby thereof.'

"It will be satisfactory if any side doors entering into hallways or stairways, or doors entering into any other rooms or adjacent buildings are securely fastened up, so that they cannot in any way be used as an entrance or exit. It will not be necessary to tear these doors out and wall the place up. And saloon keepers can, of course, have a store room in which to store liquors, etc., as long as it is not used for any other purpose.

"C. H. TROYER,
"Chief of Police."

BEMIDJI WOMAN IS BADLY BURNED.

Bemidji, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Albert Norrie, who was painfully burned about the face and arms while assisting her husband in his dry cleaning establishment, is in a serious condition. Mrs. Norrie's right arm was burned nearly to the bone at the wrist and the skin was burned off to the elbow and new skin will probably have to be grafted. The left arm was also badly burned, but not deep enough to require grafting.

SIXTH DISTRICT FOR DR. DU BOIS.

Bemidji, Minn., April 25.—At a well-attended meeting of Democrats of the Sixth congressional district here Dr. J. A. Du Bois of Sauk Center was indorsed as a candidate for the seat now held by Lindbergh. Dr. Du Bois was a candidate twelve years ago, when he opposed Buckman of Little Falls. He attended the conference but would not say positively he would be a candidate.

READY FOR BIG BANQUET

Commercial Club Will Entertain Distinguished Guests on Thursday.

Preparations for the eleventh annual banquet of the West Duluth Commercial club to be held Thursday evening at Dormedy's hall, Central avenue and Ramsey street, are about complete.

The supper will be served by the Ladies' Aid society of the West Duluth Baptist church at 7:30 o'clock sharp. More than 250 of the 300 tickets have already been disposed of according to reports made by the committee last night at the meeting of the club.

Congressman Clarence B. Miller, who will be the principal speaker of the evening, is expected to arrive from Washington on Thursday afternoon. A delegation from the club will meet him at the station. Governor A. O. Eberhart and Samuel G. Iverson, state auditor, are expected here Thursday forenoon.

Judge Harry W. Lanners of the West Duluth municipal court will be toastmaster. An address of welcome in behalf of the club will be given by P. H. Martin, followed by an address in behalf of the city by Mayor W. I. Prince. The other speakers will be Frank A. Brewer and H. C. Fulton.

The musical part of the program will be furnished by Flaaten's orchestra. Vocal solos will be given by J. R. Batchelor and Philip Gordon Brown.

The large hall will be prettily decorated. National colors will be used exclusively in the decorations. To give a better effect to this scheme special decorations and electrical effects will be supplied by the Duluth-Edison Electric company. These will be in the shape of varicolored lights for the tables as well as a huge display on the street corner.

The members of the committee which will also act as a reception committee for the out-of-town guests Thursday are: Andrew Myles, chairman; M. J. Murray, secretary; P. H. Martin, L. A. Barnes, David Sang, H. H. Phelps, Charles Kauppi, John A. Eklund, Charles G. Futter, C. F. W. Korth, A. G. Macaulay, W. B. Getchell, Thomas Olafson, Louis B. Elechl and Daniel O'Keefe.

LODGES WILL HOLD REUNION.

A joint reunion of Proctor lodge, No. 93, Proctor encampment, No. 51, I. O. O. F., and North Star Rebekah lodge, No. 168, will be held at the Proctor Odd Fellows' hall this evening. The affair will begin with a banquet to be served at 6:30 o'clock.

Following the supper a roll call of the members will be held at which all of the members are expected to respond. There will be a musical program and addresses, followed by drill work of the Rebekah team.

Invitations have been extended to members of Duluth lodges. A special train will leave the union depot at 6 o'clock and West Duluth at 6:15 o'clock that will take the Duluth contingent to the affair.

Illustrated Sermon.

Rev. W. H. Farrell, pastor of the Asbury Methodist church, Sixtieth avenue west and Raleigh street, will give the second of his illustrated sermons on social conditions relating to labor and wages tomorrow evening. His subject tomorrow will be "Women and Children in Toil."

Rev. Mr. Farrell has a number of interesting stereopticon slides on this subject. Many of these show children at work in the cotton mills of the South, glass factories, bakeries, sweat shop, etc.

WILL LAY CORNER STONE TO CHURCH.

The cornerstone for the St. Paul's German Lutheran church, under construction at Central avenue and Elinor street, opposite the West Duluth library, will be laid at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The ceremonies will be conducted by Prof. William Schmidt and Rev. William von Tischer.

The congregation will gather prior to that time at the Elim Swedish Lutheran church, Fifty-sixth avenue and Elinor street, and will march in a body to its new home. In addition to the ceremonies a musical programm will be given outdoors if the weather is favorable.

The basement has been about completed and church members expect that before the end of the summer the building will be ready to be occupied. The edifice when completed will cost about $8,000.

SUES FOR $20,000.

State Grain Inspector Asks Damages for Injuries.

Magnus T. Carlson, Minnesota state grain inspector, residing at 427 North Fifty-eighth avenue west, started suit for $20,000 damages against the Superior Terminal Elevator company and the Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie Railway company in district court this morning, alleging that he had been permanently incapacitated as a result of an accident which he received last June while inspecting elevators at Superior.

Mr. Carlson alleges that on June 26, 1913, while walking along a path between elevators "L" and "K" maintained and operated by the defendant elevator company, he was struck by a door which fell from a Soo line box car. The bones of his leg were fractured and a permanent stiffness followed. He alleged that he was obliged to take to his bed for three months.

Carlson is 52 years old and says that he was earning $130 a month at the time of the accident. He states that he believes that the accident has incapacitated him from service in the state grain inspection work.

Lecture Postponed.

The illustrated lecture to be given this evening by Rev. Wilfred Clarke, rector of the Holy Apostles' Episcopal church at the Masonic temple has been indefintely postponed. While moving his motion picture machine with which he intended to illustrate the lecture the rector broke the lens making it necessary to postpone the lecture.

Marine

DULUTH GETS NEW VESSEL

Clow Company Purchases the Favorite, a Big Excursion Boat.

Steamer Will Carry 850 Passengers; To Arrive in Ten Days.

Another large, first class excursion steamer has just been added to the Duluth fleet by the Clow & Nicholson Transportation Company of Duluth, which has just purchased at Buffalo, N. Y., the Favorite, a modern steel steamer but four years old. This will make three excursion steamers owned and operated by this company, all at Duluth.

The passenger capacity of the Favorite is 850, while the Columbia can carry 1,000 passengers and the Plowboy, 271. Two of these steamers will be operated this season at the Head of the Lakes and the other in the Copper Country. The Favorite will arrive at Duluth in about ten days.

The Clow brothers, D. J. and H. D., have been in Duluth since 1870 and are among the oldest marine men at the Head of the Lakes. The company was incorporated in 1900 and was originally composed of the Clow brothers and William Nicholson. The Clow brothers took over the Nicholson interests four years ago. The present stockholders are: D. J. and H. D. Clow, W. S. Lloyd, B. J. Roberts, Joseph Webber, C. S. Ferguson, and Leif Stinson. All of them are Duluthians and are actively engaged in the operation of the company's affairs.

William L. Clow, father of the brothers, was a marine man here in the early days. In 1875 he brought to Duluth the steamer John Pridgeon, a small vessel fifty feet long with a nine-foot beam. In coming up the bay the little vessel ran aground as the navigation conditions in those days were not developed to any great extent. The Pridgeon is now at Port Arthur and is used as a tug.

NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR DAMAGE TO DREDGE.

A verdict absolving the Pittsburg Steamship company from any responsibility for a collision which took place between the steamer Samuel Mather, one of its boats, and a dredge belonging to the Northern Dredge & Dock company in Ashland harbor on June 1, 1913, was returned in district court yesterday in Judge Bert Fesler's division of the district court.

The dredge company sued for $2,150.61, alleging that while the dredge was deepening a slip adjacent to a coal dock at Ashland, the Mather in drawing up to the dock brushed the dredge and "sprung her spuds." The supports having been broken it was necessary to delay operations until repairs could be made. The jury found in favor of the steamship company.

FERRY SERVICE IS RESUMED.

The Independent Ferry Line began the operation of its boats between Duluth and Superior today. A half-hour service on week days and a 20-minute service Sundays will be given throughout the spring and summer.

The Independent Line is managed by Capt. A. C. Majo. It is probable that only a part of the boats will be operated for a time and the service will be increased as the demand grows. The ferries land at Lake avenue and Fifth avenue west.

SIX VESSELS START DOWN LAKES.

The greatest activity in marine circles this season was evidenced today when two vessels arrived from Eastern ports and six large steamers loaded with grain started on a down-lake voyage. The vessels arriving were the Harvester and Meacham, and those going out were the Vulcan, Dimmick, Cadillac, M. A. Hanna, Riddles and Chadwick.

First Ore Delivered.

The first ore cargo of the season has just been delivered at Cleveland by the steamer Stackhouse, which cleared from Escanaba. The vessel was two days in loading owing to the docks working on a single shift and the ore being frosty.

JONES & LAUGHLIN'S LANDS ON CUYUNA ARE INSPECTED

Officials of the Company Examine Their Iron Ore Properties.

Large Ore Body Located By Cuyuna Iron & Manganese Company.

Brainerd, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Jones & Laughlin Steel company officials were on the range this week and examined properties in which the company is interested. In the party were Capt. Thomas Walters of Ishpeming, general superintendent for the corporation in the Lake Superior iron region; Mark Elliott of Virginia, superintendent on the Mesaba range; E. F. Bradt of Pittsburg, consulting engineer; Prof. F. Crabtree of Pittsburg; R. L. Bowing of Virginia; Clement K. Quinn, chief engineer of Virginia. The company is interested in the Northern Pacific lease near Ironton in section 10, township 46, range 29, four forties, also the Crosby lands in section 18, township 46, range 29, and the Carlson lands in section 17, township 46, range 29. Clement K. Quinn is a cousin of H. J. Kruse, who for seven years was a superintendent of the Rogers, Brown Ore company, in charge of Cuyuna range mining and exploration work.

Continues In Good Ore.

Drilling on the property of the Cuyuna Iron & Manganese Ore company adjoining the big Pennington stripping mine, is still continuing in Hole No. 44, and at last report was down 300 feet and working in good ore, this giving nearly 250 feet of ore in this hole. This company's eighty acres has now been thoroughly drilled by forty-four drill holes and, on their east forty, one of the largest high grade ore bodies so far found on the range has been located. The surface over this immense ore body is but sixty-three feet deep and is composed of loose sand, making this property one of the future big stripping properties on the range. This property is also known to contain a very large body of good manganiferous ore, some of it running better than 30 in manganese, but the big feature of the deposit is the large body of high grade ore which has been developed. This iron deposit is very deep, one hole is down 525 feet and in good ore at the time the drill was stopped and many of the holes that have been put down have shown up a high grade of ore such as no other property on the range has ever found. As soon as conditions shape themselves in the iron ore market this property is going to be one of the big shippers of the range.

Shipping Is Quiet.

The range is quiet in the way of shipping at the present time. The Armour No. 2 mine at Crosby and the Kennedy mine at Cuyuna, both properties of the Rogers, Brown Ore company, are shipping from shaft to cars. The Armour No. 2 is shipping about 19,000 tons a month and the Kennedy is shipping about 15,000 a month. Although shipping may be slow, development work of all kinds is progressing.

The Lenox Development company has been incorporated with a capital stock of $100,000 and has purchased 254 acres for the purpose of exploring and mining it. The vein is believed to cross the north forty and there is other strong attraction in the 160 acres at the south end in section 10, township 43, range 32. The president of the company is E. W. Thomas, vice president E. P. Adams of Little Falls and secretary-treasurer Albert A. Arnold of Brainerd. Lenox townsite will also be platted.

The Wilcox mine of the Canadian-Cuyuna Ore company at Woodrow has its timber shaft down forty feet. About forty gallons of water is being pumped. The three-compartment timber shaft is being reinforced with cement. Supt. MacKay has no intention of breaking any speed records, the main consideration being to do lasting work. About forty men are employed who will soon be working three shifts. The new 150-horse power boilers have been received. A party of stockholders of the Gopher Iron company visited the range in company with Frank Oberg of Minneapolis.

Will Ship This Year.

The Thompson pit mine of the Inland Steel company in Crosby has a shovel at work and will do its first shipping as a pit mine this year. The Pennington pit mine west of Ironton has a shovel stripping. A power house is being built on the bank near the office. The Rowe pit mine will do its first shipping this year.

The Cuyuna Range Power company is installing electrical pumps at several of the mines. A 1,200-gallon electric pump has been placed at the Armour No. 2 mine. It will be operated as soon as the motor is received. The Rowe pit mine at Riverton will have its transformers placed in position this week. The power company has built a power house what is known as the "outdoor type transformer station." The Rowe mine will install a lot of new electrical equipment. The hydraulic work will be put in at the Wilcox mine at Woodrow. A 1,200-gallon electric pump is at the shaft of the Adams mine ready to be used when needed, but only 200 gallons of water are being pumped.

Options for Leases Taken.

Options for leases are being taken, it is reported, in section 28, township 47, range 29. The Crosby Exploration company of Crosby has recently placed two drills in the north half of the northeast quarter of section 3, township 46, range 29. The Potts Exploration company of Deerwood has five drills working, one in section 12, township 46, range 30 and four in section 20, township 47, range 28. Union holes on the line between section 19 and section 20, township 47, range 28, are being drilled by the Potts Exploration company and Frank Edson. The Longyear Exploration company, of which P. W. Donovan is the superintendent, is drilling its second hole at the county poor farm property. No iron was found in the first hole. J. R. Harrington expects to soon commence drilling on the land he wishes to option from the city of Brainerd, being the tracts in Northeast and Southeast Brainerd, which were bequeathed to the city by the late Judge G. W. Holland. Cole & McDonald have two drills at work in the Jamison and Peacock tract in section 1, township 46, range 29, north of Crosby. Accompanying Messrs. Jamison and Peacock on the range were D. D. Murray of Duluth and Robert Howes of Buhl.

There has been placed on record an option for a mining lease from W. J. West of Harlem, Mont., to Fred C. Kohagen of Duluth, covering the southwest quarter of the southwest quarter and the fractional part of the northwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section 2, township 46, range 28. The lands are to be explored and if the grantee sees fit he may call for a 50-year lease at 20 cents a ton and a minimum output of 5,000 tons the first year, 7,500 tons the second year, 10,000 tons the third year, 20,000 tons the fourth year, 30,000 the fifth year, 40,000 tons the sixth year and every year thereafter. Later Kohagen assigned his interest in the above-mentioned option for a mining lease to A. F. Maas of Duluth.

Duluth-Brainerd.

At the Duluth-Brainerd shaft a depth of 133 feet has been attained. The crew numbers thirty-three. It is expected to sink the shaft thirty feet more, and then drifting in to the ore body will begin. Progress at the rate of ten feet a week is being made in sinking. The Cuyuna Northern Railway company is working on its extension from the Cuyuna-Mille Lacs mine to the Duluth-Brainerd mine. New boiler and machine shops will be built at the Duluth-Brainerd mine. New boilers and machinery for hoisting are also to be installed. Directors have been elected by the Cuyuna-Mille Lacs and the Cuyuna-Duluth mines to represent them on the board of the newly organized American Manganese Manufacturing company, capitalized at $12,000,000. The consolidation gives these mines and the furnace company a complete chain in the iron business, that is, everything for carrying on the the business with the exception of transportation and labor.

Ina Butler and husband and others have sold to F. L. Pitt of Deerwood an undivided one-quarter interest in and to the east half, the north half of the northwest quarter and the southeast quarter of the northwest quarter and lot 1 of section 23, township 45, range 28, for $1,243.25.

BUTTE & ZENITH AND BUTTE-BALLAKLAVA

Properties Inspected By President Freimuth and Director White.

Butte, Mont., April 25.—I. Friemuth of Duluth, president of the Butte-Ballaklava and the Butte & Zenith Mining companies, accompanied by Director William White, also of Duluth, were in the city inspecting the two properties several days this week.

At the Butte & Zenith the management is now cross-cutting north on the 500 level. The miners have made about 450 feet and are driving for the Paint vein. Progress is being made at the rate of ten feet a day. As the vein is estimated to be about 100 feet away, it will not be long before it is encountered.

After cutting the Paint vein, General Manager Newton expects to drive south for two other veins which run east and west. These are known as the American vein, and another traversing the Jersey claim. It was on this claim that the first shaft was sunk, and at 50 feet some promising copper ore was found.

The electric pump is now handling the flow of water, most of which is from the veins, in neat manner. The flow amounts to about 300 gallons of water per minute. The property is also equipped with a 400-gallon duplex air pump, and the management is, therefore, ready for emergencies. The mine is also equipped with an Ingersoll 1,000-foot compressor, and with a Sullivan 600-foot compressor.

The electric hoist is 165 horsepower and is good for a depth of 1,500 feet.

Taken on the whole, the Butte & Zenith is one of the best equipped small properties in the Butte district.

Shipments at the Butte-Ballaklava continue to go forward at the rate of about 100 tons per day, the bulk of which ore comes from the 1,400 level in the Jesse vein. The management is cross-cutting on the 1,600 level for the same vein, and has only 50 feet more to go until cutting it. The ore body on the 1,400 of the Ballaklava is said to be improving right along and is quite promising. The mine is employing about seventy men.

CONSOLIDATED COPPERMINES

Developing Sulphide Bodies on Emma Nevada and Watson Claims.

Ely, Nev., April 25.—Quietly, but persistently and effectively, the present management of the Consolidated Coppermines company is extending development work on the sulphide bodies of ore in the Emma Nevada and Watson claims, adjoining the Liberty pit of the Nevada Consolidated company on the west and north.

At present five church drills are pounding away on two shifts per day. The holes are sunk to the depth of from 500 to 700 feet, and so far the results obtained have been most satisfactory. During the month of February the drills averaged from 27 to 44 feet each per day, but better results were obtained last month.

From this it will be seen that the work of demonstrating new ore bodies on the eastern end of the company's holdings is progressing very rapidly. The western end of the property has already been developed extensively, both by underground workings and by churn drillings.

From present development work it is now confidently believed that Coppermines will within a few years have an open pit extending all the way from the Liberty pit of the Nevada Consolidated on the east to the Morris workings at Kimberly, a distance of a mile and a half.

Manager Grey is not giving out any figures in regard to additional tonnages demonstrated since he took charge of the company's affairs last spring, but it is known that he is well pleased with results.

He is of the opinion that a secondary enrichment will be found at a depth of from 1,600 to 2,000 feet, and with the object of demonstrating his conviction, he has ordered some 13 and 14-inch bits which will be used in the sinking of deep holes at some favorable locations yet to be determined.

That the company already has a sufficient amount of ore to justify the management in the erection of a 5,000-ton plant is the opinion of most mining men who are familiar with the property.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE WARREN

Annual Reports Presented and Old Officers Re-elected.

Bisbee, Ariz., April 25.—At the adjourned annual meeting of the Warren company this week, the old officers were re-elected and brief annual reports were presented covering the affairs of the company. The mining end of the latter stands unchanged from last year insofar as work on the property may be considered. There has been no wheel turned. On the other hand, Briggs develoument has added to the contemplative value of Warren holdings from the mining standpoint, very materially. Briggs operations the last two years have all tended toward proving up Warren area. In the minds of many there is no doubt but that when Briggs work has been pursued to some further extent the way will be plain to economic development of the deep lying ores of Warren.

PROMISES TO BE ONE OF VERY RICHEST LEAD PROPERTIES

Idaho-Continental Company Fostered By President of Amalgamated.

Rainbow to Start Development of Butte & London Property.

Butte, Mont., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fostered by John D. Ryan, in behalf of the International Smelting & Refining company, the Idaho-Continental company promises to be one of the very richest lead properties in the country. It is stated on authority that the company expects to commence permanent shipments on a large scale about Aug. 1. Upwards of a year ago the property attracted the attention of the president of the Amalgamated Copper company and, after having a corps of experts make an examination of the property, Mr. Ryan offered to loan whatever money was required to erect a mill, install the very latest machinery and carry on development work. All the work required to place the property on a money-making basis is nearing completion. Altogether Mr. Ryan advanced the company $325,000 without a mortgage or lien for five years at 6 per cent interest, to be repaid out of the net profits on ore shipments, and in return the company entered into a ten-year contract with the International Smelting & Refining company for the treatment of the concentrates. A mining man who is connected with the Idaho-Continental company, and who has been in the city, says that the terms received from the International company were more liberal than received by any other company in the Coeur d'Alenes. As a further consideration, the Idaho-Continental company gave Mr. Ryan, in behalf of the International Smelting & Refining company, an option on 150,000 shares of the treasury stock and on 300,000 shares of private holdings at 50 cents a share, which can be taken up any time. The company is incorporated for 1,500,000 shares. The plant installed includes a hydro-electric plant developing 800-horse power, a 200-ton concentrator, a large compressor plant and a sawmill. The man in question says that only a few days ago a body of solid ore was opened which is going to run higher than any body of ore ever before opened in a lead mine in this country.

Boston & London.

Lieutenant Governor W. W. McDowell, who has been in the East for several months endeavoring to promote the Boston-Butte company property, has returned to the city. He has little to say as to his success beyond the statement that times have been rather quiet in the East for many months, but he expects to be in a position in a short time to make some definite announcement with regard to the commencement of work on the property. Mr. McDowell is president of the Butte & London company and he says that in the course of a few weeks the Rainbow Development company will commence the deevlopment work arranged for in the contract entered into between the Butte & London and the Rainbow companies over one year ago. This includes the sinking of the shaft down to a depth of 1,600 feet and a large amount of crosscutting. The shaft is now down to a depth of 1,100 feet and as it has not been in use for six years there is estimated to be about 1,000 feet of water in the shaft. While on his way home Mr. McDowell stopped off at Duluth and had a talk with Edward C. Congdon, president of the Rainbow Development company. He said that he was assured by Mr. Congdon that his company intended to spare no expense in order to prove that the Butte & London was a mine of real value. He says that Mr. Congdon further added that the capitalists interested with him in the contract felt satisfied that they had a good mine and if ore were not found at the depth of 1,600 feet as contracted for they were prepared to go to a greater depth.

Stewart to Reopen.

The Stewart mine of the Anaconda company, which has been closed down for the past three months undergoing general repairs and the equipping of the engine for operation by compressed air instead of steam, will be reopened on the first of the month. It will be another month or more before the Neversweat, which has also been closed for two months, is put in commission as the repairs are more extensive than at first supposed. All the ore required for the smelter is being hoisted by the mines in operation, which includes the Mountain Con, which resumed operations on the first of the month.

Diamond Mine.

A large force of men has been put to work on retimbering and general repair work at the Diamond mine and while it is estimated that between five and six months will be required to complete all the work mapped out, an effort will be made to have the property go into commission again inside of the time figured on should the occasion require it.

Pilot Butte.

In drifting on the 2,200-level of the Pilot Butte mine a body of between four and five feet of zinc ore has been encountered, running 30 per cent. After opening up a good body of commercial copper ore a couple of weeks ago the drifting was continued for the middle vein, which is expected to show up rich in copper. It was while driving toward the middle vein the zinc ore was encountered. Just the extent of the zinc body is not yet determined. The Pilot Butte adjoins the Clark Elm Orlu zinc mine and it was not surprising that this new ore body was discovered. On some of the levels of the Elm Orlu copper ore was found in considerable quantities and it was mined and sent to the Washoe smelter. "If we have lots of 30 per cent zinc ore it will be perfectly satisfactory but the trouble will be in securing some mill to treat it," said a Pilot Butte official.

Butte Main Range.

It has been determined to sink a shaft on the Butte Main Range property, and just as soon as the equipment can be placed in position the work will be commenced. The opening up of a good body of copper ore on the 700-foot level of the Tropic, which adjoins the Butte Main Range property has been the means of hastening the decision to open up the property. It will be remembered that last year there was a proposition on foot to amalgamate the Butte Main and the Tuolumne, but considerable opposition developed from minority holders of Tuolumne stock and the offer of sale was withdrawn. The principal owners of the Butte Main Range are also heavy stockholders of the Tuolumne.

New Clark Concentrator.

The new W. A. Clark concentrator will not be ready for operation much before June 1, delays having occurred in the finishing of the building and the installation of some of the machinery. The Minerals Separation company has men at work preparing to handle the ore under the flotation process in accordance with a contract entered into with Senator Clark. The Orlu mine, which is to supply the ore for the concentrator, was to have started up on May 1, but this order has been countermanded and the time has now been fixed at around the last of next month.

Butte & Montana.

At a meeting held in Chicago on April 16 between the directors of the Boston & Montana Development company and A. F. MacArthur, president, and Sir Robert W. Perks, chairman of the board of directors of MacArthur, Perks & Co. of London, a contract was agreed upon whereby the English company will construct the Butte, Wisdom & Pacific railroad, a project and subsidiary of the Boston & Montana Development company. English capitalists are financing the project, and the new railroad will open up a large mining, timber and ranching district in Southwestern Montana and Idaho. MacArthur, Perks & Co. are extensively engaged in other railroad projects in this country, and in several large irrigation projects in the West.

EXCEPTIONAL HIGH VALUES

Reports of New Arcadian's Showing Have Not Been Exaggerated.

Victoria Has One of Copper Country's Great Amygdaloid Disclosures.

Houghton, Mich., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—New Arcadian's northern drift has been in the exceptionally high values encountered in three-quarters of the ground already covered by both drifts for fifteen feet, with the face still showing the same grade. In all of our lodes, there is here, while the general direction is quite closely maintained, a series of very gradual waves in and out both on the strike and dip, so that it is difficult to follow the mineralization, especially in lean spots or when a barren stretch of trap, called by the Cornishmen a "horse," is pased through. In such cases the drift is made to take a slight angle towards the center of the lode, and it does not usually take long to pick up the copper-bearing streak again. Both of these conditions have been met with recently here. A length of about 185 feet has been made, counting both drifts. A local engineer of great experience and high standing, on his return Monday from his third inspection of the lode, stated that the published accounts were not exaggerated, and that the new ground to the north is fully equal to the average of the good ground previously opened. The new hoist has been installed and is being broken in gradually to wear off the newness, as the old engine can take care of what little work there is to be done at present. Only about 40 feet remains of the crosscut to be driven before the lode is reached on the 600-foot level. As there may be a wave on the dip, the whole distance may be shorter or longer than that on the 750-foot level, where it was 150 feet.

Victoria.

Victoria has a width of 52 feet of very rich copper ground, and no trace of the end of this mineralization on the hanging-wall side is yet in sight. On this level one drift was driven 70 feet on the foot-wall and then another paralleling the first quite a number of feet away for 65 feet, each being 6 feet wide. The two drifts and the rock between which has been taken out are very uniformly charged with a very unusual quantity of barrel and stamp copper, the whole making one of the greatest amygdaloid disclosures of the Copper country. The Forrest lode has generally been quite regular in width, remaining from 10 to 12 feet, except in the crush zones, where it has expanded to 90 feet. Here on the good shoot east of the shaft, where so much good ground has been revealed, it averages quite wide. One of the directors who recently visited the mine and others who have seen the lode very strongly indorse Supt. George Hooper's statements as to the extent and richness of the "find." I learn from unofficial sources that this disclosure will very shortly bring about favorable action on the opening of the proposed new shaft to be located about 1,800 feet east of No. 2, the only one now in operation. Treasurer James P. Graves of Boston, who is also the president of the Bingham Mines company, is now at the mine.

Franklin.

Franklin will have another mill test at the Centennial-Allouez mill the last of this week. The amount to be concentrated will be whatever is in the bins when the mill management is ready, something over 500 tons. An extent of over 200 feet has been covered by the two drifts. The southern drift is just as good as at the start, and the northern is still keeping up the improvement it has shown for the last three weeks.

Allouez.

Allouez began the night shift last Monday night at No. 1 shaft. Although there have been more men on the payrolls than before the strike, there were so many men who had never mined before that the efficiency was not great until lately. At the time of calling the strike Allouez was far short of the necessary force of trammers. Quite a number of the new men who came in from outside have been dropped from the payrolls or have left of their own accord on account of their unsuitability for the work, but the company is now taking many of its men back gradually and will soon have a full force of first class workers. No. 2 has been running with a complete equipment of men both shifts for some time. On account of its grade of over 17 pounds, notwithstanding the vast amount of development work that is being done, which by the way more than pays for itself, the great reserve territory, the fact that the construction costs are all taken care of, and the likelihood of a dividend in the not distant future have made this mine a great favorite here.

Hancock.

Hancock forwarded its sixth shipment of rock to the Centennial mill last week, there having been one each in January and February, two each in March and April. There be also another in this month. This makes a total of about 11,000 tons since the resumption of operations Jan. 2. Three-quarters of the last shipment were in the new 50-ton steel cars of the Mineral Range Railroad company, instead of the usual 40-ton car. The average would therefore be, roundly speaking, 110 tons daily, but the rate now is somewhat over 200 tons.

North Kearsarge.

North Kearsarge is pumping out No. 1 shaft, and as there were nearly five levels with quite an extent of openings it will take three or four weeks longer. Then there will be three weeks or so work to be done on the 357-foot stretch of reinforced concrete just below the twelfth level, which protects the shaft through the old workings, that have caused a good deal of trouble in the past. The fine new rockhouse with the Nordberg hoist of adequate capacity will give a very much increased tonnage and permit the working of some excellent ground at the bottom that could not be mined with the old rockhouse. Nos. 3 and 4 have been working both shifts for some time. As at all of our mines except those south of the Copper Range Consolidated there are far more men applying to whom there is no objection than can be employed.

Ahmeek.

Ahmeek is sending to the smelter each month one carload of mass copper averaging about thirty-five tons, which comes from the fissure north of No. 2 shaft, that has been opened up for a distance of 419 feet on the tenth level, 70 feet on the thirteenth, and 221 on the fourteenth with the openings still looking well. This mass runs about 72 per cent pure copper, making about 50,000 pounds a month and 600,000 pounds a year. This "sweetener" is the chief reason why the Ahmeek runs so much higher in yield than the Allouez. Nos. 2 and 3 shafts have all the men that can be used, but many good old hands are being picked out for Nos. 3 and 4 which are being cleaned up for actual mining operation and which will be ready about May 1.

CHANGE IN POLICY NOT CONTEMPLATED

Calumet & Arizona's Annual Meeting Settles Rumors in That Respect.

Bisbee, Ariz., April 25.—The annual meeting of Calumet & Arizona was strictly a formal affair. President Briggs and other important persons in the organization found matters so well in hand that there was little to be done beyond indorsing the annual report and checking up its findings for personal gratification through inspection of the properties. Mines and smelter were found to be all that could possibly be asked in respect to fine form. Various plans for the year that will be carried out by the management on the ground were discussed here and found to have no room for further suggestions. They comprise a great deal of important work, which will becarried out by the management with its usual thoroughness and in the systematic manner with which it pursues its plans.

The visiting stockholders, in company with General Manager Greenway went to the Ajos, where they made inspection of the New Cornelia before leaving for the East. They found things at that property to warrant all the enthusiasm that has prevailed, and more. The annual meeting, among other things, settled rumors previously current as to possible changes in policy. There is to be no change in the latter, unless it is on the side of even more aggressiveness than ever in the pursuit of values in the holdings of the company.

The adequacy of the new smelter at Douglas is best commented upon in the announcement of the company that it was ready to take on all the custom ores that might be offered for treatment. This step assures that the company is finding its new plant equal to everything that may come along, as was the intention of those who built it.

BROODING CHICKS.

A Good Start Is Half the Battle.

BY J. W. KELLER.

The brooding period embraces that portion of a chick's life from the time it is hatched until it is feathered and ready for the colony house and is a most important and vital period, for then is laid the foundation of the future.

There are two methods of brooding—the natural, in which the hen supplies the warmth and care, and the artificial. In the natural brooding all that is necessary is a comfortable coop, not too warm, roomy and free from drafts, kept clean and sprayed liberally with a good liquid lice killer, or, better still, poultry disinfectant. Then, given proper feed, the hen will do the rest.

Artificial brooders have two parts—a hover which is warmed and supplies the heat to the chicks, and a nursery or exercising room. In choosing a broloder select one that is well built, easily cleaned and in which the heat is deflected downward on the chick's back. Avoid bottom heat, which causes leg troubles. Buy the brooder plenty large and do not crowd the chicks. Keep it sweet and clean and cover the floor with sand or fine chopped alfalfa or clover.

Watch the Temperature.

The temperature under the hover during the first week should be 90 deg.; then gradually reduce the heat until it reaches 80 deg. The nursery should be about 70 degs. As much depends on the lamp in a brooder, keep it well filled, with a clean burner and well trimmed wick. Have a good tested thermometer, take the temperature from near the floor, watching carefully, for overheating or chilling chicks are equally disastrous, and above all follow the directions that come with the brooder.

After the first week or two chicks may be allowed to run about in a small outdoor yard when the weather is clear and mild, provided they can always return easily to the hover when they feel cold. When the weather is bad confine them to the nursery and induce exercise by scattering fine grain among the litter.

The question of brooding large colonies of several hundred chicks in a small room or house by the use of brooder stoves has attracted much attention lately. These small coal or oil burning stoves with large cone shaped metal heat deflectors have been used for many years in California and undoubtedly are great labor savers. The fireless type of brooder, which depends on thick, soft insulation to conserve the natural heat of the chick, as well as portable hovers, are also in quite general and successful use.

SPRAYING TIME.

The Early Sprayer Catches the Worm.

BY P. K. EDWARDS.

As spraying is a preventive, the sprayer should always be forehanded. Fruit trees should be sprayed with lime and sulphur for San Jose scale while the trees are dormant, and the mixture may be bought all prepared. Early in the spring, before the buds start, the apple, cherry, quince and pear trees should be sprayed for scab, coddling moth, bud moth, cankerworm, tent caterpillar and aphis. The moths, cankerworms and caterpillars are chewing insects and are destroyed by covering the leaves with poison, so use a copper sulphate solution. If the aphis appear in great numbers spray the leaves with kerosene emulsion. A sharp lookout must be kept for borers. These little pests cannot be sprayed, but must be dug out with a knife or pointed wire. Moreover, if left to their own devices they will destroy the trees in a comparatively short time.

Bush fruits and vines also have their enemies and must be sprayed. The gooseberry is attacked by mildew, leaf blight and worms and should be sprayed carefully, especially under the leaves, where the eggs of the currant worm are laid. An excellent spray is made by using Bordeaux mixture in the proportion of one gallon of Bordeaux to fifty gallons of water, to which is added half a pound of paris green to 150 gallons of the Bordeaux mixture, and this can also be used on currants Raspberry and blackberry bushes should be gone over and all the misshapen, diseased and galled canes cut out; then spray with copper sulphate solution. The grapevines should be pruned early and sprayed with copper sulphate solution for mildew and leaf blight, and for worms add paris green as given above.

What Kind of a Sprayer to Buy.

These spray mixtures can be bought from reliable seed houses, and spraying outfits are for sale in every city, town and village, so there is no excuse in these modern days for allowing insects to get the best of the situation. In buying a sprayer one should have definitely in mind for just what purpose it is to be used. For example, if there are only fruit bushes and grapevines a knapsack sprayer has many good points, especially the compressed air ones. They hold about five gallons, and two or three pumpings nearly empty the tank. If there are a few fruit trees of the semi-dwarf or dwarf variety the small tank sprayer on two wheels will answer, as it is easy to get about both in the garden and orchard. Of course, for the owner of an acre or more of fruit the power sprayer drawn by a horse is needed.

NEW LIFE FOR OLD SOIL.

Green Manures Work Wonders.

By W. H. STEVENSON.

Any crops grown and plowed under green to increase the productive capacity of the soil are called green manure crops. Sometimes such crops occupy the land for only a part of the season. They are then known as "cover" crops or "catch" crops.

Green manuring is an important practice, chiefly because it adds organic matter to the soil, which is gradually converted into humus, an absolutely essential constituent of the soil. Of course humus may be secured by applying barnyard manure, but as a rule there is not enough of this material to meet the needs of the land. However, green manuring is not enough in itself to keep a soil from wearing out, so other practices must be followed. Crops must be grown in rotation, the moisture content of the soil regulated, proper tillage practiced, the soil kept sweet, the supply of mineral plant food maintained, especially the supply of phosphorus and potassium, and the nitrogen content of the soil kept up. These factors all play an important part in keeping a soil productive, but they are not more important than green manuring.

Poor Soils Especially Benefited.

In general, green manures are beneficial when used on poor soils because of their action on the physical, chemical and bacteriological conditions of the soil. From the physical side green manures influence the moisture, temperature and aeration of soils. For example, on light, sandy soils they prevent rapid drying out by reducing the losses of moisture due to evaporation and percolation, and further make the soil more compact. While they have just the opposite effect on heavy clay soils, here the organic matter opens up the soil and admits air.

The practice of leaving the soil bare during July and August following the harvest of a small grain crop is very bad, as it causes the loss of large amounts of nitrogen by percolation. These losses may be prevented in a large measure by growing green manure crops on the land; especially is this true of leguminous crops, which stimulate greater bacterial action, and as a result larger amounts of available plant food are produced. Rye, wheat, buckwheat and rape are the non-leguminous crops which are commonly used for green manuring, while red clover, mammoth clover, sweet clover, crimson clover, Canada field peas, cowpeas, soy beans and vetches are the best known legumes for this purpose.

The secret of keeping our gardens and fields fertile is to plow deep, and if necessary subsoil, cultivate thoroughly and plant leguminous crops.

ADOPTING BEES.

Not a Hazardous Undertaking.

By E. KNEELAND,

Agriculturist and Fruit Grower.

If the amount of time required to look after bees successfully is considered, in proportion to the revenue derived, the most indifferent must regard beekeeping a very sound investment.

A beginner with bees would do well to visit some one who keeps them and spend the day learning the ins and outs of their management—how to tell the queens, workers and drones, about the opening of hives and handling of frames. But before buying any bees send for a hive and study all its parts. Usually bees are bought hive and all, but frequently the hive is not the right sort and the bees have to be transferred.

An outfit of five hives and all necessary tools for starting can be bought for about $11. A good, select, tested queen, suitable for starting with, will cost $3. Start with a one frame nucleus in each hive, which, if properly managed, will make strong colonies by fall. These will cost $2 each.

Bees Easily Suited.

Location is not important. The town or village dweller will find the rear of the lot the best place. The ground about the hives should be kept smooth and the grass mown. Never keep bees near the highway, or lawsuits may result from bee stings. Too much shade is as bad for bees as too little. Strike a happy medium, and if the hives are exposed to strong winds build a windbreak of some kind to protect them.

Bees are divided into two classes—workers and drones. The Italians are the most profitable and the easiest to handle, being very gentle. The Italian worker bee has a distinguishing characteristic—namely, three yellow bands. The workers make all the honey and usually work themselves to death in three months, while the drones live even a shorter time. The queen often lives four or five years, as she does very little outdoor work.

Every swarm has a queen, whose duty consists in laying eggs for hatching future workers and drones, and a healthy queen will lay during her lifetime from 900,000 to 1,200,000 eggs. Swarming is generally the result of a colony outgrowing its hive, but by using large hives this will be in a measure prevented.

Bees must be able to find plenty of honey bearing plants in order to produce honey. The basswood ranks next to alfalfa, sage and white clover as the best honey producer. Buckwheat and all kinds of flowers supply bees with honey making material. An average of thirty-five pounds of honey per hive can be counted on in good seasons.

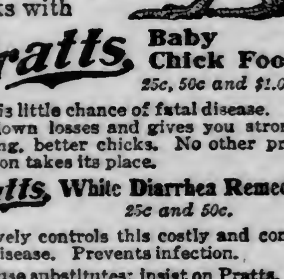
HOW TO PREVENT SMUT BY TREATING GRAINS.

Madison, Wis., April 25.—Smut diseases, which annually cause enormous losses to the grain growers of Wisconsin, can be controlled by treating the seed grain with formaldehyde solution.

According to B. D. Leith, college of agriculture, University of Wisconsin, oat smut and barley stripe can be prevented by soaking the seed in an ordinary cold water solution of the drug. Barley smut and loose smut of wheat, however, are harder to kill, and perhaps can best be controlled by a hot water treatment.

One of the methods of treating seed grain used at the Wisconsin experiment station follows:

The grain is spread upon a tight floor or canvas and is sprinkled until thoroughly moistened with a solution of one pint of 40 per cent formaldehyde to forty gallons of water. The seed is thoroughly covered over to distribute the solution and is then piled and covered with sacks or canvas so that the formaldehyde gas will not evaporate before its good work is done. The grain may be sown at once or upon the following day but if it is to be kept longer it should be dried as soon as possible by spreading it out thinly upon the floor and then occasionally stirring it with a rake.



Another plan is to have the solution in a barrel or tank and then dip gunny sacks filled with the grain into the solution. The seed is then placed in a pile and handled in the manner already described.

SOIL FERTILITY AND SEED SELECTION.

The Northern Pacific Railway company, through its agricultural extension department, has been carrying on careful demonstration work along the line of soil fertility, cultivation and seed selection during the past season.

A concise report by R. F. Murray, agricultural extension agent, has just been published describing the work done last season. The data are of much value to all who are engaged or interested in farming and this information should be in the hands of every intelligent or ambitious farmer.

Farmers or business men in Minnesota and North Dakota, where the experiments were tried out, may be suppliedwith copies of the report free, upon application to the agents of the Northern Pacific railway or to A. E. Cleland, general passenger agent, Northern Pacific railway, St. Paul, Minn.

SHORT COURSE IN TRACTION ENGINEERING

The growing use of traction engines in general farm work has made it advisable to offer a special course of instruction in the use of power machinery. The fifth annual short course in traction engineering will open Tuesday, May 5, and continue for five weeks, closing Friday, June 5. Those wishing to take the course should register and secure boarding places not later than Monday, May 4, as work begins promptly Tuesday morning.

Good board and room will be furnished on the campus for $17.50 per the term. The tuition for the course is $15, payable at the time of entrance. Each student is required to furnish work clothes and note books, and be prepared for the expense of car fare on trips of inspection.

Any person of good moral character who can read, write, add, subtract, multiply and divide, and who has had one season's experience with plowing or threshing outfits, or its equivalent in other lines, will be admitted to the course.

The regular school sessions will be held every day from 8:15 to 4:30, except that Saturday afternoons will be devoted to visiting places of interest in and about the Twin Cities. Some of these are: The state capitol and its power plant; the state prison at Stillwater, and its manufacturing plants; the factories of the Northwest Thresher company, the Gas Traction company, Minneapolis Steel & Machinery company, and the Minneapolis Threshing Machine company; the Pillsbury A flour mill, and the power plant of the Twin City Rapid Transit company.

The course includes: Physics, blacksmithing, steam boilers and engines, gasoline engines, pumps, babbitting, soldering, pipe-fitting, tube-setting, belt lacing and rope splicing.

Those who take the course and receive the diploma may have an engineer's license, which is required by the state of any one who runs an engine. For further information, address J. M. Drew, registrar, University Farm, St. Paul.

PROTECT THE ROOTS.

BY LE ROY CADY,
Associate Horticulturist, University Farm, St. Paul.

In digging the tree, preserve as many of the roots as possible, especially the fine roots which feed the larger ones. Do not let these roots dry in the sun or wind. They should be protected by burlap, canvas, or straw until they are set in the ground. This is especially true of evergreens. Exposure of the roots to the sun or wind for one minute will set the resin in the root and step further development of the plant. This is a matter that does not seem to be well understood, or at lease heeded, by our tree planters. Thousands of evergreens are destroyed each year by careless handling, either in the nursery or, as is the usual case, by the planter. One cannot be too careful in handling either the evergreen or the hardwood trees to keep the roots from drying.

ORCHARD AND GARDEN.

BY LE ROY CADY,
Associate Horticulturist, University Farm, St. Paul.

Treat all potatoes for scab before planting.

Plant some Swiss chard or leaf beet for greens.

All old wood should be removed from the rose bushes.

The cover can soon come off of the tulips and strawberries.

Small white onion sets are the best. If they cannot be obtained, yellow sets should be used.

Alaska is one of the earliest peas to sow. Alderman and Gradus are good second-planting varieties.

As soon as the garden can be worked, plant onion sets, and spinach, lettuce, radish and onion seed.

Cold frames should be put in use now for such transplanted garden crops as celery and cabbage, and for sowing late celery, cabbage, and annual flowering plants.

Horseradish, rhubarb, and peonies should be planted early, if planted in spring, since they are among the first plants to start.

Has that order for fruit trees and plants gone to the nursery? There is still time to send it, though it is rather late.

Sweet peas should be planted early in a sunny location. Any good garden soil will do, the richer and better prepared, the better. They should be planted at least two inches deep.

The elder and hardy hyderangea may be pruned any time before the buds begin to swell. Most spring-flowering shrubs should not be pruned until after flowering.

It is a good plan to roll a lawn early in the spring to get it smooth and make it easier to mow, as well as ao help hold the moisture.

Bone meal and wood ashes in equal quantities make a good lawn fertilizer. Apply at the rate of one pound per square rod, or 300 or 400 pounds per acre, at one time.

ON THE SELECTION OF SEED POTATOES.

By RICHARD WELLINGTON,
Assistant Horticulturist, University Farm, St. Paul.

In selecting potato tubers for seed purposes, the grower should keep in mind the following well known principles:

1. Select seed true to variety and type.
2. Avoid abnormally elongated and tapering tubers as they are degenerated or run out and will produce only low yields.
3. As a general practice discard the small tubers for seed purposes, as they were obtained largely from poor hills. Small tubers produced by high yielding hills, however, are preferable to larger tubers from poor hills.
4. If you are dependent upon bin selection, use tubers weighing at least five ounces for seed and you will find that this will eliminate a large percentage of the inferior strains.
5. Plant hills with one seed piece and during the summer mark the most vigorous hills with stakes and save the tubers that yield best and are truest to type for next season's seed plot.
6. If hill selection is carefully carried out, there will be little, if any, need for change of seed. There are records of several growers who have maintained their yield for long periods by careful selection.
7. If your seed stock has been run-out by improper selection, purchase new seed true to variety and type from a reliable grower or seedsman.
8. Stick to the standard varieties that have been proved by trial successful in your locality and avoid or test only in a small way the new or little known sorts.

SOME POINTERS ON LAWN PLANTING.

By LE ROY CADY,
Associate Horticulturist, University Farm, St. Paul.

Do not overplant the yard.

Have a reason for every plant set.

Plant in groups—never in straight lines.

Corners and abrupt angles may often be rounded by shrubs.

Vines on a building lighten the somber effect of the stone or brick.

Paeonies, iris, phlox and giant daisy are among the best perennials to use.

It is often an advantage to screen the rear of the lot by a hedge or group of shrubs.

Just enough vine should be used on a porch to shade it and partly screen it from public view.

Masses of one color are better than too great a mixture. A few well-chosen plants are best.

Shrubs at the base of a building relieve the set, formal character and seem to "tie" it to the ground.

Large trees or plants should always be set in the background. Gradations from these may be made to the front.

Wild grape, Virginia creeper, bittersweet or the climbing rose are excellent for the porch.

Use shrubs that have beautiful foliage or colored fruits. An all-season effect is usually wanted. One of the best-clipped hedges in Minnesota is made of buckthorn; dogwood, Alpine currant and willow are also good. Do not plant thick unless immediate results are wanted.

Shrubbery makes a good background for flowering perennials. Vistas of objects in the distance may often be framed to advantage with shrubs.

Highbrush cranberries, viburnum lantana, rose rugosa, wahoo, sandthorn, Tartarian honeysuckle, snowberry and dogwood supply colored foliage and fruit.

Flowering currant, June berry, mock orange, spirea Van Houttei, common elder, barberry, lilac, carigana and dogwood are a few shrubs that blossom early.

Scattered planting over a lawn should never be tolerated. Keep the plants at the sides of the lot and base of the building. They may be used to prevent crossing of the lawn, especially if planted at the corners.

The most important feature of the home grounds is a good lawn. A mixture of forty pounds of pure Kentucky blue-grass, five pounds of redtop and three pounds of white clover per acre makes a good lawn.

FREE TRIP TO STATE FAIR IS OFFERED.

BY RAY P. SPEER,
State Fair Grounds, St. Paul.

The Minnesota state fair is looking for eighty-six of the keenest, wide-awake farm boys from 16 to 19 years old, in the state. It wants to give them a free trip to the state fair, Sept. 7-12. The trip lasts a week, and the expense to the boys is only a few dollars for clothing and incidentals. This inducement, however, will not be offered to Minnesota rural boydom later than May 1, and it behooves the prospective eighty-six to get busy at once.

The boy, to win this trip, must write the best essay on corn, clover, alfalfa, or livestock, submitted to the county superintendent by any boy in the county. This essay is to contain from 400 to 700 words. On May 1, each county superintendent will judge all essays submitted in his county, and the boy who ranks highest in his county will be given a free trip to the state fair early in September.

As soon as the lucky eighty-six boys arrive at the fair they will be given special cots and uniforms. Some bedding and clothing must be brought by each boy. The farm boys' camp will be in charge of E. C. Higbie of the Morris school of agriculture. Trips will be made to all the exhibits on the grounds, and special instructors will explain everything. Some time will be spent by the boys ushering in the grandstand and livestock pavilion.

LEADER BRIAND GREAT ORATOR

Paris, April 25.—Aristide Briand, leader of the Federation of Democrats of the Left, which in opposition to the present ministry of the Radical and Socialist-Radical groups, is seeking a majority in the parliamentary elections tomorrow, is looked upon even by his political foes as one of the first orators in Europe. He has eloquence and humor, the power to illuminate dry facts by his manner of presentation and all the gifts of the winning campaigner. His voice, sometimes melodious, sometimes sharply penetrating, varies amazingly from extreme rapidity of utterance to sober dignity. Some of his auditors at a meeting of 4,000 in Paris the other evening were moved to tears, not by pathos, but by the beauty of his periods, which affected their emotions. Briand is from Southern France, whence nearly all the great orators of France come.

Candidates' expenses have been greatly reduced in the 1914 elections campaigns by limiting the space used for the posting of manifestos and other campaign literature. Mayors are required to provide large boards at different points within their jurisdiction. On these each candidate is allotted an equal space. Any placarding of campaign posters elsewhere may be punished by a fine of from $1 to $2 for each offense. This places candidates with small campaign funds more nearly on equality with their wealthier rivals.

Another reform aims at absolute secrecy in the vote. It stipulates that the voter must deposit his ballot, enclosed in an envelope, in a box which is placed in an isolated cabinet, a structure resembling a tent, where he will be completely screened from the view of those outside.

The largest bridge ever exported from England, and the largest but one ever built, having a total length of 5,325 feet, is being constructed for use in India.

HORRORS OF EARTHQUAKE

Great Devastation Done in the Japanese Island of Hondo.

One Thousand Houses Destroyed and One Hundred Persons Killed.

Tokio, April 25.—The plight of poor Japanese in the north who have been suffering from famine has been increased by the disastrous earthquake of March, which caused great devastation in a zone of about twenty miles square around Akita on the Island of Hondo. The city of Akita was damaged only slightly, but in the country nine towns and forty-one villages were seriously damaged, some villages being entirely annihilated. About 1,000 houses were completely destroyed and about 100 persons were killed, according to the latest reports.

The earthquake came at dawn. The motion was horizontal at first, but after twenty seconds turned into a violent perpendicular movement greatly increasing in velocity until it broke the seismographs. The upward movement, which is particularly feared in Japan, caused hundreds of houses to collapse and scores of people were crushed to death, having no time to escape. The affrighted people who succeeded in getting out, rushed to the railroad to escape from the earthquake belt, but found the rails blocked with stones and earth. Dangerous holes and trenches were opened in the streets from which rose a cloud of dust and debris.

Nineteen Burned Alive.

Several thrilling tales were told by survivors. At Yodokawa the house of a wealthy resident caught fire and the family of seventeen people as well as two visitors were burned alive. The two-storied house of Santaro Saito at Arohamura was razed to the ground. His family of five and three others were asleep on the first floor with four guests upstairs. When the building was falling, the men upstairs managed to crawl from the debris and began to search for those below. Five were taken out injured, but three others, including the master of the house, his son and servant, were found dead.

Faithful to the memory of their emperor, one of the first acts of the mayor of Kowakubi, which was wiped out by the disaster, was to rush to the hill top and recover the imperial flag floating on a shrine that had been dedicated to the late emperor Mutsuhito.

Misery and Pathos.

A Japanese reporter who made a trip through the devastated district found misery and pathos. Some victims had erected huts in the roadway, where the mud was knee deep. He found the village of Kowabuki in absolute darkness except where a few straggling lights feebly showed a scene of destruction. Not one of the 140 houses remained intact, a score of people had been instantly killed and eighty were more or less severely injured. The postmaster had gone mad from seeing the violent death of his wife.

A few days after the earthquake the long extinct volcano on Mount Chokai suddenly became active. The mountain which is near the coast and overlooks the Sea of Japan is known as the Fuji of Akita. Its summit is covered with snow even in mid-summer. A great mass of smoke and fire suddenly burst from the southwest crater, and soared heavenward.

CARRY DIAMONDS IN AEROPLANES

Air Route in Southwest Africa Will Save Time.

Berlin, April 25.—Aeroplanes will be used to bring diamonds from the mines of German Southwest Africa to their shipping point. The air route will save both time and money, since it will at once do away with the necessity of traversing difficult jungle paths and of sending a troop of soldiers with each shipment to protect it from robbers.

The imperial colonial authorities have laid out a flying field at Canbib, a hundred miles northeast of Swakopmund, and experiments will be begun there next month by four non-commissioned officers of the African protectorate troops who have been trained at Johannisthal and Mulhausen.

Besides transporting diamonds, the machines will serve to bring mail out from the interior and for military observations, chartography, etc. A very important part of the aviator's work will be the carrying of doctors about the colony. With the aid of the signalling apparatus it will be possible to summon a physician within a few hours to as many as 200 villages. By roadways it would take him several days to reach some of the places.

REAL ESTATE NEWS

MOVING DAY WILL FIND FEW VACANT HOUSES IN DULUTH

Acute Shortage of Homes for Working Men in Western Suburbs.

Realty Deals of Week Are Confined Chiefly to Dwellings.

That there will be fewer vacant houses in the city after next moving day, May 1, than in perhaps twenty years back, is the consensus of opinion among rental agents.

It is said that the number of vacant houses in Duluth is extraordinarily few at the present, and that by the end of the week, when parties who have entered into contracts assume possession of their leaseholds, the number will be still further reduced.

Moving from one house to another next May day will be upon a much smaller scale than usual, in the opinion of agents. This will be attributable to the fact that with a smaller number of vacant houses available, there was an early rush to renew their leases on the part of present tenants.

Many New Residents.

Many new people have undoubtedly come into the city since last fall, said F. J. Pulford, of the Pulford, How company. "That is the only way to account for the way that houses and flats have filled up."

Said A. H. Brown of Stryker, Manley & Buck: "The rental situation is healthy. We have had a good inquiry all along for houses during the past several months, and we have now relatively few vacant premises on our lists."

While vacancies of modern houses in the eastern and central sections of the city are now almost down to the vanishing point, there is said to be an acute shortage in the West end, West Duluth and in the steel plant districts. To correct that condition which has been brought about through the extension of new factory operations in those districts, considerable new house building is being planned.

Realty transactions during the present week mounted up to a respectable aggregate, but as the transfers show, they were confined mainly to dwellings and building lots purchased for improvement. Some investment inquiry was also reported by the offices, but business in that line is rather a negligible quantity at present.

Progress is advised in negotiations for a large block of lots in West Duluth, intended as a site for a local industry that plans to change its location. It is also expected that a deal covering a parcel of valuable central business property will be closed up in the near future.

The contract for grading streets and installing sewers in Waverly Park, was lot this week by N. J. Upham, acting for the International Realty associates. It is now assured that this block of thirty-six acres will be ready to offer on the market by June 1.

Strong inquiry for farm lands was reported by the Anchor Realty company, resulting in the sale of 120 acres in Carlton county and of a sixty-acre parcel in Aitkin county. A deal for 3,600 acres in Itasca county is said to be under negotiation, with every probability of its being closed up in the near future.

C. T. Mears yesterday bought the home of Ray Herrick at Nineteenth avenue east and Fifth street at a consideration of $7,500. The sale was effected through John A. Stephenson & Co.

Stryker, Manley & Buck reported the receipt of earnest money on sales of two East end residence properties.

* * *

Richardson, Day & Cheadle advised an active week's business, resulting in the following sales—a fifty-foot frontage on Allen avenue, near Irving Place; a lot on the north side of Huntington avenue, near Fifty-eighth avenue west; two lots at Olney street and Fifty-eighth avenue west, and two tracts in Norton's Acre Outlots.

John A. Stephenson & Co. disposed of three building lots in West Duluth for the West Duluth Land company for immediate improvement.

The Kohagen-Hoopes company sold to George Torgerson, a building lot on East Sixth street, and also two tracts in its North Homeland addition, a short distance from the end of the Woodland car line.

That office has let the contract for the grading of streets and installing sewers in the Park Drive addition in the vicinity of Chester park and the Boulevard.

The Whitney Wall company has sold for John Gulbranson to Anna E. Gorman, house No. 2726 West Twenty-second street at $3,000.

A. W. Kuehnow, president of the Gary Land company, advised continued substantial inquiry for Gary properties. Eight lots were disposed of during the week to outside investors.

The A. A. Fider company sold to Owen J. Hunt a well situated building lot at Twenty-fifth avenue east and Sixth street, at a consideration of $1,000.

The same office also sold house No. 211 Eleventh avenue east to C. C. Parsons at $3,200, and house No. 1707 East Sixth street to Asa Lyons from Jacob Erickson at $4,750. The Whitney Wall company represented the buyer in the transaction.

L. T. Hawkinson of Independence, Iowa, sold to A. A. Fider, a building lot at Tenth street and Thirteenth avenue east.

The Ebert-Walker company reported the receipt om earnest money on 485 acres of land in Lake county. Sales of parcels of forty and eighty each in Aitkin county were also put through.

The Alliance Real Estate company sold two lots at Glenwood Park yesterday to an out-of-town investor.

E. W. Markell sold a building lot on McCullough street, Lakeside. The buyer proposes to improve in the erection of a home in the near future.

* * *

S. W. Richardson left for Chicago yesterday, where with Charles W. Eddy, representing the St. Paul Real Estate Exchange, he will confer with the Merritt Corporation of Chicago in reference to the patents it holds on convertible furniture. It is proposed to form local building companies at Duluth and St. Paul, with the object of taking up the erection of houses and bungalows, and eventually apartment buildings. The project has met with success in other cities that have been operated in.

WAREHOUSE COMPANY WILL BUILD $120,000 ADDITION

Is Second Enlargement and Will Make Plant Largest in West.

Permits Aggregate $72,730 for Week; Virginia School Contract.

The main development of the week in the building trade was the announcement that the Northern Cold Storage & Warehouse company has decided upon the erection of a seven-story reinforced concrete addition to its plant, to entail an outlay of $120,000.

The addition will be built south of the present premises and will cover an area of eighty-five feet on the dock front by a depth of 130 feet. McLeod & Smith have been awarded the contract for the foundation, and they will begin work upon it at once.

That this is one of the enterprises that has thrived in Duluth is attested in the fact that the enlargement now proposed will be the second within a three-year period. With its increased capacity the plant will be the largest of its kind in the West, and will have no superior in its interior arrangements and facilities for handling either perishables or ordinary merchandise.

Large Force on Docks.

A large force is being employed by the American Bridge company and other contractors engaged upon the erection of the Duluth Missabe & Northern railroad's new steel ore dock at Thirty-fourth avenue west, and it is expected that it will be brought to completion by next fall. Its cost is estimated at $2,000,000.

The contract for the South side school at Virginia was awarded to John Donlin of Superior at $54,568. The Dowe-Burke company of this city was the next lowest bidder. The Star Construction company of Virginia secured the plumbing, heating and ventilating contract at $11,000, and John Swanstrom, also of Virginia, the electrical work at $1,875. There was keen competition all round for the job. Bray & Nystrom were the architects.

Building permits were in respectable proportions this week, numbering thirty-seven, with the cost of improvements placed at $72,730. Twenty-eight of the number authorized new dwellings and improvements, while nine were in connection with business and industrial propositions.

The Clarkson Coal & Dock company took out the largest permit in the list, $15,000, to cover an addition and extension to its dock on Garfield avenue.

A permit for $6,500 was issued to W. N. Riverson for repairs to his home on East Third street, recently damaged by fire.

E. Paulson is building a frame house on Fourth street between Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth avenues west to cost $3,500. A permit for $4,000 was issued to P. Fuller for a frame dwelling being built on Kenilworth avenue, and one for $3,500 was taken out by J. Curran for a frame house on Woodland avenue.

The D. H. Clough company is making progress in the reconstruction of the premises at Michigan street and First avenue west, formerly occupied by the Bartlie-Martin company. The reinforced concrete for the ground floor has been poured and a start has been made on the second floor. It is thought the premises will be ready for occupancy early in June.

Holstead & Sullivan, architects, have plans out for figures for a brick and frame residence for George Brozich of Ely, Minn.

The Lakeside Land company advises that the present season to date has been the most active in its experience. It now has seven houses under erection in that section of the city.

The general contract for a brick flat building for Mrs. Margaret Melville at Nineteenth avenue east and Fourth street has been let to Frank L. Johnson & Co. The work will be proceeded with at once. The plans were prepared by Edward P. Shurick.

Plans for a home for L. F. Devlin at Forty-second avenue east will go out for figures next week from the office of the same architect. Bids will be taken separately on the general contract and on the plumbing and heating and electric wiring.

Buy a Home

For Yourself Instead of the Landlord

$20.00 a month rent amounts to $240.00 a year; $2400.00 in ten years. You've paid the landlord full price for his house in ten years, but he still owns it; all you have is the rent receipts.

For a small payment down and $20 or less per month you can buy a home and own it, clear of all encumbrance, in less than ten years.

HUERTA ACCEPTS MEDIATION AND THE FIRST CONFERENCES ARE OPENED AT WASHINGTON

DEATH PENALTY FOR ANTI-AMERICAN ACTS IN REBEL TERRITORY

Generals in Sonora Give Warning to Their Forces.

Fugitives From Huerta's Army Seem to Have Disappeared.

Zapata Reported Desirous to Join Huerta Against "Invaders."

Washington, April 27. — American Consul Hostetter today telegraphed the state department that Generals Obregon and Alvarado of the Mexican Constitutionalists had notified their forces in the state of Sonora that any demonstration against Americans and seditious speeches would likely lead to hanging.

Federals Have Vanished.

Laredo, Tex., April 27.—Retreating Federals who burned Nuevo Laredo on Friday seem to have disappeared, leaving the border in a state of nervous expectation, due to the skirmishing with the American border patrol here and attempts to dynamite the international bridge.

A rumor today that the Federals had been repulsed in an engagement with United States troops at Monera proved groundless. It also was said that the Federals had been defeated by the rebels near Camaron.

Redoubled patrol guards are being maintained at all other points.

Zapata Would Join Huerta.

New York, April 27.—The Evening World today prints the following copyrighted dispatch: Mexico City, via Galveston, April 27.—Preliminaries are being discussed today at Cuernavaca for the surrender of Emiliano Zapata, with all his chiefs and followers, who have expressed a desire to fight on the government side against the "foreign invader."

The capital is quieting down and there is no longer a rush of Americans to get away. A special train has been arranged to leave tonight with Americans desiring to leave, but not a few Americans after inscribing their names on the roster of departure, reconsideed and have decided to remain.

There was little to differentiate yesterday from other Sundays in the Mexican capital. The city was quiet and orderly, and Mexicans in general were most considerate toward Americans remaining here.

The churches were crowded and the streets presented their customary appearance. The theaters were well patronized.

Nearly all the American stores have reopened and stores owned by persons of other nationalities have removed their shutters.

ASK FOR GUARD FOR OIL LAND EMPLOYES

New York Interests Say 100 People Are in Danger.

Washington, April 27.—The navy department today received a request from oil interests in New York with property in the Tampico oil district that an American force be sent to rescue 100 employes now on oil lands about seventy-five miles southwest of Tampico. The request states that the men are well armed, but are unable to get to the American ships because of fighting between Constitutionalists and Federal troops about Tampico.

NEW YORK CENTRAL'S BOND PLAN APPROVED

Indorsement Is Given By Interstate Commerce Commission.

Washington, April 27.—Indorsement was given by the interstate commerce commission today to the proposal of the New York Central & Hudson River Railroad company to issue $167,102,400 of 4 per cent mortgage bonds to take up outstanding 3½ per cent bonds, as a financial incident to the consolidation of the New York Central and Lake Shore roads.

REFUGEES ARRIVE ON BRITISH VESSEL.

New Orleans, La., April 27.—The British steamer Wyvisbrook has arrived at the quarantine station near the mouth of the Mississippi river with twenty-two refugees from Mexico. The vessel sails between Gulf ports and Progresso. That section of Mexico is comparatively quiet and it is believed the Americans on the Wyvisbrook probably left Mexico more from fear of what might happen than because of immediate danger.

President Appeals to Him to End Strike in Colorado.

Militia Reoccupy the Mining Camp Captured By Strikers.

Washington, April 27.—President Wilson has made a personal appeal to John D. Rockefeller to bring about a settlement of the Colorado coal strike and end the violence which has cost a score of lives and large property loss.

Rockefeller, who owns a large part of the mines affected by the strike, in response to a telegram from the president, declared he had turned over his interests in Colorado to his son, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., whom he would ask to co-operate with Chairman Foster of the house committee on mines and mining. The president sent Mr. Foster to New York today to talk with the younger Rockefeller.

"We made no progress," said Mr. Foster later. "Nothing has been accomplished here today. I see no hope that anything may be accomplished here in the immediate future. I do not expect to see Mr. Rockefeller again today, and I shall return to Washington."

Recently the younger Rockefeller, at a hearing of the mines committee of the house, said the mine owners would

FORT BLISS CAMP ORDERED REMOVED

Mexican Refugees Will Go to Fort Wingate, N. M.

Washington, April 27.—Orders were issued by the war department today, transferring the Mexican prisoners held at Fort Bliss, near El Paso, Tex., to Fort Wingate, N. M. The war department believes it necessary to move the prisoners further from the Mexican border in view of possible developments.

The Third squadron of the Twelfth cavalry now at Fort Meade, S. D., will be sent to Fort Wingate to guard the prisoners.

The Mexicans, soldiers and other refugees, have been held at Fort Bliss since they fled across the border seeking refuge on American soil after the battle of Ojinaga. The defeated Federals, pursued by victorious Constitutionalists, crossed the Rio Grande and were rounded up by the United States troops.

The war department feared that so large a colony of Mexicans near the border might excite the Mexicans across the river, and perhaps lead to an effort to liberate the prisoners. The prisoners will be entrained at El Paso under a heavy guard from the Twentieth infantry, which will accompany them to Fort Wingate and turn them over to the cavalry ordered there.

AMERICANS SEIZE ARMS IN VERA CRUZ

Rifles, Revolvers, Knives and Ammunition Are Taken.

Vera Cruz, April 27.—Considerable quantities of arms and ammunition have been seized by the American naval authorities here as a result of the order that all arms in the possession of civilians must be given up.

During the searches by the provost marshals 600 rifles, 100 revolvers, 200 machetes and 25,000 rounds of ammunition were seized. Since the order was issued demanding the surrender of firearms, the inhabitants have given up 4,000 rifles, 1,200 revolvers, 1,000 machetes, 24 boxes of gunpowder and 50,000 rounds of ammunition.

PRESIDENT PLEASED AT PEACE OUTLOOK.

Washington, April 27. — President Wilson today canceled his regular weekly conference with newspaper men, owing to the Mexican crisis. To friends the president let it be known that unofficial advices reaching here that Gen. Huerta would accept the good offices of Brazil, Chile and Argentina in an effort to compose the Mexican difficulty was very pleasing to him.

WILD STORIES IN MEXICAN CAPITAL

Newspapers There Print Matter to Excite the People.

Vera Cruz, Mex., April 27.—The newspapers of the capital are publishing stories to the effect that the American forces at Vera Cruz are slaughtering women and children, and the papers call on Mexicans in Mexico City to retaliate in a similar manner.

Other stories printed by the newspapers say that France, Germany, Great Britain and Spain had declared war against the United States, and that American battleships have sunk several ships flying the flags of these nations. Mexicans also are told that the Mexican army has invaded the United States and that the negroes in the Southern states have arisen and are assisting the Mexicans.

SPANISH MINISTER ACTS FOR HUERTA

Germany, France and England Urge Mexican Dictator to Yield to Demands of United States.

President Is Much Encouraged By Turn of Affairs---Berlin Supports Mediation Plan.

Washington, April 27.—Conferences of the Latin-American diplomats representing Brazil, Chile and Argentina, who offered their good offices to compose the Mexican situation, followed quickly today further assuring messages from Mexico City that Gen. Huerta had agreed to the first steps in the intermediation negotiations.

The Spanish ambassador, Mr. Riano, was in early conference with the Argentine minister, Mr. Naon, concerning the next move to be made by the mediators, and Ambassador Da Gama of Brazil, with the Chilean minister, Suarez, and Mr. Naon held a lengthy conference.

Mr. Da Gama, following this conference, called upon Secretary of State Bryan and a statement was expected later in the day relating to the next move to be made in the mediation.

PRESSURE FROM EUROPE.

Soon after Secretary Bryan informed President Wilson of the advices from Mexico City that Huerta had acceded to the preliminary steps in the mediation proposal, further encouragement in the situation came in advices from Berlin that Germany, France and Great Britian had urged Huerta, through their diplomatic representatives in Mexico City, to yield to the American demands. When this was communicated to the president he was greatly pleased.

Later the German ambassador, Count von Bernstorff, informed Secretary Bryan that his government would support the mediation proposal.

The official correspondence showing the mediation offer as made by the ambassadors of Argentina, Brazil and Chile, and the acceptance of the United States, was as follows:

HIGHER RATES, OR GOVERNMENT OWNED ROADS, SAY LAYWERS

Briefs and Arguments Are Submitted in Eastern Rate Case

Threats of Panic Are Suggested By the Carriers.

Reduced Buying Power of Money Given as Vital Factor.

Washington, April 27.—That government ownership of railroads would be a necessary sequence to a refusal of the interstate commerce commission to permit an advance in freight rates—or at least to provide for additional net revenue to the roads—was the suggestion made in briefs and arguments submitted to the commission today in the eastern advance rate case.

When the arguments opened it was suggested by counsel that the proceedings might require five days. Chairman Harlan said, however, that the commission would make no definite allotment of time at present, but later would announce its views as to the time to be consumed in argument.

George Stuart Patterson, general counsel of the Pennsylvania, opened the argument for the railroads.

Voluminous Briefs.

Voluminous briefs on behalf of the thirty-five Eastern railway systems were filed with the Interstate commerce commission today, on the arguments in the rate case hearing.

It is set forth that the purchasing power of money has so decreased in the last eighteen years that money now paid for freight charges is worth 30 per cent less in the market for commodities than in 1896.

The brief submitted by the general counsel of the carriers says:

"The railroads are still required to sell the services at rates of pay even less than those established years ago, after competition had forced them to a low level, and to take their pay in a depreciated currency, while they must buy their labor, buy their materials, borrow their capital and pay their taxes on the basis of present day commodity prices."

Carriers' Conclusions.

After presenting in detail the situation as relating to different roads or groups of roads, the conclusions of the carriers are thus set forth:

"We have shown a steady decline in the return on the money which has gone into the transportation plant.

"After increasing investment 11.74 per cent and gross revenues 15.09 per cent, there was no resultant increase in net operating income; on the contrary there was realized $16,311,321 less net than was earned before the $659,862,588 was added to the property investment."

After reviewing the financial condition of the great systems to show that the railroads, as individual systems, are not earning an adequate return on the money invested in property and equipment, the brief adds:

Quotes Willard.

"It appears (as Mr. Willard of the Baltimore & Ohio said in his opening statement) that 'the new capital invested in railroads in official classification territory, during the last three years, has earned little or no return; in fact, these properties generally are actually earning less net after paying operating expenses and taxes than they were earning at the beginning of the period and before the $659,862,000 had been spent.

"'The result, as might be expected, of this constant tendency toward diminishing net returns, has been to seriously check, if not altogether stop, the normal development of railroad facilities in the territory affected.

"'During the ten-year period these railroads found it necessary to increase their property investment approximately $2,000,000,000, an average of about $200,000,000 per annum; and it is certain that an equal, if not greater, amount per annum will be necessary to meet the requirements of the future.

Problem Is Broad.

"'It is a mistake to think that the problem is merely a question of dividends to railroad stockholders. The problem in a broad and true sense affects all interests, and the outcome of this particular case, whichever way it is decided, will mark an epoch, because it will in effect very largely determine whether we shall, as in the past, continue to look to private capital and private enterprise for our transportation requirements or be compelled finally to accept the only alternative possible.'

"Unless the railroads are permitted to increase their revenues in a reasonable increase in their rates for transportation services so as to help meet the large and permanent increases in the cost of capital, wages, taxes and other expenses, then it will be only a question of time when there will result not merely the reduction or suspension of dividends, but also, in some cases at least, a default in the payment of interest and other obligations.

"Total suspension of dividends by all the railroads, though it would produce a great panic, would not produce the new amount of new capital required."

U. S. CONSUL ARRESTED AND STARS AND STRIPES BURNED BY FEDERALS AT MONTEREY

Official Released By Rebels After Capture of the City.

P. C. Hanna's Report Incenses President and Secretary of State.

Washington, April 27.—United States Consul General Philip C. Hanna, at Monterey, reported to Secretary Bryan last night that he had been humiliated and placed in jail by Mexican Federal officials on April 22, and left behind the bars until released two days later by the Constitutionalists when they captured the city. Mr. Hanna's message to Secretary Bryan was dispatched from Monterey. The secretary took it to the White House at once and it was the subject of a long conference with President Wilson.

President Wilson and Secretary Bryan were greatly incensed upon receiving the dispatch from Consul General Hanna. The counsel reported that mobs led by Federal officials tore down all the American flags in the city, trampled upon them and burned them in the streets.

Upon the arrival of the Constitutionalists Mr. Hanna was released and treated with marked consideration. He said the rebel officers made speeches in front of the state house, giving assurances of full protection to foreigners and noncombatants.

Text of Report.

Counsel Hanna's telegram follows:

"April 24, 1 p. m. On the 21th of April a federal military officer by the name of Capt. Alvarez Del Castillo, evidently instructed by the Federal military commander to tear down all American flags, arrived at this consulate general with a street mob which he had gathered, about 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and pounded on the door and demanded that the American flag over this consulate general be immediately lowered or he would shoot it down, and the other Federal proceeded to tear down all American flags, standing on them, making speeches throughout the city of Monterey, burning some of them and tearing them up and leaving them piled in the middle of the streets.

It was the most insulting act that I or any of the people of Monterey have ever witnessed. They placed the police guard in front of this consulate general, and all the inmates in this building were considered prisoners.

Searched the Consulate.

"The next morning, the 22nd of April, about 10 o'clock, a police lieutenant arrived with a force of men and advised me that he had been instructed to search the building. The insulting search was completed about noon, when your consul general was taken prisoner through the streets with the mob, and carried first to the penitentiary and afterward to the state government palace, which building has been for some time military headquarters and fortified, and was the object of special attack by the then attacking forces.

"While I was placed under heavy guard in the grand reception room of the state, I fully realized that I was constantly being considerably insulted and greatly humiliated, not on account of my personality, but on account of my official position as representative of the United States government in Northern Mexico.

Kept Incommunicado.

"At about 8 o'clock in the evening of April 22 I was taken before the military court and notified that I was charged with being in sympathy with the Constitutionalists' chiefs, and as being friendly to certain Constitutionalist generals and especially Gen. Pablos Gonzales and Gen. Antonio Villareal, was kept a prisoner incommunicado until the evacuation of the city by the Federal forces, and until the arrival of the Constitutionalist forces early this morning.

"There were times during the period when it was believed by many that I would be shot, or carried to the mountains as their prisoner in case the Federals evacuated. However, the evacuation of the city by their forces, Federal, state and police, took place during last night, and I was left entirely alone in the state capitol building, as its sole guardian, for about six hours, without being informed by any individual or officer of their departure.

Constitutionalists Victors.

"The Constitutionalist forces under the command of Gen Pablo Gonzales and Gen. Antonio Villareal and Gen. Castro carried on a successful attack for about five days, which resulted in the defeat of the Federal army, with heavy losses on the part of the Federals and complete rout of all those who were not killed, wounded or taken prisoners.

"The officials of the Constitutionalist army informed me that they heard that I was taken prisoner, and that the American flag was ordered down from over this consulate general. A Constitutionalist officer by the name of Mayor Fierros, with a company of men, hurried to the state palace, where they had heard I was being held prisoner and broke the locked door early this morning, furnishing me with a saddled horse and accompanied me to the suburbs of the city, where I met Gen. Antonio Villareal, who is to be the governor of the state of Nuevo Leon.

Protection to Foreigners.

"In company with Gen. Villareal and some of the foreign consular representatives in Monterey, we proceeded to the state palace, where speeches were made to the people, who assembled in great masses in front of the state house, giving assurances of full protection to all foreigners and non-combatants, and the fullest degree of freedom and protection to all well-disposed, law-abiding people.

"The city is quiet and the feeling of safety and confidence has returned to the people.

"The humane manner in which the battle of Monterey was conducted by the Constitutionalists, is high credit to ideas of humanity and to the things that are right and just. There has been no persecution nor looting of property reported to this consulate general up to now.

"The opinion generally prevails that it is the purpose of the Constitutionalist army to bring about a high type of free government, personal liberty, protection of property, and thoroughly to maintain order and peace. So far the actions of the Constitutionalist army at Monterey are creditable to the civilized age in which we live.

One American Wounded.

"While many Americans have been imprisoned in the past few days by the Federals until this morning, no Americans have been killed nor injured excepting Guy Sawyer, head of the American Printing company, who was seriously wounded at his country home during the first days of the battle. Mr. Sawyer is reported better this morning.

"CONSUL GENERAL HANNA."

DULUTH MAN IN NEW SQUADRON

Lieut. George Joerns Joins the Armored Cruiser Washington.

Lieut. George Joerns, U. S. N., son of W. G. Joerns of Duluth, who has been at home visiting his parents, left Thursday night for New York to join a squadron of battleships and cruisers for service on the Mexican coast. He had been ordered to join the battleship North Carolina, but at the last minute was ordered to join the armored cruiser Washington, which is part of the squadron to be commanded by Rear Admiral Cameron Winslow.

LIEUT. GEORGE JOERNS.

The Washington carries a crew of 900 men. She is armed with four 8-inch guns, sixteen 6-inch guns and twenty-two 3-inch guns of the latest type, and is considered a formidable fighting craft. The squadron consists of the superdreadnoughts New York, flagship, and Texas, armored cruisers Washington and Montana, the cruisers Tacoma, Des Moines, Chester, Salem, Nashville, Dolphin, Castine, Machias, Topeka, Wheeling, Petrel and Eagle. Most of these vessels are adapted for inshore work.

MOUNTAIN GUNS GO TO VERA CRUZ.

Galveston, Tex., April 27.—Three batteries of mountain guns of the Fourth Field artillery sailed from Galveston for Vera Cruz Sunday on the chartered steamer Satilla. Accompanying the transports were 137 men, 11 officers and 23 animals. The command will reach Vera Cruz about the middle of the week. The cavalry will follow in a few days. The Satilla was convoyed by two destroyers.

U. S. S. NEW YORK ON HER WAY SOUTH.

New York, April 27.—The special service squadron's flagship, the battleship New York, with Rear Admiral Winslow's flag flying, left the Brooklyn navy yard on her maiden voyage en route to active service in Mexican waters at 8:50 a. m. Sunday, setting a record for a new warship in promptitude of preparation for going to sea.

AMERICANS REFUSE TO LEAVE VERA CRUZ.

Vera Cruz, Mex., April 27.—Something like a miniature riot occurred among the Americans and other foreigners when notice was posted yesterday that all American non-combatants must leave the city by 4 o'clock, and the refusal of most of these people to obey the order, in spite of its definite character, demonstrated the difficulty that would be encountered if there really were reasons why they should leave.

Apparently the first notice was posted by mistake, as substitute orders later posted explained that the steamer Mexico would sail and that all wishing to go to Galveston must go aboard immediately.

THIS WEEK'S WEATHER

Washington, April 27.—Cloudy skies and frequent rains over most of the country are predicted by the weather bureau for the coming week.

"The week will open with considerable cloudiness, except in the Northwest, but with little or no rain Monday east of the Mississippi," said the bulletin.

"During Tuesday and Wednesday a rain area over the extreme Central West will extend eastward to the lake region and the Ohio valley and will probably reach the Middle Atlantic States and New England about the middle of the week.

"In the Northwest and the extreme West, the week will open fair except in the coast states, where there will be rains which will continue in the first half of the week, and will extend by that time over the middle and northern districts west of the Rocky mountains and probably the Northern states.

"Temperatures will rise Monday in the Northwest and extreme West. They will fall after the middle of the week."

ACCUSES WOMAN OF STEALING CATTLE.

Minot, N. D., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. M. A. Hedine of Douglas, alleged cattle thief, was bound over to the district court of Ward county.

She is accused by E. G. Smith, her neighbor, with appropriating cattle from his herd. She maintains her arrest is spite work, growing out of business differences.

BIG ELEVATOR IS DESTROYED

Loss in Burning of Belt Line Storehouse Nearly $500,000.

Stock of Wheat Goes With Old Town Elevator Sunday Morning.

Complete destruction of the Belt Line grain elevator in the East end at Superior was caused by a fire of unknown origin shortly after midnight Saturday. The estimated damage to the building is placed at $150,000, while the grain destroyed was valued at $325,000. Both the grain and elevator were fully covered by insurance.

The fire in the elevator was discovered about midnight by Frank Bennett, night watchman, who sent a call to the fire department at 12:06 o'clock. A few minutes later a general alarm was sent out and every piece of apparatus in Superior was rushed to the scene of the blaze. All efforts to save the building failed, the walls having fallen during the course of the fire. Considerable credit is given the firemen for confining the blaze to the one structure and keeping the fire from spreading to the Listman mill and the Belt Line elevator annex, which are but 200 feet away.

Hundreds of persons were attracted to the scene of the fire and special police were detailed to keep the large crowd back from the shore. The elevator is located on the Toledo pier in the East end harbor. The building burned rapidly and in a short time was a pile of smoking ruins. Firemen played streams of water on the smouldering debris all day yesterday and nearly all night, for fear of a new blaze starting up and spreading to one of the nearby structures.

The Cargill elevator company purchased the structure but a month ago and officials estimate the total damage as amounting to about $475,000.

The grain was owned by the Peavey company and was fully insured. A blanket policy of $250,000 was carried on the elevator and the annex.

FORMER DULUTHIAN SUDDENLY STRICKEN

P. F. Williams, Railroad Man, Victim of Heart Failure in North Dakota.

Williston, N. D., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—P. F. Williams, aged 51, formerly of Duluth, while attending a dance here, was taken ill, and five minutes after he excused himself from his dancing partner he was dead, being stricken with heart failure, and dying a few rods from the dance hall.

Williams was the yardmaster of the Great Northern here for fifteen years. Previously he resided in Duluth, where he was engaged in railroad work. He originally came from La Crosse, Wis., where he graduated from a business college.

Illegal Fishermen Jailed.

Kindred, N. D., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Serving twenty days each in the county jail is the penalty that will be paid by Charles and Axel Christofferson and Michael Olson, who arrested here on a charge of illegal fishing with a dip net.

DESERTED IN ALASKA; IS GRANTED DIVORCE.

District Judge Cant Saturday signed a decree which granted Mrs. Emma Porter a divorce from her husband, Hibbard E. Porter on the grounds of desertion. The Porters were married at Victoria, B. C., Oct. 26, 1908, and shortly thereafter moved to White Horse, Yukon territory, where Mrs. Porter conducted a boarding house. On April 28, 1910, her husband deserted. She never heard from him again. The court allowed the woman to resume her maiden name, that of Emma Jacobs.

FOUND DEAD IN BED.

Gideon Beaudette, Advanced in Years, Victim of Pneumonia.

Gideon Beaudette, 60 years old, was found dead in his room at the Ryan hotel, 527 West Superior street, by a maid early Saturday afternoon. Following a post-mortem examination yesterday, Deputy Coroner McAuliffe declared that pneumonia was the cause of death.

The body of Beaudette was ordered removed to the Crawford undertaking rooms, where it is being held pending word from relatives. Nothing is known about the dead man, except that he was a cook and came to the local hotel about three years ago.

The maid at the hotel attempted to get in during the morning and believing Beaudette asleep, did not disturb him. When he had failed to awake early in the afternoon, the maid again entered the room and this time discovered that the man was dead.

NEW YORK WAIF IS GIVEN HOME.

Jamestown, N. D., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—"Baby" Alexander, a 1-year-old orphan found on the streets of New York city recently by the Children's Aid Society of New York, has found a new home here with Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Payne. The little one comes to take the place made vacant by death several months ago.

Twelve other New York orphans also found homes in this district Saturday, most of them being adopted into homes in the city, several, however, going into the rural districts.

FIRST MEETING OF FESTIVAL COMMITTEE NEXT MONDAY

Thirty-Two Organizations Will Have Delegates in Attendance.

Prize of $10 Is Offered for the Best Name Suggested.

CHANCE TO EARN $10.

More suggestions are needed by the committee which will choose a name for the 1915 midsummer festival.

The American Exchange National bank has offered a prize to the person sending in the best name for the festival.

Only a few have been received and as the contest will close on May 1, it is urgent that no time be lost.

The name proposed must be written on the outside of a plain sealed envelope containing the sender's name. This should be inclosed in another envelope and mailed to A. K. Squier of the Columbia Clothing company before May 1.

Three judges will select the best name from those sent in, although this name will not necessarily be chosen for the festival. The prize will be awarded May 12.

Make the name bright, snappy and catchy, and descriptive of the fete.

Duluth's proposed pageant and midsummer festival for 1915 will be discussed and tentative plans for staging the affair will be considered at a meeting of committees apopinted by the various civic organizations of the city, Monday evening, May 4, at the Commercial club. The call for the meeting was sent out today by the festival committee of the Duluth Retail Merchants' association, consisting of A. K. Squier, W. B. Brinkman and A. C. Pearson.

A permanent organization for handling the big pageant will be formed. A president, first, second and third vice presidents, secretary, and treasurer will be elected. Other business which will come before the meeting will be the selection of a name, and setting the dates. The American Exchange National bank has offered a $10 prize for the best name and it is probable that the name will be selected from those suggested in the contest.

Thirty-two organizations have affiliated with the summer festival plan and will have representatives at the meeting. One of the latest societies to come in was the French Naturalization club of the West end, which will be represented at the meeting by Peter Grignon, Joseph Lemoignan and Joseph Bourdash.

The list of committees follows:

"PIECE WORKERS" COVERED BY THE COMPENSATION ACT

Judge Fesler Holds They Are Not Independent Contractors.

Decision Most Important, Says State Labor Department Official.

Laborers employed by lumber companies and other corporations at piece work are not "independent contractors" within the meaning of the statute and come within the terms of the workingmen's compensation act, according to an opinion handed down by Judge Bert Fesler in district court today. The decision is an important one in that it gives judicial interpretation of the new employer's liability law in a large number of cases.

The point was raised in two cases which were heard before Judge Fesler on April 13 on the contested claims of Stanley Boshko against the Virginia & Rainy Lake company, and Thomas Larson against the Scott-Graff Lumber company. In Boshko's case, the point was put to a test. Attorney Charles E. Adams, counsel for Boshko, argued that the system of hiring men by the piece as "independent contractors" was a device to evade responsibility under the new law. Howard T. Abbott appeared as attorney on the company's side of the case.

In deciding the Boshko case, the court awarded the plaintiff-employe $1,000 damages payable at the rate of $10 a week for 100 weeks. While working in one of the company's camps on Dec. 29, 1913, a tree branch struck him in the left eye, destroying the sight of the optic. He was being paid for his work by the piece, but had been furnished his tools by the company. There was no disagreement as to the facts in the case and the only question before the court to decide was whether a "piece worker" has the same standing under the compensation law as other employes.

Important Decision.

"The decision is a very important one in my opinion," declared Martin Cole of the state labor department this morning. "There are hundreds of men who hire out in the woods and in other lines of work every season who are paid for what they do under the so-called "piece work" system, and it has always been the contention of the labor department that they were entitled to the same rights under the workingmen's compensation law as other workmen. The matter has never been put up to the courts before, however. The decision will clear up an important point."

Judge Fesler's memorandum in the case is as follows:

"Plaintiff went to defendant's logging camp in the ordinary way and asked for a job. He was put to work on defendant's land cutting defendant's timber. He boarded in defendant's camp. He used defendant's tools with some sort of understanding as to payment for use or breakage of same. The foreman told him where to work and what to do. No term of service was agreed on and no definite quantity of timber was to be cut. So far one cannot say whether he was a 'monthly man' or a 'piece worker.' When he wanted some money, instead of asking for so many days' wages, he asked for a count of the ties and poles and posts which he had cut. Instead of the foreman counting the number of days and issuing a time check accordingly, he counted the number of ties and poles and posts and issued a timecheck accordingly. In either case, the foreman deducted the board bill and the hospital fee and the 'van' account.

Right of Discharge.

"Plaintiff was not told in detail how he should do his work, but he was probably told as much about it as the monthly men were about their work. He was called a 'piece worker.' He had the right to begin work and quit work each day when he pleased. But he and the defendant both profited from his industry if he worked longer each day than the monthly men, and both lost by his idleness if he loafed in camp, although it affected him in greater degree. If he loafed in camp too much, the defendant would have and would exercise the right to discharge him.

"No one can reasonably say he was an independent contractor, or that he was not an employe. He undoubtedly was what is, in the common acceptation of the term in these parts, known as a 'piece worker.' The effect of his employment as such clearly was merely a method of fixing his compensation. Even if some of the characteristics of his particular employment were different or absent, the result would be the same. No one hereabouts employs men by the day or month to make ties, poles or posts. The penalties following inspection of such products are too expensive to permit men to make them on any other basis than by the piece subject to inspection.

"Like considerations compel the same conclusion in employments other than that of getting out timber products. Many manufacturing industries find it more advantageous both to employer and employes to fix the compensation on a 'piece work' basis.

"The same result should be reached by a court from a consideration of the purpose and intent of the framers of the compensation act. If it is a good law when the wage is fixed on a time basis, it ought to be a good law when the wage is fixed on a piece basis. The industry gets the benefit of the workman's product alike in either case. The industry, therefore, should carry the cost of taking care of those maimed or killed in doing its work.

"Decisions have been cited under other compensations acts in other jurisdictions. They are not important. The Minnesota act carries its own definitions, either expressly or impliedly, sufficiently to cover this case and others like it. The act is now on trial. Nothing in the way of judicial construction or legislation should be allowed to hamper the accomplishments of its beneficent purposes or bring its administration into disrepute."

Sets Date for Hearing.

June 6 has been set as the day for hearing in district court on the petition of Edgar Prochnik, Austrian consul, for an order of distribution of the wrongful death funds collected from the Minnesota Steel company for the heirs of Nikola Petrovich, who was accidentally killed Jan. 26, 1913. The Austrian consul collected $1,287 and represents the court that the expenses of himself and attorney are about $225. The remainder he asks to have turned over to a sister, Kata Petrovich, the only heir. She resides in Croatia, Hungary.

HOW FRENCH PEOPLE CURE STOMACH TROUBLE

A household remedy of the French peasantry, consisting of pure vegetable oil, and said to possess wonderful merit in the treatment of stomach, liver and intestinal troubles, has been introduced in this country by George H. Mayr, who for twenty years has been one of the leading down town druggists of Chicago and who himself was cured by its use. So quick and effective is its action that a single dose is usually enough to bring pronounced relief in the most stubborn cases, and many people who have tried it declare they never heard of anything to produce such remarkable results in so short a time. It is known as Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy and can now be had at almost any drug store. It is now sold here by all druggists.

SINALOA AGROUND AT ROUND ISLAND

Tomlinson Steamer Strands in Fog; Was Upbound With Coal.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Thomas Schneck returned this morning from Round island, where the Tomlinson steamer Sinaloa was found aground. The lighter Rescue was sent up to release her. The Sinaloa went aground in the fog Sunday morning loaded with coal for the Head of the Lakes.

The steamer Thomas Adams arrived upbound this morning drawing eighteen feet and ten inches, which was too deep for the canals. The water began to rise, however, about noon and an attempt will be made to take her through the Canadian canal, which allowed a draught of eighteen feet and nine inches.

ADOPT THE SEA GULL AS SYMBOL

Northern Navigation Company Stewards Favored By Bird Epicures.

While the adoption of the sea gull as an identification symbol by the Northern Navigation company may not mean a whole lot to the landsmen, it carries a peculiar significance for seafaring men.

Any one who has traveled the Great Lakes to any extent knows what seamen thing of those hardy birds which hover over the lake highways.

Sailors say the sea gull is a wise old bird and follows only in the wake of those ships from which the refuse is up to its epicurean taste. It is further stated that once a ship is marked by sea-gulls as having "bum chuck," it is extremely hard for that vessel's steward to get back in the good graces of the gulls.

So it may be seen that in establishing the sea gulls as a symbol of the line, the Northern Navigation company is assuming a big responsibility in marine circles.

"We think the sea gull is emblematic of the Great Lakes, and its grace, beauty and swiftness on wing fittingly represents the idea behind the service of our company," said General Passenger Agent Holten of the Northern Navigation company, who is credited with the conception of the sea-gull insignia.

"These hardy birds thrive in large colonies over our Lake Superior route, the Georgian bay course and the 30,000 island highway, for they insist on cool climates in the summer. It is an old story with seamen that you can't sea gulls do not follow, for they know get men to ship aboard a vessel the the ships with lavish mess rooms."

CHANGES MADE IN LIGHTING SERVICE.

The following changes in the coast lighting and service on the Great Lakes are announced by the local branch of the hydrographic office:

About May 1, the color of the structure from which Superior entry inner north pierhead light is exhibited will be changed from white to black.

About May 1, the color of the structure from which Superior entry breakwater light is exhibited will be changed from white to black.

About May 1, the color of the structure from which Vidal Shoals Channel range front light is exhibited will be changed as follows:

The lower half of the tower will be changed from white to black with a vertical white stripe seven feet wide, the white stripes beginning immediately beneath the lantern deck and extending to within seven feet of the base.

Soundings in Menominee harbor and river, Green Bay, Lake Michigan, from the outer ends of the piers to the North Ludington company's sawmill, completed Feb. 12, 1914, indicate some shoaling throughout the channel. The maximum depth that can be carried at the present stage is about 18½ feet.

Soundings in the Fox river, Green Bay, Lake Michigan, below Dupere, completed Feb. 4, indicate a shoal with a minimum depth of about sixteen feet below datum, completely blocking the channel from a point opposite the mouth of Dutchman creek to a point about 3,000 feet downstream. By keeping in the center of the channel a maximum draft of about 13½ feet can be carried at the present stage.

FOR VIOLATION OF LIQUOR LAWS

Saloon Keeper Accused of Having Blind Pig in Pool Room.

Luther Dawson, negro, 40 years old, proprietor of the saloon at 21 West Michigan street, was arrested at 11:20 o'clock Saturday night by Detectives Toewe and Bradley on a charge of keeping an unlicensed drinking place in a poolroom at the rear of the saloon.

The police claim that Dawson has been operating a small bar in the poolroom after the closing hour at 11 o'clock. This room is separated from the saloon by a partition, they claim.

Dawson pleaded not guilty when arraigned in police court this morning and his trial was set for 2 o'clock Friday afternoon. He was allowed to go on payment of $100 bail.

FARGO BAND SCORES HIT

Capacity Audience at the Masonic Temple Greets Musicians.

Ensemble and Solo Work on Program Are of High Order.

Members of the cadet band of the North Dakota Agricultural college of Fargo covered themselves and the school they represent with glory yesterday afternoon at the free Masonic concert which was held in the auditorium of the Masonic temple. The auditorium was filled to capacity with an appreciative audience, and the affair will go down as one of the most successful of the series of free concerts arranged for by the Scottish Rito Masons during the 1913-1914 season.

The band, which consists of thirty pieces, showed excellent ensemble work in all the selections offered, but particularly in Safranek's descriptive suite, "Atlantis," in four movements, which was played in a manner that would indicate that the musicians interpreted the varying emotional themes in a most intelligent manner. The same was true of the Southern medleys by Lampe.

The "Farewell Song" from the "Bird of Paradise" was played as a trombone solo and proved a favorite. A tuba solo by C. F. Guss also elicited considerable applause. Mr. Guss played "The Elephant's Dance," by Putman. Other numbers that were well received were "Lustspiel," by Keler Bela, and King's serenade, "A Night in June."

The college male quartet appeared twice on the afternoon's program and was generous with its encores on both occasions. In Verdi's "Oh, Hail Us, Ye Free," from Ernani, the quartet did excellent work. Among the other numbers rendered were the hymns, "Lead, Kindly Light," and "The Riches of Love."

Prof. A. F. M. Custance during the course of the program made a short address, in which he thanked the Fargo musicians in behalf of the audience for their program. The band left last evening for Fargo.

MEETING NEW COMPETITION

Foreign Manganese Producers Cut Quotations $5 to the Ton.

Incorporation of Range Companies Arouses Eastern Iron Men.

Pittsburg iron and steel manufacturers are much interested in the recent incorporation of the American Manganese Manufacturing company to take over the plant of the Dunbar Furnace company, and the mines of the Cuyuna-Mille Lacs Iron company and the Cuyuna Duluth Iron company.

Big Cut in Prices.

It is said that the foreign ferromanganese producers who have up to the present controlled the American market, are taking steps to meet the competition of the new corporation. For a starter English and German manufacturers have reduced the quotations on their product delivered in this country $5 a ton at one slap. Their figure on manganese is now around $36 a ton as compared with $41, before the American company was formed.

Referring to the situation created through the organization of the American Manganese Manufacturing company, the Pittsburg Gazette says:

"In Pittsburg the plans of the company are arousing keen interest. It will be the first company to manufacture manganese for open market in America. The Carnegie Steel company has been a producer of manganese from imported ores for the Steel Corporation furnaces and mills for some years, but has never done much with the open market, frequently halting to purchase ferro-manganese from abroad to supplement its own supply. In extremely dull times it has sold manganese in small lots. All other manganese has come from English and German producers and until the new Underwood tariff law took effect importations of manganese were made with a stiff duty on it. It is now free of duty.

"The assets of the new company as outlined in the plans of the organizers show that they will include the Dunbar Furnace properties at $2,605,000, the Cuyuna-Duluth Iron company properties at $10,150,000 and the Cuyuna-Mille Lacs Iron company properties at $20,250,000, making a total of $33,005,000.

At Mercy of Foreigners.

"The Dunbar Furnace is located in Fayette county, Pa., south of Greensburg, and is one of the oldest blast furnaces now in the active list. It was originally built in 1790, but has been rebuilt several times since then. It includes not only two stacks, but a silica sand plant, a by-product coke plant and a terminal railroad equipment. It is declared that the furnace property is well located for a manganese producing center.

"At the present time American iron and steel companies are almost entirely at the mercy of the foreign manufacturers of manganese and there have been many occasions when it has been difficult to obtain manganese in sufficient quantities for the American market except at almost prohibitive prices. Plans for the new manganese company indicate, so the steel men say, that it will be especially strong and thoroughly independent should the plans be successful, as it not only would have its own iron and manganese ore, but would have its own furnaces, its own coking coal and a by-product coke plant and all materials within its control that are necessary for the production of manganese alloy."

RAISIN DAY SEEMS TO BE ATTRACTIVE

We have noted with interest that raisin day with the retail stores and dealers generally is proving quite popular, as we find a large number have made a display of the attractive announcement cards furnished by the raisin growers proclaiming Thursday, April 30, as raisin day throughout the land. They all report considerable interest by the consumer and already have been compelled to secure additional supply of raisins to furnish the demand.

COAL MINERS VOTE TO STAY AT WORK.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 27.—The action of the policy committee of the United Mine Workers of America was upheld in recent referendum, according to announcement at international headquarters. This means that the bituminous coal miners will continue at work wherever possible, pending the negotiations of new wage contracts, and not suspend work as in previous years. The committee's report was adopted by a majority of 37,447½ votes. The vote was 89,524 to 52,076½.

FREE SERVICE OF WIRELESS OFFERED.

Washington, April 7.—The Marconi Wireless company has placed at the disposal of the American government free service and preference over all other business, which includes the company's stations on the Atlantic and Pacific coast, and all Marconi equipped vessels in American waters for relay purposes.

CELEBRATE FALL OF MONTEREY

Constitutionalists Hope to Crush Last of Huerta's Army.

Chihuahua, April 27.—The taking of Monterey was celebrated here with band concerts and the ringing of bells. Gen. Antonio Villareal was appointed governor of the state of Nuevo Leon, of which Monterey is the capital, and Nicefaro Amarano was made mayor of the city.

The Federal garrison, which evacuated after six days of heavy fighting, retreated in the direction of Saltillo, where they will serve to reinforce the remainder of the Federal forces which were driven from Torreon and San Pedro, and which constitute the main body of Federals now in the north.

Gen. Villa is now outfitting his army for a campaign against this stronghold, but is being hampered by the embargo which the United States has placed on arms and ammunition.

Monterey is the most important city of Northern Mexico, and before revolutionists drove them out, had a comparatively large American population. It is only 167 miles from Laredo, Tex., has a population of 85,000 and has often been called the Bi-lingual city, because of much English as well as Spanish spoken. Its capture goes far to complete rebel control of the northern states.

SCORE COLORADO MINE OPERATORS

Strikers and Sympathizers Hold Meeting at Denver.

Denver, Colo., April 27.—Colorado strikers and strike sympathizers swarmed over the capitol grounds and corridors at the mass meeting of the Workers' Defense league here Sunday. A heavy rain cut down the meeting to a few hundred persons.

"Mother" Mary Jones, direct from Washington, appeared unannounced and declared that had she stayed in Washington she would have put the strike situation up to the president, but the call of the mass meeting had been too strong to resist.

A resolution was adopted denouncing absentee landlordism, alleging 2,000 miners died because "dividends could not be lessened by the expense of improvements" within the last twenty years; that the state, county and municipal officers "had been purchased, and the election machinery seized, desperadoes hired and militia used as a constant threat."

Pledged Relief.

The resolutions pledged the lives and liberties of the audience to the relief of "twelve thousand men speaking thirty-six tongues" in the strike district who were in revolt; demanded the good will of the troops; the seizure of mines by the state pending agreement by the strikers and operators; the canceling of leases to 13,000 acres of school lands, and the development of the state's coal land acreage; denounced Governor Ammons and Lieut. Governor Fitzgerald, and called upon the special session of the legislature to impeach them.

In conclusion, the resolutions called upon citizens of Colorado to repudiate the $1,000,000 indebtedness because of the activities of the state militia.

DEATH ENDS HIS SUFFERING

Station Agent of Munger Dies as Result of Burns.

After suffering for nearly twenty-four hours from burns received Saturday morning when he poured kerosene on a stove fire in the D. M. & N. station at Munger, where he was the station agent, Martin Carlson, 40 years old, finally succumbed shortly after 7 o'clock yesterday morning at St. Mary's hospital, where he was brought immediately after the accident.

Carlson's clothes caught fire when the kerosene exploded. Several passengers in the station rushed to his rescue and he was carried outside and rolled on the ground in an effort to put out the flames. His clothes were almost all burned off, while he sustained severe burns on his face, hands, and other parts of his body.

Officials of the railroad at Proctor were notified immediately after the accident and a special train was rushed to Munger and the injured man was brought to St. Mary's hospital in Duluth, where all efforts to save his life failed. His condition was considered as hopeless, when he was examined after his arrival here about 11 o'clock Saturday morning. He suffered acutely all day Saturday, finally succumbing early yesterday morning.

The body has been removed to the Olson & Crawford undertaking rooms, where the funeral arrangements will be made today. Carlson is survived by a widow and two children. He was station agent at Munger for several years.

FORT SNELLING SENDS MORE MEN.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 27.—The balance of the hospital corps, Twenty-eighth regiment, U. S. A., which remained at Fort Snelling when the regiment was ordered to Texas some time ago, received orders to proceed at once to Galveston, and left here Sunday.

Chief Operator "Showered."

Ironwood, Mich., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The girls of the local telephone exchange gave a "shower" for Miss Margaret Sullivan, chief operator of the exchange. Miss Sullivan will be married to Royal Adams next month. She was presented with many very beautiful presents.

NO WARNING OF SUMMONS

Death Comes Suddenly to Christian Becklinger of New Duluth.

Falls Dead While Feeding Horse—Wife Finds His Body.

Christian A. Becklinger, 64 years old, owner of the Thompson Furniture company and one of the most prominent business men of New Duluth, dropped dead this morning of heart failure. Death occurred in the barn in the rear of the Becklinger home at 7 o'clock just shortly after he had gone out to feed the family horse.

Mr. Becklinger's death was a surprise to his many friends in the western end of the city as well as a great shock to the family. He had been in the best of health and spirits apparently all day yesterday and had said that he "felt fine" this morning.

At about ten minutes to seven he went out to the barn and he was gone a little longer han usual. Mrs. Becklinger went out to call him for breakfast and not receiving any response investigated further and found him lying on the floor. A physician was called who pronounced him dead.

Mr. Becklinger has been active in business in this end of the city. He owned the controlling interest in the Thompson Furniture factory at New Duluth, took an active interest in the welfare of the suburb and a prominent part in the work of the New Duluth Commercial club. He leaves, besides his widow, three children. They are: Melvin A. Becklinger, Mrs. C. H. Giddings of Duluth, and Miss Ethel Becklinger, who is attending the Thomas normal training school of Detroit, Mich. Miss Becklinger is expected home tomorrow.

The funeral will probably be held Wednesday, afternoon. The complete arrangements have not as yet been made.

FOUR YOUTHS CAUGHT IN ACT

Police Believe They Have Broken Up Gang of Burglars.

Through the work of Patrolman David Perry the police believe that they have caught a gang of youths who have been implicated in a number of burglaries in this end of the city. The officer caught red handed four young men attempting to break into the grocery store of C. Chilstrand, Fifty-ninth avenue west and Raleigh street, Saturday night.

Those arrested as they were breaking into the place were Francis Baudin, 17 years old; Clyde Schardt, 17 years; John Budnick, 23 years, of Superior, and Willlam Hartman, 18 years.

When the officer appeared, the young men had taken several screws from the lock of the door as well as broken parts of the lock which would not come out readily. Two sacks which were evidently to be used for carrying away the loot were also picked up on the doorstep as well as a hammer, screwdriver, revolver of .22 caliber, flashlight and a number of screws that were removed from the door.

One of the young men had in his possession a policeman's star, while others had several rounds of revolver cartridges, although no other gun but the small one was found. A careful search is to be made of the neighborhood for a gun of a larger caliber.

Some of the articles were thrown away by the men while they were being marched from the scene of the attempted burglary to the police station. Among these was the flashlight, which was picked up yesterday at the southern end of the Fifty-ninth avenue bridge.

The quartet will be arranged in police court this afternoon. Lieut. C. E. Wilcox is of the opinion that at least one if not two of the men can give information regarding several attempted burglaries that have taken place in West Duluth, and an investigation is being conducted by the police force.

Peter Setterstrom Dies.

Peter Setterstrom, 50 years old, 2710 Helm street, died at St. Mary's hospital last night following an illness of a week. Surviving him are two daughters and one son. The arrangements for the funeral will be made this afternoon.

VICTIM OF WHITE PLAGUE

Florence Clark Succumbs After Suffering a Relapse.

Florence Clark, 26 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clark 426 North Fifty-second avenue west, died at 2:10 o'clock yesterday of tuberculosis, following an illness of more than a year. A recent relapse after it was believed that she was on the road to recovery caused her death.

Miss Clark lived in West Duluth for seventeen years and had a large circle of friends. She leaves, besides her parents, four sisters, Misses Olive, Myrtle, Edna and Mabel, and three brothers, Roland, Fred and Vernon.

The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon from the residence at at 2:30 o'clock from the Westminster Presbyterian church, Fifty-eighth avenue west and Ramsey street. Rev. W. L. Staub will officiate. Interment will be at Oneota cemetery.

ODD FELLOWS HOLD REUNION

A reunion and banquet held Saturday evening by the Proctor Odd Fellow lodges was attended by 400 members of the order. The affair was held in the Odd Fellows' hall under the auspices of Proctor Lodge, No. 93; Proctor encampment, No. 51, and North Star Rebekah lodge, No. 168.

A large delegation from West Duluth and Duluth attended the celebration, a special train on the D. M., & N. having been provided to carry the Duluth contingent.

A feature was the exemplification of degree work by the degree team of the Rebekah lodge. Among the speakers following the banquet were: F. A. Farnsworth, grand patriarch; F. H. Casner, grand scribe; Mrs. McGillvray, president of the Rebekah assembly; Mrs. Wesley Meed, vice president of the assembly; Rev. J. W. Schenck, grand chaplain; I. von Donilin, grand warden, and C. A. Jensen, grand patriarch-elect.

FOUND AMUSEMENT DRIVING THROUGH MIRE

Emil Stanley, a bartender in West Duluth, insisted on showing residents of Gary how easily he could drive a team of horses through mire at the suburb yesterday and as a result was arrested on a charge of reckless driving. He had become mired in one of the streets and after lashing the horses finally pulled through. Driving around the block he made another attempt to go through and then Patrolman Fred Anderson took a hand. Stanley was taken to the New Duluth police station and the owner of the team notified. Stanley was allowed his freedom on $15 bail to appear before the police court this afternoon.

Royal League Dance.

The last of a series of four private dancing parties to be given by the Pocahontas lodge, No. 319, Royal League, will be given next Monday evening at Dormedy's hall. The invitations for the affair will be out tomorrow. The women in charge of the affair are: Mrs. T. F. Olsen, Mrs. Thoma affair are: Mrs. T. F. Olsen, Mrs. Thomas W. Brain, Mrs. Henry L. Fedi, Mrs. E. W. F. Boerner, Mrs. M. J. Murray, Mrs. W. H. Richter, Mrs. George L. Hise, Mrs. H. L. Liberty, Mrs. Frank M. Ashley and Mrs. Emil J. Zauft.

Members of the West Duluth and Pocahontas councils, Royal League, will be entertained tomorrow evening at another of its parties at the West Duluth Commercial club rooms. The program for the evening is being arranged by Louis Dreck, M. J. Murray and Dr. E. W. Boerner. The affair will be exclusively for members of the lodges.

Annual Concert.

The third annual concert given by the Young People's society of the Bethlehem Lutheran church of Proctor at the Odd Fellows' hall last night was a success. The auditorium was filled to its capacity. Among those taking part in the program were Mrs. Valborg Gunderson Finkelson, A. R. Burquist, Miss Minnie Nelson, and Miss Signe Fayling.

Given Chance to Reform.

Fred Owen, who was arrested on a warrant sworn to by his wife, charging him with drunkenness was given a chance to reform when arraigned in police court Saturday. A fine of $25 and costs or twenty-five days at the county jail was suspended and he was placed under the care of Probation Officer Hicks.

Red Men's Dance.

Haymakers' loft of the Mesaba tribe, I. O. R. M., will entertain tomorrow evening at a dancing party at the Great Eastern hall, 210 North Central avenue. The party is one of a series being planned by the organization. Invitations are being extended to many friends of the order. The committee in charge consists of J. E. Foubister, John Connolly, J. Ramsbottom, Edward Sugars and J. Fitzgibbing.

NO MEXICAN FORCE IS NEAR VERA CRUZ

U. S. Aviators Make Reports of Their Observations.

Washington, April 27.—No trace of Mexican soldiers in the country surrounding Vera Cruz was observed by navy aviators who engaged in scout work over the city and environs yesterday, according to dispatches from Admiral Badger to the navy department.

"Aviators Bellinger and Saufley," the message said, "made a scout flight of one hour and forty minutes at an altitude of 3,000 feet. They covered the territory reaching 10 miles west, 15 miles north and 12 miles south of the city. One burned place was located as well as breaks in the railroad. The San Francisco bridge was found intact, except that the rails had been taken off. Another scout was made at an altitude of 1,200 feet over the environs of the city. No trace of Mexican soldiers was observed."

Admiral Mayo reported that the Tampico district is practically cleared of American citizens.

The steamer Mexico has left Vera Cruz for New Orleans with 393 refugees. The Jason and two destroyers have been at Tuxpam for the last three days collecting the refugees there. The Jason has sailed from Tuxpam for New Orleans with 260 refugees. The Paulding and Patterson will remain at Tuxpam for the present.

Puerto Mexico, Admiral Mayo adds, has been cleared of refugees for the moment, although more are expected to arrive from the interior.

GLASGOW OFFICIALS MINGLE PRAISE WITH CRITICISM

Too Much Politics Here—Personal Property Tax Makes Liars.

Impressed With American Business—Praise for Park Systems.

While emphatic in their declaration that Glasgow leads the world in municipal administration, Bailie Thomas McMillan and Assessor Alexander Walker of that city are discovering various features in which American cities excel as well as some to condemn.

The two distinguished Scots are making a tour of the United States and Canada to study various phases of city government, with special reference to assessments, taxation, bond issues and registration methods.

They arrived yesterday morning and registered at the Spalding hotel and today are the guests of Duluth. This morning they accompanied a party of city, county and Steel corporation officials and J. G. Armson of the state tax commission to the steel plant, which will be viewed with the purpose of fixing its value for taxation purposes, and were shown other points of interest about the city. This evening Clan Stewart will be host to the visiting magistrate and assessor. Dinner will be served at the Commercial club and will be followed by a genuine Scottish program.

Bailie McMillan and Assessor Walker have gathered a vast amount of information relative to American cities during the three weeks they have been in this country. They have made keen deductions from their observations and gave ready expression to their opinions at the Spalding this morning before leaving for the steel plant. Both were affable and pleasant and had just enough "burr" to their conversation to give it the unmistakable Scotch flavor.

Too Much Politics.

Among other they assert;

That politics plays too important a part in the government of American cities and that the sooner this undesirable element is eliminated the sooner they will attain the most businesslike and efficient basis possible.

That the personal property tax is making a nation of liars, inflicting unjust taxation in that the rich often escape their fair share while the poor man cannot do so. They have found universal opposition to personal property taxes and a strong desire to abolish them.

That the system of levying special assessments for street improvements is better than that followed in Glasgow, where these are paid by general taxation. They believe that this would enable their city to do more of this work.

That their registration system is better than that of American cities. In Glasgow the assessor places all eligible voters on the lists at the same time he makes his assessement. These are published and any who may have been omitted have three weeks in which to have their names entered. This results in a full registration and a bigger vote, relieving citizens of undue trouble in exercising their franchise.

That the method of obtaining revenue for government by taxing buildings and real estate is better than the Glasgow rental system, which imposes a tax proportionate to the rental the property would bring. They have found a pronounced sentiment in favor of the single tax and propose to carefully further investigate this question.

Bailie McMillan and Assessor Walker were deeply impressed with the big scale on which business, public and private, is conducted in this country. They expressed their admiration of its swift and expeditious transaction and spoke appreciatively of the courtesy which has been accorded them as well of the attention which they have received.

Park System.

Another feature which attracted them was the park systems of the cities which they have visited. They congratulated the Americans upon the enterprise which they have displayed by securing the ground before the price became excessive. They explained that Glasgow recently razed a section of its slums and converted it into a park and that the cost of the land was approximately $450,000.

Assessor Walker is a hearty advocate of city purchasing systems. He contends that the chief reason some departments object to them is that they object to losing the prestige and prerogatives which are incidental to doing their own buying, but holds that the purchasing system results in material savings and increased efficiency.

Last evening the two visitors were the dinner guests of David Quail of 6009 Tioga street. Mr. Quail is the English consul stationed in Duluth.

COMPLETES PURCHASE OF NEW ORE CARS.

W. A. McGonagle, president of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad, has returned from New York where he completed the purchase of 1,000 steel ore cars, entailing an approximate outlay of $1,200,000.

This order was included in contracts for 3,500 cars placed by the United States Steel corporation with the Pressed Steel Car company and the Standard Steel company, as announced in the Herald a few days ago. The remaining 2,500 cars were taken by the Bessemer & Lake Erie railway, which hauls the corporation's ore from the lake terminals to the various furnaces in the Pittsburg district. An interesting feature is that the contract to supply the journals for the trucks of all these cars was awarded to the Duluth Brass Works company.

The placing of this order by the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad was brought about by the necessity of providing additional equipment to take care of the increased haulage of ore over the road that will come about with the cancellation of the Great Northern Ore Properties lease at the end of the year. At present, according to the contract, the ore from the Hill mines is hauled over the Great Northern railroad. The new cars will be delivered during August and September next.

POST WHEELER IS CLEARED OF CHARGE

Accused Official Will Be Reassigned to Foreign Service.

Washington, April 27.—Post Wheeler, formerly secretary of the American embassy at Rome, whose official conduct has been under investigation for many months, finally has been completely vindicated. This statement was issued by Secretary Bryan:

"The department of state has thoroughly investigated the allegation, unofficially brought in September last, against Post Wheeler, secretary of embassy stationed at Rome, that he had misused customs privileges granted to foreign diplomatic officers by the Italian government in the matter of gasoline.

"The alleged charge has been found to be baseless. This incident has not impaired Mr. Wheeler's status as a diplomatic official of the United States, and he will be reassigned to the foreign service in his grade as soon as arrangements can be made by the department."

GERMANY WORKING TO GET MEDIATION.

Washington, April 27.—Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, informed Secretary Bryan that his government would exert its influence through its embassy in Mexico City to have Gen. Huerta accept the proposed mediation of the controversy between the United States and Mexico. Count von Bernstorff called at the state department and had a brief conference with Secretary Bryan.

REDUCE SPEED OF ARMY TRANSPORTS.

Vera Cruz, April 27.—The transports bringing the brigade of American troops from Galveston under the command of Brig.-Gen. Frederick Funston have reduced their speed in order not to arrive here before late today. It is improbable that the men will land before tonight or tomorrow morning.

Don't make your baby do a grown-up's work

DON'T make him walk before his little legs are strong. Don't make him sit up while his back is weak. Don't make his little stomach fight the heavy cow's milk that even grown-ups have trouble with.

Your baby cannot digest cow's milk—and worse than that, that cow's milk brings sickness—even consumption—to our helpless babies.

No wonder they left us—one in six before the first birthday came around—when most of the dairies of the land are dirty (your government at Washington tells you so); no wonder they stayed thin and weak when one cow in three carries the germs of consumption (the state of New York tells you that). And even if the cow is healthy and the dairy clean—much has to be done to cow's milk before it is light enough and good enough for your baby. And all that is done in that gives your baby the strength and health of mother's milk and the safety of mother's milk. Nurse your baby—even if it is only for a little while—and then if your baby does not gain every week add one feeding a day of Nestlé's Food. Then two feedings, and so on, till the baby is entirely weaned.

Nestlé's is pure milk from healthy cows, milked in clean dairies, purified and changed so that the tiniest, frailest baby can digest it. The heavy, tough curd is made soft and fleecy as in mother's milk, and the special things your baby needs to build a healthy, little body are added. Just add cold water and boil, and it is ready for your baby.

Send for our "Better Babies" Chart.

It tells you all you should know about your baby—how much he should weigh, how big each part of him should be, when he should teeth, walk and talk. With it is a book by Specialists that tells you how to keep your baby well.

Send the coupon for big free sample box of Nestlé's—enough for 12 feedings. Don't delay. Your baby's future health depends on the Food you give him now.

CHURCH THAT SERVES BEST

Is One That Serves the People Best, Says Dr. Gebauer.

Declares Small Light Is Better Than None in Religion.

Dr. George R. Gebauer, pastor of the First Unitarian church, spoke on "Time-Serving and Serving the Times," yesterday. He declared the time-serving church succeeds because it has exactly what the people want. The sermon in part follows:

"There is the time-serving church and the time-serving preacher. By time-serving I mean nothing derogatory, but only the tendency to conform with the prevailing religious notions of the day. The time-serving church generally succeeds best because it has just what the people want. It stands for what is conventional in theology and in life. The preacher preaches certain approved hand-me-down conceptions labelled 'saving truth.' He has early learned to distrust his own reasoning, and quite naturally he will warn others not to think too hard. The aim of such a church is not to make men rely on their own instinct for truth, but to lean on the religious instinct of past ages. By the side of such churches and preachers there are some that look as the mission of religion from an opposite view-point. The preacher cares not so much for the thing handed to him by those of olden days, and to pass it on, as he endeavors to give out of himself the truth as God has given him. He endeavors to train his people into independence of thought, into the freedom of the sons of God, and he will rejoice when his people differ from him in their conception of truth. He preaches truth for authority and not authority for truth. He does not serve the spirit of the time, but the spirit of eternity which speaks to men in various language.

Freedom of Faith.

"Where this freedom of faith is, there too is a deep respect for freedom in the affairs of life. A man who is undogmatic in matters of religion will needs be undogmatic in matters of politics, social reform, ethical theories. He will take his stand squarely against everything that is not in harmony with his fundamental faith in freedom. Yet at the same time, paradoxical as it may appear—from his high vantage ground of freedom he will be able to see that there is a place even for the things that make for dependence. He will abhor fanaticism, yet he will not despise the fanatic, who honestly works for good as he sees it in his narrow way. He sees in his endeavors simply the expression of a retarded moral development, and his mistaken enthusiasm comes to him as a challenge. While this applies to all matters of life, it has a special bearing in regard to matters concerning religion.

The Liberal Man's View.

The liberal man who serves his God and his time takes a pragmatic view of life. He realizes that all things of human life truth is something functional, something that is quickening man's thought for good. He recognizes that that thought is most true which is most helpful for life. He sees not only that the trtuh of one day becomes the error of the next, but that what we call error today meant once a deep truth, and that it led the way to what we cherish as truth. History bears him out in this. The natural-scientific teaching of Aristotle was hailed as truth in the Thirteenth century, to us of today it is crude and erroneous, yet without Aristotle there would be no Darwin and his compeers. The open-minded sees in astrology not a mere superstition by a pragmatic truth which led to scientific astronomy. In chemistry he sees the child of alchemism, which had its truth for its time. Without Paracelsus perhaps no Roentgen and Currie and Ramsey. So we judge in love the errors of the past because they contained truth which led to greater truth. And so the liberal man judges the errors of today in the same way. He sees in them past truths carried into the present. Should we not eliminate the things of the past? Certainly, if we can put in their place the higher things of today.

Slogans of Development.

"Let us bear in mind, that the stages of human development are not merely successive but also simultaneous. The tallow-dip was succeeded by the little oil lamp, and then came the kerosene lamp, gas, and finally the electric light with its higher splendor. Yet in spite of electricity some people still believe in the odoriferous kerosene lamp, and even the tallow candle has its devotees.

"So it is in religion. The tallow-dip of superstitious faith with its tiny light of faith, the oil-lamp and the electric light are all with us. Why then quarrel with the facts of life, why hate the men who honestly believe in their little tallow candle, because the arc light hurts their eyes? Do you fear because a good many like the oil lamp, the world is going to smash all the electric arc lights? Let whoever loves the dimmer light use it, and rejoice with him when in it he sees his way to duty and love. And if you would take away his little light, see that his house is properly wired for electricity and beware of poor insulation which may cause the house of faith to burn down.

SERMON TO ODD FELLOWS

Dr. Yost Preaches at First Presbyterian on Brotherliness.

Many Members Attend and Hear Story of Jonathan's Friendship.

The Odd Fellows and Rebekahs of Duluth attended the First Presbyterian church in a body yesterday morning and listened to a sermon by Rev. Robert Yost, the pastor, on "The Spirit of Brotherliness." The members of the two orders gathered at Odd Fellows' hall, 18 Lake avenue north, at 9:45 in the morning and at 10 o'clock formed in line and marched to the church. Many of them were in line and many others went to the church directly from their homes. The whole center of the auditorium was given up to the visiting members, many of whom were in uniform. The occasion was the celebration of the ninety-fifth anniversary of the founding of the order of Odd Fellows. The order was organized on April 26, 1918.

In preparation for his sermon, Dr. Yost took his scripture lesson from 1 Samuel xx, 1-17, which tells the story of David and Jonathan. It was the character of Johnathan which the minister took as best illustrating the spirit of brotherliness. Dr. Yost's analysis of Jonathan's position might be tersely described as pointing out that in his friendship for David, Jonathan had all to lose and nothing to win, as measured by worldly standards.

Dr. Yost pointed out that when King Saul threw the javelin at David, having murder in his heart for the sweet singer of Israel, who was winning the hearts of the people, he was not only trying to preserve his kingdom but to have it for his son as well. And yet, Dr. Yost pointed out, Jonathan, who must have realized the feeling and the object, put out his hand, receiving in it the javelin, and thus saved his friend's life.

"There can be scarcely anything finer than the character of Jonathan," said Dr. Yost. "In the position of David we can see where his friendship for Jonathan could be selfish, for it was entirely receptive and he was in no danger of sacrificing. The friendship of the king's son and heir cost nothing but a friendly showing in return. That of Jonathan toward David, however, was fraught with sacrifice. That word, 'sacrifice' is the one that best describes true friendship; and Jonathan truly sacrificed. If he sacrificed something that he did not want it would not be true sacrifice; that is the way that it is measured—by its value in the eyes of the giver. But it could not be that Jonathan did not want to rule and govern his country, for he died fighting for his country and for his father's throne in the mountains of Gilboa; therefore the kingdom and the power accompanying it must have had some value in the eyes of Jonathan; but he would not estrange his friend, David, who was his father's most dangerous enemy."

In conclusion Dr. Yost declared that while the friendship of Jonathan was one of the finest things in history, that of Christ is infinitely finer.

"There can be nothing finer than the sacrifice of Christ," said Dr. Yost. "He came upon this earth, taking human form, suffering human pain, and dying a human death on the cross that we might be saved. I ask you, who are advocates before us of the spirit of brotherliness, to accept of that greater and more magnificent brotherliness which may be had for the asking."

CHRIST BASIS OF BEST SUCCESS

Dr. Hoffman Urges Young Men to Adopt Christian Teachings.

The necessity of following the teachings of Christ to attain the best success in life was emphasized by Dr. John W. Hoffman, pastor of the First M. E. church, who spoke at the Young Men's Christian association yesterday afternoon on the subject, "Without Me Ye Can Do Nothing."

The speaker discussed various forms of business, how men succeeded in making money and attained worldly prominence without adhering strictly to divine instruction, and then showed how their success might have been greater if they had followed more closely Christ's teaching.

Rev. H. A. Ofstie, pastor of the Norwegian-Danish church, sang two solos.

IRONWOOD FUNERAL.

Last Rites for Mrs. Curry, Pioneer, Attended By Duluth Couple.

Ironwood, Mich., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Mrs. Solomon S. Curry was held Saturday afternoon from the home, being conducted by Rev. J. A. Melrose, pastor of the Presbyterian church, assisted by Rev. A. E. Healey, pastor of the First M. E. church. Prof J. C. Watson sang "The Plains of Peace." Interment followed at Riverside. Mrs. Curry's maiden name was Elizabeth Stoup. She was born in Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 28, 1847, and was married to Solomon S. Curry on Nov. 13, 1867, at Marquette, Mich. She is survived by her husband and three children, George A. Curry of this city, Mrs. Ralph Bartlett and an adopted daughter, Miss Belle Curry of Newton, Mass.; two brothers, Henry and Charles of Ypsilanti, Mich., and a sister, Mrs. H. G. Williams of Minneapolis.

Mrs. Curry's death removes another of Ironwood's early pioneers. Coming here in 1888, she and her husband have been closely identified with the development of Ironwood. Mrs. Curry was a woman of refinement, talent and culture, and will be greatly missed in this city.

The following relatives were among those present at the funeral from out of town: Mr. and Mrs. C. B. King of Duluth; Mrs. Clinton Grinols of St. Cloud, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bartlett and family; Miss Belle Curry, Newton, Mass., and Dr. and Mrs. J. A. McLeod of Milwaukee.

Milton, N. D., Quarantine.

Milton, N. D., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rigid quarantine regulations are to be established in this section as a result of the reports of smallpox. Children are to be prohibited from attending schools if they have in the least been exposed to infection.

Barber Is Bootlegger.

Knox, N. D., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Bootlegging was the charge preferred against Stanley Benton, a barber. He pleaded guilty when taken to Minnewaukon and will undoubtedly be sent to the state prison when taken before Judge Buttz.

TELLS WHERE THE DEAD ARE

J. L. Rutherford, New York Attorney, Addresses Big Audiences at Lyceum.

Declares Dead Await Resurrection With Second Coming of Christ.

"Where Are the Dead?" proved to be a question of deep interest to Duluthians. Yesterday afternoon they filled the Lyceum to overflowing to hear J. F. Rutherford, prominent New York attorney, discuss the subject.

Fully 500 had to be turned away before the lecture began and the Lyceum was immediately secured for a night meeting, when another large audience heard Mr. Rutherford discuss "In the Resurrection, Where Will You Be?" In the afternoon the speaker said in part:

"The question, "Where Are the Dead?" is vital to all. Its correct answer is absolutely essential to a proper understanding of the plan of God. Our denominational creeds have proferred answers, but since these differ, it is necessary for us to examine the Bible testimony to determine whether any creed has answered correctly.

"The Catholic creed answers: The dead are not dead, but alive and conscious, the very good in heaven; those not so good are suffering in purgatory, and the wicked in hell, suffering endless torture.

"Protestant creed answer: The dead are not dead, but immediately at death they become more alive than before death, being fully conscious, the good passing at once to heaven, and all others to hell—a place of everlasting torment with no hope of relief.

"All creeds declare that God made provision for the tortures of purgatory and hell. The Bible declares, 'God is love,' 'Justice is the foundation of His theme.' The doctrine of eternal torture is wholly repugnant to the principles of love and justice, hence a foul defamation of God's character and holy name.

Man Is a Soul.

"God made man a living soul. Man is a soul.)Gen. ii., 7.) He was given the right to life so lnog as he obeyed God's law, death being the penalty prescribed for a violation of that law. (Gen. ii., 17.) We read, 'The soul that sinneth, it shall die.' (Ezek. xviii., 4.) Adam violated God's law and was sentenced to death, God declaring, 'Dust thou art, and to dust shalt thou return. (Gen. iii., 17-24.) From the moment Adam was driven from Eden he was legally dead—his right to life ceased, and he there began to die, and 930 years later was actually and completely dead.

"The statement, 'There is no death,' originated with Satan, who declared to Eve, 'Ye shall surely not die.' This was the first lie, and referring to this Jesus said, 'Satan is a liar, the father of lies and a murderer.' (John viii., 44). The creeds on this point find their support only in Satan's lie, and are disproved by God's Word of Truth. Shall we believe God or Satan?

All Born Legally Dead.

"Legally dead means without right to life. All of Adam's children were begotten and born after he was sentenced to death and undergoing the dying process, hence all inherited the penalty, as the Scriptures teach. (Rom. v., 12; Psa. li., 5). All were born without right to life, hence all were sinners. Billions have died. Where are they and are they conscious? The Bible answers, 'The dead know not anything.' 'There is no knowledge in the grave, where all go.' (Eccles. ix., 5, 10). They are all out of existence, hence unconscious. (See Psa. vi., 5; lxxxviii., 10-12; cxv., 17). Therefore, they could not be in torment.

"But where are they? In hell, the Bible answers, not a place of torment, but in the tomb—oblivion, silence. The Hebrew word sheol rendered 'hell' in our Bibles, and the Greek word 'hades' both mean the tomb, and not torment. No word in the Bible translated 'hell' in any sense means torment. All the learned ministers know this statement to be true. They do not believe in the hell of their creeds.

Redemption—Resurrection.

"Death would mean everlasting extinction except for the fact that God has provided for the redemption of mankind through the death and resurrection of His beloved Son, Jesus Christ. (Hosea xiii., 14; John iii., 16). Adam's offspring being born without the right to life, Jesus came 'that they (men) might have life,' (John x., 10), and He died in order to purchase and provide this right for men. (1 Tim. ii., 4-6; Heb. ii., 9-17). His death and resurrection is a guarantee that all men shall have a chance to live, as the Bible declares in Acts xvii., 31; Romans iv., 25; 1 Cor. xv., 20-26. The hope for the dead is in the resurrection by Jesus Christ, who said, 'All in their graves shall come forth, the good to a resurrection of life, the evil to the resurrection by judgments.' (John v., 28-29). Jesus is the best witness as to the condition of the dead. He declared that they are neither in heaven (John iii., 13), purgatory nor torment, but that they are actually dead, in the graves, waiting for the resurrection—which resurrection does not take place until the second coming of Christ. (1 Thess. iv., 14-16). Then shall come 'times of refreshing,' and all the dead shall be awakened out of the sleep of death, and be given a trial for life, and all who, under full knowledge of the truth then refuse to obey, shall be destroyed in the second death from which there is no resurrection, and all who obey the Lord shall be fully restored to that which Adam lost, namely, the right to life on earth."

ON THE INCURABILITY OF BRIGHTS DISEASE

Suppose we agree with those who believe Bright's Disease incurable and use the term "life prolonged." Now let us cite three cases.

It was 22 years ago that the daughter of the late N. W. Spalding, then Mayor of Oakland, was at the end of a long siege of Bright's Disease with dropsy and looked upon as hopeless. It was 24 years ago that Mrs. M. Empey of Steiner Street was in such a condition due to Bright's Disease and dropsy that "two of our best physicians" gave her up. It was 14 years ago that "the most noted analyst in this city" passed on the genuineness of the supposed incurable case of Bright's Disease of Editor R. M. Wood of this City.

All of the above are pursuing their daily avocations at this writing, January, 1914.

The ability of Fulton's Renal Compound to reduce albumen in many cases of Bright's Disease is not a matter of opinion but a FACT IN PHYSICS and we will mail formula for albumen test that will show the percentage from week to week. As the albumen declines, improvement commonly follows, recoveries having been reported in thousands of cases. Formula and literature sent on request. John J. Fulton Co., San Francisco. BRIDGE PLAN IS OPPOSED Superior Realty Men Protest Against Span Over St. Louis River.

Structure Already Built at New Duluth Basis of Objection.

Opposition to the proposed bridge across the St. Louis river at Fond du Lac, authorized by the county commissioners, April 6, has developed. Superior real estate men, through the Superior Commercial club, have filed a vigorous protest with the congressional committee at Washington, which is considering a bill introduced by Congressman Miller, to allow the St. Louis river, an interstate navigable stream, to be spanned.

Leuroot Presents Protest.

Congressman Leuroot of Wisconsin formally presented the protest from the Superior business and real estate men about a week ago. The matter came to the attention of Congressman Miller, who immediately notified Odin Halden, county auditor, and the county commissioners. Data has been prepared and sent back to Mr. Miller for use before the congressional committee when the bill comes on for a hearing.

Objection to the bridge is based on the ground that there is a bridge already built across the river at New Duluth by the Minnesota Steel company. It is said that the city of Duluth is attempting to evade the construction of an approach on the Minnesota side, which, it is asserted would give St. Louis county a direct outlet to the main highways leading to the Twin Cities.

Direct Route Wanted.

"The steel plant bridge does not concern St. Louis county in the least," declared Charles E. Adams, special county counsel. "It is a question for the cities of Duluth, Superior and the steel company. St. Louis county wants a direct route to the Twin Cities and the proposed project which will connect with the northern terminus of the Military road into Carlton county will give the county just what it wants. The building of an approach to the steel company's bridge at New Duluth is not feasible for numerous reasons, principally because it is several miles away from the main thoroughfares to the Twin Cities."

The bridge, as proposed at Fond du Lac, will cost the county $35,000, exclusive of engineering expenses.

West End

ESMOND HOTEL IS SCORCHED

Fire Damages Building and Fixtures to Extent of $4,500.

Fire damaged the Esmond hotel, Twentieth avenue west and Michigan street, to the extent of about $4,500 last evening. The tiling on the first floor is believed to be the only thing that saved the building from complete destruction.

The blaze was discovered when a trace of smoke was seen in the dining room about 5:30 o'clock. All of the guests were in the dining rooms at the time. In going into the lobby, the office was found to be full of smoke and an alarm was turned in.

The fire had started from some unknown cause in the basement underneath the kitchen. It is thought that it had been smouldering there for some time before being discovered. The tile floor kept the flames in check.

Owing to difficulty in locating the blaze the firemen had considerable trouble in putting it out and worked at it for more than three hours. The fire was confined principally to the basement and the first floor.

Manuel Rankin, manager of the hotel, took charge of the Esmond early last winter. It has just recently been remodeled. Many of the guests were last night required to seek other quarters but it is expected to have the upper floors aired out sufficiently this evening, so that they can be accommodated tonight.

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

ORPHEUM—Vaudeville.
EMPRESS—Vaudeville.

AT THE ORPHEUM.

Audience Applauds Motion Pictures of the American Battleships.

Motion pictures, as a rule, do not draw applause. The silent actors do not expect it, and about the only pictures that ever evoke it are those of candidates just before election.

But when the Hearst-Selig film at the Orpheum yesterday showed the big United States battleship Texas steaming under the Brooklyn bridge, with flags flying, the Orpheum audience broke into applause, indicative of the feelings of patriotism the Mexican trouble has aroused.

Singing predominates in the new bill, and all but two of the acts contain vocal numbers, but they are varied, and the program as a whole is entertaining.

The best of the vocalists is Mrs. Byrd Frost Crowell, a St. Paul woman, who made her vaudeville debut last week in her home city. Mrs. Crowell is a member of the Schubert club there, and well known to Duluth musicians. Her three numbers, "Isle D'Amour," "Song of My Soul" and "Rose in the Bud," are not of the type usually heard in vaudeville, but the audience yesterday appreciated them sufficiently to demand an encore. Mrs. Crowell has an exceptional soprano voice, showing evidences of very careful training, and with a charming stage presence and an attractive personality she should make a success of vaudeville.

Dainty Marie, who headlines the week's bill, also sings, but this is a small part of her act, which consists of acrobatic work on the aerial rings and some artistic posing on a canvas rope. Miss Marie was heralded as the woman with a perfect figure, and she makes no attempt to hide her light under a bushel. Her Annette Kellermann costume gave those who doubted her claims a chance to see for themselves. While the costume is daring, the act is an attractive one.

The Ricci Trio offer both vocal selections and some violin numbers. The young woman of the act sings well, and the man is a finished violinist. He plays semi-popular selections, and the act was a hit yesterday.

McMahon, Diamond and Clemence, two tiny young women and a man, sing a little and dance considerably. Their dancing is excellent, especially the "scarecrow" number, which is a clever novelty. Their work scored heavily with the Sunday audience.

Herbert Ashley and Al Canfield offer a little talking skit, and finish with some parodies on popular songs of the day. The parodies proved popular, and kept the two men responding to encores.

An exceptional athletic turn opens the bill. Of the many athletes who have been seen at the Orpheum, none have been better than the Reuter Brothers. Love and Wilbur close the bill, with an attractively staged ring act.

The bill, which is the last but one of the Orpheum season, will continue all week with a daily matinee.

AT THE EMPRESS.

"The Great Griffith," Hypnotist, Opens Four-Days' Engagement.

It has been many months since Duluth has seen a hypnotist. One of the members of this fraternity who calls himself "The Great Griffith," opened a four days' engagement at the Empress theater yesterday.

The great one heralded his coming by placing a young man "under the influence" by means of the long distance telephone and having him displayed in a downtown store window, apparently in a peaceful sleep. The window exhibit attracted a large crowd all day yesterday.

Griffith's performance is of the usual type presented by hynotists. Assisted by two young women and half a dozen young men he put on the usual type of hypnotist's show, which seemed to provide considerable amusement for a part of the audience. Others did not derive so great a measure of entertainment from the stunts of the hypnotist and his "subjects."

It is an easy mater for such performers to fail to distinguish between what is merely funny and harmless in an exhibition of hypnotism and those stunts which are unpleasant. Griffith should revise his program and eliminate several tricks which his subjects perform.

A decade ago hypnotist shows were almost as common as minstrel troupes, but of recent years they have been few and far between. Griffith is one of the few remaining. Many of the younger generation of theater-goers have not seen this form of entertainment and the three performances yesterday were witnessed by big audiences. Griffith will close his engagement Wednesday night and a vaudeville bill will open Thursday.

AT THE LYCEUM.

Richard Bennett Coming to Duluth in "Damaged Goods."

The playgoing public reads constantly of the luxury in which various actors and actresses travel. Sarah Bernhardt and her two private cars; Sothern and Marlowe, who rent a dwelling in every city where they remain a week; Billie Burke, who must have special accommodations on the Pullman cars for her pet dogs, and in former days Mrs. Leslie Carter had to have two (or was it three?) motor cars. But all of these have been surpassed by Richard Bennett, the star and producer of "Damaged Goods," who enjoys the infinitely saner luxury of traveling with his family. Mrs. Bennett is a member of the "Damaged Goods" cast, playing the important role of The Girl, under her maiden name of Adrienne Morrison. And when the "Damaged Goods" organization left New York in September for the all-year tour in the remarkable Brieux play, not only were Mr. and Mrs. Bennett among those present, but the three little Bennetts as well—three beautiful daughters. They are Constance, age 9; Barbara, age 7, and Joan, age 3. The children are attended by a governess, and they will remain with their parents during the entire transcontinental tour, which ends in August.

Travel is not a novelty to the little Misses Bennett, however, for each one of them has to her credit a trip across the continent for every year of her life, as they have always accompanied their father and mother to Los Angeles from New York every summer. Mr. Bennett is a great favorite on the Pacific coast, where he plays a stock star engagement of from ten to twelve weeks every year.

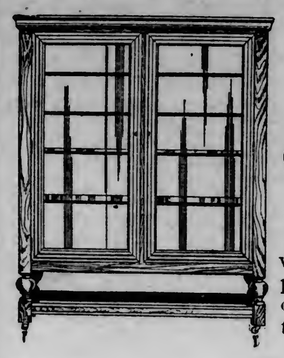
Constance, the oldest of the girls, is a transatlantic traveler, too. When she was one month old she was taken to England for a summer outing. She was a delicate baby and Mr. and Mrs. Bennett had to carry all her laboratory-prepared nourishment, packed in ice, for the entire ocean voyage. At Liverpool a fresh supply was waiting at the docks, having been shipped from a London laboratory, upon cable orders.

The chief recreation of the Bennett children is motoring with their parents. Mr. Bennett carries on tour with him a five-passenger automobile.

The Duluth engagement will open Thursday.

TRAVELING MAN IN HEROIC STUNT

Risks Life in Burning North Dakota Hotel to Save Children.



Regent, N. D., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—O. E. Hale, a traveling man, saved two children when the Johnson hotel here was burned. Hale was badly injured.

Awakened in the early hours of the morning by the crackling of the flames, Hale rushed through the building, arousing inmates. All escaped except two children on the upper floor, and it was not till everyone else got to the street that they were missed.

Hale rushed back into the building, reaching the rooms occupied by the children, only to have escape cut off by the flames on the stairs. Hale then broke a window, throwing the children into an improvised net of blankets, one side of which was held up by the mother of the babies.

Hale escaped by leaping to the roof of a "lean-to." He was badly burned, but his injuries are not serious.

SUCCUMBS TO LONG ILLNESS

Dr. J. C. Rosser, State Pioneer, Dies at Home of Daughter.

Dr. John C. Rosser, 73 years old, pioneer resident of Minnesota, who served as a steward in the Confederate army during the Civil war, died at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. W. R. Peyton, 1605 East Second street, where he had made his home for the last six months.

Dr. Rosser formerly lived at Anoka, but about six months ago he and Mrs. Rosser came to Duluth, where the former hoped to convalesce from an operation he underwent at St. Paul a year ago. He has been failing constantly since the operation was performed and his death Saturday was not unexpected by members of the family.

DR. JOHN C. ROSSER.

Dr. Rosser was born in Campbell county, Va., Dec. 2, 1840. He served as a steward during the Civil war, afterwards completing a medical course at Jefferson college, where he was graduated in 1867. Shortly after he came to Minneapolis in company with his brother, Gen. Thomas L. Rosser, at the time when the Northern Pacific was being built. He was appointed chief surgeon of the road and he remained at Brainerd for more than twenty years. Dr. Rosser then moved to Anoka, where he lived up to six months ago.

Besides a widow, Dr. Rosser is survived by four daughters and one son. They are Mrs. W. R. Peyton of Duluth, Mrs. J. C. Geggie of Minneapolis, Mrs. George L. Chesebrough of Duluth, Mrs. Frank Morrison and John C. Rosser, Jr., of Gilman, Mont.

The body of Dr. Rosser was this afternoon taken to Minneapolis, where it will be interred in the Lakewood cemetery tomorrow afternoon.

Man Drowns at Green Bay.

Green Bay, Wis., April 27.—Henry Kleine, shipping clerk for the Morley-Murphy company, was drowned at the company's dock when he attempted to reach the dock from a launch. Edward Ness heard the splash and jumped into the river in an attempt to rescue the man.

GERMAN MORALISTS AND ARTISTS WAR

Waging Battle Over Limits of Propriety in Nude Art.

Berlin, April 27.—German moralists and artists are waging battle over the question of what are the limits of propriety in nude art.

After a long campaign for the "protection of the youth against filth in word and picture," as the movement is termed, the moralists have succeeded in getting a bill before parliament for a law stamping as indecent pictures which might "arouse the phantasies of unripe youth."

The Goethe association, an organization of artists and literary men and women, has risen in protest. At a recent meeting Dr. Ludwig Fulda referred to the recent decision of the imperial supreme court in the cases arising from the confiscation by the police of a great quantity of postcard reproductions of famous paintings. This court held that the provision of the law stamping as indecent works which "tend to cause offense to or injure the feelings of modesty of a normal person" clearly contemplated a normal adult person, and that pictures were not necessarily indecent from the mere fact that they might "arouse the phantasies of unripe youth." The court also ruled that nudity is not in itself indecency. This latter ruling, said Dr. Fulda, was indubitably a vote of confidence in the Creator of all things.

The measure to which the Goethe association object seems to counteract the ruling of the supreme court. It provides that adults may legally "take offense" at pictures, books, etc., which they consider a menace to youth. The term "normal person" is replaced by "person," and the provision of the existing law requiring that criminal intent be shown is dropped.

Dr. Fulda, as well as the speakers who followed him at the protest meeting, declared that the proposed law would "put all Germans into the nursery." It constituted an unreasonable guardianship of adults in its efforts to guard children. It would mean that works of art would be judged from the viewpoint of the immature, and that would mean in turn that art would be throttled. The Goethe association, said Dr. Fulda, was also interested in the welfare of the youth and in their protection against evil influences, but this was the work of the family. The unripeness of youth must not be made the standard for judging works of art.

Defenders of the proposed law declare that, apart from the recent postcard confiscations, which are generally admitted to have been rather ludicrous exhibitions of misused zeal, both pictorial and literary art have extended protection in Germany. The new law, they point out, is chiefly designed to do away with immodest exhibitions in shop windows.

A very considerable number of artists in Germany maintain that there is no possible subject which a painter or sculptor cannot properly handle. If his work is artistic, they declare, it must be free from interference, no matter what subject is represented. The views of this school were recently summed up by a satirical writer as follows:

"The test of whether a painting is a true work of art is this: If, when you look at it, it causes no evil thoughts, that proves that it is a work of art. If it does cause evil thoughts, that proves that you are a hog."

OBSERVATIONS

—By PEGGY PEABODY—

Meddlesome Mother-in-Law a Nuisance.

It always strikes me as the height of mother folly for one to talk against her son-in-law and try to poison her own child's mind against the man she has married. Picture the woman who smiles graciously as the wedding ceremony proceeds and the solemn words binding her daughter to another fall upon her ears, attempting the sundering of the tie a few months later.

I rather admire the woman — the mother of breadth and wisdom — who is rather inclined to side with the son or daughter-in-law in all family difficulties when she can do so consistently. It is a sure guarantee that if there is any serious, lasting trouble between the young couple that she does not intend that it shall be of her own making. It is natural to side with your own flesh and blood, but in that direction trouble lies. It is safer to be neutral whenever possible.

There is nothing better calculated to prolong domestic differences than the interferences of a third party, and that third party a member of either family. Rarely does the outsider effect anything but further misunderstanding and trouble. Probably the arch-conspirators in such matters are the mothers of some young husbands and inexperienced wives.

One mother of my acquaintance is continually telling her daughter tales of perfidy involving the husbands of other women. She takes it very much to heart that so many wives are deceived, and then without stopping to catch her breath, asks what it was that kept her daughter's John out till midnight Friday night. Daughter had been well content with John's voluntary explanation of his evening away from home, but now that her mother has mentioned it in another light the seed of suspicion is planted.

There is a type of mother who will not permit herself the luxury of a good son-in-law or daughter-in-law, as the case may be. She goes through life darkly hinting to others of the awful fate a son or daughter has met in marriage and broadly insinuating to son or daughter that husband or wife is an impossible creature. Such meddling mothers deserve strenuous treatment for their sin of interference.

EIGHTH DISTRICT DEMOCRATS MAKE A WISE CHOICE.

The Democrats of the Eighth congressional district having assembled in conference to select a candidate for congress, their choice unanimously and with enthusiasm fell upon Andrew Nelson of Duluth.

They could not, we are sure, have done better.

In Mr. Nelson they have an upstanding, cleancut, able and appealing standard-bearer.

They have a man who can voice the faith that is in him with eloquence and conviction.

They have a man who stands squarely for the principles made splendid by the achievements and high purposes of Woodrow Wilson.

They have a man who, far from being compelled by considerations of party expediency to block the achievements of a Democratic president, will throw himself heart and soul to the support of that president who has already done so much to endear himself to American patriotism and to gain the confidence of an alert and vigilant American public spirit.

They have a man who not only has the will but the ability to cooperate with the president in all earnestness, sincerity, courage and good faith.

The Eighth district did not cast its vote for Woodrow Wilson two years ago. We guess it is sorry now it didn't, and if it had it to do over again its vote would be different.

In the meantime, it can do a great deal to show its heart and to uphold the president's hand by electing a Democrat to congress.

And if it elects Andrew Nelson, we are sure that it will never regret it.

The Eighth district Democrats are to be congratulated on the wisdom of their choice.

Villa says he can capture Mexico City if the Americans remain at Vera Cruz. He might have added that if the Americans go beyond Vera Cruz, he won't have to capture Mexico City.

THE WAR IN COLORADO.

Meanwhile, civil war has prevailed in Colorado, where because of a labor dispute in the mines more Americans have been killed than have given up their lives in Mexico.

Why?

Why is American soil soaked in American blood, shed because of a difference over wages that in a condition of civilization would be decided by arbitration without even a day's suspension of operations?

One reason is supplied by the testimony of young Mr. Rockefeller before the congressional investigating committee at Washington—that the directors of these mining companies are too busy to know how it is with their employes.

Can they escape their full share of the guilt of this blood-shedding?

The Japanese have a kind of goldfish that they call Shishigshira Ranchu. It must strain the vocal chords to have to call a pet like that.

CLAPP AND NELSON—PARTISANS.

One of the most disgraceful episodes in American life was the sordid spectacle in the senate last week when that body wrangled and quibbled and played party politics over the administration's attitude toward Mexico.

Had the president's back contained a candle wick instead of a backbone, he would have waited before acting until he got congressional sanction.

Had he waited for the senate to get through quibbling and jockeying for party advantage, Huerta would have received a large consignment of guns and ammunition with which to shoot down American soldiers.

Huerta was playing for time to get this help to his blackguardly cause—and a stubborn minority in the senate was helping him. Fortunately, there was a man in the White House, and Huerta did not get those guns, notwithstanding the help offered him by the Huertistas of the United States senate.

During that long wrangle the Bull Moose and Republican leaders who were trying to "put the administration in a hole" had the support of Senators Nelson and Clapp of Minnesota. McCumber of North Dakota, and La Follette of Wisconsin. Senators Gronna of North Dakota and Stephenson of Wisconsin did not vote.

There were four test votes, and the votes of Senators Nelson, Clapp and McCumber were cast against the administration each time. Senator La Follette voted against the Lodge substitute, but for all the other devices for confusion and delay. In the end, he was only one of the Northwestern senators to vote against the amended resolution.

It was thus that the patriotic people of the Northwest were represented in that shameful debate.

Think what a mouth-filling morsel it would be to talk about "the Battle of Popocatopetl."

MEDIATION.

About the pleasantest thing that has happened during the latest Mexican crisis is the tender of the good offices of Argentina, Brazil and Chile to bring about peace between the United States and Mexico and, if possible, peace in Mexico.

This is a splendid thing even if it does not produce all the good results it is possible to hope from it.

At the best, it might result in permitting us to withdraw from Mexico with honor and without further bloodshed—our hardest problem; it might result in eliminating Huerta and in bringing about a stable and permanent government in Mexico under which its people could prosper.

Perhaps this is too much to hope for. Certainly it is a great deal.

But at the worst, even if the offer comes to nothing tangible, the incident has great value because of its moral effect upon the Latin-American peoples between the Rio Grande and Cape Horn.

Whether we like them or not, we must live with these people. If we can get along with them on good terms, it will be profitable to them and to us also. These good terms are obstructed by Latin-American suspicion of American "imperialism"—a suspicion that, unhappily, some American newspapers are now busy increasing.

The offer and acceptance of the good offices of these South American nations will go far to restore Latin-American confidence in this country, even if negotiations do not produce all the direct good we hope for.

There were a hundred and eighteen fatal accidents in the Alps last year, according to recent announcements, but it is too soon yet to see whether these figures are to be used as an argument for or against canal tolls exemption.

EGGS AND THE PARCEL POST.

Says the Princeton Union: "Many eggs are being sent through the parcel post, but seventy-five per cent of them arrive at their destination scrambled."

Is that merely an idle quip, or is it true? It is important to know.

If it is true, something is wrong somewhere that needs correcting.

If it is true that the loss of eggs sent by parcel post is seventy-five per cent, then it is important to know why it is so.

Is the fault in poor packing?

Or is it in careless handling in the postal service?

Or is it both?

In any event, it cannot be an incurable fault. Once located, it ought to be easy to correct it. If farmers are careless about packing, they can be taught how to pack their eggs safely. If the postoffice employes are careless about handling fragile parcel post matter, they can be taught how to be careful—or their places filled by employes who will be careful.

The parcel post is too important to be made useless by carelessness. It is too important, too, to be discredited by such charges if they are not true.

One can't help wondering on just what theory "General" Coxey based his prediction of a mighty army of marchers.

THE NEGRO'S GOOD PROGRESS.

There is nothing hopeless about the state of the negro. When it is considered that a century ago all his ancestors were naked and brutal savages in Africa, that for half a century they were chattels with as little human opportunity as cattle, and that the debauchery of reconstruction was in some respects worse than either savagery or slavery, the negro is doing very well indeed.

This reflection is occasioned by the showing made in a tabulation of the negroes of one city—Philadelphia—that are engaged in professional, mercantile or skilled handicraft work.

The list is as follows: 200 clergymen, 60 doctors, 32 dentists, 9 lawyers, 75 stenographers, 204 clerks and copyists, 117 musicians, 45 graduate nurses, 13 druggists, 297 retail merchants, 29 blacksmiths, 10 wholesale merchants, 250 postal clerks, 72 upholsterers, 6 roofers, 24 plasterers, 10 paperhangers, 57 painters, 308 brick and stone masons, 176 iron and steel workers, 96 carpenters and joiners, 5 electrical engineers and 15 stationary engineers.

Among colored business successes there are in Philadelphia two hospitals operated by and for colored people, two drug stores, fourteen building and loan associations, fifteen insurance companies, and a bank which last year handled a million dollars. And Philadelphia negroes own real estate worth ten million dollars.

Nobody has as yet prophesied that there would be any difficulty in raising a regiment in Texas to invade Mexico.

What an Editor Thinks About

St. Louis Post-Dispatch: Sometimes people come in and wonder what an editor is doing when they see him leaning back with his feet propped up and a good medium-value cigar in his mouth. The visitors are surprised when the guide informs them that the editor is thinking. They ask the guide what the editor is thinking about and the guide for the life of him can't tell them.

We will tell them if they really want to know. He is pondering the grave problems that a few of his 298,765 subscribers have put up to him by mail. A Ballad of Quibble Land.

Ho! let us go live in Quibble Land,
where common sense takes flight,
And simply changing a "but" to "and"
will turn the Wrong to Right!

You cannot find it on the map
Nor in the postal lists,
And yet the place, you childish chap,
Most certainly exists,
And circles there
Are truly square
And every straight line twists!

Ho! let us go live in Quibble Land,
where every judge is wise,
And the Judas case would never stand
if Christ didn't dot his I's!

You forge a check in Quibble Land,
But you're at once set free,
Because the prosecutor's hand
Misspelled a word, you see.
He should have writ
The form of it
C-H-E-Q-U-E!

Ho! let us go live in Quibble Land,
where Substance bows to Shape,
And Mary the Mother would be banned
if she wrote that crape was crepe!

In Quibble Land you kill a man
Because he's not your sort.
The judge remarks: "The lines I scan
Not even once say 'Tort.'
That spoils the face
Of all this case!
I throw it out of court!"

Ho! let us go live in Quibble Land,
where the finest thing is a flaw,
And Justice, bound with an iron hand,
weeps, "Great is my sister, Law."

The Wagging Tongue of Gossip.

From Vera Cruz to Mexico City in 1847

Editorial in the New York Evening Post.

The statement by our Washington correspondent that the war and navy departments are considering the possibility of sending a flying column from Vera Cruz to Mexico City, should the American colony there be in peril, makes it worth while to recall Gen. Scott's famous march from the coast to the capital. He landed near Vera Cruz, with 13,000 men on March 9, 1847, nearly a year after the outbreak of the war, beginning the siege of the city four days later, and capturing it just two weeks thereafter. On the 8th of April the advance of his army under Gen. Twigg began its march into the interior by way of Plan del Rio and Jalapa, there being at that time, of course, no railway to follow. Now the railroad runs along the route Gen. Scott chose as far as the city of Puebla, sixty-three miles from the capital. Jalapa seemed especially attractive to the American commander, for, as he subsequently wrote, it was a "productive region, abounding in many articles of food, as well as in mules, which we so much needed for the remaining wagons at Vera Cruz."

Three miles from Plan del Rio, on April 18, the battle of Corro Gordo was fought on a field covering many miles and broken by mountains and deep chasms. It resulted in a disastrous defeat for the Mexicans at a cost to Gen. Scott of only 431 men, of whom sixty-three were killed. It cleared the whole way to Puebla, 150 miles distant, which Gen. Worth occupied on May 15, Jalapa having been evacuated and the formidable castle of Perote surrendering without firing a shot, as he approached. But then the advance ceased for nearly three months, during which time Gen. Scott's army was in a critical position, one that would have been fatal in the presence of a vigorous and aggressive enemy. The expiration of their enlistments caused the discharge of 4,000 volunteers, who had no stomach for more fighting, and reduced Gen. Scott's effectives to 5,000 men. It made it impossible to keep open the communications save by sending the sick or bringing up supplies under protection of large detachments. Moreover, the difficulties of marching were great. Capt. Robert Anderson, later to achieve fame as the defender of Fort Sumter, wrote to his wife of the first day's march from Vera Cruz:

The country was a succession of cups of sand; the only redeeming thing about this part of the march was that we heard the sweet, sometimes plaintive, sometimes cheerful notes of the birds in the recesses of the glades. Here we halted sometimes, but the men had become so much exhausted that by the time we reached our camping ground nearly one-half of the men were absent. * * * Today, in consequence of the disordered state of the command, we have only marched nine miles.

When Gen. Scott finally started on the march to Mexico City in August, he left 1,200 men at Puebla, of whom 600 were unable to march, as a garrison to protect 2,500 men who were in hospital chiefly because of dysentery. He set out with a trifle over 10,000 men, and abandoned the whole route to Vera Cruz and his communications with home, cutting loose from his base as completely as did Gen. Sherman on his march to the sea. It is interesting to recall that the engineer officers to whom Gen. Scott entrusted reconnoitering on the march included Robert E. Lee, P. G. T. Beauregard, George B. McClellan, Z. B. Tower, G. W. Smith, Isaac I. Stevens and J. G. Foster, all of whom became distinguished commanders in the Civil war. Then came the severe battles of Contreras, Churubusco, Molino del Rey, and Chapultepec. On Sept. 20 the triumphant little army, severely depleted, entered Mexico City, thereby ending the war; the 263 miles had been successfully covered.

Whether this feat could be repeated today in a short time no one can forecast. The railroad is there, and could doubtless be quickly repaired if torn up, barring certain extremely important bridges. But under no circumstances could it be a holiday march, or comparable to the one on Peking. After the plains of the coast, described by Capt. Anderson, are traversed, the road enters the mountains and rises to heights of 7,000 feet. There the heat of the day at this season is intense, and the cold at night severe; the rainy season is near at hand, and there are defiles that a handful could hold against an army. Moreover, it is doubtful if the population would be as easy-going today in their treatment of invading Americans as they were in 1847. Certainly the hatred of the "Gringos" is greater, though the masses of the peons are as little educated and informed as in Santa Anna's day. Moreover, in Gen. Huerta and other officers the Mexican army has men of genuine military talent, as has been shown during some of the recent campaigns, notably by Gen. Blanquet, whose strategy in Northern Mexico in Madero's rule evoked the admiration of many of our officers.

Much will, of course, depend upon the supply of arms and ammunition available. But if it is in the Mexicans to make a determined resistance superior to that of 1847, they could ask for no better territory to fight in than that between Vera Cruz and their capital. Still, it is a foregone conclusion that the Americans could take the chief cities within a comparatively brief space of time, say, a year or so, as they did those in the Philippines, but that would be only the beginning of the task. Each city would have to be garrisoned, lines of communication kept open, and endless expeditions sent into the mountains. This is the military problem which makes our generals insist on 250,000 or 300,000 men as the minimum with which this undertaking should be attempted—Gen. MacArthur had 90,000 under him in the Philippines. American courage and enterprise can accomplish wonders, but the conquest of Mexico would tax them to the full, and when it was all over we should have on our hands a devastated land whose surviving millions would continue to hate us with as much intensity as do our Philippine wards.

Where "Bill" White Stands.

Chicago Evening Post: William Allen White of Emporia, Kan., arises in his Gazette not so much to defend as to preach democratically upon what he has been trying to do during the busy years of his life. He winds up thus:

"The trouble with the Gazette," said a back driver to a stranger at the Emporia depot who was inquiring about the paper, "is that it is trying to make this town too ——— good."

The Gazette gets licked about three times out of five, and regards its lickings as its assets and its victories as its liabilities. The people in the long run are wise. Give them time. Give them lots of rope; give them elbow room; give them power according to their wisdom, and they will work themselves out. Trusting the people doesn't mean worshiping their obvious faults. But it does mean letting them pay for their folly—just as an individual does—until they quit and do better. "On our dead selves," chirrups the poet, "we rise to higher things."

This is sound democratic gospel. Mr. White and the Gazette can fight it out on this ground if it takes a century or more. In such a war defeats are victories.

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Representative Thomas M. Bell of Georgia received recently an appealing letter from a horse breeder down in his district.

"My youngest boy has left us and joined the regular army," wrote the horse breeder, "and now I can't get him out again. Can't you arrange some way to get him out? He was a particularly good boy in many respects, and I was raising him for my own use."

One may cite the adventure that befell Representative George R. Smith of Minnesota as a striking instance of the advantages of a knowledge of human emotions, in time of stress or emergency.

Smith went into a quick-fire eating place in Washington one day and ordered a plate of soup; also a piece of pie.

Then he became engrossed in his newspaper while awaiting developments. After a space it occurred to him that he was there for the purpose of eating food, and being an absent-minded man, he started in on a piece of pie instead of his soup, which was hidden by his newspaper.

After he had eaten most of his pie, Smith noticed his soup sitting there dispassionately before him. Moreover, an untouched piece of pie lay before him. That set him to thinking, and he made a further discovery, to wit: That he had eaten the pie belonging to a young woman at his right. The congressman glanced furtively in her direction out of the tail of his eye, and she was all coiled ready to spring.

Now, when Smith tells the story he gets down that far and then stops.

"What did you say to her?"

"Say to her?" says Smith. "Why, I didn't say anything to her. Do you suppose I wanted to make a scene in a public restaurant? If I had offered her a single word of apology it would have given her an opportunity to come back and say what she thought of me. I could see she would not start talking to a person to whom she had not been properly introduced, but the slightest impulse would set her going. So I went ahead eating and saying nothing, just as if I made it a daily habit to eat neighboring slices of pie."

Thus we learn that George R. Smith is a real philosopher.

Representative Charles B. Smith of Buffalo sprang a tale the other day that sounded well and went well.

It seems that a young Irishman went out West and took up his residence in a tough little mining camp. He figured that the quickest way to get over being a tenderfoot was to mix around and be one of the crowd. So he sauntered into a saloon with the intention of making himself agreeable. Two formidable looking persons, who carried with them a great deal of local color, were standing in front of the bar, which consisted of a large plank stretched between two barrels on end. Each had two or three revolvers sticking out of him. As the Irishman entered he heard one of the men saying.

"Whad did you shoot 'im for?"

"Aw, I just didn't like him around. He annoyed me. So I shot him."

"Won't you have a drink with me?" put in the newcomer.

The other two turned and glared at him.

"I don't care," consented one. "Al and I'll split a quart of bourbon between us."

"And won't you have something?" asked the Irishman, turning to the bartender.

"Well, I might take a tumbler of brandy," replied the bar clerk. "What are you going to have yourself?"

"Oh," ordered the Irishman, trying to enter into the spirit of the thing, "just make mine a stein of gin."

Representative Samuel Winslow of Worcester, Mass., has his office walls decorated with large framed pictures of manufacturing plants in that town.

"Some day," he explains, "somebody will come in here and see those pictures and get to talking about the industries up our way, and I'll be instrumental in having him buy some goods from one of our concerns. Then whenever I'm asked by idle curiosity seekers what, if anything, I have accomplished in congress, I can point to that sale and prove that I did not come down here in vain."

"Uncle Hank" Barnhart, member of congress from Indiana, tells of a young man from out his way who met a young woman he had not seen for many years.

"I thought you were dead," was the young man's greeting.

"No," insisted the girl, "but I'm married."

"To whom."

"Oh, some Englishman."

An Enemy at Home

New York Times: Huerta cannot cause dyspepsia. The Mexican usurper does not feed the American people with poisoned foods and beverages. He does not insidiously deprive medicines of their power of healing the sick. The dangers threatened by a usurper across the frontier are as nothing compared with the perils suffered by human stomachs at home, exposed to the reckless guile of the food adulterator. Therefore the plan put forth by Chief Chemist Alsberg at Washington, with the approval of Secretary Houston, that his department and the food commissioners of all the states form a clearing house of information against traitors guilty of conspiring for gain to assail the well and betray the sick, is of more real interest to the American people than the sending of warships to Mexico.

The Federal food officials can exercise no policing control over the actual factories and dairies, and it is difficult for them to detect contamination of foods prepared by insanitary methods. The state officials can do this work, and by warning visits they can keep the producing agencies clean and prevent adulterations. The state and Federal food and drug authorities need not work at cross purposes. Food commissioners and other officials representing thirty-three states have recently conferred with the Federal authorities to devise more effectual means of safeguarding the nation's stomachs. The working out of this plan is profoundly significant.

Woman's Tears.

From the Atchison, Kan., Globe: A woman is almost as peculiar as a man. She will break into tears and the more she is urged to cheer up the more she will cry. But if someone tells her to go ahead and shed as many tears as she pleases she will at once quit crying and speak her mind.

Standing By the President

The Minnesota Press of All Parties Back of Wilson.

Rightness Gives Courage.

Elk River Star News: President Wilson has won a personal victory in congress on the repeal of the tolls act with regard to the Panama canal. There is one admirable feature about the president, he is ready to take responsibility on his own shoulders and abide by the result.

He Need Not Worry.

Wabasha Herald: The president's stand on the Panama canal tolls repeal is supported by the great majority of the leading newspapers of the country, without regard to party lines. The chief executive of the nation can afford to have a small minority cry out "treason," and to let them make the most of it if his honest and honorable course be treason.

They Remain Behind the Procession.

Aurora News: A standpat senator quoted something President Wilson had written back in 1879 the other day in debate to attempt to show that the president was inconsistent. That is just the trouble with the standpatters. Regardless of the present conditions they measure everything by the old, wornout standard. The live issues of today must be gauged by recent standards, and President Wilson is distinctly a man of today.

Honor Is the Pilot.

Breckinridge Telegram: The longer the Wilson administration is in the saddle the more the impression gains ground that national honor and humanitarian motives have a more prominent place in the deliberations of the executive than perhaps ever before in any country.

And They Appreciate Him.

St. Peter Herald: Every few days the American people find some new reason for congratulating themselves over the election of President Wilson.

Plenty to Admire.

Aurora News: There is much to admire in the acts of President Wilson. He is more than the leader of his party—he is the leader of his country. At the same time he is anxious for the advice of all, but will not be dictated to by any one or any interest.

"Oh, for a Governor Like Him."

Fertile Journal: President Wilson is an example of the kind of men we need in public office, and the kind that every man who has his country's welfare at heart should work for. With honesty and without fear he goes about his duties quietly and effectively, devoting his entire time to the work and apparently happy in serving his country well. A hard worker himself, he is setting the pace for congress and holding them to their promises to the people—good government. President Wilson cannot be accused of playing the game of politics. He is too busy attending to the duties of his office and looking after the people's welfare. Oh, for a governor like him!

An English View of Wilson

Francis Gribble in London Everyman: President Wilson is a man of great determination—an idealist with a jaw like a prizefighter. He stepped out of his quiet retreat, walked right up to the machine and smashed it—elected to the presidency by an immense majority as the leader of the revolt against the bosses, and afterward, as his countrymen say, "making good"—actually reducing the tariff which predecessors who had promised to reduce it had only juggled with, and making it quite clear to the trust magnates that a new king who knew not Joseph had arisen. Decidedly, he is the most interesting figure that has been seen in American politics for a long time.

What Mr. Wilson chiefly stands for, however, is not tariff reform, or any other specific reform, but the revival of political idealism in the United States; and it is remarkable that idealism, in this case, comes from a part of the continent from which one does not expect it. The original center in which men, almost as a matter of course, set their ideals above their material interests was New England; the New England of Longfellow, Emerson, Thoreau, John Greenleaf Whittier and Charles Sumner. One detects a distinct change for the worse in American political history, as one finds the idealism of that New England superseded by the mercantile spirit of New York. One might have hoped that it was in the bosom of a New Englander that the old spirit would be first reawakened; but Mr. Wilson comes, as a matter of fact, from the South—from Georgia, where his father, though a minister of religion, was also an ardent champion of the cause of the slave holders. But this, after all, does not matter and need not surprise us overmuch. The wind bloweth where it listeth; and it may even be that Mr. Wilson's Southern origin is, in some respects, a source of strength to him. The New England type, with all its virtues, is apt to be hard, angular, unsympathetic, unaccommodating. The Southern type is more genial; and geniality, when it does not spell weakness, is a valuable attribute for a practical man. The genial man, other things equal, is more likely to get his way than the man who is not genial. People will strain a point to please him, because, instead of putting their backs up, he makes it easy for them to give way; and that seems to have happened in Mr. Wilson's case. His principles are austere, but he is pleasant about them.

Let Uncle Try for Another.

Cleveland Plain Dealer: The little Bratenahl boy visited his uncle, who lives away out in the country. Uncle is a devout man; a pillar of the church and a breeder of fine horses. And upon a certain pretty colt did our little friend cast his eye with admiration and covetousness.

"Uncle Samuel," he said, "will you please give me that colt?"

"Why, no, Harold," answered the uncle, "I can't give you that colt. Do you want a colt very badly?"

"I'd rather have a colt than anything in the world!"

"Well, if you want a colt that much you ought to pray for it. When I want a thing very badly I pray for it and it comes to me."

"Honest, Uncle? Well, I'll tell you—you give me this colt and then you pray for another one."

Eccentric Inn Names.

London Chronicle: We are losing most of our eccentric inn names, but in Germany they are adding to them. Berlin now boasts the "Comfortable Chicken," "Cold Frog," "Stiff Dog," "Thirsty Pelican," "Dirty Parlor," "Musical Cats," "Boxers' Den" and "Lame Louse." Leipsic has "The Old Straw Bag," Stadtohen an "Open Bunghole," and the vicinity of many a cemetery in the Fatherland is graced by a "Last Tear."

Hearing From the Scoffers.

New York Herald: These water wagon orders were issued today:

Capt. U. P. Lift detached from the Piffle to be inspector of bottling and capping at the Carnegie grape juice works, Egg Harbor, N. J.

Lieutenant Commander Hy Thot, from settlement work, to be commandant at the Ginger supply farm, Forked Roads, N. Y.

Lieut. Softleigh Cyder, to be commissioned as rear-admiral from April 1, his name being valuable as a department inspiration.

Ensign Case Wood, retired by the water wagon examining board, which sustained the report that he had an ardent spirit.

Movements of water wagons—The Piffle, from the state department to the navy department, and back again; thank you.

The Here's How, condemned and to be used at target practice as a mark in testing the new carbonated two-quart guns.

Water wagon notes—The secretary of the water wagon was shocked on reading the list of naval vessels today to note that there was a cruiser named Milwaukee. Chief Boatswain Ade, lemon expert and confidential adviser on personnel, recommended that the cruiser be renamed the Dryad.

The Lydia E. Pinkham medal for heroism has been awarded to Lieut. (junior grade) P. Lily for having slipped a tract entitled "Horrors of Rum" to Vice-Admiral Tarr Drope of the British navy, who suggestively remarked that it was a warm day while visiting the U. S. S. Piffle.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

TIMELY WARNING TO SPORTSMEN AND OTHERS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The average reader may consider this subject rather unseasonable at this time of year, however, as the old adage warns us, "In time of peace prepare for war."

The outing magazines of the country are continually publishing articles along the line of greater protection for the big game hunters, while some states have enacted special legislation looking to the same end. Prominently stands the idea of having hunters wear distinctively colored apparel, red being the prevailing choice.

In general terms, the danger from accidental shooting always attends the hunter or other woods dweller during the hunting season and many sportsmen have experienced some rather narrow escapes from injury or possible death at the hands of the careless shooter.

A careful study of this subject, based on many years of observation, leads to the belief that the so-called accidental shooting of a hunter or other person in or near the hunting district is not so much the result of deliberate carelessness or disinclination to observe reasonably precautionary measures as it is due to a mental condition of the shooter. How best to meet and correct this condition at the time of its greatest prevalence is a problem somewhat difficult of solution. When it is considered that many men wholly unaccustomed to the woods go forth to the hunt, filled with a consuming desire to secure a deer, moose or bear as a just reward for their efforts, and believing that all these animals are much more numerous than they really are, it may readily be understood how apt they would be to consider any moving object as the game they sought and shoot at it, with no thought whatever of the possibility of its being a man. Strange as it may seem to the uninitiated, such shots are the ones that generally hit, for by a natural coincidence the mind, eye and trigger finger work conjunctively at what some writers have called the "exact psychological moment," and it is under this mental condition that a marksman scores highest.

Again, we must consider many of the hunters somewhat in the nature of tyros in woodcraft, setting forth alone in a strange forest or part of the country and being more or less obsessed with a fear of getting lost are thereby keyed up to a quicker degree of perception and alertness of things about them; possibly also under some fears from their own safety from attacks from the animals about them. They may seldom, if ever, realize the number of other hunters in the woods in the hunting season, or the distances to which some of them may travel in the early morning hours. They may not have heard the sound of a gun for hours and think perhaps there is not a soul within miles of them. So that under all of these mental conditions they feel they are justified in considering everything that moves as a game unless they can distinctly see that it is a man.

Then we have that other thoughtless fellow who walks along a woods road shooting his high power or even a .22 rifle right and left at marks on trees or elsewhere. He, too, thinks or rather doesn't think that there may be any person in those woods. Why, he hasn't heard or seen anyone, so of course there can't possibly be anyone there! More experienced woodsmen know that at the most unexpected times and places people are met with in the woods at all seasons of the year and one never knows when or where such meetings may occur. Now, the problem is how to reach our careless, thoughtless or overwrought friends at a time when a friendly word of warning or caution will call them back to the realm of sensibility and instill into their minds a necessity for carefulness and hesitation before shooting.

As a partial solution of this problem one of our local sportsmen has evolved the idea of presenting every now and then to the eye of his fellow sportsmen, both experienced and inexperienced, as they travel about the woods a little message of caution and advice that there are others also likely to be about at the same time. This message is printed on a little red card about three inches square, perforated in one corner, and designed to be hung up on the brush or limbs along trails, roads, streams or wherever the other fellow will be likely to see it. The message it bears is brief and to the point, as follows:

"I do not want to get shot in these woods. Neither do you. Be careful what you shoot at. So will I. Then we will both go home alive and well."

It is desired that trout fishermen and all outdoor people secure some of these cards, carry them on their outings and hang them up in the most conspicuous places they find. Later on when the hunter and small caliber shooters get out they will find these messages at every turn and it is hoped that by so directing their attention to the dangers of hasty or careless shooting, just at the proper time to prevent it, much greater safety may be assured to others in the woods and perhaps many lives saved.

One of our leading hardware and sporting goods houses has undertaken in their interest in the welfare of the sporting fraternity to supply these cards, and they may be obtained gratuitously by calling at the store for them. They are printed upon a very durable grade of paper that will withstand the action of the elements and should be widely distributed by sportsmen during the summer so that when the leaves are off in the fall and the usual exodus of hunters occurs, they will be found and read by them. It may prove a very meritorious means of promulgating the "safety first" idea now being given so much attention by the railroads and large manufacturing interests of the country, and is certainly worthy of a trial wherever people hunt, travel or work in the woods.

BLUEJACKETS AND MARINES.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Kindly inform me through your Open Court the difference between a bluejacket and a marine. The papers state that Vera Cruz was captured by marines. Now the list of dead and wounded show that most of them were ordinary seamen and seamen. Are these men bluejackets or marines?

DOUBTFUL.

THINKS OPEN COURT IS DEGENERATING.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I have been a reader of the Open Court column for a long time. To my mind it is the most important section of the paper. The opinions that are voiced here being, all in all, representative of the whole body of the people, are therefore to be read very carefully, and usually are worth the reading.

Of late, however, there has been appearing in this column a class of letters, which, besides being in themselves useless, are very detrimental in their effect upon other letters of more importance. The Open Court is not the place for the exhibition of the genius and ingenuity of budding mathematicians. The students who send in problems or answers would find it much more advisable to apply their skill to their schoolwork. Older persons who are bent on engaging in the unraveling of mental knots will find many problems much more difficult in any text book on algebra, geometry or trigonometry. Some of the "problems" sent in have been either so ambiguous as to be worthless or so simple as to be ludicrous. Yet even to one such, the "hat problem," I noticed three wrong answers in one day. Recognizing the fact that there had not appeared any real problems, a few readers sent in some worthy of being called problems. I sympathize with these few readers, but their work is in the wrong direction. Utter cessation of the appearance of all mathematical problems in the Open Court is the only solution. A little diversion usually does no harm, but let us see to it that it does not interfere with and detract from matters of a more serious and worthy nature.

CATHEDRAL SCHOOL PUPILS CHALLENGED.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I beg to submit the following, and particularly invite Cathedral high school students to solve it.

A ranchman told his foreman to go to market and purchase 100 head of cattle, giving him $100. On arriving in town the foreman bought cows, sheep and hogs at $10, $3 and 50 cents per head respectively. How many of each did he purchase? Thanking you for space, I remain,

THAT CRIBBAGE HAND.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Have been following up this cribbage game in The Herald the last few evenings, and I see Mr. Greenfield of West Duluth says the hand of twenty-six can be made, and I also see where Mr. McMerrit says twenty-six can be made by holding four fives and turning a jack. He does not count all of his hand, I think. The four fives alone make fifteen-eight and the four fives with the jack make eight. That makes sixteen and the four fives make twelve. That's twenty-eight. And two for the jack totals thirty. I tried time and again and failed. If it can be done I would like to know how it is done. I remain yours truly,

ANDREW ERICKSON.

SOLUTION FOR "A REAL PROBLEM."

To the Editor of The Herald:

Although I am not a school boy, I am going to answer "A Real Problem" propounded in the Open Court for April 23. The answer to this problem should have special interest to all at this time when our navy is in active service on the high seas. Many years ago an old grizzled surveyor gave me the following very simple rule for determining the curvature of the earth's surface on calm water. The rule: "Given the distance in miles to determine the amount of curvature or dip, square the distance in miles and take two-thirds of the result for the amount of curvature in feet. Conversely, given the amount of curvature in feet, to determine the distance in miles which an object may be seen on water, take three halves of the height of the object in feet and extract the square root." This will be correct, nearly. For example, if the distance is 12 miles, square 12, which is 144, and two thirds of 144 is 96. Therefore, an object would have to be 96 feet high to be seen 12 miles at sea. Conversely, if the object is 96 feet high, three halves of 96 is 144 and the square root of 144 is 12.

According to the above rule the answer to "A Real Problem" is 23.366 miles, nearly. I have no doubt the application of this rule will be a surprise to many people who have given the subject no consideration. Very respectfully, J. H. PEREGRINE.

BITTERNESS GROWS IN GOVERNORSHIP

Eberhart and Lee Forces Beginning to Indulge in Personalities That Are Making Wide Breaches in the Party; William E. Lee After Governor Hammer and Tongs; Hammond Practically Unopposed in His Campaign; Halbert Likely to Be Bull Moose Choice; Nelson Choice of Eighth District Democrats for Congressional Nomination.

The Progressive party, better known as the Bull Moose party, having held its conference, and having at least made arrangements for the choice of a candidate for the governorship, the decks may be considered as cleared for the primaries on June 16 and the general election on Nov. 2. Of course there is yet to be decided on June 16 whom the Republicans will choose for head of their ticket. The opposition to Congressman Hammond on the Democratic ticket is not important enough to place the matter in doubt.

At the Bull Moose conference in St. Paul on Friday last Hugh T. Halbert, Minnesota leader of the party, was unanimously indorsed for the governorship candidacy. Mr. Halbert, however, declared that he really does not want to make the run and asked that an effort be made to draft somebody else who would be suitable. The matter was therefore left to a committee composed of ten members of the party, included among whom is W. A. Eaton of Duluth, and this committee will endeavor to select somebody by May 1. It is generally believed that Mr. Halbert will be the committee's choice, but there is nothing sure about that. John Saari of Duluth was chosen to run for the office of secretary of state, and J. C. Lewis of Nashwauk was named for the office of state railroad and warehouse commissioner. A full ticket was chosen and an active campaign planned.

The chief interest up to June 16 will be centered in the Republican campaign for the governorship nomination. That is getting hotter every day and lively times are expected before the day of the primaries. Already personalities are being tossed around in a carefree manner, and everything is shaping up for a thoroughly bitter situation, which will preclude the possibility of getting together after the nomination will have been made. That seems out of the question. It cannot now be "anything for the good of the party." This is a case of personal bitterness growing out of charges of brewery control on one hand, and of counter charges of satisfying a personal ambition without regard to the benefit of the people on the other. It has reached such a stage that harmony hereafter is out of the question. Here is a sample of the things that Mr. Lee is saying about the governor and his machine. It happened at Redwood Falls, where Mr. Lee addressed a large crowd last Wednesday night:

He attacked Governor Eberhart's administration as incompetent and extravagant.

"If the people are satisfied with the present administration," said Mr. Lee, "it is their duty to turn out at the primaries, June 16, and sustain it; but if they are not satisfied, it is their duty to go to the primary election and oppose it. The line of cleavage in this campaign is clearly and definitely drawn between the friends and the enemies of good government. On one side of this question will be found every person engaged in any disreputable or illegal business in the state of Minnesota.

"It is literally true that every person conducting a business in violation of the moral law or in violation of the statutes of the state, or who is renting property in which such a business is being carried on, is lined up in support of one of the candidates for governor in this primary contest, and it is for the good people of Minnesota to determine whether or not they shall be identified with that kind of a crowd by voting with them."

Governor Eberhart said some days ago that Mr. Lee advocated the primary law two years ago, and now becomes the candidate of a convention. Mr. Lee comes right back at the governor in an open letter as follows:

On April 17 there appeared in the newspapers a statement by Governor Eberhart in which my attitude towards the primary election law is grossly misrepresented.

I urged such a law, while he was using his influence and official position to defeat it in the legislative session of 1911. I was advocating such a law while he was hesitating, "explaining" and "sidestepping" the questions during the winter and spring of 1912. I was one of the first to urge a primary law that would insure majority nominations, and to that end I urged the second choice provision, which was written into the law.

No word or action of mine can be twisted into a suggestion that I have changed my position, and the governor knows it.

Any attempt to repeal the law or to so change it as to deny to the people the right of nominating candidates for office by a direct vote would meet my positive opposition.

The issue in this campaign is not the primary election law. The real issue is whether a political machine, unknown to the law, controlled by special interests and operating in secret, or the people of the state as a whole, are to control the politics and determine the policies of our government; and the governor cannot distract attention from this fact.

The governor exhibits grave concern upon the subject of the right of the people to nominate officials. Upon this question there is no issue. Upon the question of county option, of giving the people an opportunity to vote on the liquor question by counties, which is an important issue, he is silent. The right in the one case is as clear as in the other. There are many other vital issues in this campaign which the governor ignores; but let him discuss at least one live issue and tell the people why he does not urge that they be given this important privilege.

As to the governor's libelous attack on the anti-machine Republican conference, and his gratuitous insult to the patriotic citizens who participated therein, I believe that these gentlemen are amply able to treat it as in their judgment it deserves.

Any chance for future harmony is not yet visible to the naked eye.

Andrew Nelson of Duluth was, on Saturday afternoon, asked to file for the Democratic nomination for congress. This was at a meeting of delegates from all parts of the Eighth district, the meeting having been agreed on during the time the delegates were at the state conference in St. Paul. The choice of Mr. Nelson was unanimous and as he had previously agreed to file if the conference wanted him to, there is no doubt about it. Mr. Nelson said, however, that he preferred to stay out if anybody could be found who was considered stronger before the people. The meeting was most harmonious.

With Mr. Nelson in the field, the congressional situation becomes interesting. Congressman Miller, of course, is a candidate, even though he has not yet made formal announcement. State Senator James P. Boyle is working hard for the Republican nomination against Congressman Miller, and both claim satisfactory progress. The situation may turn out to be something like that of the state, where, with bitterness being engendered, as it is understood it is in parts of the district, the Democratic chances for victory are visibly growing.

Unless another candidate enters the field for senatorial honors in the Sixtieth legislative district, John Healy and William Brown will have no battle on their hands at the primaries, their names going on the general election ballots without further formality. The legislative ticket is non-partisan and the two highest men are entitled to a position on the fall ticket.

Thief River Falls Times:

Mr. Eberhart's speech is a wonder in its effect to befog the real issue before the people of Minnesota. Listen: "The issue of the campaign will determine whether or not the people are to retain to themselves the right to make their own nominations." If the people of Minnesota have nominated or elected Mr. Eberhart we have not yet heard the news, we had supposed that the brewers' machine made the nomination and the minority elected him. It is the voice of the majority that is the bugaboo to the governor, hence this frenzied cry for the rights of the people.

The next thing that seems to scare the minority governor is that it was not the strongest man that was nominated by the convention at Minneapolis. Surely, my dear governor, this ought to rejoice your heart for it ought to be all the easier for the brewery machine to defeat a weak man. Further will the governor kindly tell us how it came about that a man so weak as the Todd county banker came to poll so many votes in the free-for-all fight of two years ago, a fight that was after the governor's own heart as it divided the forces that were opposed to him and rendered possible the election of a man against the will of the majority.

It is customary and psychological for a man when he has been caught with the goods to raise the cry of stinking fish in order to divert attention. It won't do, my dear governor; your device is too thin. While having attention called by you to Mr. Lee's motives they have applied your logic to yourself and asked your motive, this you surely cannot object to.

Notwithstanding the animadversions of Mr. Eberhart, these facts remain unalterable; they are history. Mr. Eberhart was elected by a minority of the voters of the state, and any intelligent man wishes to see the primary law so amended that will enable the majority to give expression to its will. Mr. Eberhart's plea put into plain English is "I cannot be elected by a majority, therefore allow a defective law to remain unamended in order that I may retain my office." This is undemocratic and un-American. Mr. Eberhart further says: "Mr. Lee's machine, well oiled and equipped, has called a packed convention, etc." It is pertinent at this juncture to inquire where the lubricant came from that has kept the Eberhart machine running so smoothly for the past few years; from the odor, we guess that it has come from the nearest brewery. It is pitiful to see a candidate for the governorship of a great state floundering, like swine in a mudhole, in a sea of personalities. We look in vain for one single stateman-like statement of one great issue. Mr. Eberhart is like a cuttlefish, which, in order to escape, clouds the water with an inky fluid so that in the confusion and darkness he may escape. It won't do, Mr. Cuttlefish, the voter can see through the fog and will know what to do when election comes.

You hand it out to him in good brittle style, Mr. Smith, but you haven't completed the story. The governor's home county, Blue Earth, did not want him two years ago and gave William E. Lee a majority over him at the primaries. It's a pretty tough proposition when a man's own home repudiates him. He was the only candidate two years ago who was turned down by his own county. Here are the figures:

Todd county, Mr. Lee's home, distributed its vote as follows: Lee, 1,339; Eberhart, 397; other candidates, 295.

Swift county, which was E. T. Young's home when he was elected attorney general, voted as follows: Young, 522; Eberhart, 229; other candidates, 279.

Traverse county, where S. Y. Gordon lives, voted thus: Gordon, 342; Eberhart, 142; other candidates, 143.

Stevens county, the home of L. C. Spooner went this way: Spooner, 375; Eberhart, 162; other candidates, 202.

The showing in Blue Earth, Governor Eberhart's home, was as follows: Eberhart, 842; Lee, 859; other candidates, 461.

Albert Lee Tribune: Another evidence of the tight place the Smith-Eberhart machine has gotten into, is the publishing of the long story by the Minneapolis Tribune in which it gave the impression that Franklin Hobbs, the advertising expert, publicly commended Governor Eberhart as the greatest asset Minnesota has, and easily worth a large sum of money for the advertising he has given the state.

It now comes out that Mr. Hobbs never made any such statement, but that the story was written from a few sentences which Mr. Hobbs let drop in a private interview. Mr. Hobbs says that he does not personally know the governor, but that he does know Mr. Lee and considers him much superior to the governor. But the machine organ will never print the real things Mr. Hobbs said.

It is rather astonishing to find that the press agents for the governor have not learned that it is exceedingly unsafe to print "fibs" in support of a candidate. They are the worst kind of a boomerang. They are not even safe as eleventh hour "roorbacks."

TELL HOW GERMANS SAVED 150 AMERICANS IN TAMPICO

Last Refugees From That City on U. S. S. Connecticut.

"Stop Rioting or I Will," Is Von Kohler's Word.

Galveston, Tex., April 27.—The battleship Connecticut, and torpedo boat convoy Dixie came into port Sunday, bringing the last American refugees from Tampico and nearby districts. There may be four or five Americans still in Tampico, but they will not leave, said Capt. John Knapp of the Connecticut just after the battleship dropped anchor.

There are 490 refugees on the Connecticut and 570 on the Dixie.

On board the steamship Esperanza, which came in from Tampico Saturday night, there were 377 Americans who fled from Mexico. In all there are about 2,100 American refugees held here in quarantine on the ships, whose release is expected either today or Tuesday.

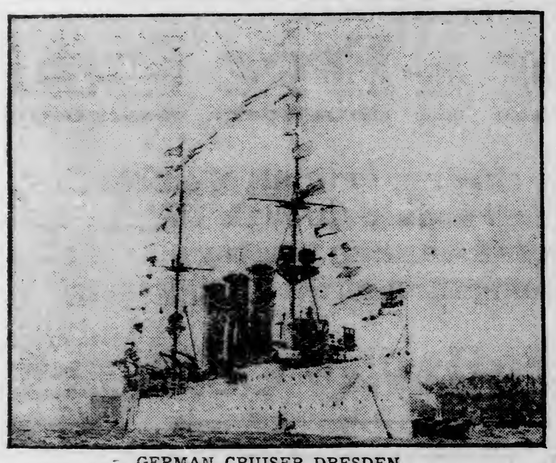
Germans Saved Americans.

The story of the anti-American riot in Tampico last Tuesday night, when German officers and sailors went to the rescue of the Americans and escorted twenty women and children aboard the German cruiser Dresden, was told by refugees on their arrival. Officers of the battleship Connecticut said but for the assistance of the sailors there undoubtedly would have been bloodshed. Tuesday morning the United States warships Dolphin, Des Moines and Chester dropped down the river at Tampico and steamed to the outer harbor, as it was feared the presence of the American ships would inflame the Mexicans to attack refugees gathering in the town.

Called on People to Arm.

It was a little after 2 o'clock that afternoon that a Mexican soldier tacked up an official notice from the municipal police stating that the American officers had landed at Vera Cruz, and appealing to the Mexicans to take arms and defend their country. The news spread quickly. Armed Mexicans soon were running here and there and word was sent to Americans to assemble in Central Plaza.

After dark crowds swarmed to the plaza, where fiery speeches were delivered and parades were formed.



"Viva Huerta" and "Death to the Gringoes," cried the crowd, while the refugees barricaded themselves in the Southern hotel. Stones were thrown and windows smashed. Then it was that Capt. von Kohler of the cruiser Dresden sent a terse note to Gen. Zaragoza, in command of the port of Tampico, that if he did not stop the rioting "I will see to it personally that it is stopped."

Obeyed the German.

Within fifteen minutes, officers of the Connecticut said, the Mexican rurales appeared on the streets and the crowd dispersed. Two hours later another attempt was made to batter down the doors of the hotels in which were assembled more than 150 men, women and children. Only thirty refugees were armed. A detachment of police broke up the crowd and early Wednesday morning, while it was yet dark, a German officer with a squad of four sailors from the Dresden went to the relief of the beleaguered refugees and escorted women and children to the Dresden. In that little band was a woman who had walked two miles with a two-day-old baby in her arms.

On Wednesday morning the general transfer of American refugees from Tampico was commenced and the American yachts Wakiva and Wild Duck, under foreign colors, carried the refugees down the river to the American warships.

HUERTA ACCEPTS MEDIATION

ernments and peoples of America, we, the plenipotentiaries of Brazil, Argentina and Chile, duly authorized thereto, have the honor to tender to your excellency's government our good offices for the peaceful and friendly settlement of the conflict between the United States and Mexico.

This offer puts in due form the suggestions which we had the occasion to offer heretofore on the subject to the secretary, to whom we renew the assurances of our highest and most distinguished consideration.

"D. DA GAMA,
"R. S. NAON,
"EDO SUAREZ MUJICA."

From President Wilson.

To this message President Wilson, through Secretary of State Bryan, sent the following reply:

"The government of the United States is deeply sensible to the friendliness, the good feeling and the generous concern for the peace and welfare of America manifested in the joint note just received from your excellencies, tendering the good offices of your governments to effect, if possible, a settlement of the present difficulties between the government of the United States and those who now claim to represent our sister republic in Mexico. Conscious of the purpose with which the proffer is made, this government does not feel at liberty to decline it. Its own chief interest is in the peace of America, the cordial intercouse of its republics and its people and the happiness and prosperity which can spring only out of frank, mutual understanding and the friendship which is created by common purpose.

Offer Accepted.

"The generous offer of your governments is therefore accepted. This government hopes most earnestly that you may find those who speak for the several elements of the Mexican people willing and ready to discuss terms of satisfaction and, therefore, permanent settlement. If you should find them willing, this government will be glad to take up with you for discussion in the frankest and most conciliatory spirit any proposals that may be authoritatively formulated, and will hope that they may prove feasible and prophetic of a new day of mutual cooperation and confidence in America.

"This government feels bound in candor to say that its diplomatic relations with Mexico being for the present severed, it is not possible for it to make sure of an uninterrupted opportunity to carry out the plan which you propose. It is, of course, possible that some act of aggression on the part of those who control the military forces of Mexico might oblige the United States to act to the upsetting of the hopes of immediate peace, but this does not justify us in hesitating to accept your generous suggestion. We shall hope for the best result within a time brief enough to relieve our anxiety lest ill-considered hostile demonstration should interrupt negotiations and disappoint our hopes of peace."

AMERICANS GIVEN LEAVE TO GET OUT

wish to leave that country to find temporary refuge in the United States. It will become necessary to suspend the operation of the immigration laws in order to permit of the entry of these Japanese, who are mainly on the Pacific coast of Mexico.

There was no letup in the activity of the war-making forces of the government today. Secretary of War Garrison and Secretary of the Navy Daniels were both at their offices early, awaiting reports from Vera Cruz and conferring with their subordinates. All arrangements had been made for the landing of the army forces from the transports on their arrival at Vera Cruz later today, where Brig. Gen. Funston was to take command of the United States forces on land.

State department officials were encouraged over reports from Mexico as to American refugees. It was stated that practically all of the Americans now in the Southern republic either were on their way to the coast or in places of comparative safety. Several parties of Americans, however, were reported held in various parts of Mexico by Federal forces.

Army Schools Closed.

To obtain the services immediately of all army officers in addition to the infantry school at Fort Leavenworth, the cavalry school at Fort Riley and the field artillery school at Fort Sill temporarily have been closed by orders from the war department, and the officers now under instruction at those schools have been directed to join their commands immediately. Only the engineer school at Washington barracks, the coast artillery school at Fortress Monroe and the aviation school at San Diego, Cal., remain open.

Hoist Stars and Stripes.

Vera Cruz, April 27.—The American flag was hoisted today with appropriate ceremonies over the headquarters of Rear Admiral Fletcher. Martial law was declared here yesterday by the admiral.

There was rejoicing here today when word was received from the British minister, Sir Lionel Carden, in Mexico City, that Gen. Huerta has agreed to permit another refugee train to leave the capital and that 250 foreigners, including Americans would arrive in Vera Cruz tomorrow.

Previously the hopes of Americans here who had relatives and friends in the capital had been buoyed up by a statement given out in behalf of Admiral Fletcher that he had information which led him to hope for the early arrival of more American refugees from Mexico City, for the better treatment of all Americans there, and possibly for their eventual release.

Look for Soldiers.

Next in importance to these developments was the expected arrival of the brigade of troops comanded by Gen. Frederick Funston. The soldiers were expected before nightfall, and the sailors on the line of battleships rimming the city front beyond the breakwater eagerly scanned the horizon for the smoke of the battleship Louisiana and the transports she was convoying.

While Admiral Fletcher refused to give the nature of his reassuring information from Mexico City, it was intimated at headquarters that the consistent policy of lenient treatment accorded Mexicans in Vera Cruz had brought a change of heart in the capital.

May Not Extend Lines.

Because of the delicate nature of the negotiations, and the number of lives which may depend upon them, it is considered probable here that no extension of the lines already raised by the Americans will be attempted while the negotiations are pending. This will be a matter of Gen. Funston's decision, however, upon his landing, since Admiral Fletcher has already been advised that the general is to have supreme command ashore.

There was great activity today, however, about the aviators' camp near the bathing beach, where the smooth water of the inner harbor afforded every facility for rising and landing. Should the machines be required later, the aviators are ready for service and are busy studying maps of the surrounding territory.

Troops' Work Not Known.

The American authorities here are unable to predict just what disposition will be made of the first troops to land, but it is supposed that the infantrymen will be used in patrolling the streets and the cavalry on the picket lines beyond the city limits.

Naval officers welcome the relief of the bluejackets from patrol duty ashore, as they say the men are accustomed to the constant work of caring for the ship and great guns, and the monotonous grind of sentry duty is trying to them. Both bluejackets and marines, however, are maintaining a wonderfully clear record for orderly conduct, and the officers are enthusiastic in praise of their efficiency at any task to which they may have been assigned.

About the central plaza of the city, where the small park brilliant with tropical growths is surrounded on two sides by sidewalk cafes of Parisian appearance, the scene is an animated one from early morning until late at night. The tables are thronged with refugees and women of all nationalities from interior points, and the discussion of the probable fate of friends and acquaintances still unheard from occupy every group.

Many Wear Union Jack.

The gathering represents every activity in the interior of Mexico in which Europeans have had a part, and many of the British subjects still wear a little Union Jack pinned to coat or dress fronts, which were put on when they made their way to the coast.

Anxiety knows no nationality. The British and Germans fear the wrath of the Mexican mob will make no distinction between those of white skin, and that all will share the common fate as Americans if an uprising should occur. As the days pass and the exodus of refugees from coast points continues with no reports of violence, hope among those gathered here is growing that loss of life will be averted and damage inflicted only in a financial sense.

Vera Cruz stores are doing a thriving business supplying those who fled leaving everything behind. The cafes are reduced to meager bill of fares to meet the demand. Ice is at a premium and restaurants are striving to reopen trade with truck gardeners and dairies to the southward.

Food Prices Up.

Peons are flockin to the city daily, their arms laden with live chickens and eggs carried for miles to get the unusual prices which prevail here.

City hotel accommodations are strained to the limit to care for the influx of refugees, and the American officials continued today their efforts to induce the women at least to go to the United States. The steamer Mexico carried more than 500 when it sailed for Galveston last night, and when enough desirous of making the trip are gathered another ship will follow.

Capt. Stickney of the Prairie, now captain of the port, is making good progress in straightening out the customs house tangle. He found desks rifled of many papers, presumably by departing Federal officials, but believes they were taken in order that the officials might get clear on their own accounts rather than to embarrass the Americans.

Among the port captain's duties is the overseeing of the affairs of the ancient Fortress San Juan de Uloa. There the Mexican flag still is flying and the Mexican commandant still is in control of eighty armed soldiers and 500 prisoners, many of the latter most desperate criminals. A narrow causeway connects the fortress with the shore, and this is constantly guarded being covered by a field piece and machine gun, making a guard in the fartress unnecessary.

Capt. Stickney said today that it soon would be necessary to feed not only the prisoners, but also the Mexican soldiers who still bear arms in service under their own flag.

It is regarded here as significant that the restoration of telegraphic communication between Mexico City and the rest of the world followed immediately after the return to the capital of Gen. Ramon Corona, the chief of staff of Provisional President Huerta.

Had Friendly Talk.

Gen. Corona has been informed by Capt. Henry Huse, chief of staff of Rear Admiral Fletcher, that all Mexicans desiring to do so could leave Vera Cruz and would be provided with transportation. Capt. Huse had urged Gen. Corona to assure Huerta that the American admiral found nothing reprehensible in the action of the civilians of Vera Cruz in defending their homes, as he believed this the highest privilege of any man.

At the meeting between Corona and Huse, all the formalities in connection with the flag of truce were carried out with exactness. It appears that Gen. Corona was much impressed with the way in which the Americans looked after the Mexicans who had been brought out under the care of Capt. Huse.

PUT SULPHUR ON AN ITCHING SKIN AND END ECZEMA

Says This Old-Time Eczema Remedy Is Applied Like Cold Cream.

Any irritation or breaking out on the face, arms, legs or body when accompanied by itching, or when the skin is dry and feverish, can be readily overcome by applying a little bold-sulphur cream, says a noted dermatologist.

He states that bold-sulphur instantly allays the angry itching and irritation and soothes and heals the Eczema right up leaving the skin clear and smooth. Bold-sulphur has occupied a secure position for many years in the treatment of cutaneous disorders because of its parasite-destroying property. Nothing has ever been found to take its place in treating the irritable and inflammatory skin affections. While not always establishing a permanent cure it never fails to subdue the itching irritation and drive the Eczema away and it is often years later before any eruption again appears on the skin.

Those troubled should obtain at any pharmacy an ounce of bold-sulphur cream which is applied to the affected parts in the same manner as an ordinary cold cream.

MINNESOTA TRAVELING MAN IN BAD SHAPE

In an affidavit executed before a Notary in St. Paul a traveling man swears to the following: Had a scrofulous ulcer about two by three inches in size on the right side of neck over the jugular vein—a dangerous place. Was treated by many doctors but no benefit. Allen's Ulcerine Salve cured the ulcer in six months.

This salve is one of the oldest remedies in America and since 1869 it has been known as the only salve powerful enough to cure chronic ulcers and old sores of long standing.

Allen's Ulcerine Salve acts by drawing out the poisons and healing the sore from the bottom up. It is so powerful that it heals new cuts and sores in one-third the time that common salves and liniments take. And it heals burns and scalds without a scar. Sold by the Spencer Pharmacy company and other leading druggists.

fight to the end, even though they lost all they had invested in Colorado. Since then the conflict has been waged with all the horrors of actual warfare. The president, cabinet officers, senators and congressman have been flooded with telegrams describing the most grewsome happenings and terrible scenes.

"Nothing that has happened in Mexico," said a cabinet official today, "compared with the awful things that have occurred in Colorado. The public mind has for the moment been centered on Mexico and has not observed the great domestic struggle between the strikebreakers and the miners and the militia in Colorado."

Thomas at White House.

Senator Thomas of Colorado conferred at the White House today, and all the members of the Colorado delegation in congress kept in touch with the situation. J. W. Burkhart, chairman of the Democratic committee, at Chandler, Colo., in telegraphing today to Representative Keating about the miners capturing the Chandler mines, declared that the only surrender of the mines would be to Federal soldiers, but that the miners promise not to destroy property.

Secretary Garrison said today he had not been consulted as to the sending of troops to Colorado to handle the mine strike situation. It was stated at the department, however, that if troops were ordered to Colorado by the president, a detachment would be sent from the two troops of the Twelfth cavalry now at Fort D. A. Russell at Cheyenne, Wyo.

Consults Attorney.

New York, April 27.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., spent the forenoon in conference with his personal attorney, Starr J. Murphy. He refused to comment upon the personal appeal made by President Wilson in an effort to bring about a settlement of the Colorado coal strike.

Camp in Militia's Hands.

Canon City, Colo., April 27.—Chandler, the mining camp captured yesterday by the strikers, was reoccupied peacefully today by the militia. Not a shot was fired. The mine buildings and houses were undamaged except for that wrought by bullets. The machinery was said to have been damaged considerably.

Chandler was deserted when the militia arrived, and no strikers were sighted in the surrounding hills.

RUDE AWAKENING FOR HUERTA FORESEEN

London Post Says United States Will Not Show Weakness.

London, April 27.—"President Huerta may interpret President Wilson's acceptance of mediation as an act of weakness," says the Morning Post in an editorial today; "but if he thinks the United States will shrink from whatever sacrifices are needed to secure victory for her cause, he is making a grave mistake.

"President Wilson would be utterly lacking in the imagination and foresight of a statesman if he were not anxious to take advantage of any honorable means to escape from the difficult situation, but if Huerta thinks that President Wilson is simply engaged in a game of bluff, he will be rudely undeceived."

The Daily Express thinks it was possibly the realization of unexpected difficulties which caused the Washington government to accept mediation.

The Times says it cannot believe the mediating republics have announced intention to elliminate Huerta, though it says they may use their influence to persuade Huerta to resign.

REFUGEES TELL OF NARROW ESCAPES

Norman Lind Among Those Who Came From Tampico.

Galveston, Tex., April 27.—Refugees from Mexico arriving here brought fresh stories of sudden flight, privation and insult to the American flag. Many of the refugees were nearly destitute, with children on their hands.

Dr. P. G. Opperman, formerly of Cleveland, Ohio, a Dixie refugee, said he escaped violence at Mexican hands in the Tampico municipal building Tuesday after the Vera Cruz fight news was posted, by passing himself off as a German.

E. F. Sessions of Florence, S. C., a Dixie passenger, said he brought twenty-one women and children down the Panuca river to Tampico Tuesday from Topila, an oil camp, until the Mexican gunboat Vera Cruz stopped him and sent him back under threats of shelling his boat and passengers. He retired, and returned flying a German flag, whereupon he was allowed to pass.

C. P. Smith, a resident of Tampico and owner of a plantation nearby, said he and his wife were arrested Tuesday while trying to leave Tampico and detained by a Federal lieutenant, who Smith said, called them vile names, adding: "All you Americans are robbers." They finally were released.

Norman Lind, son of John Lind, was among the passengers on the battleship Connecticut. He had gone from Vera Cruz to Tampico, arriving there about the time the rioting began.

Refugees Harrassed.

Nogales Ariz., April 27.—Refugee Americans who arrived from the interior and west coast of Mexico reported that although no violence had been shown them, they had been harrassed all the way to the border by petty rebel chiefs.

A freight train which came from points near Guaymas brought twenty-five Americans, many of whom were women.

PRAISE GIVEN MEN WHO TOOK VERA CRUZ

Washington, April 27.—High praise is accorded Rear Admiral Fletcher and his officers and men who participated in the occupation of Vera Cruz, in a general order issued by Rear Admiral Badger, commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet. Admiral Badger reported the order to the navy department.

"The occupation of the city of Vera Cruz, Mexico," it read, "commenced on the forenoon of April 21, 1914, by the naval forces of the United States, having been successfully concluded, the commander in chief desires to congratulate Rear Admiral F. E. Fletcher, U. S. N., in command of the United States naval forces on shore, and the officers and men of the landing force and of the supporting cruisers, for their gallant conduct.

"The gallantry and expedition of the officers and men engaged in this enterprise, undertaken on the spur of the moment and in the face of adverse conditions, was in keeping with the traditions of the service.

"The commander in chief wishes to congratulate Rear Admiral Fletcher on the perfect work of the plans perfected by him in anticipation of just such an emergency.

"For the subsequent measures and negotiations taken to restore to the city its ordinary routine of business and pacification of its inhabitants, Rear Admiral Fletcher and his officers and men deserve great praise.

"Highest honor is accorded those who gave up their lives gloriously in the service of their country, and the sympathy of the whole fleet goes out to their sorrowing relatives and friends."

AVIATORS SEE BRIDGES BURN.

Washington, April 27.—Naval aviators flying over Vera Cruz Sunday saw railroad bridges at Boca Del Rio, south of the port, burning, and reported trestles at Rico Moreno ablaze. These places are not on the line to Mexico City.

U. S. CONSULAR OFFICER IN PERIL.

Washington, April 27.—Consul General Shanklin has reported to the state department that he was in actual danger of his life before he finally succeeded in getting out of the Mexican capital to Vera Cruz on the train with Charge O'Shaughnessy. The consul general was one of the first victims of the military censors, and was not permitted to communicate to the department. In his report he said there were exciting moments in Mexico during the day preceding his departure. Following the overturning of the statue of Washington, mobs began to march through the streets, crying "Death to the Gringoes." Even the school children took part in the demonstration, Mr. Shanklin said, boys and girls outside of his office chanting "Death to the American consul general."

Thursday morning an order was issued that no telegram should be delivered or received from Americans.

The consul general expressed the fear that harm might come yet to the 1,000 or 800 Americans in Mexico City.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets. These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "loggy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. At 10c and 25c per box. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, Ohio. All druggists.

SPANIARD TAKES UP MEXICO'S INTERESTS.

Washington, April 27.—The interests of the Huerta government in the United States were taken over by the Spanish embassy when Charge Algara asked for his passports and left Washington for Canada. Ambassador Riano received the offer of good offices from the three peace envoys Saturday night after the offer had been accepted on the part of the United Stats by President Wilson, and by him presented to President Huerta.

When the formal acceptance from Mexico City is in hand, the South American diplomats will be ready to proceed with their plan, no intimation of the nature of which has yet been given.

INDIANS FOR THE AMERICAN ARMY.

Tucson, Ariz., April 27.—Supt. H. P. McHigg of the Papago Indian reservation said he would offer the services of 400 mounted Indians to the government in case of war.

BIGAMIST IS REMORSEFUL

Admits Having Two Wives and Blames Drink for Downfall.

W. J. Sullivan Will Throw Himself on Mercy of Court.

Waiving examination when arraigned in police court this morning on a charge of bigamy and claiming that he married Helen Swan of this city on Nov. 16 last while he was intoxicated, Walter J. Sullivan, 35 years old, who was arrested in Minneapolis last Friday night on the complaint of Grace Sullivan, his first wife, was bound over to the May term of the grand jury by Judge Cutting.

Sullivan was taken into custody by the Minneapolis police on a telegraphic warrant sent them by Chief Troyer earlier in the day. The complaint against him was made by his first wife, who came to Duluth Thursday from Minneapolis and swore out a warrant against Sullivan, charging him with bigamy. Deputy Sheriff John La Vaque was sent down to the Mill City by Sheriff Meining and he returned with the prisoner late yesterday afternoon.

When arraigned before Judge Cutting this morning Sullivan waived the preliminary examination and declared he would plead guilty before one of the district court judges before the grand jury convenes. Assistant County Attorney Forbes appeared in behalf of the state.

Sullivan said he met Miss Helen Swan, his second wife, at a gathering in Minneapolis last summer. Three weeks later, he claims, he came to Duluth and met her again. He was in a party here with several friends, Sullivan declares, and after two or three days of carousing he awoke to find himself married.

Is Repentant.

"I have had my lesson," he said, "and if I can ever get out of this, I will certainly behave. I only hope the judge will give me a chance and place me on parole. I am very fond of my first wife and will promise to go back to Minneapolis and quit my drinking. I returned to Minneapolis some time after my wedding and have been living there with my first wife ever since. I saw a lawyer about my situation, but he advised me that there was nothing to do but await results. Mrs. Sullivan knew of the second marriage and only last week, through the urging of some of my enemies, came here and swore out a warrant for my arrest. I am sure she will take me back, if the judge gives me a chance."

Sullivan is 35 years old and is a graduate of college in New York, where his parents reside. He came to Minneapolis about six years ago, during which time he was employed as an automobile salesman for the Frederick W. Murphy auto company and as an insurance salesman for the Merchants Casualty company. He was married to his first wife at Hayward, Wis., about three years ago. She is a public stenographer and special court reporter in Minneapolis and occupies offices in the New York Life building there.

FEUDIST IS DENIED REHEARING OF CASE.

Winchester, Ky., April 27.—D. F. Deaton, the Breathitt county feudist who was sentenced to life imprisonment for complicity in the murder of Edward Callahan, former sheriff of Breathitt county, was denied a rehearing of his case here today.

The cases of James Deaton and Andrew Johnson, who are accused of actually firing the shots which resulted in the death of Callahan, and who also were sentenced to life imprisonment, are yet to be heard on their motion for a rehearing.

Many Lodgers in Jail.

There were 102 men given free lodging at police headquarters on Saturday night and 121 men were cared for last night.

Wanted in Superior.

Joseph Goleski, 24 years old, was arrested by Patrolman Monahan Saturday night as a fugitive from Superior, where he is wanted by the authorties on a charge of stealing some money. He will be taken across the bay sometime this afternoon.

Milk Below Grade.

Chin Wong Tong, proprietor of the Zenith restaurant, who was arrested last week on a charge of selling milk that was below grade, was found guilty in police court this morning and he was fined $10 and costs or ten days in the county jail. He paid his fine. Wong Tong was arrested on the complaint of Joseph Pratts, health inspector.

Drunk Too Often.

For being drunk a fifth time, Emma Star, well known police character, will have to spend the next sixty days in the county jail. She was arrested Saturday night and in police court this morning pleaded guilty to the charge of drunkenness, drawing a straight sixty-day sentence.

Forfeit Their Bail.

James Patton, 64, and Mary Gray, 34, who were arrested for creating a disturbance in the Columbia hotel, 115 West First street, early yesterday morning, each forfeited $15 bail rather than appear in police court this morning. They were arrested on the complaint of Mrs. Joseph Mikolajcak, proprietor of the hotel, who claimed they were making a disturbance.

Detroit Party Coming.

The Commercial club has been notified that its invitation to the Detroit board of commerce has been accepted and that the members of that organization will visit Duluth on their annual cruise on June 30, remaining here from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. James Strasburg, chairman of the cruise committee, will be here next Sunday to make arrangements.

Found on Pier at 3 a. m.

Victor Siliquist, 29 years old, who was arrested while wandering along the government pier about 3 o'clock yesterday morning, without hat or coat, pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness in police court this morning. He will be sentenced this afternoon. It was thought at first that Siliquist was insane and that he intended to end his life, but after being arrested, the officers discovered that he was intoxicated.

Russell Mather Getting Better.

Russell Mather of Riverton, Minn., who was accidentally shot in the leg while target shooting at Aitkin three weeks ago, is convalescing at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Mather, 5331 East Superior street. He was at a hospital at Aitkin recovering from complications that set in from the wound, but he is now out of danger and will be at his home for a short time.

Truck Hits Street Car.

The Stacy & Merrill automobile truck ran into an East Fourth street car at Fifth avenue east and Third street about noon today. The fender of the automobile was smashed, while the street car was scratched and damaged on the side. No one was hurt.

Scarlet Fever on Decline.

The number of cases of scarlet fever in the city has dropped from 89 to 75 in the last three days, according to statistics of the health department. The officials state that this number will be still further reduced shortly as several patients have nearly recovered and will soon be discharged. They feel greatly encouraged by these figures.

Milk Licenses Expire April 30.

Milk Inspector Gust Hedman will be in his office at the city hall tomorrow, Wednesday and Thursday to receive applications for renewals of milk licenses, all of which expire on April 30. This applies to retail stores selling milk as well as dairies. The milk inspector wishes to meet the applicants personally to discuss needed improvements with some of them. Unless these are forthcoming he will recommend to the council that their licenses be not granted.

BUSY MEETING IS IN PROSPECT

Many Routine Matters Will Come Before City Commission.

Considerable routine business is scheduled for transaction by the city council this afternoon.

Many applications for miscellaneous licenses have been presented. The revised wheelage tax ordinance is due for its third reading as is the ordinance appropriating $30,000 for water and gas extensions for this year.

The ordinance designating blocks 109 and 110, Sixth division of West Duluth, as a residence district will receive its first reading. An ordinance appropriating $500 from the public works fund and $500 from the general fund for the purchase of an automobile for the engineering department will likely be introduced. It is planned to trade in the machine now used by the department.

Action may be taken on the application of I. Goldberg for a renewal of the saloon license of the Holland hotel at 501 West Superior street and Forrest Maloney for a license in the Cody hotel at West Duluth. Both were laid over one week at the last meeting. In the case of the Holland some alterations were desired to give a clear view of the bar from the outside. In the other instance the bartender had pleaded guilty to selling liquor to a minor, but since that time an affidavit has been secured from the boy's mother stating that he was born in 1892, which would make him 22 years old. A new trial will be asked and if it is established that the sale was not made to a minor the license will be granted.

THREE MINERS DEMAND DAMAGES

Injury Actions Are Filed Against the Wisconsin Steel Company.

Three miners who were injured last season at the Hawkins mine near Nashwauk started suit in district court Saturday afternoon to recover damages from the Wisconsin Steel company, operator of the mine.

Andrew Yahiti, a resident of Superior, alleges that on Dec. 15, 1913, while working as a member of a track gang at the Hawkins, a tie dropped on his foot breaking the bones and leaving him permanently disabled. The company, he asserts, has refused to settle under the terms of the workingmen's compensation act. Judge Bert Fesler has set May 16 as a date for hearing.

Eli Lubrovich, who was injured Feb. 25, 1913, and Joseph Brabrovich, who met with an accident July 5 last, will not come under the workingmen's compensation law, because the statute did not become operative until Oct. 1 last. They are each suing for $2,990 damages. Lubrovich alleges that rail fell on his left foot disabling him and Brabovich declares that while helping unload a car, the train on which he was standing started suddenly throwing him to the ground. His left leg and foot bones were fractured, he alleges.

AUTO WRECKED BY STREET CAR

Dr. H. E. Webster, director of public health, and William Carlson narrowly escaped with their lives when Dr. Webster's automobile, in which they were riding, was wrecked by a westbound Lakeside car at Sixteenth avenue east and Superior street yesterday morning.

Dr. Webster was driving up Sixteenth avenue west and did not see or hear the car until it was nearly on top of him. Seeing that it was too late to stop he threw it into full speed ahead, but failed to get across the tracks. The street car struck the automobile in the rear, sending it smashing into the curb. Both wheels were broken, the axle was badly bent and the top and body damaged considerably. But both men miraculously remained in their seats and did not sustain as much as a scratch.

MISTAKE NOT NATURAL.

So Frank Dora Goes to Work Farm for Burglary Charge.

Frank, Dora, 19 years old, hid under John Donaldson's bed in the latter's room at the Tacoma hotel last Saturday night, and when Donaldson was asleep, Dora crept out and went through the sleeping man's clothes, stealing a $5 watch and $6.50 in cash.

Just as Dora was walking out of the room, Donaldson awoke. Seizing Dora, Donaldson held him until the proprietor of the hotel answered his cries for help. Dora claimed that he had made a mistake about the room, but when a search of his clothing was made by the police a few minutes later, the watch and money were found in his coat.

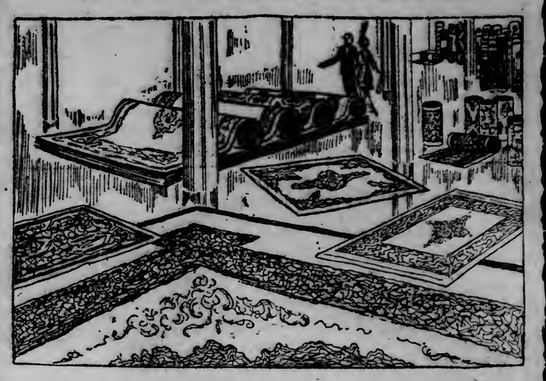
Dora pleaded guilty when arraigned in police court this morning and he was fined $100 or ninety days on the work farm. Being unable to pay the fine, he will be taken to the work farm this afternoon.

ASHLAND BOY IS BEING GIVEN SERUM.

Ashland, Wis., April 27.—Three injections of rabies serum were given to 15-year-old Rodney Osborn. He was bitten by a mad horse, April 19. The serum arrived from Pennsylvania. The examination of the brain of the dead horse, made at Madison, shows a well developed case of hydrophobia.

Bury Duluthian's Brother.

Crookston, Minn., April 27.—The funeral of Arthur J. Casmey, who died in Prescott, Ariz., on Monday, and whose remains were brought to Crookston for interment, was held Saturday.



Arthur J. Casmey was born at Euclid, Minn., on May 1, 1890, and grew to manhood in Crookston. He continued to reside with his parents, who survive him, until last September, when failing health prompted him to seek a change of climate.

Besides his parents he leaves three sisters, Mrs. Peter Rutherford and Mrs. Thomas Waters, both of Euclid, and Mrs. James Winfeller of Arizona; three brothers, Charles Casmey, Euclid; Robert Casmey, Duluth, and Lewis Casmey, Grand Forks, N. D.

A Timely Sale of Drop Patterns in Room Size Rugs

Duluth people are wise, they carpet their floors with rugs which can be easily and quickly taken up and cleaned whenever desired.

They also know that rugs may be shifted from one room and one house to another—and right now when moving time and housecleaning time is at hand this offer of 47 rugs is especially timely.

These concessions were made to us at various times within the last three months and we have saved the rugs to offer at a time when you would most appreciate them. Some of the rugs are in patterns which will not be discontinued until next fall. Mills must change patterns frequently, as after a pattern is run for sometime the trade expects a change, consequently these offers:

IRONWOOD, MICH., CUTTING AFFRAY

Three Men Badly Injured in Knife Affair; Several Arrested.

Ironwood, Mich., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—A cutting affray involving a dozen or more persons, took place in John Kozon's boarding house at the Newport mine location. Three men were cut quite badly and several others more or less bruised. The row grew out of a feud augmented by a social gambol arranged for the purpose of properly staging the affair, and when the actors emerged from the mixup, three were cut up in horrible condition and the others were exulting in their successful onslaught.

The police gathered them all in and had them arraigned before Judge J. J. Shea, where they were held for assault and battery and their cases set for this week. In the meantime several are being cared for in the county jail, while others are out on bail.

The injured men are Tom Sertich, John Mazoski and Pete Lukavak, while those listed among the assault and batteries are: Nick Raic, Steve Ranish, Steve Ugarkosic and Frank Racewitz.

FEARS NO TROUBLE.

Former North Dakotan Not Afraid in Lower California.

Mandan, N. D., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—C. M. Hazelton, formerly of Mandan, owner of a large ranch near Ensanada, Lower California, Mexico, who is here on business, does not believe that his section of Mexico will be very greatly disturbed by the present trouble, maintaining that the wide strip of water between the mainland of Mexico and Lower California dissipates much of the spirit of the mainland.

Mr. Hazelton's district is under the control of the Federals' and he says things have been fairly peaceful there throughout the long strife in the remainder of Mexico. Personally, he says he would have no fear to return to his holdings, which are about 150 miles south of the United States boundary line.

LEFT LARGE ESTATE.

Former Mandan Man Was Worth About Half Million.

Mandan, N. D., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Douglas C. Flikens, formerly of this city, who died recently at Battle Creek, Mich., left an estate valued at approximately $500,000, and most of it is represented by realty holdings in Morton, Stark, Oliver, Mercer and McLean counties. About $150,000 worth of holdings are in Morton county, according to the schedules filed in the probate court.

There are three heirs, a brother and two sisters, Daniel Filtus, the brother, is here to take charge of the administration of the estate.

OVERCOME BY GAS.

McIntosh Electric Light Manager and Helper Nearly Asphyxiated.

McIntosh, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—W. A. Jensen, the electric light man and his helper, had a very close call last evening when they went to start their gas producing engine, being overcome with fumes from the gas machine. Had it not been for the timely arrival of one of the citizens at the plant there is no question but one them would have died. The city was in darkness the greater part of the night.

LOFTUS WILL SPEAK.

Minnesotan to Address North Dakota Equity Society Meetings.

Bismarck, N. D., April 27.—A number of meetings will be held in North Dakota in May, June and July, under the auspices of the American Society and the Farmers Equity Co-operative exchange, Fargo, N. D.

Meetings have been booked so far at the following places: Reynolds, May 9; Northwood, May 23; Newburg, May 26-27; Turtle Lake, June 18-19; New England, June 12 Valley City, July 6; Tolley, July 4; Mayville, July 7 and Devils Lake, July 8.

A number of other meetings will be arranged. Some of the orators assigned to this state are: George S. Loftus and Drake of Minneapolis; Magnus Johnson, Kimball, former Congressman Kelley of South Dakota; J. M. Anderson, Fargo; Frank Odell, Omaha and others.

TROUBLE NOT SETTLED.

Fargo Contractors and Building Trades Unions Not Pulling Together.

Fargo, N. D., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The idea that an agreement between the contractors and the building trades workers could be reached by May 1 has been practically abandoned.

Recent efforts to get the contractors and the union men together have failed and many union carpenters have gone to other cities. A number of non-union men have come here for employment as carpenters plumbers and in other lines. The contractors insist they have all the men they can use.

CASS LAKE EDITOR TO VISIT NEW YORK.

Cass Lake, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Word has been received here from Frank Ives, the local editor who with Mrs. Ives has been enjoying life in Florida that they will leave April 30 for the North. Mrs. Ives is to visit relatives on Long Island and in Boston, while the judge goes to his boyhood home in the Empire state, where he has not visited in twenty-seven years. Mr. Ives expects to do some fishing in the Adirondack mountains before returning here.

TEARS UP MORTGAGE.

North Dakotan's Wife Tries to Counterace Spouse's Folly.

Makoti, N. D., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—There was some excitement here when the wife of a reservation homesteader went into the bank, asked to be shown a mortgage signed by her husband, tore the paper into shreds, then promptly fainted. It is probable that she will be prosecuted unless a new mortgage is at once made out. It is claimed that the husband denied knowledge of the character of the paper he signed when the mortgage was made and his wife undertook this method of destroying the evidence.

EATS GOPHER POISON.

Child's Death Results at Home Near Mohall, N. D.

Mohall, N. D., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—A mixture of gopher poison, left on the floor, was eaten by Hannah Locken and death resulted before antidotes could be administered. The child was 2½ years old and ate the poison while both parents were temporarily from the house. The father made the mixture and left it in a pan overnight on the floor, intending to distribute it in the morning.

PERJURY CHARGE.

Made Against North Dakotan Who Sought to Wed Girl.

Mandan, N. D., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—George Albert Arch is wanted on a perjury and perhaps on a more serious charge as a result of his efforts to wed a 15-year-old girl. He is 21 and resided at Almont. The girl was large for her age and Arch told County Judge Johnson she was 19, securing a license. The official later learned the deception and started out on the warpath. Before the marriage ceremony could be performed he located Arch and compelled the surrender of the license. The parents of the girl preferred a perjury charge against the young man and he has disappeared. Should he be located more serious charges will probably be made.

PROPOSES FREE SNUFF.

North Dakotan Would Make Inducement to County Fair Attendance.

Bowbells, N. D., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Something new in the way of securing attendance at county fairs has been suggested by John Norlin, a local business man. Free snuff for the visitors is his slogan. The local people decided to hold the Burke county fair here Aug. 4, 5 and 6. Committees for the different features were named. When the discussion reached the point of securing the maximum attendance Norlin made the foregoing suggestion. As a result of the anti-snuff law, which has been upheld by the courts, users of snuff have had some difficulty in securing supplies. There are so many addicted to the use that Norlin thinks a package for each visitor caring for it would be an attraction.

NORTH DAKOTAN ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.

Milton, N. D., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Every finger was shot off the left hand of Louis Kohl, leaving just the thumb. He was carrying a shotgun on the grain drill he was operating. When his machine ran over a rock, the gun was dislodged and accidentally discharged, the load striking the driver's hand.

FORGER ADMITS GUILT; IS SOON SENTENCED.

Steele, N. D., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Forging two checks, admitting his guilt, being sent to the state reform school and beginning his term of service for the state were events that occurred in the life of Jefferson Lewis within a brief period. He succeeded in cashing a $10 check, but when he presented another for $15, suspicion was aroused and he was arrested as he was planning to leave here on a train. The checks had been forged on W. F. Wilson, for whom he had worked.

IRONWOOD NOTES.

Ironwood, Mich., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Steve Vizanko, who has been in the employ of Sullivan & Coumbe for several years, has resigned and left for Ewen, Mich., where he will form a partnership with John Lipke in general merchandise.

Mrs. John Wedge and nephew, Wilbur Pellow, sailed last week for England to visit Mrs. Wedge's parents.

R. R. Shier, the Watersmeet logging contractor, has finished operations at Camp 14 for the season, and will start at once building camps and making logging railway grades in Carlson township, north of Wolf lake.

Cancel Fort Riley Plans.

Madison, Wis., April 27.—Adjt.-Gen. Orlando Holway has received word from Washington canceling the military school training which was to have been given in June at Fort Riley, Kan., for officers of the Wisconsin National Guard.

The message stated that the Fort Riley troops have been sent to the front, making it impossible to carry out plans.

Case Dismissed.

Bessemer, Mich., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The case against C. V. Pollock, charged with illegal voting was thrown out of court when brought before Judge J. J. Shea in Ironwood, there not being evidence enough to warrant the carrying of the case to the circuit court. Prosecuting Attorney J. A. Neill made a motion to dismiss the case, which was granted by Judge Shea.

Fire Marshal Busy.

Bismarck, N. D., April 27.—State Fire Marshal Ringe is a busy man these days being called to all parts of the state on investigations. He returned last week from New Rockford and other points. Today he left for McClusky while his deputy went to Tuttle.

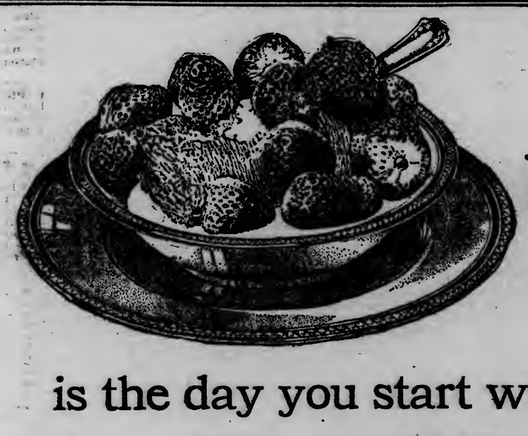
Johannes Lade, cashier of the bank now discohtinued, for a number of years past, will have a responsible position in the First National.

Red Lake Falls—The first open air band concert of the season will be given on Main street next Tuesday evening.



Pine River—The Leef block narrowly escaped destruction by fire Wednesday morning. The gasoline water heater in the barber shop went wrong in some manner and for awhile things looked doubtful. Fred Moulster threw a raincoat over the flaming heater and carried to the street.

Fergus Falls—Fuller Bishop, a nephew of Mrs. C. J. Wright, who has been in a naval training school at Great Lakes, Ill., has been ordered to the battleship New York, which will proceed to Mexico.

Wahkon—A 950-pound bell arrived last week for the Presbyterian church. The bell was purchased from the M. W. Savage factories with funds raised by the young people of the church.

Mahnomen—A gas tractor was unloaded here last week. It will be used by Lee Jester in breaking up a farm near town. Mr. Jester is going to put in a big lot of flax.

Crookston—The street corners of the city have been assuming a more metropolitan air with traffic patrolmen on the watch for reckless drivers and the street commissioner is preventing all obstruction of sidewalks and streets obstruction of sidewalks and streets which remains any length of time or takes up more than a small portion of the street.

The brightest day of the year is the day you start with a breakfast of

Shredded Wheat Biscuit and Strawberries

A return to this simple, wholesome, nourishing diet after a season of heavy foods means renewed mental and physical vigor—a clearing of the cobwebs from the brain. It keeps the stomach sweet and clean and the bowels healthy and active.

Heat one or more Biscuits in the oven to restore crispness; then cover with berries or other fresh fruit; serve with milk or cream and sweeten to suit the taste. Better than soggy white flour "short-cake"; contains no yeast, no baking powder, no fats, no chemicals of any kind—just the meat of the golden wheat, steam-cooked, shredded and baked.

Just Between You and Me

By BRUCE

SHOULD the Duluth Boat club send a four and eight to the Henley regatta, and following the supposition trial along a bit further, should the crews win or some of the crews, it will be the first time than an American crew has ever won the highest rowing honors in the world.

Jimmy Ten Eyck is authority for the statement that either one of his eights of last season could have won the eight-oared contest at the Henley, in his opinion. James follows this advantage quickly by stating that his present national sweepstakes senior four, one of the most illustrious as well as one of the most unbeatable combinations in the country, can win the stewarts' challenge cup, the trophy that was brought across the Atlantic in 1910 by Cornelius and Conferers.

Friends, citizens and those in the habit of subscribing for sporting events, lend us your ears. In the happy event of little old Duluth sending one or two crews across the broad sweep of water that with the assistance of accent and judicious tea drinking differentiates two great branches of one great race, this city will be placed on the rowing Rand McNally and our crews will be on the tongues of followers of rowing throughout the civilized world.

It is a great and grand opportunity, fellow citizens. In the event of our sending crews over to Henley to row that English distance of one mile and 550 yards, we will meet the class of the world, the best crews developed in several countries, and it will afford Duluth the chance to supplement the winning of several national championships by copping the highest title in all the world.

NOW that the big league teams are fairly in the rhythm of their stride the back to the farm movement, regarding which students of statistics are giving out much lore, is being given a splendid and well sustained impetus.

It's Different Now.

FRANK CHANCE in telling of the spirit of the old Cubs, relates of how in the thick of the great fight in 1908 Overall was watched all night by his roommate, Minor Brown, for fear that the bitterness of losing a close game would drive big Jeff to the point of taking his life.

There is not the least danger of any of the present Cub pitchers being watched for similar reasons.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Saturday's Results.
Cincinnati, 13; Chicago, 1.
Brooklyn, 4; Boston, 0.

Pittsburg 6; Chicago 4.

Chicago, April 27.—Home run drives by Hyatt and Mitchell gave Pittsburg the first game of the series with Chicago here yesterday 6 to 4. The locals took a four-run lead by bunching hits in the sixth behind Konetchy's error and a sacrifice hit. The visitors rallied in the eighth and scored two on Mitchell's single and Hyatt's homer. Four more runs were added to the visitors' column in the last inning when Lavender weakened and hit Mowrey. Wagner followed with a single and Konetchy walked, filling the bases. Mowrey scored on Vlox's out. Mitchell followed with a homer to center, scoring Wagner and Konetchy ahead of him. Pittsburg fought hard to stave off a ninth inning rally by the locals and sent McQuillen to the mound in place of Conzelman when two Chicagoans were on base with none out. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Chicago	0	0 0 0 0 4 0 0 0	4 12 1

Batteries—Cooper, Conzelman, McQuillen and Gibson, Coleman; Lavender and Archer. Umpires—Klem and Hart.

Reds 5; Cardinals 2.

Cincinnati, April 27.—Cincinnati played superior ball both in the field and at bat and defeated St. Louis in the first game of the series yesterday 5 to 2. Yingling yielded only four hits. Sallie was hit hard, the locals scoring five runs while he was in the box. Hopper, who succeeded Sallee, did not yield the semblance of a hit in the two innings he was on the mound. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
St. Louis	1	0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0	2 4 3
Cincinnati	3	0 2 0 0 0 0 0 x	5 8 2

Louisville	0	1 0 0 0	1 5 3

Batteries — Merz and Blackburne; Ellis, Leverett and Clemons.

Columbus 6; Cleveland 3.

Columbus, Ohio, April 27.—Columbus started to hit in the sixth inning yesterday and assisted by Cleveland's fielding slips, won the final game of the series 6 to 3. Manager Hinchman sent his team ahead in the seventh with a triple after a pass and an error had put Shelton and Benson on bases. Three of the five hits Schneberg allowed were bunched in the fourth inning. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Columbus	0	0 0 0 3 3 1 x	8 2
Cleveland	0	0 0 2 0 1 0 0 0	3 5 3

Batteries — Schneberg and Smith; Benn, Lush and Roth.

Millers 5; Kansas City 3.

Minneapolis, April 27.—Minneapolis won from Kansas City here yesterday by a score of 5 to 3, in the shortest game of the local season, being played in 1:20. Altizer's hitting was a feature. He had a home run and a double out of twice up. Score:

RAIN CAUSES MANY DELAYS IN SCHEDULES.

Rain clogged up the major league schedules during the past week and several ile games aided in piling up double-headers.

Eleven games had to be postponed because of bad weather, six in the National and five in the American league, while two drawn contests in the younger and one in the older circuit will have to be played off later.

In the thirty-seven games that went to a decision, however, considerable progress was made in aligning the clubs in accordance with their playing strength.

Outstanding features in the week's play were the brilliant work of the Pittsburgs and the notable spurt of the Detroits in tying with Chicago for the American league leadership. The Pirates won their seventh straight game on Thursday and were checked only when on Friday Bob Harmon's old comrrades on the St. Louis team found his offerings as a Pittsburg slabman to their liking.

MANAGERS WILL HOLD MEETING

New Amateur League Will Elect a Board of Directors.

There will be a meeting this evening at the Kelley hardware store of team managers of Duluth who have signified their intention of bringing their teams under the auspices of the new amateur league. It is also hoped that every fan of the city and every one interested in baseball will be on hand to lend encouragement to the new league.

As it is proposed to elect the board of directors at the meeting this evening, it is necessary that there be a representative attendance of the various managers of all of the teams, both large and small, that are to make up the league.

One of the foundations of success of the league must be the board of directors, and to insure the success of the league and harmony in its ranks, it is necessary that this board shall be thoroughly representative of all of the various divisions. The division of the small teams as well as the division embracing the older teams should be represented by some member on the board of directors.

The meeting of this evening is set for 8 o'clock and everyone interested in the league is requested to attend.

BIG DULUTHS LEAD LEAGUE

Clothing Bowlers Set Hot Pace for the Major Teams.

The Big Duluths are leading the teams of the major bowling league. The season is nearly at an end and with the exception of the trailer, the Duluth Brewing & Malting company's team, five of the teams have been in the race all of the season. So close has the fight been from the start to the end of the stretch that five of the teams have been eligible for leadership at all stages.

Whitney leads the averages of the individual bowlers and the bowlers of the Big Duluth team lead in the pin averages as well as holding the leadership of the race.

As in the case of the Grand and Duluth and Superior leagues, the season that is nearly at an end in the major league has been the most successful in the history of the pin game and has reflected the able management of the officials of the league and the enthusiasm of the players.

CINCINNATI REDS SUE FOR DAMAGES

After Big Sums From Federal Kaws Manager and Johnson.

Chicago, April 27.—The Cincinnati Exhibition company, which operates the National league ball club, has filed damage suits in the superior court here asking $20,000 from C. C. Madison, president of the Kansas City Federal league club, and $10,000 from George Johnson, pitcher, as a result of Johnson's "jumping" to the Federal league. The complaint charges Madison with obtaining a player under contract with the Cincinnati club, and charges Johnson with breach of contract.

The damage suits are supplemental to the injunction suit brought Thursday against the Kansas City club and Johnson, which prevented his playing with his new team. Answer to the injunction suit will be filed today in Judge Foell's court, it was announced at Federal league headquarters.

HATLEY OPENS NEW PARLORS.

W. F. Hatley, one of the best known billiard players of the Northwest, and also one of the best room keepers in the United States, has opened a new room under the Columbia Clothing company's store.

For years "Bill" Hatley was room keeper of the St. Louis hotel. There he played some of the stars of the billiard world and was also instrumental in bringing to the Head of the Lakes some of the stellar lights among the cue fraternity.

YOUNG BALL PLAYERS TO MAKE UP WHITE SOX TEAM

O'Brien Is the Only Veteran Who Remains in the Infield.

Young, a Catcher, and Brackett to Be Tried in Garden.

Oshkosh, Wis., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—For a manager who has to build up practically a new team, Darby O'Brien of the Duluth Sox is an optimist of the first water. Of the twenty-one men eating at the Duluth table, only half a dozen are last year's men, for O'Brien got rid of the bulk of his club last year by sale and draft.

Still, the manager of the Northern leaguers is hopeful of a pennant contender. A first division team is what he has promised the Duluth fans, and unless four of the other clubs in that circuit show unlooked-for strength, Darby will stand by his promise.

Duluth has opened a series of six games at the Oshkosh park and will play every day for the rest of the month against the Indians, champions of the W.-I. league. On May 1 the White Sox go to Appleton for four games against the Papermakers, and then go north to open at Winona, May 6. Their opening at home takes place May 18, against Superior.

The Duluth club assembled at Cleveland, and then went over to Fort Wayne for a spell. Twenty-one men worked out at Fort Wayne, playing two games, and then Darby picked eight of them, let the rest go, and came on to Oshkosh to await reinforcements. The squad has been increased to twenty-one, and a couple of other men are expected here within a few days.

Manager O'Brien himself is all that is left of the Duluth infield of 1913. The White Sox boss plays second base. He hasn't an outfielder left from last year, but has a catcher and three pitchers, one of the hurlers being slated for an outfield job this year.

Back of the bat, the veteran Sweeley is back in harness. Edmonds will probably work with Sweeley this season. He is well known to the Duluth fans, coming to the Sox in exchange for "Muggsy" McGraw, and O'Brien expects him to have a good year, from present actions.

Goff, a Duluth boy, looks good back of the bat. Manager O'Brien has his fears about the youngster, however, as he is wofully light for backstop work, and may find the Northern some pretty stiff going, his first year out. Catcher Young will probably go to the outfield.

A Giant at First.

McGuff, towering six feet, four inches in the air, looks good to O'Brien for the first base position. The manager will play second bag and handle the infield play from the keystone station.

Shortstop Wolfe is another new acquisition who looks good for a steady job. Wolfe is a Cleveland boy, and played in the South Atlantic league last year, from which league he comes well recommended.

At third base the Duluth club will probably witness a good race between Brennan and Detrich. In practice, Brennan has been fielding the dizzy corner in great style. Detrich is due to arrive on almost any train, and when he gets into uniform it will be a case of survival of the fittest between him and Brennan for third base.

Darby plans to put a good battery in the outfield, Pitcher Brackett and Catcher Young. Brackett is one of the three veteran hurlers, and had a good record of games won last year. But O'Brien is impressed with the hitting and the speed of this man, and thinks it will add a lot to the offensive ability of the Sox to have him in the batting order regularly.

Of Young the same holds true. The catcher taken on from the Cleveland semi-professional ranks looks like a good hitter, too good a batter to waste, and as Sweeley and Edmonds are capable of holding down the catching end, Young will probably be given a garden. Another Cleveland man, Phillips, and Swanson and Demorey are after outfield jobs.

In Blancket and Woods, Darby has a pair of pitchers whom he knows he can rely on. Blancke is a right-hander, and Woods, a southpaw, the only left-hander in the bunch. O'Brien shares Joe Killian's theory that left-handers are difficult articles to experiment with, and he relies on Woods to do the southpawing.

Pitcher Grina of Flaxton, N. D., is a youngster who looks like a fixture. O'Brien likes the looks of the big fellow. He is young and powerful, has a sharp curve ball, and appears to have a world of control. This chap was slated to work the opener against Oshkosh, for he shows more than the rest of the bunch at this stage of the season.

The sensation of the northern "range," Cunningham, is going along in good shape. Like Grina, he is a six-footer, and if he can control his fast ones he will be worth a thorough try-out. This is Cunningham's first year in professional ball, and the fans in the northern country expect great things of him.

Pitcher Schrenck, who goes two inches over the six-foot mark, shows a lot of promise. He is a right-hander, hailing from Sandusky. Leahy, Westholm, Stanley and Buckley are trying out, and from the quartet there should be one or two worth keeping around.

The president of the Duluth club, H. A. Blume, has made Oshkosh his headquarters for the rest of the month. Mr. Blume takes an active interest in his ball players, and is more than pleased

ENGLISHMEN WIN RELAY

Oxford Team Just Noses Out Pennsylvania in Intercollegiate Classic.

Contest Deceivingly Close; Other Events in Good Time.

Philadelphia, April 27.—Oxford university of England won by one foot the four-mile international college relay championship on Franklin field Saturday afternoon. It was the most sensational finish ever seen here in that great event.

The race was even until the last mile, when Madeira of Pennsylvania gave McCurdy of Pennsylvania a short lead. Jackson of Oxford, the Olympic 1,500-meter champion, caught him and it was a neck-and-neck race all the way. McCurdy sprinted in the last 100 yards, but the Englishman held him and just nosed him out at the finish.

Many spectators thought Pennsylvania had won, but the officials said the Oxford champion breasted the tape first.

The last mile was run in a heavy rain storm. Summaries:

Four-mile college relay championship of the world—Won by Oxford by one foot; second, Pennsylvania; third, Cornell; fourth, Pennsylvania state college. Time, 18:05.

One-mile college relay championship of America—Won by Harvard; second, Pennsylvania; third, Cornell. Time, 3:22 3-5.

Javelin throw—Won by Dorizas, Pennsylvania; second, Ross, Yale; third, Lamb, Pennsylvania State. Distance, 169.3¼ feet.

WHITE SOX ARE BEATEN

Oshkosh Defeats Dooks By 9 to 8 Score in Eleven Innings.

Oskosh, Wis., April 27.—The Duluth White Sox and the champion Oshkosh team of the W.-I. league fought out an eleven-inning battle here yesterday, the locals winning by the score of 9 to 8.

With players in the lineup that have not been accustomed to playing together, and with the team just beginning to round into condition, the first exhibition game of the 1914 season showed all that could be expected from the Duluth aggregation.

President H. A. Blume of the Duluth Baseball association witnessed the contest and expressed himself as satisfied with the work of his players.

In the fifth round the Sox fell upon the offerings of Frank Hoffman, the former White Sox pitcher, and before the smoke of the inning had died away seven runs had been rung up. Lotz came to the relief and held the invaders to one hit in the remaining six innings of the game.

Grina, on the mound for the visitors, showed some good stuff for so early in the season. George Cunningham, the Sturgeon Lake recruit, finished the game and finished fairly strong.

One of the features of the game was the stellar work of Hi Brackett for the visitors in center field. The speedy converted pitcher raced back to the fence upon two occasions and pulled down long flies.

The hitting of Durham for the locals and the excellent first base play of McDuff, the giant recruit of the Sox, furnished the other features of the contest.

Purifies Blood With Telling Effect

Gives Conscious Evidence of Its Direct Action.

S. S. S., the famous blood purifier, almost talks as it sweeps its way through the circulation. Its action is so direct that very often in some forms of skin affliction the appearance of the eruptions changes over night, the itch and redness are gone and recovery begins immediately.

As a matter of fact, there is one ingredient in S. S. S. which serves the active purpose of stimulating each cellular part of the body to the healthy and judicious selection of its own essential nutriment. That is why it regenerates the blood supply; why it has such a tremendous influence in overcoming eczema, rash, pimples, and all skin afflictions.

And in regenerating the tissues S. S. S. has a rapid and positive antidotal effect upon all those irritating influences that cause rheumatism, sore throat, weak eyes, loss of weight, thin, pale cheeks, and that weariness of muscle and nerve that is generally experienced as spring fever. Get a bottle of S. S. S. at any drug store, and in a few days you will not only feel bright and energetic, but you will be the picture of new life. S. S. S. is prepared only in the laboratory of The Swift Specific Co., 534 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., who maintain a very efficient Medical Department, where all who have any blood disorder of a stubborn nature may write freely for advice and a special book of instructions. S. S. S. is sold everywhere by drug stores, department and general stores, but beware of all substitutes. Do not accept them.

GOPHER BALL TEAM UP TO REAL TEST.

Chicago, April 27. — The Big Nine's baseball championship race has opened and the end of the first round finds Illinois, Chicago and Wisconsin leading in percentage of games won. The first tour of the season, made by Indiana, was not as successful as the friends of the Hoosiers had hoped. Of the three games played, only one—that with New York Western— was won by the Bloomington nine, while both Wisconsin and Chicago defeated it.

Minnesota, which opened its conference season and a round of the Southern schools Saturday with a defeat by Illinois, meets Northwestern and Chicago today and tomorrow in games that should show the real strength of the Gophers.

GOLF TOURNAMENT WILL BE IN AUGUST.

Houghton, Mich., April 27.—George F. Ruez, president of the Upper Peninsula Golf league, announces that the annual meeting and tournament will take place this year during the week of Aug. 3 at Ishpeming. Three or four days will be required to complete the play and it was decided to have the meeting early in the month in order not to interfere with the meeting of the Lake Superior Mining Institute.

"SAFETY FIRST" MOTTO IN WOODS.

A crusade for safety in the woods has been begun by a local hardware firm. Small red tags to be tacked or tied to trees have been printed in large numbers for distribution to the hunters. The tag bears the statement: "I do not want to get shot in these woods, neither do you—you should be careful what you shoot at. So will I and we'll both go home alive and well."

If the hunters assist in the campaign it is bound to result in more care being exercised for the tags will prove a reminder of the need of taking precautions.

Big Duluths Win.

The Big Duluths defeated the Minnesota Steel company at baseball yesterday by the score of 22 to 5. The feature of the game was the heavy hitting of the clothiers. Baker and McLaughlin slugged the pellet hard and Pitcher Kozak for the clothiers pitched a steady game.

AMERICANS SAVED BY BRITISH FLAG.

Port Arkansas, Tex., April 27.—The yacht Wackiva arrived in port here with 130 refugees from Tampico. Capt. Jollison said that the Mexican Federals refused to allow the Wackiva to sail, and a British admiral boarded her and hoisted a British admiral's flag. He then ordered her out to sea and they were not molested further.

Admiral Mayo requested Washington to have refugees released from quarantine at once, as there is no accommodation on board the yacht for them.

The refugees are officials and employes of the Huasteca Petroleum company.

AMERICAN REFUGEES TAKEN FROM TRAIN

More Than Thirty Men, Women and Children Endangered.

Drunken Mob's Threats Are Stopped By Army Officer.

Vera Cruz, Mex., April 27.—More than thirty Americans—men, women and children—who were trying to leave the country, were taken from a train at Aguas Callentes and imprisoned in the smelter there, according to advices received here.

Among there was Gaston Schmutz, United States consul at Aguas Callentes. Some of the others are Miss Kay, matron at Aguas Callentes hotel; Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Culver, Mr. and Mrs. F. Peyton and their two children; Mrs. Chielman and her four children; Mrs. Schmutz, wife of the American consul; C. L. Baker, general manager of the American Smelting & Refining company; E. E. Hearn; H. D. Wilde; Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Harroun and their daughter; F. H. McAuley; Mr. Patridge; C. F. Lucas; J. I. Henderson; Mrs. A. B. Emery; Walter Eikel; A. W. Koch; H. Hendrickson of the La Fe Mining company; Mr. Kenyon; Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Lee; H. H. Hollingsworth and wife; P. W. Jones, and Mr. Sorrell.

Drunken Mob on Train.

A drunken mob at Encarnacion entered the train and ordered all Americans out of the car, stating that they were to be killed. While parleying with the drunken men, there appeared a small party of Mexican soldiers whose officer protested against the summary execution of the Americans. He then drove the refugees into the rear car, which was uncoupled from the train and left standing on the track.

Later this coach was taken to Aguas Callentes, where American Consul Schmutz, Railway Supt. Thomas and a number of railway employes were added to the number of captives, all of whom were locked in the smelter.

Refugees Marooned.

Another party of American refugees fleeing from a town in the state of Aguas Callentes, were driven from the train and marooned at Trinidad.

K. M. Van Zandt, president of the American club, and all the trustees and officers of the club are under arrest in Mexico City, according to news reaching here. Among those detained are M. C. H. Agramonte, a Civil war general; W. L. Vail, J. B. Buchanan, William A. Parker, C. G. Ray, E. G. Marr and Charles Yaeger, the club's manager, who also is a veteran of the American Civil war.

All the officials of the Mercantile Banking company and the Mexico City Banking company also are in custody in the capital. The bank officers were arrested because they refused to contribute money to the Mexican government. The American grocery was burned and an attempt made to fire the American club. Three other American stores were looted.

Handbills urging the populace to burn American houses are being circulated in the capital.

Stayed With Husbands.

A number of American women in the capital who otherwise might have come to Vera Cruz on the refugee train, refused to leave their husbands. The order against leaving Mexico City appears not to have applied to them. The water supply plant at Tejera is now guarded by 300 marines. The marines found the pumps undamaged. Mexicans are operating the plant.

Proof that Gen. Huerta regards his country at war with the United States is contained in the note sent by Foreign Minister Rojas to Nelson O'Shaughnessy in ordering the American charge d'affaires from the country. The note, in this regard, says:

"According to international custom, the acts of the forces of the United States, which I do not care to qualify in this note out of deference to the fact that your honor personally has observed toward the Mexican people and government a most strictly correct conduct, so far as has been possible to you in your character as the representative of a government with which such serious difficulties as those existing have arisen, must be considered as an initiation of war against Mexico."

BIG GAIN IN POPULATION

Estimated United States Is Now Country of 109,000,000 People.

Figures By States Are Given in Census Bureau Bulletin.

Washington, April 27.—The United States is now a country of 109,000,000 people, according to the bulletin containing the estimates of population for the years subsequent to the thirteenth census, soon to be published by Director William J. Harris of the bureau of the census. It was prepared under the supervision of C. S. Sloane, geographer.

As stated, the estimated population of the United States for July 1, 1914, will be 109,021,992. The population of the United States and its possessions in 1910 was 101,748,269; so there will have been an estimated gain of over 7,000,000 persons in a little more than four years. The corresponding estimated population of Continental United States for July, 1914, is 98,781,324, as compared with the population of 91,972,266, as returned by enumerators, April 15, 1910. This bulletin also present the estimates of population in 1910, 1911, 1912, 1913 and 1914 for the states and territories, and for cities which had 8,000 or more inhabitants in 1910.

Arithmetical Method.

Estimates of population are required primarily for use in the census bureau in calculating death rates and per capita averages for years other than the census year. The so-called arithmetical method was adopted for computing these estimates. It is the simplest and it has been shown by experience to come nearer in accuracy in the majority of cases than any other formula. It rests on the assumption that the increase in population each year since the enumeration is equal to the annual increase from 1900 to 1910.

The bulletin presents in its several tables population data for the United States and its outlying possessions in 1910 and 1900, with estimates of the population July 1, 1914, 1913, 1912, 1911 and 1910. Similar data is also presented for the different states in the Union. There is also presented a statement of the white and colored population on April 15, 1910, together with estimates of the white and colored population as of July 1st for each of the years 1914, 1913, 1912, 1911 and 1910. These estimates, however, have been confined to the states having a considerable proportion of colored population, no estimates being presented for any state that did not have 50,000 or more colored inhabitants on April 15, 1910, or at least 10 per cent of its population colored.

Estimated By States.

The estimates of population for July 1, 1914, and the population April 15, 1910, for all states are as follows:

WAR VETERANS ARE HONORED

Culver Post Gives Birthday Party to Three of Its Members.

Members of Culver post, G. A. R., gave a birthday party Saturday night in honor of Rev. N. L. Upham, aged 31, M. W. Bates, aged 74; and S. W. Clark, aged 71 at Memorial hall, courthouse. Mrs. Presnell, wife of Capt. Thomas W. Presnell, was also an honored guest, as her birthday, as well as the birthday of the three veterans, comes this week. Mrs. Presnell represented her husband as he is ill and could not be present. The veteran expressed his regret at being absent, through a letter.

The speeches, for the most part, dealth with incidents and events of the Civil war, and especially those dealing with Gen. Grant, whose birthday occurs today. The siege of Vicksburg, the closing struggle along the Potomac, the surrender of Lee at Appomatox were refought, and the present attitude of the United States in the Mexican situation was indorsed.

The Superior veterans were represented by G. E. Dietrich, who spoke on the Mexican situation, declaring that the little southern republic will be glad to salute the stars and stripes every morning before breakfast after she has had a few experiences with Uncle Sam.

Chaplain Upham, who is the oldest of the veterans present, told of his enlistment and the experiences while serving in the capacity of chaplain.

Mr. Clark, who is commander of the post, related some interesting reminiscences, among which was a chat which he had with Gen. Grant.

"I was acting as a mail carrier at the time," said Mr. Clark, "and I was obliged to go after mail one night. When I got to the boat landing it was dusk. While I was there a man approached me in the dusk. He started a casual conversation and gave me a cigar. We talked for several minutes, and then he left me. I was curious to learn who the man was. I watched his face and when a light struck him I recognized him as Grant."

Mr. Bates also gave an interesting account of some of his war experiences. The three honored veterans were presented with a fine birthday cake, and Judge Cant and others extended congratulations.

QUARTER OF CENTURY IN NATIONAL GUARD

Lieut.-Col. H. V. Eva was given a banquet at the Commercial club Saturday evening in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his enlistment in the Minnesota National Guard by thirteen of his fellow officers. Following the banquet Col. Eva was presented with a new regulation automatic revolver as a token of esteem from his comrades.

Col. Eva enlisted in Company K, Second regiment, then stationed at Duluth, on April 26, 1889, and his service has been continuous from that time.

The banquet came as a surprise to the honored guest. His fellow officers had invited him to "drop in to the club" but no intimation had been given that a banquet was in order.

The affair was informal and was featured by short addresses by those present. Col. F. E. Resche of the Third regiment presented the pistol to Lieut.-Col. Eva and the latter responded in a well turned speech of appreciation.

All officers of the three Duluth companies attended as well as staff officers. Besides Lieut.-Col. Eva and Col. Resche, they were: Capt. G. W. Stiles, Capt. W. O. Flodin, Capt. R. K. Lee, Capt. R. M. Weaver, Lieut. T. L. Chisholm, Lieut. R. C. Nelson, Lieut. R. A. Westberg, Lieut. W. A. Brown, Dr. C. W. Taylor, Lieut. R. K. Carpenter, Lieut. J. J. Harrison and Lieut. N. P. Mowatt.

ON THE IRON RANGES

VIRGINIAN IS KILLED

Dominick Tessone Slain When Gun Goes Off in Brother's Hand.

Affair Is Purely Accidental and Slayer Becomes Hysterical.

Virginia, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dominick Tessone, 37 years old, laborer employed at the Sliver mine by Butler Brothers, was fatally shot Sunday by his brother, Laree Tessone, at one of the camps of Butler Brothers on the north side, when a 12-guage shot gun in the hands of the latter was accidentally discharged. Tessone was rushed to a local hospital where the operation of transfusion was resorted to to save his life but without success. His death occurred a short time later.

The Tessones worked on the night shift at the Sliver mine and yesterday morning had returned from work about 5:30 a. m., and were getting ready to have breakfast when Dominick suggested to Laree that the gun which hung on pegs over a bed be transferred to another place in the room.

Weapon Goes Off.

Laree took the weapon down and in swinging it around in some manner it was discharged, the shot taking effect in Dominick's thigh, severing a blood vessel. The grief of Lara Tessone is extreme, for hours after the shooting yesterday he was hysterical and refused to be comforted. Dominick Tessone leaves a wife and a son 8 years old and a daughter aged 6. Pasquale Tessone, an uncle lives at 124 Orange street, North Side. Funeral services were conducted this afternoon from the Polish Catholic church, the Italian priest from Hibbing officiating, and interment was made at Calvary.

KNIFER SENTENCED.

Man Who Cut Another at Eveleth Goes to Penitentiary.

Virginia, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mike Mikelacich, who was accused with Joe Skovich of assaulting Frank Babich at Eveleth during a row over a dog, was sentenced to an indefinite term in the state penitentiary. The case against Skovich was dismissed on account of lack of evidence. During the trial of Mikelacich, Babich bared his back and showed the jury where he had received a number of ugly cuts during the free-for-all.

Mike Kankaras, who was accused of pulling a knife on his partner in the baking business at Chisholm, and who ditched a gun in a delivery basket when he was arrested, was sentenced to a fine of $200 or four months in jail. He expected to pay the fine this Monday.

Lazo Besermacich of Chisholm, who was charged with beating his wife, was placed under parole for a year.

COOK MAN KILLED.

Struck By Train, Rushed to Virginia Where He Dies.

Virginia, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Carl Nelson, 64 years old, member of a Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific construction gang at Cook, was fatally injured when he was struck by a logging train at the Cook station, Friday night.

With skull, ribs and both arms fractured Nelson was rushed to a Virginia hospital, where he lived from 7 until 11 p. m. Cook was attempting to cross the track in front of the train when he was struck. Mr. Nelson had lived in Cook a number of years. He is not believed to have any living relatives.

BURIED AT BESSEMER.

Former Eveleth and Virginia School Head Laid at Rest.

Bessemer Mich., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Mrs. T. A. Kelly, aged 39, of Watersmeet, Mich., formerly Miss Helen Kernan, who once taught schoo1 at Eveleth and Virginia, Minn., and who died last week in a hospital at Antigo, Wis., of typhoid fever, was held Thursday from the Catholic church at Watersmeet with interment here. She was married sixteen years ago to T. A. Kelly, who with three children survive.

The members of the Knights of Columbus of Bessemer and Ironwood attended the funeral. Mr. Kelly being a member. The floral offerings were numerous and very beautiful. The following from out of town were present: Mr. and Mrs. McKenney of Antigo, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Cleary of Escanaba, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Cooney of Escanaba; Miss Cardy of Crystal Falls Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. C. M. McDonald of Turtle, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Dufy of Oconto, Wis., and Miss Helen Costin of Ironwood.

VIRGINIA GIRL DIES.

Daughter of Postmaster Fleming Is Called at Hinckley.

Hinckley, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Eileen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Fleming of Virginia, died here, at the home of her uncle, Lee Webster, Sunday afternoon of pneumonia. The funeral will be held Tuesday morning at Rose Hill cemetery, Hinckley.

ODD FELLOWS OF RANGE HAVE MEET

Big Gathering at Hibbing Addressed By Grand Master-Elect.

Hibbing, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The ninety-fifth anniversary of the founding of the order of Odd Fellows was fittingly celebrated here yesterday when hundreds of delegates from all parts of the range assembled in the local armory to hear the interesting program that was given under the auspices of the Hibbing lodge.

C. E. Everett introduced the speakers and the soloists. Following a selection by the orchestra and the invocation by Rev. E. W. Elayer, a quarter composed of John Adams, Lee Johnson, Hal Martin and Melvin Northey rendered a number.

Mayor Power welcomed the visitors and touched briefly on the work that the organization had done in the United States and in Minnesota particular. Edward C. A. Johnson of Virginia, grand patriarch-elect, responded on behalf of the order.

Grand Master Talks.

Vocal solos by John Sheehy and Miss Ida Bogan and a piano solo by Miss Gwenith Butchart preceded the address of the afternoon by W. R. Palmer, grand master-elect, who dwelt eloquently on the duties and the privileges of an Odd Fellow.

That friendship, love and truth formed the basis of good citizenship was the main theme of the talk by Mr. Palmer. That it was the duty of all Odd Fellows to firmly impress these principles on the younger members of the lodge particularly was strongly brought out in concrete examples of the stand that had been taken by members of the lodge in questions.

Following the program the delegates marched back to the hall where the local Rebeccas served refreshments to the visitors. The armory was packed during the ceremonies and the Hibbing hosts were roundly praised for their hospitality.

DEFENDS PARK RAPIDS.

Judge Wright Partially Replies to Attorney's Criticism.

Grand Rapids, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge Wright, who is here holding court, when asked what he would say relative to the statement issued by F. J. McPartlin, an International Falls lawyer, that it is the desire of the bar of the district that the court chambers should be located in Grand Rapids instead of Park Rapids, and that no man who has the interests of the bench and the litigating public at heart, would seek the position of judge of the Fifteenth judicial district who would not yield his own convenience to the convenience of the public, said: "I do not think it is incumbent upon me to make any statement. It is not unlikely that the newspapers in my town will reply to it very forcibly, for in the interview Mr. McPartlin rather casts a slur upon Park Rapids, which is a pretty town and a good town and a town of considerable inportance, by referring to it as a cross roads station. However, in connection with the convenience of the bar in reaching the chambers at Park Rapids, as compared with coming to Grand Rapids, one place is about as convenient to reach as the other for the entire district except possibly one county, aside from the Itasca county bar, which would naturally find it more convenient and pleasant to have the judge here."

Mr. Wright has been holding court here since March 14, having put in, all told, five weeks. The present term will end this week with one of the cleanest calendars ever left at the close of a term of court in this county.

COLERAINE BAND PLAYS.

Visits Nearby Villages and Renders Selections.

Coleraine, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Coleraine city band under the direction of J. H. Tresider as manager and V. Gillette leader, drove to Bovey, Taconite and Marble yesterday afternoon and played for the entertainment of the people in those places. It is understood that there is a plan on foot whereby the nearby towns will receive regular concerts by the band; the expense being taken care of by the several village councils.

The Coleraine city band has been giving concerts at the village hall here about once a month throughout the past winter and only recently played at the third annual banquet of the Coleraine Commercial club where they were highly praised for their excellent work.

PLAN FARMERS' CLUB.

Meeting to Be Held at Grand Rapids to Organize One.

Grand Rapids, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Next Thursday evening a meeting of the farmers and agriculturists of this vicinity will be held at the agricultural room of the high school building to organize a Grand Rapids Farmers' club.

Aside from the organization of the club, matters of immediate interest will be discussed, among them potato seed selection, treating potatoes for scab and planting. W. J. Corwin, John W. Alton and B. S. Booth are behind the movement for the organization of this club, and they have the hearty support of the leading farmers of the Grand Rapids vicinity.

DYNAMITING FISH.

Other Illegal Fishing Methods Reported Near Eveleth.

Eveleth, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Reports have reached this city of dynamiting and illegal fishing by other means in the streams in the territory adjacent to this city. It is said that evidence of dynamiting can be found in some of the streams and that nets are being used. Lights are being used in spearing, it is claimed.

The lakes are not entirely freed from ice so that there has been little preseason angling for bass, pike and crappies yet. Local sportsmen would like to see an active game warden visit this district for a few weeks.

FORM OUTING CLUB.

Eveleth Lovers of Outdoor Life Organize Half Moon Lake Club.

Eveleth, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Half Moon Lake Outing club has been formed by a number of local fishermen and lovers of outdoor life. The club has secured grounds at Half Moon lake, five miles from the city and plans to have a club house erected. A fishing boat has been built. William Malloy, C. W. Britton and S. A. Meade are president, secretary, treasurer, and director of the club.

HIBBING MINER IS HURT BY EXPLOSION

Dynamite Cap Goes Off in Stove and He May Die.

Hibbing, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—A dynamite cap used in mining got mixed with the wood in Beni Zineco's woodbox in his kitchen at his home here and this morning as he was starting a fire he put it into the stove. There was a terrific explosion and a piece of the cap struck Mr. Zineco with such force that it penetrated his abdomen and lodged in the left lobe of the liver. He was taken to the Rood hospital and it is feared he may die. He is a miner and has a family.

So far as known the explosive was not placed in the woodbox by anyone having a grudge against Zineco, the explosive apparently having accidentally been dropped among the sticks of wood.

WOOD IS ACQUITTED.

Hibbing Man and Companion Get Favorable Court Verdict.

Grand Rapids, Minn., April 27.—A verdict of not guilty was returned by the district court jury Saturday night in the case of George E. Woods and Joseph Cummings, who were charged with burglary, alleged to have been committed when as game wardens, they entered a warehouse belonging to David Cameron and took therefrom a number of muskrat and mink hides. The alleged burglary occurred on Nov. 18, and the game wardens claim that they were taking the furs for the purpose of confiscating them and to have them as evidence that Cameron and his son, John Cameron, and another young man named John Langhausen, had been trapping out of season.

The facts were brought out in the evidence, but as the complaint charged burglary, which the statute defines as entering premises of another with intent to commit a crime, and no such intent being proven, the court charged the jury practically to return a verdict of not guilty.

Wood Expected It.

Hibbing, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—"There was no doubt what the jury would do," said George E. Wood, former deputy game warden, who was acquitted Saturday at Grand Rapids of the charge of house-breaking preferred against him in connection with the securing of evidence. "They were practically instructed by the judge to bring in the verdict they did. The fact that they were out for five hours only shows that some one who was on that jury was in the same frame of mind as the majority of the first panel that was thrown out for prejudice."

HIBBING NOT TO JOIN.

Fans Will Not Go Into Proposed Baseball League.

Hibbing, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—A protest against the proposed removal of the ball park so as to allow additional rooms for a playground and beauty spot in the heart of the village, and a decision not to join the proposed league that will include, Duluth, Cloquet, Chisholm, International Falls and Proctor, were the principal results of the meetings of the fans held Saturday evening.

That the league as proposed would not be of any benefit to Hibbing, the cost of travel and the slim assurance of paying crowds in the other towns being the main reasons, was the decision of the meeting.

A committee was appointed to appear before the council in opposition to the moving of the ball park, and it is expected that the protest will be voiced at the meeting to be held tomorrow night.

No action was taken regarding the appointment of a manager, but the fans were apparently in favor of Judge Thomas F. Brady.

TROLLEY EXTENSIONS.

Reported Range Line Will Reach Biwabik and Aurora This Year.

Hibbing, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—H. S. Newton, general manager of the Mesaba Electric line, has denied it is the intention of the company to construct its new car barns at Hibbing, though rumors to that effect have been in general circulation on the range for some time. Mr. Newton said the subject will come up for discussion at the meeting of the Eastern directors to be held this week.

It is also expected that definite steps will be taken on the proposed extension. Hibbing people who have had their ears to the ground admit that it is not at all likely that the road will run beyond Alice this year, despite the energetic campaign that has been put up by the local Commercial club in cooperation with the clubs between here and Grand Rapids. The same prophets also believe that the road will run to Biwabik and Aurora this fall.

Being Written Up.

Eveleth, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—A fireproof suit invented by Martin Panian of this city and demonstrated at Cincinnati, Ohio, a few weeks ago is the subject of the cover illustration of the last issue of the Popular Mechanics magazine.

The article states that it is arousing the interest of firemen all over the country. Mr. Panian is making no effort to manufacture or sell the article. "They know where I am if they want to buy my patent," he said.

Night Shift Laid Off.

Eveleth, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Operations at several of the local mines have been further decreased by the laying off of the entire night shifts. The crews had already been reduced. The fact that the shipping season has not yet opened and that the stockpile room has been taken up is understood to be the reason for the laying off of men.

Twenty-five Italians left last week for Italy. A lack of demand for labor during the last few weeks have resulted in many leaving the city so that it is expected that when the shipping season does begin that there will be plenty of employment for those who have remained.

EXPLANATORY NOTES.

Observations taken at 8 a. m., seventy-fifth meridian time. Air pressure reduced to sea level. Isobars (continuous lines) pass through points of equal air pressure. Isotherms (dotted lines) pass through points of equal temperature; drawn fully for zero, freezing, 30°, and 100°. ○ clear; ◐ partly cloudy; ● cloudy; R rain; S snow; M report missing. Arrows fly with the wind. First figures, temperature; second, precipitation of .01 inch or more for past 24 hours; third, maximum wind velocity.

FAIR

After a warm but cloudy Sunday, it was generally hoped that today would show improvement but it is merely a case of hope deferred. Much the same conditions prevail today, and nothing better is in sight before tomorrow. Showers are promised for today, with a hope of fair weather tomorrow. The temperature will be somewhat colder tonight, but nothing so very bad is threatened.

The weather was fair and cool a year ago today. The sun rose this morning at 4:59 and will set this afternoon at 7:12, giving fourteen hours and thirteen minutes of sunshine, five minutes more than Saturday.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Light to heavy rain fell over Central states, the Southwest and Far West, and light rain or snow over Wyoming. Much colder weather prevails in Western Canada and Northwestern state with temperature down to 20 deg in Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Northern North Dakota."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, April 27.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Tuesday:

Wisconsin—Generally fair in northwest, unsettled in south and east portions tonight and Tuesday with probably showers; cooler tonight and in south and east portions Tuesday.

Minnesota—Cloudy with showers in south portion this afternoon and probably tonight; colders in east and south portions tonight; Tuesday fair.

Iowa—Unsettled weather tonight and Tuesday, probably showers; colder tonight and in east and south portions Tuesday.

North Dakota—Mostly cloudy tonight and Tuesday; continued cool.

South Dakota—Unsettled weather tonight and Tuesday, probably showers; colder tonight.

Montana—Mostly cloudy tonight and Tuesday; not much change in temperature.

Lower Michigan—Showers tonight and Tuesday; cooler Tuesday.

Upper Michigan—Showers and cooler tonight; Tuesday rain or snow and colder.

CHISHOLM BANQUET IS NOTABLE AFFAIR

Farewell of Mr. Bayliss and Welcome to Mr. Maney.

Chisholm, April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The banquet given Saturday evening at the O'Neil hotel for Willard Bayliss, the retiring superintendent of the Leonard and Clark properties, and who is removing to Eveleth, where he will enjoy a high position with the Oliver Iron Mining company, and E. J. Maney of Duluth, who has taken charge of the Shenango Furnace company's interests in this district, was the largest affair of its kind ever given here.

Fully 300 persons attended and it was necessary to set the tables the second time to accommodate the immense crowd.

The banquet brought forth the finest sentiment and good fellowship ever displayed here.

The menu consisted of eight courses and serving started at 9 o'clock.

The speaking begun about midnight and continued until after 1 o'clock.

Knapp "Comes Back."

Judge Martin Hughes of Hibbing was unable to be present. Cleon T. Knapp of Bisbee, Ariz., a former Chisholmite, and who was banqueted about a year ago on a similar occassion, was among the speakers. The only other outside speaker was Senator James P. Boyle, who, speaking for the city of Eveleth, welcomed Mr. Bayliss to that city.

The musical program was as follows: Sims' orchestra; Harry Angst, vocal solo; High School Glee club (girls) selection; Edward Hagen, violin solo; W. Douglas Smith, vocal solo; Miss Winnifred Andrews, vocal solo; Mrs. Harry Angst, reading; Miss Winnifred Hayes, vocal solo; Edward Hagen, volin solo; George Blasing, vocal solo; Sims' orchestra, selection.

Those Who Talked.

The speakers were as follows: Superintendent of Schools J. P. Vaughn, "Toastmaster;" Edward Freeman, president of Commercial club, "Profit and Loss;" Joseph Austin, village president, "Responsibilities;" A. Y. Peterson, assistant general superintendent of the Oliver company, "Switching;" Cleon T. Knapp, "Home Again;" J. H. McNiven, "Looking Forward;" James P. Boyle," Bees; William Brown, "Our Future Gusher," responses by guests of honor. A rising vote of farewell was extended at the conclusion.

Among those present from out of town was Edwin R. Bayliss of Bessemer, Mich., a brother of one of the guests of honor.

Hibbing Motorcyclists Elect.

Hibbing, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Officers of the Hibbing Motor Cycle club were elected to a well attended meeting held yesterday afternoon as follows: President, Carl Schirrmer; vice president, Mr. Balcom; secretary and treasurer, Walter Crandall; directors, M. Swanson, Joe Tancig and Mr. Balcom.

TOWER NEWS NOTES.

Contract for Soudan School Let to Holyoke, Minn., Man.

Tower, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The contract for building the addition to the school building in Soudan has been let to Wilcut & Co., contractors and builders, of Holyoke, Minn. The contract for $15,000 covers everything in the way of fitting and plumbing; the latter having been sublet to a Virginia firm. Four rooms are to be added.

John Talle of Biwabik has completed his cottage on the lake. It is located on Sucker point, some two and a half miles out, on land owned by John Aronson. Mr. Talle is taking much interest in Lake Vermilion.

Mrs. John Klarhaan of Buhl underwent an operation in the Soudan hospital last week for abdominal troubles.

J. G. Ketcham of Duluth has been here looking over the spring work incident to the opening of the sawmill.

The Misses Ione and Mabel Morin went to Two Harbors last week, called by the serious illness of their sister, Mrs. G. C. Carlson.

Mrs. H. M. Haig of Duluth has been the guest of her daughter, Mrs. I. G. Ketcham, at Lakeside.

The outing club has its new garage completed.

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys and Neutralize Irritating Acids.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in avoiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble. Agent, Wirth's Red Cross Drug store, 13 West Superior street.

CHISHOLM NEEDS EXPERT CRACKSMAN

Combination on Recorder's Safe Put Out of Business.

Chisholm, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—This village will require the service of an expert safe cracksman to open the village recorder's safe its combination was put out of business yesterday afternoon during the absence of Recorder Bert Culver. He accuses Former Deputy Recorder Frank Austin with whom he has had several differences but the latter indignantly denies the charge and claims he can easily prove an alibi as he was not in that locality when the act is alleged to have been done yesterday afternoon while Mr. Culver was at Hibbing. Mr. Culver has been sleeping in the office since he locked Austin out by putting a new lock on the door to which he alone held the key. The affair is the talk of the town and the village council members are trying to straighten it out and bring about peace between Culver and Austin as the latter is still employed by the village as an expert accountant. Culver recently sought by mandamus to get possession of the office effects and this proceeding is still hanging fire. Austin was away fishing part of last week but returned on hearing of the mandamus. The village council advised him to keep away from the recorder's office until the matter can be adjusted. Meanwhile it is the talk of the town and every one wonders what the next move will be.

Can Watch Other Games.

Virginia, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—If the plans of the local club of the Northern league are executed, fans who attend the performances at Oliver park this season can keep one eye on the scores of the games being played in the other cities on the circuit. The score board is to be enlarged for the report by innings from the other clubs, and arrangements will be made for a special report direct to the park from the other clubs.

McCormick to Speak.

Virginia, Minn., April 27.—The Elks will hold their ninth annual banquet and ball next Friday. W. S. McCormick of Duluth will be the principal speaker of the evening. Music will be furnished. A. G. Flourney will be toastmaster. Harry S. Gillespie, H. V. Peterson, E. F. Johnson, C. L. Brundage and A. G. Flourney comprise the arrangements committee.

To Attend Opening Game.

Virginia, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mayor Michael Boylan has accepted an invitation to attend the opening of the Northern league baseball season at the Canadian head of the lakes, May 21.

S. J. McQueen, secretary-treasurer of the Fort William Baseball & Amusement company, invited Mr. Boylan, saying that the Canadians desired to give him the once-over.

Grand Rapids Wins.

Grand Rapids, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first baseball game of the season played here Saturday afternoon between the local high school and the Coleraine high team resulted in a score of 19 to 5 for the locals.

Eveleth Children Die.

Eveleth, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Pneumonia claimed two Eveleth infants on the same day, the 8-month-old son of Julius Wellam and the 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orsek. The funeral of the 2-day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dappan took place on the same day.

GEORGE F. BAER DIES AT PHILADELPHIA

Began Life as Printer's Devil and Rose to Head of Railway.

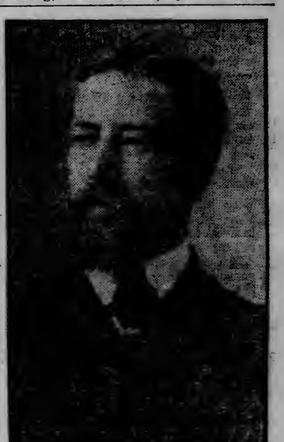
Philadelphia, April 27.—George F. Baer, president of the Philadelphia & Reading railroad and active in the organization and management of many coal, iron and transportation companies, died at his home here Saturday.

Mr. Baer was stricken on the street Saturday and never recovered consciousness. Although approaching 72, Mr. Baer had been unusually active and his associates considered him in the best of health.

His wife, five daughters and sons-in-law and four physicians were at his bedside when the end came.

Gastric troubles, supplemented by a kidney disorder, are believed to have been responsible for Mr. Baer's sudden illness.

Mr. Baer began his career as a lawyer and a few days ago celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of his admission to the bar. For nearly fifteen years he was personal counsel for the late J. Pierpont Morgan.



Prominent in 1893.

George F. Baer became prominent in the reorganization of the Philadelphia & Reading Railway company in 1893 and was elected president of the company and the coal company and also of the New Jersey Central railroad in 1901.

Mr. Baer was born near Lavansville, Somerset county, Penn., Sept. 26, 1842. He was descended from a long line of German ancestry.

In his boyhood he got little academic training, his education, apart from the country school, consisting of a brief course at Franklin and Marshall college, Lancaster, Pa. His greater training came from contact with life in his experiences as printer's devil, editor, amateur surveyor and in active military career in the Civil war, terminating with his discharge as adjutant general of the second brigade, Army of the Potomac. This was followed by his taking up law and the coincidence of his admission to the bar, the trying and winning of his first case, on his twenty-second birthday.

In 1868 he removed to Reading, and in 1870 was counsel for the Reading company, in which capacity he had charge of much important litigation. He was elected a director of the company in the 80's, but resigned under the McLeod administration.

SAFE AT VERA CRUZ.

Former Grand Forks Y. W. C. A. Secretary Out of Danger Zone.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Dora Gladen, former secretary of the Grand Forks Y. W. C. A., has escaped from the interior of Mexico and is aboard one of the rescue ships at Vera Cruz, according to messages received from her yesterday.

Miss Gladen has been in Mexico for the last four years, most of the time being spent in the capital city. She was there when the revolution against Madero was at its height, and when Huerta seized the government.

At the time of the recent outbreak Miss Gladen was at a small town in the interior.

Ten years ago you would have bought a tar and gravel roof, a tin roof, a slate or a shingle roof, according to the type of building you wished to cover. Today you will buy

Certain-teed

Quality Certified Roofing Durability Guaranteed

Ten years ago roll roofing was a high priced specialty. Today it is a staple at a reasonable price. And Certain-teed Roofing made it so.

Ten years ago manufacturers and roofing dealers both thought that they had to have an exaggerated profit on roll roofing—because so little of it was sold. Certain-teed Roofing, by modern manufacturing methods and by modern selling methods, rendered a tremendous service to roofing users and to roofing dealers by establishing a reasonable price basis for better roofing than had ever befor been produced—and a reasonable profit for dealers on a bigger volume of business than had ever before come their way.

On Monday mornings we are telling 7,000,000 readers of daily newspapers the merits of Certain-teed Roofing—this is service to prospective roofing buyers in pointing the way to roofing that is backed by a fifteen-year guarantee.

Certain-teed Roofing is sold at a reasonable price everywhere by dealers who believe in giving unsurpassed quality at a fair profit. The amount of Certain-teed Roofing required for an average roof, say ten squares, will cost less than $5 over the cheap mail order grade. This small initial cost is saved many times in the fifteen years' wear which is covered by the manufacturer's guarantee.

We are also advertising in farm papers, and foreign language newspapers, reaching people who may not read the daily newspapers.

This is our idea of service. We have the three biggest mills—we are large buyers of raw materials and we advertise everywhere, because that is the cheapest way to sell our roofing.

We share the savings of our enormous volume with you who use roofing. We encourage jobbers and dealers to follow our example and sell on small margins and depend upon the large volume of business which is certain to result from the best service to users of roofing.

That building of yours which requires a roof—whether it's a factory, warehouse, business block, farm building, residence or any other structure—whether it's new or old—your first thought would be roll roofing, because Certain-teed has put roll roofing easily within your consideration from a price standpoint.

It has done more than that—it has put Certain-teed Roll Roofing first in your consideration from the standpoint of quality, durability and real roofing service on the roof.

SCOTSMEN ARE GALLANT

Glasgow Officials Say American Women Are "Something to Blow About."

When the members of Clan Stewart call upon Bailie Thomas McMillan at the dinner which they will tender him and his colleague, Assessor Alexander Walker, at the Commercial club this evening, they could do worse than ask him to toast "American Women."

Bailie McMillan and Assesor Walker of Glasgow, Scotland, are touring the United States and Canada in quest of information relative to city government. They have been extremely busy and have wads and stacks of statistics and figures but they have not been so buried in these that their eyes have been blind to other things.

This developed in the Spalding hotel this morning when Assessor Walker was asked what he thought about American costumes and dress, particularly those of the gentler sex. "The fashions in style here are becoming quite general in the Old Country, so we were not entirely unprepared for them," he explained. "But we did see our first sample of the trousers skirt in Chicago. We thought it was quite pretty, quite convenient and practical and not at all unbecoming. But here comes the bailie; he can tell you more about those things than I can, for he always has an eye open for the beautiful."

As Bailie McMillan stopped he repeated the question to him. The chief magistrate smiled, not at all in the awesome, judicial manner supposed to be peculiar to the bench, but quite the contrary. Nor did he stop to enthuse over the subject; apparently he was already enthused. "Talking about the women of this country, you Americans have something to blow about," he declared. That summed up his opinion tritely and concisely and demonstrates that even Scotch magistrates are not entirely immune from American phraseology, though they have been subject to its influence for only three weeks. It also gives promise of what Bailie McMillan might say upon the subject were he called upon to elucidate, but this is only a hint for tonight's toastmaster and may be taken for what it is worth.

QUIET AGAIN IN COLORADO STRIKE

All Parties Await Decision as to Federal Troops.

Denver, Colo., April 27.—With no outbreaks reported, but with the situation tense in Las Animas, Huerfano and Fremont counties coal districts, all parties concerned in the Colorado coal strike today anxiously awaited President Wilson's reply to the appeal for Federal troops.

Gen. John Chase, with 200 militiamen, reached Canon City today, made a tour of the surrounding territory and reported conditions quiet. The 100 citizens who last night patrolled the town and territory to the south and east were induced to surrender their arms to the sheriff, leaving further protective measures to the militia.

Today's advices were that no fighting had occurred at the Royal George mine, two and one-half miles from Canon City, and that the strikers still were in possession of the Chandler mine, where there has been no serious property damage so far as known.

The governor stated that he would make a demand on the strikers to give up the Chandler mine.

There was some desultory firing during the night at Segris in Las Animas county, but no casualties were reported.

THREE REGIMENTS SENT TO ULSTER

Premier, in House, Denounces Gun-Running By the Volunteers.

London, April 27.—The Daily Mail's Dublin correspondent says that three infantry regiments have been ordered from Dublin to Ulster. He adds that Augustine Birrell, chief secretary for Ireland, was in Dublin Sunday directing the arrangements.

"This grave and unprecedented outrage," was the term used by Premier Asquith today in reply to a question in the house of commons as to the gunrunning exploit of the Ulster "volunteers," who in strong, armed force landed 40,000 rifles and 500,000 cartridges at various points in Ulster on Friday.

House Hears Asquith.

The premier said:

"The house may rest assured that the government, without delay, will take proper steps to vindicate the authority of the law."

As to the dispatch of troops to Ulster in March, Mr. Asquith explained that the government did not share Gen. Paget's apprehensions that the movement would set the country in a blaze, and declared that he thought it was the government's duty to safeguard its store and arms.

Sir Edward Carson, the Ulster Unionist leader, was a keen listener.

Immediately after he had finished replying to questions, Premier Asquith hurried to Buckinham palace for an audience with the king.

LEE'S MANAGER IS CONFIDENT

Believes Long Prairie Man Sure of Nomination Over Eberhart.

W. O. McClure of Minneapolis, campaign manager for William E. Lee of Long Prairie, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor against Governor Eberhart, is in the city today, after having spent a number of days on the ranges. He announces that Mr. Lee will speak in St. Louis county for several days during the third or fourth week in May, spending at least one day in Duluth.

Mr. McClure claims that he is absolutely confident that Mr. Lee will beat the governor for the nomination.

"If we do not win," said Mr. McClure today, "it will be because of over-confidence and consequent apathy.

"The difference of our reception this year from two years ago is truly amazing. Two years ago we had to send an advance man to the towns we were going to have Mr. Lee speak at and then almost beg somebody to introduce the speaker. This year it is the reverse. We cannot accept a tenth of the invitations we are receiving to have Mr. Lee address audiences. Everywhere a committee is ready to act as escort and there is the greatest enthusiasm. Mr. Lee is getting the biggest crowds yet found at an off-year election in this state. Two years ago we had to pay for every line we had printed in a newspaper. This year we sent out to the country papers offering a copy of Mr. Lee's Owatonna speech in the way of a supplement and had hopes of twenty-five or thirty papers accepting. Instead of that we got orders from 130 papers with a total circulation of 200,000. That means something.

"Congressman Hammond will be nominated by the Democrats and Mr. Lee will be nominated by the Republicans," said Mr. McClure. "With these two the party nominees, the rest of us can go fishing—the state will be safe."

HAL CHASE RELEASED.

Not Great First Baseman, But Shortstop of Grand Forks.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Hal Chase of Minneapolis, shortstop of the Grand Forks baseball team last year, has been released by Manager Eddie Wheeler, at Burlington, Iowa. Chase while he worked in good shape last season, failed to show form this spring, and Wheeler found it necessary to turn him loose.

Wheeler probably will play third base this season, being so well pleased with Rube Foster's work at second base that he will leave him there. Foster, too, has been made captain of the team.

In the Burlington games, Grand Forks lost the first, 10 to 8, and won the second, 10 to 3. In its campaign of the Three Eye league cities, the Grand Forks club has been showing remarkable sticking proclivities.

Mrs. James Prout Is Victim of White Plague.

Ely, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. James Prout died at her home here last night of tuberculosis. Mrs. Prout was 32 years of age and leaves a husband, a brother, William Jones; several cousins, an aunt and other relatives in Ely, besides her parents, a sister, and a brother in England. For the past two years Mrs. Prout has been waging a gradually losing fight against the white plague. The funeral arrangements have not yet been definitely made.

FINDS BODY OF MISSING MAN

August Selber Dies Near His Cabin on Sunset Lake.

On a lonely spot a few feet in front of his summer cabin on the shores of Sunset lake near Burnett, the body of August Selber, 68, tailor, was discovered yesterday morning by Swan G. Nelson of this city. Selber had been missing from the city for ten days and Nelson was searching for him. It is believed that Selber had been dead for several days.

Selber, who had been employed at the Big Duluth clothing store for the last fifteen years, left Duluth April 16 to spend a day or so at his summer cabin on Sunset lake, which is three and one-half miles east of Burnett, a station on the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railway, twenty-eight miles out of Duluth. He was expected back for work at the store on the Monday following.

When Selber failed to show up for work last week, Williamson & Mendenhall, his employers, became anxious to learn of his whereabouts. On Saturday, a telegram was dipsatched to the station agent at Burnett inquiring as to Selber. The agent stated in reply that he had not seen Selber since he struck off for his cabin at Sunset lake on April 16. Yyesterday morning, Swan G. Nelson, cashier at the store, made a trip to Burnett in search of the missing man.

When Nelson arrived at the cabin he found the prostrate form of Selber lying face upward on the ground about five feet from the veranda of his cabin. An examination of the body led Nelson to believe that the man had been dead for several days.

Nelson immediately notified Coroner McComb and this morning the body was brought to Duluth and placed at the Crawford morgue, where a post mortem is in progress this afternoon. Dr. Theodore Austad officiating. In the afternoon the body will be taken to Moose Lake for interment.

HILLIKER—The funeral of Herbert M. Hilliker, 62 years old, who formerly roomed at the Palmer house, and who died last Tuesday at St. Luke's hospital after a long illness, was held this afternon from the Crawford undertaking rooms, and the body was later taken to Minneapolis for interment. A brother and son were yesterday located in Minneapolis after a week's search, coming here this morning to take charge of the body.

TRAWATHA—The body of Eleanor Trawatha, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Trawatha, 4330 Cook street, Lakeside, who died Friday evening after a six months' illness, was last evening taken to Houghton, Mich., for interment. A short funeral service was held in the afternoon at the Grady & Horgan undertaking rooms.

McDONALD—The body of Mrs. Ellen McDonald, 59 years old, of Duluth Heights, who died Friday after a short illness, was this afternoon taken to Eau Claire, Wis., for interment. She is survived by a husband and three children.

KRUMMY—The body of Mrs. Mary Krummy, 51 years old, wife of Peter Krummy, of Oconto, Wis., who died at St. Luke's hospital Saturday night, will this evening be sent to Oconto for burial. The body is now at the Stewart undertaking rooms.

GOMBERGAR—The body of Matthew Gombergar, 26 years old, who died last Thursday at the tuberculosis hospital after an illness of about two weeks, is being held at the Crawford undertaking rooms, pending word from relatives at Eveleth, where he formerly lived.

SETTERSTROM—Peter Setterstrom, 56 years old, 217 West Fifth street, died yesterday at St. Mary's hospital after a short illness. He is survived by three children. The body has been removed to the Grady & Horgan undertaking rooms, where the funeral arrangements will be made today.

MACOMBER—Miss Ciara J. Macomber, 61 years old, 621 East Fourth street, died yesterday morning at her home, following an illness of about five months. A short funeral service will be held tomorrow afternoon at the Grady & Horgan undertaking rooms, after which the body will be taken to Erie, Pa., for interment.

AANONSEN—The body of Tobias Aanonsen, 28 years old, who died at the tuberculosis hospital on April 17, is still being held at the Crawford undertaking rooms. An effort is being made to locate his relatives. He had been at the hospital since Feb. 16, 1913.

PETERSON—The body of John Peterson, 23 years old, who died at the county hospital last Tuesday after a short illness from pneumonia, is being held at the Crawford undertaking rooms, pending the arrival of relatives from Taconite, Wis.

NELSON—Gus Nelson, 31 years old, died at the county hospital Saturday after a three days' illness from pneumonia. The body is being held at the Crawford undertaking rooms, pending word from an uncle at Jefferson City, Mo.

DULUTH POPULATION ESTIMATED AT 90,000

Census Bureau Gives Out Preliminary Figures as for July 1.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, April 27.—The population of Duluth on July 1 will be 89,331, according to an estimate made public today at the census office. In 1910 the official census gave Duluth a population of 78,466.

TRAINING HEALTH OFFICERS.

Popular Mechanics Magazine: A young nation, like a young person, is apt to value human life lightly, at least to the extent of needless, and often reckless, exposure to danger. Important city offices have been used as rewards for political activity, with perhaps the one general exception of selecting a fireman for chief of the fire department. Everybody seemed agreed that when fires burn up buildings there is a real, monetary loss; but until recent years there has been a certain indifference regarding the chief of the health department: a branch which can lose more lives in ten days than would perish in all the fires in ten years.

Cities of the first class are able to pay enough to command a doctor of ability in his profession, yet it has not always followed that a good physician was also as capable an executive. Of the two qualifications the executive is really the more important. It is interesting therefore to consider the announcement from Harvard university of the opening of a specialized school for the express purpose of training young men for the useful and important office of health officer. The graduates will receive the degree of C. P. H.—Certificate of Public Health—and be fitted to occupy such positions as health officers, members of boards of health, secretaries and inspectors. Instruction will be on the broadest lines, including generous laboratory work and lectures by officials from national, state and city health departments. Students are urged, but not required, to take the degree of M. D. before entering the school for health officers. To the ambitious young man who is not afraid of work, this profession offers an honored position; the reward which comes to those who are specially useful to society, and a very fair remuneration.

Sick Convict Paroled.

Marquette, Mich., April 27.—James Callahan, said to be the only man in Marquette prison known to be a victim of tuberculosis, has been paroled by Governor Ferris and his expenses to Arizona will be defrayed by a collection taken up by his fellow prisoners in the institution.

Callahan was sent to Marquette for seven to fifteen years from Genesee county in 1911, for burglary.

James Waldron, sent from Ionia in 1904 to Jackson prison for eighteen years for burglary, has also been paroled by Governor Ferris.

WHEAT OFF ON GOOD RAINS

Market Turns Easy With Liberal Moisture in South and West.

Flaxseed Advances on Fair Buying By Crushers—Offers Are Light.

Duluth Board of Trade, April 27.—The market was steady up to the close. May wheat closed ⅜c off. July ⅝c off and September ⅞c off. Durum turned strong, both May and July options closing unchanged.

Oats closed ½c off at 36¼c for on the track, and at 35c for to arrive.

Rye closed unchanged at 54½@56½c and barley unchanged at from 51c to 59c for choice quality.

Puts on Minneapolis July wheat closed at 91¼c asked, and calls at 91⅞c asked.

Barley—On track, 54-59c choice.

Elevator receipts of domestic grain—Wheat, 11,291 bu, last year 64,189 bu; barley, 401 bu, last year 14,243 bu.

Shipments of domestic grain—Wheat, 6,028 bu, last year 60 bu; oats, 4,590 bu, last year 6,000 bu; barley, 169,940 bu, last year 145,000 bu.

Elevator receipts of bonded grain—Wheat, 8,191 bu, last year 108,797 bu; oats, 2,081 bu, last year 27,249 bu; flax, 6,171 bu, last year 52,859 bu.

Shipments of bonded grain—Oats, 1,506 bu, last year 16,454 bu.

The wheat market turned weak after the opening today as a result of liberal rains over Nebraska, Western Kansas, South Dakota and Minnesota, at points practically where they were most needed.

May wheat opened unchanged at 92½c and weakened ⅜c up to the final hour. The July option opened unchanged at 93½c and declined ⅝c, and September sold off ¼c to 89¼c. May durum opened unchanged at 87½c and lost ¼c, and the July option also declined ¼c to 88¾c.

There was good trading throughout the session, with fair inquiry reported from the East. As a result of the large amont of grain now afloat and en route to Eastern lake ports by water, the American visible supply showed a substantial decrease. While no export trade was put through, Duluth operators regard the sitation as growing stronger in that direction, taking the view that the European markets will require considerable grain between now and the harvesting of the new crop which Argentina and Russia do not appear to be in a position to supply.

Liverpool was firm today on light world's shipments, reported at 9,000,000 bu, compared with 13,136,000 bu last year. Wheat on passage fell off 5,712,000 bu this week.

American primary receipts showed a sharp slump, amounting to 614,000 bu, against 1,369,000 bu last year. Inspections at Duluth were only 5 cars, compared with 83 a year ago. Receipts of all grains here last week aggregated 361,000 bu, and shipments including amounts taken by the mills, came to 2,695,000 bu.

At Minneapolis, receipts were 325 cars, as against 256 last year.

Arrivals of bonded grain at this point, mostly from Great Northern elevators in Manitoba, aggregated 47 cars today, of which 32 were wheat and nine flaxseed.

Crushers Buy Flaxseed.

Flaxseed was fairly strong with good buying by crushers and operators. Some liquidation was in evidence in the May option, but the offerings were readily absorbed.

The market was easy at the close, final prices showing gains of ½@¾c.

The foreign markets were bullish, Buenos Ayres closing 1c up. Antwerp ⅝c up and London unchanged.

May flax opened unchanged at $1.53 and closed ½c up at $1.53½. July opened unchanged at $1.55 and closed ¾c up at $1.55¾ bid, and the September option opened unchanged at $1.56¾ and closed ¾c up at $1.57½ asked.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed at $1.34 and July at $1.37¼ bid.

The destruction by fire of the Belt Line "M" working house at Superior on Saturday night, throws 2,500,000 bu storage capacity out of commission. The amount of grain lost is estimated at 325,000 bu. It belonged to the Peavey company and was fully insured. The loss upon the house, estimated at $150,000 will fall upon the Cargill Grain company, the plant having been purchased by it early this spring. It is expected that the rebuilding of the house will be taken up as soon as the insurance losses have been adjusted.

Baker had the following from Lewis at Minneapolis: "The wheat market opened generally a half cent lower on liberal rains over the winter wheat territory and in South Dakota and Minnesota and receipts of 325 cars of wheat at Minneapolis. The trade is not very broad on the decline, and we would not advise sales except on bulges. The position of the old wheat is sufficiently strong to warrant purchases on the declines, even in the face of such brilliant prospects as we now have in the winter wheat territory. World's shipments of less than 10,000,000 bu are not sufficient for Europe's needs, and as Argentina and India will be able to supply only a part, it is certain that foreigners will have to buy North American wheat in fair quantities, and will be early buyers of the movement of new winter wheat. Until the spring wheat crop is further along, we would continue to advise only a scalping attitude. Buy on breaks and sell on bulges."

CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Is Bearish Under Influence of Peace Prospects.

Chicago, April 27.—Peace prospects had a bearish effect today on the wheat market. The fact that rains were general over the greater part of the winter and spring crop belts was also influential in causing a downturn. At the resulting decline however, buying on the part of commission houses brought a rally which overcame nearly all the loss. The opening prices were ⅛@¼c to ¾@⅞c lower and there was a slight further sag before the market began to react.

The recovery proved to be only transient. Abundance of moisture in Western Kansas counted especially against the bulls. The close was steady, ⅛@¼c to ½c net lower.

Corn descended with wheat. Professional speculators were active sellers and were favored by improved weather in Argentina as well as by the change in the Mexican outlook. Prices started ¼c off to ⅛c up, hardened moderately on account of some tightness in the May option and then weakened all around.

Falling off in Eastern demand for cash corn kept the market weak. The close was at ¼@⅜c to ⅝c net decline.

Oats shared in the depression of other grains. A leading elevator concern bought generously on the break, but did not seem to make much headway in turning sentiment.

Bears attacked the provision market with decided vigor. First sales varied from 10c lower to 2½c advance, with later transactions showing a further setback as a rule.

STAMPEDE OF BEARS CAUSED

Change in Mexican Situation Sends Up Prices of Stocks.

Gains Reduced on Realizing Sales and Close Is Heavy.

New York, April 27.—A bear stampede was caused on the stock exchange today by a change in the Mexican situation since the close of the market on Saturday. Prospects of a long war with Mexico led to heavy selling of stocks last week at steadily falling prices. The proposal of mediation and its reported acceptance by Huerta sent up prices with a rush at the opening of the market today. Traders who had sold short, bid excitedly for stocks to cover, and for the first half hour there was a lively scene on the floor of the exchange.

In Mexican Petroleum, a stock which was especially heavy last week, there was a jump of 15¼ points on the first few transactions. No such movement had been witnessed on the exchange for several years. The bears, in panic, pushed up the price 10 points on the first transaction and thereafter a point at a time. After the excitement had died down, the quotation slipped back until 11 points of the buoyant advance had been lost. In all of last week's slump Mexican Petroleum's loss was 4 points less than the amount it gained during the first few minutes today.

American Smelting, which also was particularly heavy last week, owing to its excessive interests in Mexico, jumped 4 points on the first sale. Elsewhere gains ranged from 1 to 3 points.

After the excitement of the first half hour had subsided, the market moved slowly and began to reflect influences aside from the Mexican situation. The better complexion of the foreign financial news, and the fact that the dreaded London settlement was proceeding smoothly, were responsible for considerable foreign buying. Purchasing of copper metal was on a large scale here and in Europe. The shorts continued to bid as it became more evident that selling had been overdone. Prices hardened after the reaction which followed the opening bulge, although at noon the list eased off slightly once more.

Bonds showed a better tone.

Irregularity developed in the afternoon. Lehigh Valley sagged a point under Saturday's close and Canadian Pacific weakened sharply when foreign buying stopped. Mexican Petroleum surrendered nearly all of its sensational rise, falling back to near 55.

The market closed heavy today. Exceptional gains at the opening on the more favorable aspect of Mexican affairs were reduced on realizing and professional selling. Union Pacific and Amalagamated were actively bought for a time in the late dealings, but the whole market weakened later when Mexican Petroleum, Canadian Pacific and Colorado Fuel began to break. Mexican Petroleum reacted to more than a point under Saturday's close.

COPPERS SHOW GOOD ADVANCES

Mining Issues Sell Higher on the Improved Mexican Situation.

Improvement in the Mexican war situation and a sharp advance in copper metal quotations at London were responsible for strength in mining stocks at Boston today. Greene-Cananea felt the impulse to the greatest extent, advancing $2.75 to a close of $26.75.

Granby closed $1.50 up at $77; North Butte 88c up at $24.88; Butte & Superior $1.25 up at $32.75; Calumet & Arizona $1.25 up at $62.50; Shattuck 75c up at $23.26, and Amalgamated Copper 88c up at $70.75.

In the Duluth curb list, Calumet & Corbin sold at 26@27c and Denn Arizona at $8.25.

A wire received by Paine, Webber & Co., from Boston said: "Interests are taking the stand that Chino Copper is worth 50 per cent more than its present selling price. It is added that the price of copper metal will surely advance as soon as the general situation clears."

* * *

Copper men report somewhat increased demand for metal today. Prices show a hardening tendency and range from 14¼@14½c for electrolytic, according to advices from New York today.

DULUTH MEN SEEK GRAIN BILL CHANGE

Macdonald and McCabe Appear Before Congressional Committee.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, April 27.—C. F. Macdonald and W. J. McCabe, representing the Duluth Board of Trade, and C. A. Magnussen, representing the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce, are in Washington attending the hearings before the committee on agriculture on the Lever bill for Federal inspection and grading of grain. The representatives of the grain exchanges will not oppose the passage of the Lever bill, but they will urge an amendment providing for decisions on appeals from local inspectors at the point of shipment instead of at destination.

The Lever bill provides that the secretary of agriculture shall decide the grades when an appeal is taken, but the grain exchange men say that under this system they will have to buy on wider margin in order to protect themselves against a possible loss through lower grading. The exchange men say that if appeals are not decided at the point of shipment, the farmers necessarily will not get as good a price for their grain as they would if appeals were decided immediately.

Superior

Supervisors Will Organize.

The Douglas county board of supervisors will hold its first meeting at the courthouse tomorrow afternoon. Following the organization of the board an outline of the work to be taken up this summer will be made. The construction of a highway in Douglas county to connect with a similar highway with Bayfield county will probably be given the first attention.

Milwaukee Judge Coming.

Judge W. J. Turner of Milwaukee arrived in Superior yesterday to preside over the February term of the district court. Many of the cases that were postponed on account of the illness of Judge Frank Ross will be taken up this week by Judge Turner. If at the end of two weeks there still remains a large number of cases on the calendar an attempt will be made to secure some other jurist to complete the list.

Open Paving Bids.

Bids for the paving of Tower avenue from Sixteenth to Twenty-eighth street will be received this afternoon at the board of public works. The bids received some time ago were rejected. Considerable interest is being taken by the property owners in the outcome of the bidding.

Shoe Store Looted.

Forty pairs of shoes were stolen from the Sample Shoe store, 1022 Tower avenue by burglars early Sunday morning. The thieves broke down a shed door in the rear of the building. The police are of the opinion that the work was done by amateurs, but have no clew to the robbers.

PESSIMISTIC OVER HEADING OFF WAR

European Diplomats at Washington Think Effort Is Vain.

Washington, April 27.—European diplomats in Washington, it was learned today, are pessimistic over the successful outcome of mediation proposals by South American governments to prevent war with Mexico. While the action of Great Britain, Germany and France in urging Huerta to accept the good offices proffered by Brazil, Chile and Argentina, has had an encouraging effect upon officials here, there are few who believe that success can eventuate from the undertaking.

At 2 o'clock Ambassador Da Gama, and Ministers Suarez and Naon ended a protracted conference as to future procedure in the mediation proposals. Though no announcement was made, it was reported that no definite plan for the next move had been determined.

PREPARING TO "SWAT THE FLY"

The health department will this year prosecute its "swat the fly" campaign more vigorously than ever.

Particular attention is to be paid to stables, and with this in view the department has large posters prepared to be placed in all barns in the city.

The poster contains a series of pertinent declarations, among them being the following: "Ninety-nine of every 100 flies are stable-born. This week's maggots in the manure pile are next week's flies in the kitchen. Keep your stable clean and dry. Keep all manure in a tight box or tin. Screen all doors and windows in your stable. Use a hoe and broom; you can't get all the maggots with a fork. Don't pile manure on the ground; some of the maggots will get into the soil and be left behind to make flies when the pile is removed. Don't leave a sodden mass of bedding under the horse's feet. See that when the bin is emptied the manure is removed. If spread on gardens the maggots will hatch into flies unless first treated with a solution of sulphate of iron. Have manure bin cleaned out and manure removed at least once a week."

The health department officials state that infant paalysis has been traced directly to the stable fly and that in addition they are the most prolific carriers of he typhoid germ.

LUMBER COMPANY SUED FOR $11,400

Mullery-McDonald Defendants in Damage Action By Workman.

Frank Tamillo met with an accident which disfigured his leg and left him a cripple for life, according to his claim for $11,400 damages filed against the Mullery-McDonald Lumber company in district court this morning.

Tamillo alleges that he was struck by a timber that shattered the bones of his left leg. He had been working only three nights.

Judge Ensign of the district court today approved a settlement made between the Cloquet Lumber company and J. B. Cornellier, 53, scaler, who was injured in an accident at Allen Junction on Nov. 21 last. The settlement was for $666. While at work for the company, a tree fell on Cornellier injuring his head and shoulders.

LARCENY SUSPECT IS BELIEVED TO BE INSANE.

David Kelly, 34 years old, who was arrested yesterday afternoon at the Frederic hotel, 105 West First street, on a charge of petit larceny preferred against him by John J. Haley, proprietor of the hotel, will not be arraigned in police court, but will be taken before Judge Gilpin on an insanity complaint, which will be made against him this afternoon.

The police believe that Kelly is of unsound mind and for this reason the criminal charge has been dropped.

According to Mr. Haley, a number of articles had been reported missing at the hotel for some time. Yesterday afternoon, he asserts, he entered Kelly's room and opening the latter's trunk, found three china tea pots, that had been reported missing. Mr. Haley called Patrolman Thompson after this discovery and placed Kelly under arrest.

Kelly denied his guilt in his cell at headquarters this morning and declared he was holding these articles for a friend. He has lived in Duluth for several years.

ACCUSED OF RUNNING AN OPIUM JOINT.

William Sing, a Chinese, 52 years old, was arrested early this morning in a raid made by the police on his grocery store and residence at 715½ Superior street, where they claim they found Sing smoking opium, and where there was a complete opium outfit being used by several other Chinese.

Sing was arraigned in police court this morning on a charge of having opium in his possession and pleading not guilty, his trial was set for 10 o'clock Friday morning. He was allowed to go on payment of $100 bail.

He was arrested by Lieut. Barber, Sergt. Youngstrom and Patrolmen J. Johnson and Le Beau, the officers breaking into the rear of the store, where they claim they found Sing and several other men smoking opium.

AX MURDER LAID TO BLACK HAND.

St. Louis, Mo., April 27.—An ax murder was added to the list of Black Hand crimes in this city yesterday when the police found the almost decapitated body of an Italian who had been slain last Thursday. Antoni Galati, the victim, apparently was asleep when the death stroke was dealt.

Badger T. P. A. Election.

Fond du Lac, Wis., April 27.—The State Travelers' Protective association in convention here voted to meet next year in Sheboygan and elected these officers: President, Frank W. Teske, Milwaukee; first vice president, W. R. Loescher, Fond du Lac; second vice president, H. Bingener, Green Bay; third vice president, George E. Eberhardt, Oshkosh; secretary and treasurer, Walter S. Denning, Milwaukee.

Negaunee Home Coming.

Negaunee, Mich., April 28.—Homecoming will be celebrated in Negaunee beginning June 29 and ending July 4. This was decided at the mass meeting of citizens. Business men present agreed to aid in every way possible to make the event successful. Mayor Hegation was appointed president, Harry Trembath, secretary and Philip Levine treasurer of the committee to look after the arrangements for the week.

LEGAL NOTICES.

Sale of School and Other State Lands

State of Minnesota, State Auditor's Office.
St. Paul, April 1, 1914.
Notice is hereby given that on May 20, 1914, at 10 o'clock A. M., in the office of the County Auditor at Duluth, St. Louis County, in the state of Minnesota, I will offer for sale certain unsold state lands and also those state lands which have reverted to the state by reason of the non-payment of interest.
Terms: Fifteen per cent of the purchase price and interest on the unpaid balance from date of sale to June 1st, 1915, must be paid at the time of sale. The balance of purchase money is payable in whole or in part on or before forty years from date of sale; the rate of interest on the unpaid balance is four per cent per annum, payable in advance on June 1st of each year; provided, the principal remains unpaid for ten years; but if the principal is paid within ten years from date of sale, the rate of interest will be computed at five per cent per annum.
Appraised value of timber, if any, must also be paid at the time of sale. Lands on which the interest is delinquent may be redeemed at any time up to the hour of sale, or before resale to an actual purchaser.
All mineral rights are reserved by the laws of the state.
Not more than 320 acres can be sold or contracted to be sold to any one purchaser.
Agents acting for purchasers must furnish affidavit of authority. Appraisers' reports, showing quality and kind of soil, are on file in this office.
Lists of lands to be offered may be obtained of the State Auditor or the State Commissioner of Immigration at St. Paul, and of the County Auditor at above address.
SAMUEL G. IVERSON,
State Auditor.
D. H., April 13, 20, 27; May 4, 1914.

SHERIFF'S EXECUTION SALE—
Under and by virtue of an Execution issued out of and under the seal of the District Court of the State of Minnesota, in and for the Eleventh Judicial District, and County of St. Louis, on the 3rd day of April, 1914, upon a Judgment rendered and docketed in said Court and County in an action therein, wherein Wrights Health Underwear Co., a corporation, was Plaintiff, and Lionel A. Sherwin in business as Northern Manufacturing Co., was Defendant, in favor of said Plaintiff and against said Defendant, for the sum of Six Hundred Eight-two and three-hundredths (682.03) Dollars, and 70 cents increased costs, which said judgment was on the 21st day of November, 1911, assigned to National Surety Company, a corporation, and on April 2, 1914, a partial satisfaction of said judgment to the amount of $166.57 was filed in the office of the Clerk of the District Court in and for St. Louis County, Minnesota, which said execution for the residue of said judgment and interest has to me, as sheriff of said St. Louis County, been duly directed and delivered, I have levied upon and will sell at public auction to the highest cash bidder, at the Sheriff's Office in the Court House, in the City of Duluth, in said County of St. Louis, on Wednesday, the 27th day of May, 1914, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, all the right, title and interest that the above named judgment debtor had in and to the real estate hereinafter described on the 17th day of October, 1911, that being the date of rendition of said judgment, or any interest therein which said judgment debtor may have since that day acquired. The description of the property being as follows, to-wit:
Lot numbered Ten (10) in Block numbered Ninety-seven (97), Portland Division of Duluth, in St. Louis County, Minnesota, according to the recorded plat thereof on file and of record in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for St. Louis County, Minnesota.
Dated, Duluth, Minn., April 8th, 1914.
JOHN R. MEINING,
Sheriff St. Louis County, Minn.

FUNSTON'S TROOPS ARRIVE AT VERA CRUZ WHILE MEDIATORS SEEK BASIS FOR PEACE

U.S. TROOPS WILL BE SENT TO COLORADO TO STOP STRIKE VIOLENCE AT THE MINES

HOT BATTLES REPORTED IN COAL FIELDS

Militia Squad Is Defending Itself Against Angry Mob.

Action at Washington Follows Rockefeller's Refusal to Act.

Cabinet Discusses Situation Before Decision Is Reached.

Washington, April 28.—President Wilson today decided to order Federal troops to Colorado to restore order in the coal strike district, where virtual civil war exists.

The decision was reached after the president had gone over the Colorado situation with his cabinet during the greater part of a two-hour session, and a proclamation will be issued later today ordering Federal soldiers to the scene of the industrial conflict.

The number of troops will be decided upon in a conference between the president and Secretary of War Garrison this afternoon.

Met Senator Thomas.

President Wilson's first caller today was Senator Thomas of Colorado, who discussed the Colorado coal strike situation. Following his visit, the president and Secretary of War Garrison went into conference to determine what should be done about the request from Governor Ammons for Federal troops in the strike district.

Rockefeller Not to Act.

After talking with Secretary Garrison, the president received a report from Chairman Foster of the house mines committee, on the latter's interview with John D. Rockefeller, Jr., in New York yesterday. Mr. Foster said that the interview had failed to relieve the situation, as Mr. Rockefeller declared he had no power to bring about arbitration.

The president delayed action on the matter until it could be discussed at the regular cabinet meeting later.

Aviator Roystone Plunges 800 Feet Near Los Angeles.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 28.—Charles C. Roystone, an aviator, fell from an altitude of 800 feet at Dominguez Junction, south of here, today and was so badly injured that he died shortly afterward while being taken to a hospital.

Roystone, flying a monoplane, was on his way to San Diego to demonstrate an aerial bomb-hurling device to the army officers at the government aviation camp on North island.

NATIONALISTS LAND ARMS IN IRELAND

Strange Steamer Is Said to Have Come From America.

Londonderry, Ireland, April 28.—The Irish Nationalist volunteers, a body similar in organization to the Ulster Unionist Volunteers, made matters even with their political opponents early today by successfully landing a large consignment of arms.

The weapons, which are said to have been brought from America, were taken ashore at a remote spot on the coast of the county of Donegal, in the far west of Ulster.

A strange steamer had been seen off the coast for three successive nights. Late last night a number of fishing craft approached, took off the cargo, succeeded in evading the coast guards and landed the rifles, which were quickly distributed.

The size of the consignment is unknown, but it is believed to have been considerable, although not equaling the 40,000 rifles and 600,000 rounds of ammunition the Unionists received on April 25.

WATCH FOR MEXICANS

U. S. Troops at Border Hear Federal Refugees Are Coming.

Trail of Destruction Left on Flight From Nuevo Laredo.

Laredo, Tex., April 28.—The Constitutionalist commander of Nuevo Laredo, Mex., today reported to the American authorities here that the Federal troops who on Friday evacuated the town, were trying to reach the Rio Grande above Laredo. United States troops at Minera were ordered to be on the alert.

Army officials said nothing had been seen of the Federals at noon.

The Federals retreating from Nuevo Laredo after dynamiting the border city left a trail of destruction behind them, according to a train crew arriving here today with the abandoned troop trains used by the Federals in their flight. The towns of Sanchez and La Jarita were completely destroyed, they reported, and the inhabitants have fled to the hills.

Refugees at Nogales.

Washington, April 28.—The state department received a report from Consul Simpich at Nogales, Ariz., that 145 Americans with thirteen children had arrived by train from Torres, and that another refugee train from Culiacan was expected soon.

Consul Hostetter reported his arrival at Nogales from Hermosillo with sixty Americans and the expected arrival of ninety more from Sinaloa. Consul Garrett reported all Americans removed from the Nuevo Laredo consular district.

KILLS MAN WHO WOUNDED HIM

Ohioan Takes Weapon From Assailant and Shoots Him Dead.

Youngtown, Ohio, April 28.—John Johnson is dead and Ed Enoch, a street car employe, probably is fatally injured as the result of a shooting affray in Wilson avenue at midnight. Enoch had accompanied a young woman home from the theater and Johnson followed. Later they quarreled, and after Johnson had shot once at Enoch, the bullet penetrating his left side two inches below the heart, Enoch wrenched the gun from Johnson and shot him three times.

Admiral Mayo at Tampico Reports Attack on City Continues.

Washington, April 28.—Rear Admiral Mayo, at Tampico, reported today that the Federal forces there are making further overtures to the Constitutionalists for a combination against the United States. He said the Constitutionalists still are firing.

Admiral Mayo reported that Admiral Cradock of the British cruiser Hermione had dispatched Maj. Clark and a detachment of British royal marines forty miles inland from Tampico to rescue eight Americans at Orange Hill, and was expected back tonight. The Hermione sent thirteen refugees aboard the Des Moines today.

Admiral Badger reported that it would be inadvisable to send an American ship to the Yucatan district, "as it might start anti-American demonstrations."

Why U. S. Ships Left.

In regard to the reports from Tampico that American citizens there were indignant because of the departure of the American battleships from the river, Secretary of the Navy Daniels said today that his action had been taken after Admiral Cradock had informed Admiral Mayo that he would undertake to receive Americans from Tampico aboard the Hermione and transfer them to the Des Moines, upon the American vessels taking a position at sea. This arrangement it was thought, Mr Daniels said, would make anti-American demonstrations in Tampico less likely.

"I will go in and bring the refugees to you," the British admiral was reported to have said to Admiral Mayo.

GUNBOATS READY FOR MEXICO DUTY.

Washington, April 28.—The gunboats Vicksburg, at Puget Sound, and Machias and Marietta at the New York navy yard, were placed in commission yesterday. They will be rushed into Mexican waters, in pursuance of the navy department's plans to utilize as many of the small vessels as possible in protecting Americans and foreigners in the shallow Mexican ports, where battleships cannot enter.

REFUGEES TERRIFIED

Sufferings of Americans at Cordoba Told at Vera Cruz.

Men, Women and Children in Danger, Says One Who Escaped.

Vera Cruz, April 28.—Sleeping on the stone flagging of the jail patio, with insufficient food, no sanitation and threatened every night with assassination by drunken jailers, is the experience of Americans, including women and children, confined at Cordoba.

W. H. Mechling of the geological survey for Canada, who has been for some time in Mexico in behalf of the universities of Harvard, Pennsylvania and Columbia, spent two days at Cordoba.

Mechling went to the jail in Cordoba Sunday afternoon and talked to the prisoners, among whom were several he is acquainted with. They begged him to communicate their plight to Consul Canada and Rear Admiral Fletcher in an endeavor to effect their release.

Herded Like Cattle.

The prisoners are herded like cattle and are jeered by the keepers and the Mexican inmates of the jail. They are permitted to have food and drink only when the whim suits the jailers, and are kept in a state of terror by frequent threats of death.

Among the prisoners is a young American woman with a 4-months-old infant. There are several other women and children, and the total number of all nationalities, according to Mechling, is eighty-five.

One of the imprisoned men is Superintendent Emery of the Nueva Hermosa sugar plantation of Vera Cruz state, who entertained John Lind, President Wilson's representative a few months ago.

Mechling says the men are eighty-seven persons, chiefly Americans, held at Tuxtepec, state of Vera Cruz, from surrounding plantations, and that Consular Agent Wite is in jail at El Hule, near Tuxtepec.

Had Pass As Briton.

Mechling left Tuxtepec last Wednesday with a pass giving an assumed name and his nationality as British, although he is an American. An excited crowd of Mexicans surrounded the train, and it was with difficulty that he persuaded them to allow him to board. At El Burro another mob searched the train, and robbed him of all but two bills which he had hidden in his shoes. At Tierra Blanca fourteen whites and thirty-two negroes were brought aboard the train.

A howling mob met the train at Cordoba and shouted insults at the Americans. The crowd surrounded the jail long after the doors had closed on the prisoners.

E. B. Weems, a sugar plantation owner, who was previously held at Cordoba, escaped by descending the river in a launch to Alvarado. He arrived safely in Vera Cruz and sailed for the United States yesterday on the steamer Mexico.

IDA VON CLAUSSEN IS DECLARED SANE

White Plains, N. Y., April 28.—Supreme Court Justice Mills today handed down a decision declaring Mrs. Ida von Claussen not insane, and directing that she be released from Matteawan asylum and sent back to the Tombs in New York to await trial on an indictment charging her with sending threatening letters to Charles S. Straus, a lawyer.

Mrs. von Claussen first gained notoriety several years ago by threatening to sue Theodore Roosevelt, then president, for damages because, as she averred, he thwarted her plans to be presented to the king of Sweden by Col. Graves of Duluth, then minister to Sweden.

"PLEDGE OF SAFETY FOR FOREIGNERS."

Rome, April 28.—A dispatch today from Mexico City says: The fact that foreigners are authorized to leave constitutes a pledge of safety for all foreigners. Very few Italians, Spaniards or French have left, but many Germans and a number of British have departed.

ORDERS ARE TO LAND AT ONCE IN MEXICO

Cabinet Members Are Hopeful of Success of South Americans' Proposal for Intervention.

Huerta's Assurance of Safety for the American Refugees Is Given to Washington.

Washington, April 28.—While envoys of Brazil, Argentina and Chile sought today to find some ground upon which to base proposals to the United States and Mexico which would settle differences between the nations, the word was flashed from Vera Cruz that Brig. Gen. Funston and about 5,000 troops had arrived at the base of American operations in the Mexicon republic.

Chief interest in Washington centered throughout the day, however, in the activity of the South American diplomats, who met early in the day at the Argentine legation to plan the next step in the negotiations for peace. Before the envoys began their conferences, Secretary of State Bryan was formally notified by Ambassador Riano of Spain that Gen. Huerta had accepted the principle of mediation proposed.

Coincident with the conference of the mediators, President Wilson and the cabinet met in regular session, the subject of absorbing interest being the Mexican situation, with peace proposals as the particular matter under consideration.

Protection to Americans.

Ambassador Da Gama of Brazil sought to confer with the secretary of state, but Mr. Bryan being at the cabinet meeting, the Brazilian ambassador informed Robert Lansing, counselor of the department, that Gen. Huerta had given assurances that he would protect Americans in departing from Mexico.

When members of the cabinet reached the White House at 11 o'clock to enter upon the serious deliberations confronting them, all of them appeared more cheerful than they had been for many days, and several expressed hope that esomething tangible and hopeful would come from the proposals to mediate the dispute with Mexico.

No new orders were issued from the navy or war departments, but there was enthusiastic interest among department heads over the arrival at Vera Cruz of the transports bearing the Fifth army brigade, comprising the Fourth, Seventh, Nineteenth and Twenty-eighth infantry, under Brig. Gen. Funston.

Ordered to Land at Once.

Secretary Garrison insisted early in the day that the mediation proposals could not affect the orders to Gen. Funston. Gen. Funston's instructions were to land immediately upon arrival, and assume supreme command of the land forces.

Rear Admiral Fletcher, who has been directing operations up to this time, will therefore return to his flagship, the Florida, withdrawing also the bluejackets. That part of the marine force now ashore at Vera Cruz, however, has been detached from the navy, and now becomes part of Gen. Funston's command.

Gen. Funston will also take up the work undertaken by Admiral Fletcher in directing the administration of governmental affairs in Vera Cruz.

The envoys were in continuous session well after noon, and no further move in the formal negotiations had been made public.

The White House declined to make any statement as to what proposals the United States would submit as a basis for mediation. It was announced that nothing would be said that might

BRITONS' PROPERTY AT VERA CRUZ SEIZED BY FLETCHER

British Foreign Office Accepts Action as "Ordinary Routine."

Vera Cruz, April 28.—Rear Admiral Fletcher last evening seized the piers, yards and buildings of the Terminal company, a British-owned concern, control over which he regarded as necessary to facilitate the resumption of the normal business activity of the city. The admiral had been endeavoring to rent the property, but could not come to an agreement with the managers as to the price to be paid.

The managers quoted a figure which the naval authorities considered exorbitant, and Admiral Fletcher ended the controversy by taking advantage of his powers under martial law and assuming possession of the property. The seizure was made with no other formality than the announcement that Admiral Fletcher was in control of the property.

Raised British Flag.

Prior to the seizure a high official of the company had a British flag raised over the water station far out in the yards, in the belief that such action might prevent the Americans from taking over the property. It availed him nothing, however.

W. Morcom, manager of the Mexican railway and president of the Terminal company, called on Rear Admiral Cradock of the British cruiser Essex and related the circumstances to him. The admiral advised Mr. Morcom to present his claims to the British foreign office.

The terminal company is a British concern, most of the stock of which is held by the railroads, two of which, the Interoceanic and the Mexican, are British owned.

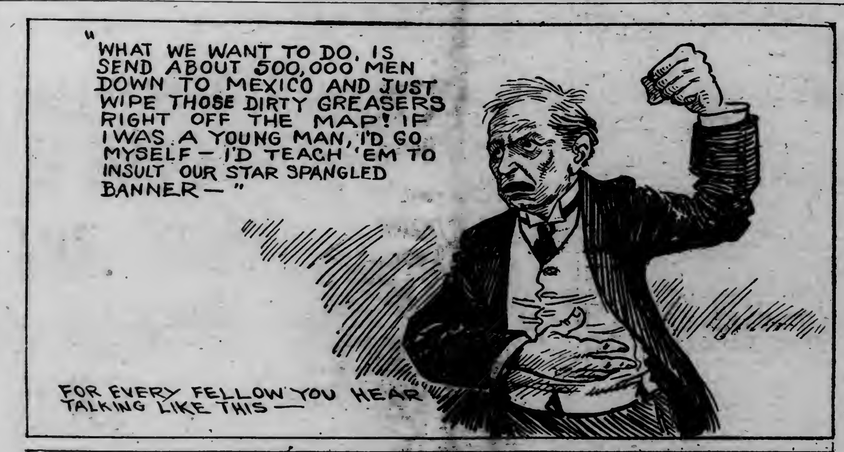
For the operation of the property, the military authorities are using the railroad men who have just arrived in Vera Cruz and who offered their services in any capacity.

"Ordinary Routine."

London, April 28.—The seizure yesterday by Rear Admiral Frank F. Fletcher of the property of the British-owned terminal company at Vera Cruz is accepted by the British foreign office as quite within the admiral's rights. Officials here regard the admiral's action as coming within the ordinary routine of such circumstances. It was stated today that if the terminal company presents a claim to the British foreign office it will be forwarded to Washington in the ordinary course.

Tornado Kills Two.

Waco, Tex., April 28.—Two persons were killed, half a dozen injured and crops, bridges, roads and homes damaged in Bosque county yesterday by a tornado and heavy rain.



END RATE CASE TALK ON FRIDAY

J. L. Minnis Claims Need of More Revenue Is Conceded.

Washington, April 28.—Chairman Harlan of the interstate commerce commission announced today, upon resumption of arguments in the advance rate case, that discussion must conclude next Friday.

J. L. Minnis, general counsel of the Wabash and representing Central Freight association roads, pointed out that Mr. Brandeis' brief for the commission conceded that the railways in Central Freight association territory needed additional revenues. In view of this and of the generally accepted belief that the people of the country were opposed to government ownership of railroads, the commission, he urged, having previously held that the roads were entitled to make reasonable return upon their property investment, ought to adopt such means as would insure to the railways such a profit as would attract new capital and enable them to maintain and to extend their lines in conformity with the reasonable demands of the public.

TWO SIDES TO EVERY STORY.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS

HOUSE.

Debate resumed on naval appropriation bill.

Ways and means committee postponed until December consideration of anti-tobacco coupon bill.

Judiciary committee considered anti-trust bill.

Agriculture committee continued hearing on legislation against future trading in grain.

Mines committee heard William Green, secretary-treasurer of United Mine Workers of America, advocating Taylor bill to create additional experimental stations.

SENATE.

Passed La Follette resolution calling on interstate commerce commission for all communications in rate increase cases.

Considered bill to increase limit of postal savings bank deposits.

END RATE CASE TALK ON FRIDAY

J. L. Minnis Claims Need of More Revenue Is Conceded.

Washington, April 28.—Chairman Harlan of the interstate commerce commission announced today, upon resumption of arguments in the advance rate case, that discussion must conclude next Friday.

J. L. Minnis, general counsel of the Wabash and representing Central Freight association roads, pointed out that Mr. Brandeis' brief for the commission conceded that the railways in Central Freight association territory needed additional revenues. In view of this and of the generally accepted belief that the people of the country were opposed to government ownership of railroads, the commission, he urged, having previously held that the roads were entitled to make reasonable return upon their property investment, ought to adopt such means as would insure to the railways such a profit as would attract new capital and enable them to maintain and to extend their lines in conformity with the reasonable demands of the public.

"Quite a storm on the lake today," said Baillie McMillan of Glasgow to Clerk of Court John G. Ross this morning, as they stepped off a street car at Second avenue east.

"Yes, we're having a little ripple," coolly remarked Mr. Ross, without even the glimmer of a smile.

"Is this what you call a ripple?" quickly asked the representative of Glasgow, who is touring America in company with Assessor Alexander Walker for the purpose of investigating conditions in this country.

"Oh, yes," was all Mr. Ross had to say.

"Well, I'll like to see the lake when a real storm arises," concluded Baillie McMillan.

Baillie McMillan was a guest of Mr. Ross in municipal court this morning and attended the preliminary examination of Joseph Rich, who is charged with having murdered Frank Carlo in a pistol duel last Wednesday night.

ARMSON PREDICTS GREATER CARE IN LEVYING TAXES AND LOWER RATES

Big Increase of This Year Has Aroused Public Interest.

Head of State Tax Commission Talks to Eighty Assessors.

J. G. ARMSON.

SAMUEL LORD.

A noticeable reduction in the tax levies throughout the state for the coming year is predicted by J. G. Armson, chairman of the Minnesota tax commission, who is in the city today with Samuel Lord, also of the tax commission, for the purpose of meeting with the assessors of St. Louis county. The annual meeting of the assessors of the various cities, towns and villages of the county is in progress today and members of the tax commission are here to explain the workings of the new classified assessment tax law. About eighty assessors attended the meeting.

In an interview this morning, Mr. Armson declared that in his opinion, the tax levies for 1914, as a general rule, would be less than last year. The total increase in taxes for all purposes this year over last in Minnesota, he pointed out, amounted to $8,665,137.68. "Owing to the large increase this year," he said, "taxing officials in every tax unit are going to be more careful with their levies and avoid extravagance." He also declared that if taxes are to be materially reduced, it will be necessary to begin right at home in the school district, the township, the village and city and in the county.

At the meeting this morning Mr. Armson discussed at some length the problems fo tax assessments in St. Louis county, quoting a number of interesting figures bearing upon the increase of taxes this year. He was followed by Mr. Lord, who discussed in a general way the provisions of the new classified assessment law. At the afternoon session. Mr. Armson took up the new law and explained in detail how various items of personal property shoulod be listed by the assessors.

Big Problems Here.

"St. Louis county presents more problems for solution in the assessment of property than any other county in the state," declared Mr. Armson in his address to the assessors this morning. "It is practically in a class by itself. In area it is almost an empire state. In assessed value it embraces more taxable property than any other county in the state. Exclusive of money and credits, it includes within its borders more than 22 per cent of all property in the state subject to an ad valorem tax and more than 25 per cent of all taxable real estate.

"It presents practically every phase of assessment and every possible problem that can confront an assessor. Having the third largest city in the state, with diversified industrial and commercial interests, it offers for solution every possible problem of urban assessment; in its large area of agricultural land every question of rural assessment is presented, and, finally, in its mineral lands, representing as they do more than 80 per cent of the taxable real estate of the county and about 22½ per cent of the total taxable real property of the entire state, you are confronted with assessment problems not easy of equitable solution. So diversified are your interests that you have taxable property in each of the three classes of real estate and in every enumerated item on the listing sheet for personal property.

"The equitable assessment of these vast and diversified interests is not an easy task. It is work requiring the exercise of good judgment, of thoroughness, and the strictest impartiality. In many respects the assessor is the most important official connected with our tax system because his work is the very foundation upon which our entire revenue system is built. This year more than forty million dollars in taxes will be collected on values fixed by the assessors of the state. Unless such values have been fixed on a basis of substantial equality this immense burden will not be fairly apportioned among those who should bear it. Careless and inefficient work on the part of the assessor means an inequitable and unfair assessment, and hence injustice in taxation.

Justice In Taxation.

"Justice in taxation can only be attained by a strict compliance with law. This is proven by universal experience. With rare exceptions, when an assessor violates the law and sets up a standard of his own he either inflicts an injury upon some individual taxpayer or else he does injustice to every other taxpayer of the state. As a general rule, every step he takes outside of the straight and narrow path provided by law leads to injustice, hence the importance and necessity of a strict compliance with law in the assessment of property.

"The subject of taxation is receiving considerable attention throughout the state at the present time, partly due, we hope, to an awakening interest in the subject, but probably largely due to growing tax rates. You will undoubtedly hear much complaint this year because of high taxes, and while it is true that taxes are considerably higher than they were last year, the assessor is not to blame for the increase.

Growing Tax Rates.

"Growing tax rates are very largely due to the expanding functions of government and to the increasing demand on the part of the people for more things and better things from each of the units of government. In the earlier days the things demanded of government were simple and inexpensive and taxes were consequently low, but with the increasing demand for more things and better things taxes are naturally growing. Socialism in a modified form has taken the place of individualism. We now demand and insist that government do innumerable things that our forefathers did not dream of. To do these numerous things revenues are necessary and taxation is the only method resorted to by civilized governments for raising revenues, hence the principal reason for growing tax rates.

"Notwithstanding the large amount spent by the state and its subdivisions in the cause of education, the final cost to the average citizen is much less than it would be if education was not a governmental function. If we had no free public schools and parents were obliged to provide private educational facilities for their children it is safe to say that the cost of education would be much greater than it is under our present system.

"So it is with other governmental functions, whether such functions be the building of roads and bridges, the paving and lighting of streets, or the distribution of a water supply—all of them can be done much cheaper and much more efficiently under governmental direction than through individual effort.

"The total levy for state revenue purposes in St. Louis county was of course larger than any other county of the state because of your larger assessed values, being $738,409.71 as compared with $562,324.76 in Hennepin and $335,762.92 in Ramsey counties. Your total levy for all state purposes—state revenue and education—was $1,155,975, while you received from from the state $251,468.17, or about 22½ cents on the dollar, being the lowest relative amount of any county in the state.

Increase For Year.

"It may be of interest to you, perhaps startling interest, to know that the total increase in all taxes in the state this year over last year is $8,665,137.68, or 22.74 per cent. Of the total increase 10.21 per cent goes to the state revenue fund for the support of state government and state institutions, 22.61 per cent to education and educational institutions, 31.29 per cent to roads and bridges, 7.17 per cent to counties exclusive of roads, 19.05 per cent to cities and villages, 7.95 per cent to townships exclusive of roads, while the other 1.72 per cent of the increase is levied for minor purposes.

"The total increase in taxes for all purposes in St. Louis county this year is $1,723,956.72. Of the total increase 11.37 per cent goes to state revenue, 2.90 per cent to education, 34.88 per cent to roads and bridges, 3.61 per cent to the county exclusive of roads, and 45.38 per cent to cities and villages, the balance of the increase going to other minor purposes. Township taxes exclusive of roads show a slight decrease compared with 1912, in St. Louis county.

"These figures are presented for your information and not for the purposes of justifying extravagance on the part of the state or any of its subdivisions. If extravagance exists. Every taxpayer has the right to expect and demand a dollar's worth of service for every dollar he pays in taxes, whether such taxes be spent by the state or its subdivisions. But he should bear in mind that he cannot demand and receive increased appropriations for various state and local purposes without a corresponding increase in tax rates. He should bear in mind that taxes are largely local and under his control. If the entire levy this year for support of state government and state institutions, exclusive of levies for specific purposes, had been elliminated the average reduction of taxes in the state would have been less than 7 per cent. The figures I have given you are quoted to show that if taxes are ever to be materially reduced it will be necessary to begin right at home—in the school district, the township, the village and city, and in the county.

"I have gone into tax figures at somewhat more length than we usually do in order that you may give enquiring taxpayers some definite facts relating to tax burdens. There is a widespread lack of information among many taxpayers of the state as to how and for what purposes taxes are levied or who controls them. If you can enlighten such persons you will render the state a valuable service, for an intelligent interest in tax matters by all the people will make for greater economy and efficiency in all departments of government, state and local."

Enforce New Law.

Senator Lord in his discussion of the new law stated that it should be clearly understood by the assessors that the new law must be strictly adhered to and enforced in every taxing district of the county. Every description of real estate and every item of personal property, he said, must be appraised with the same care and consideration that a prospective purchaser would give them. Averages and guess work, he said, should give place to careful and conscientious valuation, entirely ignoring previous assessments.

"The sole and only question to be determined by you this year," said Senator Lord, "is the present full and fair value of the property. When you have ascertained this fact you should set down the true and full value of the property in the assessment book and extend the assessment in accordance with the percentages laid down in the new law. The law is the only basis that will be recognized or permitted in the assessment of property this year. Any other course will probably result in a reassessment of the offending district."

In conclusion he declared that if the assessor is to expect obedience to the law on the part of the taxpayer he must obey the law himself. All property should be assessed in strict accordance with the provisions of the new law regardless of the effect it may have on totals or averages. Lax observance of the law, he stated, will result in inequality and injustice in taxation, while its strict enforcement will mean the most equitable assessment the state has had in all its history. He stated that the success of the law depended almost entirely upon the assessor.

BEMIDJI COUNCIL WILL ASSIST FAIR

Beltrami County Seat May Also Have Fine White Way.

Bemidji, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—On account of C. C. Crippen leaving the city, his office as alderman of the Fourth ward was declared vacant and A. W. Ditty of Mill Park addition was appointed by the city council Monday evening. The council made an appropriation of $50 to help entertain the old soldiers on Memorial day, and discussed a white way.

Members of the Beltrami County Fair association asked the council to make an appropriation for the coming fair, and $250 was pledged. The finance committee was also instructed to see if the city could not give more and if so more would be pledged.

Liquor licenses were granted to J. E. Maloy, Harry Gunsalis, Larkin & Dale and E. K. Anderson.

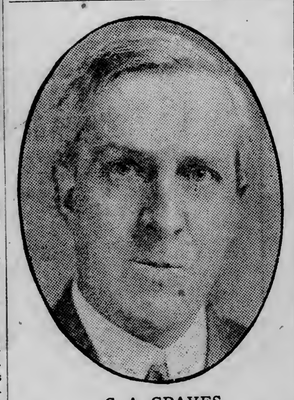
To Beautify Avenue.

Residents of Minnesota avenue requested that the city engineer help them in planting trees and beautifying the avenue. The city engineer will supervise the planting of the trees so that they will be spaced evenly.

Improvements will be made between the end of the paving between Bemidji and Nymore and the Minnesota & International tracks opposite the Crookston Lumber company mill. The Crookston Lumber company has offered the use of its teams free of charge to the city if the city will furnish the men, and the road will be leveled at but little expense to the city.

The two forms of license drawn up by the city attorney for the licensing of liveries were turned down by a heavy vote.

May Have White Way.



Bemidji business men who have agitated a white way for some time may soon have a chance to help procure one, as the water and light committee is now busy estimating the cost of laying wires underground so that any business man may have a decorative light in front of his place of business.

The plan for the white way is that the city put wires underground and decide upon some certain kind of decorative light and the business men will put in the lights. Business men and members of the city council think that the white way will not only be more beautiful than the present system of lighting but that it will be cheaper.

WOULD LEARN GLASGOW METHODS

City Officers Want Scotsmen to Talk on Purchasing.

City officials have been endeavoring to make arrangements to have Assessor Alexander Walker of Glasgow give a talk to the city purchasing committee, consisting of the various employes who do the buying for their respective departments.

Assessor Walker is an earnest advocate of a purchasing system. He declares that it creates uniformity, standardizes supplies, results in improved quality and affects a big saving. He asserts that some officials and heads of departments object to it because it takes away from them some authority and the prestige which goes with the purchasing. It was thought yesterday that he would be able to speak to the purchasing committee this morning but he was too busy to find the time but will do so this afternoon if he finishes with his business here. Assessor Walker and Baillie Thomas McMillan are making a tour of the United States and Canada to study municipal problems. They are devoting most of their time to assessment, taxation and registration methods. The distinguished Scots will leave this evening. They will go from here to Omaha, Denver, Salt Lake City, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland, Seattle and Vancouver and other cities.

"GREASERS" EASY FOR "GRINGOES"

St. Paulite, Back From Mexico, Says They Fear Americans.

Dr. Harvey D. Barnett of St. Paul, who is in Duluth on business, does not believe that the United States would experience any great difficulty in overcoming the Mexican forces, should it be necessary to declare war.

"I spent something like nine months in Mexico looking after some property interests of our family," said the doctor today," and what I learned of the Mexican character and what I saw of the Mexican people in general, convinced me that it would not require the United States very long to subdue the armies of Mexico, even in the event that the rebel and Federal forces were combined.

"The Mexicans are cowardly and hate a fight when the chances are anywhere near even. They lack preseverance, and this same lack of moral force robs the Mexican of his force as a fighting man. More than this, the Mexicans have the greatest respect for the Americans, and from various instances that I saw, I am convinced that down in their hearts the average Mexican fears an American in any kind of a contest."

OBITUARY

Thomas J. Lincoln, a cousin of Abraham Lincoln, died at his home in Fountain Green, Hancock county, Ill. He was 92 years old and went to Fountain Green with his parents from Kentucky at the same time that the parents of Abraham Lincoln left Kentucky. Interment will be in the Lincoln family lot in the country church yard at Majorville, near his home.

Amos F. Avery, editor and publisher of the Stewart Tribune, died at his home at Stewart, Minn., April 25 of diabetes, 30 years old. He continued at his work until April 23, when he was taken with a sinking spell while at his desk. Mr. Avery had published the Stewart Tribune for the past eleven years, taking charge of the paper when he was 19 years old. He was recently appointed postmaster of Stewart. He was a thirty-second degree Scottish Rite Mason and a Shriner. He leaves a widow and two young sons. The funeral will be held at Stewart Thursday, under Masonic auspices.

Marquette Pioneer Buried.

Marquette, Mich., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon for John D. Davis, 86 years old, who had lived in this city for the last forty-three years, and who died Saturday afternoon at St. Mary's hospital, following an extended illness. Mr. Davis was a member of the Baptist church for a great many years. He was born in West Port, Novia Scotia, in 1828. Three daughters, Mrs. George W. Hager and Mrs. Truman Durham of Marquette and Mrs. Edmund C. Bailey of Rosamound, Cal., survive.

OWNERS PETITION AGAINST WEST END PAVING JOB

City Has Already Contracted for $50,000 Worth of Material.

Improvement Program Disrupted Again—Court Action May Result.

Although the necessary material has been ordered, a foreman hired and other preliminary preparations completed, the city may be unable to proceed with the paving of West Superior street between Fifteenth and Twenty-fifth avenues west this year.

A number of property owners yesterday presented a petition to the city council protesting against the improvement this season. They point out that but three of the commissioners voted for the resolution passed Jan 12 ordering the work done, whereas section 62 of the charter requires that such resolutions shall be ordered by a four-fifths vote. On that ground they allege that the resolution of April 6, confirming the assessment, is null and void and ask that it be cancelled.

City Attorney Harvey Clapp said yesterday that he has not had time to investigate the situation but thought that the matter might be corrected by a remedial resolution. He stated that should the council pass such a resolution the property owners could still secure a restraining order, which would result in the question being threshed out in the courts.

City Is "Stuck."

If the contention of the property owners is sustained the city will be "stuck" nearly $60,000. The division of public works has already contracted for all but a small amount of the material and the city attorney states that this will have to be paid for regardless of the outcome of the protest. The materials ordered are as follows: Brick, $33,000; cement, $10,422; asphalt, to be used as an expansion joint between the pavement and the curb, $172.50; gravel, $4,400, and sand, $3,200. The total amounts to $51,194.50 and contracts have been signed for all but the gravel. Four carloads of brick have been shipped and are now en route to the city.

Commissioner R. Murchison, head of the works division, had planned to begin the work within a week or two, but a delay is now very likely. Should this occur it will throw the program of improvements considerably out of kilter for this season, as this is one of the biggest jobs scheduled for this season, and it will cause further financial embarrassment to the city. The material would not be a dead loss, as it could be utililzed for other work, but some of it would probably be wasted as the quantities were ordered with the Superior street job especially in view and difficulty would be experienced it utilizing it for other streets. The only way in which the city could avoid making the payments would be through the consent of the various companies voluntarily giving up their contracts, which is not looked upon as being very probable.

Other objections of the property owners are: That the present pavement is not poor enough to warrant an assessment of $7 per front foot; that if the specifications are followed the new pavement will not be much better, as a five-inch concrete base will not be sufficiently heavy to sustain the heavy traffic of the street; that the property owners should be given an opportunity to be heard relative to the kind of pavement, as they are the ones who foot the bills; that the improvement will not provide a through thoroughfare between the central and western parts of the city, as a gap which is next to impassable will be left between Thirtieth and Forty-sixth avenues; that few property owners are enthusiastically in favor of the work; that sewer, gas and water connections should not be laid immediately in advance of the work, and that the improvement should not be made by day labor until bids have been received.

Argue Over Sale.

The commissioners argued at some length over accepting the bid of $1,960 of the Endion Lumber company for the property owned by the city on South street between Thirteenth and Fourteenth avenues east. It is listed among the assets of the water and light company, but under the opinion of the city attorney the proceeds of the sale can be turned into the permanent improvement fund. Finance Commissioner Fred J. Voss said that the bid should be accepted, as it was a fair price for the property and that to reject it would be an act of bad faith. In this he was supported by Mayor Prince. Commissioner Merritt declared that he knew a better price could be secured, and for that reason was opposed to accepting the bid. His view was indorsed by Commissioner Murchison. A motion to lay the matter over for one week was lost by a vote of 2 to 2, as was the motion of Commissioner Voss to accept the bid and segregate the money in the permanent improvement fund, to be used for buying a site for a new fire hall at West Duluth. This leaves the matter where it was originally, and it will probably come up again next week. At that time Commissioner Hicken will likely be present and as he is known to favor the proposition, the resolution is expected to carry.

Saloon Licenses.

The council passed a resolution granting saloon licenses to Forrest Maloney at the Cody hotel, West Duluth, and Isadore Goldberg at the Holland hotel. The former license was held up because the bartender pleaded guilty to selling liquor to a minor, but since that time an affidavit has been secured from the young man's mother stating that he is 22 years of age. Mr. Goldberg agreed to make changes in the barroom which would allow a free view of it from the street.

The commissioners announced that a hearing would be held at 2 o'clock next Monday on the ordinance designating blocks 109 and 110 as a residence district. The ordinance had its first reading yesterday but some opposition is expected. It is claimed that the petitioners desire to prevent the establishment in their locality of a hospital for crippled children.

The council ordered the paving of Victoria street between Thirty-fourth avenue east and Woodland avenue, for which a petition was received, and the construction of sanitary sewers in Eleventh street between Thirteenth and Eleventh avenues and in London road from the present terminus opposite the east line of lot 2, block 35, Endion division, to an outlet in Twentieth avenue east.

An ordinance appropriating $3,000 for cast iron specials for the water and light department was passed. A resolution awarding the contract to R. D. Wood & Co. of Philadelphia was introduced, but must lay over a week under charter requirements. Under the ordinance a certified check on a Minnesota bank is required. This was not furnished, but the bid was so much lower than any others that the irregularity will probably be waived. The ordinance will likely be amended. The bid of R. D. Wood & Co. was $1,898.26, while that of the Imperial Iron company, the only bidder presenting a certified check on a Minnesota bank, was $2,615.40.

The ordinance appropriating $6,500 for the erection of a steel tank and water tower for the orphanage water system at Woodland was passed. The contract will go to the Minneapolis Steel and Machinery company on its bid of $4,989.

Wheelage Tax.

The wheelage tax ordinance was passed after it had been amended to provide that one-ton trucks shall pay an annual fee of $10 and all trucks of more than one ton shall pay $7 per ton. One-horse vehicles will pay $2; two horse, $6; three-horse, $12; motorcycles, $5; electric automobiles, $10, and automobiles, 50 cents per horse power.

Ordinances appropriating $500 from the general fund and $500 from the works fund for the purchase of an automobile for the engineering department and $500 to pay part of the cost of a culvert in Ninety-third avenue west were given their first reading. The ordinance appropriating $30,000 for water and gas extensions for the present year was passed.

The city attorney was authorized to settle the case against Swift & Co. for the destruction of a police patrol box near Seventh avenue west and Railroad street upon the payment of $80.

The communication from the Commercial club relative to the use of the whole floor of the Armory as a public market was referred to Mayor Prince as head of the division of public affairs.

Mrs. Lulu McArthur filed notice of a claim for $5,000 for injuries sustained on the stairs on Eleventh avenue west between Superior and Michigan streets. She claims that she fell on ice which had negligently been allowed to accumulate, spraining her back and sustaining other injuries.

The purchasing ordinance was given its second reading, but was not discussed. It will come up for final passage at the next meeting.

A portion of the Duluth Heights sewer was ordered eliminated from the general contract and the assessments canceled. The property owners asked that this be done on the ground that they could not at this time afford to pay for it. The sections cut out do not interfere with the principal part of the work.

The contract for laying linoleum on the floor of the public library was awarded to the F. S. Kelly Furniture company.

ELGIN TRUST ORDER FILED

Board Is Forbidden to Fix Prices Except By Sales.

Terms of Court Decree Are Accepted By the Board.

Chicago, April 28.—The government decree in the anti-trust case against the Elgin board of trade was entered before Federal Judge Landis yesterday. In accepting the decree Judge Landis declared that the action, in which the members of the board of trade directorate acquiesced, marked the end of the "coloration of butter prices."

The case was dismissed against the members of the American Association of Creamery Butter Manufacturers, originally joined as defendants with the Elgin board of trade.

By the terms of the decree of the court, the Elgin board of trade and its members permanently are enjoined and restrained from further engaging in the combination or conspiracy charged in the bill of complaint.

Principal Requirements.

Some of the principal requirements of the decree of the court are that the Elgin board of trade shall not appoint any person, persons or committee to fix or suggest prices of butter. That it shall cease to maintain a quotations committee or other agency which shall fix the price of butter. That it shall refrain from quoting or publishing any figures purporting to be the market price of butter, unless they are actually obtained upon the board by bona fide sale.

Other methods of determining the prices at which butter should be sold are barred by the decree.

The entering of the decree does not prevent the government from reopening the case should the provisions of the court's rule be not obeyed.

Satisfies Elgin Men.

The wording of the decree has been the subject of consideration by the directors of the Elgin board of trade for some days, and was accepted by them as satisfactory.

District Attorney Wilkerson said that the decree met every allegation of the original bill.

"Price fixing by a quotations committee or by the device of washed sales," he declared, "is prohibited by the decree, and the Elgin board is limited to its legitimate function of providing a place where actual bona fide trades in butter can be made. The decree was drafted by the government and was submitted to the Elgin directorate, which agreed to all its findings."

GET RID OF HUMORS

Dry, moist, scaly tetter, all forms of eczema or salt rheum, pimples and other eruptions come from humors, which may be either inherited or acquired through defective digestion and assimilation.

To treat these eruptions with drying medicines is dangerous.

Hood's Sarsaparilla, the old reliable medicine, helps the system to discharge the humors, and to improve the digestion and assimilation.

From your druggist get Hood's Sarsaparilla, which may be confidently relied upon to do its work. It purifies the blood, tones the stomach, and builds up the whole system. It goes to the roots of diseases, and its beneficial results are permanent. It sets things to rights in the system. Remember to ask for Hood's Sarsaparilla, because nothing else acts like it and nothing can take its place.

COAST MAN ARGUES FOR TOLLS EXEMPTION

W. H. Wheeler of San Francisco Opposes Repeal of Law.

Washington, April 28.—William H. Wheeler of San Francisco, representing the chamber of commerce of that city, appeared before the senate committee on inter-oceanic canals in opposition to the bill to repeal the tolls exemption clause of the Panama canal act.

Mr. Wheeler called attention to the position taken by the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the Pacific coast when, in October, 1911, it passed a resolution demanding that American vessels engaged in coastwise shipping be exempt from the payment of tolls.

Mr. Wheeler dwelt on the point that the free tolls provision did not constitute discrimination against vessels of other nations that would use the canal, for the reason that no foreign ships could engage in American coastwise traffic. What discrimination might be alleged to exist, Mr. Wheeler contended, was in the navigation laws of the United States.

ROCKHILL HIRED BY YUAN SHI KAI.

Pekin, April 28.—William Woodville Rockhill, former United States ambassador to Turkey, has accepted an engagement from President Yuan Shi Kai as adviser-at-large for the Chinese government, at a salary reliably reported to amount to $1,000 monthly.

He will return to the United States immediately and advise President Yuan Shi Kai from there. At the same time, he will otherwise serve Chinese interests in the United States.

AITKIN COMMENCEMENT.

It Will Be Held May 26 and Eighteen Will Be Graduated.

Aitkin, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Eighteen boys and girls will be graduated this year from the local high school, May 26 being the date set for commencement exercises. Miss Mildren will be valedictorian, having a standing of 94 per cent for the entire four-year course. Second honors have gone to Herbert Scott, who will be the salutatorian and has a standing 90 per cent plus.

The junior banquet was given to the senior class in the high school building Saturday evening with covers laid for eighty guests, which included the high school faculty, members of the board of education, parents and friends of both the junior and senior classes.

LA FOLLETTE ASKS RATE CASE LETTERS.

Washington, April 28.—Senator La Follette introduced a resolution calling upon the interstate commerce commission to send to the senate all communications "designed to influence" its decision in the freight rate advance case. The resolution called for all anonymous or signed communications, all clippings, marked or unmarked, and all articles of any sort which might influence the commission for or against the increase in rates demanded by the Eastern railroads.

MARINES WILL BE PART OF THE ARMY.

Washington, April 28.—Maj. Gen. George Barnett, commandant of the Marine corps, announces that all of the marines at Vera Cruz have been detached from the navy preparatory to being attached to the army force at the port under Gen. Frederick Funston.

Militia Vaccinated.

New York, April 28. — Inoculation against typhoid fever has been completed on 10,000 members of the National Guard of this state. The treatment, which is in three courses, has been begun on the remaining force of the organization.

Mr. Phillips had Stomach Trouble for More than Five Years.

Mr. W. R. Phillips, Jr., 139 Moreland Ave., Atlanta, Georgia, writes: "I had the catarrh and stomach trouble for more than five years, and I faithfully tried all the medicines I saw advertised, and found they all failed to cure me. I then heard of Peruna. I purchased six bottles, and after their use I soon discovered that I was well, safe and sound. I now weigh two hundred and ten pounds, and have never been sick since I took Peruna. It surely is the best medicine for colds, stomach trouble and catarrh that I ever heard of."

Our files abound with testmonials of people who have been the victims of stomach trouble. Peruna seems to be peculiarly adapted to these cases. In no class of human ailments are ous testimonials more enthusiastic and numerous than in cases of stomach ailments. Some of these are slight, gving rise to ordinary indigestion. Others are serious, reducing the patient to almost a skeleton. Peruna, because of its tonic laxative qualities, seems to be specifically adapted to catarrh of the stomach and similar ailments.

Those who object to liquid medicines can now procure Peruna Tablets.

ALLEGED MURDERER GUILTY OF FORGERY

Burton W. Gibson Also Convicted of Grand Larceny.

New York, April 28.—Burton W. Gibson, the New York attorney twice tried on a charge of drowning his client, Mrs. Rosa Menschik Szabo, was convicted yesterday of grand larceny and forgery on five counts. The charges grew out of Gibson's acts as executor of Mrs. Szabo's will. In both the murder trials the juries disagreed.

Two of the indictments on which he was found guilty charged him with the theft of $2,800 and $3,800 from Mrs. Szabo's estate. The forgery charge was based on Gibson's signing the name of Mrs. Szabo's mother, Mrs. Petronella Menschik, to a legal document.

Sentence will be imposed Thursday.

WANTS DIVORCE SO HE CAN GO TO WAR.

San Francisco, Cal., April 28.—Demanding a quick divorce so that he could go to war, Soo Too Sing appeared before Superior Judge Mogan.

"What is your hurry?" asked the court.

"Me cooke cluisah Califfawnia," explained the plaintiff. "Me gota go flont. Me no cooke, boys no fight velly good."

Judge Mogan promised to take the international phase of the case under consideration.

Four New Revenue Cutters.

Washington, April 28.—A bill providing funds for the construction of four revenue cutters at a total cost of not more than $925,000, was passed by the senate. The cutters are for use in Southern California waters, the Gulf of Mexico, along the Maine coast and in New York harbor.

CONTRACT BREACH CHARGED TO CITY

John F. Fredin Declares Municipality Violated Agreement.

Charging that the city of Duluth failed to comply with the contract which was entered into with him and George A. Wieland for the removal of rock and gravel from the Point of Rocks, John Fredin, contractor, yesterday started suit in district court to recover $14,600. Wieland has assigned his interest in the suit against the city to Fredin.

The contractor alleges that he blasted and took out 8,860 tons of rock and has excavated 1,300 tons of quarry rock, for which the city refused to designate a dock for unloading. For this reason, he claims, he was obliged to suspend work on Dec. 15 last at a considerable loss.

THROWN FROM RIG.

Woman Sues Auto Owner for Damages Resulting From Horses' Fright.

Suit for $5,047.80 damages, growing out of an accident Dec. 2, 1913, on the Snively road, was started in district court yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Elizabeth Jamieson against N. F. Russell. Mrs. Jamieson claims the defendant's son was so careless in his handling of an automobile when he attempted to pass the rig which she and her husband, David Jamieson, were driving, that the horse became frightened and plunged. She was thrown from the wagon and in the fall fractured her arm, injured her shoulder and sustained a severe nervous shock, she claims.

SOO IN DAMAGE SUIT.

Action Is Brought for Loss on Apple Shipment.

The Northwestern Produce company started an action in district court yesterday afternoon against the Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie Railway company to recover $290.90 on a claim for damage done to a car of apples in transit.

The car in question was shipped Aug. 24, 1911, from Bateman Siding, Wis., to Duluth. The claim is made that the car was not properly iced and ventilated. The A. A. King Warehouse company, to whom the car was consigned, assigned its claim for damages to the plaintiff in the case.

Pulled Out of Mud.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Nathan Watten was stuck in the mud, with only his head sticking out of the water, when Officer Norman of the local police department found him in the Red river yesterday and rescued him.

CONTRACT FOR DITCH IS LET

Wisconsin Firm Will Get $37,597.50 for Meadowlands Project.

More Than 8,000 Acres of Agricultural Land Will Be Drained.

On a bid of $37,597.50, the C. W. Rood Construction company of Grand Rapids, Wis., was yesterday afternoon awarded the contract for the construction of County Ditch No. 2, a drainage project in the Meadowlands district. Sealed proposals for the job were opened yesterday by County Auditor Odin Halden.

Two other companies submitted bids for the entire work. They were D. A. Foley & Co. of Aitkin and Mulgrew-Boyce company of Dubuque, Iowa. Separate bids were also received for the construction of steel bridges which will have to be built along certain points of the big ditch. Those submitting bids for the bridges were Rogers & McLean of this city; Minneapolis Bridge company; Iowa Bridge company of Dubuque, Iowa, and the Illinois Bridge company of Chicago. After the various bids had been checked over it was found that the lowest proposal was the bid of the Rood company for the entire job.

The ditch will drain between 7,000 and 8,000 acres of agricultural land between the White Face and St. Louis rivers south of the station of Meadowlands on the Duluth & Iron Range railroad. The land at the present time is too low for the most successful tillage. The reclamation project will entail an additional expenditure of $4,000 for right-of-way, engineering expenses and other incidentals not provided for in the contract.

In connection with the ditch, about twenty miles of good roads will be built on the waste banks when the excavations are made. These roads will be well drained and surfaced and will, of course, follow the lines of the ditches. The board of viewers appointed to assess benefits to the property has determined that the benefits amount to $50,154.50.

The contract for the project as let to the Rood company calls for the following: Clearing and grubbing twenty-four miles of right-of-way $79 per mile; excavating 205,500 cubic yards of earth, .119 cents per cubic yard; excavating ten cubic yards of rock, $1.50 per cubic yard; furnishing and placing 56 metal culverts, 15 inches in diameter and 28 feet long, $22 each; furnishing and placing one metal culvert 36 inches in diameter and 28 feet long, $50; grading 21.44 miles of road, $100 per mile; furnishing and building 18 steel bridges, each with a span of 18 feet, $237 each; furnishing and building two steel bridges with 20-foot spans, $219 each; furnishing and building one steel bridge of 24-foot span, $316; furnishing and building one steel bridge of 28-foot span, $316; furnishing and building two steel skein bridges of 30-foot span, $410 each; 111,000-yard stations haul at .016 cents per yard station.

SHRINERS TO ATLANTA

Aad Temple Expects to Send 100 Members on Long Trip.

On May 8, one week from tomorrow night, a large and loud party of Shriners of Aad temple, including the Arab patrol and the newly formed, but boisterously efficient drum corps, will leave for Atlanta, Ga., to attend the annual meeting of the imperial council of the order. The representatives from Aad temple to the imperial council are Illustrious Potentate H. W. Richardson, and Past Potentates Thomas P. Bradley, H. W. Nesbit and Jesse Norton, and they will accompany the others.

It is hoped to have a special train for the Aad Shriners, but to have this there must be 100 fares. In case a special is obtained it will carry the Duluth Shriners to and from Atlanta, and will give them fine accommodations each way. The crowd will go over the Soo road from Duluth and will be given a good route through. George W. Sherwood of the Soo, and an officer of Aad temple, is receiving applications for accommodations and it is desired that he shall be notified at the earliest possible time in order that proper arrangements will be made. The temple is advertising in The Herald today urging its members and other Shriners who may desire to go from here to let Mr. Sherwood know.

If the required number is obtained the train will consist of three sleepers, a diner, a buffet car and a baggage car.

NEW FOLDER TO ADVERTISE CITY

The Duluth Commercial club has just issued a small folder which it has named "The Progress of Duluth," and which, it is believed, will prove fully as potent as did the one issued some time ago entitled "Trade Follows the Freight Rate."

That folder brought returns from as far east as the Atlantic coast, as far west as San Francisco and from the south as far as the gulf. "The Progress of Duluth" tells briefly and concisely and forcefully that Duluth is the natural distribution center for the Northwest, calls attention to the fact that next year the steel plant will be in operation and proceeds to give statistics that are sure to attract attention and cause comment. Emphasis is laid on the advantages given to manufactories in Duluth because of the power furnished by the water power so highly developed here, showing the difference in cost of power from places where coal has to be used.

Thirty thousand of these folders have been issued and will be distributed with the same care as were the former ones. It is believed that they will have excellent effect.

Gopher Hunter Disappears.

Granville, N. D., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—That John Offelt, aged 22, who disappeared from the G. A. Minor home near here while hunting gophers, has met with a serious accident and that he lies either helpless or dead in some out of the way place, is the belief of Mr. Minor, his employer, who has organized searching parties to seek him.

THREE WIVES ASK DIVORCE

Grace Dufferin Charges Husband With Cruel Treatment.

Georgiana Revord and Phoebe Haggart Allege Desertion.

Grace Duffrin, 28, exhausted her patience with her husband, William Duffrin, 42, before appealing to the courts for relief, according to her suit for divorce filed yesterday afternoon with the clerk of the district court.

Mrs. Duffrin alleges that because of her husband's cruel treatment she left him on one occasion and was finally induced to return after he had promised faithfully to mend his ways. The reconciliation lasted but four months, she says.

Duffrin, she asserts, is quarrelsome, jealous and quick-tempered. She alleges that he frequently struck and choked her. He is proprietor of a hotel at Crandon, Wis., and they are the parents of four children, ranging in age from 9 to 4 years. The children are in the custody of Mrs. Duffrin's mother at Wausau, Wis. Mrs. Duffrin asks for allimony and an order of the court placing the children in her care.

Georgiana Revord, 25, started suit for divorce yesterday against George Revord, 28, on the grounds of desertion. They were married at Munising, Mich., Sept. 11, 1905, and Mrs. Revord alleges that her husband abandoned her Oct. 16, 1907. There are no children.

* * *

Desertion is also charged in an action for divorce instituted yesterday by Phoebe Haggart, 55, against Daniel Haggart, 52. They were married in this city June 27, 1900, and the alleged desertion took place in January, 1909. Mrs. Haggart asks for the custody of their 5-year-old child.

WILL DISCUSS ROAD EXTENSION

Hermantown Producers' Club Willl Hold Meeting Monday Night.

Members of the Farmers' and Producers' club of Hermantown will again take up the matter of having the Getchell road extended north from the Morris Thomas road to the Hermantown road and later to the Lavaque road at its meeting Monday evening. The distance is about a mile and a quarter.

Farmers of the district aver that such a highway connecting the three principal roads that run east and west will be of great benefitt to them and that it will provide a straight thoroughfare on a low grade to the western end of the city. The highway was completed, with the exception of gravelling, last year.

Charles Kauppi, county commissioner for that district, recently announced that the Getchell road would be gravelled early this spring. He also said that it was the intention of the commissioners to build as many good roads as possible in the district this year. Whether this would include the extension of the Getchell road from the Morris-Thomas to the Hermantown highways he was unable to say as yet.

On Monday evening the farmers will also discuss the probability of going to market on more than two days in the West end and three days at West Duluth. It is probable that some agreement will be reached by the members so that too many will not appear at the market on the same days.

Kidney Trouble Causes Lame Back

I am pleased to say a good word for Dr. Kilmer Swamp-Root, as I was troubled for a year or more with my kidneys and annoying symptoms. My brother advised me to try Swamp-Root. I took several bottles of this remedy with excellent results. At the time Swamp-Root was recommended to me, my condition was such that I found it an effort in stooping or bending and in attending to my duties as Manager of the $9.99 Store at 122 Main St., Evansville, Ind.

Very truly yours,
J. E. ALVEY,
519 Walnut St. Evansville, Ind.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, this 21st day of December, 1911.

Prove What Swamp Root Will Do For You

Send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample size bottle. It will convince anyone. You will also receive a booklet of valuable information, telling about the kidneys and bladder. When writing, be sure and mention the Duluth Daily Herald. Regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles for sale at all drug stores.

WOULD RECOVER FOR SON'S INJURY

Duluth Edison Company Faces Actions Brought By G. Torrence.

For injuries sustained by his son, Bernard, when struck by an automobile Dec. 12 last, Guy Torrence yesterday brought suit in district court against the Duluth-Edison Electric company, owner of the automobile, in two actions, asking for damages aggregating $4,500.

The accident occurred on Superior street between Seventeenth and Eighteenth avenues west. Bernard, aged 8, was knocked down by the machine just as he was attempting to cross the street at this point. It is alleged that the car was being driven at a high rate of speed. The lad's right leg was injured and he will probably be lame for life, says his father.

In one action, $3,000 damages are asked for the benefit of the boy, and in the other $1,500 for the loss to him of the boy's services.

Evangelistic Meetings.

"Why Be a Christian?" will be the subject of a sermon this evening by Rev. E. H. Rasmussen, the evangelist, at the Central Baptist church, Twentieth avenue west and First street. The evangelistic meetings began last evening and will be conducted by the visiting pastor every evening this week.

Dies in Michigan.

Frank Mason, 45 years old, a resident of the West end for more than twenty years, died last week at Lexington, Mich., according to information received this morning by his brother, Levy Mason. He had been ill for nearly eight months before his death.

He is survived by two other brothers, James and Alfred; two sisters, Mrs. Emma Clark and Mrs. Sadie Johnson, and an aged mother. While in the city Mr. Mason had been employed as millwright for several years at the Scott-Graff sawmill.

Funeral Thursday.

The funeral of Peter Setterstrom, 50 years old, 2710 Helm street, who died yesterday at St. Mary's hospital, will be held Thursday afternoon from Pilstrauit's undertaking rooms. Interment will be in Oneota cemetery. Rev. W. E. Harmann, rector of the St. Peter's Episcopal church, will officiate.

Mr. Setterstrom is survived by two daughters, Mrs. A. Olson and Mrs. B. Anderson, and one son, Charles Setterstrom. He was a member of West Duluth tent, No. 2, K. O. T. M.

Wermine Funeral.

The funeral of Carl Winton Rodger Wermine, the infant son of Rev. and Mrs. C. W. R. Wermine, 314 North Twentieth avenue west, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the family residence and at 2 o'clock from the Swedish Methodist church, Twentieth avenue west and Third street. Rev. Elmer Lund of Superior, assisted by Rev. George E. Silloway, pastor of the Grace Methodist church will officiate. Interment will be in Park Hill cemetery.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Grace. M. E. church will be entertained tomorrow evening at the home of Mrs. J. H. Elliott, 2515 West Third street.

Miss Mildred Nelson, 2101 West Sixth street, will entertain the Sunshine Society of the Trinity English Lutheran church at her home Saturday afternoon.

NEARLY EATS ALL ORANGES WAGERED.

Minot, N. D., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Joe Rubenstein came within half an orange of winning a wager that he could eat twenty-five oranges at a single sitting.

Rubenstein, with a bicycle as the prize, ate a dozen oranges, without a stop. After that the process became slower, but it was not till Rubenstein was within a few more mouthfuls of the goal, that his stomach revolted and he had to abandon the effort.

A crowd of cheering admirers watched the orange eating contest, and several other wagers were laid on his effort.

Storm Victim's Body Found.

Scobey, Mont., April 28.—The body of James H. Livingston, a Scobey rancher, who was lost in a storm March 19, was found Sunday fifteen miles south of Scobey on the banks of the Poplar river. Livingston was lost while searching for some horses.

The Real Secret of Rejuvenating the Face

She holds the true secret of facial rejuvenation who has learned how to remove the dead skin particles as fast as they appear. It's a secret anyone may possess. The aged, faded or discolored surface skin may be gradually absorbed, in an entirely safe and rational manner, by the nightly application of ordinary mercolized wax. Within a week or two the underlying skin, youthful and beautiful to behold, has taken the place of the discarded cuticle. So little of the old skin is absorbed each day there's no inconvenience at all, and no one suspects you are putting anything on your face. The mercolized wax, procurable at any drug store (an ounce is sufficient), is applied like cold cream. In the morning it is erased with soap and water. It's the best thing known for freckles, blackheads, pimples, moth patches, liver spots and fine surface wrinkles.

For the deeper wrinkles, an excellent recipe is: Powdered saxolite, 1 oz., dissolved in ½ pt. witch hazel. Bathing the face in the solution produces quick and wonderful results. Advertisement.

A SHIP WITHOUT A RUDDER

Such is a man without money, on the sea of adversity, in the storm of need, he is tossed about on the seething waters of circumstance and driven before the cruel gales of poverty, all because in the days of sunshine and pleasant weather he has failed to lay aside a little of his earnings in a savings account, as a rudder in times of storm.

The program for the twelfth annual banquet of the West Duluth Commercial club has been completed and arrangements have been made for 300 guests. Everything is in readiness for the big affair Thursday evening.

The doors to Dormedy hall will be opened to the guests at 7 o'clock. It is expected to have all of them seated by 7:30. The Ladies' Aid society of the West Duluth Baptist church, assisted by a corps of women from other aid societies of West Duluth, have all details in hand so that the supper can be served rapidly.

A meeting of the general committee will be held this evening, at which plans will be made for entertaining Governor Eberhart and State Auditor Iverson during the day. The two state officials are expected to arrive in the city Thursday morning. Plans will be made to take them to some of the larger schools in the Western end of the city, as well as to the steel plant and other suburbs.

WANT Y. M. C. A. IN WEST DULUTH

Residents Pleased With Plan of Central Association Directors.

Many West Duluth people who have been interested in the establishment of a Y. M. C. A. in this end of the city have expressed their pleasure at the intention of the directors of the Central association to begin a campaign within a year which would result in the erection of a building for such a purpose in West Duluth. People of this end of the city say there would be no difficulty in securing at least 300 members for a Y. M. C. A. in West Duluth.

The agitation for a building in West Duluth was begun about ten years ago by members of the W. C. T. U. A campaign resulted in raising money enough to purchase two lots at the southwest corner of Fifty-seventh avenue and Wadena street. This property was turned over to the central association on the promise that in the near future a building campaign would be begun.

Several times since then meetings have been held for the purpose of arousing interest in the building proposition but have resulted in nothing. Members of the W. C. T. U. claim that the matter has been put off from time to time because the officers of the Central association did not think the time was ripe.

A short time ago members of the temperance union began the circulation of a petition asking for the return of the lots, intending to raise money for the purpose of putting up a clubhouse for both boys and girls. This scheme will probably be dropped after the recent action taken by the directors.

GOOD PROGRAM FOR RAILROADERS

An interesting program has been arranged for the meeting of the Proctor Railroad club Friday evening at the Proctor Y. M. C. A. On the program will be Congressmen Clarence B. Miller, A. B. Minear, international junior Y. M. C. A. secretary, of Chicago, Ill., and members of the United States Yard Masters' association.

Congressman Miller will speak to members of the club on railroad conditions throughout the United States. Mr. Minear will talk on "Railroading in Panama." Mr. Minear spent considerable time in Central America and is familiar with this subject.

A special passenger train will take the Duluth and Superior members of the Yardmasters' association to Proctor that evening. The train will leave the union depot at 7:15 and West Duluth at 7:25 p. m. It is expected that about 100 from the two cities will attend this meeting.

SETTLES FOR INJURY.

Iron Worker Will Receive $1,282.81 for Disabled Hand.

Victor Anderson, iron worker, will receive $1,282.81 from the National Iron company for the loss of a thumb, injury to two fingers and a dislocated clavicle in an accident Nov. 24, last, at the West Duluth iron works. Settlement of Anderson's claim against his employers under the terms of the workingmen's compensation act was approved by Judge Dancer in district court yesterday afternoon.

MOOSE INSTITUTE LODGE AT PROCTOR.

A new lodge of the Loyal Order of the Moose was instituted last night at Procter with sixty members. A large delegation of members from Duluth and West Duluth lodges attended the ceremonies. The work was put on under the auspices of the degree teams from these latter two lodges. J. Geherty, local deputy organizer expected to have at least 200 members of the order in Proctor before July 1.

It is proposed to secure permanent quarters in Proctor for the lodge where up-to-date clubrooms can be fitted out. Details of the establishment of the clubrooms will be worked out in meetings of the lodge to be held in the near future. The ceremonies last night took place at the Odd Fellows' hall.

Will Live in West Duluth.

Mrs. Forbes, widow of the late Dr. Robert Forbes, has taken up her residence at 5711 Huntington street. Her two sons, Mason M. Forbes, assistant county attorney, and Dr. R. S. Forbes, are making their home with their mother.

Granted New Trial.

Archie Ohman, bartender for Forrest Maloney, proprietor of the Cody hotel saloon, was granted a new trial by Judge Lanners of the West Duluth municipal court. The new trial will be held on May 11.

Ohman pleaded to having sold a bottle of whisky to a minor. Since the trial investigations have shown that the young man to whom the liquor was sold was more than 21 years of age. An affidavit from his mother showed that he was 22 years old.

Royal League Program.

Following a business meeting and the initiation of candidates a committee of the West Duluth council Royal League has planned a social program for members of the two councils tonight. The nature of the program has not been given out. The members of the committee are Louis Oreck, M. J. Murray and Dr. E. B. Boerner.

Hearings Postponed.

Hearings for John Budnick of Superior, Claude Schardt, William Hartman and Francis Baudin, the four boys arrested Sunday morning by Patrolman David Perry, were postponed yesterday until tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. The boys are alleged to have been attempting to break into the grocery store of C. Chilstrand, Fifty-ninth avenue and Raleigh street, when the officer appeared.

"Beautifying Proctor."

"Beautifying Proctor" will be the theme of an address to be given by J. W. Kreitter, superintendent of the D., M. & N. railroad, at the meeting of the Ladies' Aid society of the Forbes M. E. church of Proctor. The meeting will be held in the church at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Mr. Kreitter will speak at 4 o'clock in order that school teachers and older pupils of the school may attend. The hostesses for the afternoon will be Mrs. Charles Zahn, Mrs. E. K. Sherwin and Mrs. Fiola.

Denies His Guilt.

Emil Stanley, the bartender who was arrested Sunday afternoon at Gary for reckless driving, pleaded not guilty when arraigned in police court yesterday afternoon. A hearing was set for tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. He is out on $15 bail.

Funeral of Miss Clark.

The funeral service for Miss Florence Clark, 26 years old, who died Sunday afternoon, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clark, 426 North Fifty-second avenue, and at 2:30 o'clock from the Westminster Presbyterian church, Fifty-eighth avenue and Ramsey street. Interment will be in Oneota cemetery. Rev. W. L. Staub will officiate.

West Duluth Briefs.

The "hard times" social planned for last evening by the Christian Endeavor Society of the Westminster Presbyterian church was postponed for a week.

The West Duluth Book club will be entertained next Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. R. Clark, 5608 West Eighth street. Mrs. Robert Weddell will be leader. Mrs. Robert Y. Dunn and Miss Margaret Clark will take part in the program. Mrs. T. F. Wieland will assist the hostess.

Members of the Haymakers' degree, Mesaba tribe, I. O. R. M., will entertain this evening at its first of a series of dancing parties at the Great Eastern hall.

The Ladies' Guild of the Holy Apostles' Episcopal church will be entertained tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. Wilfred Clarke, 4717 Gladstone street.

C. Marsley, chief clerk of the superintendent of motor cars for the D., M. & N., spoke on "Our Duty to Our Employers and Their Duty to Us" at a meeting of the employes at the Proctor shops this noon.

EIFFEL TOWER'S SILVER JUBILEE

French Flag Hoisted on Its Summit Twenty-Five Years Ago.

Paris, April 28.—The Eiffel tower has been celebrating its silver jubilee. On April 2, just twenty-five years ago, the French flag was hoisted on its summit. It was the principal attraction of the exposition of 1889. Both at the time of its erection and afterwards it was the subject of hostile criticism on the part of artists and men of letters.

The composer, Charles Gounod, the great poets, Leconte de Lisle, Sully Prudhomme, Francois Coppee; the novelist, Guy Maupassant, united in protesting against the disfigurement of Paris by a structure which would not be tolerated even "by commercial America." Other critics declared that it would not last twenty years, but it stands today as strong as ever to vindicate its creators, the symbol and triumph of modern industry. For the Eiffel tower was the pioneer of the light metallic construction which makes possible by its suppleness and enormous strength the most daring conceptions of the architect and engineer.

The famous tower is, indeed, a miracle of lightness with all its 8,000 tons of metal, as a simple calculation shows. If a model on the scale of one-thousandth were made it would be 12 inches high and would only weigh 28 ounces, the weight of a thick sheet of paper.

At first hardly more than an engineering curiosity, the Eiffel tower found its vocation when wireless telegraphy was invented. Now the correct time and a budget of the latest news is flashed from it twice daily to ships at sea and far-off French colonies in Africa.

JAPANESE BOATS FOR CANAL ROUTE

Government to Give Subsidy for Tri-Weekly Steamship Service.

Tokio, April 28.—Notwithstanding the failure of the Japanese diet to agree upon the budget, which was the immediate cause of the fall of the Yamamoto cabinet, the government will advance funds for the subsidy of a tri-weekly steamship service through the Panama canal to New York, feeling sure that the next session of the diet will ratify the action.

Latest plans provide that the new line shall start from Yokohama and proceed to New York via Seattle, Panama and Colon. On the return trip the steamers will touch at New Orleans, Panama and Seattle. The original idea to make Boston the terminus has been abandoned for the present. Arrived at Yokohama, the steamers will continue on to Hongkong via Kobe, Moji and Shanghai. On the way back to Yokohama they will call at Manila and Kobe. Japan considers the Chinese and Philippine connections necessary to make the venture profitable.

The Nippon Yusen Kaisha, which probably will receive a subsidy of about $800,000 annually, will place nine 10,000-ton steamers in the Panama service. The government has selected Seattle as the Pacific port of call because it finds coal cheaper there than at Honolulu, and some port is considered necessary on the voyage of 7,660 miles from Yokohama to Panama. The voyage from Yokohama to New York, via the Suez canal, takes over eighty days, but the Panama route will require but forty-two days.

THE NEW WAY

Do Women Really Care About Better Service?

We Believe That They Do

SO we have installed New Way Crystal Wardrobes—to make your shopping more convenient. We have brought our entire assortment of Cloaks, Suits, Dresses, Jackets, Skirts, Cravenettes and Overcoats out in plain view.

You can see them all, in your size, style and price range.

You can personally select what you want, without taking the time to describe it and being shown one garment at a time.

You can see, compare and examine to your heart's content — and possibly you will find something that you like much better than what you had first in mind.

Come See Our New Way Crystal Wardrobes

Try shopping in our New Way department. The minute you enter the department you will see the whole assortment hanging up in New Way Crystal Wardrobes. In plain view and behind glass. Easily accessible for closer examination — yet protected from dust and the creasing and rubbing of needless or careless handling.

Walk around, and you find our interesting assortment of dresses, cloaks, suits, all on view.

Every garment hangs on its individual hanger. You can see its fine lines, its style, the chic carefully put into it by the designer. You can get close to them.

In a few minutes you feel familiar with the whole assortment.

The garments are conveniently grouped in sizes and price range in crystal glass wardrobes.

In passing by, the contents of one cabinet attracts you.

You stop before it. Every dress is plainly visible.

One of them you would like to examine more closely. The glass doors slide back, the revolving rack pulls out, and there is your dress, on its own hanger—new, clean, fresh—just as it came from the maker.

The entire examination takes only half as long as you used to take. And you have the satisfaction of knowing that you have had your choice from our entire stock. You know you've got the one dress you like best of all.

In Short, Madam, You Get SERVICE

As an experienced shopper, you know what this store means when it says "Service"—

Fresh and attractive goods—the enterprise to put the new things at your disposal while they are new—a range of assortment that is rather better than you are apt to find elsewhere—and somewhat the best of it when it comes to comparative values and prices. As we phrase it to ourselves, it means looking at things through the customer's eyes and considering her interest first.

We believe, and we think that you will agree with us, that our adoption of the New Way Crystal Wardrobe method of showing you the clothes you want to buy is one of the greatest service steps our store has ever taken.

The Most Convenient Store In Town

There is so much to be said about this New Way departure that we could write six pages instead of one—and still leave a good bit unsaid.

But the ten minutes you spend in the Department itself will mean infinitely more to you — because it will be your own personal experience with the convenience, the ease and satisfaction, and probably the saving also, of shopping the New Way.

Come get acquainted. If not today—then the first time you have a purchase in mind, especially if it is an accommodation to find what you want, easily and quickly.

AFTER BLIND PIGGERS.

Superior Police Plan Raids on Liquor Law Violators.

War will be waged on illicit dealers in liquor, speed demons and other regular law violators according to instructions given the Superior police force at their annual meeting, held yesterday afternoon, by Chief of Police McKinnon.

It is proposed to put an end to "blind pigging" in the city and every violation of the law is to be severely dealth with. The new ordinance providing for a minimum fine of $100 for the first offense and $500 for the second offense went into effect yesterday. A number of raids are said to be planned on alleged blind pigs.

BLOOD POISON
Pimples, spots on the skin, sores in the mouth, ulcers, falling hair, bone pains, catarrh, etc., are symptoms. Delays are dangerous. Send at once to Dr. Brown, 635 Arch St., Philadelphia, for BROWN'S BLOOD TREATMENT. Convincing proof in a $2.00 bottle—lasts a month.
Sold in Duluth by Max Wirth, 13 West Superior street, and by all druggists.

COLLECTIONS MORE THAN ORIGINAL LEVY.

Tax collections in Superior were $1,298.45 more than the amount levied last year according to a statement received by the city commission from City Comptroller W. J. Patterson yesterday. The additional amount was caused by the increasing of valuation on many pieces of property after the tax rate had been fixed. In many cases only small amounts had been added to the tax assessment, but the whole made nearly $1,300.

WILL CHOOSE PAVING MATERIAL.

City Clerk McKeague will call a meeting of the property owners of Tower avenue between Sixteenth and Twenty-eighth avenues to decide on what kind of material they want the street paved with. The following bids were opened by the commission yesterday:

Concrete, Walsh & Johnson, $55,382.74; sheet asphalt, Fielding & Shepley, $76,611.82; creosoted block, Walsh & Johnson, $88,623.88; asphaltic concrete, Fielding & Shepley, $71,602.10.

Bound to Grand Jury.

Following an examination in the municipal court yesterday on a charge of illegal voting on March 24, Max Dreger was bound over to the Superior court. His bail was increased from $300 to $500. Dreger is alleged to have voted at that time in Superior, while the state alleges he was not a citizen of Wisconsin. It is alleged that he had voted in Duluth in September last year.

HOUSE OF MYSTERY MAN IS SENTENCED.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 28.—Dr. C. C. Meredith, who was arrested some weeks ago, in a sensational raid upon a private maternity hospital known as "the house of mystery," pleaded guilty to malpractice yesterday and was fined 6¼ cents, and sentenced to not less than five nor more than six years in the Western penitentiary. The fine was imposed so that the costs would fall upon the accused.

SURELY BUT PEACEFUL.

Los Angeles Times: Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, discussing the impoliteness, the free and easy, over-familiar impoliteness of the customs officers of New York, said at the suffrage lunch rooms:

"These men carry impoliteness to the pink of perfection. They are as perfectly impolite as an old Scot I used to know was perfectly surly.

"Saunders, a Highland keeper, made surliness almost an art. A gentleman said to him one glorious autumn morning:

"'Fine day, Saunders.'

"Saunders grunted.

"'Saunders, I said "Fine day,"' the gentleman persisted.

"'Verra weel, verra weel,' said Saunders. 'I dinna want tae argue.'"

DRY CLEANING!

SPRING CLOTHING

Look through your wardrobe to find out what clothes need dry-cleaning and fixing up. Just a few days more and summer will be here. That sounds good to everybody. Our process of dry-cleaning renders the garment perfectly sanitary by destroying all microbes or disease germs; it takes out every particle of dirt and grease, brings out the color brighter and adds a touch of newness to any old garment.

COUSIN'S GIFT LEADS BOY TO DEATH INSTEAD OF COLLEGE

Henry R. Baker, Nephew of John W. Gates, Is Dead.

Colorado Springs, Colo., April 28.—Henry R. Baker, favorite nephew of the late John W. Gates, died here last night. He was 23 years old. Death was due to heart failure. He had been ill for several years with tuberculosis. He had just returned from a visit in Arizona. The body will be taken to St. Charles, Ill., for interment.

Failed to Earn $250,000.

Chicago, April 28.—Illness, and finally death, prevented Henry R. Baker from earning a bequest of $250,000 in the will of John W. Gates, to be paid upon his graduation from a recognized university.

Young Baker's studies at the St. Charles, Ill., high school were interrupted in 1909 by a trip abroad with his uncle. When he returned to his home town he had missed so much class work because of his travels he refused to return to school.

This was much against the will of John W. Gates. In his will, probated in August, 1911, the capitalist left his favorite nephew $10,000 with which to complete his education. There was also a bequest of $250,000 conditional upon Baker's graduation from college.

Gift Was Fatal.

Baker was then 20 years old. He resumed his studies and was graduated from the St. Charles high school. Charles G. Gates, the capitalist's son, was so pleased he presented Baker with a touring car. Baker drove the automobile from Chicago to St. Charles in a rain storm and contracted pneumonia. Tuberculosis developed later.

He was compelled by his condition to abandon any idea of entering college for a long period. He went to Colorado Springs. He was engaged to Miss Nina M. Carlson, daughter of a piano maker at St. Charles. She nursed him through the summer of 1912, and later they were married. The two went to Arizona for the winter. They returned to Colorado Springs and had been there for a considerable time.

Baker's mother is a sister of Mrs. John W. Gates.

U. S. TROOPS WILL BE SENT TO COLORADO

o'clock this morning Sheriff Farr reported that fighting at the Walsen mine, near here, had assumed renewed vigor.

The fifty members of the state militia who arrived here late last night are outnumbered ten to one, and a clash between them and the strikers is expected at any moment.

No further fatalities are reported at this hour, though the fighting had continued all night.

Shortly before 10 o'clock Sheriff Jefferson Farr had not verified the two to four fatalities reported from various sources. Two strikers were reported wounded.

The buildings at the McNally mine one mile west where the fighting started yesterday, were practically destroyed by fire during the night, according to advices received early today.

It was stated here that the strikers had sent an ultimatum to the manager of the Oak View mine near La Veta, demanding the surrender of that property. It was said the demands had been refused and that an attack was expected momentarily.

Battle at Hecla Mine.

Boulder, Colo., April 28.—Fighting between strikers and mine guards at the Hecla mine at Louisville, which began at 10:30 last night, continued at 8:30 today. At that hour two guards had been slightly wounded, according to Sheriff Buster. No fatalities were reported.

A posse of Boulder citizens was being organized by Undersheriff Euler and Deputy District Attorney Martin to go to the relief of the besieged mine.

The Hecla mine, the property of the Rocky Mountain Fuel company, is located about one mile from Louisville, bounded on one side at some distance by a public road, beyond which is a row of houses and cabins. Sheriff Buster, in his account of the night's fighting, given by long distance telephone today, stated that the strikers were using these houses and cabins as protection.

Sheriff Between Fires.

For two hours last night the sheriff was caught between the two lines of fire and took refuge in a store. About 4 o'clock there was a lull in the shooting. The sheriff, his deputy, A. J. Krist, and L. McDonald, former marshal of Louisville, made a dash and gained entrance to the mine enclosure.

A brisk fire was resumed at 6:30. Sheriff Buster said that, under orders from him, machine guns had not been used by the mine defenders as their fire necessarily was directed toward the town. This precaution, he said, was taken that women and children might not be exposed.

The women and children of the strikers have taken refuge in the cellars of their homes.

The attacks on the Vulcan mine at La Fayette and the Gorham mine at Marshall last night were of short duration. No casualties were reported, and today advices were that hostilities had not been resumed.

"State of Insurrection."

Denver, Colo., April 28.—The issuance of a proclamation by Governor Ammons to "all law-abiding and peace-loving citizens" of Colorado "to give their moral and active support to the effort to restore peace in the strike districts," called attention today to conditions which the proclamation described as a "state of insurrection."

The proclamation said the state authorities had but one desire, namely, "to restore and maintain order," and declared that until this is accomplished "there can be no machinery to secure justice in the courts."

The governor said the militia have been in the field for nearly six months, are there "to restore law and order" and for no other purpose, and are not interested in the outcome of the strike. He cites the fact that until he left for Washington about ten days ago, "not a single person was killed by the militia because of the strike, and only two altogether—one by accident and one fugitive from justice."

"Every Available Power."

The proclamation declared "there need be no further bloodshed if the strikers will quit and return to their homes. If they refuse, every available power will be brought to bear to compel them to do so."

The proclamation concludes:

"Peace officers throughout the state are urged to arrest and hold for conspiracy every man caught collecting arms or ammunition to ship to any part of the state, calling for volunteers, or organizing companies of men to be used against the constituted authority of the state."

SCOTS HAVE BRAW NICHT

City of Glasgow Officials Guests of Clan Stewart.

Discussion of Glasgow's Municipal Government Feature of Meeting.

It was a "braw Scots' nicht" at the Commercial club last night.

There was no mistaking it, even before W. D. Gordon of Minneapolis got his burr-r at work. The occasion was a dinner and entertainment in honor of William McMillan, baillie of Glasgow, Scotland, and Alexander Walker, chief assessor of the same place, who are visiting in the city. The affair was given by Clan Stewart, and almost every Scotsman worthy of the name was present, and each was

"Pitchforked in amang them in a sweepin' sort o' way

As 'anither mon or brither' from the Tweed or from the Tay."

The gathering turned out to be about the best assemblage of the clans that has taken place in Duluth in many years, and was most hearty. Mr. Walker declared that he felt as though he was back in "Gleskie" and that it would be quite natural for him to leave the club and ride to his home. There were speeches and speeches and all good ones. And there were other portions of the program that were fully as good as the speeches, and from some points of view, better. Alex G. McKnight gave a recitation of "Tam O'Shanter," which, aside from the excellence of its delivery, was a remarkable feat of memory. As everybody knows, the poem—one of Burns' masterpieces—is a very long one, and Mr. McKnight did not hesitate for a word or make an error. Vocal solos by P. G. Brown and J. R. Batchelor and bagpipe music by Robert Mowbray helped enliven the evening. W. G. Gordon also recited in his inimitable way. John Ross proposed a toast to the city of Duluth and this was responded to by Mayor W. I. Prince and the toast to the city of Glasgow by Alex Guthrie was responded to by the guests of the evening. W. E. McEwen also made an address.

Municipal Enterprises.

In talking of Glasgow some very interesting things were brought out. Baillie McMillan told of the sewage system of Glasgow, which has done much toward the purifying of the River Clyde, and he also told about the success of Glasgow's municipal operation of street railways. Mr. McMillan does not believe that the commission form of government would work in so large a city as Glasgow, but says he believes it will be a great success here, particularly, he said, since such good men hold the offices.

Mr. Walker naturally talked taxation. He said that he is very much impressed with the single tax theory and is anxious to get to the British Columbia cities which are working under this system. He condemned personal property taxation, believing it to be entirely a wrong theory. Glasgow has none of it, he declared, and added:

"The idea of penalizing a man because he buys a piano to improve the conditions in his home and give his children a musical education seems preposterous to us."

Mr. Walker also declared that public officials should be protected in their work and not be compelled to go before the people in a political way to be retained in office. Said he:

"When you get a worthy and efficient public servant, keep him. If you have not the means, devise some."

In a general discussion of Glasgow conditions, it developed that in the matter of liquor licenses and restrictions the condition is unique. The license money does not go to the city but to the government. It is based on the rental, the liquor dealer being compelled to pay half as much as his rent for his license. Heretofore the hours during which the bars have been opened have been from 8 o'clock in the morning until 10 o'clock in the evening. Beginning next month this is changed so that the bars cannot open until 10 o'clock in the morning and must close at 10 p. m.

As a whole the evening was a most delightful one, and the guests proved most companionable men.

This evening Messrs. McMillan and Walker will be guests of the Stirrup club at a dinner at the Spalding.

FUNSTON'S TROOPS ARRIVE AT VERA CRUZ

embarass the mediators. At the regular cabinet meeting at 11 o'clock the formulation of the American proposals to the mediators was a subject of consideration.

Ambassador Riano at the Spanish embassy was awaiting the next communication from the mediators.

In the absence of definite word, speculation took a wide range among some diplomats not directly connected with the negotiations, some of whom suggested that one of the possible plans which might be considered would contemplate the establishment of a committe representing all Mexican factions, to take charge of Mexico pending the election of a president and the founding of a stable government. This plan was discussed in Washington and Mexico City some time ago. It was also considered at a conference between Ambassador Gerard at Berlin and Mexican Ambassador De La Barra on his way to Japan some time ago.

Gen. Funston formally reported his arrival at Vera Cruz to the war department in a dispatch which said:

"Expedition arrived without incident; much delayed by condition of Meade."

Admiral Badger reported today that all was quiet in Vera Cruz, that disturbances had ceased and that business was resuming its normal course.

Funston Met Fletcher.

Vera Cruz, April 28.—The transports bringing the Fifth army brigade, comprising the Fourth, Seventh, Nineteenth and Twenty-eighth infantry regiments, under Brig. Gen. Frederick Funston, were made fast at the docks shortly before 10 o'clock this morning.

Brig. Gen. Funston, accompanied by Capt. Harry McL. P. Huse, chief of staff of Rear Admiral Fletcher, immediately came ashore to confer with Rear Admiral Fletcher before calling on Rear Admiral Badger, commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet.

Brig. Gen. Funston called on Rear Admiral Badger later and talked over with him his plans for the landing of the troops. An agreement was reached regarding the positions the soldiers were to occupy.

The infantrymen will take charge of the positions along the outer line as soon as they come ashore.

The seamen are to be relieved detachment by detachment and will return to their ships.

The complete exchange between the soldiers and the marines will not be accomplished before tomorrow.

The infantry regiments were ordered to land later in the day.

Federals Leave Coast.

That President Huerta has decided not to attempt to try conclusions with the American forces near Vera Cruz is indicated by a report brought to the city by passengers arriving from the outlying districts. The passengers said they saw Gen. Maas, former commandant at Vera Cruz, and his men making their way further into the interior from Soledad. With him were the few cadets who escaped from the naval academy after the battle fought there in the second day's engagement.

Two Days of Mexicans.

The American forces are tolerant of almost all Mexicans who enter their lines, and it is not improbable that any Mexican officer might with safety openly enter and depart from the city.

Rodrigo Riano, a reporter of El Imparcial of Mexico City, came into Vera Cruz yesterday. He visited the American headquarters and surveyed the entire field of operations without molestation. His plans to return to the capital with his story on the first train he can get to take him out.

URGES HARVARD MEN TO KEEP HEADS COOL

President Lowell Talks to Students About Mexican Situation.

Cambridge, Mass., April 28.—"Let us strove to have a little of the spirit that fills the officers and men of the army," said President Lowell in addressing a meeting of Harvard students called to consider the Mexican situation last night. "Regular soldiers," added President Lowell, "do not hold torchlight processions or make public demonstrations.

"Young men are still thinking of war and of their duty to serve the country. They would be unworthy if the call of the bugle did not stir a longing to be at the front; and when war comes Harvard will send forth her full toll of men, as has been done before.

"We are told that we are not at war with Mexico, and that we shall not be is by no means improbable. There is at present no good ground for such a war. The president has accepted the good offices of the great South American states. They will spare no effort to secure terms which the United States can honorably accept.

"Keep Our Heads Cool."

"These negotiations will take time, and in the meanwhile let us keep our heads cool.

"If we were in danger of war with a great power, with our small regular army, I should urge every young man who could do so to set about preparing himself for military service.

"When an army is suddenly expanded, the most pressing need is for trained officers. The nation maintains a college for such officers, but I am not aware that the government has yet called to the flag the cadets at West Point. It believes that they can render a better service to their country by completing their education, and I think that until the call for volunteers comes, the same is true of students in college."

SEVEN OF HUERTA'S PRISONERS FREED

Last Mexican Flag in Vera Cruz Has Been Lowered.

Vera Cruz, April 28.—Seven political prisoners were yesterday released from the San Juan de Ulloa fortress, where they had been confined by President Huerta without trial. Some had been in the prison for nearly a year.

Fernandino Iglesias Calderon, one of the most widely known politicians in Mexico, was one of those released. He was arrested in this city Feb. 16 last after the discovery of an alleged plot in the capital by the Huerta secret service agents, who claimed Senor Calderon was deeply involved.

The release of Senor Calderon resulted from a visit to the prison by a commission of American naval officers, but was made voluntarily by the warden of the fortress, Col. Aurelio Vigil.

With the lowering of the flag on the fortress the last Mexican flag disappeared from Vera Cruz, almost coincidentally with the raising of the American colors. The new bunting which had flown proudly from the staff on the fortress in the interior harbor since the landing of the American forces was hauled down by the commandant and the arms of his eighty men were turned over to the marines, who took possession at the request of the Mexican authorities.

WOULD SURRENDER GUAYMAS TO REBELS

Huerta's Commander There Opens Negotiations With Obregon.

Nogales, Ariz., April 28. — Federal troops in Guaymas, on the Pacific coast, have made overtures to the rebels looking toward the surrender of that city, according to reports which rebel leaders say they received.

Pressed by a threatened attack by United States marines, Gen. Joaquin Tellez, commander of the Federal garrison, is said to have addressed another note to Gen. Alfora Obregon, the rebel commander, asking the latter on what terms he would receive the surrender of the 4,000 Huerta soldiers. Obregon referred the subject to Gen. Carranza, it was said, and was authorized to tell Gen. Tellez the lives of all the Federals would be spared.

The exodus of Americans from Western Mexico progressed quietly yesterday. Some Americans from remote points came out without knowing that the United States had occupied Vera Cruz.

It is believed Western Mexico within a week will be cleared of all Americans except a few who insist on remaining.

The border patrol here was strengthened by the arrival of eleven companies of the Twelfth infantry from San Francisco.

Louis Hostetter, American consul at Hermosillo, arrived with the archives of the consulate. Refugees reported that anti-American sentiment was increasing among the Mexicans in rural districts, but that rebel chiefs were endeavoring to prevent any hostile acts.

THIRTEEN ADDED TO LIST OF WOUNDED.

Washington, April 28.—Names of thirteen bluejackets wounded in the fighting at Vera Cruz who had not been reported or who could not be identified in previous dispatches were cabled to the navy department by Rear Admiral Badger. The list:

Alvin M. Johns of Atlanta.

William R. Schultz, born at Muskegon, Mich. Home address Milwaukee. Next of kin, William Schultz, father, same address. Flesh wound in shoulder, condition not serious. Attached to the New Hampshire.

Levator Benson of La Follette, Tenn., wounded in left calf.

Arthur Bernstein of Brooklyn, N. Y., wounded in forearm.

Tony Vitaro of Lyons, N. Y., wounded in heel.

Solomon Clay of News Ferry, Va.

MEXICANS READY TO FIGHT FOR U. S.

Fifty Sign Telegram Offering Services to President.

San Antonio, Tex., April 28.—President Wilson's efforts to avert war in Mexico are indorsed in a telegram sent him yesterday and signed by fifty Mexican citizens of the United States. They offer their services if war is waged against Huerta.

HEARS FROM SON IN MEXICO CITY.

Lincoln, Neb., April 28.—Mrs. George C. Ray last night received a telegram from her son, C. G. Ray, at Mexico City, reading as follows:

"Am all right; Americans not molested."

The telegram was dated yesterday. Ray is connected with a steel company and in letters has said he was on friendly terms with Gen. Huerta.

Feats in Hypnotism.

The "Great Griffith," who opened at the Empress theater for four days Sunday, is performing some feats in hypnotism and mental suggestion. His first feat was the hypnotizing of a young man on Saturday noon, April 25 and having him sleep for sixty-four hours, being awakened on the Empress stage at the first performance Monday night, April 27. Last night Griffith put to sleep a young woman who was put in the Twin Ports Clothing company window and who will be awakened at the Empress theater after a sleep of twenty-four hours. Another feat of Griffith's is the hypnotizing and inducing a young man to ride a bicycle for twelve continuous hours. This young man is at present riding the bicycle in the Lake Hardware company display window, and will be awakened at the second show tonight.

SALOON NAP FATAL.

Winnipeger Dies While Sleeping in East Grand Forks Saloon.

East Grand Forks, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—William McLeod, aged 49, yesterday in a local saloon, was found dead on a table where he had been sleeping.

McLeod had complained a few minutes earlier of being unwell, but his condition was not regarded as serious, and he got up on the table, intending to rest for a few minutes. When next noticed the man was dead. McLeod has relatives in Winnipeg, Man., who came here today to take charge of the remains.

WOMAN AND FOUR CHILDREN BURN.

Mt. Union, Pa., April 28.—Mrs. Mildred Verner and her four children, Elmer, Ruth, Albert and Frances, were burned to death last night in a fire which destroyed the Verner home. The house is believed to have been fired by burglars. Peter Verner was at work when his family met death.

GUARDSMEN SOLICIT.

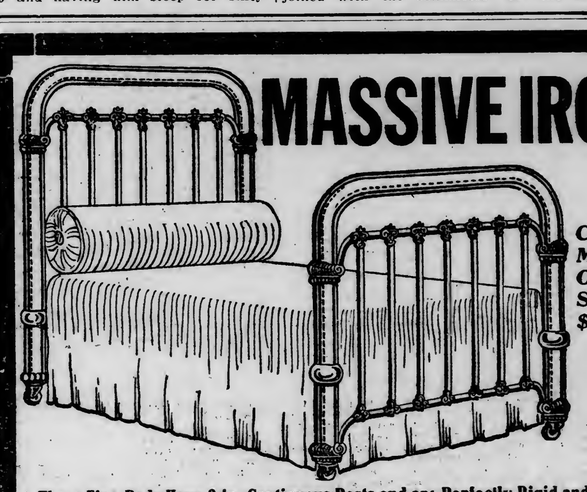
Fargo Militiamen Raising Money to Complete Armory-Auditorium.

Fargo, N. D., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Members of the local company of the National Guard have joined with the committee of the armory-auditorium in raising funds for the completion of the building. They originally owned the site. They will call on business men who have not yet contributed and will endeavor to secure sufficient funds to get the building furnished this season. The outlook is now more encouraging than formerly. Many people who do not feel like taking stock in the association will make contributions of smaller sums.

WALTERS GUILTY OF KIDNAPING BOY

Jury Decides Child Belongs to C. P. Dunbar of Opelousas.

Opelousas, La., April 28.—"Guilty, without capital punishment," was the verdict returned by the jury in the trial of W. C. Walters, charged with kidnaping 5-year-old Robert Dunbar. The verdict is equivalent to life imprisonment.



This verdict legally determines the identity of the boy taken from Walters, and means that the youth claimed as their son will remain in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Dunbar here, where he has been since the arrest of Walters more than a year ago; and that Miss Julia Anderson, now ill in a New Orleans hospital, was mistaken when she testified that the boy was her own.

Walters claimed that the boy found with him when he was arrested was Bruce Anderson. He claimed the woman had entrusted the boy to his care. She later identified the child as her son.

Rumors that mob violence might be attempted when a verdict was returned led the sheriff to place a supply of arms in the jail.

Tornado in Arkansas.

Murfreesboro, Ark., April 28.—Nine were injured, twelve residences demolished and other property was damaged by a tornado that swept through Pike county late yesterday.

Woman's Realm

The Central W. C. T. U. is the thirty-third organization to give its support to the proposed midsummer festival of 1915.

Dr. Mary Gillon, Mrs. Alice Warren and Mrs. Ella Robinson have been named as a committee to co-operate with the general committee of the pageant.

Monday Evening Club.

The first meeting of the Monday Evening club was held last evening at the Kitchi Gammi club. There will be four more meetings on successive Monday evenings. Mis Berta Schmied is in charge of the club and will explain the popular dances that were standardized recently in New York, illustrate the way they should be danced and give instructions. She will be assisted by her brother, Leo Schmied. When every person in a ballroom has his or her version of each dance, confusion naturally results. The Monday Evening club will promote uniformity among persons who dance together often.

The maxixe was the dance given special attention last night. After an explanation of the different steps in it Miss Schmied and Mr. Schmied illustrated it by dancing it. At each of the next three meetings of the club a different dance will be analyzed, and illustrated, following the plan of the first meeting. The fifth Monday night there will be a review of all the dances studied. The study and dancing of the maxixe did not take up all of last evening for other popular steps were enjoyed.

There are sixty-four members in the club and most of them were present last evening. Music was furnished by the Esther Gomberg orchestra.

Concert for Union Church.

Under the auspices of the Woman's auxiliary of the Union church, a concert will be given Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in K. of P. hall. The proceeds of the entertainment will go toward the building fund of the Union church. The program follows:

Violin solo, "Adoration," by Browski, Henry Lavick; soprano solo, "Two Roses," by D. Spooner, and "Where Blossoms Grow," by Sans Souci, Mrs. Homer Anderson; reading, "The Coming of the Prince," Miss Agnes Mae Johnson; baritone solo, "My Dreams," by Tosti, Charles Applehagen; cello and piano, "The Rosary," by Nevin, Miss Eva M. Luxon and Jules D'Arcey; contralto solo, "The Song of the Soul," by Breil, Miss Borghill Dahl; violin duet, selected, Henry Lavick and Maurice Lavick; soprano solo, "The Joy of the Morning," by Ware, Mrs. Homer Anderson; reading, "My Ships," by Ella Wheeler Wilcox, Miss Agnes Mae Johnson; soprano solo, "Elegie," by Massinet, Miss Eva M. Luxon; baritone solo, "I Remember Meeting You," and "You'd Better Ask Me," by Lohr, Charles Applehagen; contralto solo, "The Lord Is My Light," by Allitson, Miss Borghil Dahl. The accompanists are Miss Close, Miss Vera Bronson and Miss Gudrum Thrana.

Lectures on Music.

Miss Josephine Carey of the Matinee Musicale gave an interesting lecture on "The Element of Dancing in Music" before the members of the Junior Women's club at the Bryant social center last night. Miss Carey said that history showed that dancing had preceded music. Rhythm, she said, is the basic element of music. Miss Carey demonstrated many selections on the piano.

Musical Program.

After the business meeting of the Mystic Workers of the World last evening at Maccabee hall, the following program was given:

Trio—"Somewhere a Voice Is Calling" Miss Knight, Miss Larsen and Mr. Pagano.
Reading—"Barbara Fritchie" ..... Miss Gladys Robinson.
Vocal solo—"To Have and To Hold" Mr. Pagano.
Violin solo ..... Mr. Larsen.
Reading—"Stray Sunbeams" ..... Miss Lucille Wenich.
Piano solo—"Monastery Bells" ..... Miss Vera Cox.
Vocal duet—"My Cavalier" ..... Miss Larsen and Mr. Pagano.
Piano solo—"One By One the Leaves Are Falling" ..... Miss French.
"Across the Great Divide" ..... Miss Florence Wenick
Duet—"In a Bungalow" ..... Miss Knight and Mr. Pagano.
Reading—"A Musical Family" ..... Miss Lucille Wenick.
Piano solo ..... Master Frederick Herzberg.

After the program dancing was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

Mothers' and Teachers' Club.

The Mothers' and Teachers' club of Emerson school will hold the regular monthly meeting Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the school building. Mrs. T. J. Davis will address the meeting. All mothers in the district are invited.

Basket Ball Game.

The basket ball game between the Central high school and the Y. W. C. A. team in the Y. W. C. A. gymnasium last night resulted in a score of 12 to 19 in favor of the high school. Baskets were made for the winning team by Misses Marian Lutz, Illa Whiteside, Edna Mortrude and Harriet Kiegler. Misses Annie Brown and Alice Forrester made baskets for the Y. W. C. A. team.

Bishop's Club Elects Oficers.

At the last meeting of the year of the Bishop's club held last evening reports of the various committees were given and an election of officers was held. The results of the balloting were: Mrs. John F. Killorin, re-elected president; Mrs. L. H. Cochrane, first vice president; Mrs. George H. Harkness, second vice president; Miss Frances Toben, third vice president; Miss Adeline Buckley, secretary; Mrs. E. J. O'Rourke, treasurer; Mrs. A. J. Munn of Superior, historian; Mrs. T. J. Killeen, librarian.

A musical program arranged by Mrs. Edward Kreimer was given and there was a social hour with Mrs. C. B. Nunan as hostess.

NATIVE FOODS VANISHING

President of Housewives' League Deplores Passing of Dishes Long Associated With Certain Parts of Country.

The Housewives' magazine for this month contains an interesting article by Mrs. Julian Heath, president of the National Housewives' league entitled "The Vanishing of Our Native Foods." Mrs. Heath deplores the passing of dishes peculiar to certain sections of our country, dishes that have been associated with parts of the United States just as scenery, climate and characteristics of the people have been.

As president of the national organization Mrs. Heath travels a great deal and has an opportunity to study the degeneration of sectional cooking. She says Rhode Island johnny cake seems to be no more; in Vermont she saw no maple syrup; in Boston she was asked if she would have beans in Boston or New York style; in Rhode Island and Connecticut pie is no longer eaten for breakfast—although rows of canned pie filling and boxes of ready-made pie crust were in evidence in Providence; canned sweet potatoes were served to her in Virginia, and Boston brown bread may now be bought in tins.

Distinctive Dishes.

Mrs. Heath says: "While culinary secrets have been gathered from all quarters, each country, each section, has something which it cannot give away. Nowhere else can these dishes be prepared in quite the same perfection. Nowhere else do they taste quite the same.

"In America we want everything that grows on the face of the earth on our tables, and we want it not only when it is in season but all the year round. What we can't get out of the ground we take out of cans and cold storage."

The writer says that when the best products are shipped away and "seconds" kept for home use, no one gets anything at its best.

Mrs. Heath takes some comfort in the thought that the president of the United States and the majority of the people eat turkey and cranberries on Thanksgiving, even if many of the birds have a cold storage flavor, or lack of flavor.

Speaking of corn as the national American cereal Mrs. Heath said the aztecs and mound builders made bread of it and quoted Fiske's account of the friendly Indians' teaching the Plymouth colonists, "bothe ye manner to set it and after how to dress it." Corn meal is used extensively in the South but only here. In many sections the hearts of the grains are fed to the cattle and the tasteless remains are sold for the consumption of persons. "The story of Indian corn is the story of maple syrup and other foods," Mrs. Heath says.

To quote the article, "the art of cooking did not originate in hotels and restaurants. It is not the invention of great chefs. It resulted from the slow gatherings of the individual kitchen. The family recipe gradually became the property of the world.

"In the days when every woman was destined to become a housekeeper and was trained by her mother for the task; when servants remained in families for years and even generations, these treasures ran no risk of being lost. Today it takes conscious effort to preserve them. How many precious secrets may already have perished with the passing of the colored cook."

Mrs. Heath offers a suggestion that may do away with many domestic "scenes." She says that when a man sighs for his mother's cooking he sighs for things associated with the keen pleasures of youth, the craving is both mental and physical. "The wives of the future will have no such difficulty to contend with," she added. "The coming generation will have none of these links with their past."

An example is given of a Rochester man who had the firm conviction Rochester was the only town fit for a birthplace. This strong attachment was traced to the fact that the mother of one of his chums made cookies that could not be rivaled. Moreover the cookey jar was always at the service of "the crowd."

Mrs. Heath confesses to having gone ten miles out of her way when she could ill afford to lose the time to attend an "alleged" clam bake. She was served ice cream instead of watermelon for dessert and the other courses were not baked in sea weed.

Concluding her article, Mrs. Heath says: "Is it not time to form a Society for the Preservation of Our Native Foods? I do not say native cooking alone, because much more than cooking is involved. We must reform our whole system of production and distribution, as well as our culinary methods, before we can have dishes like what mother used to make. But meanwhile every housewife can be a society of one, as far as possible, for the preservation of the traditions of her family."

Evening Party.

A dance was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hallfrisch at their home, 722 North Twenty-first avenue west, by Miss Farie Olson. Several vocal selections were given and a luncheon was served at which Ernest Prentice and B. McCumber gave toasts. Those present were:

Mesdames—
McDonough, Misses—Gertrude Hallfrisch, Messrs.—Guy Hallock, Harry French, George Cellow, John Olson, B. McCumber,
S. Olson. Cecil McDonough, Ellen Oka. Frank Beauchamp, Ernest Prentice, Earl Olson.

WOULD HAVE AMERICANS STUDY MUSIC AT HOME

MRS. BYRD FROST CROWELL.

That American singers gain nothing by going abroad to study but the prestige, is the opinion of Mrs. Byrd Frost Crowell who is singing at the Duluth Orpheum this week.

Mrs. Crowell is a member of the Schubert club of St. Paul, and is known to many members of the Matinee Musicale of Duluth. She has appeared in Minneapolis on the reciprocity programs with the Schubert club, but has never appeared in Duluth before. Previous to her vaudeville engagement, which began only last week, she was prominent in church and concert work.

"American music teachers are now just as good as those in Europe," said Mrs. Crowell. "The European training gives the American a little added prestige when she returns to her home city, and she has also had the opportunity to hear music more cheaply than in America, but that tells the whole story. The time is coming when Americans will not go abroad to study as they do now, and I hope to see the day when we will not only cease to look to Europe for the best in music, but that Europe will look to us. America leads the world in a business way. Why can we not be the leaders in music and art, literature and drama? Surely it is just as worthy an ambition."

BENNETTS MAY GO TO AUSTRALIA

If Richard Bennett accepts an offer, which he has just received, to go to Australia in August for a ten weeks' engagement in "Damaged Goods," it will be largely through the persuasion of Mrs. Bennett, whose stage name is Adrienne Morrison, and who plays the role of "The Girl" in the Brieux play.

Mrs. Bennett's object in urging her husband to accept the antipodal engagement is unique. If the star and producer of "Damaged Goods" does go, of course, Mrs. Bennett and their three little daughters, Constance, Barbara and Joan, will go with him. If he does not go the first half of the season of 1914 and 1915 will be spent on tour in "Damaged Goods" in the smaller cities where it will not be practical to take the children, on account of the frequent railroad journeys. And so Mrs. Bennett had practically decided to take the three girls to England in August and put them in school. The thought of the separation, however, has been a very painful one, and the Australian tour seems to offer a legitimate excuse for abandoning the earlier plan.

If the Australian trip is decided upon the company will sail from Victoria, British Columbia, the latter part of July, immediately following the presentation of "Damaged Goods" in that city.

"Damaged Goods" will be seen in this city at the Lyceum for four performances, beginning April 30.

SIMPLICITY RULES AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

Taxis and Carriages May Be Barred at Junior-Senior "Prom" to Lessen Expense and Increase Attendance.

Automobiles and cabs may be barred from the Junior-Senior "prom" at Central high school this year, in order that the attendance may be increased, according to tentative action taken at a meeting of the Juniors yesterday afternoon.

The Duluth Central high school is fast becoming a democratic institution beginning with the establishment of the cap and gown as the official outfit for the graduating class this year. With the ban placed on automobiles and cabs, it is believed that many students will be able to attend the "prom" this year, who were unable to go in the past, because of the excessive cost.

Miss Margaret Taylor, advisor of the Junior class, broached the subject at the meeting yesterday afternoon. Although no official action was taken, the members decided to discuss the matter and to finally act on it soon. In the meantime a meeting of the boys will be held to learn the sentiment, while Miss Taylor will talk to the girls.

It was also suggested yesterday that no flowers be worn at the "prom," but this received very little encouragement and from present indications flowers will be the only luxury indulged in at the Central high school dances in the future. Of course, owners of automobiles will be permitted to use them as they please.

Miss Esther Hoar and Floyd Lawson were yesterday elected chairmen of the Junior-Senior committee. They will appoint their assistants within a few days and preparations for the "prom" will begin in earnest. The "prom" will be held during the first week in June.

The Junior class decided to hold an informal dance on May 8 and Miss Dorothy Segog and Townsend Hoopes were appointed as the committee in charge.

The Senior class yesterday afternoon officially adopted the cap and gown for graduation and orders for these will be sent to the E. R. Moore company of Chicago, the firm granted the contract for supplying the local graduates. The Chicago concern offered to rent the gowns for $1.50 for a period of four days or to make them to measure at a cost of $6 each.

MAN IS GUILTY; WOMAN SET FREE.

Spartanberg, S. C., April 28.—The jury in the case of Clyde C. Clement and Laura F. Pendleton, who have been on trial here for the last week for the drowning of a baby, found Clement guilty of murder and the woman not guilty. Clement was recommended to mercy, which means, under South Carolina procedure, that he will be sentenced to life imprisonment. It was alleged the baby was the daughter of the defendants.

PURSE SNATCHER LOSES HIS LOOT

Drops Pocketbook Grabbed From Woman and Makes Get Away.

For the second time within a week a woman has been held up by highwaymen on Duluth streets.

Last night Mrs. E. A. Kemp, 114½ West Fourth street, was accosted by a man just as she was passing 311 Second avenue west on her way home from a social call. He snatched her purse, but was frightened away by her screams. In his hurry to hide in an alley nearby, he would-be highwayman dropped his loot. Mrs. Kemp later recovered it. The purse contained a valuable watch and a small amount of cash.

Tuesday night Miss Inez Lee of 612 East Sixth street was held up. Two highwaymen robbed her of her purse, containing 15 cents, a bathing cap and two bath tickets for the Y. W. C. A. The men disappeared after the hold-up and all efforts to find them failed.

The attempted holdup last night took place shortly before 9 o'clock and was frustrated only by the cries of Mrs. Kemp. Her screams attracted several persons residing in the vicinity of 311 Second avenue west, but the man had disappeared. He is described as being short and heavy set, wearing a soft hat and dark suit.

Patrolman Thompson was later sent to the scene of the attempted holdup, but could find no trace of the man.

CHICAGO DEFRAUDED ON SCHOOL SITES.

Chicago, April 28.—The board of education has been defrauded of thousands of dollars in the purchase of school sites, according to a report of a sub-committee of the board which has investigated charges that politicians obtained advance information of contemplated purchases.

Congressman A. J. Sabath was censured by the sub-committee for permitting certain law clients to make false statements to the board to boost the prices on land they had purchased to sell for school sites.

No member of the board, nor any employe, profited in any of the deals, said the report.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Two Girls Can Live More Cheaply and Better Together.

It is not that two can live as cheaply as one, but there are conditions under which two people can live more cheaply and better together than the same two can live separately.

Take for example the man or woman who eats his or her meals in restaurants the year round. The 15 or 20-cent bite will not satisfy these people as it does those who partake of a substantial home-cooked meal at the beginning and ending of each day. People who live on restaurant food are forced to spend nearly double these amounts for each meal in order to satisfy their hunger and maintain a good balance of health.

Placing the expenditure of eating at $1 a day for those who patronize restaurants, the amount for meals totals something like $7 a week. Two people buying their own foodstuffs and preparing them can live better on $7 a week, have more variety and have better nutriment than one can under the first plan. At the now existing high price of raw materials, two people can buy food and the fuel for cooking at the cost of one person's living in a medium-priced restaurant.

A place of abode figures in nearly the same ratio. Placing the average cost of a week's lodging for a person in moderate circumstances at $4 per head, where one prefers to occupy an entire room by one's self, it is surprising what a cozy little nest for two can be secured for anywhere from $15 to $25 a month. The rent exacted weekly from those whose earnings are not high, often runs to the $6 mark.

I am not advocating this great principle of co-operation altogether in the interests of the dubious Jill and the doubting Jack. I am thinking more of the great army of women workers who toil day in and day out, investing all their substance in three or less satisfactory meals, a place to lay their heads and enough to cover their bodies.

It is quite possible for any two girls earning from $15 to $25 a week between them to have a much finer and brighter mode of living together than they do separately. It is possible for them to acquire some household goods, a little fund against the rainy day and live in a more human and womanly way. I do not understand why necessity does not awaken more young women to this truth. It is no theory. It is a truth that can and has been demonstrated satisfactorily by people with only ordinary gray matter.

SUPPORT, NOT CRITICISM.

Quite the most splendid sentiment developed by the nation's latest crisis is that uttered by Col. W. R. Nelson of the Kansas City Star.

Asked by the New York Herald for his opinion about the president's attitude toward Huerta, Col. Nelson replied:

We are not furnishing advice to the president of the United States; we are supporting him.

What a magnificent contrast that simple statement is to the raucous chorus of advice and criticism and nagging which comes from the narrower and less enlightened press of the nation!

Hearst and the Chicago Tribune are demanding conquest and annexation.

The Detroit Free Press and the New York Evening Post are whining that the whole affair is the direct result of the president's "stupid" policy.

Occasional Republican or Bull Moose newspapers are barking at the president's heels like black-and-tans at the heels of a mastiff.

But the great mass of the American press, whether Republican, Democratic or independent, is not criticizing the president, but supporting him.

Uncle Sam estimates that Duluth has grown nearly eleven thousand in the last four years. Just remember that and spring it the next time your neighbor's breakfast disagrees with him.

TOO MUCH!

If the government of the United States is to be compelled to civilize Colorado and John D. Rockefeller, Jr., as well as Mexico, it will be adding an unfair burden, and one that should be needless.

Yet the lawlessness in Colorado and the stiffnecked attitude of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., who represents the mine-owners, indicate a great need of some strong civilizing influence.

Almost time to brush up on your straight politics.

"BLUNDERING INTO WAR."

The New York Evening Post, which calls newspaper clippings "cuttings" because it's English, you know, and which probably calls an elevator a "lift," has turned savagely on the president because of the flurry in Mexico, and charges him with "blundering into war."

Now the president has been charged with many things, but not before with stupidity.

Few, we think, will agree with the Post in thinking him stupid.

What the Post charges, in effect, is that the president went into war before he realized where he was going, and without intending to go there.

In case the Post represents any viewpoint except its own, it might be worth while to go back to the beginning and see just how likely it is that the president blundered.

The trouble started at Tampico. Let's, for argument's sake, assume that the president's critics are right and that the Tampico incident was an insufficient basis for war, and that there was no other aggravation to account for the action at Vera Cruz—though John Lind brought back a long story of insolences that made inaction no longer possible.

What happened at Tampico? Sailors from a navy vessel's smallboat landed at a wharf and were arrested. Two of them were taken from the boat. They were marched up town, where they encountered a higher officer, who ordered their discharge. They never got to jail. The Mexicans said it was a great mistake and they were sorry, and apologized—with an evil glitter in their eyes and their tongues in their cheeks, we have no doubt.

Now if this incident were all, it was possible to take it as you pleased. It might have been ignored. But Admiral Mayo demanded a satisfactory apology and salute, and Huerta quibbled awhile, hoping to get that cargo of arms and ammunition.

What could the president do but back up Mayo? If there was any mistake, it was the navy's.

But there was no mistake. The Tampico incident was but one. Huerta had been guilty of the foily of mistaking our patience for timidity, and had conceived the monstrous idea he could play with us as he pleased. The real mistake was not Wilson's, not Mayo's, but Huerta's.

No, the president did not "blunder into war." His policy was right. It was right in refusing to acknowledge the treacherous and bloodstained title of Huerta. It was right in watchfully waiting, meanwhile resisting the importunities of the greedy to jump in and grab a little territory in which their mines and oil wells are situated.

And, above all, the president's policy was right in refusing to accept whatever insult the monster Huerta chose to fling at us.

Moreover, we would call the attention of the Post to the fact that as yet there is no war.

If the army can kill Mexicans with half the facility the plain citizens can murder the Spanish language, any war that may break out will be short.

PLEASANT PATERNALISM.

The government has frequently been criticized because, judging by its appropriations and its activities, it thinks more of hogs than human beings. It has been very active in safe-guarding hog health, and has done little to promote human health.

That criticism can no longer be made, at least with as much force as before, because the government is about to put out a book telling how to bring up babies. There have been "horse doctor books," "cow books," "chicken books," and now there is a baby book.

The book, which is to be distributed under the frank of the surgeon general of the United States, is being published by the treasury department. Based on the proved fact that much infantile mortality is due to ignorance, it aims to tell parents how to bring their offspring through the numerous perils of babyhood.

This, no doubt, is paternalism; but it is a very decent sort of paternalism, and captious indeed is he who would condemn it.

It seems possible that Huerta may face the need of deciding between elimination and decimation.

CANADIAN WHEAT AND THE CANAL.

The possibility of a change in the trade currents so far as grain from the Canadian Northwest is concerned is hinted at in a recent lecture given in London by Dr. F. B. Vrooman of Vancouver.

His suggestion is that frequent grain congestion at the Head of the Lakes—meaning Port Arthur and Fort William though Duluth sometimes feels it—will be avoided when the canal is open because a great deal of Canadian wheat will go down the Pacific coast instead of down the Great Lakes.

Dr. Vrooman said that the area which will be able to ship its grain to Liverpool by way of Vancouver and the canal more cheaply than by present routes includes all of Alberta and about half of Saskatchewan. The saving in freight charges he reckons at ten cents a bushel for Alberta and four cents for Western Saskatchewan. In 1912 Alberta produced more than a hundred and fifty millions of bushels and Saskatchewan more than twice as much, so that here is a point where the canal will be a large economic factor.

This would make Vancouver one of the greatest ports in the world, if it happened; and doubtless Dr. Vrooman was in London to drive that point home. So he may not be entirely disinterested in his deductions. However, there seems little doubt that in some measure at least he is correct.

Nevertheless, he rightly says that there will be plenty of trade left for the railroads in the territory out of reach of the canal route possibility.

If anybody doubts this is a free country, he can become convinced by listening to the different ways some of these Mexican names are pronounced.

THE COASTWISE TRADE.

The discussion of canal tolls, which is still pending in the senate, has not been a pleasant thing.

It has sundered party relationships, set men against each other, created bitterness and hate, inspired suspicion and hot accusations.

One newspaper—thank heaven, but one!—is even charging President Wilson with treason to America and with foully conspiring to profit England at the expense of his own country because of it.

Do you know where it all comes from?

It comes from the coastwise shipping interests, which constitute a trust.

It is this concern which has inspired this attempt to smuggle through a ship subsidy at the sacrifice of national honor by abrogating a treaty to which the nation's word is solemnly pledged.

The coastwise shipping trust coveted a subsidy. Having failed to get it directly, it sought it through exemption from canal tolls. It got it when Taft was president and his party controlled congress.

Now President Wilson is seeking to bring about the repeal of the law which extends this ship subsidy and violates a treaty.

What should be done to an interest whose greed has involved the nation in a disgraceful turmoil when it has vitally important things to do in the doing of which it should not be interrupted?

The coastwise shipping trust has a monopoly. Federal laws restrict coastwise trade to American ships.

The logical thing to do, and the right thing to do, would be to destroy this monopoly by admitting foreign ships to this trade.

Then a greedy trust would be properly rebuked, and shippers would get the relief which they hope—and hope in vain—to get through the exemption subsidy.

If the Le Sueur Lyre wants to feel properly humbled, let him read some of those stories published by the newspapers in Mexico City.

Japanese in New York city have organized a society to foster friendly relations between Japan and the United States. It does seem as if nobody has any pity for the jingoists.

"THE GIRL I LEFT BEHIND ME"

The dames of France are fond and free,
And Flemish lips are willing,
And soft the maids of Italy,
And Spanish eyes are thrilling:
Still though I bask beneath their smile,
Their charms fail to bind me,
And my heart falls back to Erin's isle,
To the girl I left behind me.

For she's as fair as Shannon's side,
And purer than its water,
But she refus'd to be my bride,
Though many a year I sought her;
Yet, since to France I sail'd away,
Her letters oft remind me,
That I promis'd never to gainsay
The girl I left behind me.

She says, "My own dear love, come home,
My friends are rich and many,
Or else abroad with you I'll roam,
A soldier stout as any;
If you'll not come, nor let me go,
I'll think you have resigned me,"
My heart nigh broke when I answered "No"
To the girl I left behind me.

For never shall my true love brave
A life of war and toiling,
And never as a skulking slave
I'll tread my native soil on;
But were it free or to be freed,
The battle's close would find me
To Ireland bound, nor message need
From the girl I left behind me.

The Never-Ending Charm of Gardens

From Bacon's Essays.

God Almighty first planted a garden. And, indeed, it is the purest of human pleasures. It is the greatest refreshment to the spirt of man, without which buildings and palaces are but gross handiworks; and a man shall ever see that when ages grow to civility and elegance, men come to build stately sooner than to garden finely: as if gardening were the greater perfection.

I do hold it, in the royal ordering of gardens, there ought to be gardens for all the months of the year, in which, severally, things of beauty may then be in season. For March, there come violets, specially the single blue, which are the earliest; the yellow daffodil, the daisy, the almond tree in blossom, sweet briar. In April follow the double white violet, the wallflower, the stock-gilly flower, the cowslip, flower-delices and lilies of all natures, rosemary flowers, the tulippa, the double peony, the pale daffodil, the French honeysuckle, the cherry tree in blossom, the dammasin and lum trees in blossom, the white thorn in leaf, the lilac tree. In May and June come pinks of all sorts, specially in bluish pink; roses of all kinds, except the musk, which comes later; honeysuckles, strawberries, bugloss, columbine, the French marigold, flos Africanus, cherry tree in fruit, ribes, figs in fruit, rasps, vine flowers, lavender in flower, the sweet satyrian, with the white flower, herba muscaria, lilium convallium, the apple tree in blossom.

And because the breath of flowers is far sweeter in the air (where it comes and goes, like the warbling of music) than in the hand, therefore nothing is more fit for that delight than to know what be the flowers that do best perfume the air. Roses, damask and red are fast flowers for their smells; so that you may walk by a whole row of them and find nothing of their sweetest; yea, though it be in a morning's dew. Bays likewise yield no smell as they grow. Rosemary little; nor sweet marjoram. That which above all other yields the sweetest smell in the air is the violet, specially the white double violet, which comes twice a year—about the middle of April and about Bartholomewtide. Next to that is the musk rose. Then the strawberry leaves dying, which yield a most excellent cordial smell. Then the flower of the vines; it is a little dust, like the dust of a bent, which grows upon the cluster in the first coming forth. Then sweet briar. Then wallflowers, which are very delightful to be set under a parlor or lower chamber window. Then pinks and gilly flowers. Then the flowers of the lime tree. Then the honeysuckles, so they be somewhat afar off. Of bean flowers I speak not, because they are field flowers. But those which perfume the air most delightfully, not passed by as the rest, but being trodden upon and crushed, are three; that is, burnet, wild thyme and water mints. Therefore, you are to set whole alleys of them, to have the pleasure when you walk or tread.

"Surrendering" the Canal

Collier's Weekly: From Philadelphia comes the following letter, signed C. H. Kirk: "Why don't you stand on the side of the nation and call the states to arms to defeat the unworthy surrender of the Panama canal, notwithstanding your snap judgment to the contrary of a few weeks ago? Or shall it be said that Collier's, too, is for special privilege?"

As Mr. Kirk does not favor us with his address, we will give him his answer here:

Your letter is an admirable specimen of the loose thinking and loose writing that people use who read dishonestly edited newspapers.

Just where did you get your idea that anybody in this country plans to "surrender" the Panama canal or for that matter the Gowanus canal, to any foreign nation?

The proposition, as Collier's understands it, is: Shall the shipping trust pay for the privilege of using the Panama canal—which has cost the United States a good many million dollars—or shall the people pay one more tax to "special privilege" by "surrendering" the canal to combine-owned shipping? Giving something for nothing is generally bad policy for any individual or any nation. That is the Wilson idea of this matter, and the Goethals idea, and the idea of Rear Admiral Stockton, and Collier's idea.

Confessedly, the canal's service is a great one. If you know of any reason why you and the editor of Collier's should pay no fare on street cars because we happen to be American citizens, you will also be able to explain why American shipping shouldn't pay its fare through the Panama canal.

By all means let us subsidize our shipping if subsidy is a wise economic policy; but if we are going to do it, let us do it honestly and with our eyes open.

Just Like a Girl.

Pearson's Weekly: "Yes, we had a falling out."

"Really, Grace?"

"Yes, and I decided then and there to break the engagement."

"Gracious, dear!"

"I wrote him a letter—but I—I tore it up."

"My!"

"Then I wrote him another letter and tore that up too."

"Oh!"

"But the third letter I didn't tear up. Mustering all my courage and burying all pangs of regret, I took it to the mail box, and then"——

"Ah, and then? Tell me!"

"I-I didn't drop it in."

The Woman of 1914.

Tacoma Leader: What should a statue of "The Woman of 1914" look like? Countess Fedora von Gleichen, a London sculptress, has raised a controversy by making the woman of 1914 express a "certain insouciance," an "almost impertinent confidence," an "insatiable curiosity," a "rather frivolous sort of intellectual activity," and not a bit of "prudence" or "coquettishness," and what about her dress? Well, the dispatches say the only bit of clothing—if by any stretch of the imagination it can be called clothing—is a vanity bag on her left arm. This would do, perhaps, for the equatorial region, but not for the north temperate zone.

Don't Lower Your Sights.

Henry David Thoreau: In the long run men hit only what they aim at. Therefore, though they shall fail immediately, they had better aim at something high.

Still Keeping It.

Houston Post: "I wish my wife was less firm in keeping her New Year's resolution."

"What was it?"

"She resolved that I would quit smoking."

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—It came to pass, in the course of the house debate on an appropriation bill a while ago, that a certain eminent Texas statesman was making an urgent plea for a great many items to be spent in his home town. That led Representative Edward Keating of Colorado to form himself into a human hook and ladder wagon, so to speak, and rush to the rescue of the public money that was thus threatened.

But the Texas man had the floor and refused to yield when he saw Keating getting into his oratorical rubber coat.

"You'd like to eat me up, wouldn't you?" he hurled at Keating, tauntingly.

Whereupon Mr. Alfalfa Bill Murray of Oklahoma took the situation into his own hands, and regardless of parliamentary procedure, shouted:

"Yes, there are a few little things," replied Rogers. "For example, I wish you would let me know where you have been buying your cigars and groceries. And what seat have you usually occupied when you went to the theater? Also, if you have any old shoes or discarded clothing you're not needing, I wish you would leave them here for me. When I succeed a man, I dislike to do the thing by halves."

"He says he dassent eat you up. It'd be against his religion."

"What's that?" asked the Texas man, with curiosity all aroused. Anybody would wonder what had been said that could conflict with a man's religious beliefs.

"He adheres to the old Mosaic law," explained Murray loudly, "and so he can't eat hog meat."

When John Jacob Rogers first struck town as a member of congress from Massachusetts, he fell in with his immediate predecessor, Butler Ames, and Ames magnanimously undertook to give him a fair start.

"Sometimes," Ames explained to the newcomer, "it is difficult to get a suitable office room in the house office building, and a new man is usually shunted off down in the basement. So I have taken the liberty of filing a claim on my own office in your name and you can move right in. It is convenient to street cars, mail chutes, hotels, and lots of things, besides having a nice view."

"Fine!" exclaimed Rogers, gratefully, "and now that I am relieved of bothering about an office, I must go and look for an apartment in which my wife and I may dwell."

"Ah, yes," said Ames, "I thought of that, too, I am just about to move out of an apartment that I thought might please you, and so I have taken the liberty of taking an option on it for you."

Rogers looked at Ames' apartment, and the next day moved in.

* * *

"Another thing," went on Ames; "I joined a suit pressing club when I first came here, and I forgot to tell the man I am leaving congress. When he calls for my clothes Monday, you might explain to him—"

"Or, he might just take my other suit, and go right ahead," suggested Rogers.

"Very well, and now is there anything else I can do for you?"

"What's the use?"

"Well, shoes would protect your feet."

"They don't need protection," Walker is said to have replied, proudly. "I can 'brad a briar' with the soles of my feet."

The American Flag.

Unfurl the flag of freedom, lo, behold!
The ensign of a people young and bold;
Repeat our banner's story,
Salute the flag of glory
Which reveals the stars of freedom in each fold.

Refrain:
The Stars and Stripes shall never kiss the dust,
The sword of justice never sleep in rust,
O, our hearts are loyal, true
To our old red, white and blue,
Love for God and home and country is our trust.

Every true heart of the nation deep must feel
The thrilling, patriotic vim and zeal
Which has shaped our glorious fate,
Making each new grateful state
In Old Glory's azure field a living seal!

God has made our land a nation rich and great,
He inspired our fathers with a nation's fate.
Their principles were few,
Immortal, simple, true—
Eternal are His laws for man and state.

Americans we are, and brave at heart.
And every man of us will do his part.
Let our declaration stand,
Soul aflame and flag in hand.
We will serve in peace and war with willing heart.

Wanted—A Real Man for State Executive

Views of the state press on a much needed change.

The Office Seeks the Man.

Fergus Falls Wheelock's Weekly: The Democratic candidate for governor, Congressman Winfield Scott Hammond, is the only one in the field who has been put there by the voice of others and without the shadow of self-seeking. The old shibboleth, that the office should seek the man, was never more fairly and fully carried out than in this case. Congressman Hammond has made a record as a servant of the people in congress not often equaled in that body. As chief executive of Minnesota he will perpetuate and extend that record.

Will Rescue State From Misgovernment.

Cass Lake Times: The Democrats have spoken, and if we may be allowed an opinion of their efforts it is to approve their action. We have not the honor of an acquaintance with Mr. Hammond, but his record is clear, he is a man of undoubted ability, honesty of purpose with a determination to do his duty wherever placed. Mr. Hammond can be elected; the field is an open one with many mercenary aspirants. The people of the state know the situation, and if we mistake not their independence will rally to the support of a man who will take the state out of the category of the "misgoverned." The Times will support Mr. Hammond, not alone because he is a Democrat, but because we believe him to be the best man yet named.

A Fair View of It.

Roseau Region (Rep.): If Eberhart and Lawler are nominated, it will make no difference to the breweries which is elected. And if Lee and Hammond are nominated, either one will give the state a good and business-like administration as governor.

A Good Deal Anyway.

Biwabik Times (Rep.): W. S. Hammond is the Democratic nominee for governor. Lynch is pretty much of a politician and would not have named Hammond, it is generally believed, unless he has been practically assured that Eberhart was on his way to the scrap heap. Mr. Hammond has been congressman from Minnesota for some few terms. He has not set the country on fire, but his votes show he has nearly always been right. In matters where there was a chance to benefit the public it seems that he has always voted to give the little fellow the best of the bargain. That's saying about the best you can of a modern politician.

A Frank Confession.

Clara City Herald (Rep.): The Democrats at their state conference picked the strongest man they could possibly name for governor in W. S. Hammond, the Second district congressman from St. James. Mr. Hammond is a power on the stump, and will make a whirlwind campaign. Whether Lee or Eberhart wins at the June primaries, it is going to be a merry battle at the polls in November, and the outcome is not at all certain.

Certainly They Have!

Fertile Journal (Rep.): The recent state political mass meeting at Minneapolis succeeded in uniting the efforts of those Republicans who would carry honesty and efficiency into public as well as private life, and gave them a good, earnest, hard working business man, W. E. Lee, as standard bearer. Later a like meeting in St. Paul similarly united those elements of the Democratic party who stand for what is right and just when it comes to governing a people and spending their money, and selected W. S. Hammond as leader, a man whose public and private life both point out the manly man. Surely no rational, fair-minded voter can find fault with these meetings, especially when the elements they were fighting are considered. The man who does so is subjecting his judgment, his knowledge and his principles to question. People have a right to good government and a right to fight for it with all means that are fair, and surely there is nothing unfair in uniting in a good cause.

Our President

William Allen White in Emporia Gazette: How well he seems to have managed it—this whole sordid business of going to war; how fair he has been; how patient, how dignified, how infinitely gentle and kind. No bluster, no threats, no snicker of anticipation; no licking of the nation's chops—just a simple-souled, brave, soft-hearted, hard-headed man. It is sad enough to go into war of any kind at any time; but it is less sad to go knowing that every honorable means has been taken to keep away from war. And this consolation President Wilson has given us by his wise, forbearing, Christian attitude before the provocation of a foe mad and desperate and foolish.

The good God, who knows all and watches over all, and sees all, and directs all, was in our hearts deeper than we knew when as a Nation we chose this great, serene soul to lead us.

Consistency.

Life: The governor of Massachusetts recently refused to accept an increase of $4,000 a year in his salary, provided by a new law, on the ground that he had been elected on the basis of the old salary, and he had no right to take what had not been agreed to by the principals to the bargain.

Probably not one voter in a million when he voted for Governor Walsh, thought anything about his salary. But assume that they all did, and that the principle is correct; then suppose some of our governors, to be consistent, should pay the state for all the damages they have done, not included in the election arrangements—what fine bills some of these gentlemen would have to pay!

Another Kind of a Dog.

Houston Chronicle: John Bohrer, the Great Dane breeder, walked along with one of the best dogs of his kennels the other day. Two ladies fell upon him with glad cries.

"Magnificent," said the first lady.

"A wonderful Great Dane!"

Then she became arch. "I suppose," said she, rolling her eyes on Mr. Bohrer, "that you call your Great Dane Hamlet?"

"No," said Mr. Bohrer, "Ophelia."

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1894.

J. D. Ray died yesterday at his residence, 403 East Second street, from pneumonia caused by a severe attack of the grip. Mr. Ray was one of the very oldest settlers at the Head of the Lakes. Born in Massachusetts 73 years ago, he came to Superior in 1856 and established himself in the mercantile business at the "Old Town." There was no Duluth then, nor was the Zenith City even thought of. After five years residence there, Mr. Ray went to Ohio, but in 1864 he came back and this time settled in Duluth. He lived in a little cottage east of the Ray block. There were then only a few families here, among them those of Judge Carey, Luke Marvin, Col. Culver and William Nettleton. Mr. Ray opened a real estate office and continued in that business throughout his reidence here. He was always foremost in every project for the benefit of Duluth and gave liberally when the railroads were first induced by financial and other means to build to Duluth. He was one of the first aldermen of the city and for many years was a director of the chamber of commerce. He had large holdings on the Mesaba range, where he was interested with Louis Rouchleau in the Rouchleau Iron Land company. Mr. Ray's estate will undoubtedly inventory $1,000,000 or more.

The Soo Lighter and Wrecking company of Duluth has been incorporated with a capital of $25,000. The incorporators are Charles W. Leland, Wendell P. Marsh and Arthur Keetch, all of Duluth.

T. S. McClure of St. Cloud, who has been in the city for several days looking after a contest case against a Rainy Lake gold claim of his, returned home yesterday.

The Great Northern railway strike continues. The Eastern Minnesota employes have quit, and no trains, either freight or passenger, are moving on the Great Northern system today.

James McLaughlin of North Dakota has been appointed by President Cleveland to be Indian agent at Standing Rock, N. D.

Deputy United States Marshal E. D. Brown came up from St. Paul today.

A marriage license has been issued to Fred Wilson and Hilda Bratberg.

Duluth temperature at 7 a. m. today, 42 degs.; maximum yesterday, 42 degs.; minimum yesterday, 36 degs.

Why a Senate?

Brown's Valley Tribune: Oregon, they say, is going to vote this year on the question of doing away with its double-barreled legislative oody and substituting for it a legislature composed of a single chamber.

The proposal comes through the growingly familiar process of the initiative, and it has gone far enough to make it certain that the people of Oregon will vote on the question whether they want a single-chamber legislature or a two-chamber legislature.

Though a very startling proposal to some—mainly to those who are always shocked by proposals to make things different from what they are used to—on examination it seems much less revolutionary.—Duluth Herald.

As a matter of fact, there is not much, if any, need of two houses of a state legislature. When we get right down to brass tacks, why is there not just as much need for two bodies of a board of county commissioners. The double legislative bodies originated from the idea that the house represented the people, and the senate the government or state. But today under our form of government, members of both bodies are elected by the people and are expected to represent the will of the people. The membership is chosen from the same kind of material, and some who have been in the house return to the senate and some who have been in the senate return to the house. We cling to the system more through sentiment than for any other reason. We believe Minnesota could dispose of its state senate and continue to enact laws just as good, just as effective, as are now enacted, and perhaps with less time, bother and expense.

Looks That Way.

Houston Post: "Women are much better shoppers than men are."

"Maybe, but they seem to get mighty little clothes for their money."

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

THIS IS THE OPEN COURT COLUMN.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Below you will find a little song verse dedicated to the young ladies of Duluth:

Each city has its share of peaches,
Some have more, others less, so it seems;
You can see them at the seashore and beaches,
At the theaters, cafes and in dreams.
Chicago, New York, San Francisco
Have abundant supply of this fruit,
But little we care, for they cannot compare
With our peaches and cream of Duluth.

CHORUS.

The girls of Duluth are all lulus,
They are pretty, witty and neat;
With slick waists and curls, teeth whiter than pearls,
Their lips and eyes can't be beat.
The girls of Duluth are real peaches,
They are nifty, thrifty and wise;
They're as gay as a lark, from morning till dark,
Here's to you Queenly Maid, you're a prize.

You may rave of your girls from Paris,
And sing of their grace and charm,
And of maids from beautiful Venice
You may spin us your wonderful yarn.
The spick and span miss from Vienna
You'll vow she is as sweet as she's cute,
But Europe or here, they can't beat our dear
Little Peaches and Cream of Duluth.

RIGHT OF THE RURAL CARRIERS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

If a man was hauling mail on a star route and got half way over the route and his horse was taken sick and couldn't go any further, and if a man was near at hand with another horse, could the man hauling the mail compel him to give him his horse to finish his route? Yours truly,

M. O'DONNELL.

SPRING POETS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Hail gentle spring! You're here alright with your two twins, the spring poet and the robin. Of course, you are all here, for where one is there are the other two also. You are three in one and one in three, a happy trinity.

And such dear robins we have this season. They have glossy throats and build their nests on swinging trees and lay speckled eggs. Didn't you read about it in last night's Open Court? Go break the news to John Burroughs, that good old soul who has been studying birds for half a century and has never yet seen such a rare specimen of the robin family.

But, J. M. O., you forgot to mention the pearly teeth with which they eat those luscious cherries that grow in such profusion about Duluth. You'll not forget it next spring, I am sure.

Now for the next spring poet to tell us about the gentle cow that sings an evening lullaby to her loving calf and spring will be here twice in the same place. G. W.

THE VOICE OF THE STARS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

But faintly can the eyes of men behold
The splendor of that grand celestial fold,
Where countless stars in solemn silence shine
To tell mankind there is a God divine.

ANSWERS TO THE STOCK PROBLEM.

Corect answers to the stock problem have been received by the following: Harry N. Collins, 402 North Fifty-eighth avenue west; C. H. Hasselstrom, Jackson school; Ray Lynott, Cathedral school. The answer follows: Five cows at $10 each, or $50; one sheep at $3, or $3; ninety-four hogs at 50 cents each, or $47; 100 head cost $100.

SEVEN-CARD CRIBBAGE.

To the Editor of The Herald:

In regard to "that cribbage problem" will say that hands 25, 26, 27 and 19 can be made in seven-card cribbage, i. e., by holding: Two aces, one deuce, two three and nibs—total 25.

Two aces, two deuces, one three and one ten—total 26.

Two aces, two deuces, one three, and ten and nibs—total 27.

Three sevens, one eight, one ace and nibs are 19.

I never remember seeing those hands in other than seven-card cribbage.

Respectfully, E. A. S.

Duluth, April 25.

STILL THEY COME.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I have followed with interest the various mathematical problems presented in the Open Court for solution. Would like to know the answer to the one concerning the $50 counterfeit and the hat. I figure the clothier's loss to be $40 and the hat.

I respectfully submit the following problem for solution:

A ship is sailing due northeast at a rate of ten miles per hour. Find the rate at which she is moving due north and also due east. G. F. F.

Duluth, April 23.

Your answer is correct.—The Editor.

CRUEL INJUSTICE.

To the Editor of The Herald:

We have been puzzled over one question for some length of time. It is this:

Why is it that a resident of Duluth can walk the streets drunk four days out of the week free and that a non-resident, as soon as he is full, is grabbed and sent up for thirty or sixty days? Please publish this and answer and oblige

WILLIAM GRIFFIN.

Duluth, April 23.

This is one of the privileges connected with residence in Duluth we had not heard of. An excellent remedy for the injustice would be to either move to Duluth or keep sober.—The Editor.

FARM EXPERTS TO TAKE TRIP

D. & I. R. Special Train Will Begin Range Journey May 18.

Effort Will Be Made to Get in Close Contact With Farmers.

The land department of the Duluth & Iron Range Railroad company, assisted by the agricultural department of the university, will start its agricultural special train on May 18.

There will be a radical departure this year from the usual custom in running the train. Instead of spending only a couple of hours in a place the train will stop all day and a regular short course will be held. Every effort will be put forth to get in as close touch with the farmers as possible. With this end in view only the strictly farming sections adjacent to the Duluth & Iron Range and the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad will be visited.

Two or three automobiles will be shipped along with the train. With these, the instructors will visit the farmers near each stopping place and get as thoroughly acquainted with the actual conditions on the farms as possible. This will be done late in the afternoon and evening of each day preceding the institute work at each stop.

Practice work in stock judging, seed potato selection and treatment of dairy accounting will be a special feature.

In the ladies' car will be fitted up a model farm kitchen, such as any settler's wife may have at little or no expense. Misses Bess Rowe and Mary L. Bull of the Extension department will give instructions in practical housekeeping and the preparation and serving of substantial meals. With this end in view Miss Rowe has recently made a study of actual farm home conditions in St. Louis county.

As the County Fair association is this year conducting a boys' and girls' corn and alfalfa contest, Secretary R. L. Giffin will accompany the train and give complete instructions to all who can be induced to enter this contest, the idea being to stimulate the growing of alfalfa and corn throughout the county. Secretary Giffin will distribute, for this purpose, some hardy Northwestern Dent seed corn, which was ripened in this county. This work will be supervised by County Agricultural Agent A. D. Van Wagenen, with whom Secretary Giffin is co-operating, and who already has some poultry and potato-growing contests under way.

The program of this short course train is being worked out and the train schedule arranged. Both will be announced in a few days.

The following instructors will accompany the train: N. E. Chapman, A. D. Hostetter, A. D. Van Wagenen, A. J. McGuire, N. J. Thompson, W. A. Dickinson, Fred Ward, R. L. Giffin, Bess M. Rowe and Mary L. Bull.

FLOPPING TOGETHER

By SAVOYARD

Washington, April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—I was telling a story of Sam Randall and a filibuster the other day and there is another of that extraordinary man that is more or less interesting at this time. Mr. Randall, an ex-speaker of congress charged to the Democratic party, was an assailant of Grover Cleveland's first administration and led a band of recalcitrants who put the knife to the throat of the Democratic tariff bill in the Forty-ninth congress, one of the Morrison bills. Subsequently Champ Clark, from his seat on the floor of the national house of representatives, affirmed that the election of Grover Cleveland to the presidency of our republic was the greatest calamity that had befallen mankind since the fall of Adam. That declaration would have been the chief campaign document of the opposition had Champ been nominated at Baltimore, and it, with others from that same source little less extravagant and almost as absurd, would have elected Theodore Roosevelt president in 1912.

But to get back. When Randall made his greatest speech in 1888 against the Mills tariff bill, the Republican side "rose to him" as the pit rose to Kean when he played Shylock:

"This is the Jew
That Shakespeare drew."

As he closed there was a tumult of approval on the Republican side such as Pig Iron Kelley, a far better speaker than Randall, and the leader of the Republican minority, never got in his long career, in that body, of thirty years.

There was at that time a grim old statesman in the Missouri delegation, and like Champ, native of Kentucky, named Hatch. With eyes of flame and a heart of wrath he rushed to Randall, took him by the arm, and exclaimed, pointing to the Republican side: "Your friends applaud you, your friends applaud you, sir!"

And why shouldn't they applaud? He was assailing a Democratic president and antagonizing the majority of his party. The other day his successor as speaker of the Democratic congress, Champ Clark, assailed another Democratic president and antagonized an even greater majority of his party, and the Republicans went into delirious ecstasy over it. Why not?

During that same congress Randall enriched our political slang. Some question other than the tariff, but altogether political, came up, and Randall and his set joined with the real Democrats and carried the day. Randall, addressing the Republican side, said: "You see the two wings of the Democratic party 'flop together.'" The thing was a hit and "flopping" became a term in our political nomenclature.

When Cleveland was serving his second term and the split came in the Democratic household over the silver question, John R. Fellows, the gifted orator from Tammany, made a grandiloquent speech denunciatory of civil service reform, and the entire Democratic side, goldbug and silver crank, rose in vociferous applause. On the Republican side Charles Boutelle of Maine set everybody a-laughing with this: "And now they flop."

And the other day Mann of Chicago, leader of the standpatters, and Murdock of Wichita, leader of the Bull Moosers, flopped together, sustaining a Democratic speaker in his warfare against a Democratic president. You see there was a ship subsidy on the hooks.

Once the house cat, by some mischievous fairy, was turned into a fine lady. She was beautiful beyond compare and graceful and witty and fascinating in the extreme. She beat 'em all at bridge. At lawn tennis she was invincible, and dancing the tango she was out of sight. She was the toast of the town, the belle of the season, when one day at a function where were assembled all the elite of the Four Hundred, a mouse ran across the drawing room, and our fine lady spied it, and now the ruling passion was strong in transformation. She sprang after it, seized it and devoured it, blood raw, before all her then and there gathered admirers.

And so the Hon. Murdock. He was transformed from an odious Republican into a radiant Progressive. He was for the people and agin the trusts. He proclaimed equality and abominated privilege. He assailed Uncle Cannon and denounced the henchmen of monopoly in congress, on the stump, at the chautauqua and in the press.

But the other day this sewer rat of a ship subsidy, clothed in the American flag, scampered into congress, and the Hon. Murdock embraced it, took it to his besom, and nourished it.

It is the most odious of the trusts, for it is the only complete one made an absolute monopoly by act of congress 125 years ago. With watered stocks, holding companies and interlocking directories, it is up to date. It has fattened and battened off our commerce, that it has had by the throat for a century and a quarter, and here comes the Hon. Murdock, joining Cannon and Mann, Penrose and Gallinger, Hearst and Tammany, and insisting on laying heavier burdens on the corn growers of Kansas to add to the spoil of the most insatiate monster of privilege our country has ever known!

And now they flop to subsidy!

Gardeners' Calendar.

Plant sweet peas.

Remove covering from pansy plants, strawberries and hardy perennials.

Plant onion sets for green onions.

The first warm days have come at last and early plants are beginning to show some signs of life. It may not last, but it is safe to plant a few of the earlier, hardier things now. Sweet peas are among the first to be considered.

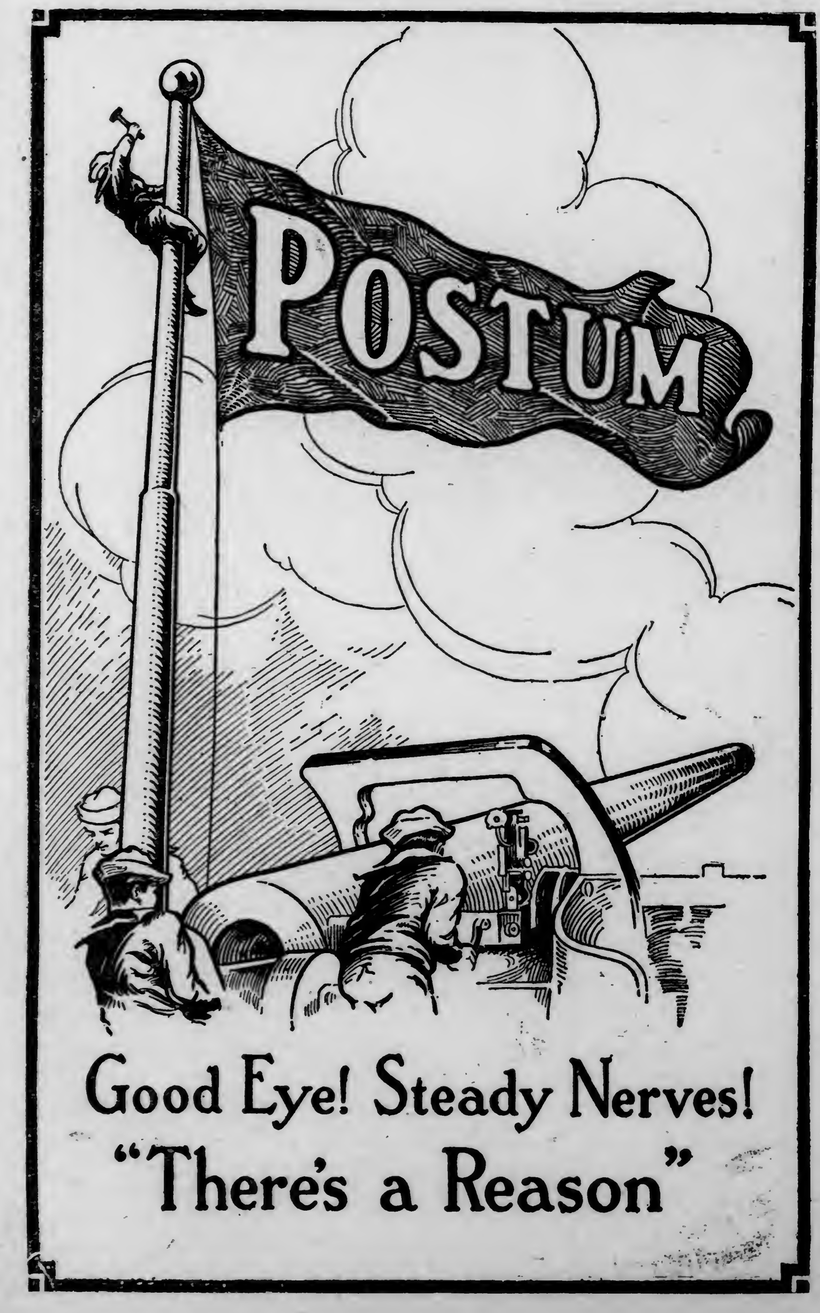
Select a sunny location; but, if possible, choose one that is somewhat sheltered from the heavy winds. Sweet peas do better in the open garden than they do when surrounded by sod. There are two very good reasons for this. In the first place, it is much easier to cultivate them; and, second, when near the lawn, the grass roots absorb much of the moisture and nutriment which should be given to the growth and sustenance of the peas.

The sweet pea bed should be spaded deep—not less than eight inches—and should contain plenty of well rotted stable manure, well mixed with the soil. In order to avoid a sour soil and to prevent fungus, it is well to use a little air-slacked lime in the soil. Be sure that this is well pulverized and thoroughly worked into the soil before planting.

Many make the mistake of planting too deep. To insure quick germination and a good stand sweet peas should not be planted over two inches deep; and, if the soil is very heavy one and one-half inches will do. More earth can be drawn up around them after they are well started and a compact mulch added when they begin to climb. Good clean brush makes a better trellis than poultry netting.

The covering may now be removed from pansies which have been wintered in the open ground. If this is done and the top soil is stirred gently about the roots of the plants, you will be surprised at the earliness and quality of the flowers that follow.

Where strawberry beds have been heavily covered, remove part of the covering now, leaving a little as a mulch and for protection to the berries as they develop. A little straw does not interfere with the growth of the plant, and it will save the berries from becoming sanded.



Onion sets should be planted early and will not be hurt even though the ground should freeze again. In fact, the earliest green onions are usually secured by planting the sets in the fall. If the ground is dry enough, onion seed may also be planted at this time.

While it is a little early to remove the covering from rose bushes and the more tender shrubs, it is safe to uncover most of the herbaceous perennials. Where a heavy covering has been applied and the plants are starting a weight of straw may smother them. Wait a few days longer before transplanting however.

Dig in some old manure around the roots of asparagus and rhubarb. Both of these plants start very early, and they respond quickly to food and to cultivation.

Train currant and gooseberry bushes and spade up the ground around the roots, using care not to disturb the root system too much.

Now is the time to give your apple trees a lime sulphur bath. Get two or three pounds of quick lime and an equal quantity of sulphur. Slake the lime with hot water and add the sulphur while slaking. When cool apply the thick paste to trunks and large limbs of trees with an old paint brush. Allow what remains of the mixture to settle. When thoroughly settled pour off the clear liquid and dilute with about five parts of water. Use this diluted mixture for spraying branches of apple trees.

MONEY HAS FIRMER TONE

Forest Products and Navigation Activity Cause Brisker Call.

Bankers Are Encouraged By Reports From Farming Districts.

While there has been no special feature, a slightly firmer tendency in the money situation is noted by Duluth bankers. The opening of navigation has led to a call for funds to finance shipments of grain from the local elevators to lower lakes ports.

The movement of forest products is still absorbing considerable funds and the lumber trade promises to be a factor from now on with forwardings of materials to Buffalo, Tonawanda and other Eastern points beginning under contracts with dealers entered into during the last few weeks.

Offerings of commercial paper in the wholesale trade are said to be about normal for the season, and that feature is considered likely to be made prominent with shipments of heavy staple goods now being sent forward from warehouses here to retailers in this territory. It is said that stocks in the hands of country merchants have run down very low in many lines pending the opening of navigation and that deliveries are consequently likely to be larger during the next three or four weeks than in several years back.

Gratifying advices regarding the progress of seeding and the general outlook are being received by bankers here from their correspondents in Minnesota, North Dakota and Montana.

Desposits in the savings departments of the local financial institutions are said to be increasing steadily, and the next statement of the banks' conditions is expected to show a substantial gain in their aggregate.

Representatives of the four Duluth national banks who attended the conference at St. Paul last week in reference to the organization of the regional reserve bank, express themselves as gratified with its outcome.

"We accomplished a great deal in posting ourselves upon the various points in the system," said J. W. Ly-der, cashier of the Northern National bank, today. "From what I can see it ought to work out satisfactorily all round. Just how soon the new regional bank at Minneapolis can come into being depends largely upon how promptly the banks send in their subscriptions and reports."

H. S. Macgregor, cashier of the City National bank, expressed the opinion that the new system will not be in operation before next August or September in view of the various moves, with the time allowed between each, that remain to be taken.

A distinctly stronger tone is reported in the commercial paper situation at New York and Chicago, attributable in part to the Mexican war development, and to a rise in foreign exchange. Funds are, however, said to be abundant, but bankers are looking forward to gradual improvement in the industrial and commercial call as soon as the railroad freight rate controversy is out of the way. Pending the decision of the interstate commerce commission, it is said that considerable business is being held back.

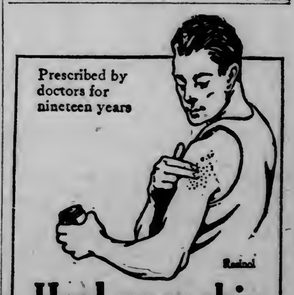
STEEL MILLS ARE ACTIVE

Are Operating at About Seventy Per Cent of Capacity.

Schwab's Optimism Greatly Encourages Steel Men in the East.

Iron and steel plants of the country are estimated to be now operating as a whole upon a basis of between 65 and 70 per cent of capacity. Operations of the United States Steel corporation, including blast furnaces and ingot production, are placed at about 70 per cent or slightly better than the average of the independents. Exclusive of the orders for 3,500 cars recently placed by the corporation for the Duluth, Missabe & Northern and the Bessemer & Lake Line railroads, there are said to be inquiries on the market for 15,000 cars and some fair-sized contracts for steel rails are pending.

Carnegie Mill Fortunate.



The Carnegie mills at Sharon, Pa., are considered to be in an especially fortunate position, it being estimated they are running this week at about 80 per cent of capacity. With the exception of a single mill all the departments of the Republic Iron & Steel company at Youngstown, Pa., are going.

Members of the trade in the East are feeling encouraged over the optimistic stand now being assumed by Charles M. Schwab, president of the Bethlehem Steel company, in direct contrast with the position assumed by him last October when the new tariff law came into effect.

Schwab to Spend $25,000,000.

Commenting on that, the Wall Street Journal says:

"Charles M. Schwab is a great authority on the steel trade. The proof of this is his achievements. His views, as he expresses them, may not enable a man to operate successfully in the stock market; but what he does is always worth watching as an indication of the main tendency in the trade. If he trims sail it is well to move cautiously and keep near shore; but if he crowds on the sails, ventures can generally be made with a feeling of security. Mr. Schwab said the other day that he intends to spend $25,000,000 for enlargement and improvement of the Bethlehem plant within the next three years, and his statement is full of meaning. He would not do anything of that kind if he did not feel confident regarding the future of the steel industry; and in this connection it must be remembered that the Bethlehem plants are so located that they must bear the brunt of foreign competition, if there is to be any in the East. Plants are located at Pittsburg and other points beyond the Allegheny mountains have a barrier against foregin competition more effective than any tariff wall that could be raised; but the Bethlehem steel plants are located on the eastern side of the range and are not similarly protected. Mr. Schwab being so confident of the Bethlehem's ability to withstand foreign competition, the interior plants have nothing to fear."

EBERHART AT CONFERENCE

Minnesota Governor Urges Improvement of the Waterways.

Says Canadian Competition Compels Mississippi Improvement.

St. Louis, Mo., April 28.—The governors of three states and envoys from thirteen cities attended a shore terminals conference here today. The chief purpose of the conference is to discuss the standardization of shore facilities along the Mississippi river.

Governor Elliot W. Major presided at the meeting. Governor A. O. Eberhart of Minnesota spoke on "The Importance of Water Resources in the Development of Industry." Governor Dunne of Illinois also spoke.

Governor Eberhart's address was a plea for a greater national sentiment toward the work of developing the nation's waterways.

"There is no subject today so far-reaching," he said, "as that of improvement of the waterways of the Mississippi valley for the purpose of supplementing and cheapening the transportation now furnished by rail. All civilization of the past have been based to a large extent on the influence and value of water transportation and this is true today as it was in ancient times.

Breadbasket of the World.

"The Mississippi valley is to continue to be the breadbasket of the world; but more than that, with its millions of units of potential power it should become a great manufacturing and shipping center as well. With its fertile soil, its capacity to produce food in support of millions, its network of railways and its wonderful system of waterways furnishing cheap transportation, the Mississippi valley will be the seat of an inland empire greater than anything that has existed in the past or can exist anywhere else in the world.

"The railroads maintain they cannot give cheaper transportation, and in spite of the comparatively small proportion of population to our extended territory there are periods of traffic congestion. There is imperative demand for relief from this condition, and the utilization of our waterways offers the answer to this question. Europe, with its denser population, long ago realized the importance of this form of transportation.

Reasons for Action.

"The improvement of waterways transportation as a supplement to highway and railroad is based on the assumption that population will increase rapidly, and with it the necessity of additional transportation facilities.

"There also is another reason why we should be alert and realize the possibilities of our water transportation. To the north we have a lusty young rival in Canada, and that country, realizing the advantage a water canal system would give the United States, has started a fight for northwest trade. Toronto has appropriated $40,000,000 to snatch from Buffalo a business which Buffalo has enjoyed for a hundred years; the province of Ontario has appropriated $50,000,000 in carrying a shipping canal around Niagara falls, and is also improving the deep water canal at a cost of $25,000,000. They are also starting construction of the Georgia bay canal at a cost of $200,000,000.

"Acknowledging the feasibility and necessity of waterways transportation, there remains but one thing to make it effective: That is a tremendous public sentiment which will make opening of our great waterway system a national question. To bring this about there must be unity of action among the states known as the Mississippi valley states."

FARMER'S SON IS HIT BY BULLET

Walking Along Road When Youth Hunting Gophers Shoots Him.

Thief River Falls, Minn., April 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Thorvald, the 11-year-old son of A. Myrom, a farmer living seven miles northwest of this city, is in a critical condition at his home as the result of a bullet wound received Sunday as he was on his way to a neighbor's. The boy with his brother Edwin and another lad by the name of Jacob Bergland left the Myrom home to go to their nearest neighbor's place. As they were walking along the graded road, Theodore Samuelson, 16 years old, who was hunting gophers, approached them with a loaded 22-caliber rifle which in some manner became discharged, sending a bullet right through the body of the Myrom boy. When Samuelson saw what he had done he ran away, leaving the wounded boy unconscious on the ground. The two 13-year-old companions of the unconscious lad picked him up and carried him back to his home, where he now lies in a condition of grave uncertainty.

The Samuelson boy before running away offered the witnesses of the affair a dime and some marbles to keep the thing a secret and his parents have since been unable to draw from him a confession.

NOTICE, MILK DEALERS

For the convenience of the Duluth milk dealers our inspector, Robert A. North, will be at the office of the City Health Department, City Hall, to issue milk licenses May 1 to May 9, inclusive.

ELEANOR WILSON IN STORM ON BAY.

Woodshole, Mass., April 28.—Miss Eleanor R. Wilson, youngest daughter of the president and fiancee of Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, had a lively experience in yesterday's storm.

Accompanied by Mrs. David F. Houston, wife of the secretary of agriculture, Miss Wilson came here to look for a summer residence. A pelting rain interfered with their plans, and they decided to return to Washington, train connections were lacking, but the marine biological laboratory officials offered passage to New Bedford on the little steamer Cayadetta. The fish boat crossed the rough waters of the bay safely, but with considerable discomfort to those on board. At New Bedford connections were made for a Washington express.

LITTLE CHANGE IN FRENCH ELECTIONS.

Paris, April 28.—The completed returns in the general election for the chamber of deputies show that France wants neither revolution nor reaction. The new chamber will differ little in its composition from the old.

Byrns In Lumber Business.

Ishpeming, Mich., April 28.—Charles J. Byrns of Ishpeming, former collector of customs for the Superior district, abolished by President Taft, has accepted the position of general manager and vice president of the Soo Lumber company, and will enter upon his new duties Friday, May 1.

Mr. Byrns plans to maintain his residence in Ishpeming. He will retain his interests in the insurance business with his two sons, Ashton and William.

BANKER IS FARM CRITIC

Vanderlip Blames Farmers for High Cost of Living.

Says They Need Regulation as Well as Corporations.

New York, April 28.—Ignorance and inefficiency of the country's farmers rather than big business make up the fundamental cause of the high cost of living, Frank A. Vanderlip, president of the National City bank, declared at a dinner of the American Cotton Manufacturers' association here last night.

Land is being utilized with but 40 per cent of efficiency, yet the farmer is not held culpable—he is not answerable to society, Mr. Vanderlip said, as is the railroad manager who produces anything less than 100 per cent.

Mr. Vanderlip deprecated what he alluded to as the hampering regulations under which business is being placed by law. As a means of obtaining relief for what he said is an existing business depression, he urged a campaign of education to have public opinion based on "correct economic principles."

Nation Grown Critical.

"We are today a nation grown critical of business methods and resentful of business accomplishment," Mr. Vanderlip said. "By far the greater part of government energies, as related to both, are directed toward destructive rather than constructive and creative ends."

Insofar as business is responsible for its conduct, Mr. Vanderlip declared, "it will not do to say that railroad managers and corporation heads are the representatives of publicly subscribed capital and are therefore subject, in the interests of society, to a surveillance that applies only to the affairs of a public corporation, while farmers represent only personal investment and may be left to work out with much ignorance or intelligence as they choose to bring to bear the conduct of their own affairs."

Debt to Society.

"Farmers and planters," he continued, "also owe something to society in the way of intelligently conducting their business. They hold the means of production in their control. The public interest and the common good demand that they exercise the trust with intelligence, efficiency and thrift, quite as rightly as does public opinion demand efficiency and honesty in business administration."

NORTH DAKOTA IS GETTING SOAKING

Rain Delays Seeding But Will Prove Very Beneficial.

Fargo, N. D., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Two inches of rain have fallen all over North Dakota during the last twenty-four hours and it is continuing with no indications of stopping.

It is a gentle rain, practically all of it soaking in thoroughly. Barring the fact that seeding already is later than usual, and will be still further delayed, the rainfall is of immeasurable benefit to farmers of North Dakota. It is coming at a time when it will store moisture for present crops. Every county in the state has had rain in liberal quantities. The excess precipitations that falls will go to fill up lakes and sloughs and later will be beneficial in its evaporation.

The rain in the western and northern sections of the state turned into sleet this afternoon. Both telegraphic and telephonic communication is impossible in those sections. In some localities both wires and poles are reported down.

JAPANESE UNITE TO FOSTER FRIENDSHIP.

New York, April 28.—A new Japanese society, the Nippon-Jin-Kai, with headquarters in New York, has been launched to foster friendship and cooperation among the resident Japanese and strengthen the friendly ties between people of Japan and the United States. The organization also will aim to aid financially any Japanese who are ill or in other need.

PENNSYLVANIA STRIKE POSTPONED.

Altoona, Pa., April 28.—The strike of Pennsylvania railroad shopmen in this city, which was called by the Brotherhood of Federated Railroad Employes to take place today, has been postponed until Thursday at the request of Secretary Wilson of the department of labor.

The strike is being urged by labor leaders as a protest against alleged discrimination against union men when the recent reduction in force was made by the railroad company.

TREATY WITH SWITZERLAND.

Washington, April 28.—Secretary Bryan and Dr. Ritter, Swiss minister, have exchanged ratifications of a convention extending for another period of five years the arbitration treaty between the United States and Switzerland. This treaty provides for the arbitration at The Hague of all difficulties which do not affect the vital interests, independence or honor of the two countries, and which do not involve the interests of third parties.

TWO DULUTHIANS GIVEN PROMOTION

Supt. Brown Made Western General Superintendent—Strachan Comes Here.

Supt. A. V. Brown, of the Head of the Lakes division of the Northern Pacific railway, has just been promoted to the general superintendency of the western district of the road, the promotion to become effective May 1. He will succeed J. H. Rapelje of Livingstone, Mont., who has been promoted to the position of assistant general manager with headquarters at St. Paul. Mr. Brown's headquarters will be at Livingstone.

W. H. Strachan, formerly assistant at Duluth, and recently superintendent of the Dakota division of the road with headquarters at Jamestown, N. D., will succeed Mr. Brown. He arrived here this morning and is "on the job" today.

W. E. Berner, trainmaster at Livingstone, Mont., will succeed Mr. Strachan at Jamestown.

Supt. Brown took his position in Duluth in June 1912, coming here from Livingstone, where he was division superintendent. He is one of the best known railway men at the Head of the Lakes. In his new position he will have charge of 1,600 miles of the main line of the Northern Pacific extending from Mandan, N. D., to Paradise, Mont.

The new superintendent here, W. H. Strachan, is a former resident of Duluth, and his appointment to the superintendency here came to him as a complete surprise. He left Duluth for Jamestown, N. D., on April 25, 1912, to take the division superintendency there, and while in Duluth he was assistant superintendent under K. M. Nicoles, residing here three years.

Mr. Strachan came to Duluth last Friday to attend the spring ceremonial of Aad temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, he being a member of the local temple. When he awoke next morning he was presented with the news of his appointment to the superintendency here, just two years to a day from the time he left Duluth. He was started into the job that afternoon, but left immediately for Jamestown, where he remained cleaning up affairs until yesterday, returning to Duluth this morning.

MAHONEY VICTIM OF SENILE DEMENTIA.

New York, April 28.—That Michael P. Mahoney, the aged crank who wounded Corporation Counsel Frank L. Polk in an attempt to kill Mayor Mitchel, is suffering from senile dementia and was irresponsible at the time of the shooting, is declared by the commission appointed to inquire into his sanity.

FIERCE GALE SWEEPS LAKE

Bridges at Clarkson Docks Blown Down; Vessel Narrowly Escapes.

All Boats at Head of Lakes Held in Port By Storm.

The first severe storm of the season raged over Lake Superior last night and still continues in modified form. A 48-mile gale from the Northeast lashed the waters, causing high seas and putting a stop to all navigation at the Head of the Lakes. No vessels have dared to venture out of the harbor today. Two bridges of the Clarkson coal dock were blown down and the steamer Champlain from which a cargo of coal was being unloaded, was struck by the wrecked bridges and damaged. The steamer John Lambert, loaded with grain, ventured out for a down-lake trip at midnight, but returned for safety.

The Champlain had a narrow escape when the bridges gave way and sustained severe damage about the prow. The two bridges are 600 feet long and are of solid steel. Four more bridges are maintained by the Clarkson company so that work will be continued without delay. The steamer Champlain will continue to unload as soon as possible. The vessel is owned by the Northern Lake Steamship company of Cleveland, Ohio, and has a capacity of 5,494 gross tons and a 446-foot beam. She reached port here last Sunday.

According to the United States weather bureau the storm was felt over Lake Superior much more than farther down the lakes. The velocity of the wind here was 48 miles an hour; at Port Arthur, 28 miles, and 24 miles at Houghton, Mich. The wind blew at the rate of 35 to 40 miles an hour during the forenoon today. High winds are expected all through today and tonight with a gradual slacking up during the night.

Storm warnings were sent out to lake ports at 10 o'clock last night from Duluth to Ashland, and small craft warnings were sent out as early as 3 p. m. yesterday.

STEAMER BUFFALO STRANDED IN GALE

Held Half Way Between Round Island and Point Aux Pines.

Sault Ste. Maire, Mich., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—During the northeast gale which has been raging all morning the steamer Buffalo of the Western Transit company stranded about half way between Round Island and Point Aux Pines, on the Canadian side of the upper river. The Buffalo was the first of the Western Transit steamers downbound, loaded with flour. The tug Schenck left the Soo to assist her. The amount of damage is not known.

ORE CARGO LOADED.

Steamer Joseph Block Ready to Leave Duluth Port.

The first cargo of ore for this season has just been loaded at the Head of the Lakes. The Joseph Block of the Inland Steel company's Chicago fleet took on a load at the Great Northern's Allouez dock yesterday and will start immediately on a down-lake voyage. No vessels are scheduled to load at the Missabe dock until Monday. The steamer Harvester cleared for Ashland for ore late yesterday and the D. B. Meachem went to Two Harbors for ore.

Teach Your Child How to Be Healthy

Regular Bowel Movement From Infancy Insures Good Health In Later Years.

We cannot all start life with the advantages of money, but every child born is entitled to the heritage of good health. Through unfortunate ignorance or carelessness in the feeding of a baby its tiny stomach may become deranged. The disorder spreads to the bowels and before the mother realizes it the two chief organs on which the infant's comfort and health depend are causing it great suffering. If the condition is allowed to continue grave ailments often result.

There is, however, no occasion for alarm, and the sensible thing to do—but it should be done instantly—is to give the baby a small dose of a mild laxative-tonic. In the opinion of a great many people, among them such well-known persons as the parents of Bertha Lee Woodard, 3 years old, of Moultrie, Ga., the proper remedy is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Mrs. I. N. Woodard says that little Bertha was troubled with constipation for over a year, and that after trying several different kinds of remedies she found her relief in Syrup Pepsin. It is a mild, pleasant-tasting laxative, which every person likes, does not gripe nor cramp, and contains that most excellent of all digestants, pepsin.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is especially intended for infants, children, women, old people and all others to whom harsh cathartics, salt waters, pills, etc., are distressing. In fact, in the common disorders of life, such as constipation, liver trouble, indigestion, biliousness, headaches, and the various other disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels nothing is more suitable than this mild laxative-tonic, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Three generations of people are using it today, and thousands of families keep it constantly in the house, for every member of the family can use it. It can be obtained of any druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a bottle, the latter being the size bought by families who already know its value. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 419 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. A postal card with your name and address on it will do.

EXAMINING BOARDS TO CONTINUE

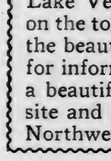
But Efficiency Commission Will Recommend That All Fees Collected Be Handled Through the State Treasury Instead of Privately.

St. Paul, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—About thirteen of these examining boards are wandering around in picturesque confusion.

They have one point in common—they all collect fees for issuing licenses. At that point similarity stops. Some of them turn in the money to the state treasury; some turn over to the state treasury after they have paid their own expenses; some of them turn the surplus over to the guilds which they represent. In some cases the examining body divides in its discretion the proceeds. And in others its per diem is fixed by law. In some cases the secretary has a stipend determined by the statute and in other cases by the generosity of the board.

All told it does not amount to much in money and none of it is a direct burden on the state treasury. All these boards, doctors, dentists, nurses, veterinarians, horseshoers, electricians, accountants, optometrists, osteopaths, and so forth, and so forth, derive their revenue from the craft or profession which they license. Usually it costs from $5 to $25 to "break in" and a dollar a year for renewals.

Now it is not a very serious matter for the state. It is in nearly every case, probably in every case, legislation that is asked by the board or profession concerned. Nevertheless the efficiency commission will recommend that where any license is issued in the name of the state, it shall be issued by a recognized department of the state.



The commission will also recommend that where any money is spent in the name of the state, no matter from what source drawn, it shall be handled through the state treasury.

That does not mean that these examining bodies will be discarded. It will be necessary, as now, to have physicians for medical examiners, osteopaths for examinations in osteopathy, electricians for examinations in electricity, and so on. There is no reason why the boards may not be constituted as now, but there is every reason why their operations should be transacted through the departments instead of at large, and why their fees should be handled through the treasury instead of privately.

ROUGH SCALY-LIKE BREAKING OUT

On Face and Hands. Kept in Misery. Itched So Couldn't Sleep. Almost Wild. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Entirely Well.

R. F. D. No. 2, Box 50, Highbee, Mo.—"Last winter I had a breaking out on my face and hands. It was rough, scaly-like and very red and just kept me in misery. My grandmother said it was tetter. My face and hands were just like they were chapped at first and they itched and I couldn't sleep at night. When I would put my hands in soap-suds or any kind of water it would almost make me wild they would burn and itch so badly.

"I found an advertisement of Cuticura Soap and Ointment in a magazine and I sent for a sample and bought some more Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I would use them every night before going to bed and before breakfast. I used them for three months and I was entirely well." (Signed) Miss Trixie Dennis, June 26, 1913.

Are your little ones suffering from itching, burning, eczemas, or other torturing, disfiguring skin troubles? Are you, yourself, worn out with long, sleepless nights and ceaseless anxiety in caring for them? Then you should know that a warm bath with Cuticura Soap and a gentle application of Cuticura Ointment will in most cases bring immediate relief, the little sufferers will sleep, tired, fretted mothers will rest and peace will fall on distracted households. Sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

☞Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

INDEPENDENCE CATASTROPHE

That Is Way Duluth Visitor Sees the Philippine Situation.

Believes It Would Create Conditions Like Those in Mexico.

"Give the Philippine islands their freedom and you will have another Mexico on this country's hands."

That is the way F. E. Muzzy sums up the situation in the Philippine islands. Mr. Muzzy, who is a prominent business man of Springfield, Mass., has just returned from a month's vacation spent in the islands. He has several friends in Duluth, among them E. W. How, T. T. Hudson, Alfred Jaques, and E. C. Keyes. He is a guest at the home of the latter.

"I have absolutely no business or political interests at stake," continued Mr. Muzzy, "so I believe I am an unprejudiced observer. I am not in politics in any way, and have no financial interests in the islands, but I know from personal observation that business is at a standstill there, because capital believes that the islands will be given their independence, and capital fears the result.

"I don't say it was a good policy to acquire the islands in the first place, but we have them now, and it is up to us to take care of them, and look out for their best interests.

Feeling Depression.

"Business men everywhere are complaining of conditions in the Philippines and even the insular government is feeling the brunt of depression. At Baguio, the summer capital, a number of government mules were advertised for sale. These mules had been purchased a short time before at $200 each, but with no construction being done, there was no present demand for them and the consensus of opinion was that they would not bring $75 each, $50 being the expected price.

"To me it seems almost a crime to agitate in the United States for independence for the Islands. A large majority of the Filipinos who are able to pass on the question of independence and 90 per cent of the business men do not want it. It is always said that the United States does not want colonies, but it has on its hands now 8,000,000 people whom it is in honor bound to protect as they are a dependent people and not one-tenth of them know what self government means. To turn them loose in the immediate future would mean a repetition of the present Mexican situation. Manila residents say this would please Japan for Japan would gladly seize the islands and, because of their wonderful undeveloped resources could float large quantities of bonds with which to replenish the depleted treasury.

Philippine Investors.

"Millions of dollars are waiting for investment in the Philippines if the country could be assured of a stable government for some time to come, but the investors realize that if independence is granted their capital will have no security. One large importer said to me that there were only two nationalities who had any reason to invest a dollar in the Philippines, the Englishman, because England protected her subjects, and the Spaniards because Spain had known the Philippines for 300 years.

"A Russian official who made the trip from Manila to Hongkong with me said he was astonished at the wonderful progress made in the Philippines during the past fifteen years under the control of the United States, but was even more astounded at the attitude of the United States congress and reports that come from the United States as to the future action of congress proposes to take regarding the Philippines.

"Giving the Filipinos their independence now is just as reasonable as it would have been to give the Indians all the territory West of the Mississippi and turn them adrift, say 200 years after our forefathers landed on Plymouth Rock. Or it would have been equally reasonable to give the negroes all the ruling power south of the Mason and Dixie line immediately after the Civil war. The Filipinos need today, not advice, but management and control such as has been given to them for the past fifteen years. On the whole they are satisfied with this and would continue to be so if not stirred up by political agitators whose only object is to gain political honors. In the United States few Filipinos are seen and most of those are of the educated class and are capable of self government, but what of the other 7,999,000?

Harrison's Policies.

"I did not hear any one speak of Governor Harrison personally but with respect, but his policies were universally condemned. In fact of the hundreds I talked with, only two or three favored his policies and all of these were political appointees subject to his dismissal. I am not talking from any personal interest as I am not interested in the Philippines either financially or politically, nor have I any relatives or intimate friends so interested. Neither do I pose as an authority on Philippine conditions but my stay there fully convinced me that the Philippine policy of the present administration is very bad for the Philippines."

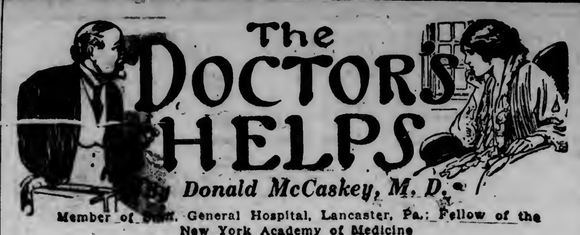
PLAN BEAUTIFUL TEMPLE OF BAHAI

Chicago, April 28.—Plans for building a temple of Bahai, which followers of the cult declare will be the most beautiful edifice in the world, were discussed at the opening session of the Bahai Temple Unity convention. More than 250 delegates were in attendance. Land for the proposed temple has been bought in a North Shore, Chicago, suburb.

"The Bahai movement," said Miss Jean Masson of the management committee, "is a world religion for the establishment of universal peace and brotherhood, the unification of religions and the equalization of the sexes. It includes all creeds and races."

FIX LIABILITIES AT $1,200,000

Gay & Sturgis Reported to Have Mass of Slow Assets.



Liabilities of Gay & Sturgis, the failed Boston stock exchange firm, are placed at aproximately $1,200,000, of which about one-half is due to twenty-one banks. All bank loans are said to be well secured by collateral, and it is estimated that if the securities are not forced upon the market, a surplus of $100,000 should be realized for the creditors from that source. In addition to that there will be available the proceeds from the sale of the firm's New York and Boston stock exchange seats which have a valuation of approximately $65,000.

The concern is reported to have a mass of slow assets in the way of stocks of mining and industrial properties in the South and West into which considerable money had been put during the last few years. The amount that may eventually be realized upon them is said to be an uncertain quantity.

EX-FIREMAN SAYS HE STARTED FIRES.

Peoria, Ill., April 28.—W. H. Foglesong, discharged member of the fire department, has confessed to Chief of Police Rhoades, to firing the cattle sheds of the Morris Cattle company last Monday afternoon, which caused a loss of $200,000 and resulted in 1,000 cattle being burned to death. The ex-fireman also admitted applying the torch to a feed shed of the Great Western distillery here two days before the Morris fire, according to Chief Rhodes.

Foglesong was discharged from the fire department two weks ago when it was discovered he had a mania for turning in false alarms. When he saw the fire at the Morris cattle sheds getting beyond control of his former comrades, Foglesong donned a rubber coat and helped to fight the flames.

HIS NASAL CATARRH CAUSES HIM TO CONSTANTLY HAWK.

Several inquiries have reached the editor of this paper for an article dictated by me describing the best method of obtaining relief for catarrh of the nose and throat. One writer says: "My catarrh causes me to be constantly hawking and spitting and blowing my nose."

Get your system thoroughly cleaned out once a week with a five-grain dose of powdered calomel taken every Friday or Saturday afternoon, say about 4 o'clock, and follow four hours later by a half a glassful of castor oil mixed up in syrup of sarsaparilla and soda water. Follow this treatment conscientiously once a week for the next eight or ten weeks. Live upon a fruit, vegetable and nut diet, and eat all you wish of the various preparations of wheat. Steer clear, however, of these corn breakfast foods until your system gets back into better condition again. This is the first essential.

You can cleanse your nose with all sorts of preparations—you can sniff up various nasal powders and spray solutions, many of which are loaded with cocaine. The benefits of these treatments are merely local and are confined simply to the nasal membrane. The real cause of nasal and throat catarrh lies deep within the system and is the result of an over-circulation of poison. The quickest way to get your system properly fixed up is to eliminate these poisons in a thorough manner, and likewise to avoid eating such foods—particularly rich, stimulating, meat and fatty foods—as create these poisons.

Just as soon as your nasal catarrh disappears, it is evident that your system is once again properly balanced. The subject has been previously described on several occasions. Procure, therefore, and study the former Doctor's Helps articles, "For a Dry Nasal Catarh," "This Nose Trouble Demands Thoroughness," "Your Noses and Throats Need Treatment." Secure a small syringe from your druggist and so long as your nose is filled with mucus, inject several syringefuls of warm water back through the nose until the water runs out of the throat. If, after a few week's treatment along the above lines and following the treatment as described in the previous mentioned articles, you do not become entirely cured you should by all means pick the best nose and throat physician in your community and follow his counsel in detail. I do not treat disease by mail. It is as idle to attempt such a procedure as it is impossible. The purpose of these articles are to suggest helpful methods to the readers of this newspaper.

NO LAXATIVE IS SO SAFE TO TAKE AND SO EFFICIENT AS CASTOR OIL.

"Would you please give me the name of a good laxative for general use in keeping the bowels moving regularly. Also I would be pleased to receive a prescription for a good stomach and blood purifier to be taken in the springtime."

The very best laxative I know for general use is castor oil. There are innumerable other laxatives on the market. Each one has its advocate. Early in my practice I used to utilize every one of them. Gradually, however, the very best laxative narrowed down to castor oil plus the use of strenuous persistence in its administration. It will likewise be the best blood purifier you can possibly obtain, and the sooner you get your blood purified the more rapidly will your system become toned up.

My advice to you would be once a week for the next eight or ten weeks to go into a drug store, say every Friday or Saturday night about 8 o'clock, and have the druggist fill a half glassful of castor oil. Then have the druggist add an ounce of pure syrup of sarsaparilla and put into the mixture some high-pressure soda water. This will destroy the taste of the stuff that you can swallow it down without the slightest squeamishness. Your letter has asked me some very direct questions and has said nothing of your age, your weight, your habits of diet, you methods of breathing and sleeping, but I hope the above reply is perfectly clear and answers your questions in detail.

FOR A PERSON WITH WEAK LUNGS.

"Is it better for a person with weak lungs, probably consumptive, to use a pillow at night or not? Would you kindly publish a good diet for a consumptive person? The latter is not in position financially to take any trips."

The best diet for a consumptive person is an out-of-door diet, i. e., LIVE OUT OF DOORS ENTIRELY. Sleep on the balcony or erect a small platform out of your bedroom window and sleep there, with your head out of doors. This will feed the blood with plenty of good bracing oxygen and will create an appetite for all the blood in sight. First, therefore, attain the invigoration of out-of-door living. Then eat everything your appetite thrives upon, such as meat, milk, eggs, cheese, bread, potatoes. To attempt merely to eat without living in the fresh out-of-doors is like putting the cart in front of the horse. It doesn't matter whether you use a pillow or not. The point is, be comfortable and get the out-of-door invigoration. This idea of everybody troubled with weak lungs running away to some distant climate is a good deal of a bugaboo. In a few selective instances it becomes necessary to live in a drier climate or in a climate of a higher altitude. But in the ordinary case, what the average consumptive needs is common-sense scientific treatment at home, with sleeping out-of-doors at night and living out-of-doors in the sun all day, occupied in some form of interesting activity that has interest and fun attached to it, for it is this sort of thing which creates a good appetite. Merely for a consumptive person to sit around with folded hands and a sallow face and to have eggs and milk pushed into them regularly is not what I consider common-sense treatment. Get some fun out of your daily life, no matter if there are lots of shadows around. I hope this has given you the suggestions your inquiry sought.

THINKS CARLO FIRED IN AIR

Prosecuting Attorney Does Not Dismiss Case Against Joseph Rich.

Coroner's Jury Found That Rich Shot in Self Defense.

Harry Faber White, assistant county attorney, who is representing the state in the preliminary examination today of Joseph Rich on a charge of murder in the second degree, introduced evidence in police court this morning in an effort to prove that Frank Carlo, the murdered man, fired in the air to keep Rich away and that he had no intention whatever of attacking the latter. At noon Judge Windom continued the hearing until 2 o'clock.

It had been expected, in view of the fact that the coroner's jury last week decided Rich killed his brother-in-law last Wednesday night in self-defense, that the state would ask for a dismissal of the second degree murder charge against Rich, whose examination was called this morning. Mr. White surprised the crowded courtroom and those interested in the case with testimony purporting to show that Carlo had fired in the air, while Rich was but two or three feet away from him and in direct range of a revolver, should he have cared to shoot at his brother-in-law.

Police Surgeon Murphy was the first witness called this morning. He testified that he saw Carlo just before the latter was taken to the hospital and also that the murdered man died about fifteen minutes after being brought to the institution. He said that Carlo never regained consciousness.

Tells of Duel.

Joseph Stringer, who with Miles T. Frink, was a witness of the argument between Carlo and Rich in the confectionery store belonging to the latter two at 511 West Michigan street and who saw the pistol duel between the two men, was the next witness called. He told how Carlo pulled his revolver following a few words between the two partners, and fired toward the front of the store. It was at this point that Mr. White attempted to show that Carlo, although standing across the counter in front of Rich, fired in the air and sideways to the front of the store.

Miles T. Frink, the other witness, was called next, but he had little opportunity to tell of the incidents leading up to the pistol duel and the final murder of Carlo, because of the adjournment of court until 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Mrs. Carlo, widow of the murdered man and her eight children, were all in court during the hearing this morning. An interested spectator was Baillie Thomas McMillan of Glasgow, who is in Duluth for two days, in company with Assessor Walker, on their trip around the country.

Baillie McMillan was much surprised at the procedure in a murder hearing in this country. In Glasgow, he said, a murderer is always bound over to a higher court and is never given a preliminary hearing. Another feature he commented on is the presence in the courtroom of all the witnesses. This is not allowed in Scotland, he said, for it tends to influence witnesses in giving their testimony.

Sues for Services.

In district court yesterday, Gustav A. Rakowsky started suit against the Sand & Gravel company to collect $1,250 which he claims is due him for services as foreman of his gravel pit in Carlton county last season. He claims that he was employed May 1, 1913 at a stated salary but that the company has not complied with the employment contract.

Five Vagrants Released.

Five vagrants were arrested last evening by Patrolmen Ricketts and Monahan, all pleading guilty to the charge of vagrancy in police court this morning. John Boardwell, 59, was fined $50 and costs or sixty days on the work farm, while Mike Bednar, 55; Peter Leschenko, 20; Harry Evans, 54, and John Kosket, 23, were each fined $10 and costs or thirty days on the farm. A stay was granted until tomorrow morning, in order that the men may leave the city and avoid going to the work farm.

Memorial Day Preparations.

Memorial day preparations will begin this evening and will be pushed from now on. The citizen's staff will meet at the Commercial club this evening to begin making arrangements. It is desired to begin early so that there will be no confusion when the day set apart in honor of the memory of the nation's heroes arrives.

Attempted Burglary.

A call was received from 1527 London road late last evening to the effect that some burglars were attempting to break into the house. Detective Irvine, Sergeant Roberg and Patrolman O. Olson were sent to investigate the report, but the men had left when they arrived.

Drove Family Out.

Elmer Bowman, 33 years old, early last evening drove his wife and child out of their house at 1602 Lake avenue north, they allege, and this morning he was arrested on a charge of drunkenness. He pleaded not guilty and his trial was set for 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. He was allowed to go on payment of $10 bail.

Looking for Imposter.

Chief Troyer received word yesterday from F. C. Jones of Kansas City, vice president of the Switchmen's Union of North America, to the effect that an imposter purporting to belong to the union, is going about the country soliciting for a souvenir. He asks that a careful watch be kept on the man and the police notified of his presence here, should he be operating in Duluth.

Clothes Stolen.

Edward Donahue reported to the police last evening that someone stole his suitcase, containing a suit of clothes, an overcoat and mackinaw, from his room at the Bethel yesterday.

Judge Here One Day.

Federal Judge Page Morris, who has been conducting court in the Twin Cities the last three weeks, will be in Duluth Thursday to hear several minor cases. He will arrive in the morning, returning again to the Twin Cities in the evening.

Too Ill to Appear.

The preliminary examination of Charles Patrick Lawler, who killed his sister-in-law, Mrs. Mary Lawler at the Astoria hotel on April 10, was this morning postponed for a third time. The prisoner attempted to kill himself following the murder of his sister-in-law and is still in a weakened condition and unable to appear for his hearing. The examination, which was set for 2 o'clock this afternoon, has been continued until 10 o'clock the morning of May 8.

Two More File.

Two candidates for legislative offices filed for the June primaries with County Auditor Odin Halden today. E. N. Nelson, president and manager of the E. N. Nelson Sash & Door company of this city, announced his candidacy for the office of representative in the Fifty-ninth district, and Samuel C. Scott of Hibbing filed for the office of representative from the Sixtieth district.

Desertion Is Charged.

Jennie Clish, 29, started suit in district court this morning against Oliver Clish, 33, asking that a decree of divorce be granted her on the grounds of desertion. They were married Sept. 9, 1905, at L'Anse, Mich., and he abandoned her during the month of April following, she alleges.

Repeat Minstrel Show.

The boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. will repeat its minstrel show this evening at the building, Sixth avenue east and Third street. A final rehearsal was held last evening and the minstrels are ready to give a good evening's entertainment. The performance will begin promptly at 8 o'clock. Pictures and a special gymnasium exercise will be added. The proceeds of the show will go towards buying camp equipment.

Lecture on Explosives.

Col. J. L. Taylor of New York will lecture in the assembly room of the Y. M. C. A. at 8 o'clock this evening on the regulations and the handling of high explosives. Col. Taylor is with the Federal bureau of explosives which has been working with the interstate commerce commission in securing legislation for the regulation of traffic in explosives and is said to be one of the best authorities on handling dynamite, nitro-glycerin and other high explosives. There will be no charge for the lecture.

Tobacco Habit Easily Conquered

WILL HAVE CAMP FOR INSTRUCTION

Federal Government Will Have Military School for Volunteers.

Agents of the Northwestern railroad have been informed of the fact that the United States government is going to form a military instruction camp at Ludington, Mich., and that from July 6 to Aug. 7, young men will be taken at the camp and put through a course of military training.

Whether the establishment of the camp has been inspired by the controversy with Mexico, the local officials of the Omaha office are not able to state, but plans for the establishment of the camp have been completed and a large number of young men between the ages of 18 to 30 years will be received there and put through the regular manual of arms and taught some of the arts of warfare.

A formal certificate will be issued by the government to each student who successfully completes the course, and his name will be kept on file by the war department for future reference.

DULUTH WOMAN IS AMONG REFUGEES

Miss Catherine T. Halley Reaches Vera Cruz From Mexico City.

Washington, April 18.—News of the arrival in Vera Cruz of twenty-six Americans and a large number of other foreigners from Mexico City has been communicated to the state department. The train flew German and English flags. Among the party were Catherine T. Halley of Duluth and F. H. Ahrens of Saginaw.

In advising that Frank de Canahl is still alive in Mexico City, Consul Canada states Americans are unharmed there and that conditions are reported as improving.

J. C. Miles and family are well in Vera Cruz.

From Vera Cruz the state department was informed that, according to reliable reports, James McDonald, manager of the Guanajuato Mining & Milling company, is detained under guard in the company's building. Other American employes of the company also held are:

Joseph McDonald, Jr., E. L. Whittemore, McKenzie, Mr. Burns and several others.

It is reliably reported that Frank Lehmer has remained in Santa Rosa, Tuxtepec. Consul Canada, in reporting this, adds that his arrest has not been reported.

Catherine T. Halley formerly lived in Duluth, having left this city about seven years ago for Mexico City, where she studied Spanish and later taught school. Her sisters, Jennie A. and Elizabeth T. Halley, who are employed at the Kelly-How-Thompson company, last evening received a dispatch from Miss Halley, stating she arrived safely at Vera Cruz yesterday afternoon from Mexico City. The Misses Halley live at 615 West Second street.

ACTIONS CALL FOR $70,000

Railway, Steamship and Lumber Companies Made Defendants.

Damages aggregating nearly $70,000 are asked in six personal injury actions which were filed today with the clerk of the district court in which railway, steamship and lumber companies are made defendants.

Gus Stankovich, 40, trackman employed on the right-of-way of the Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific railway in the West Duluth yards of the company, is suing MacKenzie-Mann & Co., Ltd., owners of the road, for $20,000 damages for injuries he received Oct. 4, 1912. He alleges that while he was at work loading timbers on a car, he was caught between the boom and the car and badly crushed. His chest, shoulders, neck, spine and skull were injured, he says.

Hugh Quigley wants $19,500 from the Douglas Steamship company for an accident which he alleges occurred Aug. 12, last, on the steamer G. A. Tomlinson and left him a life-long cripple.

Because his left hand and arm got caught in the rollers of a surfacing machine in the planing mill of the Scott-Graff Lumber company of this city July 8, 1913, and were severely crushed, Andrew G. Anderson wants the company to pay him $15,500 damages. Suit was filed today.

Fred Johnson asserts that he went to work for the Pigeon River Lumber company in one of its Cook county camps as a second cook and that after he arrived in camp he was told that he was not needed in the kitchen and was put to work skidding and driving logs. He says that eight days later a log dropped on him, breaking his right leg in two places. He is suing the company for $6,800 damages.

An automobile in which T. P. Corey and A. R. Folcom were riding was struck by a trolley car on a grade crossing at Buhl Dec. 21 last, demolishing the machine and badly shaking up the occupants. In district court today Corey, owner of the car, is suing the Mesaba Electric Railway company for $5,000 damages, of which $1,500 is for the car. Folsom is asking for $1,575.

FLASHLIGHT SIGNALS.

Indianapolis News: Flashlight railway signals are now in use on the Swedish state railways. The flashing lights for the home signals give sixty flashes to the minute and the duration of the light is one-tenth of a second, while that of darkness is nine-tenths. The distant flashing signals have eighty-five flashes to the minute and the duration is 0.1 second light and 0.6 second dark. After a year's trial at Liiejoholmen the station has been approved as satisfactory and the whole line between Stockholm and Saltskog is to be equipped.

ENDS INSPECTION OF ELEVATORS

Deputy Building Inspector Found Many Lifts Needing Repairs

Deputy Building Inspector Adolph Anderson has about completed his regular inspection of the passenger and freight elevators in the city.

Of the 250 or 260 lifts in the city a number were found to be in need of repairs. In one of the large office buildings the cables were found to be badly defective and it was closed until it was again safe. Others lacked proper safety devices and in all instances the owners or agents were given written notices to install them.

The officials in the office of the building inspector have noticed a decided change in their reception under the commission form of government as compared with the old. Those in charge of the buildings were pleasingly willing to comply with the suggestions made by the inspector and readily agreed in most instances to make the improvements as quickly as possible.

CITY PLUMS HANDED OUT

Newly Elected North Dakota Mayors Fill City Jobs.

Mayoralty Appointments Are Generally Confirmed By the Aldermen.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The organization of the municipal governments of several cities of the state for the next two years has been effected.

Under the North Dakota law, city appointments are made by the mayor, subject to the approval of the city councils. In several instances opposition has developed to the mayoralty appointments, notably in Beach, where a contest is being waged.

Lands All But One.

Mandan, N. D., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Only one split occurred in city appointments made by President H. L. Henke of the city commission, on street commissioner, in which the mayor lost, J. W. Erickson being appointed. Other appointees follow: City attorney, L. H. Connolly; city auditor, W. H. Seitz; city treasurer, Anton Olson; street commissioner, J. W. Erickson; city engineer, H. H. Harmon; city health officer, H. O. Altnow; special assessment commissioner, William Simpson.

Get Dickinson Plums.

Dickinson, N. D., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Alfred White, mayor, made the following appointments: Superintendent of waterworks, W. J. Littlehales; chief of police, P. B. Corbett; city attorney, H. A. Burgeson; city auditor, R. C. Hill; street commissioner, C. M. Dinsdale; health office, Dr. A. P. Natchway; assessor, Walter Sterland; city engineer, W. R. Veigel; member of assessment commission, G. A. Seneur.

Changes at Rugby.

Rugby, N. D., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Several changes in the official family of Rugby were made by Mayor Hans Bjornstad when he assumed office. His list follows: City attorney, A. E. Coger; city auditor, George Scotland; chief of police, Frank Richardson; superintendent of waterworks, N. Shabert; assessor, H. C. Hurd; health officer, Dr. E. O. Steeves; street commissioner, Frank Richardson.

At Park River.

Park River, N. D., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—S. A. Cameron, the new mayor, obtained unanimous confirmation of all appointments. These include the following: City auditor, F. J. Prochaska; city engineer, Karl J. Farup; city attorney, George W. Young; chief of police, Chris Schlenk.

Kenmare Jobs.

Kenmare, N. D., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mayor Roscoe Lewis reorganized the list of municipal officials on taking office, the following being his list of appointees: Auditor, Griffith; city attorney, A. W. Graw; city treasurer, George Trzcinski; chief of police, J. Kinser; street commissioner, E. Kinser.

Duluthian Receives Contract.

Rice Lake, Wis., April 28.—Rice Lake is to have its first street paving and free mail delivery this year. The city commissioners have let a contract with E. A. Dahl of Duluth, to put in four blocks of paving on Main street, using creosoted blocks, for a figure of something over $30,000.

A letter from First Assistant Postmaster General Roper conveys the information that free mail delivery will be inaugurated here on June 15, with three carriers.

MANY FARMERS BUILDING SILOS

Soil Tillers Around Williston, N. D., Turning Attention to Stock Feeding.

Williston, N. D., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—One representative of a silo company in Fargo secured orders for twenty-two silos here last week and this week and next expects to add that many more. This is the direct result of the recent trip of Williams county farmers through the dairy sections of Minnesota and Wisconsin. They purchased several hundred heads of thoroughbred cattle and have decided to go into dairying and beef cattle feeding. One of the first essentials was to have silos and the contracts are being let now so the silos will be constructed and ready to be filled with corn ensilage by fall.

North Dakota will probably put in at least 2,000 new silos this year and the indications are that Williams county will have its pro rata. The old idea of small farming is being entirely abandoned for diversified crops, alfalfa and livestock.

PILFERED ORDERS ARE TURNING UP

Efforts Made to Cash Stolen Couderay Postoffice Securities.

Couderay, Wis., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Postoffice money orders No. 3,300 to 3,400 inclusive, which were stolen from the postoffice here the night of March 28 are now being presented for payment in different parts of the country. The money orders are mostly made out for $100 payable to the Salvation Army and have been offered at offices at Omaha, Neb.; Council Bluffs, Iowa; Eau Claire, Duluth and Superior. It is not known if the Salvation Army advanced any money on the orders or not.

The burglars missed taking the money order stamp here and are doing expert work in filling in the rubber stamp with pen and red ink, showing the work to be that of professionals.

SUBMITTED TO COURT.

Question of Removing Dunn County, N. D., Commissioners Is Argued.

Manning, N. D., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The case involving the removal of the Dunn county commissioners has been submitted to Judge Crawford. A decision may not be reached before next week. The testimony apparently indicated some rather careless methods but nothing developed that seemed to show any intentional disregard for the legal formalities in the transaction of business. There is sufficient matter to justify a change in the methods of handling the county's affairs and the court criticized some of the things that had been done.

The commissioners claim the entire trouble arose over their decision not to provide for a new courthouse here to take the place of the one recently destroyed.

TWO POLICE CHIEFS.

Beach, N. D., Well Provided Because of Local Factional Fight.

Beach, N. D., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The local factional fight and municipal strife continues. Following the refusal of the council to confirm the appointees for chief of police, city auditor and city attorney as named by Mayor Brinton, the latter removed the former officials and installed his appointees. The former city attorney resigned but the old city auditor and the old chief continue and the city now has two county auditors and two chiefs. The vote against confirmation of the appointments was 5 to 1.

NORTH DAKOTAN IS TRAIN VICTIM.

Glen Ullin, N. D., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—While en route to the state of Washington to visit relatives, Charles Hansen, a young man of this section, was killed by a train at Livingston, Mont. He got off the train on which he was riding and stepped onto another track in front of an approaching engine and was crushed to death.

YOUTH'S ARREST CAUSES SURPRISE

Well Known Grand Marais Boy Charged With Stealing Drafts.

Grand Marais, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—A sensation resulted here from the arrest and holding to the grand jury a few days ago, of John B. Le Sage, a well-known and popular young man of the village who is accused by County Treasurer Jackson of the theft of a draft for $115.20 and others for similar amounts from the county treasurer's office last February. He was arrested at his mother's home and the affair created a mild sensation as the boy was born and reared here and stood well.

The accused left here for the East shortly after the drafts disappeared, last February and traveled extensively. While he was away the stolen drafts began to return, all it is claimed bearing the forged signature of the indorsement of Mr. Jackson. The latter became suspicious and started an investigation that resulted in the arrest of the accused.

HILL OFFERS $25,000.

Conditional Upon Grand Forks Wesley Raising $250,000.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Plans for raising $200,000 endowment for Wesley college here were discussed yesterday when the members of the board of directors of the Commercial club were guests of Dr. E. P. Robertson, president of the college.

Mr. Robertson announced a conditional offer of $25,000 from James J. Hill, the raising of the remainder of the $200,000 being required. An extension of time has been granted to cover the provision as to the balance of the fund.

The state Methodist conference has also given its support to the Wesley endowment fund, and stands behind the institution here before giving support to the proposed Methodist college at Bismarck.

CHALLENGES EDITOR.

North Dakota County Commissioner to Debate With His Critic.

Beulah, N. D., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Without a paper through which he could reply to the editorial strictures of the Stanton Republican County Commissioner Malcolm challenged Editor Schweigert to a debate. The latter accepted and the debate will be held at this place May 9. Various official acts of the commissioner have been ridiculed by the editor and a large attendance is expected at the debate.

GRAND MARAIS NOTES.

Grand Marais, Minn., April 28.—Peter Wanneho left last week for a visit to his old Norwegian home and other places in the old country. He expects to be in Christiania on May 17 for the centennial celebration. Mr. Wanneho will not return to Grand Marais until September. His neighbors on Good Harbor Hill gave him a rousing farewell reception at the town hall.

The Swedish ladies' aid will meet with Mrs. Samskar next Wednesday afternoon.

John L. Lundin, who has been seriously sick for several weeks, is improving.

The Norwegian ladies' aid will meet with Mrs. Andrew Larson next Thursday afternoon, April 30.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bramer returned home from a visit of several weeks with Mr. Bramer's parents in Pennsylvania.

BURY HASTINGS JUDGE.

Last Rites for William Hodgson, Prominent in Dakota County.

Hastings, Minn., April 28.—The funeral of Judge William Hodgson of the district court, who died Sunday, was held today under the auspices of the G. A. R. and Masons. He was born at Elizabeth, Joe Davies county, Illinois, May 29, 1847, and was twice married.

In politics he was a Republican and has served in various important positions, as county attorney of Dakota county for fourteen years, city attorney, mayor of Hastings, a member of the board of education, and commander of Peller Post, No. 89 G. A. R. He was also a member of Dakota lodge, No. 7, A. F. and A. M.

By his first marriage he leaves one son, Laurence C. Hodgson of St. Paul, and a grandson, Master Laurence K. Hodgson. By his second marriage he leaves a wife and three sons, Chester P. of Glasgow, Mont.; Raymond of Hastings, and Charles E. of Minneapolis. He also leaves a brother and sister, Joseph R. Hodgson and Mrs. Charles P. Phinney of Herman, Mich.

MUST CORRECT SCALES.

Food Commissioner Finds Deceptions in Calumet Weighing Machines.

Calumet, Mich., April 28.—Deputy Food and Dairy Commissioner John T. Rowe of Laurium, while visiting stores of this community the past three or four days, ascertained that in many of the stores and markets there are being used scales and weighing machines which are equipped with deceptive or fake computing cards. Mr. Rowe has ordered that these cards be removed or corrected at once or that the glass fronting them be painted over. The orders are imperative and must be obeyed immediately. Further violations of the law will mean prosecution for the offender.

Mr. Rowe says that the dealers have not been intentionally crooked in the use of these fake cards, but that the manufacturers of the scales seem to be at fault.

ALFALFA IS POPULAR.

Carload of Seed for Farmers Reaches Jamestown, N. D.

Jamestown, N. D., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The growth of the alfalfa movement in Stutsman county is shown by the shipment of a whole carload of alfalfa seed into Jamestown to be distributed among the farmers co-operating with the Stutsman Better Farming association. There were 28,816 pounds of seed in the shipment, valued at about $6,000.

Over three tons of this seed will be used in Stutsman county. The remainder will be distributed through Dickey, Adams, Cavalier, Barnes, La Moure, Driggs, Morton, Nelson, Ransom, Richland, Wells, Hettinger and Williams counties.

G. A. M. Anderson of the state experimental station, had charge of the big shipment, which is designed to put alfalfa growing in North Dakota on a firm basis.

SEEK RECKLESS HUNTER

For Firing Shot That Injured Woman Riding in Motor Car.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Armed with John Doe warrants, Grand Forks county officials are searching for a man who yesterday nearly killed Mrs. F. Kinsala of Gilby.

Mrs. Kinsala, driving in an automobile with her husband, suffered an injury to her back when a bullet, fired by a man standing at the side of the road as the car passed, pierced the seat of the machine. She did not suffer from the bullet itself, but the force of the wood being driven ahead of the leaden messenger has caused a serious injury to her spine.

THIEF RIVER HAS "DRY" CAMPAIGN ON.

Thief River Falls, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)— Sunday was the opening day of a big two weeks' temperance crusade in which the various churches of this city are united under the leadership of A. C. Rankin. The first meeting of the campaign was a large men's gathering held in the Zion Lutheran Free church in the afternoon. At 8 o'clock in the evening a mass meeting was held in the same building which was largely attended, crowds thronging the doors. One hundred people signed the total abstinence pledge at the evening meeting.

Ellendale, N. D., Chautauqua.

Ellendale, N. D., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—In connection with the state industrial and normal school of this place and the teachers' summer school for several counties to be conducted here, it has been decided to hold a chautauqua June 30 to July 4, in a large tent to be furnished by the managers of the affair.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Michigamme—Mrs. D. McMillan is seriously ill and was taken to St. Mary's hospital at Marquette Sunday afternoon. She is one of Michigamme's oldest residents.

Ishpeming—J. F. Olson, who has lived in Texas for the past two years, has returned to the city and will remain here permanently. His son-in-law, Ole Olson, is now residing in Texas.

Negaunee—Mrs. Cornelius Keating, 70 years old, a resident of Negaunee for the last half century, died April 2.. after an illness of two weeks. She is survived by two daughters, Anne and Eva of this city. Mrs. Keating's husband died about three months ago, and the death of the oldest son occurred slightly more than a year ago.

Iron Mountain—The Dickinson county commission has decided to expend considerable money this season in oiling the main roads. An order has been placed for the materials and such little machinery as will be needed, and County Engineer Carpenter expects to commence the work as soon as the weather becomes settled.

Houghton—The Copper country will be represented at the national forest products exhibition in Chicago this week. Lumbermen who have announced their intention to attend are J. C. Pryor of the Houghton Lumber company, W. H. Thielman and J. A. Williams of the Armstrong-Thielman Lumber company, E. A. Hamar, J. R. Ward and B. Simpson of the Worcester Lumber company, and J. H. Bice of the Greenwood Lumber company, Ontonagon.

Hancock—The honor students of the high school and subjects follow: Valedictorian, Maude Hill; salutatory, Elizabeth Opie; class prophecy, Loretta La Mora; class history, Genevieve O'Leary.

Calumet—Camp Petermann, Spanish war veterans, have elected the following officers: Commander, Lieut. Richard T. Pascoe; senior vice commander, James V. Willis; junior vice commander, Caesar Borgo; officer of the day, George J. Kemp; officer of the guard, Dr. J. D. MacKinnon; adjutant, William M. Lyon; treasurer, Capt. John Trevarrow; quartermaster, Capt. A. E. Hooper; surgeon, Dr. A. E. Roche; trustees, Frank J. Kohlhaas, Col. J. P. Peterman, and Major P. D. MacNaughton.

Hancock—Because of the large increase being made in the rock shipments of some of the mines served by the Mineral Range railroad, that road has put into commission an additional rock train.

Baltic—The remains of the late Patrick Moore arrived from Denver, Col., saturday and were taken to the home of Mrs. Matt Wiesen, a daughter of the deceased, where the funeral was held. John Moore of Superior, Wis., a son of the deceased, accompanied the remains from Denver.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Beaver Dam—The "lid was on" at Beaver Dam on Sunday, and the oldest inhabitant could not remember the time when it had been clamped on more tightly.

Milwaukee—The Walworth, one of the largest hotels in Whitewater, Wis., was purchased on Saturday by M. P. Fitzpatrick, owner of the Fitzpatrick hotel in Milwaukee. Mr. Fitzpatrick intends to remodel the building.

Ashland—Joseph E. Davies, United States commissioner of corporations, is here making final settlement of the estate of Col. John H. Knight. Mrs. Davies, a daughter of Col. Knight, is here with other heirs.

Sheboygan—Joseph Keil, 25 years old, who, when arrested three months ago for passing forged checks, confessed and said while in the penitentiary at Waupun he was going to learn bank burglary, pleaded guilty in circuit court before Judge Michael Kirwan and was sentenced to Waupun for one year.

Madison—Attorney General W. C. Owen advised District Attorney M. E. Munson of Prairie du Chien to prosecute a man for illegal voting who voted on a village when he boarded and slept in an adjoining town.

La Crosse—The body of William Borgman, a barber at Genoa, formerly of this city, was discovered Sunday morning in the Mississippi river, cast on some willows on a small sand bar opposite the John Gund Brewing company's plant in the south part of the city. The body was bloated to twice its ordinary size and appears to have been in the river for a month. Recognition was only possible by papers found in his pocket, by an artificial limb and by the color of the hair and shape of the nose.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Sentinel Butte, N. D.—As a result of being struck in the eye with a clod of earth Muarice Van Dewater may lose his sight. He was playing with some other boys when injured.

Mohall, N. D.—Henry Minder, a well known farmer near here, has been adjudged insane. He had a hallucination that he was a great potato buyer and constantly spoke of the various big deals that he had made and contemplated. His condition is such there is no possibility of recovery.

Hazelton, N. D.—Hazelton now has a fire department and S. E. Colby is the chief. The citizens some time ago contributed to a fund and secured some fire engines on trial.

Center, N. D.—There are now twenty-eight members of the new Commercial club and the contest between the two committees continues until May 15, when the one securing the largest number of members will be banqueted by the losing committee.

Beach, N. D.—Beach's bitter factional contest, in the recent election has not yet subsided, as is evidenced by the arrest of Joseph Piesik, charged with illegal voting. He is the third to be arrested on such charge, and was bound over to the district court for trial.

Minot, N. D.—The rock pile for violators of the auto speed laws of the city and state is the promise of President Rudd of the Minot city commission, who believes such severe punishment the only remedy for wild driving of autos.

Sentinel Butte, N. D.—Merrit Paddock, who is employed at the A. L. Martin ranch, near here was thrown from a horse, striking in a barbed wire fence. His leg was badly cut and he was found in an unconscious condition some time after the accident, by O. F. F. Kendall, who chanced to be driving that way.

Minot, N. D.—W. G. Smith, charged with bootlegging, was bound over to the county court by Police Magistrate John Lynch. Willard La Cont, charged with the same offense, will come before the court for hearing this afternoon.

Grand Forks, N. D.—George Stinson, brother of Leslie Stinson of this city died on April 12 at Buenos Aires, South America, where he was the resident representative of the Rumeley company, with which concern he had been identified for a number of years.

Valley City, N. D.—A. A. Booth left Sunday evening for Duluth, where he will meet Mrs. Booth, now visiting at Hibbing, Minn., and they will then go on to points in Wisconsin for a visit. Mr. Booth has resigned as manager of the Nester farm.

Devils Lake, N. D.—Rubin H. and Edwin Haase have sold to the Devils Lake State bank 776 acres of land situated in Dry Lake and DeGroat townships.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Brainerd—This noon Miss Cecilia Herbert, daughter of Dick Herbert, left for Mexico and will join the Red Cross nurses. Dick Herbert has a son at the front now who is paymaster on the Virginia.

Crookston—Knute Aker, a prominent farmer residing near Neilsville, announces that he will again run for the state legislature. Mr. Aker was the representative a few years ago. Mr. Aker will file within a few days.

International Falls—James Sedore has filed as a candidate for the office of sheriff. It is the first filing made in the county for an office other than that of county commissioner.

St. Cloud—The contract for the new high school for the Cathedral parish has been awarded to A. G. and Edward M. Wahl for $47,725, they being the lowest of three bidders on the work.

Stillwater—An action has been commenced in the local district court by Henry Biersdorff of Fergus Falls against Emma E. Hill of this city. Mr. Biersdorff demands $10,000 as damages for the alleged enticing from her home last year of his wife and young child.

Sauk Center—Five boys, John and William Simmers, George and Harry Dalzell and Ben. Carpenter, appeared before Justice Cary Diehl and paid fines of $10 and costs each for raising a disturbance at a dance in Padua. The five young men were brought into the court on separate complaints.

St. Cloud—Phillip Richter appeared before Judge Nye in district court and was sentenced to the reformatory. Richter had been arrested on complaint of his wife, who stated that he had been drinking excessively and keeping late hours.

Rochester—The new First Baptist church of this city was formally dedicated yesterday, Dr. John Earl, president of the Baptist college at Des Moines preaching the dedicatory sermon Sunday afternoon before a packed house. At the close of the service, over $5,000 was subscribed, which practically frees the church costing $46,000.

Red Wing—Aaron Mallin, 21 years old, a resident of this city, fell off an east bound passenger train and was instantly killed. The young man was employed at factory E. of the Red Wing Stoneware company. He leaves his mother, Mrs. Peter Conklin and a half brother, Richard Fritz of this city.

Mankato—Two young women of this city, Misses Wingen and Hager, and one from Le Sueur are in a hospital, the former with a fractured skull as the result of a collision Sunday night on the St. Peter road between an automobile driven by H. G. Allyn and a buggy driven by George Voss of Le Sueur.

Mora—A preliminary declamatory contest was held at the school house Friday evening for the purpose of selecting two speakers to represent the high school at the final contest, on May 23, when the field meet will be held here. Edward Ahlquist and Helen Anderson are the representatives chosen.

Have A Case Sent Home

IT'S a mighty fine thing to have a case of beer in your cellar. It provides for an ever-ready beverage for meals, lunches, etc. or for mere refreshment of the most healthful kind.

Fitger's Beer

is particularly well adapted for the home on account of its purity and extra healthfulness. If you could spare the time to be shown through the brewery and bottling house you would understand why it is so good. Physicians recommend it as a tonic and builder of good, rich blood. For convalescents and nursing mothers it is the ideal liquid food.

THE CHARM OF MOTHERHOOD

Enhanced By Perfect Physical Health.

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

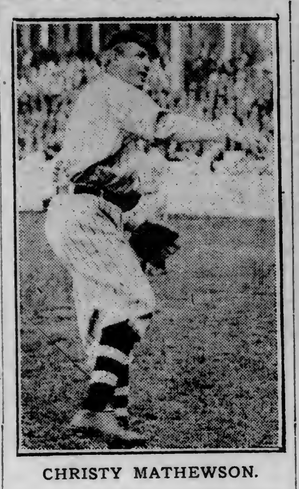
MANAGERS SLOW IN COMING IN

Duluth Amateur Baseball Association Meeting Is Fruitless.



Aside from a general discussion of the situation there was little accomplished at the meeting of the Duluth baseball managers who are contemplating coming into the Duluth Amateur Baseball association, which was held last evening at the Kelley Hardware store.

There will be another meeting on Friday evening when it has been promised that there will be a definite answer given by a number of team managers whose teams will make up the Class B, in the event that they decide to come into the league.

It is also understood that there will be a number of grade school teams in the league, and it is further stated that the commercial league teams are coming under the auspices of the Duluth Amateur Baseball association, playing as one of the divisions of the association.

The fastest teams of the city are desired to make up the Class A division. All of the teams of the association will play for the championship of the city and the winner of that title will be sent to St. Paul to contest with the winner of the city title down there. The winner of that contest will have earned the right to go to the large city where the national amateur championship games are to be played.

THE OLD MASTER IS IN PRIME SHAPE

CHRISTY MATHEWSON.

Big Iowa Swede Diligently Training for Bout With Cutler.

Des Moines, Iowa, April 28.—Jess Westergaard is already in prime condition for the coming encounter with Charles Cutler of Chicago that will decide the heavyweight wrestling championship of the United States.

The big Iowa Swede is back in the remarkable shape that marked his wrestling before the contest with Zbyszko. Before tackling Cutler in the contest that has been agitated for the last three years, Westergaard will be opposed by Yussiff Hussane, the gigantic Bulgarian who has been under the tutelage of Farmer Burns for the last year. This contest will be wrestled at Omaha and will prove the largest mat attraction staged in the Nebraska metropolis in years.

Westergaard is doing road and inside work in preparation for the contest with Cutler. It is probable that the winner of the Cutler-Westergaard match will get a chance at Stanilaus Zbyszko before the big Pole leaves the United States for good, so that the match means more than the purse to the winner.

Of all the American wrestlers Cutler and Westergaard take the highest rank, with the exception of Americus of Baltimore. Cutler's quick and decisive defeat of Fristensky, the sensational defeat of Fred Beell by Americus, and the defeat of some twenty-eight opponents this season by Westergaard, who has not lost a single fall this year, and his remarkable showing against Zbyszko, stamp these three men as the contenders most worthy of consideration for the American championship.

For the contest with Cutler, Westergaard will weigh around 222 pounds and it is expected, according to the reports from Chicago, that Cutler will step into the ring weighing about seven or eight pounds more than the Iowa Swede.

In addition to the chance of meeting Zbyszko the winner will probably be challenged by Americus.

PREMATURE

The Duluth News Tribune baseball team this morning issued a challenge to The Herald ball tossers, who have held the newspaper championship of the city for eleven years.

The challenge fails to state whether the morning paper team wants to play indoor or outdoor ball. The Herald ball tossers expected to stultify themselves between June 15 and June 30, the regular time, by playing the morning paper, but refuse to risk their salary wings playing water polo, hockey or indulging in a swimming match at this season of the year.

HOPPE AND DEMAREST IN FINAL OF TOURNEY.

New York, April 28.—Willie Hoppe of this city, the world's champion 18.2 and 18.1 balk line billiardist, and Calvin Demarest of Chicago meet here today in a 400-point match to decide the world's championship at 14.1 balk line play.

These players by winning last night their respective games from George Sutton of Chicago and Oro Morningstar of Pittsburg have clean scores of victories each in the tournament which has been in progress for the last eight days.

BOWLING TOURNEY OVER.

Genesee Team of Rochester Wins Championship at Atlantic City.

Atlantic City, N. J., April 28.—The Genesee team of Rochester, N. Y., was formally declared the winner of the five-man championship for 1914 at the close of play in that set at the National Bowling association meeting last night. At the same time the Rochester bowlers established a new world's tournament record with their aggregate of 3,035. Both individual and two-man scores were low in today's bowling, making no changes in the standing of the leaders.

The final standing of the ten five-men leaders was:

Genesee, Rochester, 3,035; Atlantic Reds, Brooklyn, 2,957; Lennox, Paterson, 2,909; Roseville A. A., Newark, 2,899; Melrose, New York, 2,853; Park Row No. 1, New York, 2,852; Subways, Brooklyn, 2,836; Welderman Brew, Cleveland, 2,816; Elizabeth Reds, Elizabeth, 2,805; Broadway Palace, New York, 2,805.

DOOKS DROP SECOND GAME

Oshkosh Wins From the White Sox By 7 to 2 Score.

O'Brien Uses Three Twirlers in Effort to Stop Opponents.

Oshkosh, Wis., April 28.—The Duluth White Sox were beaten in the second game of the spring series here yesterday by the score of 7 to 2. The champions of the W.-I. league had their batting clothes on and the visiting twirlers were treated to a touch of high life.

Doc Stanley started on the firing line for the visitors, the locals getting to him for three runs in the third. Schrenck took the mound in the sixth, but was unable to find the pan and Leahy was trotted to the mound.

During the remainder of the game the last of the trio of visiting twirlers allowed but one hit and appeared to be in grand form.

Durham and Tracey continued the heavy hitting for the locals, the former getting another homer and leading the attack with the bludgeon.

Hi Brackett brought in the first White Sox score in the first inning. The speedy outfielder walked, advanced on two infield outs and scored when Jerry Phillips hit cleanly to the outfield.

The second and final run of the visitors was scored in the third, when Commander O'Brien doubled and was brought home by Wolfe's smoking double down the first base line.

O'Brien contributed one of the features of the game by his hitting, and the superb fielding of Shortstop Wolfe was also one of the features of the contest. Score: R. H. E.

HARD TASK CONFRONTS ROWING COACH TEN EYCK

Veteran Material Is Very Scarce at the Boat Club.

Lack of Starboard Men Will Necessitate Shifting Candidates.

BY BRUCE.

James E. Ten Eyck, constructor of national-winning rowing crews, is up against one of the most titanic tasks of his career.

Of the nine senior sweep men that are left from last year, but two are starboard men. This means that in moulding a senior eight it will be necessary for Jim to change some of the men over from port to starboard, and when a man has rowed for several seasons on the starboard side it is difficult and awkward to change to the other side.

Out of the regular sixteen seniors that were on hand last season, counting the winning junior eight, there are just eight of the regulars left counting Osman, who will not be here until the first of July.

Of the senior boat of last season Quimby and Beschenbossel are the only oarsmen left to the club. Of the junior crew of last season, the national championship intermediate and senior championship eight, two of the men are gone. Thorburn, Kent, Morrison, Grant, McNarry and Mahan are lost to the club, and their loss will be sorely felt in the development of crews to sustain the wonderful record made last year by the crews that swept the Mississippi at St. Paul and then went down to Boston and defeated the class of the country on the historic Charles river.

"Of the men left you may say that they are crazy to row and that their hearts are in the game," said Ten Eyck today. "We have a hard task before us. It will be necessary for me to change Seschenbossel and Hoover to starboard, and it will also be necessary to row the members of the national champion senior four in the eight. I am not at all discouraged; it means that we will have to work all the harder—but we will have a grand eight, just the same."

Junior Material Good.

In the junior boat there are Williams, 175 pounds; Hargraves, 160; Whiteside, 160; Moyer, 160; Wall, 160; Molean, 175, and Catherall, 152, in addition to some of the bantam material of last year.

Summarizing the rowing situation it will be found that just at the present time the best bets appear to be the senior four, which is classed as one of the greatest crews in the world, and the bantam four of last year which will naturally compete as the junior four of the present season.

Of the bantam four Williams is lost. Von Draeck, the stroke of last year, is not out as yet, but Jimmy holds the bright and shining hope that this lad will be back before the season is much older.

Arneson, who started early last season, but was compelled to drop out, is rowing with the junior four, as is Stanley, stroke of the lapstreak four of last year. These men with Sperry and Forrestal, both members of the winning bantam crew, are at the present time rowing as the junior four.

"Our bantam four of last year was one of the best crews ever developed in the Northwest," said Ten Eyck, "and it would be a pity to have it broken up before we tried it out as a junior crew. We have the material here for a corking fast four, and with experienced material rather scarce, we sure need all of these boys."

This is the situation in a nutshell—and, believe us, it is one of those hard Ohio nut shells, extremely difficult to crack. But James E. Ten Eyck is the lad to solve the rowing difficulties. He is not in the least discouraged, not the least bit disheartened. James will make the most of his material—that goes without saying; and it goes without undue gossip that Duluth, the center of national rowing, in view of the remarkable victories of last season, will make a grand showing at Philadelphia this year.

Of the old man back Beschenbossel, Quimby, Horak, D. Moore, P. Moore, Rheinberger, Hoover, Osman—he will be back—Jim knows their worth well. These men made up the national championship crews, and they have been through the fire of competition. Out of this senior material the coach will endeavor to develop a national champion eight and four, and out of the junior material he will diligently endeavor to develop other winning crews—but it is going to be some task.

WRESTLERS ARE READY TO MEET

Crack Amateurs Will Contest for the Y. M. C. A. Title.

The preliminary events of the Y. M. C. A. wrestling tournament will be run off this evening at the big association gymnasium. The hammerlock and strangle holds will be barred. Falls must be gained in fifteen minutes of wrestling. If no fall is made in that time the bout will continue to the time limit of thirty minutes. Some of the best amateurs of this section of the state are entered for the tournament. The prizes will be silver watch fob medals, and as the class of the tournament is higher than ever before, there will be some very high grade grappling to decide the winners. The finals of the tournament will be held tomorrow evening. Following is the list of entrants:

125-pound class—Frank Martin, Two Harbors.

135-pound class—Maske, Runska, Mccurdy, Two Harbors; C. Hartley, Leo Deutche, West Duluth.

145-pound class—Niemi, Oakes, Mononen.

158-pound class—Wilhelmson, Halberstad, Woollen, Two Harbors; Pfau, Hesdahl.

Light heavyweight—A. Anderson, Myer Nelson, Nyberg, Bethune.

Heavyweight—William Kivi, Larson, Christenson.

American Horse Wins.

Paris, France, April 28.—Mont d'Or, owned by Joseph E. Widener of Philadelphia, yesterday won the Prix des Peupliers at the Saint Cloud races.

ST. LOUIS SUPPLY DEPOT FOR ARMY.

St. Louis, Mo., April 28.—St. Louis has been designated by the war department as a general field supply depot, and from this point will be replenished the stores of supplies at the depots at San Antonio, El Paso, Galveston and Vera Cruz.

News of this designation was received in a telegram by Lieut. Col. L. I. Stanley, in charge of the quartermaster's depot here. By the terms of the order, quartermasters' depots are established at Philadelphia, Chicago and New York, and purchasing depots at Kansas City and New Orleans.

Maj. R. G. Paxton of the quartermaster's department, who arrived here from Washington yesterday to purchase horses and mules, said the army is short 3,000 horses and 1,000 mules of the number required for the full peace quota.

The St. Louis depot is shipping South 30,000 pounds of hardtack daily, and biscuit factories in this vicinity are filling orders for 310,000 pounds.

TRIES TO WALK PIER ON A WAGER AND IS DROWNED

Unknown Man Swept Into Canal By Huge Breaker.

Declaring that the monster waves washing over the piers in the ship canal had no terrors for him, a man known as "Stans" made a wager with a companion that he could walk along the north pier to the end, and a few minutes after starting from underneath the aerial bridge, at 10 o'clock today, a wave washed him off his feet and hurled him into the seething water of the canal. All efforts to find his body have failed, the life saving crew being compelled to give up the task after laboring for nearly an hour in the waves.

Nothing is known about the dead man, except that his name is "Stans." Several persons who gathered about the north end of the bridge say that a strange man told them he had made a bet with "Stans," that he would be afraid to walk to the end. The stranger disappeared after telling his story and the police have been unable to locate him so as to learn the identity of the drowned man.

Persons on the aerial bridge were the first to see "Stans" attempt to walk along the pier and they curiously watched him hide behind the electric standards whenever large waves would dash up the side of the pier. He would run from one standard to the other and then, waiting for an opportunity when the waters were low, he would make another attempt for a standard. In this way he hoped to reach the end of the pier.

When about a quarter of the way out, the man could be seen waiting behind an electric standard. Suddenly he dashed forward, but this time he misjudged and a large wave crashing up the side of the pier, carried him off his feet and threw him into the canal. The man disappeared in an instant and was never seen again.

An employe of the aerial bridge telephoned police headquarters and then notified the life saving crew. Detective Schulte and Patrolman Wanvick rushed to the scene of the drowning in the police ambulance, but they were unable to even see the body. The life saving crew arrived a few minutes later and after searching in the waters for nearly an hour, were compelled to give up their hunt.

Persons on the aerial bridge said that the man appeared to be middle aged.

NEW AUTO TAX IS EFFECTIVE IN JUNE

Some Owners May Save Money By Paying in May.

Here is a way for auto owners to save money on taxes.

If the new rates of the revised wheelage tax ordinance raise the charge against your vehicle, you can save money by paying promptly after May 1, or if they provide for a reduction, wait until June to take advantage of it.

The new ordinance was passed yesterday afternoon at the regular meeting of the city commission, but under the charter, ordinances must lay over thirty days after their passage and publication before they become effective. As the official proceedings will not be printed until tomorrow, the measure will not be in force for another month.

In the meantime the old ordinance continues in effect. The wheelage tax licenses expire April 30 under the old as well as the new ordinance, so that those who wish can renew them May 1 or afterwards. The council will allow a reasonable time for owners to comply with the regulations, probably a month. After that time all vehicles in the city will be checked and warrants will be sworn out for the arrest of the delinquents.

The rate for one-horse and two-horse vehicles remains at $3 and $6 respectively. The three-horse charge is raised from $6 to $12, motorcycles from $3 to $5, and the tax for electric automobiles is fixed at $10 a year. Under the old ordinance the electrics paid $2 to $3, the charge being based upon their horse-power. Other automobiles remain at 50 cents per horse-power.

The only reduction is in the large trucks. These have been charged $10 per ton capacity. Under the new measure trucks of one-horse or less are charged $10, while those of more than one ton are assessed $7 per ton capacity. Therefore the only persons who would profit by waiting until June would be owners of large trucks, while some of the others would make money by paying promptly.

MURDER CHARGE IS DISMISSED

Accusation Against Three Copper Country Mine Guards Dropped.

Houghton, Mich., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The murder charge against Harry L. Nellis, William Grimes and H. K. Kelly of Chicago, former guards at the mines during the copper mine workers' strike, was dismissed today by Justice Little.

The men were arrested on April 14, in connection with the murder of Harry and Arthur Jane and Thomas Dally, non-union mine workers at Painesdale on Dec. 7 last. Union men had charged that the men were shot by imported guards in order to intensify feeling against the strikers, thus insuring their jobs.

Nellis, Grimes and Kelly were arrested on warrants sworn out by Prosecuting Attorney Lucas on information alleged to have been furnished by a discharged guard.

MINING LITIGATION IS BEFORE COURT.

Judge Dancer this morning received evidence in the Dow-Brennan litigation which has been pending before the court for several months. The litigation involves a dispute between the fee owners of a mining property on the Vermilion range. Certain of the owners, among them John Brennan, a Superior attorney, are seeking a partition or sale of the property and others, including John B. Dow of St. Paul, are attempting to start proceedings to force further development of the property.

The court last July received evidence in the suit brought by Brennan faction against the Dow faction to compel a sale or partition of the property. Today, another phase of the same litigation is being heard in the case of the Dow faction against the Brennan faction in which development of the property is sought. The plaintiffs in this case are proceeding under Chapter 177, laws of 1907 which provides for the opening and operating of a mine by making application to the district court.

Judge Dancer indicated last July that he would hear both cases before deciding either.

FORMER DULUTHIAN DIES IN CANADA

Remains of George W. Boden, Former Conductor, Coming Saturday.

George W. Boden, former conductor on the Omaha railroad and well known in Duluth, died Friday at Calgary, Can. The body will leave there tomorrow and arrive in Duluth on Saturday.

Mr. Boden was employed recently on the Canadian Northern railroad as conductor. He left here two years ago with his family for Los Angeles, Cal., following the death of two of his sons. He is survived by a widow, one son and daughter.

Mr. Boden was a member of the Order of Railroad Conductors and a member of the Shriners. He resided in Duluth for several years during the time he was employed on the Omaha railroad. The funeral arrangements will be made under the auspices of the Masonic order.

HEAVY CLAIMS AGAINST ESTATE

In probate court today the claims against the estate of the late John McAlpine have been under consideration. They will amount in the aggregate, to between $400,000 and $500,000. The largest is held by the Detroit Trust company of Detroit, Mich., amounting to $150,000 in the shape of a mortgage against California lands belonging to the deceased. The First National Bank of Duluth claims $105,000 in a total of thirteen claims; the C. F. Coleman Lumber company of La Crosse, Wis., claims $95,000; an Eau Claire bank claims $40,000; and the City National Bank of Duluth claims $20,000.

DRAWING JURY IN MURDER CASE

Little difficulty is being experienced in the selection of a jury to try Abraham Haddad for the murder of George Gazarie. The case was called for trial before Judge Bert Fesler this morning and before the noon adjournment was taken eight of the twelve jurors had been selected. They were S. W. Clark, Edward Erickson, D. S. McKay, N. J. Smith, E. J. Fitzgerald, R. O. Hambly, A. J. Meldahl and E. E. Clemons.

Haddad shot and killed Gazarie in a street duel on Garfield avenue on the night of Oct. 12, 1913. The shooting is not denied by Haddad, who is standing trial on a plea of self-defense.

Good Year for Vaudeville.

George E. Raymond, representative of the Orpheum circuit of theaters in this part of the Northwest, and manager of the Minneapolis theater, is in Duluth today the guest of Manager Billings of the local theater.

"The circuit is just closing a big year," said Mr. Raymond. "The Duluth theater has made a good showing and has a comfortable balance on the right side of the ledger."

TOOK IT GOOD-NATUREDLY.

Los Angeles Times: Four-year-old Tom was expressing his sorrow and anger at the act of a neighbor who had drowned four "beautiful little kittens." "She might have given them to me," said the boy. "Never mind, Tom," said grandfather, "we have lovely kittens of our own. We have a nice little boy kitten—"

"That's me," said Tom, proudly.

"And a lovely little girl kitten—"

"That's sister Ella," said Tom, pointing his spoon at his sister.

"And the dearest old cat in California—"

"That's grandma," said the youth exultantly.

Grandma glowered for a second of time, and then she burst out laughing.

BRAN AS FOOD.

Indianapolis News: A well known authority of dietetics has recently taken to urging his patients to indulge in quantities of wheat bran, which, he says, is one of the best regulators and builders in the whole list of foods. It is a mistake for persons to turn up their noses at bran as an article of food because it is cheap. If it were put up in fancy boxes and marked up in price to a point where it would be regarded as more or less of a luxury there would be a great deal more of it consumed, for it has a number of health-giving qualities which recommend it to all ages and conditions.

The present rate of timber cutting in this country is three times that of the growth.

NEPTUNE'S PET WILL SWIM ENGLISH CHANNEL

HAZEL BESS LANGENOUR.

Hazel Bess Langenour is, according to Pacific coast authorities, the pet girl of Father Neptune. She is a graduate of the University of California and has always been devoted to athletics. She is only 23 and in the prime of her strength as a swimmer. Last year she swam across the Golden Gate at San Francisco, being the first woman to accomplish this feat. Now she has a bigger job in hand. She is going to try to swim the English channel. She will sail for England June 15 and will begin immediately to train for her long swim. Lily Smith, an English swimmer, will attempt the channel swim some time during the summer.

THE AMERICAN-JAPANESE PROBLEM

New Immigration Policy Suggested for the United States—Equal Treatment for All Nations—"Yellow Peril" Avoided.

By SIDNEY L. GULICK,
Professor in Doshisha University and Lecturer in Imperial University, Kyoto.

(Prof. Gulick proposes a new and interesting solution for the Asiatic problem, based on twenty-six years' observation in Japan and close contact with Japanese leaders. His suggestion has already been laid before the senate committee on immigration and naturalization, and it has also been put in the hands of President Wilson and Viscount Chinda, ambassador from Japan, at their request.)

(Exclusive Service the Survey Press Bureau.)

The relations between the East and West have given rise to an ominous world situation. Races and civilizations, for ages self-sufficient, proud, ambitious, determined, are now face to face.

The Yellow Peril.

"Asia is a sleeping giant," said Napoleon, "let her sleep, for when she wakens she will shake the world." Asia is awaking. She is mastering Western science and arming herself with Western bayones and battleships. When fully awake, armed, equipped and united, what will be her attitude toward Christendom? At the point of the bayonet will she demand open doors for her emigrants, equal treatment with the "most favored nations?" Will she contest the present supremacy of the white race? This is the military "yellow peril" which many are now foretelling.

But the white man's economic supremacy is also threatened, say the prophets. When Asia masters our science and develops her own industrial system on Western lines, she will not only manufacture her own wares, but ours also, at prices with which we cannot compete. Our trade will be lost, our entire industrial system ruined, our working classes reduced to starvation. In a word, the teeming millions of Asia will pull Christendom down to her own level.

The White Peril.

Asia looks on the other side of the shield. She sees how the white race has for 400 years been sweeping over the earth, ruthlessly destroying the peoples, seizing their lands, exploiting their wealth.

To escape the white peril Japan shut up her land for 250 years. No longer able to keep out the white man she has adopted a new policy with which to meet the white peril; namely, mastery of the white man's knowledge and acquisition of his power.

The white peril in the Orient has been, not only military and economic; it is profoundly modifying their entire civilizations and changing even their moral and religious life. To cope with the white man Japan has had to undergo complete reorganization painful as well as humiliating. China is now starting on the same process.

With growing populations, Japan and China find that the white races have seized vast undeveloped territories and are holding them for exclusive white ownership and uses.

National consciousness and ambitions are arising among the peoples of Asia. They are discovering that the West treats all Asiatics as inferiors, as undesirable, thus overriding their national dignity and self-respect as well as solemn treaties. This causes indignation and solidarity of Asiatic consciousness against the white man.

Japan's feeling is typically expressed by Prof. Nagai in his recent article on the "white peril." "If one race assumes the right to appropriate all the wealth, why should not the other races fell ill-used and protest? If the yellow races are oppressed by the white races and have to revolt to avoid congestion and maintain existence, whose fault is it but the aggressor's? If the white races truly love peace and wish to deserve the name of Christian nations they will practice what they preach and will soon restore to us the rights so long withheld. We appeal to the white races to put aside their race prejudice and meet us on equal terms in brotherly co-operation."

Evil Consequences of Race Antipathy.

This growing race antipathy threatens tragic results; vast but needless preparations on both sides for military defense. It prevents trade and mutual exchange of the best treasures of the East and West. How, on a basis of mutual suspicion, hatred and enmity, can we hope to raise Asia to our economic and moral level? Unless we raise Asia to our level she will eventually pull us down to hers.

The widely advocated policy of complete Asiatic exclusion only perpetuates, and even aggravates the evil, for it breeds more and more mutual suspicion and hatred.

The fundamental postulate of California's anti-Asiatic policy is correct. We cannot tolerate a swamping immigration, overturning our democratic institutions or bringing economic ruin to Caucasian laborers or farmers. But in seeking to carry out her policy California has erred, for she seeks to settle an international matter in the light of local interests. Her anti-alien bill was needless, was humiliating to Japan and was therefore short-sighted.

Professing friendship to Japan in words, we deny it in important deeds. Demanding an open door for Americans in Asia, we do not ourselves grant the same to Asiatics in our land.

There is wide misunderstanding as to what Japan asks. She is willing to withhold her laborers if we do not wish them here. She has withheld them for four years under the "Gentlemen's Agreement," resulting in these years in an actual diminution of Japanese in America of nearly 7,000.

Japan asks for maintenance of the historic friendship and for treatment for her citizens here on a basis of equality with those from other civilized lands. She earnestly deprecates invidious and humiliating anti-Asiatic legislation, however skillfully phrased. To maintain frendship Japan is willing to do anything consistent with her honor.

A New American Oriental Policy.

America should stand for equality of treatment of all nations. All invidious or differential legislation or treatment should be renounced. Speaking at Mobile, President Wilson announced universal principles for our relations with other countries:

"We must prove ourselves their friends and champions. We must show ourselves friends by comprehending their interest, whether it squares with our interest or not. Human rights, national integrity and opportunity as against material interests, that is the issue."

It is entirely possible to treat all nations alike and at the same time obviate all danger of an overwhelming Asiatic immigration while receiving all who want to come from northwestern Europe. This could be accomplished through a policy of regulating immigration according to the rate of assimilation—allowing a maximum immigration from any land of a certain fixed percentage, not of those from that land who are already here, but of those who have come and have become naturalized.

The valid principle for such a law would be the fact that new-comers enter and become assimilated to our life chiefly through the agency of those who have come and fitted acceptably into our national life. These know the languages, customs and ideals of both nations. Consequently, the larger the number already assimilated, the larger the number of those who can be wisely admitted each year. I suggest, therefore, that the maximum number of immigrants in a single year from any single mother-tongue group shall be 5 per cent of those from that land already naturalized American citizens, including their American-born children.

Applied to Germany this would admit as many as 405,000 immigrants, whereas only 27,788 entered in 1912. From Great Britain 363,500 might enter, whereas 82,979 came in that year. Russian immigration would be diminished from 162,395 in 1912 to a possible maximum of 94,000; while immigration from Italy would fall from 167,134 to 54,850. From Japan 220 immigrants would be admitted and from China 738. These figures refer, of course, to newcomers. The 5 per cent rate should not be applied to travelers and students nor to immediate relatives.

Federal provision should also be made for assimilation of immigrants. They should be registered. They should pay a substantial annual fee of, say $10. The education bureau should set standards and provide for examinations, the education being carried on by local organizations. Graduation and good behavior should be essential to naturalization. A Federal bureau should have charge of naturalization. The oath of allegiance should be taken on a single day throughout the country, on the Fourth of July, with welcome speeches and responses, processions, banners and badges. The event should be made significant and impressive. It would make citizenship count.

Race of itself alone should be neither a qualification nor a disqualification for citizenship. American citizenship should rest on character and education. Legislation is urgently needed to enable the Federal government to administer effectively its treaty obligations. Aliens are guests of the nation and rely on the Federal government for personal protection and for the various rights and privileges granted by treaties. These should not be dependent on the ignorance or prejudice of unfriendly localities. That American children may acquire a right attitude to Asiatics, Oriental history should be introduced into the schools, teaching the noble deeds and achievements of Chinese and Japanese and Hindoos.

Such a policy as this would fulfill all requirements on both sides of the Pacific. It would conserve the interests of America and be in harmony with the dignity of Japan and China. It would prevent swamping immigration, yet by the application of these principles Asiatics would recognize that justice had been done and would feel in no wise humiliated. Friendship between America and Asia would be maintained with all its advantages. Both yellow and white perils would become void.

"Talks on Newspaper Advertising"

By Truman A. DeWeese.

Selling Life Insurance.

There are many reasons why newspaper advertising ought to be effective in selling life insurance. No one wants to see a life insurance agent—and yet so thoroughly has the public been educated upon this question that the beneficence of life insurance is now universally recognized. While the man of average intelligence knows that life insurance is a good thing and that he ought to carry it, he does not want to "talked" into it.

There are many reasons for this. He does not want to waste time listening to arguments in behalf of some thing that requires no argument. Another reason is that he has a natural reluctance to being reminded of the approach of death. No man in the possession of his senses wants to contemplate the possibility of death, and yet he knows very well that it is coming to him and that he ought to make some provision for those he will leave behind. But he does not want to be told by an agent, or any one else, that he is going to die some time.

Another reason is, the agent is not selling him anything tangible. In this respect the book agent has an advantage over the life insurance man. The book agent is selling something you can touch and handle. The life insurance man is selling "blue sky"—he is dealing in "futures." He calls it life insurance, and yet he cannot insure your life against the coming of the grim messenger, and he knows it. What he is really selling you is a contract to give your heirs a certain amount in the event of your death.

Life insurance is a misnomer. No one knows who invented the term, so it is not possible to reach him; but certain it is that the term is misapplied and tends to deceive the popular mind as to the real nature of the insurance business—indeed I think it not unlikely that the use of the term "life insurance" has tended to retard its universal acceptance by investing it with an atmosphere of chance. It encourages the notion that life insurance is "a gamble," when the truth is, it is a savings bank for the man who would like to make some provision for his family in the event of his death and who would never make use of the ordinary savings institutions.

Now, could any commodity be better adapted to newspaper advertising? Here is something a man doesn't want to talk about, and yet he knows he ought to have it. He doesn't want to listen to the importunities of agents, many of whom do not understand either life insurance or human nature. He is willing to read about the benefits of life insurance during his leisure moments. He is willing to be "educated." And think of how many persons the newspaper can "educate" regarding life insurance while the agent is talking to one "possibility."

Newspaper advertising need not displace the agent. It should be used to develop "possibilities" for the agent. Think of the time wasted by the average agent on impossibilities! With intelligent newspaper advertising the hundreds of inquiries that are developed would lead the agent to persons who are actually "possibilities"—persons who had really given some serious thought to life insurance. If the advertising copy is written on the right lines it would soon draw inquiries from a long and attractive list of persons who have already been "educated" and who are in a receptive mood and who are only waiting to learn what advantages one company may possess over another company.

TRUMAN A. DEWEESE.

THE BRIDAL VEIL.

Family Doctor: The bridal veil is evidently of Eastern origin, being a relic of the bridal canopy held over the heads of the bride and bridegroom. Among the Anglo-Saxons a similar custom existed; but if the bride was a widow it was dispensed with. According to Sarum usage, a fine linen cloth was laid upon the heads of the bride and bridegroom and was not removed until the benediction had been said. The old British custom was to use nature's veil unadorned, that is, the long hair of the bride, which was so worn by all brides, royal, noble and simple. Only then did every one behold the tresses of maindenhood in their entirety and for the last time, as after marriage they were neatly dressed on the head. Among some the tresses were cut and carefully stowed away on a woman becoming a wife. It was customary in Russia for village brides to shear their locks on returning from church.

It EXCITED HER APPETITE.

Los Angeles Times: The banality of a sea poem by Alfred Noyes led a Philadelphia sonneteer at the Franklin Inn to say:

"This poem of the sea reminds me of a young woman from Illinois who saw the Atlantic for the first time last week at Cape May.

"As she stood on the windy beach, gazing dreamily out over the vast blue expanse of tumbling water, I said to her:

"'So this is the first time you've ever seen the sea, eh?'

"'Yes, the very first time,' she answered.

"'And what do you think of it?' I asked.

"'Ah,' she said, with an ecstatic smile, 'it smells just like oysters.'"

LEGAL NOTICES.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE SALE—

Default having been made in the payment of a certain mortgage executed by John A. Ramberg and Elizabeth E. Ramberg, his wife, mortgagors, to H. N. Johnson, mortgagee, dated May 1st, 1907, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for St. Louis County, Minnesota, on May 2nd, 1908, at one o'clock P. M., in book 247 of Mortgages on page 277, upon which said mortgage there is claimed to be due on the date of this notice the sum of ono thousand sixty-five and 53-100 dollars ($1,065.53);

Which said mortgage, together with the debt secured thereby, was duly assigned by the said H. N. Johnson, mortgagee, to Waite H. Squier, by written assignment, dated May 2nd, 1907, and recorded in the office of said Register of Deeds on the 30th day of January, 1911, at one o'clock P. M., in book 186 of Mortgages on page 611.

No action or proceeding at law, or otherwise, has been instituted to recover said mortgage debt, or any part thereof.

Notice is hereby given, That by virtue of the power of sale contained therein said mortgage will be foreclosed by the sale of the premises therein described, which are situated in St. Louis County, Minnesota, and described as follows, to-wit: Lot sixteen (16) in Block One hundred twelve (112), London Addition to Duluth, to pay said debt, taxes, if any, and fifty dollars ($50.00) attorney's fees, as stipulated in said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the costs and disbursements allowed by law; which said sale will be made by the Sheriff of St. Louis County, Minnesota, at the front door of the Court House in the City of Duluth in said county and state on the 23rd day of May, 1914, at ten o'clock in the forenoon.

Dated April 7th, 1914.

WAITE H. SQUIER,
Assignee of Mortgagee.

C. W. STILSON,
Attorney for Assignee of Mortgagee,
Duluth, Minnesota.

D. H., April 7, 14, 21, 28, May 5 and 12, 1914.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

ON THE IRON RANGES

RANGE STORM VERY SEVERE

Deluge Visits Virginia and Much Damage to Stores Results.

Several Inches of Water Reported to Have Fallen in City.

Virginia, Minn., April 28.—Basements along Chestnut street, the main business thoroughfare, are flooded today, as the result of a downpour of rain which began at 6 p. m. yesterday, and lasted until well into the forenoon today. It is estimated that six inches of water fell. The fire department has been called out to run off the water.

Merchants Damaged.

Several merchants report domage to stocks. The sewer system appears to have been inadequate to carry off the surplus water and a complete reconstruction of the system in the business district is expected to begin immediately. Farmers of this section are rejoicing over the rain. If nice weather follows, Virginia gardeners will begin planting in a week.

MACARONI FACTORY ON MESABA RANGE

First One in That Section to Be Started at Eveleth.

Eveleth, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Eveleth is to have the first macaroni factory on the Mesaba range and as far as is known, the only one in this section except a small plant at Proctor. Mike Labetti and Dante Fiori of San Francisco are arranging to open a factory here within a few weeks.

Work Eight Men.

They will start with a crew of eight or ten men and expect to increase their capacity later if the business warrants. They expect to lease a building on Adams avenue formerly occupied by the Mesaba Cash grocery. The large Italian population here and in neighboring towns makes this a good location for the factory.

EVELETH WOMAN'S DEATH SUSPICIOUS

Some Contend She Deliberately Threw Self Before Train.

Eveleth, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Coroner S. E. Helps is investigation the death of Mrs. Frank Kosely at the Spruce location yesterday, when she was killed by an Iron Range switch engine, as some contend it was a case of suicide.

The engine crew believe that the woman committed suicide by stepping in front of the slowly approaching engine. Others hold the opinion that she became confused and attempted to cross in front of the engine, which was near No. 4 shaft at the Spruce mine.

Both Legs Taken Off.

Both legs were cut off above the knees and she was otherwise injured. It was first thought that she was dead and the crowd which gathered did not send for an ambulance until she regained consciousness. A D. & I. R. train carried her to the station, where an ambulance was summoned.

She is survived by a husband and four little children.

OFFER GARDEN PRIZES.

Grand Rapids Boys and Girls Can Win $50.

Grand Rapids, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Prof. W. J. Corwin, supervisor of agricultural education in the local schools, has issued the rules and a list of the prizes offered for the best garden put in and cared for by boys and girls in this school district.

The sum of $50 will be given away in premiums as follows for the best garden kept by any Grand Rapids boy or girl:

All vegetable or mixed vegetable and flower garden—First, $10; second, $7.50; third, $5; fourth, $2.50; fifth, $2 set garden tools; sixth, $1 choice seeds or bulbs; seventh, garden rule book. All plats to be at least 8 by 16 feet; gardens to be judged by special committee, and premiums awarded on the neatest, best arranged and most profitable garden; ask your teacher for one of the Garden club cards.

Flower garden prizes are—First, $8; second, $6; third, $3; fourth, two choice bulbs or seeds; fifth, one choice bulb. Flower gardens must be equal in area to 8 by 16 feet, but can be of any desired shape and all in one piece or not. It is suggested that they be at the side of the house, under windows or along verandas and walks.

BREAKS QUARANTINE.

Adams Location Man Fined $15 By Eveleth Judge.

Eveleth, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—A fine of $15 and costs was imposed by Municipal Judge Moylan yesterday when John Gregorich of Adams location was found guilty of having broken a quarantine for scarlet fever. Health Commissioner Bulkley has been forced before to resort to the court to prevent the spread of the disease.

John Lappennen was arrested on a charge of stealing hay from Mrs. Maxwell. He indignantly denied stealing but admitted taking the hay. He paid the costs of the case and was also ordered to pay for the hay.

MORE MEN LAID OFF.

Oliver Company Working About Half Force at Eveleth.

Eveleth, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—More men were laid off at the Fayal mine yesterday, and the Oliver Iron Mining company is now operating in this vicinity with about one-half of its regular number of men.

Lack of room for stockpiling ore is understood to be the reason for the suspension of work. No ore has been loaded yet this season and it is expected that the men will be hired again when hauling to the docks begins.

IMPROVING HERDS.

Farmers Around Bigfork Are Breeding Guernsey Stock.

Grand Rapids, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Bigfork, in the country north of here, promises to place itself on the map as a Guernsey breeding center. The farmers of that community, who are a progressive lot, are rapidly improving their herds by using pure bred Guernsey sires. Probably the largest herd of pure bred registered Guernseys in the county belongs to William Weltz of Bigfork, who has five head. Vic Knight, logger and farmer, has been here from Bigfork buying up high grade Guernsey heifers to build up a herd of Guernseys. Mr. Knight is figuring on putting a pure bred sire on his place, and in the near future he plans on buying some pure bred heifers. In the meantime he is getting the best grades that he can pick up and is going to build his herd up on that.

MAY SETTLE PROBLEM.

Hope to Adjust Question of Hibbing Obtaining Water Supply.

Hibbing, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—A conference between representatives of the village, the Arthur Iron Mining company and the attorney general's office will probably be held in the near future to determine what steps must be taken before the village can obtain possession of the land south of the village desired for a water supply. The village began by condemning a quarter section, this was changed to two quarters and a final compromise of ten acres is being considered.

The mining company announces that they will make no objection to a purchase of that amount and will gladly extend surface right on a portion of the remainder. The state owns the land and the mining company has the right to work it. An early decision is expected, as the village is anxious to start sinking the water shaft, the contract for which has already been let.

TEACHERS PUT OUT.

Have to Seek New Stopping Places Because of Quarantine.

Eveleth, Minn., April 28.—Nineteen of Eveleth's school teachers found themselves suddenly homeless when the home of Fred Krinning was quarantined for scarlet fever. The teachers roomed at the Krinning home and had to search for new quarters when the case of Miss Vern Krinning was diagnosed as scarlet fever. They found rooms at the hotels and with private families.

EVELETH NEWS NOTES.

Record Taken of Packages Handled By Postoffice for Week.

Eveleth, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—A record of all parcel post transactions was kept at the local postoffice last week and a report has been sent to Washington showing the business of the week.

A total of 429 parcels were received from outside points during the seven days. Of this number 314 were delivered by carriers and 115 were called for at the general delivery window or distributed through the boxes. A hundred and five parcels were mailed at the Eveleth office during the week.

The local W. M. A. camp, No. 6217, will give a May day dance next Friday at the city auditorium.

The wedding of William Nancarrow and Miss Hilda Johnson, which took place at Virginia several days ago, was kept a secret from all but a few friends in this city until yesterday, and their acquaintances are giving tardy congratulations.

ELY MAN WILL BE CANDIDATE.

Ely, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—County Commissioner Grant McMahon of the Fourth district will have as his opponent at the primary John Porthan of the Ely Finnish Stock company. Mr. Porthan has been in business here for a number of years and has been closely connected with the development of this section in a commercial way.

COLERAINE CLUB PLANS TO BUILD.

Coleraine, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Trout Lake Boat club recently organized has decided to go ahead with the construction of the $5,000 boathouse recently mentioned in The Herald. It will bo 80 by 60 feet and two stories high, the lower floor being used for storing boats and for a promenade while the upper story will furnish club rooms and a dancing pavilion.

The club is going after some of the summer tourist trade and will boost this village and environs as a summer resort.

Officers of the club and directors are: W. W. Hunter, president; A. H. Grimpo, vice president; W. R. Tonkin, secretary; and O. B. Carlson, treasurer, all of Coleraine; directors, A. H. Grimpo, August Johnson, W. W. Hunter, John Hermlston, N. C. Goodwin, Gust Bank, of Colerraine; Robert Loux of Taconite, Ben Carlson of Bovey, A. E. Perrier of Marble and Clarence B. Webster of Grand Rapids.

"COKE" SELLER FINED.

Virginia Druggist Pays $52.50 for Selling Drug.

Virginia, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Selling cocaine without the usual doctor's prescription cost L. M. Lund, a well-known local druggist, $52.50 in Judge Carey's court yesterday afternoon after he had pleaded guilty to selling the drug to L. R. Gorman, a St. Paul detective employed by the state board of pharmacy. Lund is also liable to lose his state license. Complaints that "coke" was being sold to local "snowbirds" started the investigation that brought about Lund's arrest and it is reported other arrests can be looked for.

HIBBING ELKS MEET.

Going After More Members to Hurry Along New Home.

Hibbing, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—With a home of their own as the objective goal, local Elks will make a strong effort during the coming six months to double their membership and create a fund large enough so that building operations can be started in the fall. Sixteen applications were received at the meeting last evening and Victor L. Power, exalted ruler, urged the members to continue the work, securing the members from the wealth of desirable timber that is in the district.

Following the meeting the members were the guests of Mr. Power at a supper and smoker at the lodge rooms. Blake's orchestra rendered the musical program.

GOOD EGG MARKET.

Poultry Expert Urges Farmers Around Virginia to Keep Chickens.

Virginia, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The advantage occurring from keeping chickens to furnish this market with eggs was pointed out by N. E. Chapman, poultry expert of the state dairy and food commission, who addressed a meeting of farmers at the Technical high school.

Mr. Chapman pointed out that this is an excellent field for poultry raising and he urged more attention to it on the part of the farmers.

Supt. Dickinson of the iron range demonstration farm at Meadowlands addressed the meeting. He emphasized the importance of a thoroughbred sire and said that the best success could only be attained by building the herd from the heatd down. Mr. Dickinson said that each year finds more farmers in this part of the state engaged in dairying, and that those who are making a study of it are meeting with marked success.

County Agricultural Agent Van Wagenen told of the progress that is being made in home gardening.

VIRGINIA HIGH SCHOOL GAMES.

Virginia, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The high school baseball management has obtained permission to use Oliver park when the Northern league club is not at home and the following schedule of games probably will be arranged for Saturday afternoons before the spring term of school closes: Eveleth at Virginia, May 9; Hibbing at Virginia, May 16; Virginia at Hibbing, May 30; Duluth at Virginia, May 23; Virginia at Duluth, June 6.

The sophomore girls' indoor baseball team will meet the junior girls at the Technical high school gymnasium tonight.

Bury Hibbing Children.

Hibbing, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Drago Skoric, the 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Skoric of Carson Lake, who died Saturday morning of complications of diseases was buried Monday afternoon in Chisholm. Rev. Fr. Schiferer officiated.

Louis, the 12-day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Marnelli of the Harold location, who died last week after a few days' illness of Lobar pneumonia, was buried Saturday afternoon from the church of the Immaculate Conception, Rev. Fr. Gumbelli officiating.

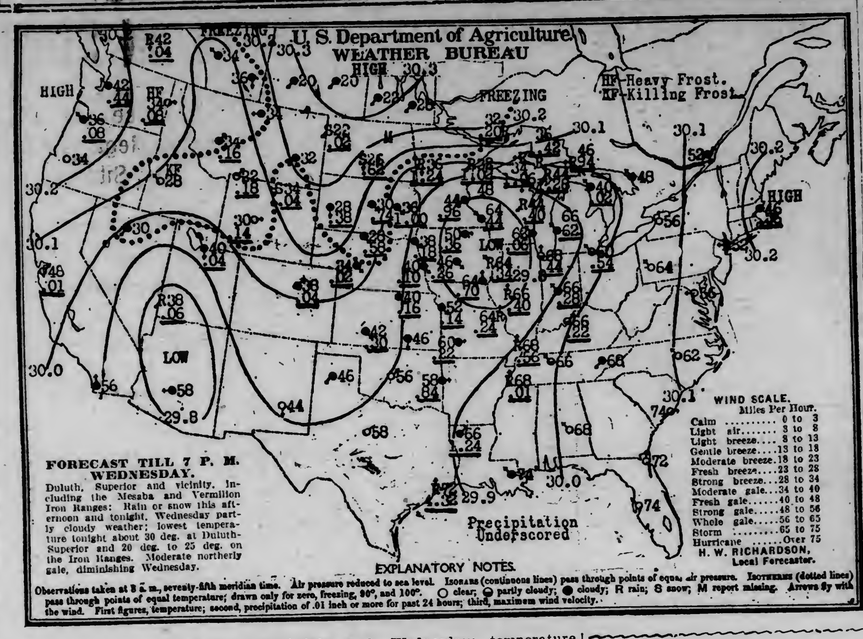
Motorcyclists Fined.

Hibbing, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Tom Petrilla, charged with speeding on a motorcycle, was fined $20 and $3.75 costs by Judge Bray yesterday afternoon after a hearing. Petrilla pleaded not guilty, but the evidence of the motorcycle policeman, who had followed him, proved indisputable. This is the second fine imposed this season for speeding in the village.

Only Legitimate Steps.

Eveleth, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Every fifth dance was a "rag" at the annual junior-senior hop, which was given at the city auditorium by the third-year class at the high school in honor of the graduating class. A watch was kept to see that only the legitimate steps were danced.

Moose Military Order.



Virginia, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—A military branch of the Loyal Order of Moose has been organized from among the membership of Vigorous, virile men, those who succeed in every field of endeavor, drink a good mineral water freely.

Standing alone in its class, the high regard in which WHITE ROCK WATER is held by the doctors of today is attested by its enormous sale.

"There's Health in White Rock"

OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER

FORECAST TILL 7 P. M. WEDNESDAY.

Duluth, Superior and vicinity, including the Mesaba and Vermilion Iron Ranges: Rain or snow this afternoon and tonight, Wednesday partly cloudy weather; lowest temperature tonight about 30 deg. at Duluth-Superior and 20 deg. to 25 deg. on the Iron Ranges. Moderate northerly gale, diminishing Wednesday.

EXPLANATORY NOTES.

Observations taken at 8 a. m., seventy-fifth meridian time. Air pressure reduced to sea level. ISOBARS (continuous lines) pass through points of equal air pressure. ISOTHERMS (dotted lines) pass through points of equal temperature; drawn only for zero, freezing, 90°, and 100°. ○ clear; ◑ partly cloudy; ● cloudy; R rain; S snow; M report missing. Arrows fly with the wind. First figures, temperature; second, precipitation of .01 inch or more for past 24 hours; third, maximum wind velocity.

The fair weather promised for today must have got tipped over or shouldered off somewhere for when Duluthians awoke this morning a northeast gale, accompanied by a driving rain greeted them. And the worst is yet to come for the weather man says that this afternoon and tonight there will be rain or snow; and tomorrow will be at least partly cloudy.

The weather was fair and cool a year ago today. The sun rose this morning at 4:57 and will set this evening at 7:14, giving fourteen hours and seventeen minutes of sunshine, four minutes more than yesterday.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"A fifty-mile northeast gale prevails on Western Lake Superior in connection with the disturbance centered over Iowa. This depression also caused light to heavy rains over the Mississippi, Missouri and Lower Ohio valley, the Rocky mountains and extreme West, and snow over Montana and North Dakota. Much colder weather prevails over South Dakota, Nebraska and Kansas."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, April 28.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Wednesday:

Wisconsin—Showers tonight; colder tonight in east and south portions; Wednesday cloudy with colder in southeast portion.

Minnesota—Rain in southern, rain or snow in northern portions tonight; colder in south portion tonight; Wednesday cloudy.

Iowa—Mostly cloudy tonight and Wednesday; colder tonight and in east portion Wednesday; frost in northwest portion tonight.

North Dakota—Mostly cloudy tonight and Wednesday, probably rain or snow.

South Dakota—Mostly cloudy tonight and Wednesday; temperature near freezing tonight.

Montana—Mostly cloudy tonight and Wednesday, probably light rain or snow.

Lower Michigan—Rain tonight; colder in west portion; Wednesday local rains or snows and colder.

Upper Michigan—Rain or snow tonight; colder in east and south portions; Wednesday unsettled, probably local snows.

SEVENTH AVENUE IS TO BE PAVED

Two Harbors Council Decides to Go Ahead With Big Job.

Two Harbors, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Seventh avenue will be completed this summer. This was decided by the city council last night. It will be paved with reinforced concrete and according to the city engineer will cost approximately $10,000.

The work was begun last summer, when the county graded the street and made it ready for the city to pave. After putting in cement sidewalks the city was forced to discontinue the work until this spring.

The road when finished will be one of the best roads in this part of the country. The street is almost a mile long and connects on either end with the county road which leads to and from the city from either directions.

Several of the property owners on Seventh avenue were present at the council meeting, especially those living on the south side of the street, and there was much discussion relative to the method of paying for the paving. The property owners on the south side of the street claimed that they should not be assessed the same amount per foot as those living on the north side, for the reason that they had twice as many feet facing the street as the property owners on the other side and still their lots were the same size. The lots on the south side are 100 feet long by 50 feet deep while the north side of the street lots are 100 feet facing the street by 100 feet deep.

The council did not decide just what method of assessing would be used but it was definitely decided that the property owners will be taxed from the rate of benefit received from the improvements instead of for the straight foot frontage.

Buy from Duluth Concern.

After considerable discussion the council decided to purchase the auto truck from the Interstate Auto company of Duluth. The truck decided upon will cost the city $4,750 and will be used by the city to haul coal and sand for city use. The capacity of the truck is six tons.

The car was not decided upon without opposition. A couple of the councilmen thought that the car was too heavy for the streets, especially during the wet weather and recommended that a lighter car be procured for instance a three-ton car. Councilman Harry Van Dyken was especially in favor of getting a lighter car and one that would not cost the city quite as much money.

ALDERMAN RESIGNS.

Charles Lundstrum Resigns From Position in Virginia Council.

Virginia, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—It developed today that before leaving the city a few days ago, Alderman-at-Large Charles Lundstrom filed his resignation from the city council. He had served two years and had two more years to serve. Just what prompted the resignation is not known, but it is believed Mr. Lundstrom considered he was not in harmony with the council on the matter of extensive city improvements. He has lived here a number of years and owns property here.

DIED OF HEMORRHAGE.

Cause of Veteran Thompson's Death at Splitrock Established.

Two Harbors, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The body of Capt. William Thompson, aged 69 years, who was found dead in his cabin on the Splitrock river last week, was shipped to Duluth this morning where burial will take place. Thompson was an old soldier and his remains was met in Duluth by a delegation of old soldiers who had charge of the funeral.

At an autopsy held in the undertaking parlors of Thomas Brown showed that death was caused by a hemorrhage of the lungs.

Harry Thompson, a son of the deceased, who is a government lighthousekeeper at Splitrock, accompanied the remains to Duluth.

SCARCITY OF HOMES.

Ely Could Easily Use Many More Dwellings Right Now.

Ely, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—This city is experiencing a dearth of dwellings, it being almost impossible to secure homes here, so great is the demand. A number of new ones have been erected during the past three years, but as soon as they were completed they were rented. It is estimated that fifty new homes might be erected this year and all be rented before the season is over. A number of new families have moved here, the men securing employment, and there has been an unusual number of weddings. In a majority of cases the "newlyweds" have been required to secure rooms and have not been able to secure houses.

With the putting on of the additional train crews for the summer shipping season there is at present even a greater demand than previously.

Already a number of houses are being enlarged, and several houses are being planned for construction for the coming summer, which will in a small way aid in relieving the congestion.

Greatest of All Human Blessings

The most wonderful thing in the world is love expressed in the helpless infant.

And among those aids and comforts for expectant mothers is the well known "Mother's Friend."

This is an external application to enable the abdominal muscles to become more pliant, to expand naturally without undue pain from the strain upon cords and ligaments.

Applied as directed upon those muscles involved it soothes the fine network of nerves with which all the muscles are supplied. Thus a great share of the pains so much dreaded may be avoided and the period of expectancy passed in comfort.

There is no question but what such relief has a marked influence upon the general health of the mother.

In a little book sent by mail much useful information is given to inexperienced mothers. It tells how to use "Mother's Friend" and how to avoid caking breasts. It has been prepared in our laboratory for over forty years and is known favorably to most druggists everywhere. Get a bottle to-day and write for book to Bradfield Regulator Co., 309 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Be sure to ask for and see that you get "Mother's Friend."

GREAT NORTHERN HAS MADE OFFER

Will Make Hibbing Track Changes Under Certain Conditions.

Hibbing, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—As the result of a conference held recently between the village officials and the officials of the Great Northern, announcement is made today of the proposed improvements to be made by the road.

The village has granted the railroad the right to change the highway between Hibbing and Mitchell so as to avoid the new four-track yard that is to be constructed and to abolish the present sidewalk with the understanding that a new one will be built along the new road.

Road to Build Viaduct.

In return the road will construct a viaduct at St. Louis avenue in Brooklyn where a deep cut is believed to be dangerous. It is also the intention of the road according to the announcement to put in an industrial spur for the Allce people on account of the building in that suburb and the increase in business and merchantile houses.

Though the new road between Hibbing and Mitchell will be a trifle more roundabout than the old one yet it was shown by the railroad that the change would have to be made as soon as the Arthur Iron Mining company commenced operations on what is known as the Longyear property No. 2.

The communication will be read at the council meeting this evening and the proposition accepted. The improvements must be completed within six months.

HUGE CANNON NOW AT TWO HARBORS

Big Gun Given By Government Arrives From Fortress Monroe.

Two Harbors, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The large rifled cannon which Thomas Owens secured from the war department while on a visit to Fortress Monroe, Va., in February arrived today and will be placed on the southeast corner of the courthouse lawn, mounted on a concrete pier.

The cannon weighs 17,000 pounds unmounted, is 14 feet long and uses an 8-inch ball. At the biggest place is three feet in diameter. Twenty-five 8-inch cannon balls were also received and will also be used for decorating purposes.

The gun until a short time ago, was used for coast protection at Fortress Monroe. It was replaced by a cannon almost twice as long which shoots 12-inch shells.

The county board is being praised for accepting the proposition of receiving this splendid war relic and Mr. Owens is also lauded for his interest in the matter and for making it possible for the county to secure it.

MRS. PROUT BURIED.

Funeral of Ely Woman Who Died Sunday Is Held.

Ely, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Mrs. James Prout, who died Sunday evening, was held this afternoon at 1:30. Mrs. Prout was about 32 years of age, was born in England and came to Ely about ten years ago. Her husband, a brother, an aunt and several cousins survive her here, while a brother, a sister and parents live in England.

SEVERE PUNISHMENT.

Ely High School Pupils Who Play Hookey Must Write Essays.

Ely, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Playing hookey or otherwise responding to the "call of the wild" brings severe punishment upon students in the local high school as they have to write essays of 3,000 words for each failure to show up for school. Since this severe rule went into effect, it is said there has been little tardiness.

Mrs. Kelley of Aurora was called here by the serious illness of her sister, Mrs. James Nankervis.

C. Sandberg and Mrs. Sandberg of Soudan, a brother and mother of Mrs. Fred Neff, were called here yesterday by the illness of Mrs. Neff.

Virginian Gets Franchise.

New Ulm, Minn., April 28.—This city will have a gas plant in the near future as John Kennedy and J. P. Smith of Virginia, Minn., have been granted a franchise by the city council.

WOULD INCREASE TWO SALARIES.

Virginia, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Friends of Judge James P. Carey and Miss Jessie McNeil, clerk of the municipal court, hope to have the salaries of the two court officials increased. They point out that the Hibbing municipal court officers are receiving larger salaries, although the local court is doing more business.

Judge Carey receives $2,400 a year, while the Hibbing judge is paid $3,000 per annum. Miss McNeil's salary is $75 a month, compared with $125 received by the clerk of court at Hibbing. It is thought their friends will petition the council, asking for the salary boost.

To Appoint Appraisers.

Virginia, Minn., April 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—In district court at Duluth today Judge Dancer is expected to appoint appraisers to value the state land that the local school district wishes to acquire for the agricultural school.

WHY DOCTORS NO LONGER CLAIM TO "CURE" PEOPLE

A few years ago it was a common thing for the family doctor to say, "I will cure you in a few days." This cheerful prophecy often gave the patient new hope and courage but it is no longer good form. Doctors still "cure' malaria and a few other troubles in which their medicines have a direct or "specific" action on the virus of the disease. In other cases they simply give supporting medicine and keep up the strength of the patient until nature effects a cure.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure chlorosis and other trouble due to thin blood because they have a specific action on the blood, building it up, purifying and enriching it. This direct action on the blood also makes them the best supporting and strengthening medicine. If you are thin and weak, breathless after slight exertion, if you have palpitation of the heart, gas on the stomach, cold hands and feet, if you are nervous and easily irritated and show other signs of weakened vitality, try these strengthening pills at once and let the rich, red blood cure you. Get a box today at the nearest drug strove and begin at once to build up your health. Write now to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for the free booklet, "Building Up the Blood."

MARKET IS FIRMLY HELD

Wheat Is Steady on Strong Cash Eastern Demand.

Flaxseed Again Advances With Good Buying By Crushers' Interests.

Duluth Board of Trade, April 28.—The market was steady up to the close. May wheat closed unchanged, July ⅛c off and September ½c off at 88⅝c asked.

Oats closed ¼c off at 36⅛c for on the track, and 35⅝c for to arrive. Rye closed unchanged at 54¼@56½c for the best grades, and barley unchanged at from 54@59c for choice grain.

Puts on Minneapolis July wheat closed at 91¼c bid, and calls at 91½c bid.

Spring wheat was firm today in the face of lower Liverpool cables, and a weak situation in the new winter crop option at Chicago. The firmness was attributed to the better cash demand on a realization that stocks of last season's crop in the Northwest are likely to be extremely low before the marketing of this year's grain begins. It was intimated from Minneapolis this morning that flour sales made by millers for future delivery will require practically all the wheat in store in elevators at that point.

A decrease of 12,000,000 bu in world's wheat stocks in the week, was estimated by Bradstreet's, making them stand at 164,257,000 bu, against 182,900,000 bu last year. A decrease of 4,280,000 bu was also estimated in the European visible, which was placed at 76,968,000 bu, compared with 93,200,000 bu a year ago.

Argentine crop news was also bullish, the official estimate of the exportable wheat surplus being 56,625,000 bu, while the general opinion of the trade at Buenos Aires is that the surplus will not exceed 47,187,000 bu.

Advices from over the winter wheat territory were encouraging, it being considered that heavy rains of the last few days have saved the situation at points where deterioriation had been threatened.

Receipts at American markets today were down to 246,000 bu as against 1,355,000 bu last year. Inspections at Duluth were 26 cars against 125 a year ago, and there were only 15 cars of all grains on the tracks for the day.

Wheat stocks in the elevators here have been reduced to below 12,000,000 bu, and there is now 1,742,000 bu of wheat afloat in the harbor. Besides that other boats have been under the spouts for loads that have not as yet been reported out.

May wheat opened unchanged at 92⅛c, and gained a fraction up to the closing hour. July opened unchanged at 93⅛c and held on that basis, as did also the September option which was firm at 89c.

Broad Eastern inquiry was met with in durum resulting in gains of ⅝@¾c. May durum opened unchanged at 87½c and advanced ¾c and July gained ⅝c at a quotation of 89⅝c.

Flaxseed Strong Again.

Flaxseed took on a strong turn, with a steady bidding by crushers in evidence. Current receipts of the seed are light these days, and a tendency on the part of operators to stay with their commitments is noted. Substantial switching of trade from the May to the September options was in evidence today, and led to a sharp advance in the latter option.

The close was strong, with final prices showing advances of ¾@1¼c.

The foreign markets were higher, Buenos Aires closing 1¾c up, London ⅞d up and Antwerp 1⅞c up.

May flax opened unchanged at $1.53½ and closed ¾c up at $1.54¼ asked; July opened ¼c up at $1.56 and closed 1¼c up at $1.57 asked. The September option opened unchanged at $1.57½ and closed ¾c up at $1.58¼, and the October option closed ½c up at $1.55½ asked.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed at $1.34½ and July at $1.37¾ bid.

About 38,353,000 bu or 16.5 per cent of the total Canadian wheat of 1913 was estimated to remain in farmers' hands on March 31, according to a bulletin just issued from Ottawa. This is a lower proportion than in any previous year, and is regarded as consistent with the high record of inspection and shipments. Of the total estimated production of wheat in Canada last year, amounting to 231,717,000 bu, 224,810,000 bu or 97 per cent proved to be of merchantable quality.

The following seeding and soil reports from Northwestern points were received by Baker: Crookston, Minn.—This week will see the bulk of the wheat seding finished. The soil condition is perfect.

Bird Island, Minn.—Wheat seeding practically finished. Had a nice rain and soil conditions are perfect.

Adams, N. D.—About 75 per cent of the wheat is seeded.

Fessenden, N. D.—About 75 per cent of the wheat has been seeded. Had a nice rain last night and the soil is in fine condition.

Minot, N. D.—Had one and three-quarters inches of rain a few nights ago and about 50 per cent of the seeding is done.

Williston, N. D.—It is very dry in this territory and rain is needed badly. Seeding progressing slowly.

Mandan, N. D.—It is very dry west of here; need some rain shortly. Seeding is about half done.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Wheat—Easy American cables yesterday and reports of general rains in America, with very favorable private reports received here of crop prospects, prompted realizing at the opening and values were ¼@½d lower, with pressure in July. Following the opening, there was a further decline of ⅛@⅜d on freer Russian offers and a generally quieter demand here. During the morning, there was some disposition to support and prices gained part of the decline, with firmer Plate offers, decrease in the visible here, and a fair millers' demand for spot. At 1:30 p. m., the undertone was steady, although prices were ⅜@½d lower.

"Corn opened ⅛d lower and later further declined ⅛d with the undertone easy. At 1:30 p. m., prices were ⅜d off from yesterday."

European visible—Wheat, 76,968,000 bu against 81,248,000 bu last week; decrease, 4,280,000 bu for the week. Last year decrease was 4,000,000 bu, when total was 93,200,000 bu.

* * *

Foreign crop summary — United Kingdom—The weather is fine. The outlook for winter wheat is favorable but spring wheat wants rain.

France—The weather is fine. There are continued complaints regarding the outlook for wheat in the north and north central regions, otherwise the prospects are favorable.

Germany—The crop is progressing favorably, but rain is wanted.

Italy—The weather and crop prospects are generally favorable except that there are adverse reports from the south, where dryness is causing deterioration.

Russia—The outlook for the winter crop is favorable. Spring wheat in the South needs rain.

Parker Paine had the folowing from Chicago: "Opinions of leaders in the local wheat trade are somewhat mixed. The rains have been so abundant over most sections of the winter wheat belt, and have improved soil conditions this side of the line in the Northwest, that it takes something definite in the way of bullish news to offset the great crop prospect for the year. There is no doubt that a very strong cash and milling situation exists in the Northwest, that most of the old wheat stocks in this country which are light outside of Chicago and the two Northweste centers, will be needed before another harvest. Climatic conditions are likely to be the chief influence for some time."

CHICAGO MARKET.

Heavy Selling Leads to Decline in Wheat Prices.

Chicago, April 28.—Wheat declined today under heavy selling led by one of the principal houses on 'Change. The chief incentive came from general rains that promised a continuance of the flattering prospect for crops. Lower cables, too, counted against the bulls. The opening was ⅛@¼c to ⅜@½c down, and after a slight reaction the market suffered an additional sag.

Reports of delayed seeding Northwest tended later to check the bears. The close was steady, ½c to ½@⅝c net lower.

Bearish attacks on corn met with little opposition. Buying power seemed for the moment to have virtually disappeared. Prices which started ⅛@⅝c off, made a subsequent further descent.

Favorable weather in Argentina and the nearness of of delivery on May contracts were elements of depression. The close was heavy at ⅝@¾c to 1@1⅛c net decline.

Oats were sold almost as freely as corn and wheat. The result was weakness equal to that in other grains.

Provisions formed no exception to the general tendency to lower prices. First sales were a shade to 10c down, with later transactions showing an increase of loss.

MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Weakness in Wheat Is Due Principally to Light Demand.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 28.—A light demand was the principal cause for a weak market here today. Prices were practically unchanged from yesterday's close and moved in a narrow range through the forenoon. Reports from North Dakota indicated that the seeding of spring wheat was not so nearly completed as had been supposed. It had been raining steadily all over the state for the past twenty-four hours, during which more than two inches of moisture had fallen. While seeding is unusually late this season in the Northwest farmers and traders are not worrying, it is said, because of the fact that the ground is in excellent condition for the rapid maturing of the crop.

Wheat—May opened 90⅛c; high, 90⅜c; low, 89⅞c; closed, 90c.

July opened 91⅝c; high, 91⅝c; low, 91¼c; closed, 91⅝c.

Cash—No. 1 hard, 94¾c; No. 1 northern, 92@93¾c; to arrive, 92@93c; choice to arrive, 95¾c; No. 2 northern, 90@91¾c; to arrive, 90½@91½c; No. 3 wheat, 87@89c.

Flax, $1.51¼@1.54¼.

The flour trade was quiet today. Prices unchanged. Shipments, 55,051 bbl. Barley, 42@57c. Rye, 55½@56c. Bran unchanged.

STRENGTH IN STOCKS

Prices Rise on Hopeful Feeling Regarding Mexican Situation.

Good Crop News and Expectations of Speedy Rate Decision.

New York, April 28.—The early advance was extended during the morning until general gains of 1 to 2 points were shown at noon. Elimination of weak bull accounts by the recent drastic liquidation, put the market in a better position to respond to operations on the long side.

Shorts were intimidated into buying by the steady strength of the list, and absence of offerings from inside sources at the higher levels, promoted confidence of tht bulls. Railroad shares were not affected by a break in Missouri Pacific to 16¼, the lowest in many years.

Bonds were firm.

Slow trading and narrow movements in stocks, after a firm opening today, suggested that the market had settled down for a period of waiting.

For the first time in several days the cables showed only a small variations in quotations of American stocks in London and the market missed the impulse which hitherto has come from that quarter. Gradually the market hardened until a majority of the active stocks advanced a point or more. Canadian Pacific rose 2 points and Mexican Petroleum 3¼.

Bears found few stocks available for covering and their bids pushed up prices further in the afternoon. Covering of shorts was a strong factor in the rise, but there was also more outside buying, based on increasing hopes that war with Mexico might be averted. Eastern railroad shares were particularly strong in the late session. Lehigh Valley gained 3 points.

The market closed strong. Prices rose from 1 to 4 points on the more hopeful feeling regarding the Mexican situation, favorable crop news and expectations of a speedy decision in the freight rate case. Late dealings were on a contracted scale but the market continued steadily upwards.

HEAVY TRADING IN COPPER STOCKS

Good Advances Scored By Alaska Copper and North Butte.

Advances were general in mining stocks at Boston again today with a resumption of the class of buying that had been noted during previous day. Greene-Cananea was the leader in point of activity. Opening 50 cents up at $27.50 it sold up to $29 and then receded to a close of $27.62 on the announcement that the regular quarterly dividend had been passed. That action on the part of the directors had however, been generally expected by the insiders in view of the situation in Mexico.

Alaska Gold was a strong issue, selling 75 cents up at $26.50. North Butte was heavily traded in, and the issue closed with an advance of $1.12 at $25.87. Calumet & Arizona closed $1.25 up at $63.75; Shattuck 75 cents up at $24; Butte & Superior 50 cents up at $33, and Amalgamated Copper $1.38 up at $71.87.

In the Duluth curb list, Calumet & Corbin was steady, selling at 27 cents.

Paine, Webber & Co. had the following from Boston: "Market is in excellent position for a sharp advance on any real favorable developments in Mexico.

"The short interest has increased largely during the past week. We would favor purchases of stocks around the present level for quick turns."

Ray Consolidated's March production was 6,223,517 pounds of copper.

A wire from New York today said: "Led by the United Metals Selling company, the leading copper selling agencies, have reduced the price of electrolytic for May-June delivery to 14¼ cents, a reduction of ½ cent a pound."

REGULAR DIVIDEND ON U. S. STEEL STOCK

New York, April 28.—The United States Steel corporation today declared its regular quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent on the common and 1¾ per cent on the preferred stock.

The total earnings of the corporation for the quarter ending March 31 was $17,994,381; the net income for the quarter was $12,196,368, and a deficit for the quarter provided from undivided surplus Dec. 31, 1913, was $6,289,644.

FROZEN OUT.

Chicago News: "I am so worried about our Albert!" declared Mrs. Petillo to her husband. "He is tearing around after that Wimble girl all the time, and she is about ten years older than Albert is."

"You should worry!" remarked Petillo easily. "It takes an old girl to handle a kid. I remember well my first love affair. Let me see—what was the girl's name?—I forget, but I think it was Muriel or Hortense of something like that. She got married before I was grown up.

"But Hortense, or Berenice, or whatever was her name, was ideal for a first love. She thought it was awfully amusing—for a while. She used to tell me I was 'cute.' I could walk up to her home with gloves and carrying a cane, and she would receive me in that regalia as a matter of course. She didn't act as if she thought it funny for me to be engaged in calling on young ladies.

"I used to meet sure enough grown men at her home, men with beards. They used to treat me as an equal. I bought a white full-dress vest and I studied the fashion plates. Genevieve, or Delphine, if that was her name, didn't even laugh at me when I smoked. I used to carry candy to her and take her out riding.

"They didn't even knock on the floor at that girl's house when 9 o'clock came around. But at the homes of girls nearer my age it was different. They would smile at my gloves and make me feel conspicuous instead of taking my finery as a matter of course. Maybe some parent would say to us: 'You children go and play out on the lawn.'

"So this girl I'm telling you about—Jessamine, or Celestine—suited me best. She liked me, for I was useful for her to practice on. All the phrases that I got out of books and plays I worked off on her. I was in her eyes a delightful youth—at first.

"When I got to coming every night it was different. Instead of her delighted smile, my divinity took to wearing a tolerant look, then a bored expression and at last a horrified gaze.

"The bearded men also changed their demeanor toward me. First they looked surprised at seeing me. Then I found myself left sitting where there was the worst draft. I didn't get any chance to look and act like anybody in a play—unless it was Banquo's ghost. I think I was as much like the 'spot' in Macbeth as anything else to the bearded men and the worldly wise Eugenia or Beulah or whatever her name was.

"But they didn't throw me out bodily, and I sat it out, taking a thinking part. The other characters did a deal of thinking, too, I believe. They tried all kinds of ways to get rid of me. They left the hose running so that I couldn't get to the front door without getting wet. They tied a dog on the doorstep. Still I came.

"Sometimes there would be as much as an hour of silence—neither Phyllis, nor Milicent, or whatever her name was, nor the bearded men nor I doing any talking. If I did make an observation, it elicited no reply. All I could do was clear my throat and shiver.

"At last it really dawned upon me that my lady love had had enough of my presence. And that's what will happen to our Albert, my dear. The Wimble girl will freeze him. It will do him good, an experience like that. It did me good. I haven't been caught out in a blizzard since then."

HE WAS BALD.

Chicago News: "Did you ever try to do anything for your hair?" asked Boggins.

"What's the matter with my hair?" demanded Teeple.

"It is nearly gone."

"What I have left is all right, isn't it?"

"Yes, it looks well enough, but—"

"And even you will admit that I am not under obligations to do anything for the hair which has deserted me. So—"

"If you want to get mad about it, all right. Of course, it was not your hair I was thinking of—it was your baldness. Did you ever do anything for it?"

"For my baldness? Why should I do anything for my baldness?"

"Because it begins at your forehead and climbs over and down nearly to the back of your neck. I should think that would be reason enough for you to do something for it."

"Do you think I want it to extend half way down my back? Isn't it doing well enough as it is?"

"Of course, I meant something to stop it."

"What would you suggest?"

"I used to know a man who wore a crownless hat; but I wouldn't do that, for the sun baked his brains and killed him—"

"Don't ever let that fact stop you—you'd be perfectly safe."

"I know another man who used two bottles of guaranteed hair grower, but he was near-sighted and instead of using it externally, according to the directions on the bottle, he took it internally."

"Was he pleased with the result?"

"Well, when the hair began to grow he was tickled to death. I know another man—"

"I used to know a man who minded his own business."

"Of course, if you are going to get sore—"

"I am not sore. Far from it. It am delighted at your friendly interest. But at the same time, I would like to assure you that I know I am bald, and am proud of it. Some people have heads to hold brains in and others use their heads principally to grow hair upon. Your interest is flattering, and I am not sore. If I was sore I might say something about your shocking taste in ties, or—"

"Gee. I didn't know how late it was getting! I must hurry home."

THE RAIN JU-JU.

When a farm in the "bush" districts of West Africa has been prepared for sowing, writes P. A. Talbot in the Wide World Magazine, the owner cannot plant yams until some rain has fallen, so he goes to the priest of the great rain ju-ju and asks him to make the rain fall. Members of a cult called Ekuri Ibokk have special power in this direction. At the time of the new moon they go forth into the bush and gather magic leaves. These they bring home and carefully dry in bundles. When rain is needed, they cut the leaves open and either pour water upon them out of a calabash or lay them to soak in a bowl of water. Then, they believe, it will surely rain.

Early in 1909, a man near Obutong was shown a famous rain ju-ju, and told that it was so powerful that rain would fall even at the height of the dry season if certain rites were performed before it. He was a skeptical soul, for no sooner had he heard than, in a spirit of bravado, he seized the ju-ju and performed the rites. Unfortunately, the rest of the season was wet enough to strengthen belief, even among the most doubting. In the words of the Ekoi, "An elephant of rain fell this year." The foolhardy man paid dearly for his skepticism—probably at the hands of the indignant owners of the ruined farms—for he disappeared, and no trace of him has ever been found.

NEW USE FOR OLD WARSHIPS.

Boston Globe: Without decreasing the efficiency of the navy the United States government could grant the petition of the congress on school hygiene for the use of discarded vessels in the war against tuberculosis.

The delegates suggested that as many old battleships and cruisers as possible be placed at the disposal of the various states of the Union; that they be anchored according to their size in rivers or at the seashore, and that they be utilized by the respective communities for open-air schools, sanitarium schools for children or hospital sanitaria for adults.

The Italian government has assigned three of its antiquated men-of-war to similar service, with good results.

Human life is worth more than junk, and other things can be found for targets.

Baltimore school children will select names for public schools in that city by ballot.

New Mining Sensation
—ON THE—
Cuyuna Iron Range

The iron property of Ver-Mes-Cuyuna Mining & Development company is situated in the very heart of the Cuyuna iron range. A year's drilling has proved up a large body of ore. The over-burden is the lightest yet encountered on the range. Mining will be cheap. The location is ideal and there are no transportation problems.

Results already secured at this mine fully warrant and demand further development work. To strengthen the company's treasury for that purpose, 25,000 shares of stock are offered for subscription at par, $1.00 a share.

This is the first stock offered the public since the company's organization was completed. It is a rare chance. Investigation is invited. Get some of this offering before it is all taken. Prospectus and any information desired on request.

HIS FAME HAD NOT SPREAD.

In Harper's Magazine Norman Duncan tells of meeting a young schoolmaster in Australia who was unable to believe that his fame had not spread to the outer world:

"Having supped with satisfaction at the boarding house—a private parlor, even here, to be sure, in the English way, for guests of our obvious quality—we walked out into the moonlight and found our hands gripped and painfully wrung before they were fairly out of our pockets.

"The author of this hospitable onslaught was a rosy young man in a bowler and decent tweed, now all out of breath with haste and lively emotion.

"'Twas your name that drew me to you,' he gasped. 'Man, man,' he declared, deeply affected, ''tis a grand Scotch name! What part are you from?'

"I confessed to a Canadian origin.

"'Colonial Scotch!' said the young dog, disgusted. 'Ah, well,' more heartily, 'you can't help it. I'm from Dumfriesshore myself. Was you expecting me?'

"We had not been led to look for him.

"'I'm thinking,' said he, blankly, 'that you've never heard of me.'

"'Well, you see—' we began.

"'Losh! that's strange,' he broke in, brooding.

"With this we agreed.

"'Did you not know I was here?' cried he, then, amazed. 'Did nobody tell you? Man,' says he, 'that's incredible! Do you not know who I am?'

"'Ah, yes,' said I, confidently, 'you're the minister.'

"'Losh! that's stupid,' says he. 'Where's my white tie? Man, I'm the Scotch schoolmaster!'

"We could not ease his pride; nor could we raise his spirits, which had fallen heavily; he was humiliated and homesick—wretchedly humiliated. We praised his temerity in venturing so far from home in pursuit of a future of consequence; we praised his employment—his prospects, too; and with every word of all this heartening approbation, seeming first to weigh it delicately, to discover its reasonableness, as a serious young man should, lest he be misled by flattery, he agreed in short nods of the head, as though he had long ago reached these inspiring conclusions for himself and was not to be surprised by anything of the sort. But he was not comforted."

HE KNEW BETTER.

Pittsburg Telegraph: "Generally run down?" asked the man in the drug store. "Want a tonic? I've the very thing for you—Briscoe's Beatall. Three times a day, and in two days you'll feel like another man. Fifty cents a bottle."

"Oh, no, no," said the customer, energetically.

"But it is the very thing for you. All the doctors are recommending it. We can't get it fast enough for our customers."

"I believe you, but I would prefer something else."

"Nonsense! I tell you the Beatall will do more good in one day than anything else in a month. It cures everything. What's your objection?"

"Only that I'm Briscoe."
